Cruel Man. At a recent entertainment in a Brooklyn school, relates the New York Sun, the deaf and dumb mother of one of the little boys in the audience sat next to him while he interpreted the recitations for her. Another mother, hearing that the husband of the afflicted woman had all his faculties unimpaired, remarked with a touch of pity in her tone: "I don't see how a man could marry a woman whose voice he never had heard and never expected to hear."

Purity of Breed. It cannot be too often repeated that of all food that comes to the table nothing so pure as bread. London Bakers Times.

MICHIGAN EVENTS NOTED

THE GALIEN MURDER HAS A SIDE LIGHT THROWN ON SCREEN.

FINNS WANT REDRESS. Advised to Look for Myrtle Hill—Charge That Conrades Were Murdered.

Where is Myrtle Hill? The authorities are now known to be trying to locate Miss Myrtle Hill the girl to whom Lloyd Dyne, the slain Michigan Central operator at Galién, is said to have been engaged. All efforts so far to locate her have been without avail. She was said to have been seen in Kalamazoo after the crime was committed, but nothing authoritative can be learned.

Finns Allege Murder. Charging that murder was done when two men, both Finns, were shot down by the sheriff and his posse during the recent strike riot at the Michigan mine at Rockland.

A somewhat similar case has arisen at Negaunee. Alleging that rough language was used toward a recent demig of Robert Hyttinen, charges of maltreatment of prisoner have been filed with the common council by a number of Finnish citizens against a policeman. It was supposed at the time of Hyttinen's arrest that he was intoxicated, but was subsequently ascertained that he was suffering from the effects of a sunstroke, and he died shortly after being removed from the city jail to a hospital.

Smote Him With a Stone. Ionia county is torn up over an alleged attempted murder in Orleans where, late Monday afternoon, Lafayette Hale struck his father-in-law, Hiram Jackson, over the head with a stone and badly injuring him. Hale has separated from Jackson's daughter, and a board of arbitration was at work at Orleans dividing the property. Hale and Jackson were present. Without a word, Hale stepped out of doors—and returning with a sharp stone, weighing three pounds, stepped up behind Jackson and struck him a swift blow. As he attempted to strike him a second time, Jackson threw up his hand. One finger was crushed, but he is believed to have saved his life. The two men had never been known to quarrel before. Hale is in jail, and says he has no remembrance of committing the deed.

Feared Spirits. Louise Gardner, formerly of Detroit, who committed suicide in Jackson by taking a dose of cyanide, was investigated through fear of spirits. An investigation of the kitchen where she worked shows many insane methods she adopted to drive away the gruesome things which she often complained of haunting her. Her mistress planned to give a dinner a few days ago to a party of friends, which was held, however, as the domestic told her the gas would not burn. It has been found that she had filled the burners with salt to keep the spirits from escaping from the pipes, which she believed were their special abode. The "spirits" have since been given all the leeway they want.

Baby Died in Jail. Baby Nevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nevens, died in the Kent county jail, as the result of alleged ill-treatment at the hands of its parents. Nevens and his wife have been arrested.

Neighbors made complaint that the Nevens home was one of filth and squallor. Officials investigated and when the parents were arrested, the baby was placed in the hands of the matron of the jail. It was then given the best of attention but could not rally.

Beet growers, patrons of the West Michigan Sugar Co., and the farmers to take a picnic of 200 gathered at the first annual picnic in Charlevoix last week. Addresses were made by Congressman Darragh, President McLean and others.

With the mercury registering 91 degrees in Grand Rapids Sunday a record was made for the hottest September day in years.

Sylvester Daniels, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Jackson prison about 20 years ago for the murder of Jerry White in Genesee county, has taken the preliminary steps toward his pardon.

SCHOOL MONEY.

A Million Per Year Lost and Reform Is Needed. Commenting upon the effort being put forth by the department of public instruction to secure a better compliance with the school laws of the state, Deputy Superintendent W. H. French says that out of the $10,000,000 expended for the support of the public school system of the state $1,000,000 is frittered away annually.

Asked in what manner the losses to the districts are sustained, Mr. French replied: "In many ways, will specify a few. We have discovered that many district treasurers give no bonds, and sometimes there are defalcations. Recently a district treasurer up north who had given no bond disappeared with $750 in school funds. There are probably other instances not known to this department.

Fierce Tramp. Mrs. Charles Shales, a lady at the Kearsley hotel, in Flint, was knocked down by a tramp whom she was about to give food, in order that he might steal two silver dollars he saw on a table. While searching for the tramp, Night Operator Fisher of the Pere Marquette, was shot at three times by two strangers whom he found skulking in a freight car. One of the bullets grazed his head. Railroad detectives are at work on the case.

MICHIGAN IN BRIEF.

Traverse City public schools have been temporarily closed on account of the extreme heat. Peter Carreto is taking a census of Italians in the upper peninsula for the Italian government. Alberto peres, which have been selling for $1.10 in Benton Harbor, shipped to $1.50 without any apparent cause.

Robert M. Picket, for 70 years a maker of violins, died in Ionia at the age of 88 years. Some of his violins were sold for $200. Forest fires are burning along the lines of the Pere Marquette and G. R. & I. between Petoskey and Mackinac. Fear is felt for settlers.

