fruits. Success in controlling these troubles depends largely on the following factors: Timeliness, i. e. the necessity of applying the sprays at specific times. Thoroughness,—applying them uniformly to cover every desired portion of the plant. Proper materials—the use of the right materials properly combined for the particular purpose.

Plant Lice.

To control plant lice, aphids, etc., on currant, gooseberries, cabbage and fruit trees, spray with a solution of nicotine sulphate compounded as follows: Standard formula—nicotine sulphate (40 per cent.) 1 pint, soap 4 pounds, water 100 gallons. Household formula—nicotine sulphate (40 per cent.) 1 teaspoonful, soap 1 cubic inch, water 3 quarts.

Cabbage and Currant Worms, Etc.

For insects such as above that eat the foliage a poison spray should be used. Gooseberries or crops soon to be eaten can be sprayed with a solution of hellebore. This material deteriorates with age and exposure to the air and loses its poisonous property after exposure for three or four days and therefore may be applied to ripening fruits. Standard formula—1 pound to 25 gallons of water. Household formula—1 ounce to 1 gallon of water. The hellebore can be mixed with three or four times its weight of flour or plaster and then dusted on the plants.

Potato Insects.

Standard formula—Arsenate of lead (powdered) 1½ pounds, or the arsenate of lead paste 3 pounds; water 50 gallons. Household formula—Arsenate of lead (powdered) 3 tablespoonfuls, or arsenate of lead paste 1 tablespoonful; water 1 gallon.

A combination of bordeaux and arsenate of lead will control early and late blight and also the potato beetle. The first application should be made when plants are about eight inches high and every 10 days to two weeks during the growing season. Aim to keep the new foliage covered with the spray.

Grapes.

Grape vines are not often subject to attack by scale insects, so there is seldom need for spraying with strong lime-sulphur before growth starts. Do not use dilute lime-sulphur at any time for spraying grapes. It stunts or checks the growth of the berries. Use bordeaux mixture instead.

Black rot is a serious disease and growers cannot afford to risk the loss it may cause by neglecting to spray.

Downy mildew, commonly called "red grape," is some times a destructive disease. These diseases and others will be prevented very largely by spraying as follows:

When the shoots are about eight to 10 inches long spray with bordeaux mixture for black rot and downy mildew. Just before blooming spray again with bordeaux mixture for black rot and downy mildew and to every 50 gallons of bordeaux add two or three pounds of arsenate of lead paste, or half as much of the powder, or three-quarters of a pound of arsenate of calcium, to poison the grape berry moth and the rose chafer. If this latter is serious use stronger poison, even up to five pounds of arsenate of lead paste, or half as much powder to 50 gallons. A pint of the cheapest molasses added may help.

Just as the blossoms are falling make another spraying like above. About 10 days or two weeks later it may be necessary to make another spraying like the two previous, but this will depend upon the weather conditions and the amount of rot and mildew prevalent. If the later sprayings are thought to be necessary, some material should be used that will not stain the fruit, such as weak copper sulphate solution made by dissolving two pounds of copper sulphate in 50 gallons of water.

There are several grape insects that are found only in occasional vineyards, and then not every year. The grower should keep a sharp watch of his vines for them, and if found take prompt measures to destroy them.

Muskmelon and Cucumbers.

Several insects interfere with the vines. The cucumber beetle feeds on the leaves and the young tunnel as grubs in the roots. Plant more seeds than are needed and then thin out the injured plants and dust with hydrated lime and flour of sulphur, using one part of sulphur to five or six of lime. Dust through coarse cloth. Some prefer arsenate of lead powder mixed with nine parts of hydrated lime. About the base of the vines and on the ground throw some tobacco dust to prevent beetles from laying eggs on the stems. On these tender vines Paris green is not reliable.

