Spring millage vote likely

Lakers again eye tax hike

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

A millage increase this spring is the target of an organizational effort on the part of Laker Schools Administrators.

At Monday's regular meeting of the Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port Board of Education, Superintendent Harry Brunet, High School Principal James Ballard and Junior High Principal Fred Joles reported on activities of a management forum they are involved in. The administrators hope to use ideas from the forum to help build support for a millage increase proposal this spring.

"We're going to work very hard this school year at projecting a positive image," said Brunet.

"We feel very comfortable about what goes on at Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port Schools, but people have to become aware of our good points," he added.

Joles stated groups within and outside the school system are sought to promote the Laker district.

"We're working backwards from that (June) date, trying to get our ducks in a row," said Joles.

"We are entering an era of teacher shortage. Teacher salaries will be a prime consideration, and Thumb area teacher salaries must be competitive," Brunet said about the need for a millage increase.

TEST RESULTS: When state assessment test results are used as one basis for promotion to the next grade level or as a requirement for obtaining a high school diploma, students put forth more effort and district scores improve.

That finding was reported by High School Guidance Counselor Duane Guenther, Joles, and Elementary Principals Lyn Stahl and Ben Phillips as they reviewed results of the Michigan assessment tests administered to fourth, seventh and 10th grade students in September.

Test scores have stabilized for Laker sophomores after jumping dramatically after Board required students to pass the test to receive a diploma. So far 24 sophomores, four juniors and one senior have yet to pass the test, which can be retaken each semester, Guenther said.

"It's an easy test," Gunther told the Board and noted the 10th grade test covers sixth grade level material.

Joles noted requirement that seventh graders to pass before they receive promotion to eighth grade caused an improvement in results.

This is the first year the assessment test was used that way for seventh graders.

At the fourth grade level, an improvement in math scores was attributed to more teaching emphasis on

Your blood needed Monday in our area

Blood donors are reminded to put this Monday, Nov. 18 on their calendar, to give blood during American Red Cross drives in Elkton and Pigeon.

As usual, blood drives are being conducted from 2 to 7 p.m. at the Elkton Civic Center, and from 3 to 8 p.m. at the Pigeon VFW Hall.

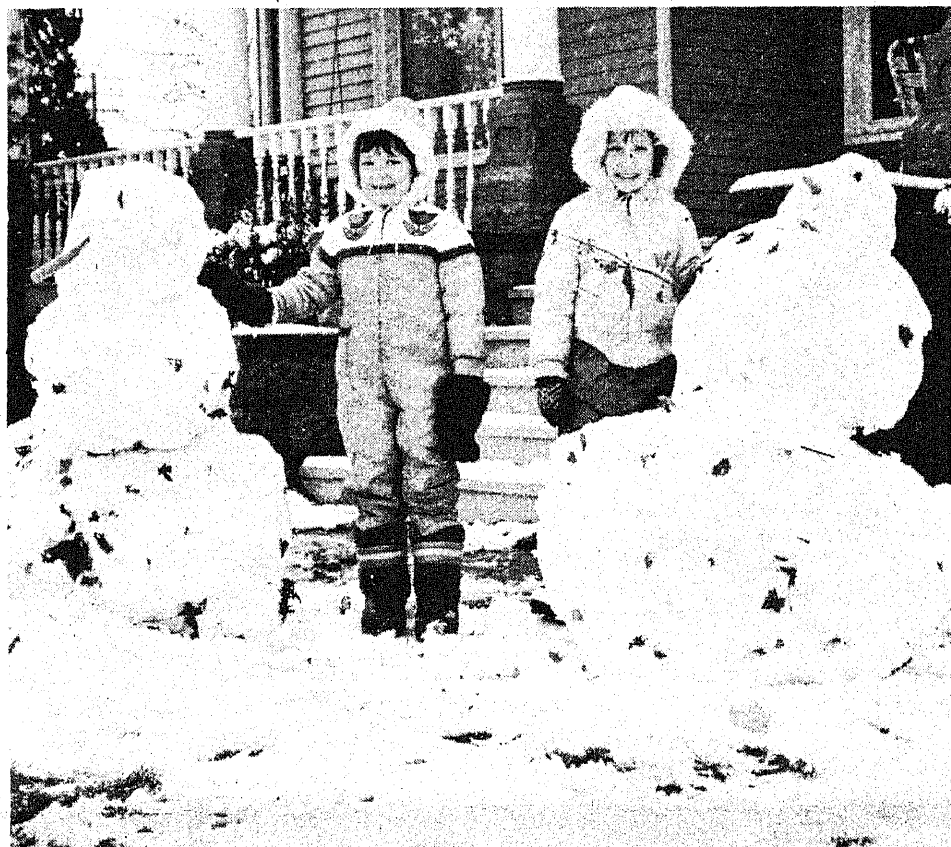

The hours for donating are shortened, due to cost cutbacks from the Red Cross, organizers say.

And, the Red Cross reminds donors, it is impossible to contract AIDS -- or any other disease -- by donating blood. Completely new needles, receiving tubes, bags and equipment are used for each giver and are used one-time-only, the Red Cross notes.

"The American Red Cross Wolverine Region... is seeking to set the record straight, says Dr. Willy Mueller, regional director. "Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) is not transmissible by donating blood," he says. Everything used in the donation process is entirely disposable.

"Every blood donation in the Wolverine Region is drawn by a Registered Nurse, thoroughly trained in the procedure."

Local blood donations need replenishing, due to lower summer contributions, and all persons able to give this Monday are asked to do so.

LET IT SNOW, LET IT SNOW, LET IT SNOW! The first snowfall in the Thumb area this fall provided the opportunity for plenty of children to practice their snow-sculpture skills. Among the first to display their snowmen on Pigeon's Michigan Avenue were Jason (left) and Jessica Seemann. They were anxious to display their handiwork to their mother at 8:30 a.m. last Saturday.

The snow sculptors are children of Rose and Phil Seemann.

NATIONAL POSTER WINNER: Jenny Henne of Bay Port, right, has been featured several times as a poster winner -- but here's her best effort yet.

The Laker Junior High student won this "National Poppy Plaque" for the Best Poster in Grades 6 & 7, Department of Michigan, sponsored by the American Legion.

Helen Strong, left, of Steele-Lambert American Legion Post No. 533, shows the plaque while Miss Henne displays the winning poster, "There is peace in strength and strength in giving." She was picked as Michigan's winner this summer and is the daughter of Dennis and Jan Henne, Bay Port.

Huron Dairy Team places third in U.S.!

LOUISVILLE, KY — The Michigan Dairy Bowl Quiz team, which hails from Huron County, Michigan, and is coached by Mrs. Lillian Gremel, Sebawaing dairywoman, won 3rd place in the North American International Dairy Quiz Bowl at the North American International Livestock Expo held over the past weekend at the Kentucky Fair Exposition Center. There were 18 state champion teams in the competition.

Mrs. Gremel, who has been coaching dairy quiz bowl teams for 7 years, together with Andy Sommers, Huron dairy extension agent, took a team of 4 with one alternate to the competition. Mrs. Gremel's team has 3 members who are 15 years of age, and the other 2 are 16.

Winsor water control efforts pick up steam

Pigeon Village Council members handled two matters concerning use -- and possible abuse -- of the Thumb Area's underground water supply at Monday's regular monthly meeting.

All eight Council members, plus Village Supt. and Clerk Bob Brown, Jr., signed a "Statement of Concern" about maintaining "the quality and quantity of water available to us as residents of the Village of Pigeon." Plus, members agreed to meet with a newly-forming area water authority which may build a system using Lake Huron water to serve local communities and possible farmland irrigation.

"WATER CONTROL:" Council members all signed a petition from the "Water Control Supporters" of Winsor Township, noting the entire area shares a genuine concern for water quality and availability in the area.

We "deplore any attempt by individuals and/or corporations, to in any way inhibit the supply and/or potability of our Village water supply, by alteration of their water usage habits," the statement from the unnamed group reads.

"Up until this point in time, we as residents of the Village, have not suffered any financial losses directly attributed to the exploitation of our underground water supply, but we are keenly attuned to the potential damage which could occur to the Village water supply if current practices elsewhere in the township were allowed to continue. Reparation for such damage would be a definite consideration, should that damage occur in the future," the statement concludes.