Judge Smith, of Pontiac, overruled a motion to quash the information in the case of S. Dewey, former state officer, charged with embezzlement. The railway back tax money has enabled the Ann Arbor school authorities to cut down the school tax levy from $53,000 to $47,000. The primary fund will receive $27,000 this year.

William Marks, an artist, once connected with Leslie's Weekly and co-worker with the late Thomas Nast, was found dead in bed at his home in Calumet. Heart failure caused his death. The board of health has warned citizens to refrain from using ice in their summer drinks. Several cases of contagion have been traced to the unhealthy condition of the Flint water supply.

A syndicate of Pittsburgh and West Virginia capitalists will sink a test well at Ingersoll to determine whether there is oil or gas in Midland county. It will cost $10,000 to make the prospect. Isabella County Pioneer association will hold its first annual picnic and mass meeting at the county seat on September 12. Speeches from the oldest settlers and music and a basket picnic are on the program.

The formal organization of the Michigan Sugar Co., which will take over six sugar beet factories, was completed last week. The capitalization is $5,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is preferred stock, and $4,000,000 common.

Augusta Bourgeois, living ten miles north of Standish, late Wednesday night lost his large barn with all its hay, grain, farm implements and a valuable horse by fire. The loss is $2,500 with the insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Justice Battouri, of Battle Creek, suspended sentence on Elmer Dunstan out of pity for his family. Dunstan admitted being a heavy drinker and having committed his first wife. She and her three babies followed him into court, and when the justice learned that they have been ordered out of their home for non-payment of rent he set the man free.

MORE PROMISES.

MAINE DEMOCRATS LOSE CLOSE BATTLE

Charles E. Littlefield Wins After Hard Fight in Which Samuel Gompers Sought to Defeat Him for Opposition to Labor Bills. Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Gov. William T. Cobb, of Rockland, Republican, standing on a platform devoted almost exclusively to a continuance of the prohibitory law of the state, was re-elected Monday by a plurality of less than 8,000, but with few exceptions the smallest margin of votes ever given a Republican governor in the state of Maine.

Cyrus W. Davis, of Waterville, the Democratic candidate for governor, polled one of the largest votes in the history of the party in this state. His issue in the campaign was the result of the incorporation of the state legislature four years ago.

More interesting from a certain standpoint was the reelection of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, Republican, in the Second district by a greatly reduced plurality. Congressman Littlefield's candidacy was the subject of bitter opposition on the part of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who asserted for his defeat on the grounds that he had voted against certain labor measures at the last session of congress.

The issue between Gompers and Littlefield was taken up by the Republican congressional committee and for three weeks the district has been the scene of a hard fight in which Secretary of War William H. Taft, Senator Lodge and Senator Beveridge and several congressmen, were pitted against the head of the Federation of Labor.

Plurality is Reduced. Mr. Littlefield's plurality was estimated at about 1,000. Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh, of Augusta, Republican, was reelected in the Third district by an estimated plurality of 2,000 and Congressman Llewellyn Powers, of Houlton, Republican, in the Fourth district, by a plurality estimated at 2,000. The reelection of Congressman Ames J. Allen of Alford, in the First district, is claimed by the Republican leaders.

REBEL CHIEF WINS AT MOGADOR. Anfos Seizes Batteries—Government Troops Desert to Him. Tangier, Sept. 11.—Dispatches received from Mogador say that Kaid Anfos has seized the town batteries and won over the government troops. The Jews fled to Meliah. The details received here are extremely scanty.

OKLAHOMA PASTURE TO BE SOLD. General Land Office Invites Sealed Bids for Desirable Lands. Washington, Sept. 11.—With the approval of the president and the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of the general land office has decided to invite sealed bids for the lands comprised in the famous big pasture in Oklahoma, of which there are about 600,000 acres.

Washington, Sept. 11.—With the approval of the president and the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of the general land office has decided to invite sealed bids for the lands comprised in the famous big pasture in Oklahoma, of which there are about 600,000 acres. The instructions are being prepared, and the details of the sale will soon be announced. Much interest has been manifested in this tract of land and spirited bidding is anticipated.

WAR IN VENEZUELA IS NEAR

ARMY OF HERNANDEZ READY TO ATTACK CASTRO.

Troops Recruited in Colombia by Rebels for Invasion, Prepared to Strike. New York, Sept. 11.—Venezuela again is threatened with civil strife. The man ready to lead the fight against President Castro is his enemy of long standing, Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez (El Mocho), formerly Venezuelan minister at Washington, leader of the conservative party and veteran campaigner.

The news was received in New York that already the general is near the western frontier of Venezuela in Colombian territory, preparing to strike the first blow in an armed conflict that he hopes will depose President Castro and seat himself in the presidency at Caracas. It was only a few months ago that Gen. Hernandez left New York and sailed for Barranquilla, Colombia. When he went he gave out that he was in ill-health, and was going to Colombia to rusticate. It was not long, however, before news came to his friends in this city that he was on his way up the Magdalena river, bound for Bogota.

It was immediately surmised, and as later developments prove, correctly, that his mission was to confer with President Reyes, of Colombia, who also is not on friendly terms with President Castro. Gen. Reyes, however, would not give to El Mocho the material support which he asked for the insurrection, although it is understood that he granted to Gen. Hernandez permission to organize his movement on Colombian soil. In this he is now actively engaged. Hernandez is in Santiago, not far from the Venezuelan border, at Los Andes, the native state of President Castro.

