EVENTS NOTED

PARENTS DID NOT KNOW THAT DAUGHTER WAS ON BOARD THE ARCADIA.

WANTED TO GO ON LARK

Letter Telling of Good Time She Was Having Received Ten Days After the Steamer Was Lost.

Minnie Enouff's Death.

Minnie Enouff, the Grand Marais girl who "shipped" on the lost steamer Arcadia as a lark, and was drowned with the rest of the ship's company off Pentwater April 13, was 18 years of age, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Enouff.

For some time during the winter she had manifested a strong desire to leave Grand Marais in the course of which she made arrangements to enter a Saginaw hospital to become a trained nurse. Consent was given by her parents, and April 5 she left for Saginaw.

During the winter months she had also been in correspondence with Mrs. Harry May, who was known to the family by an acquaintance formed during regular calls at this port of the Enouffs during the summer months.

The girl was very anxious to accept, but was prohibited from doing so by her father.

It is therefore believed that the girl went direct to Manistee and enrolled on the ill-fated craft. This is borne out by the letter received by the parents the evening of April 23. It was written on board the Arcadia, dated April 6, and was posted at Two Rivers, Wis., April 8, and owing to the fact that the letter was uncanceled for lack of postage, it was not received until the evening of the 23rd.

The news was received of the finding of her body on the beach near Ludington.

In the letter, which is directed to her mother, the girl asks forgiveness and says she is the happiest girl in the world, pleased with the boat and her position. She says that Mrs. May and she both took a delightful season on the lakes. Mrs. May also writes the mother in the same letter, stating that she will take good care of the daughter, that they are happy together and that all will be well until she returns in the fall.

Died in His Shanty.

That soap had touched him but twice in the past ten years, that he had not had a bath in nearly twice as long, and that he was a civil war veteran were the boasts of Christian Raffels, a man who died Saturday in the shanty he refused to call "home," near Sebewast.

The old man, a giant in stature, almost 7 feet tall and weighing up to his last illness on an average of 235 pounds, enlisted in the Fourteenth New York regiment during the civil war, and while in the service suffered from hunger, the ration for one man being issued for his capacity which corresponded with his size.

For the past twenty years Raffels had lived the life of a hermit in a shanty on the shore of Saginaw Bay, and it was when he was missed that his body was found.

Those having business at the Probate Court please do not neglect to request the Judge or his Deputy to send the advertising for the estate to the ENTERPRISE office. Address, MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE, Manchester, Mich.

THURSDAY, MAY 2 1907.

Minors under 17 years of age must hereafter keep out of public billiard halls, bowling alleys and pool rooms. The legislature has passed a bill to that effect and the governor has signed it.

Reports come from Jackson, Ann Arbor, Dundee and other places about the state of people being bitten by mad dogs. Pet dogs are seemingly more than strange dogs. The safest way would be to muzzle all dogs.

George W. Owen, printer at Norfolk, Va., has kindly sent us a copy of his paper giving account of the opening of the Jamestown exposition. His brother Charles, editor of the Quincy Herald, has also sent us his paper, giving account of war incidents he was party to. They were both formerly Manchester boys.

The ENTERPRISE hopes that our citizens will take special interest in the observation of Memorial day this year. The soldier's monument at Oak Grove cemetery will be completed and dedicated on that day and as all the people have an interest in the matter, they should take part in the exercises. The G. A. R. of course are planning for the event but we must remember, that the monument really belongs to the township and the township and village should see that it is properly dedicated. We have time to make and complete arrangements, so let's get it at once.

Our subscribers should remember that the ENTERPRISE is put in the postoffice every Thursday before the mails close and out of town papers, with perhaps the exception of those for Manchester rural mail delivery, go out that night and most of our subscribers should get their paper not later than Friday night. If they do not it is no fault of ours but the fault of the postoffice in that town and subscribers should ask the postmaster or mail carrier for their papers. But if you do not get your paper regularly and promptly, let us know, and we will write the postmaster, because the fault is his, not ours.