WATER AUTHORITY: Council agreed to attend a meeting planned sometime in the next two months by the Huron County Economic Development Corporation. That group is "exploring the possibility of an area water authority which could build and operate a plant to service villages or cities in the area, and possibly provide service to the proposed farmland irrigation system on the west side of the county," according to a letter from Ralph Iden, EDC director.

Council members noted the $870,000 water system now under construction in Pigeon could be adversely impacted if ground water supplies are depleted.

The EDC letter notes, "Communities relying on wells are encountering a variety of problems, which, in some cases, may be prompting a look at new wells, pumping and treating facilities or other sources." Iden notes he has spoken with individuals in the Caseville and Pigeon areas about such a pipeline, possibly running south toward Pigeon along the former Grand Trunk Railway tracks, plus State Rep. Dick Allen.

Youngsters are banner winners!

The Pigeon Elementary School's Safety Patrol Squad has been named winner of the annual banner contest at the AAA-sponsored safety patrol rally at Central Michigan University on Saturday, Nov. 2.

More than 2500 safety patrol members from all over Michigan attended the rally which included admission to the CMU-Miami (Ohio) football game. As winners of the banner contest, Pigeon Elementary received a travelling plaque on which the name of the Thumb area school will be added to those of previous winners. The Pigeon safety patrol is made up of sixth graders, with teacher Mike Gehrs as sponsor.

Pigeon news

By DOROTHY DIENER
The Townliners Extension group will meet Monday, Nov. 18 with Mrs. Harvey Weiss.

Mrs. Cletus Cregeur enjoyed a Tuesday dinner with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ann Cregeur in Bad Axe. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Otto attended the Holy Baptism of Renee Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Auernhamer at St.

Lorenz Lutheran Church, Frankenmuth. Sponsors were Don Guenther of Purdue University, John Auernhamer, Edwin and Susan Knoll. The Auernhamers entertained family members and sponsors at Zehnders for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartman spent Thursday with his sister, Mrs. Frances McCormick in Caseville. Pastor and Mrs. Ernst Henkelmann were Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Crane in Saginaw.

Parents-teachers meet at Lakers

Laker High School will be holding parent-teacher conference times on two nights this week. Meetings are planned this Wednesday (tonight), Nov. 13 and Thursday, Nov. 14 from 6:30 to 9 p.m., according to Laker High Principal Jim Ballard.

All high school teachers will be available to meet with parents to discuss how students are doing in their classes, and to help with the students' plans after high school, Ballard says.

Though parents are free to come either night, the school suggests parents with last names beginning with the letters A-L attend Wednesday, and parents with last names starting with M-Z come Thursday. Student report cards for the first nine-week marking period have been mailed to parents, who should be receiving them prior to the conferences, Ballard says. Laker High students will be dismissed at 11 a.m. on Thursday and Friday, he adds.

ELKTON WOMANS' CIVIC CLUB

An old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner featured the November meeting of the Elkton Womens' Civic Club Thursday evening.

Group singing of the Prayer of Thanksgiving preceded the dinner, arranged by committee members Mrs. Alvin Taylor, Mrs. Mervin Snider, Joy Lutz and Mrs. Ruby Ewald. Mrs. Della Trudgeon, in charge of the program, spoke on "The First Thanksgiving," read several poems and prayers relative to the theme.

Each member introduced their guest for "Guest Night."

A Country Christmas will highlight the Dec. 5 meeting at the home of Mrs. Mervin Snider. Mrs. Keith Carr will be program coordinator.

LUCKY HORSESHOE 4-H CLUB

The Lucky Horseshoe 4-H Club meeting was held Nov. 4 at the Elkton Civic Center.

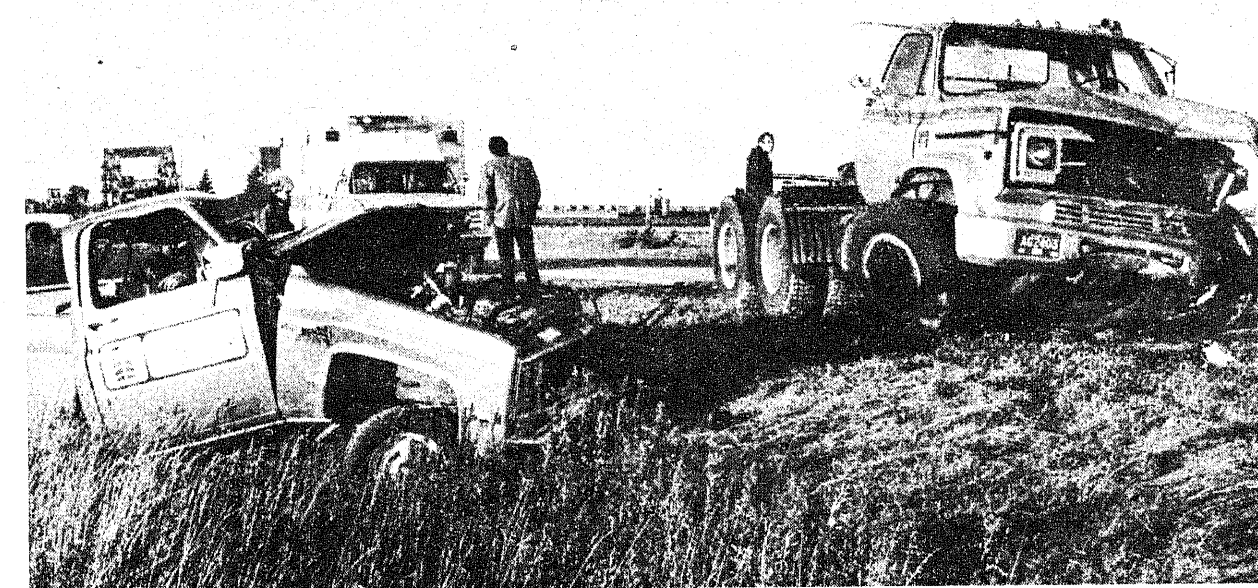

The election of officers included: President Bonnie Kropp, Vice President Michael Keefer, Secretary Trina Gaskill, Treasurer Lisa Gaskill and Historian Marilyn Kranz.

The 1986 enrollment forms were filled out. The next meeting will be Dec. 2 at the home of Lisa Gaskill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rupprecht, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, sang several duets. The group sang a traditional favorite, "Over the River and Through the Woods."

FATAL ACCIDENT: Gary D. Tetreau, 32, of Cass City was killed when the pickup he was driving was struck head-on by a semi-tractor driven by Daryl Elenbaum, 34, of Pigeon. The accident occurred at 4:30 p.m. last Thursday on Caseville Road, three miles south of Pigeon.

Huron Sheriff Deputies say Elenbaum was northbound when his semi-tractor came in contact with the rear of a southbound semi-tractor trailer driven by Ross Voelker, 28, of Pigeon. Elenbaum's tractor then spun around and crashed with the Tetreau pickup, which was following Voelker.

Tetreau was pronounced dead on arrival at Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon after being freed from the wreckage with the "Jaws of Life," operated by Huron Sheriff Deputies. Elenbaum was treated and released at Scheurer Hospital while Voelker was uninjured.

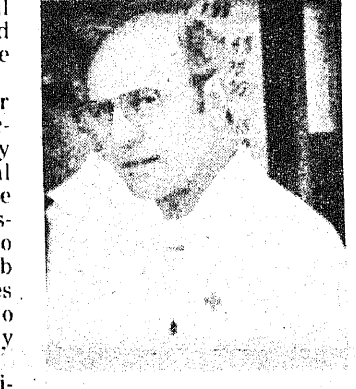

Pigeon firemen were called to the scene due to gasoline leaking from the damaged vehicles. Tetreau is the 11th Huron County traffic fatality of the year. An investigation of the accident is continuing. RICH SWARTZENDRUBER PHOTO

Diebel: I won't run again

Pigeon Village President Norris Diebel plans to step down from the post he's held 11 years. Diebel said Monday night he does not expect to again run for the Village President's seat when his term comes up early next year. He was elected in 1974, after winning his first Council seat in 1971. "It's not now my intent to again seek office," he announced, indicating Council has a number of qualified members who could assume the seat. Nominating petitions for all Council seats up for election at the February Primary and March General Elections are available through 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 17, according to Village Supt. and Clerk Bob Brown, Jr. About 18 names are needed on petitions to qualify for the Primary Election.

NAME-DROPPING -- Here we go again, looking around our Western Thumb!