Hernandez also has enlisted the cooperation of Gen. Mantilla, another of Castro's enemies, and the popularity of these two men, combined with the general opposition to Castro, it is believed, will give the insurrection a good foothold.

KILLED BY POISONOUS GASES. Two Men Suffocated While Working in Minneapolis Elevator Shaft. Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 10.—Early Sunday afternoon two men were overcome by poisonous gases and suffocated to death while at work in the elevator shaft in the Onida block. The dead men are Monrad A. Lund and Nordal Nelson. Lund was the first to be affected and fell to the bottom of the hole. His companion, who was working 30 feet above him, immediately grabbed the rope and went to the bottom trying to rescue his stricken helper. The gases were too strong, however, and both men soon succumbed. Four other men were overcome before the bodies could be taken from the hole. The task took over three hours.

VIM WINS THE ROOSEVELT CUP. American Yacht Takes Three of the Five Races and the Emblem. Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 11.—The Roosevelt cup, presented by the Eastern Yacht club to inaugurate yachting contests between Germany and America, was won Monday by the American yacht Vim, owned by Commodore T. L. Fark, of the American Yacht club, of New York.

By taking this race the Vim scored her third victory, which gave to her owner the cup as well as the honor of showing that his yacht was the best all round craft of the six that started to race in the series. Of the five races called the Vim won the second, third and fifth, while the Ark captured the first race and the Waanawee the fourth.

Children Crushed to Death. San Luis Potosi, Mexico, Sept. 11.—While asleep, three children named Mellou were killed by the collapse of the walls of the Mellou home, and their mother was so seriously injured that she may not recover.

JEW S LAUGHTERED BY CRUEL SOLDIERS

HATED PEOPLE SHOT AND BAYONETTED IN STREETS OF SIEDLCE, POLAND.

Czar's Troops Join with Mob in Shedding Blood and Looting Homes of Victims, Then Offer Booty for Sale to Travelers. St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—The predictions made in these dispatches August 23 of a Jewish massacre at Siedlce, Russian Poland, unhappily have been justified by the fighting which broke out Saturday night, and developed Sunday in a carnival of indiscriminate slaughter and pillage in which the soldiery and the mob took part. Jews were shot and bayonetted in the streets of the town. Houses and shops were broken into and sacked. Valuables were carried off and offered for sale by soldiers to passengers on passing trains.

In addition to the Jews, a number of Christians and even some officers met their death in the fighting. Revolt in Prison. There was a revolt Monday in the central detention prison of St. Petersburg in consequence of the death of Mile. Semenova, a girl of 22, an enthusiastic social democrat, who was shot and killed instantly by a sentry when she showed herself at the window of her cell overlooking the court yard.

The furious prisoners expelled the warders, barricaded the prison and laid the corpse of Mile. Semenova upon an improvised bier in the central cell, refusing to deliver it to the authorities and swearing they would die rather than surrender it. Troops were summoned, but the authorities fearing bloodshed temporized and sent for the brother of Mile. Semenova, to whom the insurgents delivered the body. Grand Duke Nicholas, after an investigation of the affair, personally ordered the dismissal of the officer of the guard, which was drawn from the unpopular Semenovskiy regiment.

Mile. Semenova was a medical student and was seeking to divide with the prisoners some sugar which she had surreptitiously obtained, when she was shot. Refuses to Stop Slaughter. Siedlce, Sept. 11.—A delegation of citizens asked the governor to order the troops to cease firing, but the governor replied that the citizens must deliver up their leaders and the revolutionists, or otherwise the city would be bombarded.

The authorities assert that 15 terrorists have arrived here from Warsaw and that they must be arrested before any of the inhabitants are permitted to leave the city. It is reported that 200 persons, most of them Jews, were killed, many in their flats. The scenes Sunday and Monday were of unspeakable horror. Everywhere there were screams and cries mingled with the sound of shooting. Soldiers invaded the restaurant of the Victoria hotel and destroyed the furniture of the establishment and carried off the wine and liquors.

Blood Flows at Warsaw. Warsaw, Sept. 11.—Four terrorists Monday evening entered a restaurant in Elektorska street, where a number of detectives had assembled, and shot and killed the proprietor. The assassins in trying to escape, met a policeman and two soldiers, whom they shot and wounded. The soldiers in shots rushed through the street beating and bayonetting all whom they encountered. Eleven persons were severely wounded. In a collision Monday afternoon between civilians and a patrol in the Jewish quarter 20 of the former were wounded, six of them seriously.

There were several collisions between soldiers and revolutionists Monday night. Two bombs were thrown at a patrol of rural guards in a neighboring village Monday, wounding eight of the guards. Drunken Soldiers Kill Two. Lodz, Poland, Sept. 11.—Four drunken soldiers who were on guard in Drownovska street Sunday night shot and killed two men and wounded three others and robbed a restaurant. The soldiers have been arrested.

HARVARD CREW WAS TOO WEAK. Men Candidly Admit They Were No Match for Cambridge. London, Sept. 10.—While naturally keenly disappointed at their failure to defeat the Cambridge crew, the Harvard oarsmen are offering no excuses. During the five weeks spent on the Thames they exerted every effort to reach that form which they hoped would enable them to win and entered their boat in perfect condition, but as were proved, this was not sufficient to overthrow England's crack university crew, which Capt. Filley and his men candidly admit was too strong for them.

