

Jaycees seek MD funds

MD FIGHT - The Pigeon Area Jaycees and Jaycettes are staging a local war to fight Muscular Dystrophy with special fund-raising activities, according to local President Randy Elenbaum.

The Jaycees will conduct a roadblock to collect monies next Friday, July 22 in downtown Pigeon, coinciding with Michigan Jaycee Muscular Dystrophy Week, proclaimed by Gov. James Blanchard from July 18-24.

Above, Jaycee Region 8 Director Doug Buehler sits with the 1983 state MD poster child, Eric Phillips of Rochester. Buehler was recently elected to oversee 19 chapters including over 600 members in Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac and Lapeer Counties.

The Pigeon Area Jaycettes will also work to raise funds by staging a Labor Day MD Dance during the holiday weekend, which will tie in with the MD Telethon headed by National Chairman Jerry Lewis.

Since 1977, Jaycees across America have raised $10 million to help find the cure for the muscle disease. In 1982, the Michigan Jaycees raised over $100,000, the fourth highest amount in the nation.

Governor James J. Blanchard
Hereby issues this Executive Declaration in Observance of

July 18-24, 1983

MICHIGAN JAYCEE MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY WEEK

Muscular Dystrophy is a muscular disease that cripples thousands of Americans. Only through extensive research will we find a cure for this serious disease.

The United States Jaycees, comprising 9,200 local chapters and 320,000 members has pledged its effort to finding a cure. The Michigan Jaycees are conducting fundraising projects in our state to help defeat Muscular Dystrophy. Money that is raised will be directed to the Muscular Dystrophy Association for research efforts and will be used to continue vital activities, free of charge, to those afflicted with the disease.

Therefore, I, James J. Blanchard, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby declare July 18-24, 1983 as Michigan Jaycee Muscular Dystrophy Week in Michigan, and urge all citizens of our state to join with millions of Americans in helping to provide funds to find a cure for Muscular Dystrophy, thereby making reality the Jaycee creed that "service to humanity is the best work of life."

Given under my hand on this fifteenth day of April in the year of Our Lord one-thousand nine-hundred eighty-three and of the Commonwealth one-hundred forty-seventh.

James J. Blanchard
GOVERNOR

Not all tillage tools are created equal. And we're well stocked with sweeps and shovels built with the John Deere difference.

- Tools run level... not too shallow, not too deep. You get good performance with fuel economy.
- Tools stay sharp for good cultivating, weed-killing action. Beveled-bottom edges self-sharpen as the tool works.
- You'll get no looseness, no tool wobble. Precise hole spacing and wraparound design mean tools fit tight to the standards.

These are just a few of the quality features built into John Deere sweeps and shovels.

You'll want to stock up for top performance and money-saving durability.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

The invocation was given by Mildred Dietzel, when 56 Elkton Senior Citizens met for their weekly potluck dinner.

Greetings were extended to Louise Krohn, while George and Alvena Walsh, Ellen Tate and new member Della Trudgeon were welcomed.

The meeting opened with two patriotic solos played by Bea Gregor in honor of Independence Day. Then the Gregors led in group singing. The group sang "Happy Birthday" for the one-day-old granddaughter of Edna Wakefield. The anniversary song was sung for the Dan Dietzels, followed by the Theme Song.

It was reported that Laura Jimpkowski and Dan Dietzel were in Huron Memorial Hospital.

Blood pressures will be taken next week beginning at 11 a.m. Roses and daisies were given away as door prizes.

Edna Wakefield was program chairman and presented Louise Krohn, who gave a short history of the U.S. and the writing of the Declaration of Independence. She also explained the making of the U.S. flag and the many designs used before it was in its present form. Harold Gregor sang "It's a Grand Old Flag" and members waved small flags.

The program concluded with the Pledge to the Flag and the singing of "God Bless America." Next week is an open program.

Today's Health

What is diabetes?

Edited by:
PHIL SEEMANN, RPh
Director of Pharmacy
Scheurer Hospital

The Progress-Advance and Scheurer Hospital begin an occasional new feature called "Today's Health," discussing various health-related topics.

In this first column, Pharmacy Director Phil Seemann talks about diabetes. The first few topics will focus on the pharmacological treatment of disease. "I will attempt to write my column to be informative, without totally confusing the uninformed," Seemann says.

He and other Hospital writers welcome comments, possible topics and questions regarding this column. Please write to: "Today's Health" in care of Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon, MI 48755.

Diabetes is a serious disease that has affected the lives of millions of people. Everyone realizes that we eat food to provide us the energy to do work. Well food can be considered sugar (glucose) and other nutrients, like protein, fats and minerals. After eating, there is a sharp rise in the blood glucose level. In normal people this stimulates the pancreas to release insulin. This insulin is necessary to activate the biological mechanisms necessary for the production of body tissue, glycogen, fat, and muscle tissue. Diabetes can be defined as a derangement in glucose and insulin balance. This relative or absolute deficiency of circulating insulin prevents glucose utilization by both skeletal muscle and lipid tissue.

There are two types of diabetes: juvenile-onset diabetes mellitus and maturity-onset diabetes. The general difference between the two is that in maturity-onset diabetes the relative secretory failure of the pancreas is less severe. Juvenile-onset diabetes always requires insulin treatment to maintain blood glucose control. These babies are usually large a birth, yet despite a very active appetite, they often lose weight. Maturity-onset diabetes is typically an overweight male or female in the late 40's or older. This type of diabetes may be controlled by strict adherence to diet, oral hypoglycemics and/or insulin. Strict adherence to diet is fundamental to the treatment of all diabetes.

One of the most common confusions about oral hypoglycemic medications is that they are not oral insulin. These medications stimulate the pancreas to produce insulin. That is why they rarely are any benefit to the more severe cases of Insulin Dependent Diabetes. Also a common misconception is that when you overeat, you can simply take an extra pill. This is a very dangerous practice and you must remind yourself that dietary control is the fundamental goal your physician is trying to achieve.

The symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, excessive or impulsive hunger, frequent urination and frequent urinary tract infections. Diabetes left untreated or uncontrolled is the leading cause of new cases of blindness. It also causes nerve damage, especially to the feet and lower extremities. This stress to the vasculature often causes ulcerations and calluses that can become infected. These infected extremities, because of poor circulation often become gangrenous and must be amputated. Nerve dysfunction can also be manifested by several gastrointestinal complaints and abnormalities, reflex esophagitis, dysphagia, decreased gastric emptying and nocturnal diarrhea. Diabetes can lead to kidney failure with distinct lesions.

Diabetes is a serious progressive disease. If left untreated or inadequately controlled you are asking for a predictable deterioration of your health. In the next column I will attempt to answer your questions about diabetes. I will continue this editorial with a discussion about the different insulins and aspects of treatment.

