The subject of a pardon for Thos. F. McGarry of the Grand Rapids water deal notoriety is the big matter before the board. Among the twenty other cases to come up are several under this law, which illustrates the alleged defects in the Jaw. Wm. Wheeler, of Montcalm, was sentenced by Judge Davis from one to 15 years. The judge says he would have made it six months for the small offense, but the law was in the way. Wheeler has no friend to get him out and has already served 18 months, with the prospect of many years if not looked after. Judge Davis will appear before the board and point out some of the board and point out some of the the board and point bad spots in the law.

A Sweeping Order.

In the circuit court late Saturday afternoon Judge Shephard issued an injunction, at the instance of the Bay City Traction & Electric company and directed to the Amalgamated Asso-ciation of Street Rallway Employes, the national officers of the organiza-tion, officers and members of the Bay City division, the boiler makers, car-penters and joiners, ship carpenters, brick layers and masons, calkers, from nolders' union and local union 1203 mine workers, the central trades council and several private citizens. The order restrains them from assembling in crowds upon the streets of Bay City, Essexville and Banger tonwship at or near the traction company's property, or street car lines; from threatening or interfering with the company's employes while in the dis-charge of their work, or suggesting any such interference; from placing obstructions of explosives on the tracks; from boycotting the traction and electric company, or possible or prospective patrons or customers; from placing the company on the unfair list; from picketing its premises or tracks; from interfering with its or tracks; from interfering with its officers, employes or property in any patch from London, in which its cor-respondent declared he was in posses-sion of information to the effect that the British were advising Japan against the conclusion of an armistice.

"Russia," the dispatch added, "is not considered to be sufficiently weak ened. Great Britain hopes that Field Marshal Oyama will succeed in destroying Gen. Linevitch's army and thus relieve her of the nightmare that the army may later be shifted to the borders of Afghanistan for operations against India."

The only hope for an armistice pending the meeting of the peace plen ipotentiaries seems to rest with President Roosevelt, and even that is considered slender. It is suggested that Japan deliberately planned to post-pone the meeting long enough to give Oyama a chance to administer to the Russians a fresh defeat, to rob the war party in Russia of their last card and facilitate acquiescence to her terms.

In addition to the names of Ambassador Nelidoff and Baron Rosen, the name of Prof. De Maartens, professor of international law at the university of St. Petersburg and a member of the international arbitration court, is now mentioned as a peace envoy, as also is the suggestion that Count Cas-sini might possibly be one of the plenipotentiaries.

The report from St. Petersburg that The report from St. Petersburg that Russia has reopened the question of the meeting place of the peace plenipotentiaries and now insists on the Hague instead of Washington is discredited, especially as the authoritative statement was made at the Russian embassy late Saturday night that Washington was acceptable to Russia and would remain so.

THE MARKETS.

Detroit—The cattle market opened with a much heavier run in all departments than there was a week ago. The trade in the cattle yards was dull and draggy, with good grades about 25 cents per hundred lower and all kinds of grass cattle 25 to 40 cents lower than they were at the close last week. Bulls were also from 15 to 25 cents lower. There was a large number of buyers from the country leoking for stockers and feeders and they helped out grantly on the light grades of stock until they filled up. Prospects look lower for this grade of cattle. Mich cows and springers were very plentiful and good grades scarce. Prices paid were from $5 to $5 lower than last week. Medical Significance.

Sir Frederick Treves, the celebrated English surgeon, asserted that the Japanece "have no nervous system" and that "nerves," as western national knew the term, is untranslatable in Japan. This invites a reference to the significant history of the words "herve" and "nervous." A "nerve," by derivation from Greek and Latin and by earlier English use, is really a sinew. When Pope speaks of "nervous arms" he means exactly the "brawny arms" of the village blacksmith; and this sense survives metaphorically in a "nervous style of writing," which is very different from a "neurotic" one. Shakespeare used "nervy" in the same sense, But now that "nerves" no longer mean sirrews, the fall of 1899 after taking Doen's Kidney Pilis I told the readers of this paper that they had paper that hat "nerves" no longer mean sinews, and every occasion the results ch-"nervous" in the common use has al-most reversed its old meaning. Pique is again in demand for white suits, and also a cotton Sicilian, which is especially pretty in colors. Both of these fabrics are of the weight which is better made either with a long coa or the universal short jacket rather than a shirt waist. A tendency is shown to get away from the kilt in making these heavier weight skirts, and a four-gored pattern with a seam in front, finished with three graduated bands at the bottom, is excellent. A suit of white pique has the skirt made in this way with an extremely short jacket bordered all round with heavy insertion of Irish point. It was worm over a white waist and finished with two square tabs of black silk buttoning back over the fronts with large white linen medallions, into which were threaded touches of yellow embroid-The wherefore of this touch of black was the deep black silk girdle which was effectively worn under the Wear Raincoats.

