Caseville United Methodist Church Pastor John N. Hamilton challenged the church's Junior and Senior Sunday School classes to raise at least $150 in their annual bake sale at Halloween time, to benefit the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR).

"If you do," he told them, "I'll go jump in the lake."
To make a short story even shorter, they did. And so HE did, too!

About 4 p.m. Sunday, Pastor Hamilton braved the cool, rainy day (as about 40 members and friends looked on), above left, and ran headlong into Saginaw Bay's crisp waters near the Caseville Breakwall, center.

Many of the observers were dressed in Halloween outfits, as is wife Linda, above right. He's not making any predictions yet, but SOME church members were talking about a dip in the ice this January...

Tuesday's general election is full of candidates

Nearly four dozen choices await voters in the 1986 General Election, to be conducted in local balloting precincts next Tuesday, Nov. 4 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Decisions determining Michigan's next Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, U.S. Representative, Michigan Senator and Representative, State Supreme Court Judge, Appeals Court Judge, State University Board seats plus many County Board seats and local elections will be decided in what is expected to be moderate voting.

STATEWIDE

GOVERNOR: How many persons are running for the four-year term of Michigan Governor and Lieutenant Governor? More candidates than you may think.

James J. Blanchard and Martha W. Griffiths are seeking re-election leading the Democratic Party, while present Wayne County Executive William Lucas and State Rep. Colleen Engler are opposing them as Republicans.

But, the Workers League also has a slate of candidates for the state's two top jobs. Martin McLaughlin, a 36-year-old Hamtramck newspaper editor, and Alva A. Crivens, a 41-year-old Hamtramck pre-school teacher, head the Workers League slate. This is the party's only entry on the statewide ballot this year.

Gov. Blanchard, the 43-year-old incumbent, is running on his record in leading Michigan's economic come-back in recent years, while 58-year-old challenger Lucas says Blanchard raised taxes too much, kept them too high too long and generally runs an inefficient government.

Gov. Blanchard was elected to his first term in 1983. Griffiths, 74, is a Macomb resident, while her Republican challenger Engler is 34 and a Mt. Pleasant resident.

The Governor is paid $85,800 through this year, and the Lt. Gov. position pays $58,850.

SECRETARY OF STATE: Three candidates are on this statewide ticket. Incumbent Democrat Richard H. Austin, 73 of Detroit, has served for 16 years.

He is challenged by Republican Weldon O. Yeager, 64, a Bloomfield Township business owner, and independent candidate Brian Wright, a 37-year-old Pontiac businessman, for the four-year term.

The job pays $75,000.

ATTORNEY GENERAL: Three candidates are vying for this four-year term.

Incumbent Democrat Frank J. Kelley has served for the past 24 years in the state's highest legal position. He is a 61-year-old Okemos resident.

Facing him are 39-year-old Republican Robert H. Cleland of Port Huron, presently St. Clair County Prosecutor. Independent candidate Max Dean also opposes Kelley. Dean is a 63-year-old Flint attorney who supports programs of Lyndon H. LaRouch.

The position pays $75,000 this year.

STATE CHOICES

BALLOT PROPOSALS: State voters are faced with three choices in issues identified as Proposals A, B and C, each requiring a yes or no vote.

In all three cases, a yes vote favors the proposal, while a no vote opposes it.

PROPOSAL A allows for the establishment of the Library of Michigan within the State Legislature. This would provide clear authority for overseeing the Library, which was transferred from the State Department of Education to the Legislature three years ago.

PROPOSAL B allows for approval or rejection of administrative rules by the State Legislature. This would authorize the Legislature to enact laws to permit it to approve or reject administrative rules proposed by state agencies, which would implement state law. This would give absolute state constitutional authority to the body, in the second constitutional change proposed this year.

PROPOSAL C would expand the authority of the State Officers Compensation Committee, to go into effect July 1, 1988. This would also amend the State Constitution to transfer the authority to determine salaries and expenses of the Secretary of State and Attorney General from the Legislature to the Compensation Commission. Those two positions were overlooked when the Commission was established in 1968.

STATE BOARDS

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION: Nine persons are seeking statewide election to the State Board of Education positions now open. Two persons will be elected for the eight-year posts.

Democrats are Annetta Miller, 65 of Huntington Woods and Gamecindo Salas, 44 of East Lansing, opposed by Republicans Barbara Dumouchelle, 54 of Grosse Ile, and Patricia A. Hartnagle, 48 of Midland.

Robert E. Tisch, 66 of Laingsburg, is the lone candidate on his Tisch Independent Citizens Party slate, seeking the education seat. Four independent candidates are seeking the two seats, John A. Green, 44 of Flint, David A. Weldner, 32 of Shelby Township, and Denise Kline and Robert C. MacDonald, no information provided.

UNIVERSITIES: Twelve persons are seeking eight-year spots on the various university boards for Michigan State, Michigan and Wayne State Universities.

AT MICHIGAN STATE, Republicans Dolores M. Cook, 54 of Greenville, and Cyril Gregoricka, 61 of Caledonia, head the ticket for the two Trustee spots. Democratic candidates are Joel I. Ferguson, 48 of Lansing, and Barbara J. Sawyer, 37 of East Lansing.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN also has two spots available on its Board of Regents. Democrats Paul Brown, 52 of Petoskey, and James L. Waters (no information provided) are opposed by Republicans Gary Frink, 53 of St. Clair and Cynthia Haidostian Hudgins, 35 of Ypsilanti.

AT WAYNE STATE, Republicans seeking the two Board of Governors positions are Mary Dahn, 41 of Mt. Clemens, and Elizabeth Hardy (no information provided.) Opposing as Democrats are Leon H. Atchison, 56 of Detroit, and Max J. Pincus, 63 of Bloomfield Hills.

CONGRESSIONAL - STATE

U.S. REPRESENTATIVE: Incumbent Democrat Bob Traxler, 54 of Bay City, has served since 1976. He is opposed by John A. Levi, 38 of Saginaw, his Republican challenger for the 8th Congressional District post, a two-year term.

LEGISLATIVE

STATE SENATOR: James A. Barcia of Bay City is unopposed for re-election to his 34th District State Senate seat. The Democrat first won election to the four-year term in 1982.

STATE HOUSE: Incumbent Republican Dick Allen of Caro is seeking re-election to his third two-year term. He is opposed by Democrat Dick Erla of Cass City.

Mystery writer finds Thumb a perfect setting

By RICH VARTZENDRUBER

quiet life in the Thumb is the perfect setting for a mystery novelist to write her stories.

former "Good Living" for the Detroit Free Press is now working on her third book in a series of mystery stories which are a pair of Siamese named Koko and Yum en she began writing in, Bettinger didn't immediately jump into writing full-length books. Her first two short stories were published in Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine and twice had stories included in the hardcover anthology "Best Detective Stories of the Year."

A publisher then asked her to try writing a novel, which she launched her present successful writing career.

The main character in all her stories is a big-city newspaperman who has a nose for crime that baffles the police. The real detective, however, is the newsman's Siamese cat, Koko. Mrs. Bettinger notes that the cat helps its master by scratching, sniffing and other normal activities.

"Koko can't talk, fly or drive a car and isn't a supercat," notes Bettinger.

SERIES STARTS: The acceptance of the first book "The Cat Who Could Read Backwards" prompted five more featuring the same characters, with a seventh being penned at the present time.

"I never dreamed it would become a series," the author says.

The first three books in the series were published in hardcover versions. Books one and two have been reprinted in paperback, along with the first edition of book four. Books five and six are now awaiting publication, with book five due on store shelves in April of next year.

Beginning with book three, Koko was joined by another Siamese cat sidekick named Yum Yum.

SINGING TALENT: The talented author also notes she sang Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. The cats in her books and also the real-life pets she and her husband own are all named for characters in the operetta "Mikado."

Bettinger says the character of Koko was inspired by a pet she once had.

"There was a real detective cat in my family who lived to be 18 years old. He wasn't really a detective, but he was very smart," she admits.

She points out, however, present pets Pooh Bah and Pitti Sing have provided ideas for her to use in her stories.