Elkton audit shows good fiscal year

The Village of Elkton's financial audit was approved last Tuesday night, showing general fund expenditures of $237,581 against revenues of $250,113 for the 1982-83 fiscal year which ended Feb. 28.

That left a fund balance of $12,532 for the year, according to the audit prepared by Terrence McMullen, P.C., of Bad Axe Mayor Pro-Tem Neilan Hoffman noted that the village again stayed within its budget figures, and spent $60,808 for the Police Department, $46,404 for the DPW and $30,044 for overall village administration.

The ambulance and sewer funds ended the year in the black at $1058 and $26,100 respectively, while the water fund showed a $3414 deficit. Such deficits are not allowed by state law, and McMullen said something should be done to remedy the situation.

Hoffman noted recent water rate increases should remedy the problem this year.

SUMMER SPENDING: Elkton Council tabled a decision on how to spend $5000 in summer recreation monies allocated but not spent this year, since suitable managers were not available. Some members wanted the funds to go to the Ackerman Memorial Park restroom project now under way, coordinated by Council member Fred Santos, Sr.

Other Council members said the village's contribution of water and sewer lines and part of the labor to construct the building was enough of a contribution.

A decision is expected at the Aug. 2 regular meeting.

Elkton winners named!

A committee of individuals representing the service clubs of Elkton recently conducted a raffle which raised over $450 dollars for the North End Restroom Project at Ackerman Memorial Park.

In a drawing at Century Oaks Golf Course on the Fourth of July the lucky winners were selected. Don Bitzer of Unionville won the 13-inch color television and Ed Erdmann of Tuscon, Arizona was announced the winner of the AM-FM radio.

Erdmann was attending a make-up meeting for the Rotary Club in Elkton when he was persuaded to buy winning ticket, says Barb Thompson of Elkton.

Other fund-raising projects will probably be needed in the future before the building project at the recreational park is completed, adds Thompson.

As we see it editorially

Just a short (or long) hour...

Have you ever really considered what just one hour can really mean to you? Those 60 minutes — if properly used — can help you reach a little personal goal, write a short note, take an exercising walk, make a "no special reason" phone call or accomplish some other objective perhaps long overdue.

As we all get older, we find that hours melt away faster and faster. The time slips from our grasp, so that the clock on the wall at work shows 2, 3, 4 and 5 o'clock too rapidly.

But taking one hour to really accomplish something can surprise you! An hour directed and well spent can clear up several of those little kindnesses we all know should be done — but which we're usually "too busy for."

Remembered is one personal visit made while a reporter for The Saginaw News. The writer started his weekend one hour late because he took the time to visit a long-time elderly family friend. The weekend relaxation and merriment was postponed for one hour, but a memorable time was enjoyed by the two people who took the time to visit.

Whether that weekend of "off-time" began at 5 p.m. or 6 p.m. didn't really matter that Friday night. Those non-directed hours are the ones that slip away from us all anyway. But the elderly lady brought out cookies, coffee and even a special wine for her guest! It was memorable for both persons, certainly!

Maybe we've all had such encounters. If we haven't, we should.

It really doesn't take an hour to make an overdue phone call, or to write a short thank-you note. It really doesn't take a full 60 minutes to weed that garden corner, water the plants, get out those imbedded spots from your favorite shirt or slacks — or visit that nice person down the street. These tasks actually require 15 minutes or less. But how often we don't even take that much time!

Instead, too many of us just spend another hour in front of the TV set, absorbing 19 minutes of commercials and too many deaths, dumb jokes or dirty plots. We spend too much time gossiping or being needlessly idle, and end up no better for that time spent.

By GEORGE KEIM

Dear Editor: Years ago when a group of men were working, or when one man was working by himself and wasn't bossing anything done the boss would come around and say, what do you think this is the Fourth of July, why don't you get something done. The Fourth of July used to be and still is important holiday.

Years ago everybody went to Bay Port for the Fourth and they used to have a lot of entertainment, but usually I had to work or there was something else going on and I never got there.

When I was still quite young I was at my Grandma Swartzendruber's place on the Fourth. They were putting up hay and I always liked to watch the hay going up in the mow with the slings. Uncle Dan was mowing the hay away and it was very hot.

There were supposed to be an airplane coming to Bay Port that day. It was the first one to come into this part of the country. My Grandma looked up and saw something that looked like a bird and told old Joe Maust

Sr., who was driving the horses to look up there is the airplane he yelled and everybody came running. Uncle Dan rolled out of the hay mow. We all were thrilled when they done their stunts.

People were sure they would come down and smash up. In the afternoon we went over to Bay Port to see it there were a lot of people around. The plane landed in a field east of Bay Port. Some people went up to it but stayed far enough away.

Everybody had a different story about it. One fellow tried to tell us he was feeding his chickens and they all ran in the coop because they thought it was a big hawk.

Well the world has changed a lot since then and we see airplanes everyday. In Islam 60:8, it reads, who are these that fly as a cloud and as doves to their windows. There are so many planes now that a person often wonders where they are going and what they'll do when they get there.

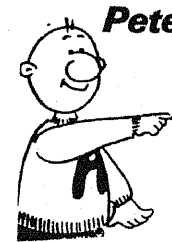

Sincerely yours,
George Keim

We're not saying sleeping isn't a good way to spend a special hour once a day. Sometimes that's a great way to use some special time.

But why not read a story to a child, take a walk, clean out that junk drawer or accomplish something worthwhile?

We are saying our Creator provides 24 hours to each of us every single day of the week. Can any of us look back — just during our last 48 God-given hours, for example — and honestly say we've utilized them as best as possible? We doubt it.

Imagine how good you'll feel tomorrow if you spend one hour today doing something little — but special. You're in control of each of those 24 hours, if you choose to be.

Pete Progress says:

"Nothing cures insomnia like the realization that it's time to get up!"

Letter to the Editor

Beach remembered by associate

Dear Editor:

All of us at the Bridgeport-Spaulling Community Schools were shocked and saddened to hear of the passing of John "Jack" Beach. Mr. Beach was very well thought of, not only by our administrators, but also by all school superintendents in Saginaw County as well as other parts of the state.

I personally knew John, dating back to 1959 when I was a sixth grade teacher and principal of the Pigeon Elementary School. That year I had one of John's children, Becky, in my sixth grade class, and John was not only a concerned and interested parent, but also highly supportive of the school district as a whole. He always worked very hard to help us pass needed millages.

In the past few days, John's name has come up at several meetings of school superintendents, and all those who knew him agree that he was always a gentleman, honest, sincere and anxious to serve all of the school districts in his territory.

John Beach was not only an outstanding salesman, but a very fine Christian who sincerely worked at helping his fellow man. He took a genuine interest in each of his customers, and generally knew wives and children by first name.

