After-school care for youngsters

Lakers considering "Latch Key" program

Laker School officials plan to survey local residents to determine if a need exists for an after-school "Latch Key Program" to supervise children of working parents.

The Laker Board of Education Monday night agreed to study such a daily service, to watch over school-age youngsters from school dismissal until possibly 5:30 p.m., on a recommendation by Supt. Harry Brunel.

NO TAX COST: Such a Latch Key Program would provide child care at no cost to taxpayers, yet would offer safe and supervised activities at school until youngsters are picked up by their parents after work. Various types of fun activities and learning games under adult supervision would be offered, according to Elementary Education Director Fred Joles.

Arts and crafts projects could be worked on, board and card games played — or children could do their homework, reading and physical activities in the gym, among other options.

The survey will seek interest in the program, finding out how often parents may be interested in using the program each week. Laker Business Manager Bob Drury said a $1 per hour or other similar charge could be paid weekly, to cover supervision costs.

"We don't want to make money, but pay for adult supervision and any activities needed," Joles said. Prices could range from $1 per hour for first student in a family, and 50¢ for each succeeding child.

WORKS ELSEWHERE: Elkton Principal Ben Phillips said Crosswell - Lexington Schools have had a successful Latch Key program for two years. An average of 28 students stay per day, needing a full-time coordinator and one part-time aide, he said.

Joles said about 25 students could be eligible for the program at Bay Port Elementary, 75 to 80 in Pigeon and up to 150 in Elkton.

"The buildings are here," Brunel said. "So many youngsters today have mom and dad both working. Unless they're really disciplined, (they come home to) an empty house and TV. This would offer supervised control."

Survey results will be analyzed at a future Board meeting, Brunel said.

Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port "Laker" students have fared well on state assessment tests, the Laker Board of Education learned Monday night.

Fourth, seventh and 10th graders take the Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests annually, and results are compared in math and reading categories. State averages will be available for comparison in about one month, officials said.

FOURTH: Elementary Education Director Fred Joles gave results for fourth graders at Bay Port, Pigeon and Elkton Elementary Schools.

Numeration figures in the math category showed 95% of Bay Port students passing (scores of 75% or higher), 92% of Pigeon fourth graders passing and 92% passing in Elkton. In reading, 97% of Bay Port students passed vocabulary, 93% did so in Pigeon and 95% did so in Elkton.

Several groups scored 100% in sub-categories — meaning all students earned 75% or better scores on the tests.

SEVENTH: Junior High Counselor Todd Bigger showed 72.5% of Laker seventh graders passed the math portion this year, compared with 63.2% in 1986. Another 25.3% got scores of 51-75% this year.

In reading, 86.8% of Pigeon has 7 spots available

Seven elected positions in the Village of Pigeon are up for election in March, 1988, with nominating petitions due by 4 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Terms offered for two years are Village President Dave Geiger, Clerk Janet Heckman, Treasurer Frances Armbruster, Assessor Roy Lawrence and Council members Dave McCormick, Michael Gehrs and Kenneth Licht.

None of the seven have announced plans to give up their seats, so all are expected to run again.

WATER WORK: The job of replacing 11 water hydrants around Pigeon is on schedule, the Village Council learned Monday night, and should be completed by Wednesday.

Special thanks were given to the DPW crew and to Huron Excavating's Denny Herford, for excellent work in the renovation and replacement project. His firm was low-bidder in the water improvement project.

The next time you see a Veteran...

In a telephone conversation with a man at a Veterans of Foreign Wars post, a parenthetical statement the man made broke my heart.

"There are a lot of us veterans," he said, "and I know we are a drag on the budget."

No, never. And we have reached a vile and wretched state of affairs if some of these old heroes feel that way. But for them, there would be no yuppies tooling around in Japanese Z-cars and German number cars.

You may look at these veterans of World War II and see men with hair gone or gray, with spreading stomachs and bent shoulders. These are but the wounds of time, a foe no man has ever conquered.

But I see the real men, the heroes. I see them with their smooth faces, clear eyes and flat stomachs, hanging out of the windows of troop trains and waving at me, a barefoot kid in a sleepy Georgia town.

That barefoot kid's peers in Europe, North Africa and the Philippines were dying, were starving, were being executed, were hiding in terror, were weeping over dead parents, bombed out homes.

But my childhood was safe because these now old men put their bodies and their lives between me and two powerful war machines intent on destroying this country. They bought me a future and they paid for it with arms, legs and lives. I won't forget. I can't forget.

They were magnificent. Many of them had never been more than 200 miles away from home. America was a land of home folks then. Many had never seen the ocean, much less a battleship. Some had never driven a car, much less flown an airplane.

What did they know of world politics? Almost nothing. What did they know of the enemy? Only that he was an enemy. What did they know of weapons or tactics or strategy? Nothing. If you asked them to describe Japan or locate Guadalcanal on a map or tell you where the Kasserine Pass or Salerno was, you could have written the familiar story about the deficiencies of public education. Not one in 5,000 could have told you.