The cucumber louse usually starts in a few hills and spreads over the field. Some prefer to bury the first few hills attracted to prevent spreading. A good spray is Persian insect powder, one-half ounce to a gallon of water; also nicotine sulphate, one-half pint to 50 gallons of water, and spraying from beneath. Each louse must be fairly hit to be killed.

The large squash bug or stink bug not only feeds on the vines but he probably also carries wilt. He may be found on cold nights under pieces of board and dropped into can of water having a little kerosene on top.

BUY SAVINGS STAMPS

Make Your Pledges Now—Pay Later
When You Choose—Save Your Country Now.

If some burly, bloody brute stopped in front of your house and threatened to chop your baby's hands off and harness your wife to a plow, what would you do? Hang over the fence and call him names?

If you had any juice in you, at all, you would go after him and beat his brains out with the soft end of a crowbar.

If some ornery, low-lived devil, three thousand miles away, said he was getting ready to come to your country, and ruin it, and he has come as is demonstrated by the submarine attack and sinking of merchant vessels on the Jersey coast, do you think it would make him mad if you swore at him?

If some yellow said, "I'll go and lam the stuffing out of that brute if you will lend me your crowbar," what would you say? Would you tell him that you needed your crowbar to crow up a few rocks out in the chicken yard?

Listen! We simply must have more ships to transport our men, and supply them with food and guns and ammunition, so that they can do what you say ought to be done to the kaiser, the dirty skunk.

Two billions of dollars to be spent on new ships are being raised through the sale of War Savings Stamps.

How many of these stamps have you bought?

Washtenaw county must buy $900,000 worth of them between now and January first, 1919.

An intensive campaign to sell them will be made June 10th to 20th.

This is a few days before the nationwide campaign.

We are doing it early for two reasons: to get it over before hay making occupies so much of our attention, and to put Washtenaw over the top among the first. Sometimes, we have been slow in getting our campaign over. We want this to go the whole way "on high."

Solicitors will call on you with pledge cards.

You will subscribe for as many War Savings Stamps as you think you can possibly handle—between now and the first of January. If each family bought five War Savings Stamps, now worth $4.18 each, we would put it over. Not every family will do that. Some must carry the "extra load. As between letting the other chap tote your gun, and some other fellow, which place would you prefer to be in? We're about got over saying "Let George do it."

We now understand that unless each does his full share, our lives, our property, and our hopes of future peace won't be worth a tinker's booz.

If our army is to match the kaiser's army in fighting, we civilians will have to match the German civilians in sacrificing at home.

You can't win this war just by damning the kaiser and waving a flag. One of the boys wrote home, the other day, "Cut out the conversation and get to work."

WELL TREATED IN FRANCE

French People Do All They Can to Make Life Happy for Our Boys
Now "Over There."

Somewhere in France
May 13, 1918.

Editor Enterprise: Please excuse me for not writing before, but I have been waiting for my mail. I have not had any since I arrived over here, about five weeks ago, but suppose you have been sending the paper just as you did before I left the U. S. I was transferred to another company so that balled the mail all up and I don't know whether I will get it or not.

Tell the people of Manchester I am well and feeling fine; drilling every day. I believe that Uncle Sam wants his boys trained so when they go into action they will know just what to do with no mistake, for mistakes are doubly dangerous here.

We have plenty to eat and a good place to sleep; but believe me there is no place like home, sweet home. The French people are good to us as they can be but I think if we could understand them they would do even more for us. They live in little towns of stone houses and the barns and houses are built together. The farmers have land outside the towns. The land is red colored with a rocky sub-soil. The soil on top is about six inches deep. The roads are very nice here, just like the best road in Manchester. The weather has been nice though it has rained about every day lately. The last few days have been quite warm. Apple trees are in bloom.

Yesterday was mothers' day, so the captain wished us all to write to our dear mothers. They all did so but me. My poor mother died about 17 years ago. I wrote to my only sister.

Well, I will close for this time, and wish good luck to all the people of Manchester.

