ACCIDENT INSURANCE.—We have received the local agency of the Provident Life Insurance and Investment Company of Chicago Illinois. This company has in the last eighteen months, paid over $50,000 losses, by which persons of almost every occupation of profession have received benefits, and the heirs of widows and orphans made glad. No other class of insurance is of equal value to the assured, providing, as it does, compensation for disabling injuries, and at the same time, guaranteeing the wife and children provision in the future in case of death of the beloved husband and father. For particulars call at the Enterprise Office.

ACCIDENT.—A son of Erick Fromm received a severe wound in the left eye by a spirited horse while watering him at the ...water.

SAD.—A young widow named Kelsey, residing about twenty miles from Detroit, concluded to kill her self the other day. While at Jackson she attended a ball, and formed the acquaintance of a handsome young man, who proposed that she return home with him, via. Toledo and Detroit. They arrived at the Antrim House, and Mrs. K. gave her escort the slip, following the clerk of the steamboat, carrying her money and clothes. The gentleman authorities failed to locate the female money and clothes. The gentleman is a base villain, and a scamp, but a whole widow of Queen—If he will only find her and tell us who she does?

☞ A letter from Mr. Fuller, of Ann Arbor, will be read at the Lecture on Tuesday evening next.

PRIZE WHEAT.

The time-honored of the white bearded corn-pol Michigan is deserving to be pointed out each year, commanding, as it does, the highest price paid for this grain not only in New York, but in the foreign markets. Our merchants are also invited by long experience that when the wheat crop is grown up to a high standard it is a good for them as the grower. Impressed with this idea, and realizing fully how beneficial would to the results of any experience which would tend to increase not only the quantity grown per acre, but which would also have the effect of keeping up and raising its quality to the highest standard, Messrs. Moore Foote & Co., of Detroit, and a place at the disposal of the Michigan State Agricultural Society for the sum of $250 00, divided into three grand prizes, for the best five acres of white wheat sown in 1868 and harvested in 1869. The prizes are: 1st. For the best five acres of wheat harvested in 1869—if the crop of which not less than 25, bushels will be shown at the State Fair of that year—$250 00. For the second best five acres of white wheat, of which not less than five bushels shall be shown at the State Fair of that year, $150.

These premiums are offered at the early date that all competitors may have time and opportunity to prepare themselves thoroughly, and to select the varieties of seed which they may deem best adapted to it. Messrs. Moore, Foote & Co., in making this liberal donation to the agricultural interests, have chosen to restrict around these premiums few conditions to be complied with. They desired that the President and Secretary of the State Agricultural Society should make such examinations as would call out as much general information as possible in relation to the various soils, methods of tillage and varieties of seed in producing white wheat of the highest standard. The rules laid down by the State Society, to guide all who may enter to compete for the premiums, have been made as simple as possible, but at the same time are intended to bring out all the practice and experience of the best skilled growers, so that this class of citizens in Michigan and other States may reap some general benefit from the awards of these large and liberal premiums.

The September number of Packard's Magazine contains a beginning poem for the Magdalens of N. Y. City—from the pen of Oliver Dyer. We regret that our limited space forbids the articles, word for word; however, we refer our readers to the Magazine, and make the following

They have come from high life, and they have come from low life, and a few from the middle ranks, these poor girls of the town; but they all look alike to the public gaze. Some have been driven to it by poverty, some by seduction, some by evil associations, and some by natural depravity; but they all look alike to the public gaze. ☞ Campaign Songs for sale at the News Depot.

THE FAIR.—We venture to say that the Republican of Manchester have the best campaign banner in the State. It was painted by Jacobus & Miller, and cost $75. It is 42 feet long by 10 feet wide. One side of this banner presents a beautiful scene on the Mississippi river, viz: a fort upon the bluffs, gun-boats, etc., Gen. Grant, life size, in the foreground. The prospective is fine, as we have seen. Upon the opposite side of the flag is a battle scene, the General on horse-back ordering the Reserve to the front. The lettering, inscriptions and other designs, afford ample opportunity for those who delight to study the artists' imagination. Pedestrians passing on the street are continually colliding with each other while gazing at this beautiful flag, therefore it is only displayed on Saturdays.

☞ A good Shoemaker can find steady employment by applying to John Rogle, over Doty's Store, Manchester.

DIED.—In this village, Sunday Sept. 6th, Clarence Freemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Greiner. Aged 9 months.

