WANTED.

To facilitate the many branches of business and industry, we sorely feel the need of an Exchange Bank. It would require but a small amount of capital, and an honest young man to meet the demands of this community, and we think there is no better opportunity offered to some energetic, young man to establish a broker office in our growing city. Where is the young man?

As our village progresses trade increases, and the accommodations at the R. R. Depot are found to be deficient. The Superintendent of the North-ern Division paid us a visit a few days since and was escorted around the village by hall, carriage and foot. Like many others, he expressed surprise at our rapid growth, and informed us that within Sixty days the "Branch" would become a "Main Line," that is, trains would be run, thru to New York City; and, as this would be the principal town on the line, it would be necessary to build a commodious passenger depot this coming spring.

One hundred neat, commodious dwellings could be rented at reasonable prices the coming season. Some of our "Solid Men" are disposed to invest in this enterprise, above is still chance for more. Manufacturers will find inducements to our village far superior to those offered at any inland town in the State. A good Water power, Rail Road East, West, North and South; a healthy location a "progressive town", and—a splendid chance to advertise.

A railroad line will be established in the spring if a contractor can be found; if not, the probabilities are the Railroad will build it to facilitate their affairs North and South.

Last, but not least, we want one hundred subscribers to the Enterprise, a fearless newspaper just started in Goodyear's New Block. Call and get a copy.

Special School Meeting.—At the School Meeting, Tuesday evening last, it was voted to loan $1,000 on district bonds at 11 per cent int, which seem is to be used in completing fences, out buildings, &c. With this $1,000 the whole cost amounts to $21,000. There is at present in the hands of the Treasurer $600 in bonds to be taken, those having money to loan are requested to call and secure them.

Henry's Benefit.—We are pleased to learn that our citizens are proposing to give Mr Goodyear a benefit as soon as he completes the new hall. The dedication will be got up in style. A program will be published as soon as arrangements are completed.

Literary Society.—On Tuesday Evening last quite a spirited debate took place before the Lecture Society. The question before the house, was:

Resolved—That Females should be allowed the Elective Franchise.

Rev. J. W. Scott and Rev. J. Bloomer were the chief debaters, assisted by several members of the society. The same question is to be resumed, or finished, on Tuesday evening next, and our citizens may look for a lively debate. It is a delicate question to handle without gloves or "mittens," and we sincerely hope we will never be called upon to give our opinion on the subject, for sooth it will be found in the ballot box.—An original essay will be produced by the ladies at the next meeting.

Gloves and Mittens.—The Manufacture of Gloves and Mittens is one of the live institutions of our young city.—R. K. Fellows has a large Stock of ladies and gents Gloves and Mittens; comprising every variety, from the delicate Kid to the Sheep skin, all of which he offers at reasonable prices. He also manufactures Furs to order, in latest styles on short notice. Go and see this stock at the R. K. FELLOWS STORE.

Snow.—The first snow of the season made its appearance on Wednesday last. It was not much of a storm, only gave us a gentle hint to prepare for what is coming. The telegraph announces snow storms at Milwaukee, and other points of the compass.

A Grand Hunt.—The Sportsmen of Manchester and vicinity are requested to meet at the Manchester Hotel, on Saturday evening next, to chose sides and enjoy a days sport, also an evening supper.

"Thirty Thousand"—Dr J. G. Holland will deliver his lecture before the Tecumseh Lecture Society, Nov 6th.

☞ The Union School will commence Monday next, for School Books see our advertisements.

Look Out.—Our readers should keep their eye on the Advertisements, they are continually changing their work to suit. Some have articles to sell or rent, and others wish to buy. Look out for bargains.

WHEN SHALL WE?

The increase of crime is indeed frightful. Any paper we pick up, from the religious journals to the Police Gazette, contains numerous accounts of crimes committed daily. These astounding facts are sorely perplexing the thinking men and women, and we confidently look for a great reaction, politically, socially, and religiously. Let it come, the sooner the better. The following will convey the state of society in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 20th, 1867.

