

Getting the Most from Early Order Programs

By Steve Kammerer, Ph.D., senior consulting agronomist, Southeast Region

FEATURED

If you know that you need certain products every year, early order programs can help you save money and ensure that you have the materials available when you need them. However, the temptation of savings can also lead to purchasing mistakes that may end up costing you more money down the road. This article will help you use early order to your maximum benefit while avoiding potential pitfalls.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

Celebrating the USGA Course Consulting Service

The USGA Course Consulting Service has played a major role for the Green Section over the past 70 years in meeting its goal of providing expertise for courses across the country. Our regional agronomists have performed more than 100,000 visits, using a combination of local expertise with the latest research and technology to provide solutions tailored for each course.

U.S. Open Afternoon Agronomics

USGA agronomists play a major role in course preparations at the U.S. Open, including arriving to the course at 4:00 a.m. each morning. But when play begins, the work isn't over. Catch up with Adam Moeller as he followed the final group on Saturday during this year's U.S. Open at Winged Foot Golf Club.
