Golden Text-"For as Many as Are Le by the Spirit of God, They Are the Sons of God'-Romans 8:14-Twe Ways of Living.

1. "There is therefore" (because Christ died to save us. Rom. 7:25) "now" (since we became Christians, accepting Christ as our Savior from sin) "no condemnation." "No verdict rot Guilty" (Sanday) for the past, and no fearthe chapter beginning with "no condemnation" and ending with "no condemnation".

none, of his." He is no true Christian, though he may be called by Christ's name, and may belong outwardly to his church. Christ will disown him at the judgment (2 Cor. 13:5).

10. "And if Christ be in you" (as he is), "the body is dead because of sin." Physical death is inevitable for all, and is a result, of the sin of Adam and the human race (Rom. 5:12-17), but for the Christian its "sting" is gone (I Cor. 15:55). "But the Spirit is life because of righteousness" (our righteousness, made possible by Christ's). The human spirit is meant, in contrast with the human body; but it is the human spirit vitalized by the divine Spirit.

11. "But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you." Faul has admitted the fact of physical death as true of Christians as well as of others, but he hastens to add the resurrection promise, which lightens even this single spot of shadow. The God of Christ's resurrection, dwelling in you. "shell also quicken your mortal bodies," raising them up from the grave, glorified and heautiful, gifted with wonderful new powers They will no longer be mortal, subject to death, but "incorruptible" (I Cor. 15.22). Immortal.

12. "For." Faul is going to give the reason for his statement, "Ye shall live."

II Cor. IS 22) Immortal.

12. For. Paul is going to give the reason for his statement. 'Ye shall live.'

AST MARY AS ARE led by the Spirit of God.' The comparison changes from the liniwelling Spirit (vs. 9-11) to the thought of the Spirit as outside us, leading us a guide leads the traveler through drines woods or over an ley glacier. All who submit themselves to this leading become by that very submission "the sons of God." and therefore they shall live forever, as God does. live forever, as God does.