Canoes in various parts of the state will assemble at Union City and put their canoes in the St. Joe river for a 200 mile trip down that beautiful stream to its mouth. At various times in years past, lovers of adventure have sailed down the historic Raisin to Monroe and we wonder why some enthusiastic boatmen do not make the trip this spring. The writer has been from Manchester to near Dundee and from Brooklyn to Manchester in a boat and enjoyed the trip wonderfully well. One should take his rod and gun, camp equipage, etc. in order to get all the enjoyment he can out of the trip. We have half a mind to propose to be one of a party to go.

Our townsman, Representative Waters, had an opportunity last week to get even with a lot of his fellow members of the house, who have been opposing pretty nearly every proposition he has advanced. The Dickinson primary reform bill was the special order and an effort was being made to restore the provision regarding the election of senators by direct vote of the people. Gov. Warner's friends wanted to offer a new bill as a substitute, but Mr. Waters jumped up and offered an amendment, which would restore the old provision, and urged his motion with such energy that the Warner crowd swarmed about his desk like bees when the hive has been disturbed. He had them foiled and they were forced to withdraw the substitute and his amendment passed. When the matter came up again Tuesday they did a lot of patchwork on it and it will be called again Friday.

We wish that we could frame language that would tell our citizens to improve the appearance of some of the untidy things about town. Pumpkin vines might be trained over some of the rickety old shanties, morning glory vines would cover up some old fence or stone pile. The banks of the river that gracefully flows through the center of the village, might, with slight expense and a very little labor, be made beautiful and attractive. But first there should be a general cleaning up and a liberal amount of disinfectant used before hot weather comes. And there may be no excuse on account of time. What say you, people? Shall we have a general cleaning up day? If you are so inclined, let the ENTERPRISE know it and we will make the date known so that everyone will be ready to haul off the refuse at say 10 of 15 cents a load. Seems as though any housekeeper would be willing to go into the scheme. Now, speak up promptly and let's have it over quick.

Fred Brigel of Tecumseh was here last Friday on his way home from Detroit where he was called on account of his son Walter having his clothing and his mother's gold watch stolen from his room at Grace hospital. He found where part of the clothing had been pawned and recovered it, but the watch was supposed to have fled to Canada. Walter had a suit of clothes stolen some time ago, which he has not recovered. The lost suit was a new one and valued at $40.

Charles Bartless has been to Portland on business.

The Tecumseh electric light dam at Brownville went out Tuesday night.

Rev. Wulman will preach in English Sunday evening at Emanuel's church.

Three of the boys Will Lehman, Clair Payne and Emer Blaisdell, who have been picking up stumps for Col. Wheeler, were badly poisoned by sumac and had to quit work.

Dr. A. M. Allen, who has practiced medicine at Adrian for 42 years, is about retiring from general practice, says the Times. Dr. Allen was born in Sharon in 1834 and was raised in that township. He is a brother of Capt. E. P. Allen of Ypsilanti. He began the study of medicine when he was 23 years of age, graduated from the U. of M. in 1861 and began practice here. A year later he enlisted in the seventh Michigan as assistant surgeon and had many thrilling experiences. He received his discharge in December, 1864, and soon after went to Adrian and began practicing.

Norvell Farmers' Club

The meeting of the Norvell farmers' club with Mr. & Mrs. Z. T. Kimble on Saturday, April 27, was well attended and much enjoyed.

The photograph of Clyde Beckwith furnished music. Rev. Mr. Blanchard acted as chaplain and offered prayer.

The roll call proved that not many could bound a county in Michigan, not even their own. The effort created much interest that they will try the township next time.

The essay by Miss Edie Hay on "The Voyage of Life" received and deserved much praise.

Mrs. John Green read a selection and the discussion of the value of ideals and what constitutes an ideal farmer was of interest. Among the thoughts advanced were these:

Ideals are necessary to success or progress. They should be definite and raised as we draw near them, which we should strive hard to do.

The ideal farmer is well equipped physically and mentally, a lover of his calling and of nature and all things of beauty. He makes money, does his work well and on time and is a blessing to the world. Success is measured by the good a man does in the world and true happiness is secured by giving, not by getting.

In answer to questions, many were said to have had poor success with young pigs this spring. The lamb crop was said to be about normal. The clover seed sown a month or more ago was thought to be uninjured by the frost. Some college graduates do not make good farmers because not even the Agricultural college can make something out of nothing, but it can help a man to make the most of himself.