But they learned and they learned damn fast. They came forward from everywhere, from CCC camps, from cities, from towns, from farms. They were kids with no vocation or plumbers or steelworkers or clerks or salesmen or bookkeepers or mechanics or anything else except professional soldiers.

They sailed off into the stormy Atlantic and into the wide Pacific with a minimum of training and often with inadequate or inferior weapons. They took their Sherman tanks, ridiculously high profiled, lightly armored and undergunned, against the veterans of the German panzer corps. The Germans would kill four tanks and four tank crews but the fifth, which hadn't stopped coming, would get the German.

And so it went. In Pacific jungles, in African deserts, in European snows, they slogged on and on, making up with guts and blood what they and the officers who led them lacked in experience.

In the Berlin and Tokyo, the wisest of the enemy could feel the doom like a cold stone in their stomachs. They knew their leaders had wakened a sleeping giant. They knew the softliving, wasteful and ignorant and provincial Americans had more to them than could be seen on the surface.

In the end, their guts and endurance and ingenuity defeated the samurai and the Prussian professional's training and experience.

A drag on the budget? No, never. My generation and your generation will never pay the debt. You can't repay a blood debt with money. What's a life worth? What's a country worth? What's freedom worth? Think about that the next time you see a veteran.

New post office at Caseville

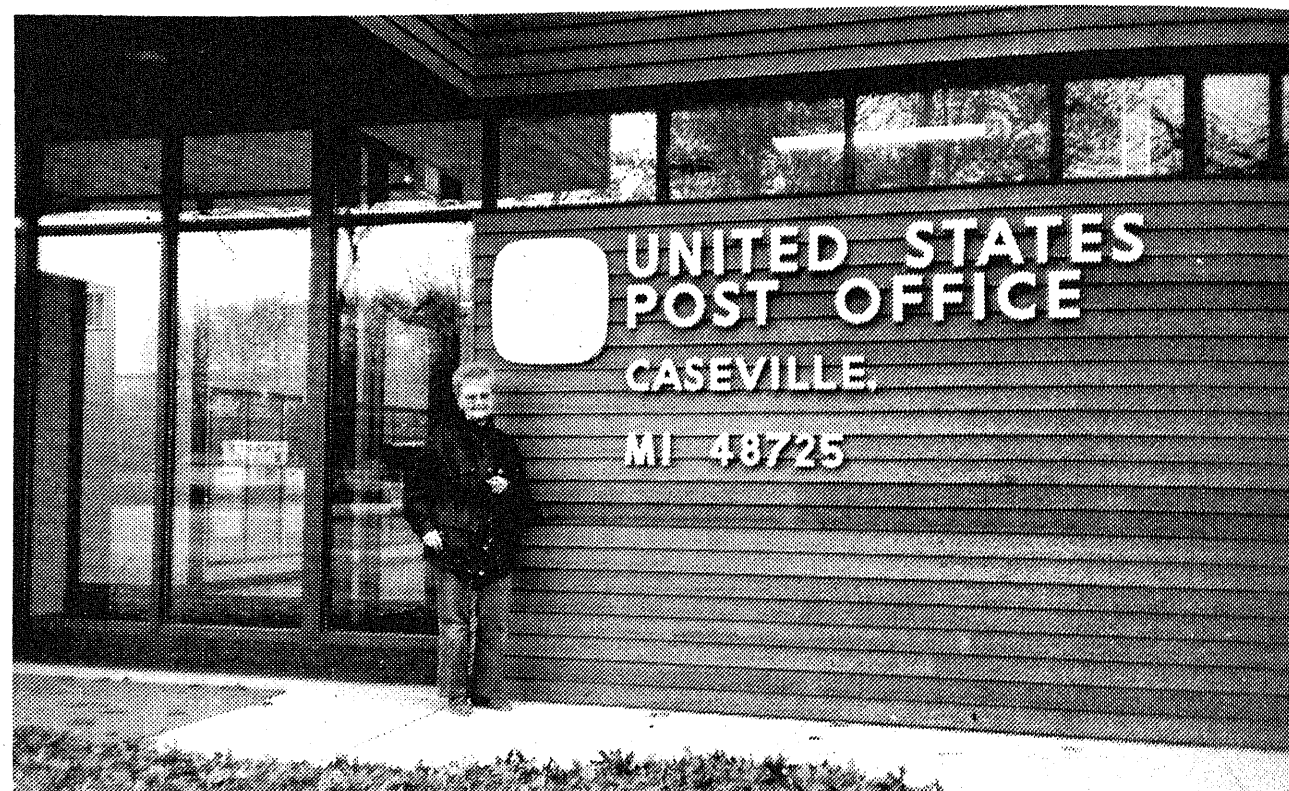

The daily ritual of picking up one's mail underwent a change over the weekend in the community of Caseville. Friday was "moving day" for the Caseville Post Office. People accustomed to visiting the downtown location for all their postal services will now use the new building located at the west end of Caseville on M-25. Its new business neighbors include the new Millerwise TV Kauffold-Hahn Insurance and USA Realty complex.

Caseville Postmaster Jeanine Tait, who has held her post since 1972 and has been a Caseville postal employe for 39 years, says that Caseville simply "outgrew" the old building. "Every single box was rented out," she explains.

