'Wow! The eggs are really BIG here in the Thumb!'

Michigan Governor James Blanchard exaggerates his expression of surprise, as he is presented with some extra-large, double-yolk eggs during his whirlwind tour of Huron County Thursday and Friday.

Active Feed Company's Joe Maust, Jr., on left, presents the big eggs to the governor, as Active's Pat Patterson looks on, at right, as Gov. Blanchard visited the complex southeast of Pigeon.

Gov. Blanchard was joined by U.S. Congressman Bob Traxler, State Agriculture Department Director Paul Kindinger, State Senator James Barcia and others as they toured the Pigeon area Friday. Stops included the Co-operative Elevator Company, Active Feed, Pigs-R-Us farrowing operation and others before the party flew via helicopter back to Lansing.

You're invited to Scheurer Benefit!

Tickets are still available for the third annual Scheurer Hospital Spring Benefit Dinner, planned next Thursday, May 17 at Laker High School.

Punch will be served during the social time beginning at 6:30 p.m., according to Meg Nicholl, Tamera Dell and Sally Rummel of the Hospital's Community Relations Committee, which is coordinating the fund-raiser.

Dinner service begins at 7 p.m., featuring a buffet style salad bar and sit-down meal including Cornish hen, stuffing, wild rice, fancy vegetables, milk, coffee, tea and ice cream. Tony Loewe of the Lamplighter Restaurant, Pigeon, is catering the Spring Benefit Dinner.

Finishing the evening will be entertainment, provided by the men's barbershop quartet of "Smokey and the Bandits."

A limited number of tickets are still available, by calling Meg Nicholl at 453-3223 or Tamie Dell at 453-2331.

Purchases of medical equipment and surgical instruments at Scheurer Hospital from July 1, 1983 to the present have totaled more than $64,846. Included are the new $38,475 Ultrasound machine, plus a $12,000 laboratory coulter counter.

Other medical equipment includes a surgical stapler and supplies, electric-raise beds and others. New surgical instruments include tonsil knife, Metzenbaum scissors, Babcock tissue forcep and others.

The Hospital's "Need List" today totals more than $71,360. Needed are seven more intravenous pumps, totaling more than $10,045, a new delivery table and fetal monitor (more than $17,000) a respirometer at $500 and oxygen blender at $600.

"You're invited to share an enjoyable evening with us on May 17, with all proceeds to go toward needed projects and equipment at Scheurer Hospital," the planners say. "This is an excellent opportunity to support our primary local health care facility."

The visitors wore special suits over their regular clothes, as they toured the pig operation.

Sweetest girl sought!

This year's contest to find the "Sweetest Girl in the World" to reign as Michigan Sugar Queen during festivities at the 20th annual Sebewaing Sugar Festival on June 22 to 24 has opened officially, according to Pamela K. Winter, Queen's committee chairperson.

A $500 U.S. Savings Bond will be awarded to the new queen and the four finalists will receive $100 bonds. The remaining contestants will each receive $50 bonds.

Applicants for the Queens contest may enter from any of the sugar beet growing areas in Michigan, which produce beets for factories at Alma, Caro, Carrolton, Crosswell and Sebewaing. Those wishing to participate in the contest are urged to submit entry blanks as soon as possible, as only the first 20 replies with the earliest postmark will be accepted.

Complete rules for entering the 1984 Michigan Sugar Queen Contest, according to Mrs. Winter, are —

1. Contestants shall not be less than 18 and not older than 22 years by June 1, 1984, never married and remain single for the entire reign.
2. Contestants must be residents of an agricultural community in Michigan where sugar beets are grown.
3. Additional applications are available from Mrs. Terry Winter, 10936 Canboro Road, Sebewaing, 48759, and must be returned to her no later than May 25, 1984.
4. Contest will be limited to the first 20 applications received with the earliest postmark.
5. Candidates will be judged on Saturday, June 9, at a luncheon at Annabelle's, Sebewaing. Judges will be announced at a later date.
6. Judging will be based on the following points: interview, personality, poise and attractive appearance.
7. All applicants will appear in formal attire for coronation ceremonies on Friday, June 22, at which time the court of four finalists will be named and the Michigan Sugar Queen will be crowned.
8. The Queen and her court will participate in the Sugar Festival Parade on Saturday, June 23.
9. The 1984 Michigan Sugar Queen is expected during her reign to attend several parades and make television and radio appearances prior to next year's festival, as designated by the Queen's committee.

Airport proposals up in air

The fate of three more recall proposals is in question, against Caseville Township officials who back the proposed Caseville Township Airport. The proposals were received last week, as the Huron Board of County Election Commissioners turned down the first such proposal against Supervisor James Reeves, saying it did not meet clarity requirements.

Dolores Bieri, who presented the proposed petition against Reeves because he backs the airport plan "against the wishes of Caseville Township residents," indicated she is considering revised wording for a new petition to connect the supervisor more closely with the airport issue.

Meanwhile, three Caseville residents filed recall wording against three of the four other township officials with Huron County Clerk Helen Lemanski. The clerk decides the clarity question with Probate Judge Neil MacCallum and Treasurer Roberta Moetteli.

Proposed petitions were aimed at: Trustee Wayne Anderson, filed by Dorothy Bennetts of 7168 Michael Drive, Caseville; and Trustee Michael Power, filed by Katherine Farkas, 4752 Lori Lu Drive, Caseville, and Township Clerk Wallace Hart, by Betty Shorkey, 4721 Patrick, Caseville.

Only Township Treasurer Elaine Cleaver has not been the target of proposed recall petitions.

The wording submitted by airport opponents states that they, as electors of Caseville Township, "express their opposition to the establishment of an airport in Caseville Township and seek the recall" of the three officials.

Similar wording filed by Bieri against Sup. Reeves last month was turned down as being too vague when the Election Commissioners last met.

The Election Commissioners will meet May 16 to decide the fate of the remaining proposed petitions against Anderson, Power and Hart.

Reibling seeks new Board term

Calvin Reibling

Huron County Commissioner Calvin Reibling of Elkton has announced he will seek re-election on the Republican ticket in the Aug. 7 primary.

Reibling resides in District 2, which consists of Chandler, Oliver, Winsor, Grant and Sheridan Townships, and the villages of Elkton and Pigeon.

As a commissioner, he serves as chairman of Personnel Policies and Salaries, Resolutions and Legislation, and is vice chairman of Finances, Ways, Means and Appropriations, Federal and State Grants, Building, Grounds and County Property, Agriculture, Roads and Grants, Recreation, Parks, Tourism, Historical and Airports.

He is presenting serving as chairman of the 14-county Region VII Area Agency on Aging and chairman of the four-county Thumb Area Employment and Training Consortium Board. He is a member of the Huron County Mental Health Board and is active in local and church affairs.

Cal and his wife Lela reside on a farm in Chandler Township.

CLEARING THE DESK — A friend called the office Monday morning, saying she spotted former area resident Lyle Faust as a contestant on the TV game show "The Price is Right." He's been a barber 30 or more years, folks say. Did you see him??

Former Huron County Treasurer Arnold Schwitzer got a nice letter from The White House this week. It said in part, "Congratulations on your retirement. Yours has been a career marked by dedication and achievement... Nancy joins me in wishing you continued happiness and enjoyment in the years ahead." And it was signed by Ronald Reagan.

We got a nice letter from one of our favorite "older" readers, Francis Crawford — whose father and grandfather founded Caseville — sent us a nice note from his new home at 3661 Cayman Lane, Lexington, KY., 40509. Francis writes: "Enclosed is my check for another year's news from the Thumb." (On April 24th he turned 92 years young!) "I have a few aches and pains, the worst being from my inner ear. It's easy to stand up and fall, but so far I have been lucky. No broken bones, but some sore spots.

Quite a few years ago, you visited Charity Island and had a good article in The Progress. Then some self-appointed historian came forth with the surprising news that Charley McDonald, the lighthouse boss, took young pigs over to the Island to kill the rattle snakes.

"Yes, he had the Island as a feeding ground for snakes and it was amazing the speed that those clumsy pigs could speed after the snakes in the lake water!"

"Cap McDonald had a son, Earl, who was my age and a pal, so I got to go over to the Island nearly every year. Then the pigs would switch to eating acorns in the fall, and Cap could leave them there as long as possible.

"I want to tell you that you never ate good pork chops until these hogs were taken to market!"

"Keep well and give us the same good news," Francis writes. And we say "Thanks SO MUCH for taking the time to stay in touch!"

And if you like history — drop Francis a note. He LOVES hearing from his friends!

Boaters stranded on the Great Lakes this summer won't have to pay for Coast Guard assistance — but the CG will refer calls for towing or starting engines to commercial salvage operators whenever possible. Charging boaters for towing has been debated between the CG and boating groups for several years.

Your trailered craft can get a voluntary safety inspection from Coast Guard officials Saturday, May 26 along Michigan highway rest stops, checking things such as vests, horns, lights, flares and so on.

Michigan tourism is the topic next Monday and Tuesday, at the first annual Governor's Conference on Tourism at the Flint Hyatt Regency Hotel. For details, call Hal Dittenber at the Michigan Travel Bureau, 373-0670. The conference is sponsored in part by the East Michigan Tourist Association.

Sign of the times? Michigan National Bank-West has announced it will close three of its Kalamazoo area branches — in favor of lower-cost automatic teller machines at the locations.

We've had to turn down several recent pictures submitted, which have shown families with three and four generations. Many families have such noteworthy accomplishments, and we really can't publish such photos until five generations are reached. But we'll run your stories on family reunions and so on — gladly!

SHERIFF: WIFE PAID TO HAVE HUSBAND MURDERED

Police say Jerry Western was the victim of a $5000 contract murder. Western's wife, Ellen 39 of Bad Axe, and Ralph C. Ross, 51 of Caseville, are charged with conspiracy to commit murder and first-degree murder in the Jan. 22 shotgun murder of Jerry Western, 50, of Bad Axe.