The club will be entertained on May 25th by Mr. & Mrs. T. B. Halliday at Cottage Home farm. Roll call, respond by bounding a county; current events, J. G. Palmer; select reading, Phoebe Ferguson; paper, "Decorations day, what is its object and how should it be observed?" Miss Elma Holmes; discussion and question box.

The estate of William Smith, the Napoleon man who mysteriously disappeared over a year ago, was settled in probate court Tuesday. John McCall was administrator.

Circuit court convenes next Monday. The Lewis murder case will probably not be called first but Stewart, the colored man charged with larceny, will be tried first. Conway and McCarthy will probably plead guilty to house breaking etc.

Farmers, Dairyman.

We will pay you 25 cents per pound for the butterfat in your cream from any good band separator until further notice. You are only required to deliver your cream at your nearest station, we pay all charges and wash and return your cans free.

Mr. Henry Luckhardt is our representative for Manchester and vicinity. See him for further particulars. HILLSDALE EGG CREAMERY CO., Hillsdale, Mich.

The ENTERPRISE is constantly adding type borders and other material to its equipment, keeping not only the paper but the job department and bindery as well, in first class condition, and we solicit your orders.

Some people neglect to give personal or other items to us and then complain because their names are not in the paper. Don't tell things to some one else, thinking we will get it from them, tell us.

To particular people we would say that the ENTERPRISE writing tablets, ruled and plain are made at this office and those who use them say they are the best. You try one.

We must have the news every week. Send in your items, let us know what you are doing every week. Don't wait thinking that we will find it out, tell us.

When you have anything for the ENTERPRISE don't look in the directory for Mat D. Blosser's name, but look for the MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE, No. 44.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

We have frosty nights.

Dandelions are beginning to blossom.

George Hausler advertises the Victor this week.

The buds on fruit and other trees are beginning to burst.

Roller & Breitenwischer advertise a special sale for Saturday.

G. H. Ford will be at his gallery next week. See advertisement.

J. S. Townsend has a new advertisement this week, a special sale.

Moses Stolarsky intends to buy a machine for baling paper and rags.

We have heard many complaints about people riding bicycles on the sidewalks.

E. B. Clarkson has had the front of Youngman's barber shop freshly painted.

Meridian chapter will have a meeting next Wednesday evening for degree work.

The weather was mild and pleasant on Sunday and people enjoyed walking or riding.

Receiver Watkins was over from Ann Arbor Tuesday and adjourned the sale of the cement plant.

Eugene Kirogessner has had the bakery and restaurant brightened up with paint and paper.

Wells Martin has sold his building on Railroad street to Moses Stolarsky, who will use it for a warehouse.

Some miscreants break into the cement plant and if they are caught, the receiver will see that they are punished for it.

A dance and card party, given by the M. E. A. at Macabee hall last Friday evening, was well attended and an enjoyable affair.

The telephone exchange has been moved into the rooms so long occupied by the ENTERPRISE in the second story of the Arbelter block.

Dr. Service has placed a new roller awning in front of his building to protect Schaefer & Bannan's millinery show window from the sun.

We have been making some necessary improvements at the ENTERPRISE office the past week, putting in private water works, sewer connections etc.

We had a heavy rain storm Monday night, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Tuesday morning the temperature fell so that it was quite cool before night.

The ladies of the 20th century club have invited their husbands—those who have one—to meet with them at the final meeting and banquet at Frank Merriam's Friday evening.

We learn that there is a prospect of the cement plant suit being settled soon. If this is accomplished, Receiver Watkins can go ahead and sell the plant and settle the affairs of the company.

We wish that people would get in the habit of writing items and reports of meetings, etc., at the time they occur and hand or send them to the ENTERPRISE at once instead of waiting as is too often the case. A better report can be made when all is fresh in your mind.

A. F. & F. M. Freeman won out in the circuit court case they tried for Mrs. O. F. Sheldon against Charles Miller of Adrian, and Judge Kinne gave a decree of $3,850 and costs. It took eight days to try the case. Mrs. Sheldon's Manchester friends will be glad to know that she is to have what rightfully belongs to her.

