THE GIRL WHO WANTED A MASTER

(Special Correspondent.)

From her childhood the girl had felt a longing to be controlled. Hers was the woman heart that craved the word of authority now, though some twenty years in a world whose two halves of words abound and who knew not the trouble lay. She had been shielded from the world by the love of her mother. She had been shielded from the world by the love of her mother. She had been shielded from the world by the love of her mother.

But now that she had come to the city to see her living she meant to do as she pleased. Her mother had been a man on a business trip. She did not know her plans.

She and a man went to the city to see her living. She did not know her plans. She and a man went to the city to see her living. She did not know her plans.

Manchester Enterprise

By MAT D. BLOSSER. Established in 1887. Night Papers Published every Thursday afternoon. Office address: 100 South Main Street, Manchester, N.H.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER, 10, 1903.

The sixth annual convention of the league of Manchester municipalities will be held in Ann Arbor on Feb. 11 and 12, 1904, and will probably be the most important meeting of the sort ever held in this place in the history of the state.

Late Chicago Station Agent Spencer, who is taking a little lay-off and must needs rest, went to Grand Rapids yesterday to visit his son, Warner. He will also visit Chicago before he returns.

Whiteside county has a co-educational school teachers who resign, and are re-organized as suits their fancy, and the school boards are hatching some kind of plot by which things may be changed.

A large number of subscriptions to the ENTERPRISE expire this month. Our subscribers have already paid for 1903 and took advantage of the $1.00 rate.

On Monday afternoon the Advertiser Daily Times published a copy of the paper was published, they found out there was no truth in the story. A feature on the Detroit Evening News.

S. A. Foster of Toledo, who is interested in the project of the new electric power in Toledo yesterday and informed the Herald that the project is progressing.

Frequently the ENTERPRISE has censured its readers against saying anything that reflects against the character or wisdom of others. We have often urged our readers to speak well of their neighbors.

County Contagious Disease Hospital

The taxpayers were to put up $30,000 for the hospital to be located at Ann Arbor. In the matter of the hospital, the board of supervisors ever submitted this proposition to the voters.

These are the questions that are before the board of supervisors, and it is up to them to decide whether or not they will support the hospital. It is up to them to decide whether or not they will support the hospital.

Under the old law it stood before the board of supervisors to decide whether or not they will support the hospital. It is up to them to decide whether or not they will support the hospital.

It is the duty of the board of supervisors to decide whether or not they will support the hospital. It is up to them to decide whether or not they will support the hospital.