Huron County Sheriff Richard Stokan, in published reports, says Ellen Western and Ross hired Michael L. Bieri, 32 of Caseville, for $5000 to kill Western. Bieri is listed as a Delta College student. He had worked for Ross on his 160-acre farm and the two were neighbors, Stokan told The Port Huron Times Herald.

Ross apparently told Bieri that Western was continually beating his wife, Ellen. They told him that's the reason why they wanted him killed, Stokan said. Bieri is charged with first-degree murder, in Huron County 73rd District Court.

Stokan said that on the pretense of buying a horse, Bieri picked Western up at his home and drove to Western's Barrie Road farm. When the two arrived, Western got out of the car with a flashlight in his hand to open a gate, Stokan said.

"As Western walked to that gate, Bieri opened the driver's door of his car and opened fire with a 12-gauge shotgun at Western. That's what we are charging Bieri with," Stokan said.

He said there are conflicting statements about how much of the $5000 Bieri received in the contract killing.

"We definitely know he received $500 because we traced where the money was spent," Stokan said of Bieri. "He supposedly received another $2300 after the killing, but this aspect of the case remains under investigation."

No bonds were allowed on any of the three persons. First-degree murder and conspiracy charges carry maximum sentences of life prison terms. Ellen Western's preliminary examination is set for this Wednesday, while Ross and Bieri will face their exams Thursday.

PCB TESTIMONY CONTINUES

The level of PCBs in two concrete silos on the Owendale farm of Roger and Valerie Haley was too small to pose a health threat, a U of M professor testified last week.

The statement by toxicologist Rolf Hartung came in the $4.3 million damage trial brought by the Haleys against Monsanto Chemical Co., and two defunct silo builders. Huron County Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock and nine jurors are hearing the testimony.

Hartung noted that it has not been proven that PCBs cause cancer in humans, even though the chemical has been linked to cancer in lab animals.

The trial before Huron County Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock is attempting to find cause for alleged contamination of silos on the Haley farm which have varying amounts of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), which are suspected of causing cancer in humans. Monsanto produced silo sealants containing PCBs under the trade name AROCLOR 1254.

Victim testimony taken in 1983 from U.S. Department of Agriculture researcher Dr. George Fries was viewed Wednesday in the case. The all-female jury is expected to hear testimony through the month of May, after the trial began March 19.

SEBEWAING NATIVE NAMED

Jack M. Schumacher, 38, has been hired as city manager of Marysville, south of Port Huron. The 1964 Sebewaing High School graduate has been Inlay City manager for the past eight years, and was formerly manager of St. Clair County's Fort Gratiot Township. He expects to be on the $36,600 job late this month or in early June.

A-F SEEKS $1.5 MILLION PLAN

Voters in the Akron-Fairgrove School District will cast ballots June 11 to decide whether to construct a new $1.54 million physical education facility and administrative office complex.

Practice facilities plus a new gymnasium with seating for 1200 persons is planned, to replace the 600-seat gym at Akron's middle school used for all varsity events. Officials expect the plan would cost two mills for about 18 years.

TUSCOLA VALUATION: UP 4.6%

Tuscola County Commissioners voted last week for an overall increase of 4.61% in land values for 1984. Included are: ag assessments of $340.6 million (up 5% over 1983); commercial of $38.1 million (up 3%); residential of $245.1 million (up 4%), and industrial down 1%, at $7.68 million.

Real values went up 4.65%, while personal values went up 3.92%. Last year's Tuscola increase was 2.71%.

OWENDALE SEWER WORK STARTS

Revenue bonds and construction contracts have been signed to begin work on Owendale's $1.95 million sanitary sewer project.

Sewer line contractor Wooten Contracting of St. Charles will begin digging this week, while Iafate Construction of Warren will begin digging the sewer lagoons one mile north of the village in June.

Work should be completed by April, 1985. The U.S. EPA is paying 75% of costs, or $1.125 million, the state pays 5%, or $75,000 — Owendale residents will pay the remaining 20% and other costs totaling $735,000 which will be paid through 39-year revenue bonds.

John Even of Caseville reported theft of a nine-horsepower two-year-old boat motor between last Saturday and last Tuesday from his Port Austin Road garage near Caseville. He told deputies his neighbor noticed it missing.

Scott Rosenthal reported about $425 damage to his pickup truck at Laker High School last Friday. Tire stems had been damaged, tires were flat and cuts were found in the leather pickup box cover. Deputies are investigating.

CASEVILLE DEATH: A Caseville High School junior died between 5 p.m. and midnight Saturday, when his off-road motorcycle collided with a low-hanging telephone wire on a private road near his home at 8727 Point Charities Drive on Sand Point.

Shawn Eady, 17, was found about midnight by friends who were searching for him when he failed to return from a ride. Huron County Sheriff's Deputies at the scene said Eady had been driving east when the left handlebar struck a telephone wire hanging low over the private drive. The wire was attached to a Detroit Edison pole on the south side of the drive and was near the ground at the north edge.

Eady's bike went out of control, causing him and the machine to strike a tree. Officers said he was not wearing a helmet. He was taken by Scheurer Ambulance to Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Inspector Gordo's Minute Mystery THE CASE OF THE Happy baby

"Jon Tilson doesn't look much like a murderer," said Sheriff Cookin as a young man emerged from the farmhouse carrying a naked baby boy.

The sheriff stopped the patrol car behind Tilson's yellow sedan. He drew his pistol, whispered to Inspector Gordo to wait, and called: "Raise your hands, Jon!"

Tilson halted, amazed. He sat his infant son carefully on the fender of his car and lifted his hands. "What's it all about, Sheriff?"

"Murder. We have a witness who says you entered Buck Log's bar last night after closing. Half an hour later Mrs. Log found Buck strangled to death with a yellow scarf."

"That's a lie. Why...?"

"Look out!" cried Gordo, as the baby scrambled onto the yellow hood. Cooing happily, he attempted to stand. Gordo just saved him from toppling to the ground.

"That witness is mistaken, Sheriff," Tilson resumed calmly. "I've been in this car since eight o'clock last night driving down from Philadelphia. I just arrived five minutes ago."

The sheriff looked at his watch. "Then you drove the 600 miles between Philly and here in a little over 12 hours," he said dubiously.

"Can you prove I didn't?" snapped Tilson.

"Nothing could be easier," declared Gordo.

What was wrong with Tilson's alibi?

As we see it editorially Caldwell missed great PR opportunity

Sometimes, the big-city "experts" could take a lesson from "us" small-towners. Ford Motor Company's Chairman Philip Caldwell tried to get himself off the hook last week — but missed a tremendous opportunity for longtime favorable public relations for his company.

And, smart observers in our area watched his actions — and shook their heads in dismay. What a golden chance Caldwell passed by — for the sake of dollar bills!

Caldwell this past week defended the $1.4 million he was paid last year by Ford, part of $7.2 million he actually earned on paper.

America should be proud of the auto industry's comeback — and the employees who made it happen, he said, in his own well-paid defense.

"But it seems that only in America would they beat up on the guy who is winning," Caldwell said of his detractors. Ford bonuses for more than 6000 executives came to $80 million — or about $13,000 each, on average.

Caldwell was at the top with $900,000 in bonuses, plus his normal $500,000 salary. And, he exercised stock options which allowed him to buy $5.8 million in Ford stock. His total earnings: $7.2 million in 1983. That's about $27,586 each working day.

Now, many folks are grumbling. Caldwell is just one of dozens of leaders earning multi-million-dollar salaries this year. But where did those massive profits come from? Were the prices we paid for those cars and other manufactured items too high, perhaps?

An astute local observer can't agree with Caldwell at all. "Just imagine," the local man says, "what Philip Caldwell might have done. Suppose he had RETURNED part of his salary to the company, with the stipulation that the money be REFUNDED to all persons who bought a Ford in 1983.

"Think of the public relations image he would have had!" the local observer says. "Caldwell could have been very honest. He could have said the company must estimate costs and sales prices a year ahead of time. Part of the huge profits Ford enjoyed last year were because their products were slightly overpriced. So they'd give back $5 or $22 or whatever to each person who had bought a car from them last year.

"Maybe Philip Caldwell wouldn't have some of those millions of dollars, but he'd have thousands of customers for life. They would appreciate the honesty of his gesture. They'd be Ford customers forever."

That local observer is absolutely correct. Does it really make such a difference whether you earn $720,000 or $7.2 million? At first glance, you might say it matters — but does it really? Both are incredibly massive amounts.

So, Ford executives and other major corporation leaders got huge paychecks last year. But all the while, hundreds of thousands of regular, hourly workers — who might have been laid off for months or years in the past, earning NO income — got only their regular checks.

And, more importantly, millions of consumers privately grumble about excessive costs. They're getting turned off more and more. Imported cars may be more and more attractive to them.

Those corporate giants chose the quick buck, rather than longtime satisfied customers. Which will be better for them when next year's checks are issued, and the year after and after.....?

RECOLLECTIONS of by-gone days

By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:

When I was growing up, we children always got the diseases that were going around. I was in kindergarten when I got the chicken pox. I still have a few pox marks on my forehead.

We just stayed at home and took care of ourselves. When I came back to school, my teacher asked if I had a written excuse from my parents. I almost thought she'd send me home. I had the measles soon after and we just stayed in a dark room until we felt better.

They used to tell us not to get into too much light or it would affect our eyesight.

When I was 10 years old I had the mumps on both sides at the same time, and my dad made me stay in bed for four days. I didn't know then what might happen if I didn't hold still. When I was 17 I got the whooping cough. I thought I would cough my head off.

The smallpox were around once, but everybody got vaccinated for it. Old Dr. Monroe of Elkton vaccinated me. In those days they put some stuff on your left arm and scratched it in with a needle. I still have a scar on my arm from it. We school kids were very careful not to hit each other's arms. One kid tried to tell us that one man had to get his arm cut off because he got an infection in it because the scab came off before it was ripe.

