light processions, marching in rail fence order, presented a grand and inspiring sight. While we were not old enough, about 14, to march in the ranks and carry a torch we followed them around with the rest of the boys and hurrahed for Lincoln and Hamlin.

We well remember the first war meeting held at Manchester immediately after Goy. Blair's call for one regiment of three months troops, Michigan's quota under President Lincoln's proclamation for 75,000 troops. The Governor and the military board met at Detroit April 16, 1861, and made arrangements to organize, arm and equip the First Michigan Iulian.

Mr. & Mrs. A. Williams are making plans to move. They have lived here many years and have a host of friends who regret to eee hem go. Thoy have been active workers in the church and Sunday school, where they will be greatly missed.

"WHAR DEW I CUM IN?"

(Being the Soliloquy of a Farmer on the Free Raw Sugar Question.)

"Thar's a mighty lot er talkin' about farmers 'n thar rights,
'N the wonderful prosperity thet beet growin' invites.
Thar's a heap er foolish crowin' 'n the 'beats' begin ter shout 'n holler fer the Tariff ter keep free raw sugar out!

But I notis that the beet-producin' tarms are very few,

An' the farmers through the country ain't got much ef it ter dew. An' the farmers through the country ain t got much. The hull land ain't a-raisin' beets, 'n ain't goin' ter begin, Beet growin's right fer sum, I guess—but, whar dew I cum in?

The farmer gits four dollars now fer every ton o' beets-A hansom price, I must allow-but hidm' sum deceits. Beet sugar manyfacterers admit es they hev found Thet "granylated" costs 'em sumthin' like tew cents a pound. In fact thet leaves a profit on which they d greatly thrive—And—if it kin be sold fer three, why should we pay 'em FIVE? It seems ter me es thet's a game thet's mighty like a skin-But—if, thar's any benefit—waal,—whar dew I cum in?

When Uncle Sam's in want o' cash we're glad ter help him out, 'N we'll stand all the taxes that are needed, never doubt, But when his possest-book's well lined an nary cent he lacks, Et seems, ter me his duty's ter repeal that Sugar tax. Them fellers wor is interested sez its to protect The beet-producin' farmer that the duty they collect, But I guess that explanation es a little bit too thin-The sugar maker,-he's all right ;-but-whar dew tee cum in?

Take off raw sugar duty an' the price will quickly falt, To everyhody's benefit, fer sugar's used by all.

To everyhody's benefit, fer sugar's used by all.

The poor will bless the Government thet placed it in that reach—
(in millions of our citizens free sugar now beseech).

The dealer 'll be delighted—less expenditure fer him—
More demand in bigger profits—which at present are but slim.

An' the farmer 'll be as well paid as he ever yet hes ben—

But he'll buy his sugar chiefer—thet's whar he an' I'll cum in.

Now, whar's the sense er reason of the sugar tax to-day Now, whar's the sense or reason of the sugar tax to-day, When our treasury's a-bulgin' an' we hev no debts ter pay?

The duty on raw sugar's Fifty million every year—
An the people's got ter pay it—thet's a fact thet's very clear.
Fifty million! Great Jerusha! Ter protect beet magnates, too, Why should they tax ALL the people—just ter help a scattered FEW?

And the FEW? Beet sugar MAKERS! Don't it really seem a sin Thus ter help an' fill thar coffers? Whar dew you an' I cum in?

The farmer growin' beets hes got a contract price fer years,— Free raw sugar wouldn't hurt him, an of it he hes no fears. But mebbe, like myself—he's also growing fruit so nice— The repealing of the duty surely cuts the price in two—Thet'll make a mighty difference, neighbor, both ter me an' you! Let the sugar manyfactrer make such profits as he kin— Ter him it may seem right enuff—but whar dew I cum in?

An' I ain't a-goin' ter swaller all the argyments they shout Thet the farmers need protection—an' must bar raw sugar out. Common sense is plainly showin' that the people in the land Want raw sugar free in future—an' its freedom will demand. Tis a tax no longer needed—hateful to the public view,— Taxing millions of our people to enrich a favored few.

