

At the Door
There used to be a little one
And all the things were done
And when I was a boy
I used to go to the door
And when I was a boy
I used to go to the door
And when I was a boy
I used to go to the door

HEROINE VISITOR
"Scat," cried Miss Abigail, as she was awakened by a noise apparently in her room, "scat."
The noise ceased and then recommenced.
"That worrying cat," ejaculated Miss Abigail, "it keeps me awake all night, 'scat.'"
She put on her wrapper and lighting the candle proceeded to walk to some one who was employed in a big store in Boston—Widener & Co.—and the place was robbed last night. It is reported that the burglar had been seen to enter the store and to take away a large quantity of goods.

STILL IN THE KINDERGARTEN.
Those Who Can Be Interested in Nothing That Is Not a Game.
After an intelligent and watchful observation of the proceedings of the kindergarten for several months she withdrew them because she found that the children were getting the attitude of regarding everything as a game—that is, in the kindergarten they were not to be taken seriously.

THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1906.

A copy of the 22nd annual report of Michigan bureau of labor, and the 12th annual report of the state factory inspectors, is at hand and can be seen at this office by those who wish.

We are often asked, what has become of Dr. Hodge of Detroit, who was convicted of malpractice on Anna Lehman, which resulted in her death. Why, we understand that he is practicing his profession in Detroit. His case is expected to go to the supreme court on a writ of error, but when?

An Arbor has shown herself to be friendly to Manchester and anxious for a means of quick transportation between the county seat and this place. It is proposed to install an electric line from Ann Arbor electric line, the contract stipulates that a spur line shall be constructed within three years, to Manchester.

The Enterprise and some of our citizens have scolded considerable. The authorities here, allowed the fence around the old burying ground on north Washington street to rot down and the sacred spot to be used as a cow pasture. The village authorities thought that the enclosure was for the grounds and the enclosure was allowed to continue and that a spur line shall be constructed within three years, to Manchester.

The council held an adjourned meeting last night and audited bills. Resolutions were made by Homer Fish who was declared elected clerk, Gust Wuerthner, treasurer and George Dietle, assessor. The council accepted the resignation of the resignations and appointed the officers who were really elected. Henry Landwehr was elected president pro tem. The committee will be named and appointments made next Monday evening.

Fun With a Comb

Every boy and girl using a comb to smooth out their tangled locks on a cold morning has heard and wondered at the electricity that crackles as the comb passes through the hair. This property of the comb can be used in an interesting experiment. Cut out a comb from a piece of wood. The teeth should be cut when your hair begins to curl. They will come straight out in a moment. They will come straight out in a moment. They will come straight out in a moment.

Boys and girls may find much amusement in a witch fortune telling party, such as is described here. The boy or girl through whom the witch's power is exercised should be placed behind a curtain. The witch's power is exercised through the curtain. The witch's power is exercised through the curtain.

Up-Hilly

Up-Hilly is a very ancient British custom which survives, it is kept as a carnival by the Gullivers and the Sherlocks at the end of January, at Lerwick. Thirty squares of from six to twenty pieces are formed by the curtains. A fine model of a Norse galley is built and decked with gulliver, flags and other decorations. Sometimes there are two or three galley models.

The Brotherhood of Ob

In Jamaica, the most beautiful of the West Indian islands, there slumbers beneath the smiling exterior of the island a volcanic force which occasionally becomes active with deadly results. The high priest of the obeah, the obeahman, as he is more commonly called, wields a power in the land which the strongest magic of the government has been unable to put down.

Whole Family Paired

One of the most noted men of Jamaica, Judge Joseph Hurbutt, in sentencing to death a man for the crime of poisoning of an entire family, said: "It is my belief that a special statute should be enacted, effecting the banishment of those who are guilty of such a crime. It is not doubt that many men are as dangerous as this prisoner of mine."

Primitives

One day while two brothers were cutting bamboo that a village in the mountains of the jungle on one of them, knocked him down and was about to carry him off to eat. The other brother, who was a hunter, saw this and shot at the top of his finger. The tiger was so surprised at the novelty of the attack that it dropped its prey, shook its ears, and bolted. The hunter then returned to the village and told the other brother what had happened. The other brother was so angry that he went to the village and told the other brother what had happened.

Why the "State of Maine"

A really curious question has been asked by the people of Maine. Why, it is asked, does a Maine man always call his part of the country as the "State of Maine," instead of "Maine," as a New Yorker would say "New York," or a Nebraskan "Nebraska." As a matter of fact, it is not the inquiry it is: "Maine" was not one of the original states, but it was one of the original states.

Deer Farming in Australia

Deer farming has become a popular and profitable occupation in many parts of the Australian continent. The first deer were brought to Australia in 1839. At the present time there are over 250,000 deer in Australia, and the production of deer is valued at $1,000,000.