Judy Niebel may soon be driving the area's most-wanted automobile. She qualified last week as one of 96 "key winners" who may start up a new $28,000 red Chevy Corvette, to be awarded in December by WHNN-FM Radio in Saginaw-Bay City. She was listening to the station and was the proper caller -- edging out co-worker Erma Hamilton at Pigeon Telephone Company in the process. Judy promises she'll give Erma a free ride, though. She turned down $196 -- but wasn't even offered up to $996 like some of the callers for the promotion.

And, Judy knows all about winning. She won $600 and a videotape recorder earlier this year from 96-FM, proving it pays (her) to listen!

How about Gary Newman of Elkton? Word buzzing around our area Monday said he had been one of the two state people to match all eight numbers in Saturday's Lotto drawing. It should be worth a million bucks, right?

Yes and no. Winning Saturday's Lotto game WOULD have been worth more than a million -- but Gary didn't win it. "I wish it was true, but it's not," he told Rich Swartzendruber when contacted.

At least we tried to get the story...
Yes, I know we talk about food and drink often here. But did you know Cherry Coke is already selling 4% of all soft drinks being sold? That's a billion dollars a year! Cherry Pepsi will be out later this month, and Cherry RC and Cherry RC Diet are coming out, too. A diet version of Cherry Coke is being considered too (which I'm glad to hear...)

Speaking of food, did you hear that the famous Ginsu Knives have "cut" their last deal? The Dial Media parent firm is in receivership. Ginsu Knives were featured in late-night TV ads cutting through tree limbs, steel nails and other items while staying sharp. The company also had Miracle Slicer, the Miracle Painter and other off-beat and unique items for sale...

BUILDING STORIES -- I chatted with Vernon Swartzendruber for a moment Saturday, who did what lots of folks have done in my eight years here (he called me "Walt," after my Dad...which I take as a compliment of course). Anyway, Vernon told me he had known my Dad when Vernon and others were building the Baur Building (immediately west of The Progress-Advance Building) in 1948, and my Dad was in his early years as the third owner of this business. Former P-A owner George Hartman built our structure after the war, but I didn't know much else about the "neighborhood" then (since my "edition addition" didn't appear until 1949).

Huron Casting seeks expansion $ aid

Huron Casting, Inc., of Pigeon is seeking 12 years of property tax abatements for its $687,000 expansion project being planned.

Pigeon Village Council will set a public hearing on the request, probably at the Dec. 9 regular monthly meeting. Included at the steel foundry are additional molding facilities, plus a sand reclamation system.

More storage space for hot castings and supplies are planned, in the 100-ft. by 178-ft. size expansion. Two smaller additions, one 30-ft. by 50-ft. and the other 36-ft. by 51-ft. are planned.

Company President Leroy Wurst says 10 new jobs would be added in the proposal.

WAR MEMORIES: Nearly 300 people gathered Monday afternoon in Bay Port to remember those who died in world war conflicts from our area, in recognition of Veteran's Day. Bay Port American Legion Post and Auxiliary was in charge of the year's county parade, and Post Commander Kris Gamka, left, received a state citation on behalf of the Post from State Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City), second from left. World War I veteran Deland DeWitt of Caseville and WWII veteran (and Monday's chaplain) John Champagne of Pinnepog.

Thumb Weekly News Round-Up

WATCH FOR "HIGHWAY DEER"

Some people will likely bag a deer before or after firearm hunting season starts Friday, state Department of Natural Resources experts say. More than 26,400 car-deer accidents occurred in 1984 statewide, and 1259 persons were injured while $43 million in property damages were reported. Huron County recorded 99 deer killed on roads last year, while Tuscola had 96 such accidents in 1984. Actually, more deer were hit by cars last year, but DNR records only show deer kills. Michigan has about 500,000 deer at this time. About 25,000 have been bagged during bow and arrow season began in early October.

SHAW ORBITS THANKSGIVING

Most local folks will have both feet on the ground during the big Thanksgiving meal later this month, but not Cass City native Brewster Shaw, Jr. His Thanksgiving Day feast will be enjoyed above the earth, during the second day of the seven-day space mission which the astronaut commander will lead Nov. 27. This is Shaw's second Thanksgiving Day flight, in fact, after his first orbiting trip in 1983, which ended Dec. 8. This trip, he and six other crew members will fly the Atlantis shuttle on its second flight. As commander of this journey, Shaw will be responsible for the entire flight -- including landing the Atlantis.

LAKE HURON "SUB" WORK

For the first time ever, the depths of Lake Huron will be surveyed next summer by an underwater research vessel. The 176-foot-long Seward Johnson -- with the Johnson Sealink II battery-powered submarine -- will begin a month-long lake dive, thanks to a $500,000 grant from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Findings from Lake Superior in last summer's dives will be compared in northern Lake Huron, including census of deep-water fish populations, analyses of marine life and movement of water-borne chemicals near the lake bottom. Primary diving areas will be from Alpena to Cheboygan, according to Michigan State University Zoology Department Chairman William Cooper.

HALFWAY THROUGH BUDGET

Sanilac County Commissioners have cut $375,000 from the county's 1986 spending plan, but still must reduce spending again as much to erase an anticipated $750,000 budget deficit. Contributions to the county employ retirement fund were reduced this year, $100,000 was trimmed from the Sheriff's Department budget request and four other areas were reduced for the new fiscal year beginning Jan. 1. No employ layoffs are expected yet, but they may be necessary to achieve the remaining $375,000 in needed cuts, says County Administrator John Dean.

AGING GROUP STILL FIGHTS

Sanilac County plans to continue withholding funds from the Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA), several of Sanilac's five county Commissioners say, and TACA Executive Director Robert Brown says he will be dismissed for his handling of recent business. The county is withholding its most-recent $20,000 payment because TACA opened a new senior citizen meal site in Sandusky over county objections. The new facility, with rent costing $950 per month, replaces nearly-free use of Sandusky High's cafeteria. Sanilac considered pulling out of the three-county TACA (also including Huron and Tuscola counties) last month, but is considering asking the TACA Board to fire Brown. No formal action has been taken.

TRAXLER AIDE VISITS

A staff aide to U.S. Rep. Bob Traxler (D-Bay City) will be in Sebewaing, Bad Axe and Harbor Beach next Thursday to discuss problems and concerns with constituents. Hours for the Nov. 21 visit are 10 to 11 a.m. at the Harbor Beach City Hall, 1 to 2:30 p.m. at the Commissioners' Room in the Court House in Bad Axe and from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Sebewaing Village Hall.

CASS CITY SCHOOL WOES

Cass City Public School Board members meet will meet Monday to discuss how to remove asbestos ceiling tiles in hallways and classrooms in Campbell Elementary School. The asbestos -- commonly used in ceiling tiles in such schools built in the mid-1950s -- has been found to be cancer-causing if inhaled. The Environmental Protection Agency found a sprayed-on ceiling material at the school contained 10% asbestos. It may require repainting or removal, officials say. About 20% of all schools in the Midwest have some asbestos somewhere in their buildings, EPA officials say.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

Recent pleas and judgments determined in the court of Huron County District Judge John Schubel include:
Richard Larson, 18 of Lapeer, pled guilty to turving (malicious destruction of property), following an Oct. 15 incident at Unionville-Sebewaing High School; ordered to pay $150 fines and costs and make $200 restitution. A 30-day jail term was deferred until July 1.
David Hale, 27 of Bad Axe, pled guilty to disturbing the peace, following a Nov. 1 incident at a tavern in Owendale; fined $100 plus costs.
Richard Osentoski, 22 of Pigeon, pled guilty to creating a disturbance, following a July 25 incident at a Caseville motel; fined $150 plus costs.
Steven Renn, 19 of Owendale, pled guilty to simple larceny, related to an Oct. 9 incident involving 35 pumpkins in Oliver Township; ordered to make $11.67 restitution.
Vernon Law, 19 of Sebewaing, pled guilty to larceny under $100, in connection with an Oct. 29 incident at a Sebe-

As we see it editorially

What will 1995 farms look like?

We've all seen and heard a great deal about troubles on the American Farm these days. Some of this knowledge is being gained first-hand, which is unfortunate. Some is befalling friends, neighbors or relatives — and no end is in sight for low crop prices, high U.S. dollar trading costs and overabundant amounts of commodities already in storage.