"There was no room to accommodate the increasing volume of mail that goes through the Caseville post office."

Tait expressed excitement about her new business home, especially regarding several new services available to residents. New stamp vending machines will help keep postal lines short for customers, allowing postal workers to more quickly sort the mail, handle address changes and other daily tasks.

The new location boasts three times the amount of space available at the downtown location. "We had storage boxes out in the customer area since we ran out of room to put everything," she explained. A quick tour of the new building shows an abundant amount of storage room, plus lots of room for customer service.

Tait says that it was "business as usual" when customers came into the new building on Monday, with the majority of moving having been completed over the weekend. She invites Caseville residents to take a look at their new postal office.

Construction was completed by Leible Construction of Caro, who leases the building to the United States government.

Elkton seeks '88 Council nominees

Nominating petitions for service in Elkton Village government are due by Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Two-year terms for Village President, Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor and two Council seats will be decided in next year's primary election. Incumbents are President Elmer Ropp, Clerk Janet Santos, Treasurer Dennis Learman, Assessor Phyllis Tamblin and Council members Ron Cunningham and Barbara Thompson.

All incumbents are expected to again seek their existing posts, most said during last Tuesday's Village Council meeting. Clerk Santos has petition information for interested persons.

POSTAL EXPANSION: Robert Hunter asked Council for an option to purchase up to 24 feet of village-owned parking lot space just west of the Elkton Post Office, as he works with the Postal Service to make plans doubling the building to 2100 square feet.

Both Hunter and Council said they prefer such expansion to the east — in the area now used for Post Office parking lot — but must abide by what the government decides.

Council said they will work with whatever plan is developed, after they hear more specifics.

BANKING OFFICE: Education Employees Credit Union asked Council for permission to move a trailer banking unit to the former railroad depot site near the downtown park. The move would allow a drive-in window, and would be followed with a permanent building in Elkton within the next five years, officials say.

The former Active Credit Union plans to close or sell its downtown building, due to fast growth of accounts. Council supported the plans, pending approval by the C&O Railway, owners of the depot property maintained by the village.

NO TO PIG FARM: Council passed a motion opposing the proposed hog "factory" farm in southwest Oliver Township. Terry Renn spoke to Council, saying such a facility would devalue nearby land values. It should be built on land owned by

IDEN RESIGNS FROM EDC

Huron County Economic Development Director Ralph Iden has announced his resignation from the job, to become the marketing manager at Berne Enterprises, Inc., of Pigeon, effective Nov. 13.

His decision was accepted by the county EDC board last week, and Administrative Assistant Diane Nielson of Harbor Beach will fill his position until a permanent replacement is found.

At Berne Enterprises, the 45-year-old Iden will fill the newly-created position, responsible for developing new marketing strategies as well as assisting Chief Executive Officer Keith Wurst in administration of the business. "When opportunity knocked, I didn't want to be out in the backyard looking for a four-leaf clover," Iden said Friday.

He has served on several local business groups, including the East Michigan Tourist Association, advisory board of the Human Development Commission's Thumbody Enterprises and the Thumb Area Tourism and Recreation Council.

"I will miss a lot of the people I have been dealing with over the past four years," Iden says. "I have especially enjoyed working with local business owners. But I view this as an opportunity for personal improvement," Iden said.

CASEVILLE FILLS VACANCY

Donald Cieslinski has been appointed to the Caseville School Board of Education, to fill the vacancy resulting from the recent death of member Robert Kunding.

Cieslinski will finish the term which runs through June, 1988.

In other recent Caseville School activity, a 65-passenger bus has been ordered from the McFadden Corp., of Lansing. The bid of $33,441 was the lowest of four submitted to the Board last month.

'NO' TO THUMB AREA PRISON

Tuscola County has been eliminated as a possible site for the proposed medium-security regional state prison planned for the Saginaw Valley.

County officials learned last week that the new 612-bed prison will be located in Saginaw County — although the exact location may still be changed. Some Tuscola leaders had considered requesting the $42 million prison be located in the Thumb, to bring more jobs to the region.

ONE LUCKY ELK HUNTER...

Only one person in the Upper Thumb had the good fortune to receive a permit to hunt elk during the Michigan's 1987 Elk Hunting Season.

Robert C. Crosby of Kingston bucked odds of 219 to 1 against him to receive a registered letter from DNR officials stating he may harvest one antlerless elk during Michigan's sixth elk hunt, scheduled for Dec. 8-13. His name was drawn from a pool of 38,546 persons who purchased deer licenses. Of that number 81 will be allowed to take only antlerless elk, while 49 will have the choice of taking a bull or antlerless elk.

This year's elk herd is estimated at 1,250 animals. The hunting area has been expanded from 435 to 686 square miles within Montmorency, Otsego, Cheboygan and Presque Isle Counties.

NEW FACE: Elkton Food Center is nearly finished with a major renovation project, which includes a new wooden front, roof, floors — and electric eye doors.

Owner Maxine Erer says the parking lot at the former Elkton IGA store will be paved yet this fall, as a final improvement to be appreciated by customers.