CAMP ON OLD BATTLEFIELD

Manchester Represented in Heavy
Tank Corps Now Training on Historic Ground.

Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa.
June 7, 1918.

Editor Enterprise: As I have just gotten through reading the dear old Manchester paper and have found out how things are going, I am going to try to tell of my camp life.

To be in this camp brings back history, for here our forefathers also camped; but they fought also, while we are only preparing.

I am free to say it is somewhat warmer than in Manchester. On June 5th it was 72 degrees in the shade and to top it off we were off for a nice long walk with full packs on our back and our rifles, which you know are not light.

The tank corps boys have to learn to be not only tank men but to be able to step into the trenches if our tanks stop on us. In this country we get only field work and go to Oxford, England, for our tank training. We now have all of our overseas outfit and in a very short time will leave this camp for some place we do not know, but are all eager to go.

The company I am in are now all Michigan men with southern officers, and they are all fine fellows. Am once more thanking the Manchester Red Cross for what they sent me, for the articles have all come in very handy. All but the needles, for you know men are not good hands with them—that is my case. Wishing to be remembered to the Manchester people, I remain

FIND WHEAT RUST IN STATE

Is Menace to Grain Crop—Now Is Time to Make Havoc With High Barberrry Bushes.

East Lansing, Mich.—Michigan faces a possible outbreak of black stem rust of wheat this summer such as that which destroyed about $2,000,000 worth of wheat in 1916. Field men of the agricultural college are reporting that rust has been observed within the past few days in localities as widely separated as Bay City, Grand Rapids, Benton Harbor, Montcalm county and Lansing, and as far north as Iron Mountain, where several cases of infection have been found. The rust is making its first appearance upon the leaves of the common tall barberry, and from these shrubs is being scattered to grain fields.

This widespread presence of rust on the common barberry means that our greatly increased acreage may be endangered if the barberry is not removed. "Reports from our scouts," says Dr. G. H. Coons, plant pathologist of the Experiment Station of M. A. C. "show that the rust already is here. If two or three damp days should come, together with hot sultry weather, this rust will spread like wildfire over the grain fields, attacking oats, barley and rye as well as wheat."

The most effective way to check this rust outbreak is to get rid at once of every common tall barberry bush in the state, of both the green leaf and the purple leaf varieties. A state-wide campaign to eradicate these dangerous shrubs has been going on for some time. If in doubt about bushes send leaves to M. A. C. for identification.

Two Detroit congressmen will oppose the classing of automobiles as luxury and placing an extra tax on them.

WAR MEETS WITH APPROVAL

It's People of Germany Who Are Fighting—Kaiser Is Only Their Leader.

Does Germany approve of the kaiser's methods in the conduct of the war, of his treatment of prisoners, of women and children in Belgium and France? They meet the bond issues readily, don't they. Seemingly more willingly than we in the United States. Would they do that if they were not in sympathy with his style of warfare.

War-time Responsibility—
Yours and Ours

National necessity has put a new responsibility on every motorist.

Utmost service is demanded—the highest usefulness of yourself and your car.

Service and economy are your only considerations.

Our responsibility goes hand in hand with yours.

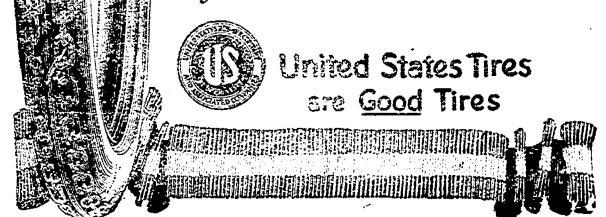

As the largest rubber manufacturer in the world, it is our duty to supply you with tires of unfailing reliability and extreme mileage.

United States Tires are more than making good in this time of stress.

They are setting new mileage records—establishing new standards of continuous service—effecting greater economy by reducing tire cost per mile.

There is a United States Tire for every car—passenger or commercial—and every condition of motoring.

