The representatives of the six powers sent a collective note to the Turkish government calling attention to the inadequate measures taken by the police authorities to maintain public tranquility in Constantinople and its suburbs and demanding the prompt institution of a rigorous inquiry into the recent rioting, bloodshed and wholesale imprisonment of Armenians here. In addition the powers demand the release of all prisoners who are innocent of wrong doing, and the cessation of arrests. The Turkish government in reply to the collective note enumerated the measures taken to preserve order and declared that the Armenians were the aggressors and had killed inoffensive Mussulmen. It denies ordering that no food be supplied to the refugees in the churches, urges the ambassadors to assist in restoring order, and charges that the Armenians agitators are intriguing to cause fresh disturbances. The answer is not satisfactory to the ambassadors. Madrid: It is stated on the best authority that the government of the United States has notified the Spanish minister at Washington, Senor Depuy de Lome, that there is a necessity that Spain should act promptly in her efforts to crush the insurrection in Cuba. The news has caused quite a sensation here. The government has decided to carry on a vigorous campaign in Cuba just as soon as the dry season commences. Whatever may have been the inspiring cause of recent Spanish activity against the insurgents it is now known officially that Spain is about to open a campaign of far greater energy than any thus far taken.

Spaniards Threaten to Invade Florids.
Havana: The excitement and bad feeling of the Spanish against the American government and people increases. It is reported that one high Spanish official said: "After we put down the Cuban insurrection we will invade Florida with 100,000 men, reconquer it and oblige Uncle Sam'to pay us $500,000,000 for allowing fillibustering expeditions to be fitted out against a peaceful and friendly nation like Spain." Tampa, Fla.: Spanish newspapers report an engagement near Santa Clara in which 1.500 Spaniards under Gen. Valdez were attacked by the insurgents and routed. La Quinta, in Remedios, was attacked by the insurgents, who took the port and set it on fire. Two thousand Spanish troops were quartered there. When the fire reached them they retired from the city. At Buccito the Spanish forces were surprised while Commander Lieut. Francisco was absent. In trying to rejoin his companions they mistook and killed him. In Vucita Abajo several small bands of insurgents have appeared. The Spanish column under Lieut. Tovar was surprised near Elorajo while crossing the Bayamo river. The Spanish loss was considerable. Many were drowned.

Hayana: The troops commanded by Col. Souss had a fight at Manacas with the band of Zayas. The troops took the positions held by the insurgents, who left upon the field seven killed and five wounded. An insurgent band numbering sixty men appeared at Guira Melena. Thirty of them were captured by the civil guards. Guira Melena is on the railroad leading to Hayana and only about 45 kilometres from the city. A dispatch from Remedios announces that the insurgents destroyed, with dynamite, one of the finest and largest bridges of the Sagua la Chica vailroad not far from Camanjuari, in the province of Santa Clars. Terrible Water Famine Along the Ohio. For two months a severely felt drouth has reigned over western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, almost the entire state of Ohio and parts of Indiana. tire state of Ohio and parts of Indibua-Since April 6; owing to shallow water in the Monongahela river, not a bushel of coal has passed Pittsburg and 8,000 miners in the river pits are idle. All the boats are loaded and 20,000,000 of coal has passed the dide. All the boats are loaded and 20,000,000 bushels of coal are waiting. Railroads are forced to haul water for their entertainty. bushels of coal are watting, hallows are forced to haul water for their engines. The Ohio river is so low at East Liverpool that the water pipes are almost empty. Nine-tenths of the small towns have strictly limited the consumption of water. A large number of towns have cut off shops and mills, forcing them to resort to artesian wells. In Lawrence, Mercer and adjoining Ohio counties farmers are selling their stock because of the difficulty in keeping cattle watered. In the oif fields surrounding Pittsburg the work of drilling new wells has been so greatly interfered with as tocause a practically complete suspents of operations.

MANCHESTER'S SENSATION

HARDY WILD PONIES. HOW THEY ARE CAPTURED AND THE ENTIRE STOCK OF KEMPF & CO. SOLD TO S WALTER C. MACK

At His Own Price for Spot Cash.

Those who are acquainted with the stock of Kempf & Co. know it as a clean up to date stock as perfect in style and quality as it is possible for a stock of Dry Goods, Carpets and Groceries to be. The goods are all Staple, Substantial and New. When it is possible to get hold of such a stock at one's own price it is indeed a stroke of lucky merchantdising.