"It's been quite an effort, but our customers deserve the best," Mrs. Erer says.

Want to put a new car under your tree?

The Pigeon Chamber of Commerce is offering its largest "Christmas Gift" ever — a brand new 1988 automobile to the lucky winner of the five-week 1987 Christmas Car Giveaway promotion which kicks-off Sunday, Nov. 22 during the Pigeon Open House.

At each week's drawings, set for Nov. 22, 28, Dec. 5, 12 and 19, ten names will be drawn from all the tickets given away from participating Chamber members during the previous week, says President Mike LePage.

An exception will be the Open House drawing next Sunday, Nov. 22 — at which tickets from Sunday only will be selected.

Tickets will be destroyed after each week's drawing so that everyone has a new chance to win each week.

HOW TO WIN: Ten names will be drawn at each Saturday drawing, following the children's and teen drawing (see related story) and those winners will go up on a specially-built stage to try their luck at having one of two winning keys.

Those two will then participate in the final drawing on Dec. 19, and one of the 10 finalists will drive home a new car!

To be eligible, residents (or their spouses) must be present at the drawing. A person who has one of the 10 finalists is not eligible to win another key, nor is any other member of their family.

A person must be 18 years of age or older to participate.

WHAT THEY WIN: The Christmas Car Giveaway winner will have several options in selecting his or her "gift."

The winner may shop at either of the two local car dealers, Pigeon Motor Sales and McCormick Motors. A car will be available to drive immediately home, or a person may use the approximate $7,000 value to put down on a more expensive vehicle or to purchase a used car, LePage says.

The Chamber Board reminds contestants that the price must be a car, and will not be given in cash. The prize also does not include sales tax on the vehicle, he says.

MORE FUN, TOO: Free bean soup will also be available downtown and the Chamber Board is working on having Christmas entertainment downtown prior to the drawings.

All of the fun will start at the Pigeon Open House on Sunday, Nov. 22 from 1 to 4 p.m. and shoppers are reminded to spend their holiday money in their hometown, for good shopping bargains and a chance to win a new automobile, local merchants say.

New drawing planned with area teens in mind

The Pigeon Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank local teenagers, ages 13 to 17, for shopping in Pigeon during the holiday season and plans a special drawing for this age group.

The teen drawing will follow the weekly children's drawing each Saturday between Thanksgiving and Christmas. In it, four teens every week will win Pigeon Money and a chance to win a Grand Prize on Dec. 19 a 13-inch TV set.

GOOD CUSTOMERS: "The teens probably spend a greater proportion of their income in Pigeon than any other age group," says Pigeon Chamber President Mike LePage. "We'd like to tell them how much we appreciate their business."

Tickets for the special teen drawing will be available at participating Chamber businesses. They will be conducted every week, beginning Nov. 28, with the Grand Prize drawing on Dec. 19.

Children's and the teen drawings will NOT be conducted on Open House Sunday, but Santa and Mrs. Claus will make their first official visit to Pigeon that day. Ten lucky children will take home toys following the Saturday, Nov. 28, Dec. 5, 12 and 19 drawings, LePage says.

OBSERVATIONS BY CO-PUBLISHER MARK RUMMEL AND ANYBODY ELSE HE CAN GET TO WRITE 'EM!

THIS MONTH... Our 11th month of the year is nearly halfway done, and it deserves some recognition for what it is and has been:

■ November is a gray, poor tired month, one defined by several snowfalls (which usually don't last half a day) and the excesses of Thanksgiving (with leftovers which linger on forever).

■ Most trees have lost most of their leaves, and many crop fields have been tended for the last time until spring;

■ This month is often known for elections (this year is quiet compared with next year), nor'wester' storms and the kick-off of Christmas shopping in earnest (even though some TV commercials started several months previous);

■ Novem is the Latin word for nine, since November was the ninth month of the old Roman calendar;

■ The Great Lakes storm of Nov. 8, 1913 claimed more lives than any other in history, when 13 ships went down. The ore hauler Edmund Fitzgerald sank Nov. 10, 1975 in Lake Superior, when a nor'easter' wind came up. And, 29 sailors died;

■ November is known as the darkest month, too — the record for the fewest hours of cloudless skies in Michigan was 25 hours in 1985. Normal temperature high is 46, and lows are 32 degrees. Normal rainfall is 2.43 inches and — sigh — normal snowfall is nearly 6½ inches.

LONG DISTANCE — Althea Lorencz of Owendale recently found a balloon in her field — which had flown all the way from the Lincoln School in Cicero, Ill. (outside Chicago).

She's sent the stamped envelope back, and that's quite a journey, spanning Lake Michigan and the state of Michigan!

IT'S FINALLY BEEN DONE — Doctors at the U of M's University Hospital in Ann Arbor have transplanted brain tissue in a 55-year-old Parkinson's disease victim. That's the first time for such brain graft surgery here.

It will be at least four weeks before doctors know whether the surgery will even partially reverse the woman's severe case of Parkinson's...

FOR THE RECORD — Jim and Tammy Bakker have postponed their 18-city preaching and singing tour, and a spokesman admitted ticket sales have been "a little slower than we thought." But, that had nothing to do with the cancellation.