We will miss John a great deal, but we are better off having known this very fine Christian man. The town of Pigeon and the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port School District were very fortunate to have had a citizen such as John Beach.

Sincerely,
Jack R. Newton
Superintendent of Schools

It's an opportune time once again for you, the reader. The last time I asked for your input, you didn't even bother to respond, but this time I'm asking for your input in the summertime, a time when all of you have a bit more free time, right?

In February I asked someone out there to send me the lyrics to Frank Sinatra's "New York, New York" song. This time I'm asking for someone to send me the name of his or her favorite TV show. If your favorite TV show is the same as my personal choice, I'll personally tell you where you can see the show's star in living color and out-of-character (to reveal any more would be a give-away!).

Now don't pass up this opportunity. Again I offer to print the winning entrant's name in this column, but only if you so desire. Simply write the show's name on a postcard with your name and address on it and send to: "TV Contest," c/o The Progress-Advance, 7232 E. Michigan Ave., Pigeon, MI 48755, before July 19. Hurry! Here are a few hints. The show is seen each week during the evening hours — that rules out any afternoon soap operas. The series has also been renewed for another season — that means this past season was the show's first try at the Nielsen ratings game.

This time around I decided to use TV as the contest theme since I think most of you watch TV on occasion. Just to entice you further... I'll also give the first winning entrant an issue of "TV Guide," to make sure you don't miss any episodes of "our favorite" TV show. Be sure to have a super week!

Summer thoughts

What's on your mind these days? Seems as if there is a lot to think about.

One thing that has been on my mind a lot during these early summer days is the high grass along the roadsides. It is especially dangerous at rural intersections. The immensity of that danger was brought home to us by the death of a friend, results of a crash at such an intersection in a neighboring county. And it's not just at intersections that there is danger. A deer can be on the edge of the road and be completely hidden in the tall grass. I saw one with just the ears showing above the top of the weeds.

The simple solution, of course, is mow the roadsides. In years past that was done, either by the townships or the county. I haven't heard, but apparently neither has the funds to provide that service this year. Some farm families have taken it upon themselves to see that the job was done. I've seen young men on the way to the hay fields using the mower in transit. Others have used the lawn mowers to keep the roadsides trimmed along their property. It gives me a safer feeling to drive in those areas. Maybe more of us need to do that. And be sure to be extra careful when approaching blind intersections.

A couple months back I wrote a smart-alec remark about a trucker finding a motel that would accept cattle. Well, there really is one. Not only does it accept the critters but it is especially for them.

No reservations are necessary at the Holmes Cattle Motel in Canton, Texas. For 50 cents a night the animals are provided a pen for stretching legs, bathtubs of water to drink and coastal Bermuda hay for a snack. The capacity is 400 animals. The newspaper article didn't mention where the truckers stay while their charges are enjoying the plush accommodations.

I've been amazed at the parade of big machinery on our road. I know that farmers move equipment from one place to another, but it seemed to me an exorbitant amount of traffic has been raising the dust in our territory. When I mentioned it at dinner one evening I was soon enlightened by my perceptive sons. The implements are too wide for the bridges on the other roads. We have a fairly new bridge on our road and it is wide enough to allow the modern equipment to pass without scraping off the paint or bending discs or teeth.

Summer is the time for class reunions. It was a pleasure to attend the one of the class of '73 recently. That group was the graduating class the year I quit teaching. The girls had been in my physical education classes through junior high and high school. Many of them were in the extra-curricular activities including cheerleading, GAA and the athletic teams.

Now they were wives, mothers, nurses, teachers, computer programmers, legal secretaries, bankers but they are still girls. After ten years some of them have changed very little, while others looked like complete strangers to me. Much of the evening was spent asking, "Who's that?" Of course, I had a good excuse for not knowing names of the fellows present — never had any boys in my P.E. classes. From what I hear, those were the good, old days.

The girls could hardly believe that there they were, sitting around talking about the number of kids, childhood experiences, recipes and such. Ten years ago they never would have imagined such a thing possible.

The night was complete when I approached the restroom and one gal open the door ahead of me and called out, "Put out your smokes, here comes Mrs. P.!" Just like old times.

'Rave reviews' for Sturm!

Gary E. Sturm of Port Austin is attracting praise from theatre critics for his work in Summer Stock Professional Theatre. Sturm is appearing at the Thunder Bay Theatre in Alpena in the musical "1776."

Gene Beal of The Alpena News said, "Gary E. Sturm portrays Benjamin Franklin to perfection — out of the history book and to the Thunder Bay Theatre stage."

In a review of the musical by radio station WHSB-FM in Alpena, it was stated, "Gary E. Sturm was Benjamin Franklin. You notice I said "was," not "played." I never met Ben, but I am sure he looked and behaved like Gary Sturm.

In addition to "1776," Sturm will appear in "Applause" on July 13-17 and 20-24. He will also play the part of Teddy Brewster in "Arsenic and Old Lace," which runs from July 27-31 and Aug. 3-7.

Rural Round-up

Dennis A. Stein, a former Pigeon resident, has been appointed the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service Agricultural Agent for Tuscola County, according to Tuscola Extension Director William Bortel. The appointment was effective July 5.

Stein earned his bachelor's degree in ag and natural resources education from MSU in 1978. He was a voc. ed. teacher with the Cassopolis School District from 1978 to 1980, and was in the same position in the Centreville School District when appointed to the Extension post.

He will be responsible for planning, organizing, implementing and evaluating Extension programs in areas of dairy, livestock, related crop production, farm management and marketing. Stein will assist and advise community leaders, ag organizations and associations and will provide appropriate educational programs, Bortel said.

Stein and his wife Brenda will reside in the Caro area. He grew up on the beef-cash crop farm of his parents, Mrs. Lillian Stein and the late Kenneth Stein of S. Caseville Road, Pigeon.

Remember the Dairy Banquet! Huron County Dairy Banquet is coming Saturday, July 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Rapson Sportsman's Club. This 13th annual dinner-dance is presented by the county's dairy industry. Music will be provided by the Polka Sparks. A short program will feature presentation of the Outstanding Dairyman Award, Outstanding Dairy Supporter Award and the Outstanding Dairy Youth Award.

Tickets are available from Huron County Dairy Promotion Committee members or the Huron County Cooperative Extension Service office in Bad Axe at 269-9949, according to Extension Ag Agent Andy Sommers.

Farm prices are down slightly, as the Index of Prices Received by Michigan Farmers for all farm products was 121% of its 1977 base as of June 15, says the Michigan Ag Reporting Service. This was the first decrease since prices started inching upward last November.

The monthly index dropped only slightly from last month, but is 7% lower than last year's figure.

