Give blood in Elkton, now or never!

Our Thumb Area got some of its worst-possible personal news this week, but there's still time for folks to do something to change the future.

American Red Cross officials have notified Elkton Blood Drive Coordinator John Champagne that next Wednesday's blood drive at the Elkton Civic Center will be the last EVER — unless more folks come to donate a pint.

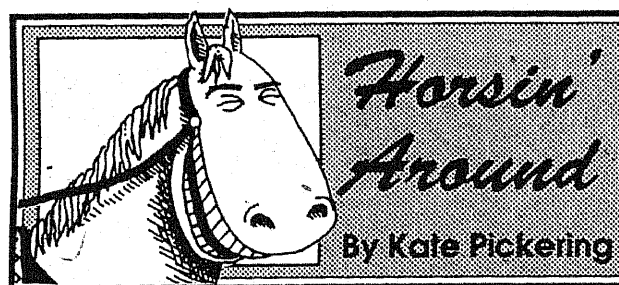

Due to very low productivity in recent drives, Champagne reports, the Red Cross is considering dropping the Elkton drive. Folks would be asked to consolidate with the Pigeon drives in the future, usually held the same week at the Pigeon VFW Hall.

Dropping the Elkton blood drive would be a sad, sad event for the whole area. Why? Any time one part of an area declines, everyone suffers. A thriving, striving town like Elkton deserves to maintain what it's had for so long.

The blood drive brings together community volunteers to help the Red Cross set up equipment. Other volunteers man refreshment tables and assist nurses all day long. Then, tired volunteers help dis-assemble everything after the day's work — plus spend many hours getting folks to show up, sending cards, reminder letters, making phone calls and putting up posters.

Now, since Elkton lately has not been meeting its goal of 45 units, the Red Cross is planning to drop Elkton.

As Champagne asks area residents, "Get out your donor cards and check the last time you donated. Ask a friend to come with you so they can give."

3 - 2 - 1 - CONTACTS!

Sweet freedom! Nelson Mandela - East Germany - Romania - my face! That's right - I have taken the steps, fought for freedom, and emancipated my face! I recently got my first ever contact lenses after exactly fifteen years of facial captivity! Since the tender age of thirteen I have been looking at the world from behind a pair of thick, heavy specs. But - free from them at last, I and my horse are now able to fly over hill and dale with no fear of flying glasses! I can walk into a warm room on a cold day without asking where I am, or for a tissue to mop up the fog. I can choose an entire new wardrobe of mod, hip sunglasses - any sunglasses, for sale in any store - not my one and only old-fashioned prescription pair. I can sit in a movie theatre and see the movie - not the spots and scratches that would inevitably surface on my glasses despite my near neurotic efforts to keep them clean and clear. No more "bonking" myself on the bridge of the nose in the un-winable battle to keep them from sliding off my face (tho I admit I do still jab at "phantom" glasses.) No more migraine headaches at day's end as a result of the "look ma, no hands" method of squinting, squirming and contorting facial muscles to re-position the glasses.

I - of all people - have not chosen contacts for the vain purpose of more clearly displaying my homely face. On the contrary - glasses have always been a wonderful way to sort of hide my "imperfect" features, plus I have enjoyed the reputation I earned for always choosing the niftiest, most-off-the-wall-frames available. I suppose I will continue to wear my goofy glasses occasionally, (in fact I have ordered a spare pair called ZEBRA-BLUE if you can picture them) but an indescribable feeling of freedom (that I'm trying so hard to describe here) has overtaken me in the one short week that I have had my contacts. A child-like "run, jump, tumble, dance, walk-in-the-rain, race on horse-back, everything is clear" freedom that I haven't experienced since May of 1975 - my thirteenth year. A freedom I will not be at all eager to hand back once it becomes bi- or tri-focal time, a freedom fellow contact wearers tried desperately to convince me of for years, a freedom that is so very American, so very 20th Century, a freedom that . . .

"OUCH! Whoa!" Please excuse me for just one minute - I have something in my eye - feels like Mt. Rushmore . . .

He says at least 55 people must come in to insure that 45 qualified donors can be found.

Please do your part. The blood drive volunteers have even changed donating times, to 1:30 to 6:15 p.m., so second-shift workers can be more easily accommodated.

You're needed. Help keep the blood drive in Elkton.

You may not have another chance to help out!

County park fees?
All or none!

The County Parks Commission, through its sponsoring group, the County Road Commission, is considering several ways to "enhance" revenues in the county. One is to increase fees for users of county parks, which we don't object to.

In fact, a $2 per car fee for using county facilities each day is reasonable, since we have a wonderful 93-mile natural resource dotted with nine county parks along the shoreline.

But wait — can someone REALLY be expecting to assess charges at only ONE of those facilities, the Caseville County Park, and at no others?

That's not fair! That's not equitable! And it's not right.

If county park fees are to be charged, they should be uniform. They should be assessed to all users at all parks, not just the biggest and best.

If fees are charged at Caseville only, some would-be park users might go to "free" parks elsewhere. Caseville will get an undeserved reputation for being "expensive" when it actually was just singled-out.

Come one, county officials. We understand the need to generate income. But with the rentals from those often-unsightly trailers constantly hogging some of the best beach-front land available anywhere in the Midwest, you already make a lot of money from Caseville's County Park.