The star chapter has been urged to join with other chapters in the county to forming a county association. Ann Arbor chapter is taking the lead in the movement and at the meeting of Manchester chapter last Friday night, those present thought favorably of the scheme but wished for further light on the matter before taking action.

At the meeting of the historical club last Friday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President—Mrs. Sarah Mc Cord; Vice President—Mrs. Iretta Lesson; Secretary—Mrs. Martha Hammond; Treasurer—Mrs. Mary Foster.

The annual banquet will be held to-morrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Koerber.

The Shakespeare club was entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Elvin English and Miss English at the home of the latter. An interesting program was furnished by the members. Election of officers followed:

President—Mrs. S. L. Palmer; Vice President—Mrs. E. M. Oose; Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. A. J. Wilcox. Adjournment to October.

Mr. & Mrs. George Hamm visited her parents in M'ronci last Thursday.

T. J. Thon, who has been taking a vacation, resumed his duties as rural mail carrier, Monday.

Rev. Fr. McGlochin will exchange places with Rev. Fr. Ryan of Dexter, Saturday and Sunday.

Perry Nash, who is working at the harness maker's trade in Detroit, is visiting at home this week.

Base Ball.

A team of school boys of 14 years old and under will go to Clinton Saturday afternoon to play a like team, if the weather is favorable.

The east side school boys of 14 years of age and under were pitted against the west side in a game of ball Saturday, which resulted in favor of the west side by a score of 19 to 9. Hits 11; died on bases 15.

There will be a public meeting at the village hall Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a ball team and all interested in good clean sport, something to keep the town alive, should turn out.

The Manchester high school again surprised itself by winning the game with Chelsea high school on Friday, April 26th, at Brighton's park. Despite the fact that our boys thought they had a tough proposition to buck against, the game was somewhat one sided and they succeeded in putting two of the Chelsea players out of the box, Carpenter with two five men to first on balls and Weiss two. Ezra Frye, the new recruit, played an excellent game at third and made several good hits.

Steinkohl made himself famous by making two two-base hits at an opportune time.

There were many errors made on both sides but those of the Chelsea boys proved the most costly.

One three-base hit by Carpenter and one two-base hit by Carpenter was made off Frye. The final score resulted 15 to 6 in favor of Manchester high school.

The players are as follows:

Carpenter	P	F. Frye
Wolf	C	Esery
Ryerson	1st	Lewis
Shaver	2nd	Breitenwischer
Weiss	3rd	E. Frye
Prudden	S.S.	Bancroft
Gorman	O.F.	Beno
Randelman	R.F.	Steinkohl
Reedel	L.F.	Sutton
Lehman	sub.	Smythe

The next game will be played at Saline with the Saline high school on Friday, May 10th. As the White Eagles have organized a team, the Manchester high school is ready to play them at any time.

The Saturday Club.

Last Saturday afternoon at the charming home of Mrs. Spaford and daughter Myra, the members of the Shakespeare club were pleasantly entertained by the Saturday club. The house was tastefully decorated with the club colors and potted plants and the many lighted candles added greatly to the scenery of the "play" which was given. It is seldom that a club is successful in securing the services of such gifted actors as Mrs. Ben Greet, Ellen Terry, Viola Allen and Julia Marlowe, but they were all present and Shakespeare's heroines—Portia, Ophelia, Lady Macbeth and Juliet were given in a most admirable way. The sweet songs of Lynda Nordica and Emma Jean Exmes were heartily enjoyed and the talented artists responded most graciously. Madame Joseph Rive King presided at the piano in a faultless manner.

After the play, a social hour was spent in matching quotations from Shakespeare; Mrs. Jennie Moore—Keech of Ann Arbor, a guest of the club, won the prizes. Refreshments were served, and dainty place cards were found at the plate of each guest and member. Mrs. Iddings of Lansing, in a pleasing manner gave a review of the organization of the club. The Shakespeare club expressed great pleasure in the knowledge and information they had received in regard to Shakespeare and his plays and thus ended one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Saturday club. Long may it live!

Pe-ru-na Relieves Spring Catarrh.