Meanwhile, the national Index of Prices Paid by Farmers for commodities and services, interest, taxes and farm wage rates for June was 160% of its 1977 base, thanks to higher fuel costs, farm machinery and family living. Lower feed and replacement livestock prices helped keep the figure from rising faster, MARS says.

Corn acreage fell 30% to 2.2 million acres in Michigan, according to MARS estimates. The large drop from last year's acreage total is attributed to a heavy sign-up in the Payment in Kind (PIK) program. All spring seeded crops fell in acreage except sugar beets and summer potatoes, MARS says.

Corn acreage for grain fell 34% from last year. Soybeans fell 14% to 900,000 acres. Dry bean production land is off 32% to 380,000 acres, thanks to low prices and an expected large Navy bean carry-over. Sugar beet plantings at 103,000 acres rose 6%.

Winter wheat seedings at 830,000 acres went up 19%, while wheat for harvest at 700,000 acres should be up 17%, MARS says. Oats at 450,000 acres fell slightly, while harvested acreage for oats is expected to drop 33% since a considerable amount was seeded as a cover crop for PIK.

Alfalfa hay acreage should be up 5%, while all other hay is down 6%.

The upcoming breakup of American Telephone and Telegraph could lead to higher phone rates and poorer service for farmers, according to Michigan Farm Bureau Ag Economist Robert Craig. He says monthly phone bills are expected to go up at least $2 as of January - and he predicts farmers will have more difficulty getting phone repairs and private lines from Michigan Bell and other large companies.

"We're concerned because there's not goig to be as many facilities installed to service farmers," Craig says. "They do thousands and thousands of dollars in business over the phone, so this could be a real problem in the future."

Poultry farmers feel betrayed by the PIK program, experts say, because it is artificially keeping corn prices higher than they normally would be. The program is designed to help grain and cotton farmers - but that means higher costs for grain buyers such as poultry farmers.

Corn prices in fall, 1981 were $2.40 per bushel and fell to $2 in September, 1982 - but have inched upward to the $3 range this year, thanks mostly to PIK which started this past January. Poultry people complained in a recent Wall Street Journal article.

Cerone has potential for increasing grain yields and its effect on wheat, oats and barley will be demonstrated on test plots Thursday at the Mid-Michigan Crops and Soils Ag Day near Mt. Pleasant. The grain growth regulator is still in experimental stages.

The ag day starts at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the Floyd Hauk farm on Nottaw Road, four miles north and five west of Mt. Pleasant.

CAPITOL NOTES

By State Representative

Dick Allen

GOOD NEWS FOR FARMERS
The Michigan House has approved legislation allowing farmers to take advantage of lower vehicle registration rates for farm vehicles used exclusively for farming purposes. House Bill 4581, which I sponsored, now goes to the Senate for final approval. Essentially, it replaces the current $15 registration fee for all farm vehicles, with two types of registration options.

Vehicles used only for farming, such as trucks that never leave the farm premises, should in my opinion be viewed differently than other forms of transportation that use public access roads.

A second provision authorizes the Secretary of State to issue a special registration, valid for three or more months, for trucks owned by farmers and used only for farm or personal purposes, and not used for hire by the farm. That registration fee would be one-tenth of the usual fee multiplied by the number of months for which the registration was valid, plus a $2 service charge.

SLASH MEDICAID COSTS?
A plan to harness Michigan's runaway Medicaid hospital costs has been introduced into the state House of Representatives. The bill could save the state $63 million a year, and is similar to a California program which cut that state's Medicaid hospital costs by 14%.

The legislation would require hospitals to bid with the state for Medicaid service contracts. Varying costs of different types of hospital care would be taken into account. Past attempts to cap medical costs through administrative rules haven't worked. Over the last four years, 1978 to 1982, the per diem cost of hospital care to Medicaid programs has increased by 98%.

We need a radically different concept of hospital cost containment. The Medicaid program is bigger than any welfare program we have, and it is growing faster than any other area of the budget. Philosophically, competition is a clearer and fairer way to limit Medicaid costs than any system of administrative controls.

"BANANA FROZEN YOGURT"

Naturally sweet bananas are a fine flavor combination with tangy yogurt. This makes a light dessert for warmer months. For an extra special treat, scoop some into a cone.

1 T. unflavored gelatin 2 c. plain yogurt
1/2 c. water 1/2 c. sugar
2 large, ripe bananas, peeled 1 t. vanilla extract
Pinch of cinnamon

Combine gelatin and water to soften. Heat slowly until gelatin dissolves. Mash bananas. Combine with yogurt, sugar, vanilla and cinnamon in blender. Continuing to whirl, pour in gelatin mixture until well blended. Pour into bowl and freeze one to two hours until partially frozen. Stir once or twice. Beat until smooth. Return to freezer for 30 minutes. For smoother consistency, beat again. Spoon into sherbet dishes or ice cream cones to serve. Makes four to six servings.

Fruit and vegetable shoppers save money, get better quality

Fresh fruit and vegetable shoppers can save money while getting better quality produce. All it takes is knowledge about seasons and selection, says Ada Shinabarger, Extension Food Marketing Agent.

Even though seasons are greatly expanded beyond what they used to be, most fruits and vegetables have peak seasons. The peak season occurs when the bulk of the crop comes to market. Quality is usually tops and prices the lowest during the seasonal peak.

Heavy featuring, often with price concessions, is your best clue that a fresh fruit or vegetable is in peak supply. If it's a locally grown product, another tip-off is advertising in the classified ads by more than one producer.

Plant modernization. A key ingredient of Michigan's revitalization.

For the past 20 years, Detroit Edison has been involved in a massive program of modernization. Replacing old power plants dependent on diminishing gas and oil with new plants fueled by abundant, cost-efficient American-produced coal and uranium.

Today, this program is near completion. And that's good news. Good for businesses contemplating expansion. Good for attracting new businesses. Good for our state economy. Good for you.

Here's why.

- Abundant energy is a prime consideration for businesses interested in expanding or relocating to Southeastern Michigan. That means more jobs. More utilization of an already skilled and proven labor force.
- As more new businesses discover Michigan's plentiful advantages, such as our vast waterways, ideally located industrial parks, state-funded economic incentive programs, and, of course, lots of electricity, they will make our area's economy more vibrant. More stable. Plant modernization has helped to set the stage for economic recovery. And, even now, promising results are beginning to show.

Naturally, the benefits of more new businesses and a strengthened state economy mean you enjoy a better standard of living. Plant modernization also means you enjoy a healthier standard of living through use of advanced technology to protect the environment.

Completion of our 20-year plant modernization program means the beginning of a new era for Southeastern Michigan. An era brimming with promise, opportunity and assurances of ample energy. Energy today, plus energy that will take all of us into the 21st century.

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

"Safety" will be the theme of Preschool Story Hour on Tuesday, July 19 at the library.