Well, now they give you shots for everything and some people get sicker from the shot than if they got whatever it was they got the shot for. I got the flu and colds once in awhile, but in the fall of 1981 I started to feel a little tough. I had a sore throat and my legs swelled up.

I finally went to the doctor and ended up in Ann Arbor, finding out I had Benck-Schonlein Pupura — it's a very rare disease and only children get it and so did I. The doctor said it's very unusual for a man 70 years old to get something that only children get, but maybe I am starting on my second childhood.

In Cor. 13:11, it says: "When I was a child I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." Somehow I got a children's disease, and got over it without any ill effects!

SINCERELY,
GEORGE KEIM

I haven't forgotten that I promised all of you another opportunity to earn fame and fortune in yet another of my infamous contests. So read on and find out how you can be the lucky winner in the "What It Takes To Be A Star" contest.

In this contest I'm looking to break previous contest entries (if you recall three entries were received last contest). In 200 words or less — please follow the directions carefully — tell me what you think someone needs to be a star, a celebrity.

Now I know each of you are familiar with people in the so-called limelight. These people are highly visible and their names often appear in various media reports.

plain why or how a person or persons currently in the limelight achieved such a status.

Please type or legibly print your essay, and send it in care of the Progress-Advance no later than June 1.

The winner will receive sooner or later (my roommate is still waiting for her in dictionary that she won in the last contest) a glossy photo of his/her favorite star along with a surprise (?) gift.

And as always the winner's name will appear in this column. Good luck to all of you, and may my subjective interpretation of your endeavors earn you a spot in the limelight!

Be sure to have a super week!

Newly-appointed Huron Treasurer announces candidacy

BAD AXE — Roberta Moetteli of Elkton, who was appointed Huron County treasurer last month after serving in the treasurer's office for 11 years, announced this week that she will be a candidate on the Republican ticket in the Aug. 7 primary election for a full term in that office.

She was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Arnold Schweitzer, who had held the office for 15 years, after Schweitzer retired at the end of March. Miss Moetteli was promoted to deputy treasurer in October, 1975, and to the post of chief deputy treasurer two years later. In her regular tasks in Schweitzer's office she has been data processing systems operator since it was installed in 1973.

"I feel I have the experience that the office of Huron County treasurer requires, in handling the many facets of a very technical and very precise fund-handling system," she explained.

"The treasurer's office handles many millions of dollars of public money every year, and I have the experience of depositing and investing these funds so they

Letters to the Editor

Homemaker Week proclaimed

Dear Editor:

May 6 to 12, 1984 has been named as Homemaker Week by Governor Blanchard. The Huron County chapter of Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers (MAEH) is made up of 174 members and 16 study clubs throughout Huron County.

MAEH develops and facilitates an informal, out-of-school educational program in family living for homemakers in Michigan. They support, and cooperate with the home economics and other educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University and the United States Department of Agriculture.

MAEH offers additional opportunities for homemakers to learn through educational programs that contribute to the continuing improvements of family and community life, and of the international understanding.

MAEH provides an opportunity for women in homemakers groups to share their judgements and their experiences for the progressive improvement of the home and community life and to develop leadership in their state, county, and community organizations.

MAEH has over 9,000 members who belong to Extension Homemaker Study Groups.

Anyone interested in more information about Huron County MAEH or help in creating a new study group please contact: Mrs. Joyce Warren, 7109 Michigan Ave., Pigeon, MI 48755, 453-2951 or Brenda White, 104 County Building, Bad Axe, MI 48413, 269-9949, or any member of Huron County Extension Homemaker.

Fore! By Mavis Pechette Look to this day

Twenty-four years ago, when we married, the priest announced the two of us one. We each became the Other Half. Two months ago, when Death came to our house, there was an awful wrenching away of my Other Half. One of my reactions has been: Death didn't even holler "Fore!" I don't suppose it would be any different or any easier if we had had a warning. We know that Death is a part of life for all of us, but it still is difficult when it comes. But we are coping the best we can. The love and care of all around us is a great help. We are truly grateful for friends and their support.

One of the books I have been reading is "Look to This Day" by Wilma Dykeman. I have not heard of the book or the author, but I have heard of the title on the shelf at the library. I thought that is what I must do — look to this day and just take one day at a time.

The author writes of many things. One of her essays deals with Mothers. Since Mother's Day is here, let's consider what she has to say.

"Mothers are... Well, precisely, what are we? Many things to many people. To small boys we are a voice that rudely interrupts ball games, television programs and long thoughts at the breakfast table; we are hopeless addicts of soap and water, purveyors of goshes and spinach.

To teachers we are pitiable and troublesome females with remarkable clarity of vision when viewing others' children, but afflicted with almost total astigmatism when looking at our own chicks.

To politicians we are a handy word to invoke in oratory; to stray dogs we are an easy "touch," and to doctors a necessary evil.

We spank, scold, prod, pray, defend and sometimes we succeed in the delight and drudgery of rearing the best children in the best way we know how.

And, yes, along the way we have also the partnership and influence of someone called a father.

We organize debut parties to put our daughters up for wedding — and then cry when they are married.

We give our sons a dozen lessons in self-reliance and then choke back tears when they go out to put our preaching into practice.

When they are babies we think they'll never grow up, and suddenly one morning we wonder if they were ever children. Something deep inside us often makes us saddest when we're gladdest.

Bless us, protect us, forgive us. We mothers are almost as varied, contradictory and wonderful as the human race itself.

I'm glad I have a Mother and that I am a Mother.

Letter to the Editor Reader responds to editorial

DEAR EDITOR:

My letter is in reply to the editorial you ran in the April 25 issue. The people need to know the complete story, however, it's very hard to do that in a letter, but I have tried, at least to let them know what we are doing is not personal against our Township Supervisor. There are many and varied reasons to fight for the right to vote.

In answer to what you see editorially, you made an incomplete outline.

1. As to the recall of our Township Supervisor. After a year of attending our township meetings. And asking him for help or explanations. He would shake his head, saying he didn't know what to tell us, and that he had the township lawyer working on it. And other times tell us how tired he was of hearing about the Airport issue, the recall was started.

2. There hasn't been much tax money spent on the Airport yet. But as Bad Axe and Sebawaing Airports are not self supporting and in much larger towns, how can this one be?

3. As to those between the Airport or Industry pollution, there is an Industrial Park planned to join the Airport.

4. As to the sandy, scrub tree, lowlands. At this present time there is in operation a Sawmill, cutting lumber form full grown Ash, Maple, Oak, Cottonwood, and other such trees. This woodland is also home to many Deer, Muskrat, Raccoon, Rabbit, Pheasant, Partridge, Oppossum and many song birds.

5. As to our Supervisor being a fine upstanding citizen, he may very well be. I do not know him on a personal level. But to my understanding, when you take a public office you also take on the public trust. If you chose to support an issue such as this Airport, when there is a sizable and open opposition. Then you leave yourself open to the action now underway.

6. The cost of this recall is small, compared to the longterm cost of this Airport if can't support itself. The $1.05 million you referred to will have to be paid back by the taxpayers of Caseville, to the government if this Airport should fail after being built.

7. The men who started the Airport issue knew they would run into opposition. It did not stop them. And to agree to an issue because it may divide a community is wrong. We are strong people, who will work out and overcome this issue. Weak links come from weak people.

And finally, I don't sign anything unless I believe in it. And I'm not ashamed to do so. Which the author of your editorial did not do.

Thanks A Million

By PERCY ROSS

Percy Ross is a "rags-to-riches" Minneapolis millionaire known internationally for his philanthropic activities. His trademark is the silver dollar.

Dear Mr. Ross: My husband is unemployed, and we are having a rough time getting by on our welfare checks. Our children are 10, eight and five, and they have never seen their grandparents (my mother and dad), who live on a farm in North Dakota.

I haven't been home or seen them since being married 13 years ago. My mother has been very sick for several years now after suffering a stroke. Dad has taken care of her since then, but I don't know how much longer he will be able to. You see, he's getting up in the years too.

Our old Plymouth is over the hill and could never make it that far. We would be eternally grateful, Mr. Ross, if there is any possible way you could help our family make this trip by bus. I love my parents very much and want my children to have the chance to know them, if only for a short time. Thank you. — D.B., Arkansas

Dear Mrs. B.: For your family, but especially for the grandparents, I'm sending money for round-trip bus fares and travel expenses. Enjoy your visit.

Dear Mr. Ross: After reading your column in the Easton Express, I just wanted to write and express my appreciation that there are people like you. I cannot give financially, but I do give of my time to the Suburban Rescue Squad, and its rewards are numerous. Through it I have learned many emergency care techniques, gained many friendships and, most of all, the satisfaction of helping others. If people would only look around they would find many ways of helping. Thank you. — N.S., Pennsylvania

Dear N.: You have more time than money... I happen to have more money than time. You give of your time helping others. That's every bit as important as giving money. Thanks a Million.

Dear Mr. Ross: I am the mother of a severely handicapped child. I've been told a microcomputer could help him.

I've looked everywhere and checked all the computer stores, but I can't find information about technology for the disabled. Can you find a resource to help me learn about microcomputers for handicapped children. — Mrs. P.B., Utah

Dear Mrs. B.: There is a brand new book just recently written by Dolores Hagen called, "Microcomputer Resource Book for Special Education." It published by Reston Publishing of Reston, Va. I was so impressed... I ordered several copies and am sending one on to you.

Dear Mr. Ross: I am a believer in reincarnation. For my next life, I'd like to have a lot more money than I've had in my present one.

I want something to look forward to. That's where you come in. Please make your check payable to "Reincarnated T.T." and send to the Chase Manhattan Bank branch on E. Tremont Avenue in the Bronx with instructions to hold until my return. — T.T., New York

Dear Mr. T.: You request is out of this world! Try me again... upon your return.