Mr. Editor.—Chicago has had an excellent variety of entertainment during the past week, the bare enumeration of the details of which would amply establish our city's claims to cosmopolitan character and a sufficient breath of novelties to suit any "minds eye"—A prize fight, very prettily fought too, even if it was not by the best men, as a "fight" for two religious convention, or conference the return dinner of the editors: the Flying Scud, a light-breeden drama at the Opera House; Ed Adams at Mc Vickers; the opening of a political campaign, and a series of minor amusements; there are but a portion of our bill of fare. For a dessert of sensations, we have enjoyed two or three very pretty bet some what inartistic murders, an outrage upon a female person, a score of divorces, the organization of a Liberal Christian Church, a Fenian Convention, a Fenian Fair and a force of great preparatives for the reception of Gen. Sheridan, and the getting up of the soldier's Widows and Orphans Fair. The prize fight was a brutal "mill" between two "Feather weights" named Dorney and Fitzgerald, and came off just across the Indiana State line. Fitzgerald was hammered beyond recognition by his best friends, but Dorney hit him once after he was down, so he took the stakes, $500. Another fight between Dorney and Duffy, "light weights," has been made up and will soon come off in this vicinity, although they may not be in any way connected, it is certainly the fact that prize fighting and practical christianity are here growing in popularity together.—Speaking of this organization relating the Y. M. C. A., it is run by Will Dexter and a few noble fellows like him, who propose to go even further than the Y. M. C. A., in the work of relieving the necessities of the poor. They are of the new school of religionists, who do not believe in feeding hungry children on tracts, curing sick people with doctoral points, or warming the freezing with articles of faith. Their creed should be called the religion of good works, not words, and they deserve highest honor for their practical teaching of the glorious doctrine of brotherly love. As for some, I might say more properly many, of the old school of "faith without works" professors, they remind me of the old dark ages perpetual teaches. Instead of the original "And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him," the African expounder rendered it "And Enoch walked with God, 'n he wasn't de nun God took him for." The Western Unitarian, Goodrich, which has been going on here during the past week, has given some very encouraging ideas of the progress of liberal christianity in the portion of the country, and steps have been taken, throughout the foundation of Sunday schools, the publication of a liberal christian weekly, and agressive missionary effort, to still further spread this rapidly growing influence. But, this is certainly enough, about religious affairs, even if this is Sunday. If it were not I should tell you something of theatricals, about Harry Ackley's "Flying Scud," the pretty ballet, which was just a little clodder than the "Black Crook," about Ed. Adams excellent season of the legitimate drama; about Arlington's excellent troupe of minstrels, the best and funniest in the business; about Frank Aiken leaving the Museum from Col. Wood for the rest of the season; about Helen Western, who will exhibit here this week, her fine form in the Female Sig., and Paris and London dress dramas; about the Opera troupe which is coming, etc., but as it is Sunday I will say nothing of all these, and only revert to the fact that the regular Sunday amusements continue. Tattersall's, the Varieties, and the German Theatre in the evening. Sunday, Rev. Mr. Thompson, of the Methodist church, preached a sermon against the theatre, and Rev. Mr. Bristol, of the Universalist church, preached a sermon against the Sunday liquor traffic. Yours truly, Ben.

Pupils are required to be REGULAR in their attendance, and when over slept or late they shall bring a written excuse from Parent or Guardian, satisfying the Teacher that the tardiness or absence was unavoidable. Any scholar in the High School who is absent four half days in any term, or in the Grammar and Intermediate Departments six half days, or in the Primary Department eight half days, without a written excuse, from Parent or Guardian, shall be suspended; but the Teacher shall inform the Parent or Guardian, when one additional days absence shall cause the pension. No pupil thus suspended shall be restored to school without the consent of the School Board and Principal, and satisfactory evidence given by the Parent or Guardian, that the Pupil will be punctual in the future. Four cases of tardiness shall be considered equivalent to one half days absence; under this rule. Non-resident Pupils without a Guardian will go to the Principal for excuses.

Sec. 2. All damages committed during school hours upon any of the school property shall be immediately paid for; or satisfactory remuneration made by the person or persons committing said damages, and in case it cannot be ascertained who the offender or offenders are, the amount of damages may be assessed upon the whole school. The pupil whose Parent or Guardian neglects or refuses to make good such injuries shall be denied the privileges of the school.

Sec. 3. Pupils are required to be gentlemanly and ladyly toward each other, respectful and obedient to their Teacher. The use of Tobacco, Profane or Vulgar language upon the Premises, is expressly forbidden.

Sec. 4. Pupils must procure the required Books before being admitted to their classes. They must pursue the course prescribed for the Department to which they belong, unless otherwise permitted by the Principal.

