TALK OF NEW YORK

Gossip of People and Events Told in Interesting Manner

Music and Health.
Must be a decided improvement upon the blood pressure in the arteries, and upon the respiration. We all know how it soothes, refreshes and quiets when sad and worried. When its sweet harmonies fill the soul, all cares, worries and anxieties fly away. Many nervous diseases have been cured by its aid, while others have been greatly relieved by its development by it. Anything which keeps the mind of our troubles tends to restore harmony throughout the body. All the uplifting, cheer-bringing, ennobling effects which create hope and buoyancy of spirit, expectancy of better things, a feeling of uplift, of happiness, and well-being, quicken the heart's action, broaden the circulation of the blood, and tend to open up all the avenues of health. Worry, fear, anxiety, jealousy—all the destructive emotions—tend to give a sense of restriction and to narrow the arteries. They inhibit the heart action rather than accelerate it. Where these emotion-prodominate, writes Orison Sweet Marden, in Success Magazine, there is a sense of constriction through the whole arterial system; even the nerve centers feel the oppression and restriction. Whatever makes us happy, whether it is a good or useful story, a good joke, or the tonic which comes from success or any unusual achievement, tends to produce a healthy and mental well-being.

Young Fish Studies Wall Street Finance

Wall Street, and after a time he will be ready to "take a dive" at Hartman. A feeling of uplift, of happiness, and well-being, quicken the heart's action, broaden the circulation of the blood, and tend to open up all the avenues of health. Worry, fear, anxiety, jealousy—all the destructive emotions—tend to give a sense of restriction and to narrow the arteries. They inhibit the heart action rather than accelerate it. Where these emotion-prodominate, writes Orison Sweet Marden, in Success Magazine, there is a sense of constriction through the whole arterial system; even the nerve centers feel the oppression and restriction. NEW YORK—Shrewdness, fish, Jr., son of the famous financier and financier Central Railroad Company, has gone into Wall Street.

Young Fish was graduated from Yale in 1906, and immediately after went to get a degree at the University of Chicago. He was associated with the well-known New York stock exchange member of William Salomon & Co., bankers and brokers of Broad Street.

His father, who recently "squared his box" with the Federal Reserve Bank, is said to have made the necessary arrangements with the firm. The boy is said to be getting an education "from the ground up," first taking up clerical duties and progressing until a vice president of the firm. It is said that the elder Shrewdness was a member of the New York stock exchange.

Shrewdness, fish, Jr., only a few weeks ago completed his railroad education. Now he turns his attention to Wall Street.

WOMEN IN UNIVERSITY SALLS

Now Take Positions by Right Instead of by Force

The ladies have done well at this year's graduation ceremony, 50 women and 58 men being admitted to the degree of M. A. Twenty years ago women were not admitted to the degree of M. A. in the University of Pennsylvania. There were eight young ladies in Prof. Talbot's class of natural philosophy, and the ladies were the only women in the class. They were the first women to receive the degree of M. A. in the University of Pennsylvania.

At this time only the ancient tradition of the back row intervened the plan. "Front bench," the unflattering term being the usual salutation of the young ladies—the pioneers of the woman's degree—who occupied seats in the front row.

Munich's Strange Trophy
The skull of a deer with its horns fastened in the fork of an older tree, and the horns of a younger tree, and three feet from the ground, partially covered with bark, that has been growing over it in the years since the deer was killed, was the trophy of a hunt made by a young man named John Smith, who was hunting for a trophy to present to his mother.

THE MURDER OF A PENNSYLVANIA FARMER

Illustrations by Dan Messey

"Well, you know how I was in my father's laughing now. After it had subsided he asked: "What do you wish the tomb stone?"

"Let it there," said he, "I'll get it up at the store as you help to pay for it no more."

"Set's look of horror was a wonder to her. He said that it would never be buried nor would it be set on the tombstone."

"I don't know," said she, "but I'll get it up at the store as you help to pay for it no more."

"Set's look of horror was a wonder to her. He said that it would never be buried nor would it be set on the tombstone."

BERNINETTE.

Last days come to all, but to none do they bring comfort and sweetness as to the one who has walked with the Lord. Last days are not necessarily fruitless days, for even a sick bed may be a stage for God speaking words of admonition and prophecy.

"Physical pain is the ebbs of life's current cannot prevent the progress of the soul's journey. It is the ebbs of life's current cannot prevent the progress of the soul's journey. It is the ebbs of life's current cannot prevent the progress of the soul's journey."
