New school owner wanted

WANTED: New owner for the USA School District's Middle School building in Sebawaing.

All of the necessary steps to sell the current Middle School building have been completed, and school officials are accepting sealed bids until 10 a.m. Saturday, May 14, for the building at 628 E. Main Street and 21.50 acres of tiled land along Bay and E. Main street.

However, occupancy of the building is not available until Sept. 1, 1995 — the completion date of a new Middle School wing at the USA High School complex between Sebawaing and Unionville.

School Board members had hoped to sell the property sooner, but meeting environmental standards was necessary before seeking bids. A California based company has expressed an interest in revamping the old school building into an independent living facility for senior citizens.

COMING TO GRANDMA AND GRANDPA DENISON'S farm in the spring is always a treat for Alyssa and Jessica Scharich of Midland, because the barn is full of playful little lambs. The daughters of Greg and Sharon Scharich, the girls enjoy bottle-feeding the youngest lambs... and trying to coax the older ones to eat a bit of grain.

HERE, Jessica, 4, on the left, and Alyssa, 6, introduce a lamb to the pleasures of nibbling grain from a dish. They're the granddaughters of Walcott and Alice Denison of Owendale, and Mary Jane and David Scharich of Unionville.

Laker High Science Dept. gets $63,000 'Yordy' gift

By AMY HEIDEN

More than just about any other school class, science classes require a lot of fairly expensive equipment.

Microscopes, computer software and disks containing the latest scientific advances, meters and other equipment can cost thousands of dollars, something most school districts find in short supply these days.

But thanks to a $63,000 gift by an anonymous donor, the Laker High School Science Department will be purchasing some brand new equipment to enhance their program.

Laker Supt. Robert Drury said the gift will be named the Orvin Yordy Science Enlightenment Fund to the request of the donor, who was once Yordy's student.

The money will be used for student materials such as science and chemistry kits, field trips and outside speakers, to make science more enjoyable and understandable for the students.

"We've visited two schools in the Metro Detroit area that are known for their great science labs," Drury said.

"We also plan to visit Saginaw Valley State University to take a look at their labs and we'll spend the next month putting together a spending plan."

The money was donated by a former student who wants to contribute to his former community, Drury said. In addition, the donor has requested that most of the money be spent right away instead of investing it and only spending a few thousand dollars a year.

Chemistry teacher Doug Rees said the science department teachers, including Paul Beachy and Dennis Gaskill, have been discussing their equipment needs.

"We plan to add to our equipment instead of replacing it," Rees said. "We'd like to get some hand-held PH meters, electric balances and computer software. Much of our equipment is serviceable, but there are things we'd like to add."

Orvin Yordy, for whom the gift was named, taught in what is now the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port District for over 33 years. He retired in 1974 after spending 18 years as principal of Pigeon Junior High School.

Reed organists play Sunday

The music committee of First United Methodist Church of Pigeon, will sponsor a musical worship service this Sunday, April 17 at 10:30 a.m. with two guest reed organists.

The guest organists - Zella Wideman Hildebrand and Robert L. Greene from Bay City - are the daughter and grandson of the late Selma Soldan Wideman, who played the first reed organ purchased by the congregation for the church at Berne in 1886.

When the congregation moved to Pigeon to its present site, Mrs. Soldan played the organ for the groundbreaking ceremony, the Estey instrument having been moved in for the occasion.

Mrs. Soldan continued serving as organist in the new brick edifice in Pigeon until 1902. It is known that she played the congregation in both churches for about eight years.

She was the mother of the late Lorena Thicke, long-time First UM Church member.

Theme for the morning service will be "When In Our Music God is Glorified" and will feature music played upon the Kilgen pipe organ, the Vocalion reed organ and the Steinway piano.

A "gathering music" recital will begin at 9:40 a.m., featuring selected reed organ works and hymns from the first hymnal used in the Berne church.

Wanda Hayes Eichler will play this recital and direct the church choir for the morning anthem. Greene's reed organ prelude will begin at 10:10 a.m.