Sec. 5. Pupils are required to be in their respective rooms before the Bell ceases tolling, and in case of Absence or Tardiness, to bring on their return to school, an excuse in writing from their Parent or Guardian, assigning sufficient reason for such absence or tardiness.—They are not allowed to leave their school room during school hours, or the Premises at recess, or to go into rooms belonging to other departments, without permission from a Teacher.

Sec. 6. A scholar who shall be guilty of disorder, during the temporary absence of the Principal from his room, will by himself liable to very summary punishment.

Sec. 7. Pupils shall not absent themselves from any regular examination of the school without permission from their Teacher, always to be obtained beforehand.

Sec. 8. Pupils are required to leave the school house premises immediately upon the closing of the school in the afternoon, and at all times to refrain from throwing stones, or other missiles toward the Buildings.

Sec. 9. These and all other Rules and Regulations made by the Principal or a Teacher with the approval of the Board, for the conduct of the Pupils in the school must be strictly obeyed.—This is a condition of membership. And the willful and repeated opposition to these Rules or the authority of a Teacher or a pupil may be excluded from school.

Sec. 10. The Internal government of the school not herein provided for, shall be left to the Principal.

THE RYTHMIC NUMBER.

Shall we explain it? Do you wish to know something about it? Listen then. But not to its highest meaning. Not to where it crowns all. There is a well between us and that. But some of it we may dowdge to you. To the Pythians it was the Tripod, on which the priest sat to reveal the will of Apollo in the Temple at Delphi. To the Persians it was Fire, Land and Water. To the Egyptians it was Light, Darkness and Spirit. Epicurians it was Food, Sleep and Pleasure. In Architecture it is solidity, Fulfilment and Symetry. To the individual it is the Body, Mind and Soul. To the Benevolent it is Faith, Hope and Charity. It is symbolized in three links. In Three Columns. In Three Greetings. In Look, Thought, Speech.

But in an Intelligent, Growing, Pushing Live, Progressive, Enterprising village it makes itself known, visible manifest, in Churches, Schools, and Newspapers. Without these Three no village or town is complete. Without these, any place is behind the age, lost in the Fog, and dead to the world.

No village can truly live without these any more than without food—air and exercise. The man that opposes these, or is indifferent to them, is dead to his own interest; whether they be his interests in property, in comfort, or in culture. Such a man is a dead limb of a tree, a stagnant pool amid living waters an owl sitting on the Chine of bells; a flickering taper in the body politic. He may make money, but what does he know. He may acquire property, but look at his children. He may have brains, but listen to their dullness. He may have a soul, but what does he care.

MANCHESTER HAS THREE THERE. Not a long night, day has dawned on it. After a very long sleep, it has shaken itself, and opened its eyes. We have fair Churches, a Splendid School House and a live Paper. Sum them all up, and they read, ENTERPRISE.

Are you glad of it? Do you rejoice in it? Does your heart beat warmly for it? Then how much? How far? How deep—in your pocket.

If you are glad, if you jump with joy if you smile, (even in your sleep) at these things, then come up like a man, like a Christian. Give to the church, support the School, and subscribe for the "Enterprise." We dislike to bury any one. Funerals are sad things at best—how do not let us read your epitaph in your face. Let us be assured that you are alive by hearing you say "Give me my paper—here's your money."

THANKSGIVING.—President Johnson has appointed the 28th day of November as a day of National Thanksgiving. Where is our "Turkey?"

IMPORT VS. EXPORT.—During the month of Oct. the receipt of freight at this point was 3,689.19 lbs. The amount shipped during the same month was 6 [illegible]

A. J. DENNISON, Agt.

We have been requested to inform our readers that Sabbath Evening Services will be held in the Presbyterian Church, throughout the winter. The young people are especially invited to attend. Services just one hour in length.

DEDICATION.—Henry Goodyear will Dedicate his New Hall on Friday, Nov. 22nd. The best Band of Music in the State have been Secured for the occasion. A merry time may be expected. Particulars next week.

LITERARY.—We notice with pleasure the growing interest manifested at the meetings of our young society. The spirited debate upon universal suffrage, was concluded in favor of the ladies. The subject was very ably contested and the essay by Mrs. Tucker, well received. Our mutual friend "the critic" discharged his delicate duty with credit, with one exception. Webster sustains Mrs. Tucker's pronunciation. The ladies' paper and the glee club will be added to our usual exercises. A grand Concert will be given by the society this month, also one or two lectures.

