The present administration will probably cost $12,000,000. The chances are that the tax budget for 1903 and 1910 will approximate $12,000,000.

Some interesting conclusions may be drawn from the report made by Auditor General Fuller to the legislature as to the estimated receipts and expenses of the state for the next two years. Appropriations will be at least $2,000,000 larger than two years ago. In the glaring item is the deficit that must be made up, which is conservatively estimated at $1,400,000 and is likely to be considerably larger. Following are the auditor general's fig. BILLS UP.