It is seldom that any one style of wrap has become so extremely popu-lar as the loose rain coat of blue silk that so many wear this spring. One woman has a wonderfully voluminous one she always wears with a costume of dull blue cloth and a hat to match. A north side matron wears one while in her automobile or driving, of dark blue rainproof satin, with a little blue hat to harmonize with the coat. That hat, by the way, gave the distinguishing touch to a costume that otherwise might have been thoroughly common place. The brim was turned up at one side, and just under this there nestled a bunch of bright pink roses that were put there by some one who knew what was just the right thing.

Some Pretty Conceits. Mousseline de sote is one of the most beautiful of fabrics. An exquisite model of pink mousseline de sole has a skirt trimmed with puffs headed with rows of slightly ruffled satin ribbon. There is a Louis KV, habit of Irish lace embroidered heavily in shades of pink, and about the neck is a chain of pink velvet ribbon knotted on the bias with several loops. These lace coats will be much worn during the coming season. In fact, Irish lace will continue to be fashionable and it will be much employed for trimming. Delicate valenciennes lace is equally prominent, and there will be a grea deal of white cotton embroidery used to trim white or cashmere frocks Modistes have found that English embroidery is effectively used as a trim ty when trimmed with the white satin baby ribbon, but these do not launder quite as well as do the lawns, dimittes and other wash materials. Some of the dimities and organdies make the sweetest of summer frocks for young girls and misses. One, in a lacy blue dimity, is made with a gathered shirt which is full about the bottom and shows three broad tucks above the The behy waist is shirred into the belt and has a shallow yoke of fine white embroidery in a very open pattern. The sleeves are elbow length and are quite full, ending in dimity ruffles edged with lace.

Chic Effects are Done in Lines. All colors are more or less fashionable in linen, and the new shades in bing, pink and lavender are all in grea demand. In these three colors all tones are effective, from the palest to the most vivid and decided; but the more unusual the shade the better.

Very effective are the real and also the imitation lace jackets, both long and short; which are worn with lines gowns as well as with more elaborate costumes. 'If possible the dress should be trimmed with lace to match the coat, but this is not really necessary, and the one jacket may be worn with a variety of gowns.

There is no definite style for this lace coat, for the bolero, although not so expensive as the Louis XVI., is almost as desirable. Any costume would be effective if adorned with a real lace coat, but the gown itself should be in keeping with so rare and expensive a garment

NEW USES FOR HYPNOTISM.

Able to Cure Alcohal and Teba A London hypnotist who says he able to cure the appetite for liquor explains the method as follows: merely say, 'You will feel an intense antipathy to wine, beer and spirits,; but, of course, this can't be done without their consent. One of our so ciety told the son of a dipsomaniac that if he drank he would be sick and for six years he has not touched liquor. It is the same with smoking. This same doctor had a patient who, whenever he was not eating or sleeping, was smoking. He there fore hypnotized him, saying: 'If you ever put a pipe or cigar into your mouth you will be sick.' He then woke him and watched him fill his pipe. He put it between his lips, but he became sick immediately. The patient has not smoked since, nor shown any wish to smoke.

"Dr. Jung, of The Hague," says this hypnotist, "has treated forty-one drufffards, and has had nineteen complete cures. The suggestion aids in establishing self-control, not in establishing a mere negative feeling toward drink. Dr. Milne Bramwell has made twenty-eight cures, while Tokarsky of Moscow has treated 700 patients and had 80 per cent of cures. In a small town of Kansas not long ago some individuals interested in sanitary measures engaged the services of a scientist from Chicago to lecture on bacteriology. In the audience were a man and his wife, the gardener and housekeeper of the leading citizen o the town. These worthy people, entire ly ignorant of the subject of the lec turer's discourse, had been attracted to the hall by the announcement that magic lantern views would be exhibit-

The two took seats in the rear of the hall. In the course of the lecture they evinced no signs of approval of objection; but when the discourse was concluded the gardener was heard to ask his wife: "Maggie, did you pay attention to what that Chicago man "Yes, jes' as well as I could,"

LESSON XIII., JUNE 35-REVIEW OF QUARTER'S WORK.

Golden Text--- But These Are Written That Ye Might Believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Sen of Ged; and That Believing Ye Might Have Life Through His Name' -- John 20:31.

Subject: The life and work of Christ with reference to its final results. The greatest work ever conceived. Review the life of Christ from the THE beginning, giving a full resume of the most prominent events. Rapid Answer Questions. The questions on the Life of Christ in columns one and two should be asked rapidly. The scholars should study at home the answers to the questions of fact, so as to be ready to answer as rapidly as the questions can be asked.

Thoughtful Questions. The ques tions in the third column should be asked more slowly and answered with Then turn to the last column, and obtain a clear vision of what this world is to become, the ideal, the promised result. Show how the life of Christ, his atonement, his character, his principles are the only way to reach this perfect world, and make the ideal the Note 2 That the through the Ascension is the dividing line between Christ's first coming and his second coming. The periods the great movements almost join. The second coming, as a whole, began while some of the apostles were living. They were not mistaken in their expectations of the fact, though they did not realize all the glory at once nor even yet.

The astronomers told us that spring began on the first of March. But that day it was snowing and we did not realize all that makes spring time, the flowers, the bioscoming trees, the green fields, the balmy breezes. But we were not mistaken in believing that the period of spring had come, the period in which all these things would be realised.