The nearest United States Sales and Service Depot will cheerfully aid you in fitting the right tire to your needs.

The high school ball team went to Grass Lake Tuesday after school and played a game with the team there which resulted in a victory for Manchester, the score being 7 to 1. Our team has won every game this season, proving their superiority over neighboring teams. They have played good ball, too, and the best of feeling has been shown between contestants.

The high school picnic at Wampler lake last Friday was a most delightful one, the day being ideal. The races caused much laughter, especially the novelty race. The various winners each received a stamp folder containing one Thrift Stamp. Long tables were spread and 110 sat down to partake of the dinner. At the second table 30 were seated. The high school very much appreciate the kindness of Rev. Wulfman, C. W. Case, A. J. Waters and W. J. Hofer, who furnished autos.

The rural eighth grade exercises were held in the high school room Wednesday afternoon. Prof. Roberts of the state normal at Ypsilanti gave a fine address and County Commissioner Evan Essery presented diplomas to the following:

GARDEN TRUCK ALL SUMMER

Garden Can Be Made to Produce Variety of Vegetables Until Late in Autumn.

If gardeners will make plantings during June and July it will be possible for them to keep the home tables supplied with vegetables until far into the autumn.

Many gardens which start very favorably with the first early spring crops often become patches of weeds as the season wears on. There are many vegetables, however, that may be planted in late summer especially for fall use. These can be used to replace such early crops as radishes, lettuce, early peas and other crops that have been removed.

Plantings of string beans and Golden Bantam sweet corn may be made as late as July 1; Chinese cabbage July 1 to 15; potatoes late June; beets and rutabagas June 15 to July 1; radishes, turnips, endive, spinach and leaf lettuce July 15 to August 1. Plantings of late celery, cabbages and cauliflower should be set during the first two weeks of July.

Elenor Babcock, plaintiff, vs. William Babcock, defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for Washtenaw County, in Chancery, on the 21st day of May, 1918, at Ann Arbor, in said county.

It satisfactorily appearing to the Court by affidavit on file that a chancery summons has been duly issued out of and under the seal of said court, for the appearance of said defendant therein, and that the same could not be served on said defendant because after diligent search and inquiry it could not be determined in what state or country the said defendant resides, or the whereabouts of said defendant learned, and that said chancery summons has been returned by the deputy sheriff of said county with his certificate thereon endorsed that after diligent search and inquiry he was unable to find said defendant within the State of Michigan, on or before the return day of said summons, on motion of A. J. Waters, attorney for said plaintiff, it is ordered that the said defendant cause his appearance to be entered in this cause within three months after the date of this order, and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof served upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order, and in default thereof by said defendant.

And on motion it is further ordered, that within twenty days after date hereof, the plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Manchester Enterprise, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County of Washtenaw, and that such publication be continued each week for six successive weeks, or that she cause a copy of this order to be personally served upon said defendant at least twenty days before the time prescribed for his appearance.

And on like motion it is further ordered, that the said plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be mailed to said defendant at his last known post office address, by registered mail, and a return receipt demanded, at least thirty days before the date prescribed for his appearance.

NEWBERRY

for
United States Senator

The Man Who Does Things

Truman H. Newberry

Now as never before this country must have in the United States Senate able men, experienced men, men far sighted and unafraid.

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY is such a man. He is always to be depended upon. He is not a dreamer, but a worker, a man who does things. He is a business man of rare judgment. He is unhesitating and well-balanced. His breadth of vision, his ability to handle large affairs, and his sense of justice and fair play splendidly qualify him to serve in the United States Senate and to help solve the big problems arising and to arise out of the war.

Commander Newberry is now serving in the Third Naval District. He is going to continue to stay by his work and to do all he can to help win the war. His friends are actively presenting his qualifications to the people of Michigan as a man who would make a splendid United States Senator. Men of all walks of life are behind the movement because Truman Newberry would be a Senator who would stand squarely for right, for justice and for equality.