The setting and village names of one of her books is especially interesting for Huron County residents. In that story, the big-city newsman vacations in a quiet rural setting near Mount Hope, with the nearby county seat named Pickax.

THUMB ATTRACTION: That is similar to her experience of a summer resident along the upper Thumb shoreline, then adopting Huron County as her year-round home.

"I came up here every summer and did many stories on houses in the Caseville - Port Austin area for the Free Press," she notes. Her newspaper writing mainly focused on interior design, architecture and antiques.

Like some of her neighbors, the author and her husband retreat from the icy north winds along Saginaw Bay to a more southerly location — although not the typical "snowbird" location.

"In the fall when everyone goes south to Florida, we go south to Bad Axe," she explains with a laugh.

FEW DISTRACTIONS: Bettinger explains writing comes easy in the Thumb Area.

"A small community is a good place to write because there aren't many distractions. It's not that there's nothing to do, it is just more serene," she says.

Homecoming '86

Laker High celebrated Homecoming festivities last Friday night with cold but dry conditions. Torrents of rain on Oct. 4 washed out the parade and queen crowning scheduled for that date.

AT RIGHT: After a three-week wait, Laker students, parents, alumni and friends cheered as Rhonda Baur is crowned Homecoming Queen. Last year's queen Patti Thiel ends her reign by placing the tiara on the head of Baur.

The Homecoming queen is the daughter of Bruce and Marilyn Baur. Baur's are becoming a royal family as Rhonda's sister Shelley was also chosen Laker Homecoming queen in 1982.

FAR RIGHT: It was cold, last Friday night but there was no snow in sight as this snowplow was strictly for show. The unique sight was part of a group of decorated bikes the Homecoming Parade in Elkton.

In the float competition, the junior class creation was selected by judges as the winner.

OBSERVATIONS BY PUBLISHER MARK RUMMEL AND ANYBODY ELSE HE CAN GET TO WRITE 'EM!

TIDBITS — Here they are, sans logical order:

■ General Election time next Tuesday should be interesting, in part because of the variety of candidates and issues to be decided in the bi-annual voting.

We don't make endorsements in local or state races (although it's very tempting sometimes!), but I have to admit knowing who the best candidate is can be difficult to decide, sometimes.

The same holds true for the three state proposals being decided. Another weekly newspaper recommends "no" votes on Proposal A (State Library to be overseen by the Legislature) and on Proposal B (Constitutional authority to Legislature's Joint Committee on Administrative Rules.) The "no" vote reasoning is that both issues have managed thus far without changes, and should continue that way.

On Proposal C, however, it seems prudent to add the Secretary of State and Attorney General positions to the otherwise complete list of those for which salaries are set by the State Officers Compensation Commission. A "yes" vote here would standardize things, this "other paper" reasons.

Makes sense to us... ■ A nice lady named Connie Hanson called us last week from money-giver Percy Ross' office in Minneapolis. This semi-occasional call has been received before, but she pointed out something of local interest:

Mr. Ross and his "Thanks a Million" column has just sent money to a woman who wrote him from our area, requesting a washing machine. She'd tell us more, but the lady asked for anonymity.

Also, this particular gift won't be appearing in his column, since he often DOES give away money to people not appearing in his column. Interesting... ■ The spectacular beauty of fall leaves is behind us now (as is daylight savings time), but you can still savor the unmatched smell of leaves every now and then, waiting over from a neighbor's yard.

Add in these cool, crisp nights — plus the beauty-filled billow clouds seen now and again — and you've about got the essence of fall's best. Toss in some candy apples, cider and pre-Christmas planning, and you've got a special season at hand... ■ These recent rains (which never stop) bring about an interesting question: why is it that back windows seldom if ever get wet, on two-year-old and newer cars? Our back window is nearly 90 degrees vertical in design, yet it almost NEVER gets wet no matter how hard it rains!

I've always figured aerodynamic design accounts for that, but where does that water go? Right out over the trunk area? Or where? ■ I'm in the newspaper business, obviously, and I LOVE reading quality daily papers. It's not every Sunday when I buy The Detroit News, but it was a good investment this week.

Featured was a huge, full-color two-page story on Port Austin, our friendly neighbors to the north here in the Thumb. Theme was how a summer tourist town copes with winter rains, and long-time friend Tony Fisher was featured. Good write-up about a nice town that's working together, accomplishing something... ■ Speaking of Detroit papers, did you happen to see the Huron County "celebrity" mentioned in last week's (Oct. 19) Detroit Free Press? Columnist Bob Talbert asked for nominations for favorite radio personalities, and WLEW's Max Koch (pronounced Cook) got something like eight votes (I don't remember exactly!)

Not bad for a little 1000-watt radio station in Bad Axe... ■ A recent trip to Cass City brought to light an interesting comment on the school sign at Cass City High. The little old sign putter-upper reminded students to "Study Hard." We all know that's one of the main things we are to do, but it's nice to see it in writing!

■ Overheard: Remember the beautiful young woman who picked up a frog in a flooded farm field. The frog said, "I was once a rich farmer. Kiss me and I'll turn back into one." The woman popped the frog in her purse, saying, "Why? A talking frog is worth a heckuva lot more than a farmer!"

■ That reminds us of a comment reported from a kindergarten teacher, about the age of our own Sarah Bananas Rummel. She was asked, How do you like school? Her reply, "Well, I can't read yet. I can't write. And they won't let me talk!"

— 30 —

WISH I'D SAID THAT — Exaggerations are a matter of fact!

Election round-up

dozen persons are seeking the two posts for eight years each. They include one incumbent, Dennis W. Archer of Detroit, plus James J. Carras of Kawkawlin, Henry Clay of Detroit, Jeffrey C. Collison (no information), Zolton Perency of East Lansing, Andrea J. Ferrara (no information), E. Thomas Fitzgerald of Owosso, Robert P. Griffin of Grand Traverse County, E. Leonard Howarth (no information), James T. Kallman of Ingham County, Jerry J. Kaufman of Huntington Woods, James J. Kelley of Monroe Township, Stephen P. Korn of Southfield, Barbara B. MacKenzie of Petoskey, Michael Joseph Marutiak (no information), John J. McDonough of Bay City, Willard L. Mikesell of Kalamo Township, John P. O'Hara, Jr., of Bloomfield Hills, Melvin L. Paunovich and David H. Raaflaub (no information), Dean Robb of Traverse City, Caleb M. Simon of Birmingham, Michael F. Simon of Southfield and James R. Stelt of Pontiac.

COURT OF APPEALS: Two incumbents are seeking reelection to the two seats on the 2nd District Court of Appeals for six years. This District includes all of Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac Counties, plus 11 other counties in southeastern Michigan, excluding Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston Counties.

S. Jerome Bronson and Robert J. Danhoff are seeking the two terms and are unopposed.

HURON COUNTY COUNTY BOARD

Local elections have several special issues to be decided. Two of the six seats on the Huron County Board of Commissioners have opposition in the Western Thumb. Both feature candidates to replace outgoing incumbents. They are:

DISTRICT 2 — Newcomer Republican R. Dale Wertz of Bay Port squares off against newcomer Democrat Vernon Kretzschmer, also of Bay Port. They are seeking the two-year term being vacated by the retiring Calvin Reibling of Elkton.

District 2 includes all of Winsor, Chandler, Oliver, Sheridan and Grant Townships, plus the Villages of Pigeon and Elkton.

DISTRICT 6 — Democrat Jack Jensen of Caseville is opposed by Republican Warren J. Krohn of Elkton for the post. The District includes all of Lake, Hume, Meade, Port Austin, Caseville and Pt. Aux Barques Townships, plus Villages of Caseville and Port Austin. Krohn defeated incumbent Republican Ronald Knoblock in the August Primary, to earn the party nomination.

In DISTRICT 1 (Sebewaing, Brookfield, McKinley and Fair Haven Townships, plus Bay Port and Village of Sebewaing), incumbent Republican Commissioner Bruce Kuhl of Sebewaing is unopposed.