"Strangers" and "Matches, Lighters and Firecrackers are Not Toys" will be the featured stories. There will also be a special filmstrip "The Bear's Bicycle" in addition to the stories.

Namoi Jantzi and Starla Albrecht also plan games, fingerplays, songs and exercises for the children attending.

Two sessions of Story Hour are conducted weekly. The first is from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and the second is from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. All area preschoolers are invited to attend the session of their choice.

SATURDAY STORY HOUR

"The Music Box", "County Hospital" and "The Seventh Mandarin" will be the featured films at the library on Saturday, July 16.

"The Music Box" features Laurel and Hardy and tells the story of how Stan pays a visit to Ollie who is in the hospital and the visit proves to be more adverse to Ollie than the accident that put him there in the first place.

"The Seventh Mandarin" tells the story of a king ruling a kingdom he's never seen.

This film festival is about one hour in length and begins at 1 p.m. All early elementary age children are invited to attend.

CIRCULATION REPORT

June was another busy month at the library as $5,245 items were circulated including 2,046 adults materials, 681 children's, 1,828 children's, 54 items of audio visual equipment, 156 toys and 480 tapes. This shows an increase of 861 compared with the same period last year.

Thirty new registrations were recorded with 11 from Winsor, one from McKinley, one from Chandler, nine from Caseville, two from Fairhaven, three from Oliver, one from Sebawaing and two from Lake Township.

Overdue book fines totaled $142.30 and $138.05 was taken in from the copier.

Eight sessions of Preschool Story Hour were held with 206 children attending during the month.

Four sessions of Saturday Story Hour were conducted and 34 children participated.

DISPLAY CASE

The large showcase at the library is now filled with a horse collection owned by Susan Kohr of Pigeon.

Susan started her collection when she was six years old and has a total collection of about 30 horses altogether.

In the showcase there are three families of horses and nine horses standing alone. The next time you visit the library be sure to look at this interesting collection.

QUILT DISPLAY

Registration for the ninth annual Quilt Display began on Monday, July 11, and will continue until Tuesday, July 26 during regular library hours.

There is no limit being placed on the number or size of quilts one can display, but quilts should not have been displayed in previous shows except in the "For Sale" section of the library.

Mrs. Ewald Beyer, Mrs. Wilbert Strauch, Mrs. Walter Frank and Mrs. Ray

Heckroth will be assisting Librarian Roberta Richmond along with the library staff.

Quilts may be sold during the three days of exhibit or put on display, but will not be removed until Saturday, July 30 at 4 p.m. following completion of the show.

