Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—From out the historic old belfry of Independence hall, where once the liberty of a newborn nation was proclaimed, there came Sunday the peals of a bell to signal the opening of the most unique and significant civic celebration the country has ever witnessed. Bells and chimes in all of the city churches joined in the bronze-tongued chorns and Philadelphia was aroused at dawn to a realization of the advent of Founders week the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the city by William Penn.

Profound services of praise and thanksgiving held in the churches Sunday will be followed throughout all of the coming week by a succession of pageants which promise to eclipse anything of the kind heretofore attempted.