The former PTL Club leaders are now leasing a $7000-a-month beach home in Malibu, Calif., by the way...

RIGHT IDEA — In Hungary, no TV service is offered every Monday. They call it "Family Day" and encourage people to enjoy each other's company (and do some reading!)

On other days, Hungary TV is on from 8:30 to 12 noon and from 4 to 11 p.m. (which makes lots of sense, too)...

WISH I'D SAID THAT — "Live your life so you wouldn't be ashamed to sell the family parrot to the town gossip!" (Will Rogers)

Stewart L. Justin performed the ceremony uniting the children of Clarence and Karen Swartzendruber of Pigeon and Donald and Diana Kosinski, Sr. of Port Austin. Sixty guests witnessed the vows.

She carried a bouquet of lavender and white roses with daisy mums and baby's breath accents.

The groom's mother selected a jade-colored dress with black print.

VETERANS DAY

Wednesday November 11

One of the great moments in American history came at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, 1918, when World War I came to its bitter end.

This year, 69 years later, America and the world will again observe the end of hostilities of what had been the bloodiest years in history. In one battle along the Somme River, more than 100,000 British and the same number of Germans died every night for 3 nights, and when it was over, the front line had shifted less than 500 yards.

Since the United States was founded in 1787, nearly 40 million war participants have served their country. In those 2 centuries, 1,081,000 died while doing their part to preserve liberty in this country and around the world.

Since World War I, American participation has expanded tremendously in conflicts around the world, the cost paid by Americans for their role as world champions of liberty and freedom.

During World War I, 4.75 million Americans served, 116,000 died. In World War II, 16.53 million served, 406,000 met their deaths. The Korean Conflict saw 6.8 million in service, 55,000 died, and in Vietnam, 9.8 million were in uniform, and 47,000 did not return.

Americans can never honor enough those millions who served and the more-than-one-million who died, for they were ready when the call came.

To them, all Americans owe a debt of liberty.

So, this Wednesday, at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, pause, observe one moment of silence and breathe a prayer of thanks that you are permitted to live today in this wonderful land of the free, and home of the brave.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY

THE LESSONS OF OUR FAITH SHOULD BE TAKEN HOME WITH US

We are continually urged to attend our House of Worship, and those of us with the wisdom to realize that we need a higher source of comfort and guidance than we can obtain on earth will take this advice. However, the lessons we learn there are of little value unless we carry them with us and put them into practice the other six days of the week. This can be done in many little ways which are nonetheless important; like holding a door open for someone, or thanking the person who does it for you. Or stopping to help someone who has just dropped an armload of packages. Or just being polite and cordial to everyone. Doing these things can start a chain reaction of good humor and can even help you bring yourself out of a depressed mood. The Bible tells us to "love thy neighbor"; and these everyday acts of kindness must surely be included in this Scriptural mandate.

What do we live for if it is not to make life less difficult for each other?

—George Eliot

"...if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another."

—1 John 4:11

The enemy in our midst

READ PHILIPPIANS 4:8-9
Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men. Proverbs 4:14

An authority in the field of mass communication recently said, "Television is the most PERVASIVE medium of mass communications ever conceived by the mind of man."

Our dictionary defines the word "pervasive" as "penetrating or permeating all parts."

What an apt description of modern television!

It has penetrated every nation and permeated much of modern living, including ours.

If only everything communicated by modern television were good and clean and uplifting!

Unfortunately, much that is seen and heard on TV is subversive of Christian faith and morals. Some of it is flagrantly immoral!

The Scriptures tell us NOT to "enter the path of the wicked."

But today the "path of the wicked" leads right through our living room!

May God give us the ability to distinguish between that which is good and that which is evil; and may He give us the grace to take into our hearts and homes only that which is good and clean and proper.

Our television viewing can be a bane or blessing. God help us, by His Holy Spirit, to make it the latter.

LORD, keep my heart pure and clean. Help me to seek the things that are edifying; for Jesus' sake. AMEN.

ELKTON 300 CLUB WINNER: DAVE MCCLAIN

HE GOES JUMPIN': Rev. John Hamilton of the Caseville United Methodist Church takes his second splash for hunger funds, thanks to the children and youth of his church.

FILLED GROCERY BAGS surround these Caseville children who helped in the delivery of over 70 sacks of groceries to the Caseville Community Food Pantry at St. Roch's Catholic Church. By WANDA EICHLER

For the second year in a row, Rev. John Hamilton of Caseville has had to take a late fall splash in Saginaw Bay, thanks to the children and youth of his church, Caseville United Methodist.

Rev. Hamilton tells the youth that he'll go jump in the lake (Lake Huron, that is) if they will raise at least $150 for UMCOR (United Methodist Committee on Relief) around Halloween time.

This year the kids raised over $300 through donations and a bake sale. So on the Sunday afternoon after Halloween, about 70 members of the Caseville church turned out at the Caseville breakwall to watch him "jump in the lake."

Shallow water, 50-degree temperatures and a light rain didn't deter their pastor, who said he was then going home to a hot shower.