VACATION LOANS

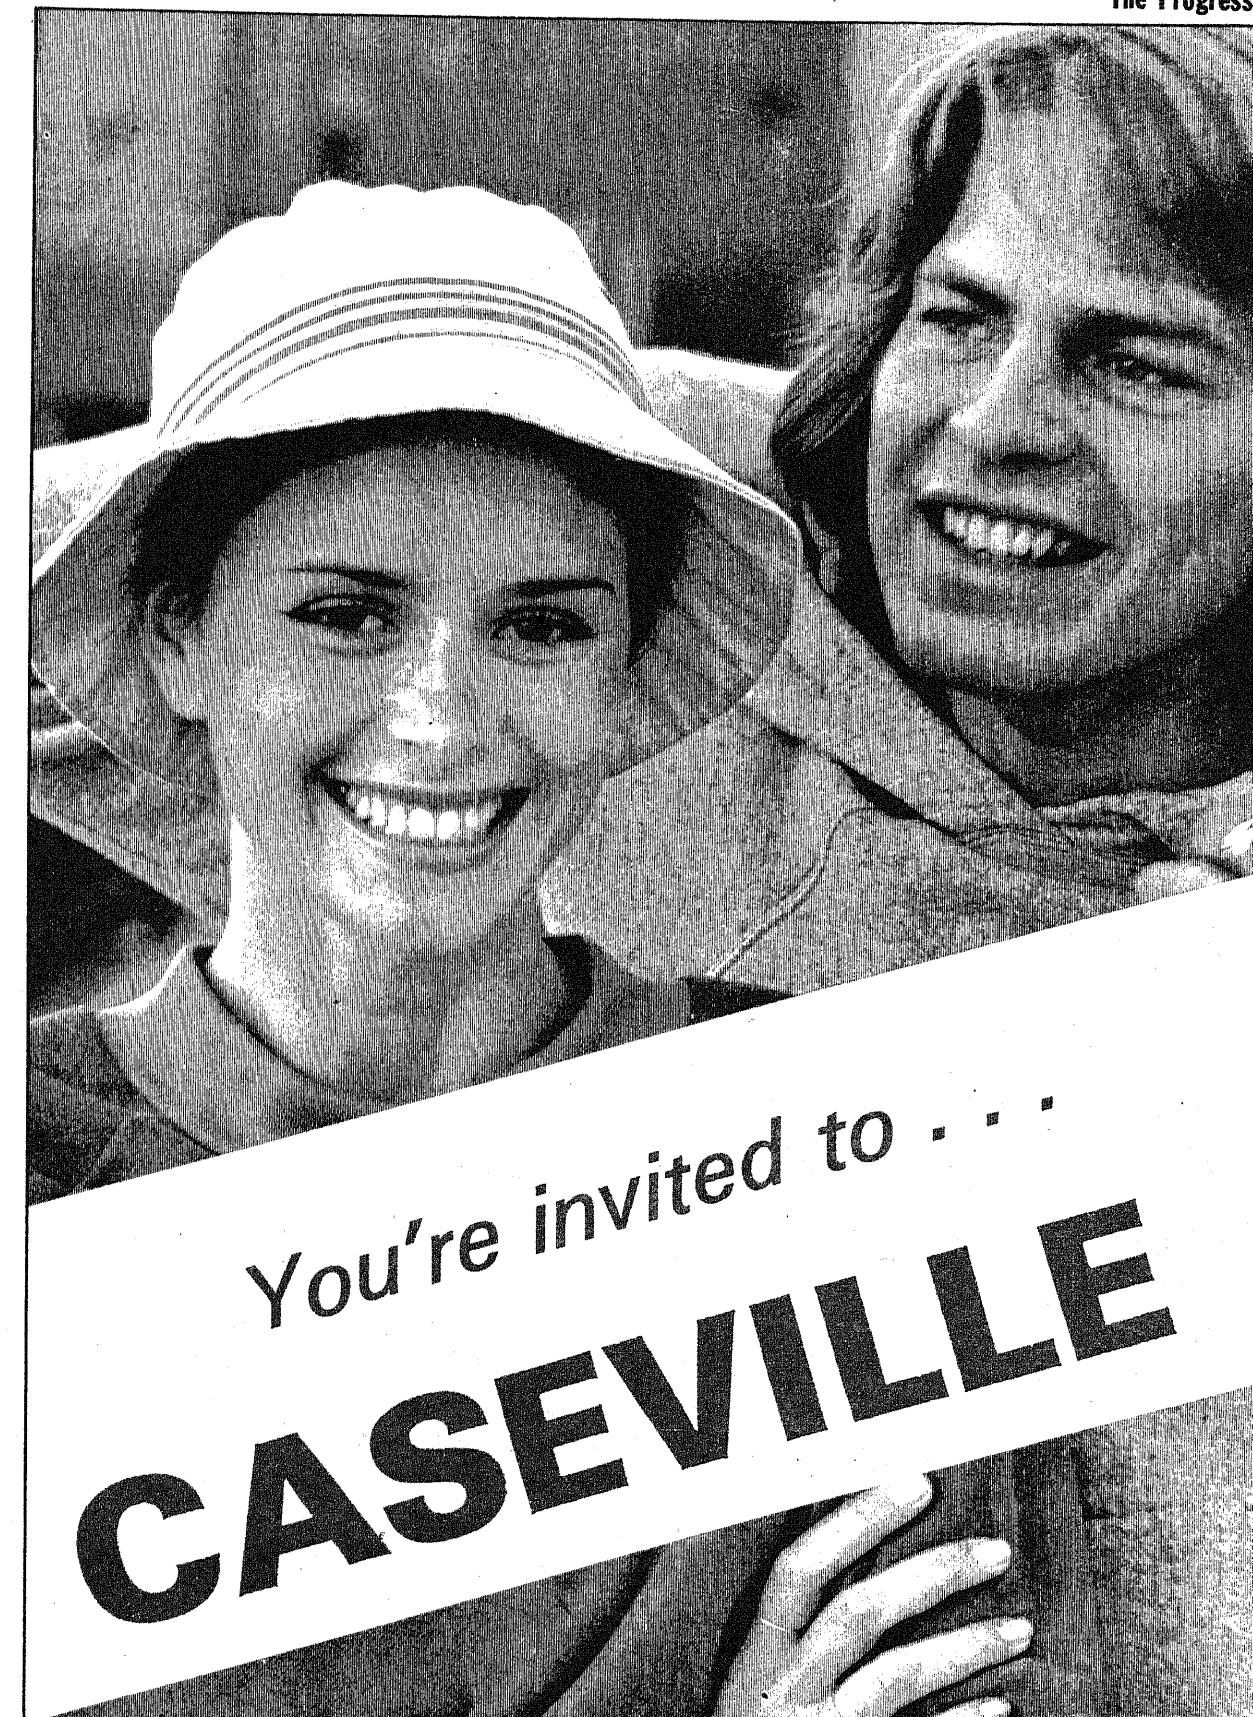

If you're tired of spending a small fortune buying paperbacks to take on summer vacation, we have just the service for you. The library offers vacation loans for any 28 day book that is not on reserve.

How does it work? Just tell the person at the circulation desk that you are going on vacation and the date you will be back and we'll take care of the rest. We will usually extend the due date to a couple of days after you return from vacation so you'll have plenty of time to return the books. So don't use your vacation money buying books or paying overdue fines of 10¢ per day - per book. Get a vacation loan!

EYE OPENERS

By Dr. Douglas A. Buehler, Optometrist THE AGING DRIVER

Q. Some senior citizens report having difficulty seeing while driving at night. Does this mean it's time to stop driving?

A. As we enter the retirement years, it becomes more difficult to shift from seeing in light to seeing in darkness. The pupils of the eyes become smaller, requiring more light to see clearly. The lenses inside the eye also become less clear. It becomes more difficult to shift from near-seeing to distance-seeing tasks. Side vision may diminish, or color may appear dimmer.

Many conditions can be corrected so that you can see more clearly. You may require a stronger prescription for night driving than the one you used during the day. In the meantime, keep your glasses absolutely clean, and avoid frames with wide temples (side pieces) that block side vision.

Choose a car with a clear (untinted) windshield. It is preferable to use sunglasses for daytime driving when necessary and get as much light as you can when you drive at night.

Have your eyes examined more frequently so changes in your visual acuity can be uncovered and corrected. You may be able to drive a lot longer than you think.

CASEVILLE Sun and

Sun & Fun 'boss'

Lori Steinman took on quite a task when she dreamed up the idea of a summer festival for Caseville, and this weekend kicks off the first with community-wide activities.

"We've never done anything like this and I thought our town needed a special boost in summer months when so many people are here," she said.

So, she and some of her co-workers at Caseville IGA and other boosters formed the C.A.S.E. group - Caseville Area Summer Events volunteers and groups.

Already, nearly 20 organizations and businesses have joined - and Sun & Fun Daze are the result.

"Everything seems to be going well. I think we're ready to try this," Miss Steinman says. She's donated her time and talents to improve Caseville, and she says her group of volunteers has been "wonderful to work with. People are really getting excited."

GOD'S WONDERS MAY BE SEEN CLOSE TO YOUR HOME

The mountain and the deep and gloomy wood...were to me...a love That had no need of a remoter charm.

—William Wordsworth

"They go up by the mountains; down by the valleys...which thou hast founded for them."

—Psalms 104:8

Vacation time this year may not be quite the same for those of us who normally take an extended auto trip but do not have unlimited funds for it. The cost of driving a car may continue to soar for some time to come, and in any case, it has become both prudent and patriotic to conserve all forms of energy for more serious purposes. Therefore, this might be a good time to explore those places closer to home that you usually bypass in your quest for the far horizons. Most of us live somewhere near a forest, beach, mountain range or some wilderness area suitable for a camping trip, with both beauty and recreational possibilities. You have learned in your House of Worship that God's wonders are everywhere on earth, and so this may be a good year in which to prove it.

Duet team to visit Pigeon River

Bob and Becky Brunton, a husband and wife vocal duet team from Eaton Rapids, will present a concert of sacred music this Sunday, July 17 at 7 p.m. at the Pigeon River Mennonite Church, located two miles south of Ogeon on Geiger Road.

The concert will include songs written by several contemporary composers, as well as some of their own compositions for all ages and musical tastes. Bob and Becky Brunton were married in 1963 and prior to their present singing ministry, were employed as director of payroll for Michigan State University and as a music teacher for the Michigan School for the Blind, respectively. They resigned their positions in 1979 to devote full-time to singing. They have conducted many adult and teen choirs throughout the mid-Michigan area and they travel extensively throughout the United States performing. The couple has released five record albums on the Pinebrook label, with their latest entitled, "Take Ten With Bob and Becky."

The concert is open to the public, and a free-will offering will be taken to support their ministry.