ANNOYANCE.—A lady parting with her husband in the room at Allaway's, was overheard by passengers to utter the following paragraph all in one breath:

Good bye, Will, write to me every day, won't you?—Will expect a letter three times a week, any way. Take good care of my Sunday School class, for I'll want it sure when we get back. If Uncle Smith calls, don't give her more than fifty cents, for we have to support our own church, you know. Don't forget to bring my silk dress and my other shoes. Come as soon as you can. Good bye. Don't forget your cane, and let your mustache grow.

A CARD.—The Ladies of Manchester and vicinity, last spring contributed to make up a box for the Teacher's Home and Freedmen's Gang to sickness and removal, that box has been acknowledged until now. Miss Wells says: "let me thank the good people of Manchester and vicinity, for their kindness in sending a box to the Teachers Home in Milledgeville. The things is contained will add much comfort to the Home. Not only that, but make comfortable some of the suffering poor among the colored people. Let me assure you the gift is accepted with many thanks, knowing it will do much good. God will surely bless the sacrifice that many of his people will make to aid in any way the downtrodden, ignorant, suffering ones, among his creatures. The work among our Freedmen is not in the least loosing its interest. The field is still very great and "white for the harvest." The means to send workers into that field, is most needed. Can the people of Manchester do more? If any have been prospered so that they can give money, I trust they will. If not, perhaps they can help to supply some home with something that will give comfort, or keep in health the mothers."

☞ As civilization advances, the demand for literature increases in equal proportion. We are blessed with law and lawyers, still the public demand requires one more. Our friend Stewart has returned and is prepared to give good advice to those in search of reconstruction. Office with G. R. Palmer.

RUMOR.—Our young friend, Chas Vaughan, has rented and refitted the basement of Goodyear's Block, where he will be happy to receive all old and many new friends. Everything will be done to furnish our village with a first-class barber-shop. A competent barber, while will be procured and customers will receive prompt attention. Charley merits encouragement—will he receive it.

☞ A fine in Ohio says the Government is in debt $1500, the most of which was expended in bureaus and other useless furniture for the negroes.

☞ The Campaign Dance passed off quietly at Goodyear's hall, Friday last. The company were principally from our neighboring villages Chelsea, Saline and Grass Lake. Mr. Grant nearly failed to furnish music, on account of sickness, but engaged the Ann Arbor Brothers and gave entire satisfaction. Messrs. Hewitt & Westfall fitted the supper programme in their usual style—the best the market affords—and more too.

☞ BISSELL is Coming.

PERSONAL.—By reference to the paper published last week our readers will observe that Rev. J. W. Sluts has been assigned by the Conference to labor at Northville. Mr. S. took charge of this congregation numbering 130, three years since, and at the close of his labors left it by himself to an increase of 180 members. During these three years he has been instrumental in the many church improvements at Sharon and this village. The organ, the bell, the enlargement o the church, the parsonage and other improvements, are monuments of his zeal for the welfare of the congregation under his charge, and manifest generally. His congregation and other citizens of the village, deeply regret that the ties of church interest has been in another field and in bidding this worthy couple farewell, they extend them the true hand of christianity and brotherly love, hoping they may live to enjoy three times three years on the soil of the Peninsular State.

DAVIS.
Manchester, Sep. 27th, 1867.
William and Jennie Davis are colored people, just married, who arrived in our village a few months since, and opened a barber-shop. Everything "was lovely" and matrimonial comfort reigned in their partnership. She dissolved, and William resolved, to cheat us out of a few dollars. It is a dark transaction, but does not change our political opinion of Africanization-leather-poles at the North.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—The October number of this unrivalled lady's book is before us, as usual in a variety of its contents. The steel plate, "The Young Architect," is full of life and character. The mammoth fashion plate is superb, and this, with the dozens of patterns for dresses, bonnets, cloaks, under-garments, &c., &c., ought to induce every lady to subscribe. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens' powerful novelet, "The Bride of the Prairies," approaches its conclusion, growing more intensely interesting with every number. Frank Lee Benedict illustrates a spirited engraving, "The Awkward Introduction," by an equally spirited story. "Sir Noel's Heir," another novelet, is one of the best we have read for years. Several charming stories and some good poetry, complete the number. In everything indeed, "Peterson's" maintains its claim to be the best, as well as cheapest of lady's magazines. The terms are but $2.00 a year. To clubs it is five copies for $8 00, with an extra copy, or a premium engraving to the person getting up the club. We see that a new premium engraving has been got up for 1869. It is a very superb one, after a picture by the famous Gerome, and is called "The Star of Bethlehem." Specimens of the magazine are sent gratis, to persons desirous of getting up clubs. Address Chas J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. For sale at Mrs. Woodruffs News Depo.