MISS DORA HAYDEN.
"Without hesitation I write to thank you for the great relief I have found in your valuable medicine, Peru-na, and will call the attention of all my friends suffering with catarrh to that fact. Besides, I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with catarrh in any form."
Miss Dora Hayden, 819 6th St., S. W., Washington, D. C.

A Case of Spring Catarrh.
Mrs. N. P. Lawler, 423 1/2 N. Broadway, Pittsburg, Kas., writes: "Last spring I caught a severe cold, which developed into a serious case of catarrh. I felt weak and sick, and could neither eat nor sleep well."
"A member of our club who had been cured of catarrh through the use of Peru-na advised me to try it, and I did so at once. I expected help, but nothing like the wonderful change for the better I observed almost as soon as I started taking it. In three days I felt much better, and within two weeks I was in fine health. Peru-na is a wonderful medicine."

THE DIFFERENCE IN TASTE.
Dogs Prized as Edible in China Are Here Fashion's Pets.
"He is the real thing in the way of a chow," said the "Father" bought him for me in Shanghai. Did you know they ate them there?"
"I had heard that the Chinese ate dogs, but I thought it was a fake, like the story of their eating rats."
"No; it is the truth. They do eat dogs, but only the chow variety. Yes, they eat chows. In every butcher shop you see chows' carcasses hung up the same as we hang up the carcasses of pigs. The flesh is white."
"White?"
"Yes, like real. The Chinese raise chows for food and feed them only soft, washy stuff, mashed vegetables and bread and milk. No meat what ever. Hence the white flesh."
"Notice that black tongue. Well, chow tongue is a Chinese delicacy. They make soup of it. But it is very expensive, like our turtle soup, and it is only eaten by the rich."
"Isn't it strange that a dog so fashionable with us should be only an article of food in China?"

BABY IN TERRIBLE STATE.
Awful Humor Eating Away Face—Body a Mass of Sores—Cuticura Cures in Two Weeks.

"My little daughter broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away. Her ears itched as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars. Instead of seventy-five cents Mrs. George J. Stevens, 701 Coburn St., Akron, O., Aug. 30, 1905."

Coach Horses Join For Oaths.
They had some spirited horse in the old coaching days. Just 100 years ago a remarkable proof of this was given, and fortunately recorded for the edification of later motor car generations. In the case of the Liv. street mail coach. Horses were changed at Monk's Head, between Newcastle-under-Lyme, says the London Tribune.

On this particular occasion a pack of foxhounds was heard in full cry just as the horses from Conington were freed from the coach, and they started off with the harness on their backs and followed the run to the finish. One of them, a blood mare, stuck close to the whipper-in and took every jump after him through the two hours. And in the evening they took the return coach to Conington as merrily as if they had been in the stable all the time.

Fighting with Ants.
The Indians of the Maritimes dispose of termites, or white ants, in this manner: When they see their covered way approaching a building, they drop a train of syrup from this way to the nearest nest of black ants. The first ones that see the syrup follow it up till they reach the termites' passage. They return to their nest, and in a few hours a black army starts out for the white ant stronghold. With great fury they rush into the galleries, and in a short time entirely destroy the enemy, and each one, on its way home, carries a dead termite, probably to eat.

Dreadful Floods of Texas.
A physician in Portland, Ore., estimated that 2,748 tons of corn, or two gallons in all, were sold on one night by the audience that heard Savary's "Madam Butterfly" in that city recently.

THE VETERAN WHO BEGGED.

Pathetic Story of an Old Soldier Who Was Blind.

"It was some years ago that two G. A. R. men, scandalized at seeing a veteran soldier of the civil war begging on the street, asked me to expostulate with him, for he was drawing a small pension from the government, and the soldiers' home was open to him, writes A. C. Sweet, in Chicago Journal. I sallied out to find the old soldier, who had become blind since the war."

He was standing on a street corner, erect, soldier-like, even as he held out the tin cup for the offerings of the merciful souls who listened to his voice. I made myself known to him, and asked him how it happened that he was begging on the street, when there was plenty of help for him elsewhere. The blind man asked me to allow him to call at my office the next day to explain his case, and with this promise the interview ended."