Bruce Kuhl runs again

Huron County Commissioner Bruce W. Kuhl of Sebawaing has announced that he will seek re-election to a fourth term on the Huron Board of Commissioners on the Republican ticket in the Aug. 7 primary.

Kuhl is a resident of District 1, which comprises all of Fair Haven, Sebawaing, Brookfield and McKinley Townships.

In his three terms as a commissioner, Kuhl has served twice as vice chairman and once as chairman. He also serves as chairman of the Greater Saginaw Bay Fishing Consortium, personnel policies and salaries committee, and marine safety committees. He has been president of Huron County Farm Bureau for the past four years.

Kuhl and his wife Marion operate a dairy farm in Fair Haven Township in partnership with their sons. The Kuhls have four children and two grandchildren. They are members of Kilmanagh United Methodist Church.

Krohn a candidate

Warren Krohn, Meade Township, has announced he will seek election to the office of Huron County Treasurer.

Krohn, who will be running on the Republican ticket in the Aug. 7 primary election, presently serves as Meade Township Assessor and Treasurer for the Huron County Republican Party and the Huron Community Fair Association.

He is an active member of the Huron County Farm Bureau and the Huron County Republican Party, where he has held several offices on the Executive Committee.

He is a member of the Huron Community Fair Board of Directors, and the Central Huron Ambulance Association Board. He has also served as Meade Township Supervisor, and as

Elkton seeks new president

Haley steps down

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

Elkton is seeking a new village president, following last week's surprise resignation of President Randy Haley. He announced his resignation quietly at the end of last Tuesday's Council meeting, effective immediately. Haley cited business and personal reasons for his decision.

"I hate (resign) because I enjoy it," said Haley and added, "I'm not giving up—I just have to back off."

Haley was just elected this past March to his second two-year term as president, after serving four years on the Council.

President Pro Tem Neilan Hoffman will assume the position through the June Council meeting, but stated he might not be able to complete the entire term, which expires in March of 1986.

If Hoffman accepts the presidency, a new Council member will be appointed to fill his seat. If Hoffman declines the position, a new village president will be selected in a special election.

As a last recommendation, Haley advised Council to create a position of village administrator by combining some of the president's responsibilities with the present duties of the Elkton bookkeeper.

"There would be someone here to provide a flow during the transitions of different Councils," Haley said, about an administrator.

REZONING APPEALED: Another public hearing was set for Tuesday, May 22 at 7:30 p.m. to decide whether to rezone property between McKinley and Brown Streets for multiple dwelling use.

Re zoning would allow construction of a 16-unit apartment building on the site presently owned by Tom Purman.

Several changes in the project plan have been made, in response to objections raised by residents of that neighborhood at a public meeting on April 18 when rezoning was denied.

The plan now calls for two separate eight-unit buildings, instead of a single structure.

Because of possible traffic problems, the entrance to the apartment's parking lot was shifted from Brown Street to McKinley Street.

The proposed housing was also moved closer to the existing two-story apartment building on McKinley, to better blend in with neighboring structures.

At the meeting, Purman also proposed Council change the current three-fourths majority required for rezoning to a two-thirds majority. Such a change would require approval from five of the seven voting members, rather than six of seven under the current guidelines.

To change the required majority, three-fourths of Council must approve the new guidelines.

Some residents who object to the proposed rezoning said they thought the issue had previously been decided.

"Nothing is ever settled in any type of governmental unit," said Village Attorney John Ferris. He added that any changes must be accomplished by the proper procedure.

LOT ACCESS: Council approved construction of a walkway between the West Huron Community Credit Union and Varty's Automotive buildings. The $3000 project would enable individuals parking in the lot west of the Post Office to walk to businesses on Main Street without walking around the block. Only the preliminary work will be completed, until funds become available for the project.

NERP SNAG: The North

GAVELING THE JOB: Elkton Village President Randy Haley wields his gavel one last time before resigning at the May 1 Council meeting.

Elkton Memorial Park is temporarily halted, to obtain necessary permits. DPW Superintendent Walt Forster noted a licensed master plumber and electrician had to be hired, though he stressed all work completed at the present time is in compliance with building codes.

OTHER BUSINESS: A resident's request for adjustment of his water bill due to water softener valve malfunction was referred to the water committee.

Sharon Deering of Elkton was hired as summer recreation director.

Action was tabled on a request for Council approval by Sophia Buryck to register 20 acres of land bordering Marx Road and McKinley Street under Public Act 116 to receive property tax relief.

Payment of $3500 was authorized to Village Attorney John Ferris to draw up a new zoning ordinance. The entire project including a new zoning map is estimated to cost about $5000, Ferris says.

A proposal requiring village residents to cut weeds to a height of less than 10 inches with escalating charges for mowing by village employees was referred to the ordinance committee.

One of just 304 in nation

Co-op Elevator named top dealer

The Co-operative Elevator Company of Pigeon has been named to Ralston Purina Company's Chow Honor Council, in recognition of outstanding service to area livestock producers.

Entry into the Chow Honor Council is granted for demonstration of exceptionally high standards of performance and conscientious service, according to W.M. "Dub" Jones, president of Purina's Agri Products group.

"This honor puts Co-op Elevator Company among the top livestock feed dealerships nationwide, and reflects the Co-op's expertise in animal nutrition and health programs," Jones says.

The Co-op Elevator is one of 304 dealers who qualify for Chow Honor Council awards this year, chosen from about 5400 dealers nationwide.

"We're very proud to have been named to the Chow Honor Council," General Manager Ted Leipprandt says. "Part of this honor is a direct result of the many new products and programs Purina introduced this past year, primarily new dairy and hog chow products. With Purina's research support, we will continue to provide our customers with the latest livestock management, nutrition and health product information and programs," Leipprandt says.

"As one of the premiere companies serving American Agriculture, we're proud to stand alongside the farmer in his efforts toward greater productivity," says Jones. "Cooperative Elevator Company is an integral part of this effort, and has made an important contribution to agriculture in Huron and Tuscola Counties, he says.

County election Tuesday on transit millage

A special county-wide election is planned in Huron and Sanilac Counties Tuesday, May 15, asking for .20 mills of the assessed valuation for three years, to fund the Huron-Sanilac Transportation Authority, known as Thumb Area Transit (TAT). The new tax levy would be assessed from Oct. 1, 1984 through Sept. 30, 1987, and is expected to generate $145,000 each year in Huron County, and $105,000 annually in Sanilac. The figures will fund the counties' growing share of operations, as state transit aid is reduced, for the system that has grown to 32 employees in the two counties, and operates a total of 22 buses.

On a house with $60,000 of value, and a state equalized value of $90,000 the annual tax would total about $8, backers say. The money will fund about 25% of TAT's operating expenses in the next three years. The transit system will be forced to end service if the millage proposal fails.

WIC gives help

The Huron County Health Department provides a supplemental food program for Women, Infants and Children (W.I.C.). It is the goal of the W.I.C. program to provide food and nutrition education to insure a better quality diet for participants.

W.I.C. is designed for pregnant or breastfeeding women, infants and children under the age of five who are in need of certain nutritious foods.

The couple also has 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The couple requests no gifts.

USA student play coming this weekend

Stage lights are burning late into the night as cast and crew put the finishing touches on "Love Your Neighbor," USA High School's spring play. Director Mrs. Joan Hofmeister notes that the three-act comedy is scheduled for 7 p.m. on May 10, 11 and 12 at the Middle School gym. The play's setting is the mid-1940's and takes place in Summerville, a small Iowa town. USA senior Amie Hedley takes the part of Tessa Vashki, a local girl engaged to Chicago playboy Ozzie Frederick, played by Doug Holland. Ozzie stands to inherit a large candy factory if he marries, but his romantic plans falter after Tessa meets Johnny Jones, a local bee-keeper. Jones, played by Brent Kunding, is a former marine who is more than willing to fight for Tessa's affections. Tickets will be available in both the high school and middle school offices or from any cast member.

USA PLAY: Brent Kunding, Doug Holland, standing, Amie Hedley, in "Love Your Neighbor."

This week's PIGEON DISTRICT LIBRARY CORNER

CIRCULATION

A total of 5,480 items were circulated during April, which shows an increase of 109 over the same period last year. Included in the total were 1,712 adult material, 714 junior adult, 1,183 children, 213 toys, 23 pieces of audio-visual equipment and 1,635 video tapes.

Book fines totaled $106.85 and $159.00 was taken in from the copier.

New registrations totalled

37 with 11 from Caseville Township, six from Winsor, five each from Oliver and Brookfield, three from Fairhaven, two from Lake and one each from Colfax, Chandler, McKinley and Sebawaing. Eight Preschool Story Hour sessions were conducted last month with 323 children participating.

Parents of Kim Elenbaum, Adam Herford, Jimmy Trost, Brian Elbing and Joshua Dressler provided birthday treats for the children.

School classes making library field trips totaled nine, which included 195 students.

VIDEO TAPE CLUB

New tapes are being purchased as funds become available, but not all of the new tapes have been ordered as there are still some PDL video members who have not paid their quarterly dues for April, May and June. The library can only purchase video tapes with dues that are paid to date.

At a recent Library Board meeting, it was decided to limit the video cassette tapes to two tapes per family, effective May 1, due to the unavailability of tapes. A decision was also made to discontinue loaning tapes through the White Pine Library Cooperative. This will hopefully result in more tapes being available for local patrons. Patrons may continue to borrow tapes from the White Pine headquarters, but no loaning will be done through the cooperative libraries.

NEW TAPES

VHS Trading Places, Fiddler on the Roof, Little Women, International Velvet, The King and I, Journey Back to Oz, Oklahoma, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Princess and the Pea, Thumbelina, Jack and the Beanstalk.