If you plan to impose fees for daily park users, do so to everyone, at every park. That's the only fair way.

And we'll bet the Road Commissioners will heard that more than once during next week's public meetings on the subject of such fees...

Opposes cable TV price hikes

DEAR EDITOR:

We in the Caseville Area are becoming highly concerned with the escalating costs of cable TV. Since the de-regulation of cable industry, cost have risen dramatically. In the past year, Harron Cable has raised their costs to the consumer twice. A year ago the cost of the "basic" was $12.50. Now the cost is in excess of $18.00. There is a possibility of another increase in the future.

Understandably, we do not have to subscribe to Harron's services. We can go back to using the antenna or a dish. However, recall that any utility company must approach the local units of government and submit a franchise. In that submission, costs are quoted. Then came de-regulation and the franchises were worthless pieces of paper.

It was a little disconcerting in the past weeks after the last increase to see seven new pick-up trucks parked in

RECOLLECTIONS
Of By-Gone Days

BY GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:

Years ago you could almost tell if a farmer was prosperous — how his barn looked and other buildings. I used to go down a country road and see a nice red barn and silo beside it and a nice well-fenced barn yard with some nice cattle in it and some pigs running around and chickens walking around, and then a nice white farmhouse big enough for a big family. Then there were out-buildings like a big chicken coop and a large hog house and of course, a big machine shed and a nice garage and a big apple orchard, a garden and a well-kept lawn with big shade trees.

If you had an 80-acre farm, you'd have the farm divided in 10-acre fields and the fences were always fixed up well. You'd have a lane going down the middle and of course, every farm had a good collie dog and about six cats. And last but not least, he'd have at least four good horses and a good fence along the road. When the farmer had some cattle to sell, he'd get some neighbor boys to help him chase them to town, where they were weighed, put on a cattle car and shipped to Detroit or Buffalo, N.Y.

Now when you go to town you see a lot of nice barns that are empty and there are no cattle around them and the fences along the road are all down and there are no fences along each field.

Some farms don't even have a line fence. Some farmers have a post along their line. I heard of farmers who used to plow several furrows over his line every time and soon he had a rod of the other man's farms. That doesn't sound like much, but one rod, 80 rods long made quite a big difference. When the rightful owner saw it, he got the land surveyor to come and it made the one fellow pretty mad.

Well, I know pretty well where my line is — to the south is the railroad and to the west is a ditch and to the east is the road. Talking about barns, the barn across the road from me was getting pretty shaky and I was working beside my house and I saw several men and a tractor over there. I heard a noise and here the barn fell down with a crash.

Well, the barn wasn't used for awhile and my son has been bringing boards and beams out of it, but that's one less barn in the neighborhood.

In Prov. 22:28 it says, "Remove not the ancient landmark which they fathers have set." Well, that barn was there a long time and the fellow that farms the place already is planning to plow up the ground where it stood. That's what I call progress, because if you don't need it and if it's an eyesore, get it down.

Elkton Bloodmobile needs donors

DEAR EDITOR:

In the past I have written letters in the newspaper to ensure that everyone knew about the upcoming blood drives. It is with a heavy heart that I must tell you that the Wednesday, Feb. 28 blood drive may be our last.

I need your help and I need you to make a commitment to the Elkton community. Due to very low productivity on the blood drives, Red Cross may not be able to come to Elkton anymore. We would be asked to give blood in Pigeon. I don't know about you, but I am proud of our small town. I don't want to see this happen. We have made our goal of 45 units in the past and I know we can do it again.

So get out your donor cards and check the last time you donated. Ask a friend to come with you so they can give. We need all people in good health, over 17 years of age, to come in and make a good showing for Elkton. I feel that a goal of 45 is just right for Elkton. To get 45 pints, we need at least 55 people to come in.

The hours of the blood drive have been changed to accommodate second shift workers in our community, 1:30 to 6:15 p.m., to ensure that all people can give. We can do this. Help keep our blood drive in Elkton. See you on Wednesday, Feb. 28!

Keim family recalls Mother's Love 15 years after her passing

DEAR EDITOR:

My father, George Keim, asked me to write for him a tribute to my late mother, Ida Keim. He has asked me to do this several times before, but for some reason unknown to me I have not yet been ready to do so. It has been 15 years since her passing and the loss still grieves our family as if it were new.

Mom was a person committed to duty. I was aware at an early age that caring for her household was a matter she took very seriously. She was a hard worker who took her place beside us at every phase of our lives. Her day began early. She would often be outside doing some chore of the farm long before we children got up.

She was a manager of the family's resources, involved in caring for the livestock, planning the crop rotations, harvesting and marketing the produce at the proper time.

She often made the time to do special projects of her own, besides all that was in her busy schedule. Many from this community enjoyed her broilers and strawberries during the summer.

The income from those efforts most often went to benefit the family — tuition for a year of schooling or an addition to the house. We are grateful for those caring acts.

We learned from Mom the value of thrift. She was a good shopper and often stretched the family's dollars by finding a bargain at a garage sale or at the end of the season clearance. Sometimes our clothing was the gently used but serviceable items bought at the thrift front of Harron's office. Obviously, this last increase went into the purchase of the trucks rather than an increase in the quality of the services rendered, which at times is questionable.