The Americans rowed their best from start to finish and took advantage to every lesson they had learned since reaching England and did not lose hope until Cambridge crossed the line. Their only wish now is to have an opportunity of meeting the wearers of the light blue in American waters. Edward Returns to London. Marblehead, Sept. 11.—King Edward Friday completed the cure and left for London.

STATE WINS BIG MINE SUIT

MINNESOTA COURT HOLDS LEASE LAW CONSTITUTIONAL. Case Involving Title to Land Worth Millions Is Decided—Hill Holdings Affected.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 8.—The state supreme court Friday handed down a decision in the case of the state of Minnesota vs. Mabel C. Evans, upholding the decision of the St. Louis court at Duluth, which held that the state law governing mineral leases is constitutional. This case involves the title to the famous Virginia Silver mine, located on the Minnesota range and which is said to be worth several million dollars. The action was brought by the state against Mabel Evans, the holder of the lease, on the ground that mineral leases are invalid because school and swamp lands can only be sold at public auction. In this case the lease was taken out privately, there being but one party to make a bid on the lease.

The court, in its decision by Chief Justice Start, held that "on a full consideration of the question it is the opinion of the court that this mineral lease statute does not authorize a sale of any of the school or swamp lands of the state within the meaning of the constitutional prohibition; that it is constitutional and the leases are valid."

The court held that a lease to the mineral rights did not carry with it the title to the land, which was still vested in the state. Judge Start explained that while this view was rather far fetched, the court decided the question in this manner in order that the extensive business interests, involving an immense investment of capital, might not be seriously disturbed.

The decision affects all the mineral holdings of the United States Steel corporation, J. J. Hill's Iron ore interests and many other small holdings. FREIGHT LINE ON THE MISSOURI. Commercial Club Committee Contracts for Additional Vessels. Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 10.—A boat freight line on the Missouri river will be inaugurated this month. Lawrence M. Jones and A. G. Ellett of the Commercial club's boat line committee have steamed contracts for two additional steamboats and two barges to make a trip between St. Louis and Kansas City.

They will start on their initial trip as soon as the freight has been assembled, which will be some time within the next two weeks. Several local firms have signified their intention of patronizing the new line if its operation proves practicable. MURDER DAUGHTER'S HUSBAND. Father-in-Law Kills Unarmed Man and Leaves Body in Highway. Richmond, Mo., Sept. 10.—Walter Endsie, son of Col. A. D. Endsie, of Ray county, was shot and killed on the highway near here Saturday night by John Glass, his father-in-law. The men had not been on friendly terms. They passed each other, when Endsie remarked to Glass: "Now, draw your old 44."

"I'll just do that," replied Glass, who alighted from his buggy and fired three times at Endsie. Endsie, who was unarmed, died almost immediately. After the shooting Glass drove off, leaving the body lying in the roadway. MOODY SUES TO RECOVER LANDS. Trenton, N. J., Sept. 11.—Announcement was made here Monday that Attorney General Moody has brought suit in the federal court here to recover possession of lands in Utah now held by the Utah Fuel company, alleging that representatives of the company induced agents to apply to the government for grants which on the day after their receipt were turned over to the Utah Fuel company. The attorney general charges that this was fraudulent and demands the return of the lands.

Father of Forty Kills One. Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—Israel Monokoff, 70 years old, shot and killed one of his 40 children; a 17-year-old boy at his home near Matfias because the youth threw a stick at him. The old man, before allowing the sheriff to take him to jail, insisted on going into the woods, where he dug up a bag full of money.

Girl Breaks Swimming Record. New York, Sept. 11.—The record of swimming the Hudson river was reduced by 16 1/2 minutes Sunday by Miss Alice Fitzgerald, of this city. The swim was between points where the river is one mile and three-quarters wide, and Miss Fitzgerald swam it in 57 1/2 minutes. Miss Fitzgerald is 18 years old.

Teddy, Jr., Home to No Bears. Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., reached home Monday from the west, where he had been for several weeks on a hunting trip. He returned earlier than his original plans contemplated because of an injury to his hand. He was noticeably shy of trophies.

Rules Against Rescuers. Findlay, O., Sept. 10.—Judge Rescuer overruled motions to quash the information filed against John D. Rescuer and all the Standard Oil cases. A plan of abatement was filed in each case and those also were quashed and the defendants were given until next Tuesday to file answers.

Kisses in Kansas.

Very romantic news is being... kisses in Kansas... Mr. Plummer's fields were harvested in half the time that was required for Skipworth's.

The Automobile Seventy-Three Years Ago.

Hancock's steam-coach, which resembled two stage-coaches on one, with a third compartment like a mail or luggage van. It was mentioned in the Parliamentary Report of 1833 as a machine in daily use on common roads.

WAS MAROONED IN ARCTIC REGIONS.

FORGOT ENGLISH TONGUE

Abandoned in Cold North and Forced to Spend Years Among the Eskimos Before Being Rescued by a Scotch Whaler.

New London.—The loss of the whaling schooner Era, which went ashore off St. Pierre a few days ago, recalls a curious suit at law which involves this boat and which will be threshed out in the Massachusetts courts soon.