Beta D.C. Cab, In Search of the

BOOK SALE

The Pigeon District Library will hold its annual Book Sale during the July Farmers Festival in Pigeon. Anyone wishing to donate books for the sale may do so by dropping them off at the library anytime during regular hours. Hardcover as well as paperback books are appreciated.

Prospective kindergartners register at O-G

Kindergarten Round-up for the Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools will be Tuesday, May 15 in the O-G Elementary School gym from 9 to 11 a.m. for students with last names starting with A through L and 12 noon to 2 p.m. for students with last names from M through Z.

Parents are asked to bring birth certificates and immunization records for each child.

The school nurse will answer questions about immunization and the speech therapist will screen children for speech problems and hearing testing.

STORY HOUR

Preschool Story Hour on May 15 will be in charge of Jane Himmel and Peggy Karl. The theme will be "Exploring and Discovering."

"Doctors and Nurses - What They Do?," "I Want to be a Nurse" and "Nicky Goes to the Doctor" are stories that will be read.

Activities planned include fingerplays, songs, flannelgraph and exercises. The children will also be able to participate with musical instruments while a record is played.

Two sessions of Preschool Story Hour are conducted weekly, the first from 9 to 10 a.m. and the second from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. All preschoolers are invited to attend a session.

Students get their degrees from CMU

Three area students are among the 3,000 prospective May graduates at Central Michigan University.

Michael W. Hartman of Pigeon will receive his bachelor of applied arts degree in broadcast and cinematic arts.

Kami J. Buchholz of Elkton will graduate with a bachelor of applied arts degree in journalism.

Jeffrey Bushey of Caseville will receive his bachelor of science degree in business administration with a major in accounting.

Caseville dredging begins for '84

By SANDY GOSLEE
Routine matters faced the Caseville Township Board during its May meeting Monday night.
Resident Penny Addy asked the Board to consider installation of a more powerful signal light on the end of the Caseville Harbor Breakwall, to better guide ships. The Board has already discussed this improvement with the U.S. Coast Guard, which is considering such a change.
DREDGING: Dredging of Caseville Harbor began Monday, according to Township Supervisor James Reeves. The improvements will begin at the Breakwall and will move up the Pigeon River around the curve to about Hamrick's Resort. Work should be completed in about two months, experts estimate. Ed Busch Excavating of Saginaw is performing the work.

INFORMATION COSTS: Township Attorney David Clabuesch explained the Freedom of Information Act, which applies to access to public documents. The longtime township policy of charging 50 cents per copy of any documents was discussed.
Attorney Clabuesch also briefly discussed the recently turned-down recall inquiry against Sup. Reeves, and several persons in the audience asked questions.

NEXT YEAR'S WORK: Resident George Woltowitz requested repaving of Crescent Beach Road, since many rough spots are developing. Sup. Reeves again explained to him it is on 1985 or 1986 road schedule, to be done then for budgeting reasons.
FIRE TRUCK: Fire Department member Mike Power reported on progress of getting the new Township fire truck. Some parts are still on back-order, but Caseville's truck should be delivered by mid-June, he says.
OTHER BUSINESS: Treasurer Elaine Cleaver will represent the township at the Caseville Mayor Exchange Day at the American Legion Hall, set tentatively for Tuesday, May 22.

Lowell Kraft was reappointed to another five-year term on the Caseville Township Aeronautical Board. Phyllis Conners was also nominated, but Kraft was selected 3-1.
The Township donated $400 toward Sun & Fun Daze fireworks, to the Chamber of Commerce.
The Board also gave up to $500 to cover the costs of providing portable toilets at the Breakwall for one month.
An 11-hp. 38" cutting lawnmower was approved for purchase costs $1625.

SIMPLE CHECKS THAT CAN PREVENT YOUR CHILD FROM SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY

Prior to testing, have your child stand straight, head erect, knees straight, hands at side, feet together.

1. Is the head tilted and/or rotated to one side? Yes  No
2. Is one shoulder higher than the other? Yes  No
3. Is one hip higher than the other? Yes  No
4. Is one foot turned more in or out than the other? Yes  No
5. Are muscles of back unequal in symmetry? Yes  No
6. Is round back evident? Yes  No
7. Is swayback evident? Yes  No
8. Does one shoe wear out well ahead of the other? Yes  No

IF YOU ANSWERED "YES" TO 3 OR MORE QUESTIONS, THEN YOUR CHILD MAY BE SUFFERING FROM SPINAL MISALIGNMENTS WHICH CAN BE IRRITATING VITAL NERVES. THIS NERVE PRESSURE MAY BE THE REASON WHY YOUR CHILD IS SICK AND SUFFERING FROM HEALTH DISORDERS, SUCH AS ASTHMA, EAR INFECTIONS, HEADACHES, STOMACH DISORDERS, GROWING PAINS, SCOLIOSIS, BED WETTING, COLDS AND OTHERS.

ASK DR. WALBY

By Jeff Walby, D.D.S.

"Do I have to have x-rays?" A few years ago there was a lot of flack about the amount of radiation exposure the general population were receiving for diagnosis. This was primarily directed toward medical examination but dentistry was dragged into the arena also. Clinical oral examination allows us to examine only 60% of the teeth surfaces exposed to attack by bacterial plaque. The areas where the teeth meet the adjacent teeth as they are lined up is not visible for examination. The x-rays allows us to visualize these other two sides of the exposed tooth surfaces (between the teeth). Therefore, without x-rays, an examination would be incomplete, like doing an examination on only your upper teeth and ignoring the bottom teeth. There is also a large portion of the tooth and bone structure which can only be examined by radiographs. The roots and bone structure should be checked every three years by a full mouth survey. Decay detection radiographs are needed every six months in cavity prone individuals and once a year for most of the population. The only radiation which is harmful is that which is stopped by the body tissue. High energy radiation passes through structure to create an image on film. The low energy radiation is filtered out by the use of aluminum filters, greatly reducing the soft radiation absorbed by the body. The use of short exposure time (milliseconds) and fast film requiring less exposure to create an image has greatly reduced radiation needed for diagnosis. Walking outside on a sunny day exposes you to this same radiation and you absorb more of it. People who live in brick houses are exposed to more radiation because of the natural radioactive elements existing in the bricks. Radiation is naturally occurring, the health professions have just harnessed the energy in such a way to creatively put to work for your benefit. Dedicated to Louise.

Worms

Slowly, ever so slowly, I moved across the lawn. My flashlight, muffled in red cellophane, probed the matted, rain-soaked grass that lay at my feet. In my right hand I carried a plastic bucket half-filled with moist soil. I was armed and ready.

A sudden movement to the right of my beam caught my eye. There, half emerged from its hole, was a beauty. I sat the bucket down and with the stealth of a hunting cat, darted my right hand forward and felt my fingers close on the slimy mass. Don't tug, I thought to myself. If I tried to force it from the hole it would likely break in two. Waiting a couple of minutes, I felt the body ripples moving towards its tail, and when it momentarily loosened its grip on the burrow, I yanked upwards.

The giant nightcrawler wriggled and whithered in my hand as I examined him more closely. He was about eight inches long and tapered on both ends. He did not have a head, but I knew from my biology lesson that his mouth was on the end sporting the large raised portion known as a collar. He looked like he was made up of hundreds of little tires glued together and these provided him with a tough muscular structure and the needed flexibility for movement. Although I couldn't see them, I had read where each ring bristled with tiny hairs called "seta." It was these that had hooked into the side of the burrow and made it so hard for me to pull this bugger out of his hole. I looked again, and deposited him in my bucket. The smallmouths at Grindstone City will lick their lips when they see this baby, I thought to myself.

Worms will hatch from 20 to 90 days later and will be fully developed and ready to cope with the problems of maturing.

Worms are fairly intelligent creatures and have brains that can be trained by reflex conditioning. They contain 70% protein and are disease-free, which makes them 100% edible. They may live up to 20 years.

But probably the best part of the earthworm is its ability to build and enrich the soil. Every 24 hours, an earthworm will eat its own weight in earth, minerals and organic matter. It also produces its own weight in "castings" from its body. Therefore, as the worm eats its way through the earth breaking up the soil as it goes through their body, it also deposits great amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. An acre of earthworms can produce 50 tons of topsoil in a single year.

But back to fishing.

Grabbing a worm or nightcrawler from the ground and impaling him on a fish hook will not guarantee success. Worms are very sensitive creatures and must be handled with tender, loving care. Worms must be healthy and alive in order to be attractive to fish.

Worms need oxygen and will suffocate if kept in an airtight plastic container. The best container is one that has tiny holes for aeration, and is filled with at least six inches of good worm bedding.

Temperature is also very important. Most worms and crawlers do best between 45° and 55°. If you are going to transport them for any distance, the container should be packed in ice. Never but never leave your worms in the trunk of your car. Besides the build-up of heat, the vibrations and fumes will make them sick.

When you get ready to fish, keep your hands clean while handling the worms. Fish are attracted to natural-smelling worms and this can be destroyed by the smell of oil or gasoline from your outdoor motor.

Perhaps the most critical item is knowing how to hook your worm or nightcrawler. In order to get the most movement, a fisherman should hook them through the head and then again in the collar. This method allows the hook to be hidden in the raised portion of the worm and also allows the worm to have maximum freedom of movement.

In case you are still wondering about the comment on the worm being 100% edible, I have included my favorite recipe for "Earthworm-Peanut Butter Cookies."

Please tell me if you like them, as I have not had the courage to try them myself.

Earthworms are one of the most popular, all-around fish baits known. But aside from the fact that they catch fish like crazy, are cool and slimy to the touch and make little girls scream, few people know much about them.

First of all, worms are relegated to lowly positions by most humans. Even though they are very valuable and have played such an important part in the history of the world, they still do not command the respect they deserve. This is indicative of our slang usage of the word "worm." If you call a person a worm, he knows his place immediately.

But what about the worm? What kind of animals are they?