We the consumers are willing to pay for their services if the costs are justified and the quality warrants the cost.

It would be interesting to see or hear a response from tained by Dad telling us Bible stories.

He would add details to make them interesting and Mom would sometimes chide him for taking "poetic liberty" with stories she hadn't heard. We grew up with a "God-consciousness" that affected all of our lives.

Mom made our home a reminder of her high hopes for us. One that I remember was a motto that hung on the wall over the telephone. Its message was a verse of Scripture that said simple, "I have no greater joy than knowing that my children walk in truth."

That verse often gave me pause to consider my actions in light of her expectations of me.

In her last years of life, Mom renewed an interest in art that had long been dormant. It was a joy to see how the freedom to pursue her creative bent brought her such pleasure. Having others appreciate her talent gave her a new self-esteem that made her personality come alive with a vibrance she had never experienced before.

She became more outgoing and enjoyed being a part of Bible studies with others from the community. By this time, I was married and living in Virginia. Our son Brian was a particular joy to Grandma as were my sister Mary's children. I felt as if I were getting to know a new person in seeing my mother as a caregiver to another generation.

It was evening on Feb. 17, 1975 when my sister Charlene called with the sad news of Mom's passing. We were shocked at the suddenness of her home-going. I was especially grieved that I hadn't taken the time to sit with her and tell her how very special she was to all of us. I wanted to apologize for the times I had taken her for granted or even resented for good intentions when they seemed at times to conflict with my own stubborn will. Those opportunities are gone.

Though it gives me sorrow to feel my guilt, I choose to call to mind, rather, the precious memories that God has blessed us to share.

I am sure I speak for our families in referring to the Scripture in Prov. 31:28, "Her children arise and call her blessed, her husband also, and he praises her."

Laker netters get knocked down in Delta tourney

By AMY HEIDEN

The Lady Lakers had an up-and-down week last week as they easily dumped Cass City in a conference match-up, but they lost to Bay City Handy in the semi-finals of the Delta Invitational Tournament on Saturday.

Cass City was no match for the Lakers in Monday's games, only scoring five points in three matches. The Lakers won in three matches, 15-0, 15-5, 15-0.

In Saturday's tournament action, the Lakers took first in their pool. North Branch Wesleyan was the first to fall, 15-4, 15-1. Bay City John Glenn lost to the Lakers 15-7, 15-3, then Swan Valley dropped 15-12, 16-14. Standish Sterling was the last to fall 15-2, 15-7.

In the semi-finals, Bay City Handy won two of their three matches 15-4, 13-15, 4-15, knocking the Lakers out of further competition.

Lakers coach Sue Fredericksen said that her team let down in the second game of the Handy matches. "We let down a lot, and started making errors, and couldn't get it back together. In the third match, we just couldn't pass the ball," she said.

Tracie Henne led her team on Saturday with 50 kills, 27 blocks, and three aces, while Brenda Buschlen had 40 kills, 10 aces, and six blocks. Anne Sturm had 23 blocks and six kills, Sara Bush had 17 blocks, five kills, and seven aces. Tammy Smith had three kills, three aces, and eight blocks; and Heather Clark came off the bench to have four aces, a single kill, and a single block.

Setter Brenda Beyer had six kills, three aces, and seven blocks for the day, but Fredericksen singled the first-year varsity player out for special praise. "Brenda has worked exceptionally hard this year. She's one of the most outstanding players in the region this year.

What makes it most remarkable is that she's had to entirely change her style of play from her junior varsity time," Fredericksen said. Beyer is expected to run a complex offense of nine different sets, and she's handled the job effectively, her coach says.

Currently, 25 percent of her sets end up being killed by a teammate, an outstanding statistic. Setting isn't her only skill, though as her serving percentage is over 90 percent, Fredericksen notes.

Currently, the Lakers are 51-5-4 overall, and 3-0 in the league.

Lakers drop Cass City, Bad Axe

By AMY HEIDEN

Last week was pay-back time for the Lakers as they avenged an earlier surprise loss to Cass City, and dumped the Redhaws 74-43.

Then on Friday, the Green and White handed Bad Axe a crushing 81-58 defeat.

The Redhaws never really got into the game as the Lakers held them to just five points in the first quarter. By the end of the first half, the Lakers had a 13 point lead and outscored the Redhaws 44-26 in the second half.

Four Lakers were in double figures, with Rick Duffy leading the way with 16 points. Reggie Ignash scored 15 points, Mike Keefer had 11, and Jeremy Esch had 10 points.

Bad Axe tried to make the Lakers play a slow game Friday night and jumped out to an early 8-2 lead, but once the Lakers took control and upped the tempo, Bad Axe didn't have a chance. By the end of the first quarter when the Lakers had a 21-10 lead, the Lakers controlled the tempo of the game and its outcome.

Bill McLellan led his team with 17 points. Jeremy Esch followed with 16 points, including two 3-pointers. Reggie Ignash had 14 points, and Rick Duffy had 12.

JVs WIN: The Junior Varsity team upped their record to 9-8 with two wins last week.