TOWNSHIP PROPOSALS: Selected local government issues to be decided include:

CHANDLER TOWNSHIP — one mill renewal for road repairs;

FAIR HAVEN TOWNSHIP — A 2.5-mill request for four years (1.5-mill renewal and 1-mill increase) is being sought to provide full-time law enforcement coverage.

TUSCOLA COUNTY

Two propositions face Tuscola County voters next Tuesday.

PROPOSAL 1 asks that the County Commissioners be able to determine how to levy 2/10 of a mill previously voted, to provide services for senior citizens in Tuscola County. Previously, the Thumb Area Commission on Aging was empowered to spend this millage, but the county wants to change that and turn such income over to the care provider of its choice, most likely the Human Development Commission, which took over seniors' programs on Oct. 1.

PROPOSAL 2 asks for one-half mill for five years, to improve township and local bridges and streets.

Hospice group seeks to organize in Huron County

BAD AXE — Steps were taken at an early October meeting to organize a Huron County Hospice program, with bylaws developed, interested persons recruited, and locating speakers to contact local civic and community groups.

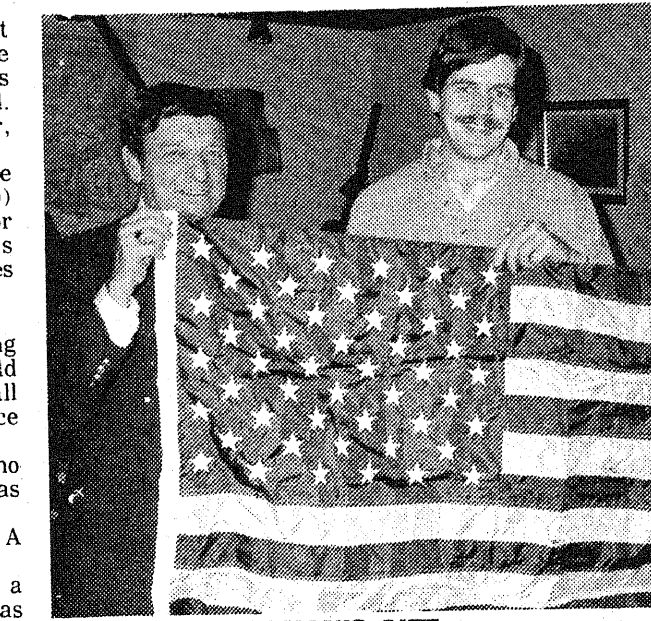

The meeting was held in the conference room of Huron County Health Department.

Other meetings were planned. Any persons who would like to engage a speaker on the Hospice concept, or who have an interest in working with the program or desire more information, are invited to contact Barbara Kube at Bad Axe, 269-8683.

Speaker was Mrs. Barbara Davidson, R.N., coordinator of United Caring Service located in Sanilac County. Mrs. Davidson described the purpose, function and services offered by the service to persons with a limited life expectancy.

Hospice is a volunteer non-profit, non-licensed, home-based program offering a community-oriented support system on the request of terminally ill patients and their families. A team approach is used in providing psychological, social and spiritual care in the patient's home.

The Sanilac program is funded by monies donated, memorials and United Way. Also discussed were volunteer recruitment & training, volunteer roles and supervision. Mrs. Davidson summarized steps her group used when first beginning their program and problems they encountered, along with suggestions and support to the group present.

As we see it editorially

This cancer will consume us all

There's a "cancer" that's threatening our very well-being, as well as that of our future generations. We're not the only ones responsible for it, but we've perpetuated it.

And if we don't find a solution, we'll go down in history as the people who finally -- and ultimately -- let it get out of control. It could ruin us all.

Our United States is the world's richest nation, but we hold another distinction, too. We are going into debt faster than any industrialized nation ever has, and we now owe more money to the rest of the world than we are owed. It's not a good distinction at all, and a first for us since 1914.

International finance, business and trade revolve around our dollar, and people in troubled countries always put their faith (and their savings) into dollars, because of their worldwide saleability. We're unique, economists say, since our twin deficits -- the vastly-overspent federal budget and our foreign trade policies -- sap our economic strength.

Normally, says the Paris-based Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, a country going into debt at the rate we are suffers falling monetary values.

But not for long. How long foreign investors will remain confident about the U.S. currency's strength will make a big difference in how long we hold the credit-worthiness lead. Japan is on the rise, and now is probably the second-richest nation in the world. Accurate figures from the Soviet Union are difficult to come by.

Japan is already charging full-speed ahead into the U.S. banking business, buying up large and small financial institutions at a frenzied pace here. And, Japan now lends more money than it is lent, since it is a nation of savers. No twin deficits for the land of the rising sun -- no, Japan has twin surpluses, in trade and the federal budget.

This is the last chance to make any minimal impact in an election season, for at least one more year. But we must coherently work toward achieving a true balanced budget, if we don't wish to further saddle our children's generations with the debt of the 1980s.

They didn't spend it. Why do we plan on having them PAY for it?? Vote for candidates who will spend only what we generate in taxes. Strive to see that our governments -- on all levels -- is as efficient and lean as possible. You never hear of a candidate promising to spend less than last year, and then doing so.

But there must be some of them out there, somewhere. If not, we'll stay on this spending treadmill which will lead our future taxpayers down an uncertain, expensive road -- certainly.

Pete Progress says:

"Did you hear about the trombone player who was fired? He let things slide..."

RECOLLECTIONS OF By-Gone Days
By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:
I was at a funeral once when a young person had died and the minister said again, "The Lord has called one of His children home." This time He called real loud and we all heard it.

Last Sunday morning when I heard on the news that Gale Maust was called home I could hardly believe it. I've been a cemetery sexton for a long time and I've buried a lot of people of all ages and sizes.

But whenever I am called on to bury a person who was such a good person right in the prime of his life I often wonder why.

But the Lord knows the best and He doesn't make any mistakes. So in time we'll see why.

I remember when my Father passed away, a man came to see him and said, "10 years from now, if anybody asks what kind of man Joe Keim was, they'll say he was an honest man." But he named a man who had died 10 years before and people still say he was a crook.

Well, I'm sure that if people ask in 10 years who Gale Maust was, people will say he was a good man.

In the last few weeks whenever I talk with the farmers at the coffee shop, they all say they've never seen it like this. There aren't many around who are over 80 years old but if you ask old farmers like Albert Schuette and Hugo Leipprandt, they'll tell you they don't remember it every being so wet this

Inspector Gordo's MINUTE MYSTERY
THE CASE OF THE Death in the air

The ancient tri-prop airplane had barely taken off from Nigeria when it encountered violent turbulence. After half an hour in the air, Inspector Gordo's hopes of completing the bumpy trip in undisturbed misery were shattered by the stowardess.

"Come quickly, Inspector Gordo!" Sighing about the inconveniences of fame, Gordo groped along the storm-tossed cabin. In the front seat, a man sat lifeless -- a knife in his heart.

Near the death seat was a small desk. On it lay a pad of legal-size sheets filled out in perfect handwriting.

"I was doing my manifests," the stewardess said. "Five minutes ago I heard a grunt, but thought nothing of it. A molyke that."

Gordo walked back up the aisle. The nine-seat plane held only three other passengers. All appeared to be doing. One shoe lay on the seat beside him, the other on the floor. The last two seats were occupied by a young couple. The bare, as if suffering from fright.

Gordo advised the pilot to call the police, and when the plane landed, he told the officer in charge: "Arrest --"

Library receives UF monies

After laying dormant for six years, the money in the disbanded Pigeon - Winsor - McKinley United Fund was finally put to use.

The organization was created in Jan. 18, 1952 by the Village of Pigeon with R.S. Orr as chairman and John Orr as Secretary. Winsor Township joined the organization on Oct. 10, 1959 and McKinley Township joined exactly two years later.

After the last meeting of the group on Nov. 19, 1980, activity ceased as interest died out. Butch Miller was the last chairman of the local group and Edna Truerner served as Treasurer.

A $500 contribution was made to Pigeon District Library last week, with the remainder of the account (about $100) donated to Meals on Wheels.

George Keim visits Bad Axe group

BAD AXE -- Bad Axe Historical Society will celebrate the beginning of the Thanksgiving season with its annual Heritage Day program at 3 pm Sunday, November 2. The event will take place at Linton Memorial Chapel, Bad Axe City park.

