

Notes on Contributors

- Kwame Arhin is Professor and Director of the Institute of African Studies. His research interests are in the area of Economic Anthropology.
- Volker Riehl is an affiliated research student of the Department of Sociology, University of Ghana, and a doctoral student at the Institut für Soziologie, Westfälisch-Wilhelms-Universität, Münster, West Germany.
- Albert K. Awedoba is an anthropologist and a Research Fellow in the Institute of African Studies.
- Joseph R.A. Ayee is a former lecturer in Public Administration, University of Swaziland, and now doctoral student, the Harry Truman Institute, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel.
- Kwame Ninsin is a Political Scientist and a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Political Science, Legon.
- Olive Akpebu is Assistant Librarian at the Institute of African Studies, Legon.