At the appointed hour, led by a boy, the blind man came, and when he had said what he had to say his case was won so far as I was concerned. It was all in the point of view. And because of that interview I never pass a blind beggar on the street without retreating at least a penny in his cup.

I shall tell poor old Gunne's story here, to remind many of the comrades of his queer personality, for he has passed into the land where, it is promised, "the blind shall see." We have interviews with us those who need the interpretation of experience and understanding, though seldom is there one who can speak as eloquently as old Gunne, who has lived through the years of black darkness which came afterward.

"You ask me," he said, "why I stand on the street and beg. I draw a pension of six dollars a month, and can go to the soldiers' home, or to the county house, if I do not want to be too far away from my family. Yes, I have heard that before."

"But I want to live. All is dark all the time, and I can't sit on a bench, and beg, and merely exist. The torment of blindness is, mainly, the dreadful blank all the time. You don't know that you use your eyes every waking moment. Not simply when you are looking consciously at something, there is not a moment but the whole of life seems to be passing before you, and all through your eyes!"

"To me, an active, healthy man, it is death, and worse than death, to be left sitting in darkness all day, only being fed at intervals, and at intervals put to sleep. All in my family go to work every morning, and I am left alone. My neighbors don't want to be bothered with me. I am in everybody's way."

"But if I can come down town, take up my stand somewhere on a noisy street, I seem to live again through what I hear. The clang and rumble of the street cars is music to my ears. The pluck, pluck, pluck of horses' feet, the quick or shuffling tread of passers-by on the sidewalk, the word or two from some friendly, or even unfriendly voice, these are all music and drink to my soul."

"Yes, I do take money from those who give it to me, and I need it, too, for my family can scarce keep the wolf from our door, though, too, my good wife hates to have to beg. But who gives to me? Not any one who is hurt by it. Mostly children—bless their hearts—who ask their mothers for a penny to put in my cup. Or it is a working man or woman who stops on the way home from work to give a nickel to the blind man. Sometimes I have a word or two of kindness from one of the people who stop to give of God's bounty to them."

"Do you think any one ever misses what he gives to me? It is a small board that I count when my boy has taken me home for the night, but that is not the important thing with me. It is, day by day, that I have lived. The air has blown in my face. Men and women and children have been all around me. I could hear their voices and their footsteps, and the roar and rattle of wheels made me think I was still in the land of the living."

"I understand," I said. "Go back to your place in the midst of the voices, the footsteps and the wheels. I shall never interfere with you again; nor will your old comrades, I imagine. Only when you need some other mode of existence, remember that there will be help for you from a nation which you gave four years of your life. Let him alone," said the G. A. R. men, when I reported Gunne's story to them. "There are things money can't buy and things that all the power of the government can't provide."

REVOLUTIONARY WAR RELICS.

Shot Fired by One of King George's Ship's Still Imbedded in Wall.

Before the outbreak of the revolutionary war Lord Dunmore, the royal governor of Virginia, fearing the growing unrest among the colonists, secretly removed the supplies of powder that had been accumulating at Williamsburg for defense against the Indians to an English man-of-war that was in the York river. This step so aroused the colonists as to bring about an uprising which caused Lord Dunmore to take refuge on board the same man-of-war, and resulted in Patrick Henry being installed as the first governor of Virginia.

Soon after this event war was declared by King George against his rebellious colonies, and Lord Dunmore, seeking revenge against the Virginians who had so summarily ousted him, bombarded Norfolk, the capital, Williamsburg being too far off to be reached by his guns. Little damage was caused by his efforts, though the colonists, who had been taught to regard the warship's great guns as monsters of destruction, were nearly ready to surrender.

One of the round shot struck the church and was imbedded in its brick walls, where it remains to-day. A tablet inscribed: "Fired by Lord Dunmore, January, 1775," is placed under it, and the ivy is carefully cut away around it.

To those who are familiar with modern high power explosive shells the solid shot of Lord Dunmore's does not appear very dangerous, and one can't but wonder how the small boys of that day resisted kicking at them as they rolled through the streets for all the world like footballs.

THE DOG WAS TIED.

An Incident of the Campaign—Before Santiago, Cuba.