Cass City fell to the Lakers 62-49, with Eric Wisner leading the way with 14 points. Dave Geiger had 13 points in the win. Two JV players got on the scoreboard for the first time this season, with Mike Bushey scoring three points, and Jamie Learman scoring two.

Bad Axe wasn't much of a contest for the Lakers as they fell 66-52. Eric Wisner again led with 23 points, and Dave Geiger followed with 18.

FRESHMEN, TOO: The Laker freshman team defeated Cass City 64-49.

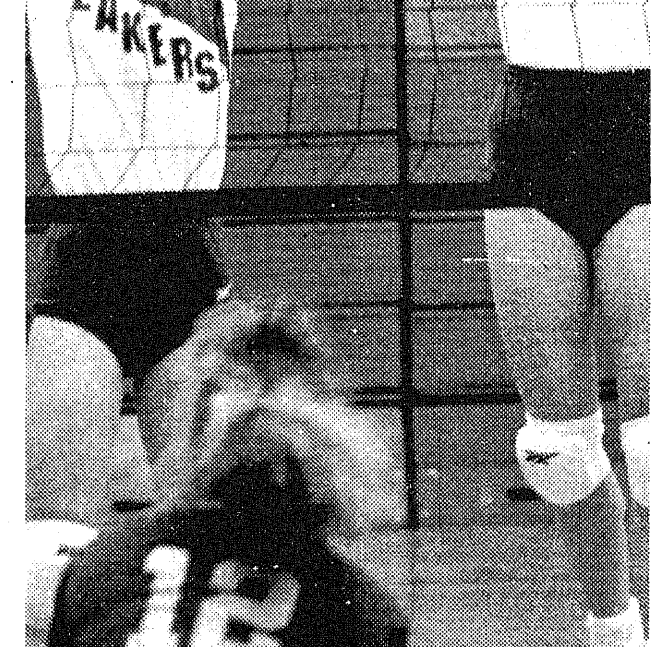

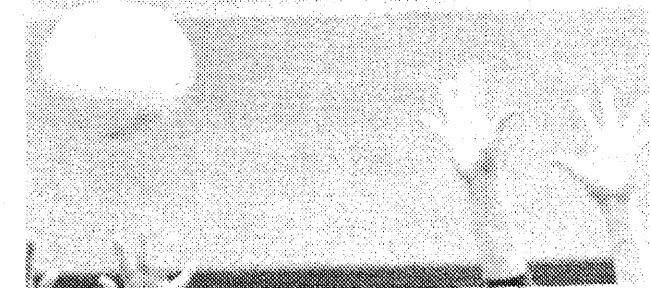

Four players were in double figures as Jason Krohn had 19 points, Hilton Yopp had 15 points, John Klosowski had 12 points, and Jason Maust had 13 points.

They also defeated Bad Axe 59-42. Hilton Yopp had 19 points, Justin Maust had 16 points, and Jason Krohn had 15 points.

Their record now stands at 13-4.

Triathlon coming on March 3

A brand-new basketball event for all kids ages 8 to 13 will take place on Saturday, March 3, at Laker High School.