Now, a recent U.S. Department of Agriculture survey provides more bad news for farmers — just what's not needed. In a study of 1.7 million of the nation's 2.3 million farms, operators of 214,000 farms are unable to meet expenses, debts and family living costs. Some will refinance their accumulating debts, and many will go bankrupt.

But a growing number will find off-farm work to survive, meaning that many more acres of land will either go out of production or away from the family farm concept we've nurtured since the beginning of our nation.

It's certainly a commentary on our times. And it's certainly an unhappy one. What can be done, if anything?

As farmers stop their work, local economies suffer — implement sales, repair companies, even down to clothes, hard goods and food sales, too. This summer, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska started special job-training programs for displaced farmers.

Hundreds of farm men and women are learning mechanics, secretarial skills, service jobs and others. Nebraska hired rural high school students in minimum-wage public jobs, to help meet their families' living expenses.

Farm state officials admit no amount of money will cure this new strain of The Grapes of Wrath, so reminiscent of the 1930s. But something must be done, since most of the displaced farmers are middle-aged and don't know anything other than farming, farming, farming.

Many farmers want to stay close to home, but few jobs remain in the depressed rural areas around them. Some must commute for 80 miles or more to find abundant jobs — if any are available.

Most would prefer staying close to home, but that's not where the jobs are. And no amount of money will be truly adequate — Nebraska is spending $1.3 million in job-training programs, but that amount will aid barely 600 people.

We're certainly better off here in the Thumb than are those more Midwest states. We have a better crop rotation and more diversity than they do, plus many local farms have been in the same families for several mortgage-paying generations.

But all is not bright or profitable on local farms either. We're all familiar with farmers who are selling out, sub-leasing land or participating in more and more government diversion programs. We're hoping some good comes from Gov. Blanchard's "farm crisis seminars" next week in Flint. Farmers need some good news.

A way must be found to sell more commodities, which are needed throughout the world. Taxes must not bite too hard, and finally, efficiency and reason must rule the financing of farms, too.

It's true that all farmers eat, but not all persons who eat are farmers. And if we all want to keep eating as well as we've become accustomed — and if we want to continue being able to feed the world — our farms must be healthy, if not wealthy.

Let's hope farms 10 years from now are in better shape than they are now. Because, if farmers today can see no better life in 1995 than they do in 1985, too many of them may change occupations — and we'd all lose, especially here in our rural Thumb Area.

A spirit of confusion

It has become evident to everyone who has an ear to listen that there exists what I call a spirit of confusion in the area. I suspect that are communities are not unique in this and that confusion thrives virtually everywhere else. But it seems expedient to identify this confusion and expose it for what it is.

Probably the most immediate example of confusion is when someone expresses an opinion. In such cases we often find that people disagree with the opinion by attacking not only the opinion but also the person who gave the opinion. The Sound-off column and other response sections of this paper contain some examples of people who seem to be incapable of rebutting an opinion without taking a potshot or two at the person who had the opinion. The inability to separate the issue from the person is succumbing to the spirit of confusion — we are confused as to the target of our anger.

Recently it was good for me as a pastor to be on the other end of a sermon for a change. I discovered the normal response of people under conviction — if you can't discredit the message, then discredit the person giving the message. I found myself doing precisely that. But the problem was not with the pastor. The problem was with me.

This is good teaching for any community. When someone discredits someone else, it should be obvious to those around who have an ear to listen that the problem most likely is with the person doing the discrediting. If the discrediting had any validity to it, then why is it not being told to the person in question so that things can be done about it?

I believe there are three primary reasons why people are tempted to discredit to everyone except the person in question. First is the obvious reason that the discreditor has an error to it and such error would be exposed if told to the person in question. The second reason is fear that the person in question would get defensive and bite back at the person offering the opinion. The third reason is that some people actually find enjoyment in hearing other people's problems. There seems to be a habitual bent toward feeling good over the bad in others.

What can be done to help curb this spirit of confusion? I suspect there are many things that can help, but I would like to offer only one. That one suggestion is to establish an understanding of the basic commitment or driving force in a person's life before formulating any opinions about what that person said or did.

The driving force or the basic commitment in a person's life may not be what first appears. A good example comes from child rearing. When I was a youngster and did something wrong, my dad firmly applied the hand of experience to my seat of understanding. (I got spanked but good.) A natural reaction after such discipline would be to rebel and resent dad for such action. Except that I knew very well the driving force or commitment in my dad's life. He loved his kids. Because of that love, dad could not stand around and let his kids grow up undisciplined. So he offered guidelines, opinions, spankings, correction, you name it.

Much of this I could not understand at the time. All I could understand in many cases was the pain and frustration of having to go through all this. Except that I also understood the basic driving force or commitment in dad's life. And with that I accepted the rest as being for my own good.

Confusion disappears when basic motives are understood. I find when people criticize things I say and do, the basic reason is not so much what I said and did, but the basic reason for the criticism is that the people are confused as to whether I really love them or not. If they really and firmly believed that I loved them, then confusion would disappear. Then things that could get interpreted several ways would always get interpreted correctly (in the positive). Any error I did or said (heavens, nobody is perfect) would always come to be before it went elsewhere so that it could be corrected.

Ok. Confusion would be avoided if people knew I really loved them. How do I get people to really believe I love them? Good question.

Life is filled with things we have control over and things we have no control over. We can love people (something we have control over) but we cannot make people believe we love them. So we concentrate on things we can control.

I find that the best way of displaying love to people is to love God. People know that scripturally it is impossible to love God and not love people. That is because we are talking about a love that demands all of heart, soul, mind and strength... a solid driving force for life. And when people see I love God, then they can accept I love them much more readily.

I feel good when people say, "You know, some people may disagree with you, but no one can deny that you love the Lord!"

And people need to know that. You see, my life is a calling to spend time going out on a limb here and there at times. I do not enjoy the risks this demands — criticism and misinterpretation of motives — but this is my calling because it is out on the limbs where the fruit is.

RECOLLECTIONS OF By-Gone Days
By GEORGE KEIM

In one of your back issues, it said G.V. Black bought the wood novelties factory in Pigeon. It had been built as a buggy factory, but buggies were going out and so it never made out.

It was a three-story building and stood back where the Telephone Building is now, and where Shetler Plumbing has a warehouse now, on Nitz Street. Before my time, it was used as a basketball court that was on one floor. Once they had a roller skating rink there.

When Black started his store there, he used the first two stories for store business and the top floor for storage. He had groceries, hardware, clothing, shoes and notions. One man said his wife gets enough foolish notions without going to Black's for them!

He used to go all over buying stuff from insurance companies that had fires. He'd buy the whole stock and of course get a lot of damaged stuff, but there were often many good things among them, too.

He would have the grocery department in one part of the store once, and the next time you came in, the hardware department was there — and the groceries were somewhere else!

So, while you were looking for one thing, you'd see lots of other items to buy. Black put somebody in charge of a department and gave his workers commission on whatever they sold. And if he could get more than Black asked for it, he could keep it.

Some of Black's clerks hired other people to work for them, and that way he didn't have to hire so many clerks and still have a lot of good help.

People came from all over to buy from him, and people could order by mail and he'd send it to them. He'd sell you a pair of shoes and give you another pair of old shoes that were out of style free. His men's suits were cheaper than other store's, and everything else was cheaper, too.

In the winter time, on Saturday night, the people were all dressed in their winter clothes and he could turn the heat way down and it was still warm.

We kids liked to go to the candy department. For a penny, we could get quite a bit of candy. Sometimes it was all melted together, and they had to use a hammer to get it apart, but it still was good.

P.S. Last Friday night we went to North Branch and saw a real nice crowd of people there from their town. Seven cheerleaders, and that team gave our girls not only a spanking but a good lickin'! Oh well, better luck next time.

A Laker fan,

Elkton group plans for the future

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER
Looking to the future, Elkton Council approved the creation of an Economic Planning Committee at last Tuesday's regular meeting.

Between eight and 10 people from the village are being sought to serve on the committee. Council also received suggestions from Gary Osminski of K. Don Williamson and Associates of Harbor Beach, which serves as the village engineering firm for Elkton. Osminski recommended Council create a promotional pamphlet outlining what Elkton has to offer.

"Basically you're trying to market your community — trying to sell it," said Osminski. He suggested establishing some policies regarding tax breaks and other incentives to have available to any business or industry that might possibly build or expand in Elkton.