There are more than 2,000 known species of worms in the world. They vary in size from a few inches to some that are more than seven feet in length. Pound for pound they are much stronger than a man, and can move more than 60 times their weight. That would be like a 200-lb. weightlifter hoisting a six-ton barbell.

The American nightcrawler, one of the most familiar species, is about six to eight inches in length. It has 150 segments, 1200 feet or seta, five pairs of hearts and 300 kidneys. If you break it in two, it will not grow two worms, but if you do break off the tail end, it may very well grow a new tail.

Worms are bisexual, and each part must mate with the opposite sex of another worm. When a suitable mate is found, the two nestle together head to tail and form a cocoon where the eggs are deposited and fertilized.

EARTHWORM-PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES
1 lb. earthworms
1 cup peanut butter
1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 t. vanilla
1/2 t. salt

Boil earthworms for 10 minutes, dice and drain. Sift dry ingredients together. Mix all ingredients. Roll dough into small balls or drop from a teaspoon onto a cookie sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes at 350°.

By DUANE GUENTHER

AN IMPORTANT BILL, sponsored by Sen. Dan DeGrow of Port Huron, would virtually ban non-Indian commercial fishing in the southern two-thirds of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. In a move to enhance sports fishing by preventing use of trap, pound and gill nets used by non-Indians, DeGrow's proposed legislation is in response to the DNR's latest attempt to establish trap nets to harvest the whitefish population off Port Sanilac.

"Sports fishing is a booming business in my area," DeGrow said. "Statewide, it's a billion dollar industry. Commercial fishing is a piddly nothing."

The DNR Director Ronald Skoog strongly opposes the bill. The feeling of the DNR is that resource is for ALL users, not just the ones who happen to be spending more money at the present time.

The bill would ban fish nets in the Michigan portion of the two lakes south of the 45th parallel. This line runs just south of Alpena and through the Leelanau Peninsula in Lake Michigan. Most of Saginaw Bay would be excluded, and existing commercial fishing operations could continue until the license owner dies or retires. The license could not be sold or transferred to another person.

The bill in no way affects Indian fishing, which is not regulated by the state, but rather comes under federal jurisdiction.

TROUT AND SALMON FISHING is starting to get hot in the Great Lakes waters surrounding the Thumb. Nice catches of Browns and Salmons were reported off of Grindstone City, while Harbor Beach and Port Sanilac were both producing good catches of salmon. Perch fishing is up on most parts of the Bay, but the tip of the Thumb gets the nod for big "yellowbellies."

WHEREVER YOUR MOTHER DID
HER WORK, SHE DID IT FOR YOU

A mother can be young or old;
They come in any state.
They can be reticent or bold,
And often up-to-date;
With some enjoying a career
Which helps them to progress,
While taking care of loved ones dear
Who welcome their success.
In business or in apron strings,
Your mother showed the way
To cope with what the future brings
And how to live each day.
Your House of Worship gives her praise,
So children, call her bless'd;
Whatever may have been her ways,
Your mother did her best.

Register your child for Cross Preschool

Give your child a head start to kindergarten by enrolling him or her in the Cross Lutheran Preschool.

Registration for the 1984-85 year will be on Monday, May 21 from 9 to 11:30 a.m., at Cross Lutheran Preschool, 7274 Hartley Street, Pigeon.

A registration fee will be due at this time. The curriculum covers a variety of areas from imaginative and active play, music, cooking, arts and crafts, to mathematics, language and reading, science, social studies, religion and more. Visitors are welcome at the preschool in regular session on registration day.

Anyone not able to register their child by May 21 may do so by calling the school at 453-3331, the certified teacher at 674-2766 or the teacher's aide at 453-3953.

Sixty Seconds Never alone

Read Isaiah 43:1-7.

I am constantly with Thee; Thou dost hold my right hand. Thou dost guide me with Thy Counsel, and afterward Thou wilt receive me to glory. Psalm 73:23-24.

An aged Scottish woman who lived alone was asked: "What do you do with all your time?" "Well," she said, "I take my hymn book and sing a few songs of praise to God. Then I get my Bible and let the Lord speak to me. When I get tired of reading and singing, I just sit still and let the Lord love me."

Loving people -- that's our Lord's specialty. "Fear not," He says, "for I have redeemed you. I have called you by name, you are Mine. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you... For I am the Lord your God."

If you have trouble believing that you are dear and precious to God, ask yourself, "Whom am I doubting?" The Lord Jesus wants our life to be full of joy, lift and luster, peace and hope. He died on the cross to win these blessings for us.

To His believing and beloved followers He gave this promise, "I am with you always." We never enter an empty room or car or home when we believe in Him. He is always there to love us and help us. Lord, there is always cheer when You are near. Amen.

CHANDLER GUILD

Mrs. George Fleming hosted the May 2 meeting of the Chandler Presbyterian Church Guild with 13 members answering roll call with "A Memory of Your Mother or Grandmother." Mrs. George McPhee was co-hostess.

Mrs. Fleming conducted the meeting. Final plans were made for the Mother-Daughter banquet at the church at 7 p.m. on May 14. The group plans to entertain at the Scheurer Hospital long-term unit on May 22.

Mrs. William McCarty presented the lesson on the Parables, "What Do You Think?" and "Reward to the Obedient." A Least Coin Selection was read by Mrs. Ray Young.

The June meeting will be with Mrs. McCarty.

Service notes

Pvt. Jeffrey E. Denison, son of Alice and Walcott Denison of Owendale, has completed a tracked vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

During the course, the students were trained to repair engines, transmissions, and the fuel, electrical and air hydraulic systems of the Army's tracked vehicles. They also learned to perform recovery operations for abandoned, damaged, disabled or mired vehicles.

He is a 1981 graduate of Laker High School.

St. Francis welcomes Fr. Skornia

Rev. Bernard L. Skornia, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Kawkaulin, will become pastor of St. Francis Borgia Catholic Church, Pigeon, following the appointment of present pastor Rev. Michael M. Wolf to the position of Senior Priest.

According to Bishop Kenneth E. Untener, this pastoral change will take effect in July. Rev. Wolf, who was ordained in 1942, completed college at St. Joseph Seminary, Grand Rapids and his theological studies at St. Mary's, Baltimore, Md. Before serving the pastorate of local churches including St. Roch, Caseville, St. Felix, Finney and St. Francis, Pigeon, he served as associate pastor in Saginaw, administrator in Palms and as pastor of Oscoda, Alpena and Saginaw, and pastor at Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Sebawaing, St. John the Evangelist, Uby, St. Casimer, Saginaw and Sacred Heart, Kawkaulin. He has served as a board member of the Diocesan Finance Board and the Ministry to Priest Program.

Rep. Allen plans visit to Port Austin

Local clubs, groups conduct meetings

VFW POST

The Pigeon VFW Post 2236 and its auxiliary observed Loyalty Day on May 1. The program was conducted at the Veteran's Memorial park monument in Pigeon.

Participating in the program were: Commander Ron Killinger, Sr. Vice President Bill Schuetz, Jr. Vice President Ron Snider, Chaplain John Ried and Auxiliary President Verna Thede and Jr. Vice President Bette Horn.

ELKTON EXTENSION

Mrs. George Ackerman was hostess to members of the Elkton Extension Club for their April meeting in her home Monday evening. Roll call response was "How Would You Spend a Million Dollars?"

Guest speaker Sandra Seran of Bad Axe, personal financial planner for IDS, spoke on "Investments and Inflation." Tentative plans were made for a Chesaning Showboat trip. Mrs. Glenn Faist and Mrs. Wayne Knechtel will have charge of the June barbecue.

RUSH LAKE FARM BUREAU

Ten members of the Rush Lake Farm Bureau group enjoyed a potluck supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McBride.

Mrs. Fred McBride presided at the meeting and led the Pledge to the Flag. She also gave a report on the Spring Rally at the Colony House.

All officers were re-elected for another year as follows: Chairperson Mrs. Fred (Mona) McBride, Discussion Leader Mrs. Roy Dufty, assisted by Hal Conkey, Rural Leader William Ballagh, Minuteman Roy Dufty, Secretary/Treasurer Mrs. William Ballagh, Womans' Committee Representative Mrs. William McBride.

The May 17 meeting will be with the Hal Conkeys.

HOMEMAKERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Six Huron County Extension Homemakers attended a Michigan District Conference on April 27 in Flushing to receive the 1985 program material from the state organization, Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers.

Leading the conference were President Frances Michalek, Perry; vice president Claudia Brown, Eaton Rapids; and advisor Joan Witter, M.S.U., East Lansing.

They were assisted by Program of Work Chairpersons in the areas of Family Life, Citizenship, Health, Safety, Cultural Arts, International Studies, Membership and Public Relations. The conference was planned by homemaker members of MAEH from 12 counties in the state.

Attending from this area were chairperson Joyce Warren of Pigeon, Cooperative Extension Service Home Economist Brenda White of Bad Axe, and members Brenda Plester of Harbor Beach, Treva Dressler of Owendale and Kathleen Hass of Bad Axe.

All homemakers interested in joining the local organizations can contact Membership Chairperson Mae Hoffman in Bad Axe at 269-7043 or the Huron County Cooperative Extension Office at 104 County Building, Bad Axe, or call 269-9949.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

There were 50 people present for the weekly meeting of the Elkton Senior Citizens. Clayton Gemmill gave the table grace. Greetings were extended to the Bill Blaylocks, Jim Hoffmans, Dan Dietzels and Secord McMullens, all recently returned from a winter in the South.

"America" was sung and the flag pledge given. Brad Diamond and Dave Nye spoke on the special transit millage, which will be voted on May 14. This is to continue the TAT service until 1987.

Group singing was led by the Gemmells. It was announced that Ben Gregor is now in Bay Medical Center and Laura Jimpkowski is at her home after spending several months in the hospital and Health Center. A card was signed for Emma Morley. The birthdays of George Southworth and Bill Blaylock were observed with the birthday song.