Pastor James Schwandt invites the public to attend. An all-church dinner will be served by the United Methodist Women of the First Church, immediately following the service.

USA HIGH SCHOOL Drama Club presented the play "Deadwood Dick" last weekend. The three-act play was a melodrama and a departure from the standard play the organization usually presented.

Cast included Chuck Drier as Wild Bill Hickock, Jamie Collon as La Paloma, Brandon Gettel as Judge Nix, Sarah Zagata as Calamity Jane, Lee Mascorro as Blackman Redburn, Roxanna Weisenbach as Lilly Blossom, Heather Karls as Rose Blossom and Brian Hahn as Ned Harris. Joan Hofmeister was director.

MAIL THOSE TAX FORMS EARLY! Bay Port Postmaster Laura Scharich reminds us all that April 15 — income tax day — is upon us this Friday, and she notes the U.S. Postal Service is bracing itself for the annual onslaught of last-minute tax files.

"Since Fridays are always busy at the Post Office, Postmasters expect things to get interesting around the middle of the afternoon," she says, saying extra steps are being taken:

"Last-minute returns and extension requests may be deposited up to MIDNIGHT at the following Collection Box locations and get an April 15 postmark:

- Bay Port Post Office;
- Pigeon Post Office;
- Sebeawaing Post Office;
- Unionville Post Office, and
- Elkton Post Office.

Be sure to weigh your returns or extensions on a postal scale and include the proper amount of postage, especially true if you're filing extra forms or schedules this year. Postmaster Scharich reminds. Short-paid tax filings must be returned to sender for additional postage... meaning you'll miss the deadline! Thanks for those helpful hints, and happy mailing!

DESK-CLEARING: I have to admit it's GREAT that spring/summer time is here again. The Rummel Ranch crew has somehow parked the family car at the Dairy Barn, Porky's, Caseville Dairy Queen and Lefty's Drive-Ins during the past week, a sure sign of spring!

Another great sign of the season is this week's kick-off of the Caseville Perch Spring Fling. See our special section for all the details, and come to Caseville this week and next!

A new Johns Hopkins Hospital study says eating oatmeal is linked to lower blood pressure. The study was done on 850 healthy Chinese men from 15 to 77. No wonder it's so good!

"We wanted a state-of-the-art system that will provide 97% coverage 100% of the time," said State Police Director Col. Michael Robinson of Lansing. "Today, we have daily situations where we cannot even communicate from one patrol car to another or back to the post."

"This is not only extremely dangerous for our personnel, but also very unproductive." The current system is 50 years old. "The new system will... become the backbone for an expandable microwave system."

Construction is expected to begin this summer. Lansing and Detroit districts should be operational by next spring.

"I believe it will take about two years to implement the system in our area which is District 3 which covers the Thumb including Bay and Saginaw up to West Branch," said Caro Post Commander Douglas Lautner.

Laker High earns special accreditation status

The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools has awarded Outcomes Accreditation Status to Laker High School — one of only 14 schools in Michigan to have achieved this level.

Outcomes Accreditation is an alternative accreditation plan that focuses on student successes, efficiency and quality-with-equity programs. The OA process requires a school to document the success it is achieving in specific areas identified by a team of teachers, students, administrators and parents, according to Laker Suppt. Robert Drury and High School Principal Lisa DiCamillo.

William Bushaw, state director of Michigan NCA, extends his congratulations to Laker High School, noting that "All students have access to quality programs which address the skills, knowledge, personal qualities characteristic of successful students."

Big-Time Garage Sale coming Saturday to Lakers

Laker Marching Band members are cleaning out their closets, hoping to raise funds for their upcoming band competition in Toronto in May.

The teens and their families will conduct a Big-Time Garage Sale this Saturday, April 16 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Laker High School.

The Toronto trip will include several band competitions, as well as sightseeing, and will cost the Laker Band Program over $19,000, most of which is being raised through fund-raisers.

Students themselves are responsible for earning their own portion of the trip, which is about $355.