Elkton could also apply for grants from the Michigan Department of Commerce. Grants are available to conduct studies for potential projects and others are designed to aid municipalities improve their facilities if new jobs are created. Osminski added.

MAP WORK: Council also was shown a street map of Elkton drawn up by the Williamson firm, which could include present zoning in the village. Other maps could be constructed at additional cost to show water mains, storm sewers and other such features.

Osminski was instructed by Council to create a map showing only present zoning, for the Council Zoning Committee to study in preparation for approving the new zoning code proposed by village attorney John Ferris of Bad Axe.

TAXES IN: Elkton Treasurer Dennis Learman reported 1985 summer property taxes for village operations have been collected by the village. Of the $150,820 to be collected, $134,944 was paid and $15,875 was delinquent.

Under the new collection system, the county immediately reimburses the village for the delinquent taxes. Learman was paid $1508 in administration fees fractions which was a recommendation of the Elementary Curriculum Review Committee two years ago.

SEX ED STUDIED: An advisory committee of 33 people representing the Board, administration, teachers, parents and clergy in the Laker district met Nov. 6 to begin the process of creating a sex education curriculum for the district, according to board member Virginia Leipprandt who spoke for the committee. The group was broken down into sub-committees to study elementary, middle grades and high school levels of the program.

Leipprandt noted the new sex ed curriculum will follow all state guidelines, be thoroughly studied before being approved and be totally voluntary on the part of parents.

DEBATE ENDING: Brunet said communication with Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelly's staff suggests the 11-year-old debate over the 1975 and 1976 transfer of property from Owendale-Gagetown to the Laker

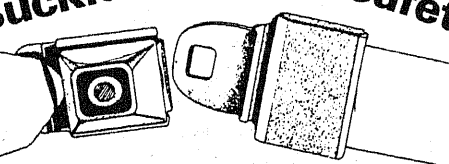

District is nearing an end. Many appeals by the Owen-Gage district over the years has resulted in a Michigan Supreme Court decision to uphold the decision the State Board of Education to allow the petitioners to transfer to the Laker district. Brunet said he expects the Attorney General to rule the case closed sometime in December.

The land owners who requested the transfer were unhappy with the facilities at Owen-Gage when they petitioned for the change, and were frustrated when voters in the district voted down bond issues for a new high school building, Brunet said. Since that time transfers have not been requested because the new school was later constructed.

Brunet added the landowners involved in the transfer are happy to be in the Laker district and want to remain there.

BUS SALE: Board accepted $4,056 bid from Frank Meadow's Used Buses of Mt. Airy, North Carolina for each of two 1978 diesel school buses.

Pigeon District LIBRARY CORNER

CHILDRENS' BOOK WEEK

Break the monotony of the usual routine at home and bring the family to the Pigeon District Library to meet Jam Cat during Childrens' Book Week, Nov. 11-17.

Jam Cat is a fluid, footloose, tiger, a with-it, hip kind of character who lends animation, zest and fun to reading.

The slogan, "Break for Books" will be used during the week, relating to breakdancing, the popular dancing phenomenon sweeping people of all ages off their feet (and onto their heads, shoulders and backs).

Each time a child, preschool through sixth grade, visits the library during the week and checks out at least four books, they may register to win one of two grand prizes on Saturday, Nov. 16.

To register, just answer a question about tigers, using the books on a special table. There will be a different question for each day of the week. The more times you register, the better chance you have to win a prize. Winners will be notified by phone, so one doesn't need to be present to receive a prize. Bookmarks are available for each child who registers, as long as the supply lasts.

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

A Parents' Coffee Hour will be conducted on Tuesday, Nov. 19 for parents, grandparents or babysitters who bring children to Preschool Story Hour.

Bluewater Youth for Christ Director Dwight Gascho of Pigeon will present a program on BYPCD and plans a special event.

The two programs will begin at 9:20 and 10:50 a.m.

Who's Afraid of the Dark? "Mrs. Simkin's Bed" and "The Night Light" are the featured stories, and activities will include "Going to Bed" and "Johnny's Hammer" fingerplays, exercises, songs and a game.

All area preschoolers are invited to attend Story Hour at the library each Tuesday morning at 9 or 10:30 a.m.

PARENTS' COFFEE HOUR

A Parents' Coffee Hour will be conducted on Tuesday, Nov. 19 for parents, grandparents or babysitters who bring children to Preschool Story Hour.

Bluewater Youth for Christ Director Dwight Gascho of Pigeon will present a program on BYPCD and plans a special event.

The two programs will begin at 9:20 and 10:50 a.m.

CIRCULATION REPORT

October circulation statistics at the library show 6,150 pieces of library material were borrowed, an increase of 1,104 over a year ago.

Last month patrons checked out 1,616 adult books, 643 junior books, 1,567 childrens', 153 toys, 2,149 videotapes, nine 16mm films and 14 pieces of audio-visual equipment.

Patrons paid $204.30 for copy machine use and $100.95 in overdue book fines.

Ten Preschool Story Hour sessions were conducted Tuesday mornings with 408 children attending. Jessica Weidman and Robin Rathje celebrated birthdays and each received a birthday crown. Two Saturday Story Hour sessions were conducted with 17 in attendance.

Thirty-one new patrons completed library cards, including seven from Winsor, six from Oliver, five each from Fair Haven and Caseville, two from Chandler, one each from McKinley, Grant, Mead, Verona, Lake Townships and one from outside the local area.

GM aids Caseville educators

SCIENCE FILMS - From left, Barbara Quinn and Jan Watts of Caseville Public School receive the first copy of "Science Screen Report" from John Maciarz representing General Motors Public Relations.

Huron County students will benefit from a new series of science films recently produced by General Motors Corporation. "Science Screen Report," a monthly film series is provided by GM to students throughout the state, and to Huron County students through the Huron Regional Education Media Center (REMC) located in Cass City.

The 13-minute programs and accompanying lesson planning guides, produced in cooperation with the National Science Teachers Association, are designed to stimulate interest in science-related fields, GM spokesmen say.

Caseville Public School teachers Barbara Quinn and Jan Watts recently attended a meeting in Cass City with REMC Director Don Richards and GM Public Relations Assistant Manager for Michigan Region John Maciarz, when a sample copy of "Science Screen Report" was presented by the GM official. Because science will play such an important role in the backgrounds of future GM employees and customers, Maciarz says it is appropriate for GM to assist educators in emphasizing the importance of science-related studies.

Initiation for Beta Chi

Evelyn Conkright, a North Huron teacher, was initiated into membership of Beta Chi Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority for Women Educators on Oct. 29 at the Garfield Inn, Port Austin, where members gathered for dinner before the initiation.

Mrs. Conkright joins 22 other Huron County teachers, both retired and active, who make of the Beta Chi Chapter of this international organization.

"Hopefully, this effort will help make students aware of some of the challenges ahead as they enter fields of study for tomorrow's opportunities," Maciarz noted. Starting in October of 1986, the eight presentations will be distributed through REMC and will become a permanent addition to the media center's library.

Rural ROUND-UP

A weekly briefing of news and information of interest to Thumb Farmers

Top o' the week...

4-H HONORS: More than 140 4-H leaders and guests attended last Tuesday's annual Huron County 4-H Leaders Banquet in Bad Axe, to honor and recognize supporters.

Honored for years of service as 4-H leaders were: 20 YEARS: Eileen Tait of Caseville, and Harold Gromel, Jr., of Sebawaing;

15 YEARS: Carol Diener of Pigeon, and 10 YEARS: Cyndy Rathje and Pam Roestel, both of Pigeon, and

FIVE YEARS: Don Roestel and Peggy Roestel, of Pigeon, Jim Warren and Joyce Warren, both of Caseville, and Linda Zarnke, of Elkton.

Special recognition was given to Cooperative Elevator Company of Pigeon, Elkton Co-op Farm Produce Company and Gattel's - John Deere, for service to 4-H in the past year, according to Huron County Extension Director Bob Johnson.

Ami Rathje of Pigeon was elected to a one-year term on the Huron County 4-H Council, as a teen member. Lisa Gaskill of Owendale was master of ceremonies, to direct the evening.

OAK BEACH 4-H: A new 4-H club for youth interested in photography, bowling, fishing and wood-working is being organized in the Oak Beach area, between Caseville and Port Austin.