George Keim, writer, historian and philosopher of Bay Port, will speak, recalling by-gone days in Huron County, including childhood memories, harvest time and work bees.

Hymn singing accompanied by a restored reed organ will be part of the celebration.

All interested persons are invited. There is no admission charge.

Achievements

Jill Leipprandt Lindenbergh of Fairgrove, a former Pigeon resident, is one of 183 students who completed graduation requirements at Saginaw Valley State College during the 1986 summer session. Mrs. Lindenbergh received a BBA Degree in Management from the four-year college at University Center. She is the daughter of Ted and Peggie Leipprandt of Pigeon.

Lloyd Ziel, a junior at Central Michigan University, is a member of the concert choir at CMU.

He is a broadcast and cinematic arts major and is the son of Lloyd and Donna Ziel of Pigeon. He graduated from Michigan Lutheran Seminary.

The concert choir performs three concerts a year. Music selections range from folk songs to Bach and from the 15th to 20th centuries. Membership is open to all university students by audition.

Marine Lance Cpl. Michael W. Kirkpatrick son of Patricia M. Denlar of Pigeon, recently participated in exercise Northern Wedding/Bold Guard '86.

During the exercise more than 35,000 personnel from Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Federal Republic of Germany, Netherlands, Norway, United Kingdom and the U.S. participated. The maritime operations involved 150 ships and submarines and hundreds of aircraft.

Kirkpatrick is currently stationed with the Fourth Marine Amphibious Brigade, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

President Ritchie also presented Kleinfeld with an award from the firefighters, honoring his service and devotion to the cause of saving lives and property.

Kleinfeld received a Michigan Legislature honor during 1985.

He and his wife, Blanche are residents of Bay Port, still active in community and church functions. They attend the RLDS church in Bay Port.

Henry Kleinfeld of Bay Port was recently presented with two Community Service Awards in honor of his long years of donated community service. He is Michigan's oldest active fire fighter, with service totalling over 50 years. He has served as captain and trainer for many of those years.

James Ritchie, president of Michigan Firefighters, participated in the bestowing of the Michigan Region "Community Service Award" on Sunday, Oct. 12 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. This award is presented by the church annually to a person or persons who excel in community service and Christian conduct.

ELKTON SENIOR CITIZENS

President Mike Renn asked for a moment of silence in memory of the passing of member Dorothy Shaw, before Harold Gregor led the 45 Elkton Senior Citizens in prayer at the table last week.

"God Bless America" was sung and the Pledge to the Flag was given. The Birthday Song was sung for Lucy Dietzel and Christine Conkey. Harold and Bea Gregor led in group singing. Treasurer Fern English reported the club's sound finances.

The Nominating Committee will present the slate of officers on Nov. 4. Members also discussed the visit to the Air Base last week, and suggested that a visit might be made to the Huron County Skill Center since many were unable to attend the Open House.

Bingo was played with overall prizes going to Helen Ritter and Mildred Tilt. Members bid farewell to "snowbirds" who are soon heading south.

Next week Ardis Gemmel will be program chairman.

DISPLAY CASES

Farmers urged to watch beet quality Sugar beets one-third in

About one-third of the Sebawaing factory's sugar beet tonnage has been brought in, according to Davis Sunderland, vice-president of agriculture for Michigan Sugar Company — but the Sunday and Sunday night rains will be delaying further harvesting again.

By early Monday morning, the Sebawaing plant had weighed in 120,000 tons of beets, and the four plants operating for Michigan Sugar had nearly 500,000 tons on their piling grounds.

Even the beets that are in storage are suffering from the unseasonably warm weather, Sunderland added, stating that it's almost unbelievable that "it's this warm on Oct. 27, and the temperatures are approaching 60 degrees."

"It's the same old battle, so growers and the company are still struggling with the weather problem," Sunderland went on.

Sugar content is holding up at 15.3%, which is good considering weather conditions.

"I simply can't understand this weather, because it's the fifth successive year that weather is bad for harvesting. This year is the worst, by far," Sunderland stated.

The company, as a whole, has been rejecting between 35 and 45 truckloads of beets per day, the official stated, and added that on Sunday, the Sebawaing plant alone rejected 38 out of 600 loads.

"Please don't bring us rotten beets," he repeated to farmers. "We are very sympathetic with growers' problems, but bad beets won't help anyone and will hurt everyone."

We've all got a problem, and the only thing anyone can do is to maintain the best quality possible," Sunderland pointed out.

Meanwhile, factory processing is doing very well, the vice-president said, with more than 4,300 tons of beets sliced on Sunday.

The goal had been to reach 4,000 tons per 24-hour day, and the records show that slicing surpasses that nearly every day, except when a major problem arises.

Hallowe'en Treats

Many mature, serious people shed their adult manners around Hallowe'en time to enjoy the spirit. The fun of Hallowe'en can be enjoyed by grownups as well as children.

Hallowe'en was first a pagan festival celebrated by the Romans, Greeks and Celtic cultures centuries ago. The ancients believed that spirits of the dead returned to visit the earth at the end of October. The celebrations honored the dead souls and ensured protection from evil spirits.

Many of the traditions we observe can be traced to these pagan origins: bobbing for apples, placing candles in hollowed-out pumpkins, giving gifts of fruits, nuts and sweets; fearing black cats, ghosts and spirits; wearing costumes, having bonfires.

As Christianity spread throughout Europe, missionaries found they could not eliminate these pagan celebrations. So church leaders decided to proclaim November 1 as All Hallow Day, to honor saints who did not have their own festival days. The Celtic people were eventually converted to Christianity, but the pagan ritual and superstitions continued.

Hallowe'en was not widely celebrated in the US until the middle of the 19th Century when thousands of Irish and Scottish immigrants came to this country. They brought their Hallowe'en traditions with them. These rituals and celebrations quickly became a part of the American culture. Most Hallowe'en activities remain very faithful to their Celtic origins — even trick-or-treating, mischief and pranks.

Now, how do you celebrate Hallowe'en? Whether you're hosting a party, treating your trick-or-treaters before they go out, or nibbling as you give out treats to neighborhood children who ring your doorbell, here are some Hallowe'en refreshments:

DEVILISH DEVEILED EGGS

- 1 dozen eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sweet pickle juice
- 1 tablespoon horseradish mustard
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise

Hard-boil the eggs, cool, peel and cut them in half lengthwise. Remove yolks and mix with other ingredients. Refill the egg whites and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 24 halves.

JACK-O-LANTERN BURGERS

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 package onion soup mix
- 1/4 cup water
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 6 slices American cheese
- 6 hamburger rolls

Mix the ground beef, onion soup mix and water thoroughly. Form into 6 large patties. Broil or fry. While burgers are cooking, cut Jack-o-lantern faces in each piece of cheese. Place the cheese mask on each burger so that the cheese melts slightly. Serve on buns. Serves 6.

CARROT SLAW

- 2 cups shredded carrots
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine ingredients and blend. Makes about 2 1/2 cups. Serve on lettuce leaves as a side dish salad or spread it on peanut butter sandwiches made with whole wheat bread. Serves 4 to 6.

ORANGE FRUIT CUP

- 3 large oranges

1 (20-oz.) can unsweetened pineapple chunks

- 1 banana, peeled and sliced
- 1 unpeeled apple, cored and chopped
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 teaspoon dried mint (optional)

Cut each orange in half and carefully remove the flesh, leaving rind intact. Use 1 1/2 cups orange chunks in the recipe, use the remainder at some other time.

Mix orange chunks, pineapple, banana and apple with honey and mint, if desired. Spoon the fruit salad into the 6 orange halves. Chill at least 1/2 hour. Makes 6 servings.

MULLED TOMATO JUICE

- 1 (46-oz.) can tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon celery salt
- 1 teaspoon onion salt
- 1/4 teaspoon dried oregano
- Few drops Tabasco sauce

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer 3 minutes. Or refrigerate without simmering, and heat in the amounts desired. Makes 8 (3/4 cup) servings.