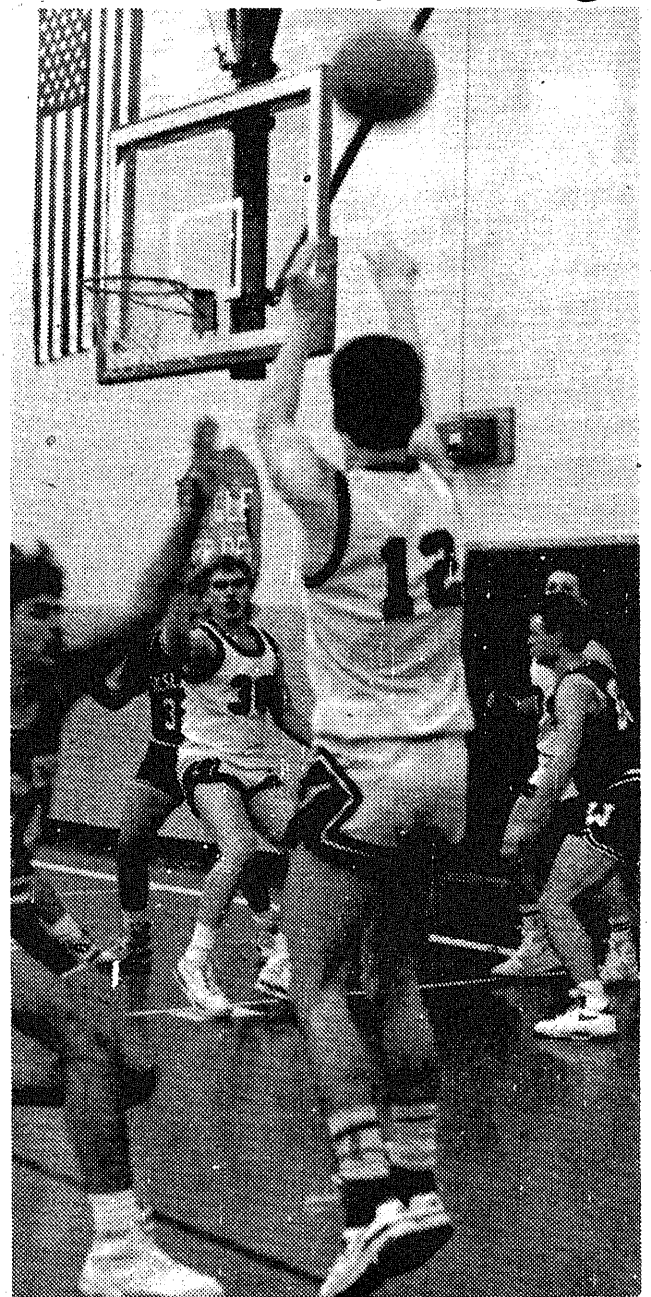

A basketball triathlon -- combining passing, dribbling, and shooting skills -- will start at 3 p.m., and is sponsored by Bay House Sports of Pigeon.

Each entrant will compete against boys or girls of his own age. The combined scores for all three events will determine the winners in each division, and awards will be given for the first three places in each division. Participation awards will also be given.

There is no entry fee for the triathlon. Entry blanks can be obtained at any Laker school or from Bay House Sports.

The Caseville Eagles lost to North Huron 70-55 on Tuesday.

The Eagles were in the game until the fourth quarter, when their fouls caught up with them, having committed 32.

Don Smith had 18 points. Shawn Dunn and Jerry Bieri each scored nine. Terry Souva scored 21 points for the winners.

ON FRIDAY, the Eagles fell to the Akron-Fairgrove Vikings 79-59.

The Vikings started pulling away before the half, when they led 39-16, and never again trailed.

Brian Kraus led Caseville with 15 points, while Dale Delmotte had 13 and Don Smith added 10.

Todd Brink led the Vikings with 19. Jeff Adams had a dozen and Todd Humpert added 10.

Through Monday, the Eagles are now 3-10 on the season in the North Central Thumb D League, while Akron - Fairgrove is now 9-5. Kingston leads the league with a 14-0 mark, followed by Deckerville with a 10-4 record.

district, regional, and state titles.

Henne has earned numerous volleyball honors, including First Team All-Conference, First Team All-Area, All-Region Dream Team, Michigan Lutheran Seminary All-Tournament team, and Second Team All-State in volleyball in the 1988-89 season. In 1987-88, she was an honorable mention on the Thumb B All-Conference team.

So far this year, she's been named to the All-Tournament teams at three different tournaments, and is a shooin for All-Conference and All-State honors.

She has also won numerous honors for her basketball and track prowess, including First Team All-Conference, and All-State Honorable Mention for her leadership on the 1989 Thumb B Co-Champion basketball team.

In track last year, she was named the Thumb B Second Team All-Conference, and competed at the state level in the shot put.

Henne exemplifies the student-athlete, her teachers say, maintaining a 3.2-point grade average in her studies, and holding down a part-time job in her hometown of Bay Port.

Laker volleyball coach Sue Fredericksen says she considers Henne a key ingredient of this year's team. "If we didn't have Tracie, we wouldn't have a state-caliber team."

Henne is the daughter of Devere and Annette Henne of Bay Port. She will graduate from Laker High this spring.

Caseville IGA donates to school drive

Caseville Public Schools' Campbell Soup label drive got a big boost last week when Linda Hogan of the Caseville IGA presented Sherri Kraft of the Parent Teacher Group with certificates for 1,000 labels and a box full of labels.

The Caseville IGA is joining the school in their effort to collect Campbell Company labels for use in acquiring free school equipment, such as audio-visual and outdoor playground equipment.

State Farm, the people best known for car and home insurance, was just rated the best for life.

When Best's Review, one of the insurance industry's most authoritative publications, ranked life insurance companies by policy performance—dividends actually paid to policyholders over the last 20 years—State Farm Life was at the very top.* State Farm Life's whole life policies outperformed those of every other major company. Of course, that superior performance didn't surprise people who already own State Farm Life insurance. They knew it all along. This is another example of State Farm's continued commitment to provide the very best value possible to its policyholders.

Like a good neighbor,
State Farm
is there.

From Under the Willow

visited five Spanish speaking churches and five "colonias." Colonias are villages, usually unincorporated, that are almost like rural slums here in the valley. Many of the people who live in them are farmworkers seeking a lot and a house that they can call their own.

They still follow the crops. Most of them with children will head north (El Norte) about April, even though the children's school year isn't completed. They leave behind their homes and extended families, work the crops to the North, and return after the school year has begun in the fall. With little or no education, it is the only work that they know.

17,000 farmworkers lost their jobs as a result of the December freeze here in the valley. The orange groves are brown. The trees have suffered yet another freeze, trees that were to bear the first good crop since the last freeze in 1983. Some say that many groves will not be replanted this time.

This area, like areas in Florida also hardhit, has been declared a federal disaster area.

Agriculturally related disasters are insidious happenings. The violence of the hurricane or earthquake draws a nation's attention, but the cold reality of crop loss deepens the hard times for the farms, farmers, and workers affected while the rest of the nation worries only about the price of a loaf of bread or a can of frozen juice.

What cannot be frozen out in the Rio Grande Valley is the warmth of the people. "Winter Texans" are welcomed back each year. They are part of the economic wellbeing of the area and their presence is important to the Valley's year round residents.