"The people in our communities have been so generous with their support of our band students," says Laker Band Director Rusty Robinson.

"We have appreciated it very much and hope they'll turn out for one of the last fund-raisers before Toronto."

A Personal View: By Walt Rummel

U.S. teen in Singapore should face the music

Don't Americans get worked up over the most unusual things? Many of them wouldn't make the tiniest blip on the course of human events, yet the people rant and rave as though American honor and survival depend on it.

Take the case of 18-year-old Michael Fay, the American living in Singapore, who spray-painted cars and doused some with eggs, plus a couple other stupid acts that probably wouldn't raise an eyebrow in the USA.

But, Michael chose to do his thing in Singapore, a city-nation that has one of the most-enviable records in the world for good conduct by its citizens and visitors. Michael got caught and was sentenced to the Singapore penalty — four months in jail, a not-insignificant fine and six lashes from a well-soaked bamboo cane.

In America, Michael might have been fined $50 (which his rich mother would have paid) plus a stern warning that such conduct is not tolerated here. But, alas, Michael, who is not-unacquainted with the rules of Singapore, did it there... and he got caught.

Now Mommy and Step-Daddy, plus Congressmen, Senators, psychiatrists, talk-show hosts, columnists and even President Clinton (who has enough problems of his own) are chin-deep in the plea to forgive this child who didn't realize that he was doing anything wrong... U.S. Citizens by the thousands are joining in, too, but by a count of 87-13 (in one batch of phone calls and letters) are chanting, "Commence with the Caning!"

Here is one suggestion to resolve the question: Give Michael his choice: The prescribed six whacks and four months in the clink or just four whacks and five months in jail.

Thus Singapore law would prevail, Michael's pain would be reduced by 33% and his jail time increased by 25%. Leave the fine as it is, because Michael won't pay it anyway (his rich family will).

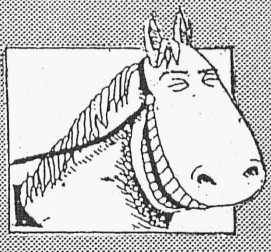

Michael is still lucky. If he had pulled his shenanigans in Iraq or a dozen other countries, the trial would have been over the morning after his spree, the appeals would have been rejected the same day, and the cane would never have been considered.

Sentence would have been carried out with a rope.

Only in America does the silly public debate continue for weeks and months, while half-a-million criminals continue to run wild, terrorizing the 99% of solid citizens who are only trying to hang onto their bit of life, liberty and a chance to pursue a little happiness...

Horsin' Around

April showers

Been hearing a lot of complaints about the weather lately! Every day my co-workers and I can be heard grumbling about the slow approach of spring. We say things like "well, we had one nice day, so can't ask for more than that!" or "Michigan weather, what do you expect?"

But though I join in their grumbling and feign disappointment — just to be compliant and sociable — in my heart I am secretly singing for joy.

You see, it may rain, it may sleet, it may even freeze now and again. Frosty flakes may fall and the mud may be high; the winds may be chill and the sun seldom seen... but I don't care: the death grip of winter has been broken!

And a cool, whipping wind is just NOT the same as 50° below zero wind-chill; an icy, sleety rain is NOT four feet of snow... and a dark and cloudy sky is just NOTHING like the daily, oppressive absence of the sun during winter's shortest days.

No, despite what has seemed like a slow and erratic approach of spring, I invite you to bend over and peer into the muddy sod... green things are beginning to peek out of the ground. I invite you to close your eyes and open your ears... birds actually CAN be heard singing! I invite you to shade your eyes and look to the sky... the sun is with us longer every evening!

It's true, I have not yet packed all my sweaters away. It's true, my gloves are still in my jacket pocket. It's true, not every day dawns bright and beautiful. But try and remember the old adage that soothed us back in grade school whenever rainy spring days kept us from the ball diamonds and playgrounds... April showers DO INDEED bring May flowers. (And May is but a scant two weeks away!)

Letters... we want letters...