In 1899 the Era, with George Cleveland as second mate, sailed for a cruise in Hudson Bay. According to Cleveland he went out on the boat with the understanding that he was to establish a whaling station up there and with a companion was to remain over a year, the boat to return for him in the second season.

When the Era reached her destination his companion's courage failed and he sailed home with the boat, leaving Cleveland alone. According to the story of the second mate, he would still be up there in the ice if he had waited for Thomas Luce & Son to send after him.

As it was, he stayed until last spring waiting for a chance to get back to civilization and during that time forgot even his native tongue. Now he proposes to make the former owners of the Era, who he says marooned him up there, pay him $10,000 for his hardships.

According to Cleveland's story he was abandoned 1,500 miles from the nearest white settlement at Wager river, the north end of Hudson Bay. He built himself a cabin 12 by 24 feet and during the first year or more he did not mind the experience, although he had to live on one meal a day.

When the first spring came he did considerable trading with the natives in walrusbone. At the end of the second summer the Era had not appeared to take him back home and he began to get discouraged and long for a sight of New England. He weathered the second winter and when spring appeared he looked every day for some sign of the Era.

Then as the summer passed and winter began to settle down again, to use Cleveland's words, "it was a case longer part of him. That enables him to ride without the appearance of effort."

He merely skims along. So he skims up to the pretty girl, gracefully, pleasantly, as though he were expected, smiles and puts down his feet. He is so tall he does not need to dismount in the usual sense—he merely stands up.

Then he kisses her—once, twice, sometimes three times—the while he hugs her gently like a well-trained lover. And just as she is about to scream for the police he sits down on his bicycle, elevates his feet to the pedals and skims away.

Many other women have been kissed by the cyclist during the week. In no case has he attempted to hurt them. Mrs. Curry has been made the leader of the women's vigilance committee which is after the kisser.

WHIPPED FISH INTO LINE. Here is the Winner of the Season, Fresh from Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—A fish story that is entitled to enter the champion-ship contest is told by Charles Baldwin, referee in bankruptcy, who has just returned from a month's outing with his family and a number of eastern friends in the Yellowstone park.

While driving from St. Anthony to the park Mr. Baldwin states that in a short time they caught twenty-five fish without the aid of hook, net or spear.

The fish, Mr. Baldwin says, were of sufficient size to make a meal for the party of twelve people and were caught with a plain, common bucket and a horse whip. The bucket was placed on its side at the edge of the water and the fish were driven into it by means of the whip. By way of further explanation, Mr. Baldwin stated that the fish were in depression in the bottom of an irrigation ditch, from which the water had been turned off shortly before they drove along. Under these conditions fishing was made a comparatively simple form of exercise.

Shaved By Fond Mamma. Darling Child Meanwhile is Fed on the Customer's Sweetmeats.

"I have been shaved all over the world," said the man of many tales, "but the funniest experience I ever had was at an out-of-the-way little village in the west. It was a Sunday, and my beard looked like an average-sized thickset. A shave I had to get somewhere and somehow. There wasn't a barber in the place. At length, however, I managed to get the information from a sympathetic native that Old Bill Soandso did a bit in that line. His cottage was over there. Over there I went."

"I was met at the door by a woman with a baby in her arms. Yes, Bill did some shaving, but he was a miser. Seeing the look of disappointment on my face, the woman laughingly said that she sometimes did a little in the shaving line herself. If I would trust myself to her, she could no doubt fix me up. I took chances. Placing the infant on the ground, she began opera-

INDIAN SWEAT BATH.

The "sweat" bath of the Indian is a cure-all warranted by the tribal medicine man to cure anything and everything, from sunburn to corns. It is taken in a primitive but effective manner.

When the Indian feels the languor of disease stealing over his frame, he hies himself to a brook and in some convenient place by the side of a deep pool builds himself a "sweat-house." This house is built of willow and hazel poles, bent like the center wicket in a croquet set. Over these are wrapped skins and blankets until the place is practically airtight.

An opening just large enough to allow a man to crawl through is left close to the ground, and this opening is covered with a flap, which may be tightly fastened from the inside when desired. When this house has been completed the patient builds a fire close by and into it rolls a number of large stones, which he heats red hot. He then retires to the interior of the house, accompanied by his clothes, the hot stones and a large vessel of water.

He closes the door, pours the water over the stones, and endures a primitive but at the same time effective Turkish bath. When the sick man can stand the heat and steam no longer he breaks from the house, followed by a cloud of steam and perspiration dripping from every pore and plunges headlong into the icy cold depths of the pool.

This treatment is said to be effective for a great many diseases. It undoubtedly aided in the creation of a hardy race of warriors by killing off all but those which could not be killed by anything short of superhuman agency.

In 1847, while Dr. Whitman and his family were camped with the Cayuses, and just beginning to have some success toward overcoming their prejudices and gaining their friendship, an epidemic of measles broke out in the tribe.

Dr. Whitman and his wife did what they could for the suffering Indians. The doctor prescribed for them out of his store of medicines, and would have checked the disease in all probability had not the jealousy of the Indian medicine men, coupled with the customs of the Indians themselves, persuaded the sufferers to try the wonders of the sweat cure.

It seemed a good idea to the Indian mind. If the white medicine man's prescription was good, the Indian medicine man's remedy would help it out.