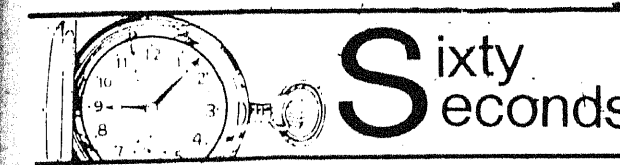

Traxler aide to visit
A staff aide to U.S. Rep. Bob Traxler (D-Bay City) will hold office hours July 21 in Harbor Beach from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at City Hall and in Sebewaing from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Village Hall.

TTLM Singpiration set for Sunday

The eyes of all

Read Romans 5:1-11
The eyes of all look to Thee, and Thou givest them their food in due season. Psalm 145:15.

Suppose every morning when we awake from sleep we would find a hundred-dollar bill pinned to our pillow, would we take it for granted and say, "Oh, that just happened; nobody put it there"? We have better sense than that. Our primary concern would be to find out who put it there, and we would not be satisfied until we knew who the generous and gracious giver was. Listen again to the words of the psalmist: "The eyes of all look to Thee, and Thou givest them their food in due season." St. James in his epistle tells us that "every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of Lights." (1:17 KJV).

Really, now, should we not be concerned to know the Giver of all our temporal gifts? The water we drink, the food we eat, and the clothes we wear do not come by chance; they are the gifts of our heavenly Father.

Through the Bible we come to know the Giver of these gifts as the God of love, who not only provides us with what we need for this life, but who has also given His Son to be our Savior. "God shows His love for us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

Father, make us willing to love and serve You. Help us to use all our temporal and spiritual gifts to Your glory and the welfare of people. Amen.

Do you like to sing? Top-of-the-Thumb Leisure Ministries invites you to join in a Singpiration, the Sunday Vesper service on July 17 a Bay Port RLDS Church. The leader for the 44 p.m. songfest will be Dale Wertz with accompaniment by his wife, Floris. The couple and their three sons live on a farm in the Pigeon area and are members of the Salem United Methodist Church. The jovial Mr. Wertz is also an auctioneer. While he isn't known as the "Singing Auctioneer," he does enjoy using his talent in praise of God. The family will provide special music during the program.

On Wednesday, July 20, Rev. Charles Randy Vinson will speak at St. Roch Church in Caseville for the 8 p.m. Vesper service. Rev. Vinson is currently the pastor of Yale and Greenwood United Methodist Churches. He has a BS degree from Eastern Michigan University and a Master of Divinity degree from Asbury in Kentucky. He has served as a missionary in Zaire, Kenya and Korea. Rev. Vinson was seminarian for TTLM summer staff in 1978. Another

Nursing care facility ok'd for Bad Axe

A new health care facility named the Four Seasons Health Care Center in Bad Axe was recently given approval by the Michigan Department of Public Health. The planned 120-bed long-term nursing care project is projected to be completed in August, 1984 at a cost of approximately $2.6 million.

The health department attached the condition that the applicant request a license for operating only 112 beds to be consistent with the need in the service area. A subsequent Certificate of Need can be requested at a later date if the area's bed needs increase.

Frances Richmond of Pigeon spent the Fourth of July weekend with her son and family. Randy, Sue, Angela and Karl Richmond of Mt. Pleasant. Joining them on the fifth annual "Chip-Trip" at Mt. Pleasant was Jacquelyn, Steve, Todd and Adam McIlhargie of Flint and Debbie and Mike Dorenkamp of Howell. The Richmond group joined 118 people on an innertube trip on the Mt. Pleasant River on a hot Sunday afternoon. A potluck picnic ended the day.

Thumb area OUTDOORS

By DUANE GUENTHER
Strong winds during the early part of the week has slowed the offshore fishing for trout and salmon. Conditions improved during the weekend, and catches began to pick up. Port Sanilac had a nice run of kinds that developed around Thursday and lasted into Sunday. Fort Austin and Grindstone were somewhat slower, but persistent skippers were filling their coolers.

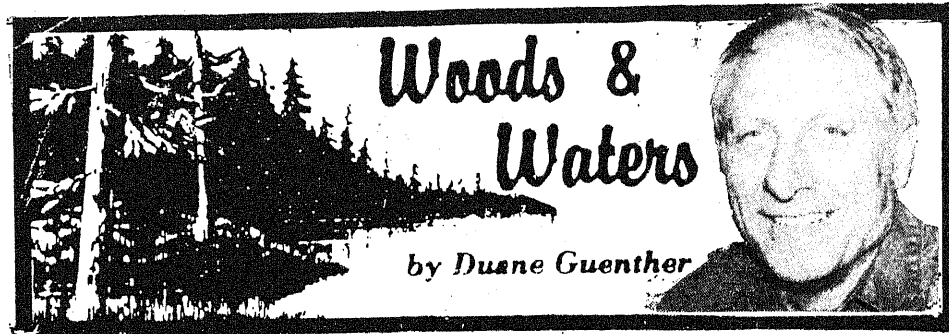

Walleyes continue to be hot in the Oak Beach and McGraw Park area. If you haven't fished them much, stay away from the clear, sunny days, and look for cloudy conditions and rough water. Don't forget, you are working them in shallow water, and they are a very light-sensitive fish.

Some walleyes success has been reported off North Island, and between North and Heisterman Islands.
Perch has slowed down, but boaters in the Sebawaing area were getting into some big ones over the weekend. As the water warms, the fish are moving out, so be prepared to head into the open water to fill your stringer.

Bass fishing was good over the weekend. Most of the old standby spots were producing. Maisou Island gets the nod as the best bet, with Eagle Bay a close second.

The mayfly hatch is in its waning stage on the northern trout streams. Although many other hatches will continue throughout the summer, this giant hatch will signal the end of the trout fishing season for many of its devotees.

Hunters will be looking at their calendars this week. Friday starts legal field training for hunting dogs. The grouse opener is only 60 days away, and your favorite hunting companion needs to get in shape. Be careful on these hot days, and don't overwork them. Make sure they have plenty of water and check their paws frequently.

Watching wildlife

One aspect of the outdoors that I never tire of is observing birds, animals, and fish in their natural habitats. Although most of my observations come as added attractions to my hunting and fishing ventures, there are many people who observe wildlife as a full-time hobby. Armed with field guides, binoculars and camera, these addicts stalk the woods in search of rare species, or unfamiliar behavior exhibited by the thousands of different forms of life that live there. Although having been trained professionally in biology and having spent a good deal of time in the outdoors, I am no expert when it comes to wildlife. Just when I feel smug about some sort of knowledge that I have acquired, something comes along and wipes the smile right off my face. A couple of examples bears this out.