FROSTY ORANGE SHAKE

- 1 cup milk
- 1 (6-oz.) can orange juice concentrate, partly thawed
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream

Combine all ingredients in a blender. Cover and blend until smooth. Makes 4 servings.

This recipe can be made into 8 frozen pops: Pour into 8 (3 1/2-oz.) paper cups. Place a wooden stick in each cup. Freeze until firm. To eat, peel off paper cup. To store in freezer, place in a plastic bag after firmly frozen.

Barbrets observe 40 married years

Mr. and Mrs. Don Barbret at their wedding on Oct. 19, 1946

Two days of celebration marked the 40th anniversary of Don and Nadine Barbret of Caseville. Don and Nadine were married at Faith Lutheran Church, Detroit on Oct. 19, 1946. Their son Robert gave them a tailgate party and banners before the Michigan vs. Iowa game on Saturday, Oct. 18. The couple attended church services on Sunday, Oct. 19 at Lutheran Church of the Master in Troy, where their son Thomas is pastor, then were feted at a luncheon at the Casa Lupita in Troy with Tom, his wife Marlene and children Jennifer and Sarah. A son, James, was unable to attend but sent his greetings from Arizona.

"Clean Water" was the program topic for the October meeting of the Elkton Extension club in the home of Mrs. Lester Weidman on Monday with Mrs. Don Dietzel presiding. Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bouck who showed slides and spoke on Great Lakes United, an international organization dedicated to conserving and protecting the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River. Erosion and pollution problems were discussed. Plans were made for International Night, set for Wednesday, Nov. 12 at Cass City High School. Countries to be studied are China, Australia and Ireland. The Christmas Party will be Dec. 15 at the Elkton Civic Center.

Crane - Gilbert marry at St. Roch

Over 350 friends and relatives gathered Saturday, Oct. 18 to witness the wedding vows spoken between Rachael Marie Gilbert and Frederick J. Crane, both of Caseville, at St. Roch's Catholic Church, Caseville. Rev. Theodore LaMarre solemnized the vows which united the children of Gerald and Margaret Gilbert and Raymond and Maryann Crane.

An arrangement of orange gladiolas, iris, orange and yellow lilies, white carnations with greenery and candelabras with springer, greens and royal blue ribbons graced the nuptial altar.

Special music included the selections "The Wedding Song," "Just You and I," "Endless Love" and "Ave Marie."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a bridal taffeta gown with a portrait neckline surrounded by Venice lace, Juliet sleeves, basque bodice, full skirt with a cathedral train. A cascade of lace appeared on the entire gown with pearl accents. A flounce surrounded the skirt and train. She wore a matching bridal hat with fingertip veiling was accented with lace and pearls.

The bride wore an arm bouquet of bridal white roses, iris, orange carnations, yellow and orange lilies and white wax flowers with a bow and streamers of lace and peeko white ribbon. She asked her sister, Rebecca Lynn Gilbert of Caseville, to be maid of honor, wearing a royal blue taffeta ballgown with a basque bodice, multi-ruffled neckline with cascades of ruffles on a full skirt and hemline. She wore an arm bouquet of iris, orange carnations, yellow and orange lilies and white wax flowers with bows and streamers of rust ribbon. Also attending the bride were bridesmaids Colleen Murphy of Flint, aunt of the bride; Stacy Bennett of Pontiac, a friend of the bride; Bonnie Boys of Birch Run, Yvonne Grapp and Pam Crane, both of Caseville, all sisters of the groom. They were dressed identically to the honor attendant and carried similar flowers.

Flower girl was Summer Gilbert of Suttons Bay, niece of the bride, wearing an all-white gown with a yoke of chantilly lace, bouffant skirt and satin ribbon at the waistline.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Homer Crane of Caseville. Assisting at the altar were groomsmen Andrew Crane of Flint, brother of the groom; Roy Boys of Birch Run and Mike Grapp of Caseville, brothers-in-law of the groom; Brian Dubey of Birch Run and Mark Goulet of Caseville, both friends of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a silk ivory tea-length dress with tulip sleeves and a cumberbund waistline. The mother of the groom wore a street-length cream dress with lacy three-quarter length sleeves and a pleated skirt.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception conducted at the Pigeon VFW Hall before leaving on a honeymoon trip to the Upper Peninsula and Crystal Lake.

The bride is employed at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon and her husband works at Berne Enterprises, Pigeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Crane are making their new home in Pigeon.

Diabetes test set

Scheurer Hospital will conduct a Diabetes Screening Clinic in conjunction with National Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 2-8.

Each year the National Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate, sponsors this special event, which is designed to diagnose new cases of diabetes in the early stages of the disease, when it is most treatable. These tests are not intended for people presently under a doctor's care for diabetes.

The clinics, which will be conducted in the new laboratory, will be held Tuesday, Nov. 4 from 10 to 11 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 5 from 6 to 8 p.m. and Thursday, Nov. 6 from 2 to 4 p.m. Appointments are not necessary and those taking tests should first report to the hospital lobby for instructions.

Those screened will be notified only if their test results show blood sugars elevated above 140. All reports are mailed to the detection committee of the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate.

The screening consists of taking a single blood sample two hours after a meal high in starches and sugars.

Clinic hours have been set to accommodate individuals during the morning, afternoon or evening.

For more information, contact the Scheurer Hospital Community Relations Department at 453-3223.

Thanks A Million

DEAR MR. ROSS:
I need help. I've been in jail for the last eight months for a crime I did not commit. Yes, I was found guilty and was sentenced to two to five years.

You don't know what it's like to be so down and out. I don't even have enough money to buy soap, deodorant or toothpaste. All the people I thought were my friends turned their backs on me when I needed them most. I don't even have a family I can depend on.

All I'm asking for is whatever you can spare. — J.S., East Elmhurst, N.Y.

DEAR MISS S.:
I read your letter at face value. I do question why friends and family would turn a dear ear to your needs, if your innocence is that apparent. However, I'm not in a position to make such a judgment.

I've mailed a money order to the commissary division of the prison. This will enable you to purchase some personal items over the next few months. If what you've written is true... you have my added compassion for being the victim of an unjust sentencing.

DEAR MR. ROSS:
Call me a meddling mother-in-law if you wish, but it's only because I'm concerned about my son's health. His wife simply can't cook or clean. For the life of me, I can't figure out why he ever married this girl! He had it so good when he lived at home with our family.

I think he's lost at least 15 lbs. since this six week old marriage began. It's an understatement to say this girl's cooking isn't even fit to feed a dog!

I've suggested some excellent meals to prepare, but she has problems just boiling water. Would you pay for some cooking lessons for her before my son dwindles down to bare bones? — Mrs. K.J., Fulton, Mo.

DEAR MRS. J.:
Lighten up! You obviously have adequate cooking skills. Why not offer to pass on a few family recipes and teacher her the basics of food preparation?

My paying for cooking lessons at your suggestion would only put heartburn in their marriage.

DEAR MR. ROSS:
My wife has colon cancer. The doctors have told us that her chances of a full recovery are quite slim. She decided to try chemotherapy regardless of how sick it makes her feel.

I guess the outcome now is in the Lord's hands. Her hair has almost completely fallen out. She feels terribly embarrassed to be seen in public and hasn't attended church services for weeks now.

I know she desperately wants and needs to attend church, but her vanity has stepped in the way. She finally told me that if she had a decent looking wig she wouldn't feel like such a sore thumb.

Doctor and hospital bills have completely drained our savings. I wanted to let a couple of bills slide so I could buy her a wig, but she wouldn't

DEAR MR. J.:
If it was simply a case of vanity I wouldn't grant your request. I see a wig in this case as a means for your wife to maintain her dignity.

My check will cover the purchase of a natural looking wig plus a little extra for a new dress. For most people, when they look good they feel good. I hope the same applies for your wife.

Commodity give-away set

Huron County residents qualified to receive surplus commodities are advised there will be a distribution on Thursday, Nov. 6, at the following times and locations, according to Mary Ann Vandemark, Human Development Commission executive director:

HURON COUNTY:
9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

Sebawaing - Sebawaing Village Park
Bad Axe - Community Fairgrounds, use Soper Road entrance

Port Hope - American Veteran's Hall at M-25 and Rubicon Road.