This we have done and as a result we are now in possession of Two Large Stocks of Merchandise in Manchester. Of course we don't want two stocks here—we don't want to run one ock in opposition to another. In fact, we didn't want the stock at all but could not resist so big a bargain. The question now arises what to do-with it. Will we move it to some other town and close it out where the sale will not antagonize our other business here or will we close it out Manchester. The first suggestion would seem more sensible, more business like and no doubt nine business men out of ten would adopt that course and this is what we first decided Manchester. The first suggestion would seem more sensible, more business like and no doubt nine business men out or ten would adopt that course and this is what we first decided to be do. Upon more mature deliberation however we have decided to Sell the Entire Stock in Manchester.

We want to bring more people to Manchester. We want to popularize ourselves in the minds of the whole community as BARGAIN GIVERS. The public likes bargains and we want to think well of the giver of them, therefore, instead of giving to strangers the benefit of This Great Purchase we propose to gain prestage and the good will of the people we apt to think well of the giver of them, therefore, instead of giving to strangers the benefit of This Great Purchase we propose to gain prestage and the good will of the people we know and with whom we hope to have lifelong business relations.

This Sale Commences Saturday, October 5, and will last until the stock is closed out.

DOVER, CLARE CO., MICH., June 7, 1895. To the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.: This is to certify that I have been a great reinferer from that dreaded disease rheuratism for many years. In the fall of '68, onthe 7th day of November I was taken down bed-fast with rheumatism and was not out of the house again until the 28th of March, 80, and from that time on I have suffered beyond description. Every winter I could not get out of the house, and two different times since I was first taken with it I have been perfectly helpless for weeks at a time, so I had to be bandled in a blanket. I tried aimset everything that I could think of but they did me no good, and the doctors could not reach my case. But after I saw what wonderful things Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for my wife in a case of paralysis, I made up my mind to try them for my rheumatism: and I must say to the homor of Dr.

In the spring of 'Mal I took three boxes of these pills and put in the best summer that have for many years. But during the winter I caught cold and my rheumatism returned, and this spring I commenced on a haif dozen boxes and have taken them, and must say that I have had less rheumatic pain this spring than I have had before since I was first taken down in the fall of '88.

I do not claim that I am entirely cured yet, but I do believe that they will drive it entirely from the system, and I hope that Dr. Williams Pills will find their way into many homes and do for others what they have done for us.

"Not quite, but it is something of that nature," explained the young "You see, the trouble is now that man or anything of that sort have to go it blind. There is no telling what it will cost before they get through, and so lots of people who might go into the market and buy a street or two are frightened off. My idea is to simplify all that by getting up a price list that will give all the information desired and put a franchise seeker in a position where he has a basis upon which to work. I'd charge for streets at so much a block, grading the price according to their location, the inconvenience of tearing them up would cos and the amount of kicking that would be likely to be made against the aider

The day was fair, and "Beauty" Pau amused her with stories of Rube, and when they came to an end he told her of his own home, in the heart of a green country in England.

He made her laugh with his tales of college life, and shudder with his descriptions of the campaign in Egypt which he had gone through. Only he did not tell her how he, an English gentleman, and a gallant officer, came be loafing and drinking and gambling away his days and his health in Great White canyon.

The next Sunday Mary shut herself within her log cabin, and neither the blue sky nor the gay cart and smartly caparisoned horse, nor "Beauty" nor himself could wheedle her out.

records of the Land Office at Washington reveal some extraordinary the down-going car is far more than Southern Texas which seems on the car under any possible conditions of nap to intrude into Mexico, terminating in a point at the mouth of the Ric Grande. This region, nearly as big as New England, comprises four great counties, and is owned by four families-the Kings the Kennedys, the Collinses and the Armstrongs. Much the largest of the four shares belongs in fee simple to Mrs. King. Few men in this world have ever been so hated and feared as was Capt King. He was a character typical of Texas life twenty years ago. Employ ing the labor of large numbers of ignor-ant Mexicans, he induced them to aconire homesteads under the laws of the United States. They were always in debt to him: and eventually their lands came to him. In this manner the gigantic estate was largely built up. Other white men who took up holdings in the region were shut in with barbedwire fences by the great proprietor They found themselves enclosed as in mousetraps; they could not drive out their cattle, and so sold their property to Capt. There is no road law in that country The only way to get from Brownsville to Alice is by a stage route of forty hours. The stage carries mail for a large part of Mexico. In the entire distance there is not a single settle ment, because the territory traversed belongs to Mrs. King. The region is wholly wild, being used for cattle grazing.

In "The West from a Car Window" Mrs. King is referred to by Richard Harding Davis, who remarks that it is difficult to imagine a solitary family occupying an area larger than the Eastern States-an area that would in the East support a State capital, with Governor and Legislature and numerous small towns, with competing railway systems and rival baseball