A little incident related by the late Gen. Shafter in an article on the campaign of Santiago, says Youth's Companion, illustrates the spirit of the American soldiers who entered Cuba, and at the time contains a bit of humor that was none the less enjoyable because it was unconscious.

"The men had been in battle all day, and, weary as they were, had then walked 11 rough, muddy miles in the dark, a remarkable and arduous performance, which served to show their sterling military qualities."

A correspondent noticed a corporal of the Twenty-fifth colored regiment carrying a pet dog in his arms. Surprised that an overworked soldier should voluntarily burden himself, he said: "Corporal, didn't you march all night before last?"

"Yes, sah."

"Didn't you fight all day yesterday?"

"Deed I did, sah."

"Didn't you march all last night?"

"Yes, sah."

"Then why do you carry that dog?"

"Why, boss, 'cause the dog's tired!"

He Brought Him in Alive.

Representative Victor Murdock of the Wichita district, is telling this one.

A farmer hired a green Irishman. One of the first tasks assigned the new hired hand was to bring into the cow lot, dead or alive, a refractory bull that had broken into the cornfield. The Irishman was given a shot gun, and told to shoot the bull if the animal showed fight. Justly he went about his task. The farmer stood at a safe distance to watch developments. As soon as the bull saw the Irishman enter the cornfield, he bolted at him, bellowing madly. The Irishman flung away with the shot gun, and emptied the lead in the beast's breast. On rushing the bull madder than ever. The Irishman took to his heels with the bull after him. "What are you doing?" screamed the farmer at the fleeing Irishman. "I'm bringing him alive, sir!" shouted the Irishman between breaths. —Washington Herald.

Army as a Side Show.

The war department will not send troops hereafter to take part in local fairs, carnivals, etc., which are of a commercial character. It has been decided to adopt a policy in relation to military parades for the purpose of any part of the regular army, and hereafter the provision of a military force for purposes of parade or as an adjunct of any sort of celebration will be limited to affairs of a purely patriotic nature, or in commemoration of some important historical incident. The military authorities in Washington have come to the conclusion that it only cheapens the army to send any part of it out as an attraction that makes it the subject of advertisement for more or less commercial purposes and sordid gain.

Perfect System.

"If you go by my route," said the persuasive railway agent, "you will find your journey absolutely free from annoyances or unpleasantness."

"I dunno," objected the contemplative tourist. "There's a whole lot of bad wrecks nowadays."

"Ah!" exclaimed the agent, unfolding a bright new time-card, "you will see that in our new schedule, which goes into effect to-day, we have arranged time and place for each wreck, with daggers to indicate delays on account of hot-boxes, and stars to show the points where the train will merely be ditched."—Judge.

Two West Pointers in Congress.

After Mr. Briggs, of New Jersey, takes his seat, West Point will have two graduates in the senate, Senator Dupont, of Delaware, being also an alumnus of the military academy. The Delaware senator has the added distinction of being a medal of honor man, winning his decoration by "most distinguished gallantry and voluntary exposure to the enemy's fire at a critical moment" during the battle of Cedar Creek. He was then a captain of artillery in the regular army.

ERRATIC OLD RIVER.

Delicate in the Old Home; Better Health in the New.

Chambersburg, Susk., December 1st, 1906.

To the Editor.
Dear Sir,
I came to this country from the State of Wisconsin three years ago, and must say that I am greatly pleased with the outlook in this western country. For my own part I am entirely satisfied with the progress I have made since coming here. I have raised excellent crops of grain of all varieties. Last season my wheat averaged 23 bushels of wheat to the acre, oats 60 and barley 40.

We had a splendid garden this year, ripening successfully tomatoes, muskmelons, water melons, sweet corn and kindred sorts.

The country is well adapted to wheat growing and mixed farming, and to my mind it is the best country under the sun for a man with a family and small means, as it is possible for a man to commence farming operations with much less capital than is required in the older settled countries. The climate is all that could be desired, being very healthy and invigorating.

My wife came out about six months ago, and although inclined to be delicate in the old home, she has enjoyed the best of health since coming here.

In short, I am more than satisfied with the land of my adoption, and I am also satisfied with the laws of the country.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN LANGDON.