Due to the volume of commodities, individuals are asked to bring cardboard boxes to carry their commodities. Individuals must report to the distribution site in person and present their surplus commodity registration card.

Persons unable to go to the distribution site themselves may have someone pick up their commodities only if the registration card is shown, the HDC says.

All in a number

Huron County traffic counted for safety, tourism, road needs

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

The staccato thumps of the tires caused by a hose stretched across the road often go unnoticed, but traffic tabulation devices — "traffic counters" — provide valuable information for planning purposes.

THEFT AND VANDALISM pose a large problem for traffic counting equipment.

Information from a recent traffic count was used by The Progress-Advance to determine how many motorists pass through two of Huron County's most dangerous intersections. Blinking stop and caution lights will likely be installed where both Bay Port Road and Elkton Road cross Sebawaing Road, according to Huron Road Commission Board Secretary John Martin.

Numerous accidents, including fatal mishaps at each of those intersections, were also included consideration, he says.

Traffic was counted at all four sides of the two dangerous intersections on Sebawaing Road. At the Elkton Road crossing, an average of 866 vehicles passed through the intersection daily during the counting period, with an average of 977 vehicles passing a counter on the north side of the intersection and an average of 704 on the south side.

A slightly higher average number was registered at the Sebawaing-Bay Port Road intersection. A daily average of 1300 used the intersection, with the east side registering the highest average at 2024 and the west side the lowest at 640.

WHY USE THEM? Traffic counts are used by a variety of different people and for a variety of different reasons. Information on traffic density helps the road commission with decisions on road surfacing improvements, road widths or on traffic control such as proper warning signs or blinkers, Martin and other experts say.

The information is also available to the public free of charge and numerous potential business owners have studied traffic patterns to determine the most advantageous locations for a new business, says Martin.

The biggest problem in using the traffic counters is not kids registering false counts with their bicycles, but rather theft and vandalism.

Although the counters are chained to a stationary object, the unique tools are stolen when the chains are cut. That problem is more serious when the counter must be placed in a secluded area.

HOW DO THEY WORK? The counters used by the Huron County Road Commission are activated by air pressure. The amount of pressure required to activate the mechanism can also be adjusted. Vandalism to counters usually involves someone cutting the hose, Martin notes.

Because of the theft and vandalism problems, the Road Commission Board decided to hire a firm outside the government to determine traffic patterns.

This summer, the Road Commission paid about $7,500 to have traffic counted on all of the approximately 150 Huron County primary roads. Martin points out that amount is roughly equal to purchase of two good traffic counters.

STATE NUMBERS, TOO: The Michigan Department of Transportation also receives traffic counts on the state highways in Huron County, including M-142, M-25 and M-53.

That information is provided by the Traffic Statistics Unit, according to TSU Supervisor Ralph Swan.

He terms traffic "generally light" in the Thumb area with the exception of M-53 on the northern side of Bad Axe, which was recently widened to five lanes.

Traffic counts are taken three times per year at the same location on the state trunklines to identify any seasonal fluctuations. Swan says there is little seasonal change during the summer in the Thumb except for holidays.

He notes the last several years have produced generally stable amounts of traffic on state roads in Huron County, while traffic has increased about 3% statewide.

LOCAL NUMBERS: The number of vehicles on M-142 in the western Thumb shows the heaviest traffic moves between Pigeon and Elkton.

According to Swan, an average of 3,300 vehicles travel M-142 between Elkton and Pigeon, compared to 3,200 between Elkton and Bad Axe and 2,500 between Pigeon and the M-25 intersection.

The average numbers are the product of the Traffic Statistics Unit which takes the raw numbers and applies other factors to get an accurate figure.

"We take the numbers and put them together so people can understand them," Swan says.

Subs play key role in Laker victory over Hawks

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

The level of competition didn't challenge the Elktion-Pigeon - Bay Port football team last Friday as in the showdown with North Branch, but the intensity level of the Laker players was just as high in the 17-0 win over Cass City. The intensity and concentration level was important to compensate for a patched-up backfield due to injuries and disciplinary suspensions.

Laker Coach Bill McLellan took a page from the Chicago Bears by moving defensive lineman Pat McArdie to the fullback position, but noted after the game McArdie had experience at that position on the junior varsity squad. The Laker mentor also leaned heavily on the quick moves of junior running back Chris Deering in the Laker backfield.

Regular fullback Ken Ziel saw little action as he continues to recover from a knee injury which occurred against North Branch. Quarterback Jay Anthes was also hobbled with a tender knee from the North Branch game, but he not only started the game but also tossed another touchdown to favorite receiver Paul Elenbaum.

Running back and linebacker Tom Beer and safety Brad Krohn watched the game from the sidelines in street clothes as a result of disciplinary action. They are expected to be back in uniform for Friday night's game with Harbor Beach.

With some different players filling the vacated positions in the game, Laker players boosted their intensity level another notch. ("Laker players) just didn't want to share the crown. They fought their butts off last week to get it and they didn't want to give it to anybody else," declared McLellan.

EARLY BREAK: Crunching Laker tackles on defense produced a fumble on the Red Hawk's second play of the game at Cass City's 31 yard line. The Green Machine wasted little time converting that turnover into points as McArdie crashed into the endzone for the first time since his fourth minute into the contest.

After forcing the Hawks to punt on their second possession, Lakers marched 55 yards for their second touchdown of the game. Elenbaum grabbed an eight yard scoring pass with two defenders clinging to him to cap the drive.

As the first quarter expired, Laker's Jeff Sturm punted on their second possession to begin the third consecutive scoring drive for the home team. The Green Machine moved the ball to the Hawk 13, but had to settle for a field goal as Jim Warren couldn't find the handle on a pass as he ran through the back of the endzone.

After earlier kicking both PATs, Randy Heckman registered the final points of the game with a 33 yard field goal. The only time Cass City moved the ball effectively was on their final possession. They drove 50 yards to the Laker 10 yard line, but were halted when Elenbaum picked off a Red Hawk pass and returned it 70 yards to the Cass City 30 yard line with less than two minutes remaining in the game.

The patchwork Laker backfield rushed for 130 yards and Anthes passed for 42 more.

TOUGH DEFENSE: A stubborn EPBP defense drew the praise of Cass City Coach Ron Schelke by only allowing Hawk runners to gain 53 yards on the ground. They added 48 more yards through the air. "We're better than what we showed in the first quarter, but you got to give Lakers credit. They have a heckava defense. We've been able to move the ball on anybody we played all year except for them," said Schelke.

He also pointed to the team's poor field position for most of the game.

"They have a great kicking game. That's a valuable tool going into the playoffs," added Schelke.

Heckman punted seven times for an average of 35 yards in addition to booting two extra points and a field goal.

Laker groundgainers were led by Deering with 96 yards in 22 carries. On defense, Laker's Dean Roedel intercepted a Red Hawk pass.

TBA CROWN: With the victory over Cass City, Lakers claimed the outright Thumb B title and took a giant stride toward earning a playoff invitation. With postseason likely, however, McLellan isn't looking past Friday's game with Harbor Beach on the Laker Field.

"We came this far, we want to be 9-0," said McLellan.

"(Harbor Beach) wants to beat Lakers so bad they can taste it. (A victory over Lakers) would make their season," he added about the motivation of the non-conference opponent.

Lakers carried the computer point lead in their region into the contest with Cass City.

JV'S SHARE TITLE: After suffering their first defeat of the season, the Laker junior varsity squad shared the Thumb B title with Cass City. Both teams posted 6-1 records after the Red Hawks upended Lakers, 20-6. Lakers scored first when Vince Gentile scored on a 41 yard run.

EYING THE ENDZONE: Running back Chris Deering looks for a way past Cass City defender Jim Hahn as Lakers close in on the goal line.

Cass City pulled ahead, 8-6, in the second stanza on a one yard run and a two point conversion. The Hawks added two more touchdowns in the third quarter on runs of 10 and three yards to seal the win.