Any young people between ages of nine and 19 are eligible to join the group. Interested persons should contact Huron County Extension Director Bob Johnson in Bad Axe at 269-9949 or Ruth Rabe of Port Austin at 856-3506 by Nov. 20.

SILOS DOWN: Eleven years after they were found to be contaminated with PCBs, the two concrete silos on Dale Schulz's farm just southeast of Pigeon have finally been torn down and removed to a proper landfill in Buffalo, N.Y.

Removal took about two weeks, and Schulz says he plans to refill the silo area and apply a concrete layer on top. His brother Ronald Schulz's silos were removed earlier, and state agriculture officials are more than half finished with the original four-year $6 million silo removal program begun in November, 1983.

The state is buying, dismantling and disposing of all PCB-affected silos identified in Michigan, including about 15 in the Thumb. The area's most well-known silos, owned by Roger and Valerie Haley on S. Elkton Road, Owendale, should be torn down before winter, Mrs. Haley said last week.

The silos are being destroyed because they were built between 1948 and 1969 with a sealant containing PCBs, which was picked up by cows eating food stored inside. The known cancer-causing chemicals were outlawed in manufacture of such sealants in 1977.

TWO NAMED: Clarence Ventline, manager of the Kinde Farmers' Co-op, is one of two persons unanimously nominated as Michigan Bean Shipper representative to the Michigan Bean Commission, whose term is expiring.

Ventline's name, along with Robert Green of Northern States Bean Company, Lansing, will be forwarded to Gov. James Blanchard, who will name one to fill the three-year post, probably before mid-December.

NOW ON: Farmers interested in entering the no-till, ridge-till or chisel-till yield contest sponsored next year by the Huron County Soil Conservation District should call the office in Bad Axe at 269-9540.

SCS experts will check proposed contest fields for adequate surface residue and will measure a minimum five acres to be yield checked, with awards presented at next July's annual meeting.

ANNUAL MEET: Gov. James Blanchard, U.S. Deputy Ag Secretary John Norton and U.S. Cong. Bill Schuette (R-Midland) are among speakers at the Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel, Grand Rapids, Dec. 10-13.

More than 1000 persons are expected, and dozens of meetings and policy discussions are planned. Norton will speak Dec. 10 on the future of ag marketing orders. Dr. Lawrence Deuwer, USDA ag economist, will speak on beef and pork price spreads and Dennis Conway of the state DNR will explain Public Act 116.

Further details will be announced soon.

SWINE MEET: Farmers can learn how to artificially inseminate swine during a Tuesday, Dec. 10 workshop at Michigan State University. It's planned at the Swine Research Center, Forest Road between Farm Lane and College Road.

Attendance is limited, and interested persons should contact Andy Thulin of the MSU Department of Animal Science, at (517) 355-8396.

MORE TOO: The current farm economy places retailers of farm supplies -- from fertilizers to tillage equipment -- in substantial risk of holding uncollectible accounts that could destroy their businesses.

That's the focus of one part of the Seed, Weed and Fertilizer School planned Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 11 and 12, at Long's Convention Center, Lansing. MSU co-sponsors the annual event, including MSU agribusiness economist Jack McEowen who will address farm credit concerns.

For details, contact Maurice Vitosh, Department of Crop and Soil Sciences, MSU, East Lansing, 48824.

LAST CHANCE: The first Governor's Conference on the Future of Michigan Agriculture is coming next Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 19 and 20 at the Hyatt Hotel in Flint.

Kansas Gov. John Carlin, author and entrepreneur Paul Hawken, Mrs. Paula Blanchard, state Ag Director Paul Kindinger and others will speak or participate in the 16 workshops planned.

The theme of the analytical meeting is "Competition, Survival and Profitability," the Governor says. More information is available from the MDA at (517) 373-1104.

PRICES UP: The Index of Prices Received by state farmers for all farm products was 110% of its 1977 base for the month ending Oct. 15, according to the Michigan Ag Reporting Service. That's up 2% from last month -- the first such increase since April 1985.

The figure is still 11% below last October, MARS says.

The Index of Prices Paid by farmers nationally was 162% of the 1977 base period. That's including commodities, services, interest, taxes and farm wage rates and is down 1% from last year, MARS says. No comparable state figure is computed.

Karen Stockle, Bay Port and Don Gregory, Sebawaing, were recognized as the most outstanding county 4-H girl and boy at the fall 4-H Achievement Day Saturday in Bad Axe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Severn, former Elkton area residents, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house Nov. 28 at the IOOF Temple, East Tawas. They have three daughters.

About 100 attended the Bay Port PTA open house Thursday evening. On the program were Erroll Jameson, Wendy Henne, Cathy Stahl, Laurie Gillingham, Teachers Edna McLeish, Genevieve Buettner, Marie Ruby, Leona Albrecht, Doris Deering.

Kathryn Zurakowski, Alfreda Boesch and Mr. Kreger presented programs in their rooms. John H. Sturtt, 75, retired Lake Twp. farmer, died Sunday. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

George Baur, president of the board of directors of Pigeon Cooperative Elevator Co., cut the ribbon at the official opening of the company's $300,000 fertilizer blending plant Tuesday, Nov. 11. Ted Leipprandt, manager, addressed the crowd on the elevator's 60th anniversary. The company also has a new $1.5 million grain storage addition.

Fire broke out in a second floor room at the Pigeon Hotel early Wednesday morning Nov. 12. All the hotel residents were evacuated until the fire was brought under control by Pigeon Fire Department. Cause is under investigation.

Frank H. Bouck, 94 of Elkton, died Friday at his home. He was a retired contractor and carpenter. Surviving are two sons.

Trophy for winning the 1975 Huron County Tennis Tournament was presented to Richard Pauly, Pigeon, by tournament coordinator Luther Frederick.

Hunting safety stressed Outdoor Report

There may be other hunting and fishing seasons open, but for more than 800,000 people, this Friday marks the beginning of "The Season". The rifle deer season in both Michigan, and the Upper Thumb has to be the most popular of all the hunting seasons of the year, and with this many nimrods, there is bound to be accidents. Last year, 88 people were involved in hunting accidents during the 16-day season. The 3 main causes of these accidents were: (1) the victim being out of sight of the hunter, (2) careless handling of firearms, and (3) a shooter stumbling and falling. The hunter orange law which began in 1977 has dramatically reduced hunter accidents during the deer season, but everyone must still be on their guard, and double check what lies beyond the target they are shooting at.

By obeying the following 3 steps, nearly all hunting accidents reported could have been prevented. (1) Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger, know identifying features of the game you hunt. (2) Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay with a firearm. (3) Watch the muzzle. Be able to control the direction of the muzzle even if you should stumble.

Hunters are also reminded that the following rules should be adhered to. (1) Observe all game laws, rules and regulations. (2) Hunters should be aware of new firearm deer hunting hours this season. They will run from one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset. Hunters should check local newspapers in the area they wish to hunt for sunrise/sunset times. (3) All firearm deer hunters hunting on ANY land, must wear at least one of the following; a hat, cap, vest, jacket, raincoat or other outerwear - of a highly visible color (hunter orange) during the firearm deer season. Whatever the garment, the hunter orange color must be visible from all sides. Camouflage orange garments are legal, providing not less than 50% of the surface area is hunter orange.

Wouldn't those onions sweeten a lot of hamburgers?!!

GRIEVING BEFORE DEATH
The news of a terminal diagnosis induces all kinds of reactions in the patient and the people who are close to the patient. Frequently patient and family alike, if informed of the prognosis, will start to anticipate the impending loss. This is called preparatory or anticipatory grief.
The feelings and behaviors may be much the same as might be expected to follow the death of a loved one. It is, quite literally, grieving before the death. In rare cases, the grief process is completed by the survivors before the patient actually dies. More often, it merely affords the opportunity to begin to grieve and work through some of the emotional turmoil a little sooner.
When, and if, it occurs, anticipatory grief should be accorded the same respect as postdeath grief. Caring friends and family should try, within the limits of their own grief process, to help the individual cope with these feelings.

SOUND-OFF!

This is about Veteran's Day. Why doesn't the entire world, or at least people here in our area, take time out to attend a parade like the one we had here in Bay Port Monday? Those men and women fought and were injured and some died, for our freedoms. I know it sounds corny today, but this nation wouldn't be here if they hadn't done their job. And how do you remember them? You don't even attend their parade, and honor their dead. I hope more people do a better job next year. We must remember our past so it is not repeated in our futures.