In the churches, people came to shake my hand—people who knew that I couldn't speak Spanish very well, yet they came to greet me warmly. One woman carried her baby and when I inquired about her children, told me that she had five daughters. When I told her in my broken Spanish that I have five sisters and one brother, her eyes widened, a smile graced her face, and she nodded knowingly.

With me this weekend is a pastor from New Jersey who was brought up on the Island of Puerto Rico. Rev. Cintron is seeing this part of the U. S. for the first time. His comment, "I can't believe that I am in the United States," is the same reaction that I had on my first visit here last year.

A rich agricultural area crowded with poverty and wealth, the valley has many problems that it faces. But the people who will make it go are the people who care. People like David Moreno, a school board member at Edinburg who is active in his church and sees education as an absolute must for the children of the valley. People like Gloria Martinez who goes to the Raysville colonia to teach and be with the children once a week through the outreach program

4 generations -- TWICE!

FOUR GENERATIONS — TWICE! The infant twin daughters of Tom and Stacey Gettel of Pigeon were recently baptized by Rev. James Schwandt at First United Methodist Church of Pigeon.

That marked the fourth generations on both sides of their mother's family, as these photos show:

FIRST, shown are great-grandmother Marie Buschlen of Pigeon, grandmother Eleanor Adams of Bay City, mother Stacey Gettel with twins Erin Michelle and Katelyn Margaret.

SECOND, shown are great-grandmother Gertrude Adams of Sebawing, grandfather Jerry Adams of Caseville, mother Stacy Gettel with twins Erin Michelle and Katelyn Margaret.

Following the recent baptism, Jerry and Bonnie Adams entertained with brunch at Greenfields Restaurant the following: Glen Buschlen of Pigeon, Gertrude Adams of Sebawing, Eleanor Adams of Bay City, Loren and Mary Gettel of Pigeon, Michelle and Dan Fortsch of Caseville, Dave and Margaret McCormick and family of Pigeon, Mike Rosa of Pigeon and Rev. and Mrs. Schwandt and daughter, of Pigeon.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion auxiliary, Caseville met Feb. 7 led by past president Marion Parent with prayer offered by Mildred Bundle.

All members present pledged allegiance to the Flag and said the Preamble of the Constitution.

The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved.

Thank you notes were read from Chapel of Four Chaplains, J. D. Talaski, Saginaw V.A. Hospital, Clothea Child and Sunny Acres.

Poppy days will be May 17-19 and poppy chairman will be Velma Meyers.

Sunny Acres hostesses for Feb. 8 and 22 are Dorothy Beadle, Velma Meyers and Marion Parent.

Auxiliaries were saddened by the death of auxiliary sister, Irene Shetterley, who passed away last week at her home in Arizona.

The next meeting will be March 7 at 7 p.m.

PIGEON LIONS CLUB

The Pigeon Lions met at the Pigeon VFW Hall with 49 Lions responding to Roll Call.

President John Walsh called the meeting to order after a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Lion Ralph Kain and Mike LePage "twisted a lot of tails" and raised many dollars for the club.

During the board meeting, it was decided to give $500 to Meals on Wheels and $100 to Ralph Lackie, who is a candidate for Regional Chairman.

The Pigeon Lions are getting involved in the Drug Awareness Program. They are taking a look at book-markers and comic book presentations for young children.

Committees are also working on the scholarship program and student foreign exchanges for this summer.

A Lions Club thank-you was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Craig Douglas for their donation to the Bay Port and Pigeon Food Pantries. Mary Douglas was the winner of the two-minute Lions Shopping Spree this year.

"Annual Euchre Night" will be at the next Pigeon Lions meeting on Feb. 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the Pigeon VFW Hall. Don Roestel and Kent McKenzie will be in charge.

WORTHY STUDY CLUB

Members of the Worthy Study Club met at Main Street Cafe, Pigeon for a Valentine luncheon on Wednesday. A get-well card was sent to Emma Potter. The event was planned by the social committee consisting of Mona McBride, Frances Beach and Mrs. Potter. The regular meeting in March will be hosted by Marion Watterworth.

March 7: The Chandler Presbyterian Guild will meet with Margaret Fleming. Millie Kain will give the lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Richmond entertained their mothers, Amanda Richmond and Opal Duffy for supper on Valentine's Day.

Doris Ross, Arlene Anderson, Gertie Hunden and friend visited their aunt, Julia Forshee at Provincial House, Cass City.

William McBride returned home after spending two weeks as a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw.

Weekend guests of Fred and Mona McBride were Mr. and Mrs. Jim McBride and family of Tawas.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

John A. Champagne
— Director —

DONATING ORGANS

Organ donation is an option chosen by more and more people each year. If one's religious or philosophical beliefs are not offended by this practice, it can be a means to benefit another person by one's own misfortune.

The following organs are all put to use, some with more success than others: the kidneys, the eyes, the skin, the liver, the temporal bones (the bones that contain the inner ear), the teeth, the skeleton, the heart, the pituitary glands, the lungs, the bone marrow; also various structural tissue from the circulatory system, bone structure, muscular system, and so on.