Caseville's youth weren't deterred either as they piled into cars and pickups after the splash party and headed over to St. Roch's Catholic Church, the site of the Caseville community food pantry. There they unloaded about 70 bags of groceries and heard a presentation by the food pantry supervisors. Children and youth collected the food by decorating brown grocery sacks and handing them out in church on Sunday mornings. The congregation was challenged to bring back the sacks full of foodstuffs for the community pantry.

The end result? Food for the hungry, a donation to UMCOR, high hunger awareness for the Caseville folks and one obviously loved, but rather wet pastor.

This is the time of year we usually have trouble with hunters. We're glad we live in the country, but so many of these people have no respect for our property or our "no hunting" signs. We know a neighbor whose dog was shot. And many of these aren't from out of town or the area, but nearby.

Farmers have to be careful, I know, but two times this week I'm been stopped behind trucks filled with corn doing 25 mph and blowing stuff all over. If they have to drive that slow, they should cover their load on the way to the Co-op.

Rich, you'll certainly be missed. We think you've done a great job. Thank you and best wishes.

To whoever took the big pumpkin from our Bay Port lawn, we would appreciate it if you would bring it back. It's hard enough trying to teach our kids moral standards nowadays when smaller children look up to BIG kids. I hope when you have a young family and a home that someone isn't as inconsiderate to you. Signed, Karen Schutze

Have you ever wondered what home my blue denim jacket with heaven is like? I hope to find out first-hand. You should, too.

Happy Birthday, Laura (Nov. 18)!

If you have to choose, which kind of shower (or bath) would you get into — one too cold or too warm?

We've driven past two different corners where the road signs have been removed recently. I expect it's kids doing it. You might think a stop sign will look neat on your bedroom wall, but it's illegal and very dangerous to take these.

Why does everything you put in a microwave have to be covered? I do it because I was told by "the boss," but why should it all be?

The Cross Luther Leagues would like to thank all of the local businesses that bought "Spook Insurance" policies from them this year. The windows were all cleaned of their Halloween debris by Sunday night and we hope everyone was satisfied. See you next Halloween.

Congratulations to a super Laker team! Indeed, we can be proud of them individually and as a team. Hats off, too, to a fine coaching staff and their families, who give up a great deal to mold these young men, year after year, into a winning team.

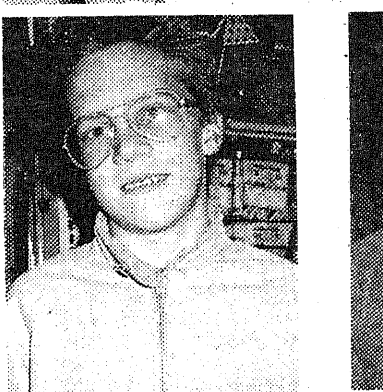

With the tremendous support from the school and hundreds of Laker fans, it is unbelievable that something cannot be done about the unfairness that exists between public and private and parochial high schools. Why should the Michigan High School Athletic Association overlook the recruiting that continues year after year in those schools that the public schools must play to get into state finals? When will someone have the courage to approach the MHSAA in Lansing and, if necessary, go higher to find some fairness and justice for the public schools? Is it politics? How about a petition drive, starting now!!!!

GET LIFE INSURANCE THAT "PAYS FOR ITSELF"

If you hate paying bills, especially life insurance premiums, you'll like Quick Pay. Your policy can begin to "pay for itself" in as few as five years. That means no more out-of-pocket expenses. The earning power and flexibility of universal life make Quick Pay possible. Your policy earns current interest rates on an income-tax deferred basis. When you've paid premiums for the number of years you selected, the policy begins to pay for itself from the cash values which have built up. Naturally, changes in interest and mortality rates will affect your policy's cash value. Look at some ways you could design your own Quick Pay program:

$100,000 Assured Life 5 th Policy* (Male age 40, nonsmoker)
Number of Years To Pay	Annual Premium @7% interest rate	Annual Premium @9% interest rate
5	$2,677	$1,751
8	1,844	1,275†

So if you like the idea of having one less bill, find out about Quick Pay. For more information, call:

A CORN-Y MESSAGE

This has been said before, but it's worth repeating. FAST SERVICE MEANS MORE PROFIT FOR YOU... AT Co-Op Elevator you get fast unloading, so you can get back to your fields in a hurry. If you've got the corn, we've got the capacity.

and a REMINDER...

You'll be glad next spring, if you purchase and apply your Potash this fall. Fertilizer is a good investment, giving you the highest return of almost any farm input. By applying Potash now, you'll be putting it down into the moisture zone, waiting in the soil for a quick start and early maturity for your 1988 crops.

Huron ACS makes fall plans

The Huron County Unit of the American Cancer Society held its fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Mavis Pechette. Mrs. Sally Beers, chairman, presided at the session attended by eight members.

It was announced that local artist Joy Lutz has again designed a pen and ink drawing to be used on a fundraising Christmas card. Featured this year is the Caseville United Methodist Church. Packs of cards are available from board members, at The Progress-Advance office in Pigeon, The Sebawaing Blade-Crescent office and will be featured at the ACS booth at the Community Christmas Bazaar at Laker High School.