Blood pressures will be taken May 8 at 11 a.m.

Eva Day told about the "Show and Tell" program for next week. Elizabeth Wilhelm gave a very interesting talk on the places visited on the Parrott's Tour she took to several southern states and Texas.

Letters to Editor

All letters to the Editor must be signed with a name to ensure authenticity. Deadline for publication is 5 P.M. MONDAYS.

Governor visits Michigan's top ag area

EYES FOR YOU: Gov. Blanchard and others look over Navy Beans which are being sorted at the Co-op Elevator's two-year-old Colored Bean Plant, just north of Pigeon.

THANKS: Michigan Governor James Blanchard looks over the "Pigeon is Bean Country" front car plate he is given at the Co-op Elevator Company office in Pigeon. Looking on, from left, are State Ag Director Paul Kindinger, State Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City) and local Democratic leader Vern Kretzschmer, center.

Active Feed Company's Joe Maust Jr. showed the group the large egg production facility his firm runs round the clock. It can produce 400 cases of eggs -- 144,000 eggs -- daily.

Thanks to an economic development grant, that capacity will double next year -- "more than enough to feed half of Huron County for breakfast," Maust said. (Actually, the larger plant could feed nearly 150,000 people a two-egg breakfast when operational next year).

Other tour stops for Michigan's top elected leader included Harbor Beach, Port Austin and Sebewaing, during the Thursday and Friday trip.

The trip originally had been scheduled last November, but was cancelled due to a snow storm.

Elkton Village Minutes

REGULAR MEETING MAY 1, 1984

The regular meeting of the village council of the Village of Elkton was called to order by Pres. Haley at 7:30 p.m. Councilmembers present C. Russell, D. Fisher, B. Thompson, N. Hoffman and T. Heck. Absent F. Santos. Many guests and attorney John Ferris.

Motion by Hoffman supported by Thompson to approve minutes as circulated. Carried. Tom Purman appeared before council as a landowner on Smith Street. He presented a letter on May 1, 1984 to the village clerk asking to change the zoning ordinance from 3/4 vote of the council on the zoning ordinance to a majority vote of the council. Mr. Ferris said that this does not conform with state law and then Mr. Purman asked if the 3/4 could be changed to 2/3. He also requested a special meeting to rezone a different portion of property from single family to multiple family to house elderly and moderate income people. He presented a new set of plans with the entrance coming off McKinley Street instead of Brown Street.

Pres. Haley told the citizens present this is not the public hearing and council will set a date for the hearing this month. To reclassify the request to change the zoning ordinance from 3/4 to 2/3 it must be passed by a 3/4 vote of the council. (2/3 vote would be 5 out of 7).

Clara Russell does not favor changing the zoning ordinance at this time. She feels the rezoning did not pass before and the ordinance should not be changed at this time. Special hearing for rezoning will be May 22, 1984 at 7:30 p.m. and also the hearing for the amendment to the zoning ordinance.

Jim Pulasky owner of the apartments on Maude Street complained of his water bill at the apartments. He asked for relief on his bill because a water softener valve stuck on his softener and it kept regenerating. Neilan Hoffman reported that a neighbor had a problem a few months ago and we gave him no relief. Clara Russell said she also had a problem with her water bill. Water committee will study the problem and report back.

Motion by Russell supported by Heck to approve bills as presented. Carried. The parks and recreation committee chairman, Barb Thompson made a recommendation to council to hire Sharon Mae Deering for the recreation director for the summer program. Motion by Hoffman supported by Fisher to hire Sharon Mae Deering for director. Carried.

Request to put land owned by Sophia Burzyck in public act 116 was tabled for one month until we check with the engineer on feasibility of the village doing anything with the land.

Marge Deming asked council to look into the property on Ewald Road because junk collection in the yard. Someone will check into the situation.

Pres. Haley said funding for rewriting and bringing the zoning ordinance up to date would take a year and he felt we did not have that sort of time. Motion by Heck supported by Russell to hire John Ferris to draw up a new ordinance for zoning. Carried. Ordinance committee will study the weed ordinance.

Walt Forster reported that the water tower was inspected and it last another three years before it has to be inspected again and a report will follow next month from the engineer. He also said that he estimated the cost of putting a walk way between Varty's and the Credit Union would cost approximately $3000.00. Motion by Russell supported by Heck that we adopt the project and have it pending for financial support. Carried.

Neilan Hoffman commended the police department on the work done with the county and state police on the recent arrest of persons connected with the murder in Huron County.

Harry Renn thanked council for the floral arrangement sent him while ill.

President Randy Haley announced his resignation as of May 2, 1984 as mayor because of other business obligations. He appreciated all the help he has received and feels Neilan Hoffman can handle the situation. He would like to see council review an administrator type situation for the village. He feels the village is headed in the right direction. Neilan Hoffman will step in the mayor seat and council will appoint someone to replace Neilan Hoffman as trustee. Mr. Hoffman stated he will take the position for one month and report back at the next meeting as to future plans. Clara Russell commended Randy on his job in the past two years.

Motion by Heck supported by Thompson to accept his resignation with regret. Carried. Adjourn at 9:35 p.m.

Randy Haley, President
Darlene R. Cinter, Clerk

PRESENTATION: Gov. Blanchard accepts a "bean box" of baked bean and bean soups made with Pigeon area beans from Co-op Elevator General Manager Ted Leipprandt, right. The Thumb Area grows more navy beans than any other area in the nation.

SUING UP: Cong. Traxler sports a Co-op cap as he dresses in coveralls for the tour of the Pigs-R-Us farrowing operation south of Pigeon. State Sen. Barcia, right, looks on. Pigs-R-Us can finish 7000 hogs per year when fully operational. The first group of hogs ready for market are due this July, spokesman Bob Bloomer said.

Something To Think About

JOHN A. CHAMPAGNE DIRECTOR

SPARING THE SURVIVORS

Sometimes people make arrangements which cause distress to their family. This is often the case when, after a sudden death, it is unexpectedly revealed that the decedent made plans, for example, to have his body donated to a medical school or cremated. It is of utmost importance that we - the living and healthy - make our wishes known to our families (and lawyers) and that we all have a last will prepared before illness or death occurs. In this way, the family will have an opportunity to express their views and any objections they might have, at a time when they are not emotionally distraught. A change of plans might, or might not, be effected, but at least the family will be apprised of our plans and have a chance to accept them. In this regard, it would be considered prudent to select a funeral home ahead of time and discuss these arrangements with the funeral director.

Search on for old state businesses

The Historical Society of Michigan is continuing its search for centennial businesses operating in the state. As a Bicentennial project in 1976, the society sponsored a contest to locate the oldest businesses in Michigan. Because of the enthusiastic response, the recognition of centennial businesses has been integrated into an ongoing program of the society.
According to Gordon L. Olson, president of the Historical Society of Michigan, the program was created to serve two purposes: to encourage Michigan's citizens to become aware of the state's rich business and industrial heritage, and to stimulate interest in preserving the state's important commercial and industrial history.
The society is especially interested in locating all businesses celebrating their centennial in 1984 and 1985. These businesses will be honored at local or state chamber of commerce meetings in conjunction with historical societies, Olson says.
Applications for centennial business certificates should include the complete business name, address and phone number, the name and title of the chief executive officer, documentation (or photocopies of documentation) of founding date and the name and address of the person submitting the application. Applications should be mailed to the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, MI 48104.

Stamp collecting winners named

Pigeon notes

Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Eidt of Sand Point attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Miss Cathy Ann Eidt and R.J. Kretschmer at the St. Trinity Lutheran Church in Clarkston and Saturday, April 28 the dinner following in the Fellowship hall.

The Eidts spent the weekend with Mrs. and Mr. William Parker in Clawson and helped their son, Rodney Parker, celebrate his 31st birthday with a dinner given by his parents in their home on Sunday.

Matt Wiese is honored

Matthew Wiese of Bay Port will be among two faculty members and two students at Northern Michigan University recognized for outstanding achievements at the Michigan Association of Governing Boards' (MAGB) Third Annual Awards Convocation scheduled for April 11 in East Lansing.

Wiese is president of the Associated Students of Students of NMU, the student governing body on campus.

Winners have been announced in the Benjamin Franklin Stamp Picture Program at Bay Port and Elkton Elementary Schools, as sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service. Each participating student in fourth, fifth and sixth grades drew pictures of his or her conception of a new commemorative stamp.

IN ELKTON, Postmaster Ed Bumhoffer recently acknowledged winners from Elkton Elementary School, as judged by Annette Brown and Ann Gorney, Elkton Post Office clerks.

Michelle Siemen and Michelle Kausch of Mrs. White's Fourth Grade and Meredith Gemmill and Trina Christner of Mrs. Kennedy's Sixth Grade were picked from the 36 total entries.

U.S. Stamp Collecting Kits were awarded for first and second best entries, and winning designs are on display in the lobby of the Elkton Post Office.

IN BAY PORT, winners of Stamp Collecting Kits as announced by Bay Port Postmaster Audrey Henne are: Jeff Horn, Sixth Grade; Dawn Swartzendruber in Fifth Grade, and Jim Niebel in Fourth Grade.

Honorable mention students in the three grades are Tracie Anderson, Kathy Bollenbacher, Tracie Henne, Ericka Sprague, Amy Terrian, Jodie Smith, Jeff Fritz and Jason Gaeth.

The postmasters wish to thank all children who participated, they say.

The U.S. Postal Service sponsors the Ben Franklin Stamp Clubs in schools and libraries across the country for elementary age students in grades three through seven. Benjamin Franklin Stamp Clubs began in 1974, and more than five million students have learned about stamp collecting through the groups since then.

There are about 50,000 Benjamin Franklin Clubs, named after the first U.S. Postmaster General in 1775, who was a leader in organizing the postal system.