Medical institutions are not obliged to accept one's organ or body donation. For example, if a person dies from cirrhosis of the liver, the hospital or medical school will obviously not be keen on receiving that liver via donation. A body that has undergone an autopsy or one that has been badly disfigured due to accident surgery, and so on, will usually be rejected.

CASEVILLE LIBRARY CLUB

Thirty members and one guest attended the regular meeting of the Caseville Library Club on Feb. 13 at the Caseville Township Hall. Doretta Douglas gave the invocation. Hostesses serving coffee and dessert were Alice Becker, Doretta Douglas, Pat Newberry and Shirley Krieg.

Following lunch, Jennie DeBoer introduced Janet Watts, elementary principal and high school counselor for Caseville Public Schools. She spoke on the school program for gifted children. Accompanying Ms. Watts were the following students: Jill Miller, Robert Ruiz de Castilla, Kris Hamilton, Tyler Williams and Sarah Orjeda. Each student explained various aspects of the program, which included "future problem solving" and "academic track." The problems are presented by the University of Michigan and twice the Caseville students have received a third place award for the best solution.

President Phyllis Love led the members in reading the Club Collect, Pledge to the Flag and presided over the business meeting.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

Two new members, Nadine Barbret and Nancy Begg, were welcomed to the club. Also welcomed was a guest and former member, Florence Striffler.

Ginny Krause reported on the luncheon/card party to be held at the Bella Vista Inn on March 15. Reservations should be made with Krause at 856-3647 or Peg Harrington at 856-4629.

Marian Grunow and Toni Watterworth volunteered to be hostesses for the March meeting.

The president asked that members planning to attend the May luncheon meeting in Frankenmuth sign up before March 1.

Marie Leipprandt, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of Huron County welcomed the Club to the Federation and reported on the Arboretum

For some reason, some schools do not want Lakers or Cass City in the same league they are in. Why, I do not know, but I do know these people who carry grudges are not on the right track.

They want President Bush to have peace all over the world, yet these same people hate so hard they will not have peace among schools. I do not believe that my tax dollars should go to any school that teaches "hate" to our young children.

These people who carry grudges are the same ones who cause world wars. Jesus taught love and forgiveness. Why not teach our young folks the same thing by example? I do not believe the high school teens care much who they play, so long as they have someone to play with. High school boys or girls like to compete, not hate.

About the only time high school kids get mad is when someone from another town steals their girl or boyfriend. Let's make peace now before the state takes over and makes it worse! Signed, Carl P. Dast.

ATTENTION: 1980 Laker graduates. We have having a planning meeting for our 10-year reunion on Friday, March 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Greenfields Pub. We need YOU to be there with your suggestions. If you have any questions, call Kari at 856-3297 or Angie at 375-4251.

Make no mistake: the Caseville Council and employees are the ones who are making things happen here.

I agree about milk prices. They are too high. If the farmer isn't making the money, the companies are,

and we pay more.

We ate range-fed chickens for years, all the time I was growing up. They have a more fresh or more wild taste and were better. They were probably better for us, too, with fewer chemicals.

Yes, the teen center being put together in Elkton is for every teen in the county. Please support it. It needs your help.

My neighbor (in the blue car) only chips off a little space of ice on his windshield. Come one, that's not safe. Do it all or don't drive. Or, why not turn your car's heater on and have one more cup of coffee, while it warms up? That should work.

I am getting tired of the rotten treatment we are getting at the Post Office. You have to wait longer, and there is no friendliness anymore. Those people should be told they work for us, not the other way around.

Yes, please remember to blood in Pigeon this Monday, Feb. 26 from 3 to 7:45 p.m. at the VFW Hall, or in Elkton this Wednesday, Feb. 28, from 1:30 to 6:15 p.m., at the Civic Center. These are new hours in Elkton, so second-shift workers can come easier.

Please show you care by giving of yourself to someone else. Thank you.

I overheard some people complaining about snow removal on our streets and highways this week. Hey, they are only human, they are doing the best they can. They can't help the weather. I think they are doing a good job.

If you want more road graders and trucks out there, be prepared to pay more. Thanks for your work, guys.

So many people I talk to tell me they listen to Detroit radio stations. We should support our local radio stations. They are here for us.

Bev Souva new Credit Union supervisor

SHE'S NEW BRANCH SUPERVISOR: Bev Souva reported for work at the Education Employees Credit Union office in Elkton Monday morning at the same time she has every Monday, for the past six years. But she walked through the door this past Monday as the new branch supervisor, replacing Patricia Dubey, who left after 18 years with the Credit Union.

Souva started with the organization when it was still the West Huron Community Credit Union. In the past six years, she's seen plenty of changes, the biggest being the merger of West Huron with Education Employees Credit Union of Saginaw.

"I'm very excited about my new position. I love the work and I enjoy meeting all the members who come in," Souva says.

She's married to Leonard Souva, and the couple lives in Caseville where they enjoy horseback riding and tending to Leonard's flock of fancy pheasants and pigeons.

Brenda Buschlen asks:

"Do you believe the U.S. Postal Service should raise postage rates from 25c to 30c?? Why or why not?"