Mrs. Beers made a gift of $2100 to ACS from funds generated by her annual project of raising and selling mum plants.

Memorial Chairman Mrs. Gertrude Quinn reported that $1,118 has been given from 98 memorials so far in the 1987-88 Crusade year.

Members were informed that the Bowl Down Cancer tournament is being conducted through Nov. 15. Entry forms of winners and all money should be returned to Mrs. Beers.

A letter of thanks for service by ACS was read from a patient. Any cancer patient needing help should contact Mrs. Beers in Sebawaing.

Mrs. Arlene Randall,

Reach to Recovery Chairman, reported three contacts during the quarter.

Mrs. Sharon Maust reported one educational program was held. She is leaving the area and Mrs. Mervin (Phyllis) Snider is the new contact person to schedule programs.

The Great American Smokeout is set for Thursday, Nov. 19. The three hospitals in Huron County are participating in this event. Two men from the Port Austin air base have received training in the ACS Quit Smoking program.

ACS area representative Mrs. Jeanne Gibson distributed program packets to board members. She reviewed the history of the American Cancer Society, noting that it was formed in 1913 by a small group of physicians. It has grown to a nation-wide organization with about three million volunteers united to conquer cancer. The program is balanced with research, education and patient services.

Anyone with questions about cancer or the ACS may call the Cancer Response System, 1-800-ACS-2345.

Donations for the bazaar booth will be gladly accepted. Contact Mrs. Beers or bring craft items or baked goods on Saturday, Dec. 5 at Laker High School.

Woods & Waters Wildlife curiosity

BY DUANE GUENTHER

I looked around the stump I was hiding behind and almost dropped my teeth. The deer was trotting straight at us like a well-trained puppy.

"you should try it sometime." I have never had the courage.

Another time in Huron County while sitting tight on opening morning of the firearm deer season, I spotted a red fox running across a stubble field about a quarter mile away. Adjusting myself to get a better look must have caused the fox to spot my movement. He stopped, stared in my direction, for what seemed to be several minutes, and then trotted straight for my hiding spot.

He finally pulled up about 15 yards away and stared for several more minutes. The only thing that kept me from adding a beautiful fox pelt to my wall hangings was the early hour of deer season and the possibility of spooking a big buck nearby. When the fox was satisfied, he went on his way.

Speaking of fox, on the way home from work the other night I spotted a couple of eyes in the beam of my truck's headlights. When the animal began to move off the road I first thought it was a raccoon, as its hind end was jacked up in the air. When I got a little closer, I found out it was a young fox, apparently healthy and having all of its faculties.

However, as the truck approached he sat down at the edge of the road and began to scratch his ear. I eased the truck a little nearer and he bounded to his feet and stretched on tip toes to get a better scent of this strange red creature.

I finally pulled up next to him and rolled down the window.

"What in the world are you doing on the road?" I scolded him.

He tilted his head to one side, as if to hear better and sat back down.

When I drove away, he was still sitting in the same spot. Probably trying to figure out what kind of dumb cluck talks to strange animals along the roadside in the middle of the night....

This week's Thumb Area

Outdoor Report

If you believe in statistics, 8 out of 10 hunters who will bag a deer this year will do so during the first 2 days of the 16-day season. However, in Huron County, we may have to extend that to 3 days. This year's rifle season opens on a Sunday, and Huron County is one of the few counties in Michigan that outlaws hunting on the first day of the week. It has always been legal to hunt ducks and geese in Saginaw Bay on Sunday, and a few years ago, the state won a court battle making it legal to hunt on Sunday on any state-owned land regardless of local rules. In the past, this has made little difference as Huron County has little land in state ownership. This year, however, a large tract east of Bad Axe will be opened for the first time and many feel it will be over-crowded, and perhaps dangerous, because most law-abiders will head for that region. Therefore, for all practical purposes, Monday may well be the opening day for deer hunting in Huron County.

This fall DNR officials have granted firearm hunters the most liberalized hunting regulations in years with the hope that outdoorsmen harvest a record kill of 300,000 White-tails by the end of the year. If the increase of hunter's choice licenses, expanded areas for antlerless harvest and other bonus deer options don't reduce the state's herd by next spring, look for what one official calls other "innovative things" for the 1988 season. One idea was to start the firearm season on November 1 for crop damage areas across the state. Another may be the possibility of additional bag limits too. Some Southern states have a bag limit of 5 deer per season to accommodate reducing the herd's size. The deer herd is estimated at between 1.4 and 1.5 million, but most deer are on private land.

Speaking of fox, on the way home from work the other night I spotted a couple of eyes in the beam of my truck's headlights. When the animal began to move off the road I first thought it was a raccoon, as its hind end was jacked up in the air. When I got a little closer, I found out it was a young fox, apparently healthy and having all of its faculties.

However, as the truck approached he sat down at the edge of the road and began to scratch his ear. I eased the truck a little nearer and he bounded to his feet and stretched on tip toes to get a better scent of this strange red creature.