As a result of this reasoning, hundreds of the stricken Indians took the sweat-bath course of treatment and were fished out of the pool dead as a result of the sudden disappearance of the measles.

This plague of death visited on the tribe was placed to the account of Dr. Whitman, and he was accused of having given the Indians poison when he pretended to give them medicine. Partly, largely in fact, on this account the massacre was planned and carried out. It is a fact, therefore, that the Indian sweat-bath was the indirect cause of the Whitman massacre.

Father Took Son's Whipping. The boy had misbehaved, as he often did, and his father called him to account.

"Son," said the father, "I hate to lick you, but some one must get a whipping for what you've done." The boy whined a little.

"Suppose," said the father, "that I take the whipping to you!" The boy laughed at the idea, but the father took down a dog whip, called a friend who was visiting at the house, explained the situation to him and then requested the visitor to use the whip on him.

The father wore a long-tailed coat and the visitor hit the tails of that coat in great style.

At the first crack of that whip the boy was wide-eyed. At the second he was clawing, biting and kicking the man with the whip.

"Don't whip my papa! Don't whip him!" he cried. "Whip me! Oh, whip me!"

That was a year ago. Since then that boy has never done anything seriously wrong.

South Africa's Great Man. Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit were equally unimpressive. A great scheme of Rhodes was once collapsing when Werner and Beit came to the rescue and saved it. Beit for his firm—Werner & Beit—took up the obligations. Rhodes said simply: "That's all right," but the following day, an Beit and Beit stood together at the bar in the Kimberley club, he abruptly asked the steward for half a dozen promissory note forms, signed them in blank and stuffed them into Beit's pocket, saying: "You backed me, I'll back you. In the success the notes were forgotten by both and were handed back some six months later."

From Sandals to Shoes. The first foot coverings were sandals. After these came shoes left open at the heel, then the wooden shoes of the fifth and tenth centuries, followed a little later by shoes with long pointed and turned-up toes, which sometimes reached as high as the knee. Later a shoe was worn with a needlingly wide toe, so very wide that it impeded the process of walking. Queen Mary restricted the width of shoes by proclamations. The proclamation ran to the effect that shoes should not be worn wider than six inches.

Domestic Bliss. "My women friends," remarked the spinster, "I know of only one who is happily married." "Impossible!" exclaimed the mere spinster. "My husband is a naval officer, and from home two or three years."

DEVICES INTENDED TO MAKE RAILROAD TRAVEL SAFER.

Inventions Recently Patented by an Indiana Man Which Are Hoped to Do Away Entirely with Present Despatching System.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Elmer E. Steiner, of Knightstown, has just patented two devices, invented by him which he hopes will prevent many railroad accidents and make travel on trains much safer than it is at present.

Steiner's devices do away with the present despatching system and put in its stead an automatic system. He worked for two years on his inventions, and he thinks he has succeeded. He says his system has the following advantages:

It does away with all possibility of rear or head-on collisions, as each train crew knows at any time just where all the others are.

It is security against any train running into an open switch, as the register on each train shows whether the switch be open or closed.

It does away with telegraph operators, thus saving millions in salaries to the companies using it.

The system "cannot go to sleep at the instrument or the switch" and can work 24 hours a day without food, fatigue or pay.

Being purely mechanical, it is infallible, and cannot make a mistake or "misinterpret orders," and even if it could disaster would be impossible.

It does away with the necessity of making stops for any purpose except to take on or discharge passengers or freight.

"With the train reporting system," said Steiner, "a railroad may be equipped at regular intervals of any distance desired with stations in the track bed, each of these stations being connected by circuits of electric wires with the central office. Whenever a train passes over one of the stations it automatically registers the number of the train and the number of the station, so that the central despatcher can tell at any moment just where any train is."

"In addition, every switch on the track is equipped with a similar device, which registers whether the switch be open or closed, and reports the same to the central office. In this way the despatcher can tell at any moment just where every switch is, and can close it before a train reaches it."

With this system, Steiner claims, there is nothing left to be desired in a system of train despatching. By means of this system the central despatcher may communicate order to an engineer, conductor or train crew, either while the train is standing still or moving, and in the same manner the crew can answer the orders. The system is so arranged that each train makes a constant circuit with the central office, and each train is constantly in a circuit with every other train on the same division. Thus one train crew can communicate with any other crew, and the register on one train will show just where every other train on the road is at any given time. An engineer can look at the register and tell long before he reaches it if a switch which the train is approaching is open or closed, and he knows at a glance just how far ahead or behind him is any other train, in whichever direction it may be going.

The system would do away entirely with telegraph operators at way stations, so far as delivering and receiving orders are concerned. It would even be possible for trains to run under this system without a despatcher, as each train would know at any time where other trains were located. This, of course, would be impracticable, as it would give free rein to train crews to run too much at will.

Power for the system is furnished by either storage batteries or dynamos. Once installed the system would be inexpensive, as the first cost would be the greatest. It is adaptable to electric roads as well as to steam railroads.

Steiner, who is a rural mail-carrier, first began to think of his invention two years ago when he heard railroad men on a train discuss the problem of railroad accidents and their prevention.

He then resolved to use his mechanical talent and ability in that direction, and he hopes that he will soon see the results of his labor in general use.

SCENTS BURIED TREASURE. Man Finds Mark of Vessel That May Have Held Gold.

