

SCIENCE IN RHODESIA IS A PART OF YOUR SCIENCE

For News on Rhodesian Science
Order a regular copy of . . .

IN THIS ISSUE

TRENDS IN AGRICULTURE

- Production
- Marketing
- Research
- Extension
- Education—University
- Education—Schools and Colleges

Book Reviews

Science Forum

Indigenous Trees

Notes from Societies

COMING EVENTS

6 March, 8.30 a.m.—4.30 p.m.
Edgewell Lecture Theatre
University of Rhodesia,
Salisbury. Symposium on
"Population and Protein"
Speakers: Mrs. A. Geraty,
Drs. G. Bato, A. P. Bow-
maker, J. Edwards, R. C.
Elliot, J. Hanks, D. H.
Holness, M. J. Riley and B. H. Walker under the chairmanship of Mr. A. H. Siemens
The Rhodesia Scientific Association.

COVER PHOTO: Illumination, then insight—Sunset on Lake Kariba. (See Editorial) (Photo by Ministry of Information).

I wish to become a subscriber to The Rhodesia Science News.
P.O. Box 8351, Causeway, Salisbury, Rhodesia.

I enclose cheque, money order for . . . year(s)

Name (Block capitals)

Address

Signed:

Subscription rates: Single copies: 50c
Annual subscription: $5.00

Each monthly issue of Rhodesia Science News contains: ● Articles on current research and development ● A briefing on what goes on scientifically in Rhodesia ● A calendar of scientific events ● Notes and news from Rhodesian scientific societies ● Science Forum, in which to air one's views ● Indigenous trees described and illustrated. Etc. etc.