Gentile was the leading Laker rusher with 90 yards in 16 carries and also paced the defense with 14 tackles. Ed Bach rushed for 47 yards in a dozen attempts and Kevin Wolfram caught five passes for 73 yards.

Caseville splits pair of hoop games

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

When the evidence was all presented last week, the Peck girls basketball team made a strong case for their ranking among the top five teams in the state. "Nolo contendere," the legal term for "no contest" was the way Caseville Coach Randy Bingham described his team's 72-25 defeat at the hands of the undefeated Lady Pirates from Peck.

"Basically we tried to get everybody healthy for Thursday night and give everybody some playing time," he said about the goals he set for his team in the game. Playing on their home hardwood courtroom, Peck assumed the roles of judge, jury and executioner as the Pirates opened a 23-9 lead at the end of the opening quarter and stretched the margin to 45-19 at halftime. Yvonne Miller was the only Eagle to hit double digits with 10 points.

WINNING WAYS: The Lady Eagles used a balanced scoring attack to win a reprieve in their quest for a .500 season with a 58-50 victory over Carsonville - Port Sanilac at Caseville. The home team led most of the game until the Tigers rallied to even the score with about four minutes remaining in the game. Bingham promptly called a timeout and Caseville's closing statement resulted in a 10-point lead which they maintained in the final minutes of the game.

Erin Barton led the offense with 13 points, followed by Tina Bieri with 12, Miller with 11 and Krista Colgin with 10. Kim Madej also added eight points coming off the bench to play about two quarters Caseville after returning to the lineup following an illness which sidetracked her. Having his entire team back and ready to play was important to Bingham. "We have nine girls and when we're all healthy we play pretty good. We should finish around 500 which will be a real accomplishment for us," he said.

THIS WEEK: Caseville travels to OwenGage on Tuesday night then takes a break on Thursday before returning to action at Port Hope on Tuesday, Nov. 4. JVs LOSE: The Eagle junior varsity dropped a 38-21 decision to Peck and lost 30-13 to CPS.

Cass City hosts finals for X-Country

Class C Cross Country State Finals are scheduled this Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Rolling Hills Golf Course, north of Cass City High School. Races are to begin at 12:30 p.m., with trophies and medals awarded at 3:30 p.m. For more information, phone Ron Nurnberger, tournament director at 872-2148.

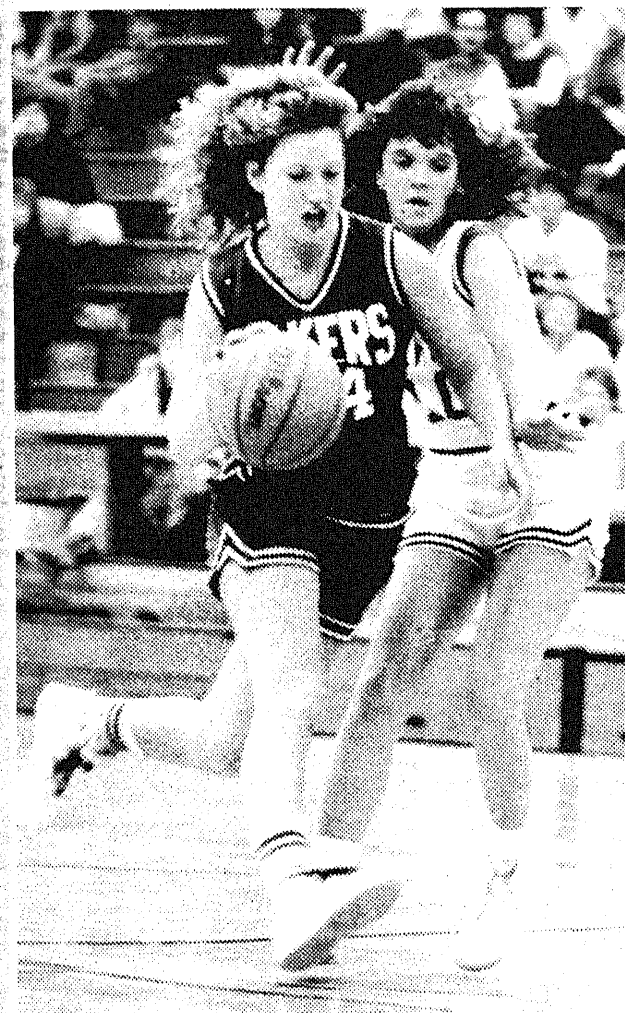

Lakers dunk Hawks, Spartans

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

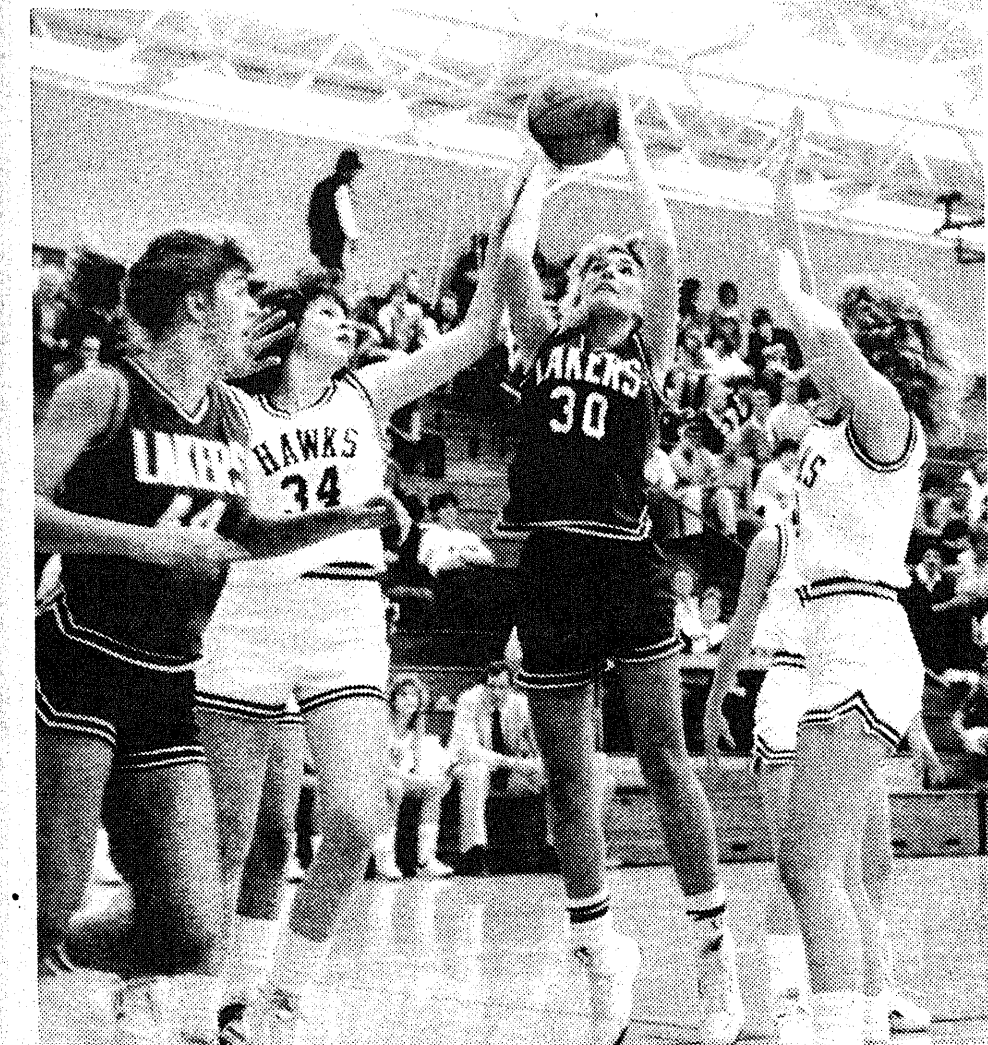

The Lady Lakers pounded Cass City 71-30 last Tuesday, then provided a rerun two nights later with a 79-31 victory over Imlay City.

After the registering their first loss the previous week, the level of intensity during practice sessions and games for Lakers was almost frightening for their coach Paul Beachy.

"They were so intense I had to quit practice early the other night because I was afraid they were going to hurt each other," Beachy said.

