

Country Dawns and City Lights

by Musaemura Zimunya

Musaemura Zimunya who grew up in the Eastern Highlands and now lectures at the University of Zimbabwe, emerges as a major poet — confident and radical

In Country Dawns And City Lights he offers us without romanticising, vital glimpses of the past, a world which nourishes his imagination.

We are also taken into the lion's den that is the city, a place which symbolises a civilisation whose capacity to brutalise seems infinite.