Fort Worth, Tex.—Reed looking over his pasture in Red county Mr. Dillard, who lives near Thorp Springs, was attracted by a mound of fresh earth. Upon investigation it was discovered that a hole had been dug and at the bottom was the imprint of some kind of a vessel that had been removed.

The place is particularly marked, the excavation being in the center of four roughly hewn stones, set in a square and sunk almost out of sight in the earth. A short distance from this square is another stone with a hatchet sketched on its surface, the edge of the hatchet blade pointing directly to the place where the excavation was made.

Mr. Dillard says he had often noticed the stones, but supposed they were simply an old landmark. The supposition is that the vessel contained money and the find may be connected with an old story that has been told in that section ever since it was first settled.

This story is that in the country between Comanche peak and Robin son creek a large quantity of gold had been buried by parties who on their return from the goldfields of California were attacked and killed by the Indians then infesting the country.

Woman a Hermit 20 Years. Trenton, O.—Kate Zimmerman, of Frazer street, who has been living alone in one room, refusing to have anything to do with other persons for 20 years, will be visited by the health officers to-morrow. According to the police reports to-night, neighbors have complained. Charles Reizher takes her food in a basket, which she hauls up with a rope. It is believed the woman is a miser, and that this accounts for her secrecy and strange manner of living.

SEEK EDEN ON THE PACIFIC. Self-Styled Adam Leads Band of Half-Clad Followers.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—James F. Sharp, who says he is Adam, and a band of half-clad followers numbering about 50, marched through the streets the other day from their abandoned camp outside the city. They are on their way to the Pacific coast. Sharp, as will be remembered, led a parade of nude persons through the streets here about a year ago, which resulted in several arrests and one of the band being sent to the asylum.

Sharp returned here a few weeks ago and established a camp east of town, where many of his followers went without clothing, under the belief that they were in the Garden of Eden. They were arrested time and time again, and fined.

In the parade through the streets were many little children, who had marched for eight miles without stopping, and were hardly able to walk. Covered wagons containing a dozen or more babies brought up the rear of the parade.

Can't Refill This Bottle. Washington.—A non-refillable bottle which is practically, and which will protect the purity of bottled goods and prevent the bottles being again filled with spurious or impure articles, has been invented by C. R. Lott, of this city. For years efforts have been made to invent a non-refillable bottle, but without success until now. This bottle can be manufactured cheaply and liquids can be poured from it freely.

Kansas Town to Be Moved. Topeka, Kan.—Ora J. Gould, founder of Englewood, Chicago, has begun the work of moving the town of Englewood, Clark county, one mile south of its present location. The Kansas town is in the center of Gould's 21,000-acre ranch and the quarter section on which it is located has a clouded title. It has a population of 450, and the new site of 240 acres is a gift of Mr. Gould, whose home is at Burlington, Iowa.

Great Night for the Onion.

The onion has served as the basis for many quips, and flings at the hands of the humorous paragraphers. And yet it is an extremely wholesome plant, and one of high rank with the ancients, particularly the early Egyptians. For these reasons it is pleasant to note that the tabooed edible met with deserved recognition at what was termed an onion reception and banquet in an interior New York town called Union, which in this case might plausibly seem a corruption of onion. It was arranged, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in honor of the sixteenth anniversary of the special guests of the evening and the onion was the center and center of attraction. The house was decorated with onion blossoms, an onion center piece graced the table and the bill of fare included onions and onions only—top onions, sliced onions, stewed onions, onion salad and fried onions. Needless to say, the guests, who departed at a late hour, went away breathing many encomiums of the fragrant bulb of honor.

Far Too Speedy for Speech.

The tremendous speed made in the international automobile race over the Ardennes circuit in Belgium is almost beyond conception. To maintain an average of nearly 70 miles an hour through a run of 371 miles, which was the record of the winner, must have meant a speed neighboring on 100 miles an hour for much of the distance. Only in this way could time lost on curves be made up. The race makes very pat the story of a Boston millionaire who recently visited one of the young Vanderbilts at Newport, says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican. The visitor was taken for a run in a big racing automobile. He stood the experience until the speed rose to upward of 80 miles an hour, when in terror, he tried to call to the driver beside him to slow up. But instead of being able to call he found, so was the story, that once he had opened his mouth he could not shut it, so violent was the blast. Fortunately the stretch permitting such speed was short.

A Task for American Women.

The editor of Harper's Bazar, writing of the choice which women of fashion are compelled to make as to whether they will be wives or mothers says that the absorption of American men in business interests tends to reduce the dignity of American fatherhood to a level with the paternity of the savage. "The supreme mission of the American wife is, therefore, to provide for the higher education of the American father. To win a man from exclusive attention to the sordid concerns of business, the dissipations of pleasure-seeking, and apply him to the infinitely profitable, infinitely enjoyable work of participating in the care, the physical, mental, moral development of his children, that is a cure which—American women are everywhere, under all circumstances, able to apply to the root of the evil of race suicide said to be seriously menacing our nation. Let them be about it."

England has in its midst another agitation aimed at revolutionizing the style of men's dress suits. The movement will run along for a time and die out just as others have done. Such a cascade seem to be accomplished of the silly season.

F. W. Martin, of Beloit, Wis., has just paid $2,000 for Lord Bacon, the highest price ever given for an American horse. It is a pity that Mr. Martin is not here to enjoy this triumph.