DRIVING: Laker forward Vicki Winter races past a Cass City defender on a fast break basket.

BIG BUCKET: Bethanne Beachy gets a shot away despite being fouled by Cass City's Darlene Monroe (34) as Laker Julia Sturm (44) and a pair of Red Hawks look for a rebound.

says. He says his players are very competitive and none wants to look bad in practice.

"We were so intense in practice I knew Cass City was going to be in trouble. I didn't feel sorry for (Cass City), I just felt sorry it happened to be them (that Lakers played after the loss)," notes Beachy.

A greater emphasis on Laker's man-to-man defense also seems to pick up the offense. Beachy believes players sometimes get in a rut of just standing around while playing a zone.

The defensive improvement raised the Laker court performance to an even higher level, Beachy believes. He noted his team's defense was tested in both games because Lakers scored so many points. Beachy pointed out each time his squad scored, the opponents got the ball and also were given an opportunity to put points on the board.

BIG GAME: Julia Sturm hit 30 points against the Imlay City Spartans. She wasn't loafing on defense either as the senior center set a Laker team record with 14 blocked shots. Sturm also came within one rebound of tying the team record as she pulled down 23 errant Spartan shots.

Lisa Buschlen contributed 14 points as eight Lakers scored in the contest. The visiting Lakers out-pointed their Spartan hosts in every quarter. Lakers recorded a 37-20 halftime lead and continued to pull away.

HAWKS DOWNED: The visiting Red Hawks faced a red-hot Laker team last Tuesday. The home team put the game out of reach by the intermission with a 34-14 lead. After stretching that gap in the third quarter, Coach Beachy decided to

Kraus throws three TD passes in losing cause Injuries slow Eagles in grid loss

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

The Caseville Eagles wrapped up their football season with a 29-22 loss to Peck, but provided plenty of excitement in their finale.

The Peck Pirates opened up a 14-0 lead in the first quarter on runs of 20 yards by Mark Johnson and 10 yards by Rob VanConent. The first Peck touchdown was set up when a bad snap on a Caseville punt attempt turned the ball over to the Pirates deep in Eagle territory.

AIR ATTACK: The visiting Eagles came flying back in the second stanza to score all their points before halftime. Early in the period, Matt Kraus unlimbered his throwing arm and fired a 30-yard touchdown pass to Bruce Langley. Caseville then tied the score at 14-14 when a Kraus-to-Doug Engleman pass covered 91 yards for a touchdown. Bruce Langley ran in the two-point conversion.

Peck again took the lead with a four-yard Johnson TD run and PAT kick, but Kraus had another big play in store for the Pirates.

With just nine seconds on the clock before intermission, the Caseville quarterback hurled a 65 yard scoring pass to Langley. He then tossed a two-point conversion pass to Engleman to put the Eagles ahead 22-21 at the midpoint of the game.

An injury to Kraus in the third quarter sidelined him for the remainder of the contest, and the Caseville's offense disappeared along with him. The Eagles could only run the ball for 51 yards in the game, and second string quarterback Mike Henne was pressed into action despite a sore throwing hand.

Peck's Mark Johnson scored the winning touchdown for the Pirates at the end of the third quarter on a 30 yard run. Peck quarterback Dan Williams hit Sean Torrey with the two-point conversion pass for the final points of the game.

"We lost our quarterback and that hurt us because we just could not pass. Our offense just came to a halt," said Eagle mentor Jerry Winkler.

He also noted sophomore running back Troy Hartz also missed most of the second half with an injury. Hard running by Peck ballcarriers broke many tackles by Caseville defenders, as the Peck ground game provided the edge for the victors.

Peck totaled 311 rushing yards and only gained 10 yards through the air. Kraus completed six of eight passes for most of Caseville's 234 passing yards and had one aerial picked off. Henne was 1-4 with one interception and Langley threw one pass which was incomplete.

Langley gained 39 yards in 11 carries in his last football game in a Caseville uniform. Two Peck runners topped the century mark as VanConent carried 17 times for 143 yards and Johnson gained 136 yards in 22 carries.

PASS PROTECTION: Winkler praised his offensive line for their pass blocking which he noted was their strong suit all season.

Looking back over the season, Winkler said, "All in all it was a pretty good season considering we lost so many guys from last year's team. Some young players got some valuable experience for next year."

He pointed out his offensive line started only one senior with two sophomores and the rest juniors.

Winkler lauded his team for a good effort during the year and said his only disappointment was the loss to OwenGage.

"We thought we should have won that game," he commented.

With returning lettermen next year, the Caseville coach has something to help him forget that defeat as he looks to the 1987-88 grid season.

I recently have heard of a tax-funded preschool program that caters only to a certain group of children. It seems unfair to me that a chosen few should receive a HEAD START in our school system, while the children of the average working class families must begin their schooling with no prior training. Many children will begin their school years at a disadvantage, not because they come from poor or illiterate families, but because their families are honest tax-paying citizens who have an income that is just enough that their children are not allowed to take advantage of the free education, free transportation and free meals that their tax dollars pay for.

Library backs 'yes' vote on Proposal A

White Pine Library Cooperative Director Susan J. Hill and Pigeon District Librarian Roberta Richmond say they favor a "yes" vote on State Proposal A, to provide clear authority to establish the Library of Michigan within the State Legislature.

Since the Legislature transferred direction of the State Library from the Department of Education to the Legislature in 1983, library support and political access has been improved, the leaders say.

To keep these improvements in force, a "yes" vote on the Proposal A is necessary, they say.

The formal constitutional change language is necessary to avoid legal questions about the Legislature's direction of library services in the state, in the future. Passage will have a long-range, positive effect on future state support for libraries.

"Since Proposal A was placed on the ballot by a nearly unanimous vote of the State Legislature, we urge people who want to see our libraries continue improving to vote 'yes' next Tuesday," the supporters say.

will choose a name for their team: fourth grade -- Generals, Busters and Fireballs; fifth grade -- Wolves, Miami Mice and Raiders; sixth grade -- Mets, Rockets and Stars. They will compete in a Round Robin Tournament for two weeks playing seven-minute games against each other. Nov. 12 will be the Play-offs. First, second and third place winners will compete against the first, second and third place winners of each class to determine a winner. They will play for the championship.

JH COMPETES: The junior high girls competed in the Akron-Fairgrove Tournament. The seventh grade lost to Kingston, 7-30, on Oct. 21, their first game of the tourney. The eighth grade girls defeated Kingston, 24-12. Kim Bailey led the Eagles with 12 points.

On Oct. 23 the seventh grade defeated Owen-Gage in the consolation game of the tournament, 13-11. Jill Miller was high scorer for Caseville with six points. The eighth grade girls were defeated by Akron-Fairgrove in their final match. Penny Murdoch paced the Eagles with 16 points.

GIRLS' VARSITY: The varsity girls lost to Peck, 25-72 on Oct. 21. The Eagles were out-matched by their opponents who are ranked third in the state. Yvonne Miller led with 12 points.

The Lady Eagles defeated Carsonville-Port Sanilace on Oct. 23, 58-50. Eagle scorers were Erin Barton with 13, Tina Bieri with 12 and seven assists, Yvonne Miller with 11, Krista Colgin with 10 and Kim Madej with eight points. Coach Bingham was pleased with the balanced scoring of the team.

The Eagles are now 5-7 NCTL and 6-9 overall.

FHA CONVO: The Future Homemakers of America convention will be Monday, Nov. 3 in Mayville.

Twelve members and advisor Mrs. Debra Fritz will attend from Caseville. The convention is a business meeting of all the chapters in the Thumb. They will elect regional officers, have a scrapbook contest, will judge nametags each chapter designated with the theme, "The Road to Where You Start." Prizes will be given to the best designed items.

Your Progress-Advance is pleased to present NOTHING but local news, advertisements and pictures in every issue.

We don't give you stories about the Middle East, Russia, New York City or even Detroit. Nope, we want to give you NOTHING but hometown news -- about people you know.

Besides, most other papers fill their pages with THAT kind of news when they don't have enough local news. We've never done that. And, as your hometown paper, we never will.
