TIPE ON THE FARM.

Paper read by H. H. Raby at the Public Meeting of the Norvell Farmers Club, at Norvell, Town Rath Mar. 23, 1991.

I have read somewhere not long since a short degree which ran something.

I have read somewhere not long since a short degree which ran something.

I have read somewhere not long since a short degrered which ran something like the following:

"Farm life is not so bad a life, As some would like to make it. But whether good or whether bad, Depends largely on how you take it."

And generally speaking is this not about so? Does not a good deal depend upon how we take the life on a farm?

Take this locality for instance; there is some neighbor who always meets us with a pleasant smile and kindly words, always ready and willing to lend a helping hand by the unfortunate, although his own lot in life may be that of privations and many wants to meet. If misfortune overtake him no matter, he meets it with the fortified of-a philosophical David Haram, that inimitable trader of horses that emen and self possession on the past of their was and self possession on the past of their was and self possession on the past of their was and self possession on the past of their was and self possession on the past of their was and self possession on the past of their was and yet a more worried, dissatisfied, musociable mortal one seldom meets.

I think sometimes that this condition is caused by the long days which the farmer requires of his help. In the shop and factories the employees have fixed hours of labor, not so on the farm. There it is early and late, and many workers prefer lesser hours of labor notwithstanding the work may be harder and wages awed in the end be less.

and take rest, enjoy some of the comforts of life, and here the question presentalized in such a strong light that I think no one can fail to see the reason which to my mind is just this: The difference between the price paid for help and the income of the farm caused by crop failure or drouth, insects, etc., is such that it will not permit of the employment of much exita help, consequently the farmer must do a large per cent of it himself. I was going to say that possibly this condition might be relieved in a measure by growing largely machine crops, but after thinking the matter over, the conclusion bas been reached that crops grown principally by machine, are the ones that usually are light machine will be allowing and this very pretity and healthy place.

Sleep?

Did you ever have that feeling of oppression, like a weight on your chest, or a load of cobblestones in your stomach, keeping you awake nights with a horrible sensation of anxiety, or tossing restlessly in terrible dreams, that make the cold perspiration break out all over you? That's insomnia, or sleeplessness, and some unfortunates suffer with it night after night, until their reason is in danger and they are on the edge of going mad. The cause of this fearful allment is in the stomach and bowels, and a Cascare taken at night will soon bring relief and give the sufferer sweet, refreshing sleep. Always insist on getting CASCARETSI