A few weeks ago while spending sometime at a friend's cottage in the Grayling area, we piled into the car at dusk to see if we could find some deer. A recent law has made it illegal to shine deer, but we planned to only observe those that would appear in the normal lighted area provided by our car's headlights. Taking a back road that follows the Manistee River from its crossing point on M-72 toward the small town of Sharon, we drove slowly, hoping to be rewarded with the sight of some recently dropped fawns. The miles slipped away, and although we spotted loads of bushes that were festooned with blossoms and green berries, indicating a bumper crop of both blueberries and huckleberries, we did not spot one set of flashing eye reflections that would give away the quarry that we sought.

After checking out a beautiful campground that was a product of the productive C.C.C. days, we swung away from the river and took a sand road that would bring us back to M-72. We had managed to spot a couple of waddling porcupines, who flared their backsides in case we ventured too close, but still no deer.

Then it happened. Off the right edge of the road came the flash that could only indicate the presence of a deer.

"There's one," I announced proudly, and at the same time my host's wife was making the same proclamation.
"Where? Where?" everybody seemed to question at once.

"Right there," I answered, pointing to the base of a small tree that was just off the edge of the road. The eye flashed again, and everybody acknowledged the spot where the deer was.

Just then, as though we were experiencing something straight from the "Twilight Zone," the deer began to fly upward in a very erratic manner.

"It's flying!" I remember myself saying aloud. But as we drew nearer, our flying deer turned out to be a bird. It hopped to a convenient tree branch nearby, and as we stopped the car, it continued to perch close enough for us to see.

"I wonder what kind of bird it is?" I questioned from the back seat. As if hearing my question, and not wanting to embarrass me any longer, it began to sing its telltale notes.

"Whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will." The strains, which are so familiar to anyone who visits a woodlot, poured out from the nearby bird.

"It's a Whippoorwill," our host proclaimed from the front seat. "We should have known that."

I felt that everyone was staring at Mr. Woods and Waters and wondering why he didn't know the difference between a deer and a Whippoorwill.

"First time that I have ever seen one at night," I mumbled. "Didn't know that their eyes shined like that."

"I didn't know that either," someone else said, and I immediately felt better.

Upon returning home, I grabbed my Peterson's Field Guide, and found out that the Whippoorwill is one of the many nocturnal birds and animals that have light-reflecting eyes. The book explained that any form of life that hunts at night has eyes that gather faint bits of light, and reflects it across the pupils to increase the imagery that is present. In doing this, part of the light escapes and is reflected back at the source, and the eyes appear to be flashing. A new lesson learned. Whippoorwills have eyes that reflect light, and deer don't fly ...

The next day, my pride had yet another set-back. Even though my eyes are beginning to fail, and I am forced to wear bifocals, I still have the ability to spot wildlife more readily than others around me. Or so I thought.

The two couples who were with us that weekend had planned a canoe trip on the Manistee River, and on a beautiful Friday morning, we embarked on a canoe livery on M-72 for a relaxing 12 mile trip downstream. Traffic was very light, and from the start, it was evident that we would be able to spot lots of birds and animals along the banks.

At one particular point, Betty and I were in the lead, and as we rounded the bend, we became aware of the strong smell of black pepper. I stopped the canoe and waited for the others to catch up. I surveyed the bank intently, looking for the weeds or flowers that might be responsible for this definite odor. Nothing escaped my eyes, but try as I may, I could not pinpoint the smell to any one plant.

"Smells like black pepper right here," I yelled to the first canoe that caught up to us. They waved an acknowledgement, and we continued on our way.

Later, when we stopped for lunch, the other two couples were excitedly discussing the tiny, spotted fawn that they had witnessed near the edge of the stream.

"Whereabouts did you see it?" I questioned.

"Right where you kept yelling about that smell of black pepper," they answered. "Don't know how you missed it. It was right in front of you." I apparently had been so busy trying to figure out what smelled like black pepper that I didn't see the fawn. In following its mother's instructions, it had remained so motionless that it escaped detections.

Another lesson learned. Sometimes you can't see the fawn for the black pepper ...

SOUND-OFF!

Call 453-2323 anytime day or night to record your SOUND-OFF message. Selected statements will appear weekly in The Progress-Advance...so watch for yours!

The gold of northwest area of Pigeon challenges all you other areas to top our float entry!

We think the entire community of Caseville, the Village of Caseville and Caseville Township owe Barb and Wally Johnson a very hearty "thank you" for staging the firework display here over the Fourth of July. Without them, this wouldn't have been possible. Thank you!

The Christmas Bazaar at Lakes High School will be held on Saturday, Dec. 3 this year. It is sponsored by the United Methodist Women of First United Methodist Church of Pigeon. The deadline for sign-up for tables is July 15. You may call 453-2670 after 5 p.m. to make reservations, and the Bazaar is open to non-profit organizations only.

Yes, I'd like to help answer the question from last week's SOUND-OFF about Huron County needing another airport. Yes, I do. I don't think we need another hitching post for horses. Some people actually travel by air. The latest gas tax increase for roads and bridges was also put on aviation fuels. Thank you.

We played the Elkton Dodgers the other night and their pitcher J.D. is one of the fastest pitchers in the league. He should be complimented on his skills.

It's about time somebody gave Owendale a good word. It's a nice town to live in and to be from, like I am. Too many people put it down too much.

I think those brats who said they didn't love their grandmother anymore should be ashamed of themselves. I love and respect my grandparents and would never do anything to hurt them. I think those children could learn a lesson from other people. Their grandmother has my sympathy for having such brats as grandchildren.

Congratulations, No. 41, Keith M., winner of the Silver Cup Race at Owendale Speedway. You did a super job.

To the person who wants to know where to drop off newspapers. Call me, Frank, at 656-9975 and I will come and pick them up. I'm saving them. Thank you.

I'd like to wish my aunt Kay a happy 40th birthday on July 15.

I agree with the person who called in about the new rule in the Interfaith Softball League. Why even call it a church league, if there is no church involved? I also think that some of the players should watch their language. This bad language isn't leaving a very good witness for others.

Congratulations to the Elkton Angels on a great T-Ball season. You have all done a fine job and have showed us having fun is what T-Ball should be all about.

Also many thanks to the Village of Elkton and their DPW workers. The Angels want to thank you especially for the terrific new T-Ball diamond! We can tell you take pride in your work. No one can compare to our ball park area. We appreciate your fine efforts and know they will continue, just because you care.
(P.S. Please HURRY with your new bathrooms!!)

When are the potholes on Caseville Road between Pigeon and Owendale going to be fixed? My car is constantly jarred when I cross them, even though I slow down to 15 miles per hour. That's not always safe, either. Can't something be done about these, and on Canboro and some other roads too?

There are lots of good people that give their time to a friend in the hospital with a prayer, a card and a visit. These make the time go by faster and the pain a little easier. To the doctors, the nurses and staff at Scheurer Hospital, I want to say "Thank You" for the good care I received.