No, because the rates are already high enough!
John English
ELKTON

No, because they raise them too often!
Christopher Shupe
ELKTON

No, I don't. With all the technology available, they should be able to do their jobs more efficiently without raising the prices.
Paul Schuette

PIGEON DISTRICT LIBRARY News And Notes

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR

The theme for the Preschool Story Hour on Feb. 27 will be "Teeth" with the stories "Going To The Dentist" and "Teeth."

Exercises, fingerplays, a flannelgraph, song and game will be part of the activities for the children to participate in.

Children from age three to five are invited to attend either the 9 or 10:30 a.m. sessions. A registration fee is required.

TAX FORMS

The Pigeon District Library now has Federal Tax Forms and Michigan Tax Forms for patrons to pick up as needed. Also IRS Federal Tax Numbers for assistance. The library has a list of forms that will be printed due to pending congressional legislative changes. There will be a ten cents charge for each page copied.

HOW TO COMBAT COUCH POTAT-ITIS

Could we have an epidemic on our hands? How can you combat couch potato-itis? Simply come to the Pigeon District Library and check out books and celebrate spring. Forget the VCR, TV and cable channels, come get a book and use your imagination. We provide books for adults and youngsters.

We also have books for beginning to read children, and large print books for people who like large type print reading. Also paperbacks, newspapers and magazines. So whatever your interest, come to the library and see for yourself the widerange of reading and cure the couch potato-itis epidemic.

BOOKS GO UP

Like everything else, the cost of books has gone up tremendously in the last several years. Statistics show that in 1977 the average cost of a hardcover book, not in a series, was $19.95. In 1986, this same book would cost $31.95, and you can bet that the cost is more today.

In 1986, an average mass market paperback book was $3.95 and a trade paperback, $14.95.

Remember that these are only averages, but doesn't it make you stop and think about how much the LIBRARY means to you in terms of a good value for your money?

COUPON CORNER

Do you use money saving coupons? The coupon corner is a good system for people who like to pick-up coupons they need.

The library has an over abundance of coupons waiting just for you. Come to the library and save money by using the coupon corner.

ADULT COFFEE HOUR FEB. 27

The Adult Coffee Hour theme on Feb. 27 will be on "Promoting Preventing Health Care" with guest speaker Lee Gascho, Respiratory Therapist at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon.

Sessions will be conducted at 9 and 10:30 a.m. in the community room of the library. Patrons are encouraged to attend and bring a friend.

TAX FORMS ARE AVAILABLE

The Pigeon District Library now has Federal Tax Forms and Michigan Tax Forms for patrons to pick up as needed, also IRS Federal Tax numbers for assistance.

The library has a list of forms that will be printed due to pending congressional legislative changes, but there is a copying charge.

AMISH COUNTRY TOUR COMING!

Visit the "Heart of Indiana" — Amish Country, Shipshewana on May 1 and 2 when a bus leaves from the library parking lot at 7 a.m.

Visit Lolly's Fabric and Quilt Shop, a Giant Flea Market, an Antique Auction, Yoder's General Store. Overnight lodging will be at Essenhaus Country Inn and diners will enjoy a family style authentic Amish Dinner at Das Dutchman Essenhaus Restaurant.

For more information or to make your reservation, contact the Pigeon District Library at 453-2341.

BREAKFAST IN A NUTSHELL

If you love the taste of nuts, you'll love Almond Delight®. Almond Delight® cereal now tastes even better because it's the only cereal with lots of sliced almonds plus crunchy clusters of almonds, pecans and walnuts. Its crunchy wheat and rice flakes are sweetened with molasses and sugar and are cholesterol free. It is very versatile in recipes. To make great streusel, when 1 cup flour is called for in the recipe, use 1/2 cup crushed Almond Delight® and 1/2 cup flour. You can substitute crushed Almond Delight® anytime a recipe calls for a graham cracker, vanilla wafer or cereal crust. One taste and you'll make Almond Delight® crust for all your pies.

FLUFFY TROPICAL PIE

4 cups Almond Delight® brand cereal, crushed to 2 cups
1/3 cup packed brown sugar
1/3 cup coconut (optional)
1/3 cup margarine OR butter, melted
1 3/4 cups milk

1 package (3 oz.) instant vanilla pudding mix, dry
2 cups non-dairy whipped topping
1 can (20 oz.) pineapple tidbits, well drained
1 banana, sliced

Preheat oven to 350° degrees. In small bowl combine cereal, sugar, coconut (if desired) and margarine, stirring until evenly coated. Press firmly onto bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned; cool completely. In medium bowl beat milk and pudding mix 2 minutes or until thickened. Fold in whipped topping. Reserve a few pieces of pineapple and banana for garnish. Fold remaining pineapple and banana into pudding. Mound into pie shell. Chill 2 to 3 hours or until set. Garnish with reserved pineapple and banana. Makes 8 servings.

Microwave Directions: In small bowl combine cereal, sugar, coconut (if desired) and margarine, stirring until evenly coated. Press firmly onto bottom and sides of 9-inch microwave-safe pie plate. Microwave on HIGH 2 to 2 1/2 minutes, turning 1/4 turn after 1 minute; cool completely. Follow remaining directions above. *Due to differences in microwave ovens, cooking time may need adjustment. Directions developed using 625 to 700 watt ovens.