The way things are going over in Caseville, they'll vote on the airport and then vote again to recall new leaders for spending money needlessly on the airport vote, and then vote again to fill vacancies.

About painting the side of trains. We wouldn't need any such extra expense if drivers paid more attention to where they're going. If you're not sure what's up ahead, slow down. A few extra moments should mean no accidents, and isn't that the goal anyway?

Thanks to the (few) farmers who tried to scrape the excess manure off the roads near their houses or property. We appreciate your efforts, at least.

Congratulations, Jenny H., national Legion Auxiliary winner. We're proud of you, from our little town of Bay Port!

At last, the Caseville Planning Committee. I'm glad to see it's finally been started. I would like to offer a suggestion: please get rid of shantytown in the Caseville Park. Can't you work with the county on it? That beach is still a thing of beauty. Don't hide it.

Deer hunter's quiz

It's that time of year, when close to 800,000 otherwise normal men, and even some women, become crazed with a mania called deer hunting.

For a period of 16 days, they forget about their jobs, family, and even their health to pursue a four-legged creature called a whitetail deer.

There has been speculation that not all 800,000 nimrods are actually that interested in bagging a whitetail, and it has even been whispered that many don't even take along a gun on their yearly northward trek.

Therefore, in order to once and for all determine who the real deer hunters are, I have devised a deer hunting test. I must admit that I gleaned some of the questions from a similar quiz written by Gene Mueller of The Washington Post, dug out some far-fetched facts from the records of the DNR, and even slipped in a couple dandies that I picked up in a deer camp I have been known to frequent.

The scoring will be simple. If you get all 20 right, you can brag as much as you like about your deer hunting knowledge; 15 right places you in the "O.K." category; 10 correct means you should study a little bit before taking to the woods -- and less than 10 is an indication that your wife had better keep you home to put up the storm windows and carry the garden hoses into the garage.

The answers are either true and false, or multiple choice. Good luck!

- Whitetail deer will travel great distances to find food and mates.
- When bucks shed their antlers in late winter, do both antlers fall off at the same time?
- A buck rub is a small tree that has been scraped by the antlers of a deer. Will sitting near this spot insure a hunter of bagging a buck?
- Can the size of the hoofprint can be used to determine the sex of a deer?
- The number of points on a deer's antlers is a good indicator of the age of the deer.
- The average whitetail buck's life span is:
  - 1 year
  - 2 1/2 years
  - 5 years
- A deer will eat apples before any other food.
- Like fish, deer are attracted to lure-scented sprays such as the many fruit flavored brands on the market.
- Commercially-produced deer scents serve more to:
  - Draw deer to the odor, or
  - Camouflage human odors
- Because of their narrow, sharp-pointed hooves, deer stay away from low, swampy ground.
- A deer scrape is a form of greeting card from the buck to the doe, and the doe will leave her R.S.V.P. on it.

12. Scrapes are good places to hunt.

13. Deer like windy days, for they can move about without the hunters hearing them.

14. The largest whitetail buck shot in Michigan weighed:

- 258 lbs.
- 328 lbs.
- 420 lbs.

15. You can hunt any place in Michigan with a deer rifle as long as you are on state land.

16. Deer hunting is a very dangerous sport. More than 100 hunters lost their lives in hunting accidents in Michigan last year.

17. A smart hunter will hang his hunting clothes outside a few days before the season begins.

18. What proportion of the field-dressed weight should be added to determine the live weight of a deer?

- 1/4
- 1/2
- 3/4

19. An average sized deer, stands about three feet at the shoulders.

20. There were many more deer in Grandpa's time, than there are today.

QUIZ ANSWERS:

- False. Deer seldom stray more than a mile from where they were born.
- False. Antlers usually drop off one at a time.
- False. The buck may never come back.
- False. It may tell you how big the deer is, but not the sex.
- False. The number of points has no bearing on the age.
- 2 1/2 years
- False. Most prefer acorns to any other food.
- True. Deer are very curious creatures.
- b. camouflage human odors.
- False. Deer handle themselves very well in swampy terrain.
- True. This is how the deer carry out their courtship.
- True. Most bucks will check their scrape at least once a day.
- False. Deer hate the wind.
- 420 lbs. If you don't believe it, check with the DNR record book.
- False. In Region three, you must use a shotgun or muzzleloader.
- False. The death toll was closer to 10 last year.
- True. It helps mask the human odor.
- 1/4
- True. They look bigger, but they're not.
- False. Deer are brushland creatures. Grandpa lived in a time of heavy pine forest, and very little deer habitat, hence there were fewer deer.

What occurs if you suffer a WHIPLASH?

When the neck is forced to move past its normal limits of mobility, the muscles stretch and ligaments may tear. This is a sprain. This type of injury, popularly known as "whiplash", most often, but not always, happens in auto accidents. When a car is hit from behind, the person's head snaps backward as the body is thrown forward. The reverse happens when a car hits a solid object. The head keeps moving forward as the body suddenly stops. The head may then snap backward on the rebound. When the head moves one way and the body another, the shock is felt in the neck.

Whiplash neck injuries are among the fastest growing health problems today. Common symptoms resulting from an untreated whiplash injury may include headache, neck pain and stiffness, stiff neck, muscle spasms, dizziness, pain and/or numbness in one or both arms, to name a few. A simple, painless spinal examination can quickly reveal if you can be helped by chiropractic. Knowing what causes whiplash tells us that derangement of the bones of the neck causes the symptoms. No whiplash injury was ever caused by a lack of medicine. Why be sick when you can be well?

FAITH TELLS US TO JUDGE OTHERS ONLY BY THEIR ACTIONS

We judge our fellow human beings by our experiences with them, and this is as it should be; as long as we rate them by their actions only. We are wrong when we condemn or ridicule them merely because they happen to belong to a certain religion, nationality or ethnic background. The word "prejudice" means pre-judging; and even though we once suffered at the hands of a member of some group, the faith at our House of Worship which teaches us to forgive also forbids us to judge others on this basis. Remember that bigotry is not born in us but is learned, usually from our parents. So by your example, teach your children this lesson; and that includes the rejection of all ethnic jokes, which are an unwarranted hurt to inflict on anyone. Both prejudice and tolerance can be taught, and you must decide which attitude you want your children to develop.

Every bigot was once a child free of prejudice.

Caseville looks to districts as season winds down

Young Eagles gain experience in loss to Peck

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

With a pair of North Central Thumb League losses last week, the Caseville girls' basketball squad probably felt some of the frustration experienced by some flood victims in southeastern United States. The rising tide was nearly held off last Tuesday as the Eagles were edged, 50-47, by Port Hope in the Caseville gym.

The loss of Eagle center Michelle Stahl, who was hospitalized last week, may have provided Caseville opponents the opening needed to open the flood gates. The dam burst, however, on Caseville fortunes in the second half against Peck last Thursday, however, as the Pirates washed the Eagles downstream with a 61-52 score.

The Lady Eagles started strong and led Peck 14-12 at the end of the first quarter. The Pirates began to take control of the game in the second quarter with an effective full-court press. Eagle players were often pressured into turning the ball over on in-bound passes in the absence of Stahl who plays a key role in Caseville's press breaker.

After taking a 29-26 halftime lead, Peck widened the margin to 49-40 at the end of the third quarter.

Caseville Coach Randy Bingham was forced to call on freshman Krista Colgin and sophomore Amy Conrad, recently called up from the junior varsity squad, as his more experienced players ran into foul trouble. Chris and Erin Barton and Tina Bieri each fouled out of the game that saw officials whistle Caseville for 28 fouls and Peck for 17 infractions.

That difference in fouls translated into 34 trips to the charity stripe for Peck to just 12 opportunities for the Eagles.

Bingham praised his team for their spirit while finishing a season with no hope for a championship.

"Caseville has a whole of a bunch of kids. At this point in the season it's easy to just give up and say the season's over, but these kids gave the school and myself two great ballgames this week," said Bingham.

The Caseville coach was also pleased with the play of his young players in the game.

"The (foul) situation dictated that we play those people and they responded well," he said about his players promoted from JV to varsity level.

Peck Coach John Presnell said his team was ripe for an upset before the game.

"Our players were coming off a record-setting performance and they were definitely down. Colleen Bradley had 40 points and Debbie Cowley had 32 in our last game," said Presnell and added, "I was glad for the win, believe me."