Chamois Skins from Sheep.

Chamois skins in a majority of cases, according to a United States consular report recently issued, are really an old tanned sheep or lamb skin lining. The supply of skins from the chamois is very limited. Enough could not be obtained in a year to supply the United States for more than a single day; a fair average crop from Switzerland being only about 5,000 to 6,000 skins. The chamois skin is heavier than the skin of the sheep or lamb and much coarser.

For strength and durability the chamois is preferable, but for ordinary use and appearance the old-tanned sheepskin lining would, in most instances, be preferred.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than anywhere else put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by those measures destroyed the system. The only cure was by local treatment, pronouncedly incurable, and the present Catarrh is a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Early Catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 to 20 drops, and it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Remarkable Typewriting Feats.

A man wrote 17,000 words, but he made so many mistakes that he was ruled out. Question of Bleeding.

Hampton J. Carson, in an address at a recent banquet of the Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association, carried his hearers back to revolutionary days and cited several instances of the prominence attained in public life by representatives of the medical profession. These he contrasted with the deeds of expounders of the law to show that the physicians had had their day, and that at present the lawyers are having their innings.

"In the old days," the former attorney general remarked, "it was a common thing for physicians to bleed patients suffering from almost every disease, no matter how serious the case. Things have changed since then, however. A person who wants to be bled these days doesn't go to a physician—he calls in his lawyer and usually the work is much better done."

Midair Photography.

Cameras on the wing are flying through Germany. A projectile to take photographs and claimed to have been successful at heights of half a mile is the idea of Herr. Marie, a German photographer.

A camera having the form of the usual kind of conical shell is thrown into the air by means of a kind of trap. At a predetermined angle, as the camera turns to make its descent and is pointed slightly downward, the shutter is automatically released and a picture is taken of a broad expanse of country. In still air the flight and spot at which the aerial camera will fall can be calculated with much precision.

HEALTH OF WOMEN.

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress, power of woman is strained to the utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicine. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weakness, and disease, and their bodies were roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today. It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

MRS. C. E. FINK.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutical value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics, neither harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others.

When women are troubled with irregularities, Displacements, Obstructions, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WHEN THE EARTH IS FULL.

Professor Yakko Louis Will.
Reached About 1872.

Prof. Ravenstein, of the Royal Geographical society, has estimated that the fertile lands of the globe amount to 29,000,000 square miles; the steppes to 14,000,000, and the deserts to 1,600,000. Fixing 100 persons to the square mile for fertile lands, ten for steppes, and one for deserts as the greatest population that the earth could properly support, the professor arrives at the conclusion that when the number of inhabitants reaches about six thousand millions, the earth will be peopled to its full capacity. At present it contains somewhat more than one-quarter of that number. If the rate of increase shown by the latest census statistics should be uniformly maintained Prof. Ravenstein shows that the globe would be fully peopled about the year 1975. — Sunday Magazine.

Crim Earthquake in Hungary.

What is the most terrible epidemic in nature? One of the grimmest is surely that on a storm which was set up a few years ago in the country of Debrecz in Eastern Hungary. Here died in the Lord Joseph Moritz senior, who died in his old year. He was shot by his son, Frau Joseph Moritz, senior who died in her 6th year. She was shot by her daughter, Elizabeth Moritz, who died by her own hand in her 17th year, after shooting her mother. Joseph Moritz, who died in prison, aged 27. He had shot his father. May eternal mercy have pity on their poor, sinful souls! This memorial was erected by a local literary association to which, it is said, the last of the ill-starred family left a sum of $1,500 for the purpose.

Women of Great Bravery.

Women are not, as a class, either moral or physical cowards. In personal bravery they far excel the majority of men when faced by an emergency. Some of their achievements are worthy of record among the heroic deeds of the race. Lady Fisher, an English woman, was such an absolute stranger to fear that she would walk alone into the tents of the most ruthless slave dealer and calmly lead off his captives from under his very eyes, and Mrs. Margie Mulhan, who risked death a dozen times and triumped over the strongest men in the dark wild country that lies between the Amazon and the Andes, is a woman of such a frail and delicate appearance that she might think a March wind would blow her away.