Caseville Postmaster Jeanine Tait is serving as the 1983-84 Area Ben Franklin Club advisor, and has been instrumental in introducing students to stamp collecting information. Various stamp collecting kits priced from $2 to $17 are available at post offices and make great gift items for stamp hobbyists, the postmasters say.

Yahn is top bowler

Dody Yahn of Pigeon emerged as the top woman bowler in the Thumb area in last weekend's tournament to determine the Bowler of the Year. The roll-off at Biff's Bowling Bar in Kinde was sponsored by Thumb Area Women's Bowling Association.

A group of 42 bowlers qualified for the first round of elimination by either being named TAWBA Bowler of the Week or rolling a 550 or better series.

Yahn rolled a 778 four-game series in the first round and was seeded in the top spot in the four-person championship round after she recorded a 526 three-game series in the second round. The tournament was conducted on a scratch basis with no handicaps considered.

Fourth-seeded Nancy Gainer defeated Marilyn Smith and Bea Harwood before bowing to Yahn 145-148 in the championship game.

Four splits for Yahn during the championship game kept the scores lower than expected, the champion says.

Dody Yahn

Yahn carries a 167 average on the Miller High Life team at Pigeon Lanes. Pigeon Lanes will also house a traveling plaque for the year in recognition of Yahn's achievement.

Laker sluggers unbeaten in league

Laker batmen remain undefeated in the Thumb B Association with doubleheader wins over Cass City last Thursday and North Branch last Tuesday.

The Green and White baseballers had a perfect week spoiled on Saturday in the finals of the Huron County Baseball Tournament at the hands of North Huron.

Lakers advanced to the finals by defeating Caseville 9-5. They then ran out of gas in the championship game in a 9-5 defeat to North Huron.

"We were a little tired I think," says Laker coach Bill McLellan. He added top Laker pitcher Al Gies pitched 16 innings during the week.

Leonard Garza picked up the win on the mound for Lakers against Caseville in the semi-finals. Laker batters rapped 15 singles in the victory.

Jerry Winkler pounded a triple and Tony Seagraves added a double for the Eagles.

Al Gies got the loss to North Huron and received relief help from Ron Dubs.

No extra base hits were recorded by either team.

Cass City dropped a doubleheader to Lakers on Thursday by 8-4 and 9-8 scores.

Al Gies picked up both victories on the mound for Lakers. He relieved Garza in the first game and hurled a complete-game victory in the nightcap.

Jim Binder and Tim Patterson each rapped three singles in the first game. Garza pounded a home run, double and single, while Troy Dubey also hit a home run in the second game.

Lakers started the week with 15-1 and 9-3 victories over North Branch last Tuesday.

Garza pitched for the Laker win in the first game and Gies was the winning pitcher in the second contest. Jim Binder slugged a home run in the first game. Dave Cunningham, Garza and Dubey each tripled for Lakers in the second game.

Softball team loses 4 straight games

The Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port softball team will try to break a four-game losing streak this week, after dropping a pair of doubleheaders last week.

Cass City defeated Lakers 3-2 and 6-2 last Thursday, after North Branch topped the green and white squad 10-7 and 12-1 last Tuesday. In previous Thumb B action, Lakers split a pair of games with Bad Axe on April 28.

Against Cass City, Shelly Ginter was tagged with both losses while recording eight strike-outs for the day.

Lynda Brown hit a double for Laker's lone extra-base hit in the double header.

Errors proved costly against North Branch. Lakers committed nine miscues in the second game.

Kris Muentner pitched both games for Lakers.

Gina Mascorro belted a triple and Tammy Kretschmer and Jill Krohn each added a double, though Lakers managed only five total hits in both games against the Broncos.

Lakers recorded their only Thumb B win against Bad Axe by bouncing back from a 6-1 defeat in the first game to beat the Hatchets 9-5 in the nightcap.

Lynda Brown pounded a pair of triples and a single and Gina Mascorro also rapped a triple to pace Laker batters.

Following last week's action, Lakers have a 1-3 Thumb B record and a 3-8 overall mark.

#6 netters undefeated

Laker netters improved their state ranking to sixth in Class C and their overall record to 6-0 with a 7-0 shutout against Reese last Wednesday.

MATCH RESULTS

Singles - Brian Elston (L) over Marty Bailey 6-0, 6-0; Leonard Garza (L) over Aaron Ellsworth 6-0, 6-0; Dave King (L) over Traci Bernthal 6-0, 6-0; and Ken Hurley (L) over Karen Kearns 6-1, 6-1.

Doubles - Dale Killinger and Dave Voelker (L) over Angela Jones and Laura Isett 6-0, 6-0; Troy Weidman and Randy Heckman (L) over Rhonda Alex and Felicia Lugo 6-0, 6-0; and

T-ball teams plan first practice

THE DECLINE OF LAKER ATHLETICS

Up front, Laker athletic teams are winning but behind the scenes, the situation is quite the opposite. Athletes as individuals are losing the personal side of athletics — confidence, pride and the desire to play sports. Athletics are no longer being played just for competition or fun. Winning has now become the most important factor at any cost. Players on varsity, junior varsity and freshmen teams are being interchanged without regard for the individual player's feelings. This causes friction and jealousy among the students. It is also unfair to varsity players when JV players or vice versa, therefore denying a player the benefits of sports competition at his or her own level. Another example of misuse of athletes is the threat that if you don't play a certain sport, you can't play the other.

These are just a couple of reasons for the decline of the sports program at Laker. Students are being demoralized every day and are giving up the sports they love to play so much. Laker sports teams have worked so hard in the past to build to the dominance that we now enjoy.

We as a community need to take a closer look at our athletic programs and determine what has to be done to improve them. Laker's reputation in sports is a winning one and we all want it to stay that way, but not at the expense of our athletes.

This article was written at request of concerned fans, students and athletes.

Kids will be buzzing Thursday at Laker Spelling Bee!

Two dozen top spellers in grades 4-6 at Elkton, Pigeon and Bay Port Elementary Schools will compete in the fourth annual Laker Spelling Bee slated for Thursday night in the Laker Auditorium beginning at 7:30.

Spelling bee organizer Mike Lang of Elkton invites area residents to attend the event and support the youngsters as they exercise their special talents.

Last year's top speller was sixth grader Spencer Hamilton. Last year's top fifth grade speller Stephanie Pawloski and top fourth grader Amy Jeffers have qualified again this year to attempt to spell-down their classmates in the finals.

Arrangements were handled by Champagne Funeral Chapel, Elkton.

TRIVIA TIME

Here's this week's "TRIVIA TIME" quiz. How many unimportant - but fascinating - facts do YOU know?

1. What African capital is named for a U.S. president?
2. Who was the name of Sky King's niece?
3. What does A.F. stand for after the date in Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World"?
4. What planet did Viking I land on?
5. Who card game can feature dealer's choice?

(If you answered any 1 or 2 right, you're not very trivial. With 3 or 4 right, you pay some attention to the little things. If you got all 5 right, you're in top trivia training!)

Have you ever noticed how many unpainted barns there are around? Just stop and look, when you are driving around our area. Most of the barns haven't been painted for 15 years and more. Farming isn't paying THAT badly! Why not spruce up our area, farmers, even if you don't live on that farm?

Since the section of Pigeon that is closest to the Pigeon Elementary School seems to have electricity during our windstorm, why isn't it possible that a laundramat goes up out on Caseville

Laursen initiated into MTU honor society

Kevin J. Laursen, son of James C. and Frances B. Laursen of Pigeon, was recently initiated into the Phi Eta Sigma National Society at Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

Phi Eta Sigma is a national college scholastic honor society for freshmen. Students are able to become members at any time if they meet the eligibility requirements as freshmen in college.

Laursen, a 1983 graduate of Laker High School, is majoring in chemical engineering.

Road, for the people who need to do laundry for their families? I think this is a very smart choice. Something needs to be done about this. Thank you.

Three attorneys have Pigeon addresses, you the village keeps hiring an out-of-towner. Why is this? And why do we let it continue?

Dear M., as a friend of Andrea's, can't you see that she really likes you a lot? I hope you can see you really mean a lot to her.

To the Elkton Village Council: please ban the burning of leaves, branches, papers, etc. in the Village of Elkton. We do have a weekly garbage pickup. Hope the residents stop polluting the clean air we try to breathe.

To Mom in Caseville: a warm and funny Happy Mother's Day, from Breck and Sharon.

I sure wish Pigeon would get a senior citizen's apartment complex. The ones they have now are mostly occupied by young people. How about one of those for citizens 62 and over?

I would like to know why Pigeon bowling scores were not put in the May 2 Progress for the nights of April 23-24. I also think there should have been better coverage of the league champs.

There are too many drugs around today, both in booze and smokes plus even worse habits. Adults and teens have too much access to these things. And they should stop selling beer, wine and liquor too, but they won't because the government makes so much money off this junk. No wonder our kids are in trouble, if this is what our factories produce for them!

I for one think an airport in our area would be a good idea. Why do these people oppose it? The federal government will give the money to someplace else, and then this small place will be even worse off than it is. Too many of these complainers are too old to realize they're sending all our young people out of town because we have no special opportunities here for them. No wonder kids never come back here to live. Too many people discourage all progress.

I'm glad to see the harbor dredging starting. It will bring more fishermen here, so they can leave messes on my lawn and park on my grass. But at least they help our area to grow.

Her design was chosen by the Walleye Planning Committee from among several dozen entered, and Michelle wins a $50 U.S. Savings Bond -- and the first T-shirt produced. Her art teacher at Caseville High, Colleen Bednerek, right, helps display the award winner of a little fisherman with a big fish.

Runners up include Tom Bixman, Matt Kraus and Brian Pedler, all of Caseville, plus Brad Guigar of Bad Axe. All win T-shirts for their efforts.

The design will be displayed on T-shirts sold to promote the first local walleye tourney, which is expected to become an annual event.