They can't blind me any longer with the foolish yarns they spin,—
While they're busy makin' money—whar dew you and I come in?

I'm a-goin' ter keep on hustlin', talkin', pleadin' with my frends,-Ain't no sense in lettin others gain that selfish privet ends.

I'm a-goin ter write ter-morrer to my Congressman and say.

Then the oughter do his best ter kill that tax without delay!

Feller-farmers, do your utmost—whether you grow begts or not.

To-repeal the tax on sugar—you can but improve your lot!

Cheaper sugar-helps your pocket, greater blessings you can-win—

When we've three-cent granylated—that's whar you an' I come in!

(It whimpered like some hungr; child
That clasps its parent's hand
And pleads for bread when there is none
In all the dreary land.)
Above the little Plymouth town.
Circling with empty maw.
Mocking their hunger, flew the arow.
Shrieking his "haw, haw, haw"

Patience, a blue-eyed maiden,
'Her eyes with tears were dip',
From hunger feeble, trembling knelt
And raised her voice to Him.
'Dear Dod,' she said in pleading tones,
Tender, plaintite and sweet.

We's almost tarved, an' wou't 'oo

please Send down some fings to eat?"

Then all day long her watchful eyes
Gazed down the village street.
Not doubting but she soon would see
Some one with "fings to eat."
And, lo! before the sun had set,
With wild fowl laden down,
Four hunters from the forest drear
Came marching into town.

And (as in answer to the prayer),
To add to all the cheer.
And banish family from the place.
Came Indians with deer.
The joyous villagers rushed out
The ladened ones to meet.
But Patience knelt and said: Yanks,
Dod. For sendin'-fings to eat."

IT IS REFRESHING TO THE TASTE
AND ACTS PLEASANTLY AND GENTLY. TASSISTS ONE HABITUAL CONSTIPATION
TO OVERCOME PERMANENTLY

With many millions of families Syrup of Figs has become the ideal home laxative. The combination is a simple and wholesome one, and the method of manufacture by the California Fig Syrup Company ensures that perfect purity and uniformity of product, which have commended it to the favorable consideration of the most eminent physicians and to the intelligent appreciation of all who are well informed in reference to medicinal agents.

Syrup of Figs has truly a laxative effect and acts gently without in any way disturbing the natural functions and with perfect freedom from any unpleasant after effects.

In the process of manufacturing, figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinally laxative principles of the combination are obtained from plants known to act most beneficially on the system.

Beiler Exple-ion at Breeklyn.

From our regular correspondent.

At 3:40 p. m. Monday a triffic explosion occured. The whole town shook and people thought a cyclone or an earth quake had occured, but it suddenly dawned upon them that the boiler in the electric light plant had blown up and the plant is a total wreck.

Will Stimm the engineer stood in front of the dynamo and he was blown out into the street with the front of the building and was badly bruised and cut. It was at first thought he was in the ruins and great excitement prevailed.

Fire immediately started but was soon extinguished. The boiler weighing three tons shot upwards in a northwesterly course like a sky rocket and came crashing down through the roof of the masonic hall doing great damage. The public hall below is not so body damaged but the new addition is a sorry looking affair.

A four inch pipe west straight through the hall and landed on Frank Miller's porch. Other pipes went into Martin's jewelry shop. Plate glass windows in nearly every store in town are shattered. Residences are marred with bricks, windows are broken and yards are full of debris of all kinds. Bricks went through residences just missing peoples heads and it seems a miracle no one was killed. Mrs. Cole living some distance away was struck by a brick and at first it was thought her limb was broken.

15 ladies were practicing for the "Spinsters Convention" on the stage below when the boiler struck. They escaped badly frightened though some were knocked down.

Leon Green proprietor of the plant arrived Tuesday morning. He has been at Reading all summer putting in an electric plant. He says it must have been a defective boiler and no blame is laid on the engineer.

One dynamo was not injured much and they are moving it to the foundry and expect to furnish lights soon. The loss to Green is $3,000.

Leon Green's loss is $6,000. He will not rebuild. The masons loss is about $1,200. They are at work repairing. Of course there was no insurance.