ELECTION NEWS.—The telegraph says New York 40,000 dem; Maryland and New Jersey dem; Wisconsin, Minnesota and Massachusetts rep; universal suffrage defeated in Kansas; also, prohibitory in Minnesota.

We can't please every one and don't expect to. But we shall aim to please one, and hope to be able to please more. The following communication explains itself. The writer has his say, but whether or not we profit by the advice given, time will determine.—Ed.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 5th, 1867.

MR. EDITOR:—Don't you think you need a little advice about editing your paper? You undoubtedly mean well and desire to please, and it is presumed that your errors are of the head and not of the heart. But, the fact is we are a very peculiar people, and require a very peculiar paper to suit our tastes. Why? simply because our tastes are peculiar. Why they are peculiar, and in what respect, you will learn as you read on.

You Mr. Editor, are a stranger in this town. As yet you have not had either time or opportunity to become acquainted with the people of this thriving village. Undoubtedly you would get along very well conducting a paper in Jackson or Tecumseh, but you will find that it requires more and a different kind of talent to conduct a paper here.

It is for the purpose of posting you in relation to your duties as Editor, and our wants as patrons, that induces me to write you this communication.

Of course if we pay our money we expect to get just such a paper as pleases us—and a word printed or thought uttered that can displease or be offensive to our refined taste; and we are to judge for ourselves and not you for us. And as soon as an article appears containing anything we object to, we shall take the privilege of giving you a blowing up, or a knocking down, or send in a polite request to have the paper stopped, or all three.

First, in regard to what we expect of you. We expect you will give every business man, and every kind of business a puff—that is, every man who takes your paper and advertises his wares or goods in it. Speak especially of the generosity and public spirit of our citizens, of the enterprise and piety of our ministers, of the ability and honesty of our lawyers, of the skill and wisdom of our physicians, the truthfulness and politeness of our merchants, the affability and attention of our landlords, of the genius and industry of our mechanics, of the beauty and grace of our young ladies, of the morality and intelligence of our young men, of the modesty and merit of our young women and gives it the flourishing condition of our churches, a good literary and moral society within the bounds of our billiard, whiskey and liquor establishments, assume to say everything that can be said in praise of our town—if its past glory, its present beauty and its future greatness. Of the inhabitants—their enterprise, wealth, wit and wisdom. Do this, and the Enterprise will prove a success. Fortune and fame will smile upon you.

Having indicated subjects that you must treat upon, I will merely hint at a few you had better say nothing about. Keep out all disagreeable exciting and unpopular topics. Avoid especially connections with any religious sect, which their this people, are by far, [illegible] of opinion. Let neutrality in everything, independent in nothing, be your watchword and motto. Eschew politics. Touch very lightly on morality and religion—by so doing you have nothing to say about either. Speak of vice in general terms, or in such a vague and indefinite manner that no one will know what you mean, or, if you please upon a man here it be some poor scamp who has neither expectants, money or friends. It is well enough to say something occasionally of the vices of the inhabitants of sodom, but don't as you value your bread and butter' say anything about the vices of the city of Manchester.

And now with this advice (it is love not fault of course I can speak freely to you) to express my regrets that the article entitled "The Social Evil" should have found a place in the last number of your paper. What have we to do with the social evils of Chicago? That city is far away and the poor wretches shivering with cold, diseased physically and morally, starving and dying in her back alleys and filthy dens are not related to us. True they are human beings but they don't belong to our "set" and we have no desire to be contaminated by their touch or have our sensibilities shocked by reading of the sufferings of such specimens of God's image. If Wm. Dexter and other unscrupulous men and women of Chicago choose to engage in the low work of fooling and clothing this class of humanity, let them do it. Evangelical christians, especially the members of the Y. M. C. A., are doing a work with them to any such work. If they continue, write, why publish it?

Be careful how you criticise the official action of our "city fathers." Touch the subject of intemperance lightly, and as you value a whole limb, say nothing against the liquor traffic. Should you profit by this advice, your stay in town will be very pleasant and prosperous. If not, you will leave soon.

MANCHESTER.

