Lansing—State bank examiners have made an investigation of the books of the defunct Chelsea Savings bank, to determine whether or not State to make the money be company and other concerns. If it is shown that he did use the money be fonging to the state for his private ventures he will be arrested on the vortures he will be arrested on the ventures failure is due mostly to his visionary schemes for amassing great wealth, the profits of which he estimated on paper while he was placing many real thousands into a home for aged persons, a library for his employes, a fine summer home, an expensive Detroit terrace, a newspaper plant in Ann Arbor and other ventures. In these he expended $35,000, and gave many thousands more for charitable purposes. Then came the face the Convention.

His Story is Unshaken—Pettibone's Attorney, However, Showa Up the Confessor as Guity of All Kinds of Crime.

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 14.—Clarence Darrow, the Chicago attorasey who is conducting the defense of George A. Pettibone, had Harry Orchard, the state's chief witness, on the rack for two hours and a half Friday, endeavoring to discredit his testimony. The cross-examination was rigid and effective in that in it Orchard was pictured as an inhuman monster, a murderer, bigamist, perjurer, gambler, thief and incendiary. Fronting by the failure of Attorney Richardson, in the Haywood trial, to shake the testimony of Orchard, Parrow made little attempt to make the witness contradict himself.

Couldn't Shake His Story.

Twice only during the day did they to contone Orchard in regard to just estimony, and each time he far falled. Reading from the testimony of the Raywood trial, Darrow endeavored to make it appear that the witness had changed his statements but Orchard was a criminal before he became acquainted with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. After his cross-examination on each of Orchard is treated with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. After his cross-examination on each of Orchard is treated with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. Beenlier side of the hav Tron this Lady Chartris, as it has a number of Larg Charters, as it has a number of pretty villas, nestled among olive, almond and orange trees, a good many of them having water frontage and several being possessed of boat landings, as he suggested. But on none of them floats the flag of France, which he had asked Lady Chartris to use as a signal to locate her villa. He is almost putting his glass aside preparatory to a journey on shore to deter "Maud!" cries Edwin, who has been busy in making the vessel shipshape "Is she above the horizon?"

"Very much," laughs Barnes. "No tice that overgrown girl romping with the big Tog and waving the French flag at him. That flag I imagine, was to have been our signal." Then he in-spects the villa carefully and is pleased to see that a good solid brick wall of sufficient height to exclude any bu very energetic intruders surrounds it pretty garden. Only on the water side are its lawns open to view, and this portion of the quiet bay appears at present devoid of boats. A light flight of stone stees that en-

WESTERN CANADA Revised Homestead Regulations

Entry may now be made by proxy (on certain conditions), by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader. Thousands of homesteads of 160 acres each are thus now easily available in these great grain-growing, stock-raising and mixed farming sections. There you will find healthful climate, good neighbors, churches for family worship, schools for your children, good laws, spiendid crops, and rainraids convenient to marker.