I finally pulled up next to him and rolled down the window.

"What in the world are you doing on the road?" I scolded him.

He tilted his head to one side, as if to hear better and sat back down.

When I drove away, he was still sitting in the same spot. Probably trying to figure out what kind of dumb cluck talks to strange animals along the roadside in the middle of the night....

DOES YOUR CHILD SUFFER FROM ...

- Allergies?
- Asthma?
- Bedwetting?
- Colic?
- Pneumonia?
- Hyperactivity?
- Frequent Colds?
- Scotiosis?
- Earaches or Infections?
- Tonsillitis?

In chiropractic, we have found that the primary cause of all children's conditions is the result of one or more of the bones of the spine being twisted out of their normal position to the extent where they place pressure upon and kink the spinal cord and nerve roots, thereby preventing the body from functioning normally.

If your child is suffering from a spine-related problem, there's not a drug in the world that can help, but by following a regular program of chiropractic care, function is improved and health is restored.

IF YOUR CHILD IS SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY ... Call our office today for an immediate appointment!

seventh graders had passing scores, nearly unchanged from 88.4% in 1986. And, 12.1% of seventh graders had 51-75% scores in reading.

10TH GRADE: Laker High Counselor Duane Guenther's report showed 69% of sophomores passed the math portion of the state tests, down from 76% last year. Another 27% earned 51-75% scores.

In reading, 86% of Laker 10th graders passed the state test, will .11% had 51-75% scores.

LAND VALUES: The Board

and administration Monday night discussed possible state equalized land values for the 1988-'89 school year. Business Manager Bob Drury has been in touch with Huron County Equalization Director Sandra Drews, who says a 12-month study of land sale transactions will be used to judge property values.

The Laker District has lost an estimated $30 million in falling ag land values in two years. Drury said the direction of such values is unknown, but no drastic decline is seen this year.

Drury says a "zero" increase for all categories is possible, but there will likely be no residential value rises (like last year's Pigeon Village and shoreline hikes) to counterbalance ag drops.

No definite answer is expected from Equalization workers until February, Drury says.

NEW FINANCING: Laker Supt. Harry Brunet updated the Board on the many alternatives to property tax funding now being discussed in Lansing, to support state schools equitably.

He said property taxes should no longer be used, and a 2% sales tax is the most-discussed method of fairer school funding.

But, he cautioned, most plans include an 18-mill property tax assessment on agricultural and residential land, 23 mills on industrial property -- and up to seven more voted mills for extra programs. This, with the 2% sales tax rise, is far higher than Laker taxpayers now are spending.

Brunet called the past year "a year of stagnation" in taxing matters, since no progress has been made in bettering the system. And, since 1988 is an election year, he doubts any substantive change will come in that time.

SPELLING BEE: The Laker Auditorium will again host the mid-eastern Michigan regional Spelling Bee in February. Word-users from up to 16 counties attended last year.

OTHER BIZ: The Board: ■ Commended the Huron Intermediate School District on the 25th anniversary of ISD education in the state, and

■ Commended Coaches Bill McLellan and George Gardy and the Laker Football Team for its excellent year, giving the state's number one Class C team a challenge until the end, following Saturday's 35-21 battle with Detroit Country Day School.

■ Laker Football Teams have lost just eight games in last the last seven years -- three to Vassar, two to Country Day, two to Detroit St. Martin dePorres and one to North Branch.

■ An anonymous benefactor has offered to pay for a new sound system for the gymnasium, replacing the 27-year-old set-up now used. The Laker Board will also replace the auditorium system at the same time, at school expense.

■ Laker High Principal James Ballard invited Board members to attend the annual banquet of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals on Wednesday, Dec. 2 at the Westin Hotel, Detroit. Ballard is in the middle of his term as president of the state group.

Veterans invited to ceremony

Veterans and their auxiliaries from throughout the Huron County area are invited to attend a special Veterans' Day program on Wednesday, Nov. 11 (today) at 6 p.m. at the Huron County Courthouse.

Huron County Circuit Court Judge M. Richard Knoblock will provide a program, sponsored by the Allied Veterans' Council of Huron County.

township residents, he added.

"I would hope we hope we have some control over our own destiny out there," Renn said. "Everybody thinks it's a great idea, until it's in your backyard."

NEXT MEETING: Council will have a special meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 12 to continue the review of special zoning ordinances, with Village Attorney John Ferris.

OTHER BIZ: ■ Council member Dick Koehler presented a recommended policy drawn up by County Prosecutor Karl Kraus, dealing with police department handling of deadly force.

"It's good, it covers you, and the prosecutor recommends it," said Police Chief Don Hydorn. He had it in Fair Haven Township, he said. Included are not just guns or other normal weapons, but also flashlights, clubs and so on.

■ Council voted to send DPW Supt. Walt Forster to a cemetery management class Nov. 13 at Grayling.

■ Council member Fred Santos encouraged any interested plumbers to locate their business in Elkton.

"We've got a real need for a good plumber in town. This is a growing town and area," Santos said.

Former plumber Dennis Esch has taken another job and does not actively run his Elkton Heating and Air Conditioning business now.