Cattle Guards, of Ridgeway, which has met by fire, will in the last few years, six saw mills, is now engaged in building mill on the same foundation that burned for the first. If this is not an exhibition of enterprise, wealth, wit and wisdom. Do this, and the Enterprise will prove a success. Fortune and fame will smile upon you.

CANTATA OF ESTHER.—The Cantata of Esther, the beautiful Queen, is to be produced at Goodyear's Hall, Dec. 12th and 13th. It requires sixty ladies and gents to participate in, and the leading characters require the best musical talent in the State. Mr. Ferris, of Jackson, has been engaged a musical director, and Miss Mattie Graves, J. S. Strong, Ed. Allen have kindly volunteered their valuable services. The proceeds of this entertainment are to be devoted to the Presbyterian Church. A worthy object, deserving liberal support.

☞ Remember the Good Templar's Festival to-morrow (Friday) night. The company will be entertained at the Lodge Rooms. Supper at Unterkircher's Hall.

L. BOGGESS,
S. M. BOGGESS.

MISPRIVILEGE of the MISSISSIPPI MISTERY.

We notice the arrival of Mr. A. R. Collins, the General Agent, for Gen'l L. C. Baker's "History of the Secret Service." This notable work has immense sale throughout the State.—This is emphatically the most interesting book the War has produced; one that combines the absorbing interest of the romance with the details of contemporary history. It is a work of deep national importance. It is a well known fact both North and South, that the secret service of the War Department was conducted with marvellous success and ability. How so many elaborate and well laid plans against the government were frustrated, puzzled and mortified the South, while it delighted and mystified the North. Now the certainty of both parties is gratified by the publication of a full history of this secret service, from the pen of no less than the identifiable chief him self. The Book is issued in a very superior style, type, binding and all of best quality, Illustrated with some 20 splendid engravings.—We mentioned Mr. Collins wishes to establish some agencies throughout this and surrounding counties. Will remain in town a few days.

General News.

The ground was covered with snow at Buffalo, Nov. 13th.

Wm. M. Evans, R. H. Dane and Gen. Wells, counsel for the prosecution, and District Attorney Chandler, of Eastern Virginia, left on a consultation of several hours to-day, with Attorney Gen. Stanbery, with regard to the course to be pursued in the trial of Jeff. Davis. Intelligent gentlemen, are ready to proceed with the case on the 25.

A World's special says that General Sherman is expected in Washington this week, and some of the conservatives are proposing a movement in his behalf for the Presidency, as a counter irritant to the Grant movement.

A New York Herald's washington special says that it is reported that a negro plot to kill certain white and colored men who vote the conservative ticket has been discovered near Lynchburg.

It is also said that the negroes are debating in Mackburg and adjourning counties whether to seize the lands on the first of January, if they are not given them.

A fire broke out about ten o'clock this morning in P. Stephens barn, Ypsilanti, and before it could be subdued, five other barns were destroyed. Loss estimated at $10,000. M. C. Chenney losing three buildings, thirty tons of hay, seven hundred bushels of corn and a large number of valuable farming implements. The fire was caused by the careless disposal of hot ashes.

NEW YORK, Nov 13.

A special to the New York HERALD, dated New Archangel, October 5th, via Swinomish, W. T., Nov. 11, says: The formal transfer and delivery of Russian America to the United States took place to-day by Capt. Pestschoff, acting commissioner on behalf of the Russian Government, and Major General Rousseau. At 3 o'clock, p. m., a battalion of U. S. troops, under command of Major Chas. O. Wood, of the 9th Infantry, was drawn up in front of the Governor's residence. As the Russian flag was lowered, Capt. Pestroeloff stepped forward and addressed Gen. R., as follows:

As commissioner of his Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Russia, I now transfer and deliver the Territory of Russian America, ceded by his majesty to the United States.

General Rousseau, in response, as the American flag ascended, said:

As commissioner in behalf of the U. S. Government, I receive and accept the same accordingly.

SOLITUDE.—At the Fort William Henry Home I saw a lover and a lady seated with the company of the lady's younger brother:

"Is a state lake?" sighed the lady. "I wish I might have an island in it, and solitude."

"Without me?" said the lover, plaintively.

"You are solitude to me!" she said; "you put the rest of the world far off from us."

"Yes!" said the boy. "He's a sweet old solitude, he is! He's a solitude with a bareboat in it, and boys to det my trains. He's more solitude by himself than fortitude."
