recommendation we are getting from the people whom we have dealt with.

They have now resorted to one of the last and lowest means of getting orders. KNOCKING. An agent for an out of town firm got an order from a party on the strength of HIS ASSERTION has we PURCHASED OUR WORK FROM HIS FIRM. This is too ridiculous to even need a denial and furthermore the agent knew this was a lie.

We simply state this case, one of the many, to show you how ridiculous the stories are, and we have some curriosity to know what the next one will be.

We have fever had to resort to those methods and neverwill. We have been able in the past to meet all competitors in a fair and honorable way and give our customers value for every dollar they give us.