The Peck mentor also complimented Caseville players for their performance and said, "They're a good team. They really move the ball up and down the court."

Chris Barton led Caseville scoring with 16 points and Bieri added 11.

Peck was paced by Cowley's 24 and Bradley's 17 points.

LAST THURSDAY a 27-22 halftime lead by Port Hope over Caseville was a good indication of how close the game was throughout the entire contest. The Eagles came up just a few points short as time ran out.

Senior forward Gail Gembariski netted 11 points and pulled down 19 rebounds in a losing cause for Caseville. Bieri added 10 points and five steals to the Eagle effort.

Port Hope's Lori Finkel tallied 14 points to lead all scorers, while teammates

Karen Brown and Cathy Reinke each scored a dozen.

THIS WEEK: Caseville was slated to close out its regular season by hosting Owen-Gage on Tuesday night. District tournament play will begin Nov. 21.

JVs WIN: Amy Conrad scored 11 points to lead the junior Eagles to a narrow 33-32 victory over Carsonville-Port Sanilac last Tuesday.

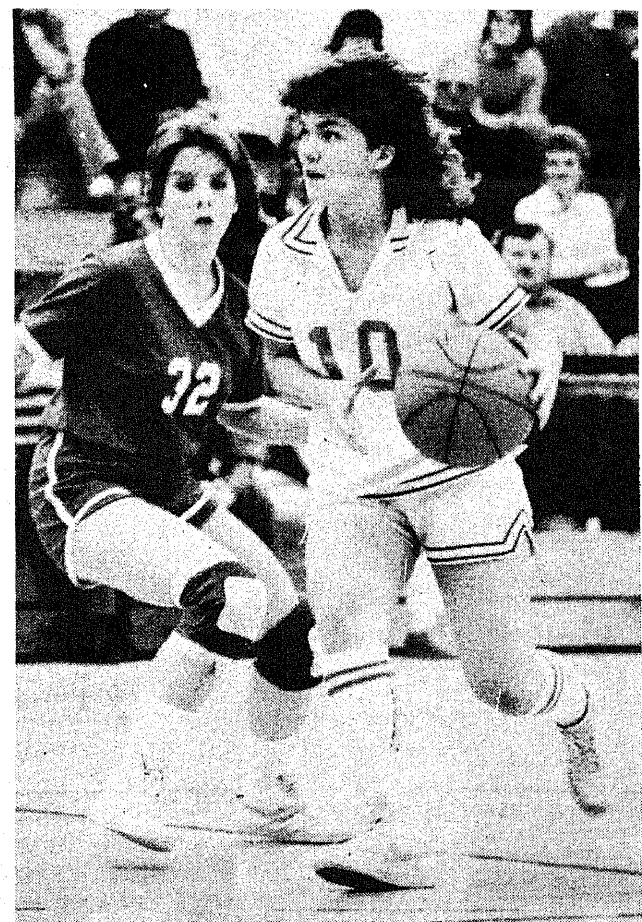

The JVs also outpointed Peck 14-12 in a non-regulation scrimmage.

AT RIGHT: Caseville's Gail Gembariski (20) and Chris Barton (32) share a rebound in the contest with Peck.

BELOW: Speedy Eagle guard Tina Bieri (10) drives past Pirate Jean Bechtel (32) on her way to the bucket.

YOUNG EAGLE FLYSI Freshman Krista Colgin (40) leaps to lay in a basket for the Caseville varsity squad in last Thursday's game at Peck. She and sophomore Amy Conrad received varsity experience in the game when Eagle starters encountered foul trouble.

NCTL names All-Conference gridders

Six Caseville gridders were recently accorded All-Conference honors in recent balloting by coaches in North Central Thumb League.

Eagles named to the first team were John Winkler as offensive center and defensive linebacker. Bob Siegfried for offensive guard and defensive lineman. Greg Langley for running back and Tony Seagraves at quarterback. Langley was also named to the second team as linebacker and Seagraves received honorable mention for defense.

Caseville's Dave Simet was named to the second team as offensive tackle and

Turnovers help Broncos buck Lakers

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

A loss earlier this season Bad Axe was avenged last Tuesday with a 52-36 victory over the Lakers by the Broncos led 15-10 at the end of the first quarter and widened the margin to 18-15 at halftime. Lakers fell even farther behind in the third quarter to trail 45-29 going into the final period.

Laker junior center Julia Sturm again led her teammates in scoring with 18 points. Sophomore Lisa Buschlen chipped in 16 counters.

Bronco scoring was paced by Barb Butler with 15 points, Brenda Ruhlman with 13 and Eileen Nellenbach with 11.

JVs ROLL: The Laker junior varsity kept their league unbeaten string intact at 12-0 with a pair of victories last week.

After leading 31-11 at halftime, the junior Lakers held off a Bad Axe comeback bid to record a 49-41 victory. Carleen Kauffman scored 13 and Renee Bushey hit 10 to pace the offense which featured nine different scorers for the winners.

Lakers beat North Branch at the foul line to earn a 40-36 victory. Laker shooters netted 16 of 26 free throws, while the Broncos could only sink 10 in the same number of attempts, according to JV Coach Gordie Murphy.

Kauffman and Mary Kay Smith each tossed in 10 points to top Laker scoring.

Laker gridders lead TBA All-Conference offensive squad

A dozen Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port football players were named among the All-Conference selections the Thumb B Association.

Achieving First Team honors on offense were placekicker Randy Heckman, running back Chris Eby, linemen Bill Voss, Jamie McBride and defensive linemen Todd Schember and Jim Warren.

Laker quarterback Mike McArde, running back Ken Ziel and safety Brad Krohn were named to the Second Team.

Cross Country team achieves goal

Laker Cross Country Coach Joel Leipprandt's goal for his team this season was to run to Los Angeles, Calif. Although the Laker runners didn't actually leave the state, Leipprandt's goal was reached as the team's total distance of 2,323.5 miles logged during practices and meets equals the distance from Pigeon to Los Angeles.

The highlight of the team this season was Kelli Damrow who placed 57th in the state meet in Cass City. She covered the 3.1 mile course in 22:29. Damrow also placed 15th in the regional meet to achieve Second Team All-Conference in the Thumb B Association. Her best time of the year was 21:46.

Another highlight was Kathy Clabuesch's All-Conference honorable mention award.

Happy 42nd Anniversary Mom & Dad.

November 12, 1985 is a very special day in the lives of our parents, Milton & Isabelle Kreh and their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren all join together in honoring them in 50 years of marriage. Living in a society that says, "do your own thing-be your own person", we are PROUD that our parents took the unpopular way and chose Christ's way of raising their family. Because they chose this way, we want to honor them with this tribute to them written especially for them entitled:

"A TRIBUTE TO MOM AND DAD"

Back in thirty-five on the twelfth of November Was a day that folks will gladly remember. Mom and Dad were married that day, It seems so long and far away.

Along came Donna and then Ruth Ann, And Dad said a boy would make them feel grand. So along came Ronald in forty-four, And Dad said that's fine, we need no more.

But don't you know that wasn't to be, Along came Phyllis all full of glee. And Dad got to thinking as his family grew, This little house will never do.

So he went to an auction just him and his spouse, And they bought a big old haunted house. Well they chased out the ghost and settled down, To enjoy their life in that part of town.

They went to church every week you see, There would no discussion or argument be. If the doors were open they would all be there, To praise their God and his love to share.

Devotions were held each and every day, To talk of God and his loving way. We memorized scripture from God's Holy Book, If a problem arose, to the Bible we look.

They cared for and taught us until we were grown, Then we all married, and had kids of our own. Remembering back to how we were taught, We took them to God in our every thought.

The blessings we've had through all our life, Came mostly thru Dad and his wonderful wife. Their prayers that were silent and those that were shared, Were examples to us of how much they cared.

The most blessed thing that can happen you see, Will be to live thru eternity With Mom and Dad and all of our clan, With Jesus in Heaven at God's right hand.

Fifty years seems like an awful long time, But as we've expressed in this little rhyme, You've taught us all of what God can see, And where we'll spend eternity.

There is one more thing we need to say, On this very special and happy day. From all of us to Mom and Dad, We dearly love you, aren't you glad!

We want to thank all those who came and made our Anniversary Open House more complete, also for all the lovely cards and gifts.

Milton and Isabelle Kreh