A number of children in a railway engine ran over by the engine, but no damage, as the engine had been on duty so many years that no had fallen asleep.

A sea cow 18 feet long and a baby, cost $2,000 has been added to the New York aquaria. We suppose it is to furnish milk for the dolphins there.

A Paris banquet of the kind had a complete success, as it gives rise to a few duels.

HAS CURE FOR JUNGLE FEVER.

Dr. Senn Returns from Africa, Where He Studied All Phases of Malaria.

Chicago.—Dr. Nicholas Senn, who has just returned from Africa, where he studied every phase of fever prevalent there, hopes to include in his forthcoming book some suggestions of great value in the treatment of the disease. He went to Belga, on the east coast of Africa, and journeyed up the Zambezi river into the country known as the death trap. Dr. Senn devoted himself especially to discovering some means of checking the disease in its incipient stages. Its devastating effect being largely due to the fact that the symptoms have been allowed to develop unimpeded. Dr. Senn is said to have found some specific which strikes at the root of the malady to replace the copious doses of quinine which have been almost the sole medical agent used in the tropics.

Monopolies Hit by Decision.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Judge Seaman administered a blow to monopolies in restraint of trade in his decision the other day in favor of the J. I. Case company in the "wind stacks" case. The suit was brought by the Indiana Manufacturing company to recover royalties on a patent stacker. All thrashing machine makers have been compelled to pay royalties to the Indiana concern, which owns 200 patents.

The Case company some time ago invented a stacker of its own and declined to continue the royalties. Judge Seaman, in his decision, confined himself to the claim that the contract with the Indiana concern was in violation of the Sherman law. He held that the grant of a patent created a lawful monopoly, and continued.

Nevertheless, I am of the opinion that the monopoly thus secured, to be immune from the anti-trust act, must be referable solely to the invention under the patent, and that a combination of licenses formed thereunder

ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Another Enjoyable Outing for the Michigan Press Association.

FRANKFORT, MICH., Sept. 12.

DEAR ENTERPRISE:—There were not many members of the Michigan Press Association who responded to the very cordial invitation of General Passenger Agent Kirby of the Ann Arbor railway to take the trip over his road...

The pencil pushers were made to believe that they owned the train for that trip and conductor and trainmen were found most courteous in their treatment of passengers and careful of the care of the cars to secure the most comfort to all.

It was surprising to note the improvements made in northern Michigan during the past four years when we last visited it. The stumps are fast disappearing from the fields, the ground is well carpeted with luxuriant pastures of clover, new residences, some quite pretentious and fine looking large barns, such as our Washtenaw county farmers have, are dotting hillsides and plain.

The absence of farming machinery in the fields was noticeable, showing that the farmers up here place too high an estimate on them to allow them to remain out in the fields, exposed to the weather.

The northern farmer has not pastured enough or is not able to buy much stock, we conclude, else they were hidden in the underbrush of the uncleared fields.

There are still a good many saw mills along this route and the small pine trees are being worked up into lath, etc., while the hard woods are carefully sawed into a variety of shapes for shipment to manufacturers elsewhere.

We observed that no patches of standing timber were left by the farmers as is the case in southern Michigan and we imagine that this will be cause for regret as years pass by.

The Ann Arbor road has some good depot buildings and freight houses and we could not help but notice the substantial cement platforms in front of each, which is in great contrast with the old, established roads in these parts which think that planks and cinders are good enough.

Arriving at Frankfort, which is the county seat of Benzie county and is situated on Lake Michigan, we found a delegation from the Royal Frontenac at the station to welcome us. This hotel is a summer resort beautifully located with the broad lake on one side and the snug harbor on the other, affording a magnificent view of these as well as of the quaint little city nestled under the shelter of the great sand cliffs.

There is considerable farming country surrounding and the raising of fruit is becoming a specialty with some farmers. One man, named Rose, has 160 acres set to various kinds of fruits and vegetables, and it is said that he employs 100 men and still makes a large profit.

We wish that we could afford to bring all our readers to this delightful place—the Royal Frontenac we mean—that they might know what a really comfortable and restful place it is. It is immense in proportions and complete in appointments. Every modern convenience has been looked to and the meals and service are of the best, yet the price is not high—from $2 per day up—and surely people in even moderate circumstances cannot complain at that.

The editors were tendered a three hour ride on Lake Michigan, Sunday afternoon by Mr. French of the Pere Marquette railroad and steamboat line, which was much enjoyed.

Some of our citizens may have wondered what was being done with the loads of tomatoes that have been brought into town of late and we are pleased to inform each that the plant of the Manchester Canning Co. is being run this year by the Acme Process Co. of Adrian, and for the past two weeks has been running full blast, employing from 10 to 12 men. The tomatoes are not canned but are reduced to a pulp which is run into large wooden barrels of 50 gallons each, branded "Manchester pulp," and shipped to Detroit. This is then made into catsup. The seeds are used for commercial purposes. Six hundred and ten barrels of pulp have been put up, about 80 barrels being a day's run. Last week the tomato came in at the rate of 500 to 600 bushels per day and this week promises to be better. Up to Saturday night 301,704 pounds of tomatoes had been received which is over 150 tons and something over 5,000 bushels. The factory was operated several nights last week until 10 or 12 o'clock and will be "this week."