Mr. Ross is out of town this week, helping the less fortunate. In his absence, his editor, Nancy Webber, is writing the column.

ers love all kinds of pickled vegetables, peppers, mushrooms, pasta, meats...

It's always a thrill to see a local area named or described in a national magazine. In the March/April Ducks Unlimited there's a fictional piece about an old duck hunter, sad because his own hunter/friends were dying off and the young hunters simply didn't hunt the way he had taught them. There's some nostalgia and a lot of hunting information in the "Closing Time" column that starts just in front of the inside back cover. In setting the location, Jerry Warrington, a free-lancer from Beaverton, writes about "Dynamite Cut over by Rose Island," which is identified quickly by any Saginaw Bay duck hunter. It's the only actual location mentioned, but here's betting that the names snapped a good many local hunters to quick attention and gave them a warm, inside glow...

60 Seconds Straying sheep

"All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Isaiah 53:6

In today's freewill, permissive society individuals and groups set themselves up as having the right to act in any way they choose, that any words and deeds are acceptable and that there is no such thing as sin.

They deny the existence of God, they care not what they speak or what example they set.

The folly of their attitudes and activities should be obvious as we look around this nation and see what a mess mankind has made of God's once-beautiful world.

As so many act in any manner they desire, some blindly declare that there is no meaning in God's Word and "anything that feels good is OK."

But "gone astray and turned his own way," we are still His sheep, loved by the Shepherd. He still wants us to hear His Word and follow His commandments.

His Son, our Risen Savior, has turned us sinners into His forgiven children, and we need only to turn to Him and He will grant us what is best.

PRAYER: Dear Lord, help us listen to Your Word, and also to live in a manner that pleases You. Amen.

Your inconsistent, self-centered, greedy behavior has not shocked Mr. Ross, or killed one ounce of his enthusiasm to continue giving away his wealth.

I don't know how he does it, but he's as excited about showing up at the office today, as he was 11 years ago.

He's now 77 years old and has considerably less money in his bank account—way, way less.

He's not bitter or angry or resentful. It's like each day he died and went to hog heaven, this man is so happy.

He's having the time of his life and is living proof of that old saying, "tis better to have given, than to have gotten."

According to our wise, old sage, for every dead-beat who's received a free lunch from him, there are 10 deserving, grateful recipients who have turned a portion of their problematic lives around.

In other words, there are a lot of "good Joes" who received a helping hand and went on to piece their lives together.

But the one who has received the most has been Mr. Ross and his heart shows it. If giving is contagious, then let us all catch the virus, because one, it will never kill you, and two, it can actually create immortality.

I guess when you're 77, the thought of living on in the hearts of those you've helped, can give you peace of mind.

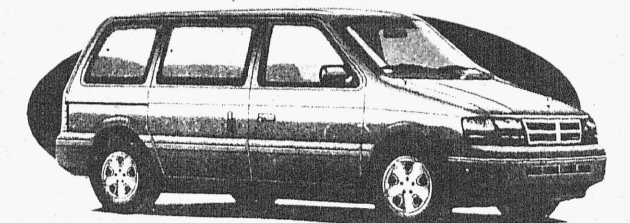

For one man, it seems to feel his very existence.

So, in spite of the free-loaders who have taken Mr. Ross for a ride, this column by all rights will sustain itself another year.

Happy Birthday Thanks a Million!

Overseas reise

In die 1970s und 1980s war Ich lucky zu oeffters overseas gehen in meine Arbeit und simply fuer Traveln.

Ich war in Greece, und China, Africa und Deutschland und auch in das Sowjet Union.

Obwohl meine Familie hat oeffters ge-questioned ob es safe ist zum ueberall dort drueben traveln, doch hab Ich mostly ge-fueled das es OK war.

Grad vor wir zu Greece kamen gab es several hijackings in die Gegend, mostly gegen Americans. Aber wir sind doch gegangen, und sind durch Gottes Hand wieder safely returned.

Ich war auf den Weg zu Beirut, Lebanon, en route zu Ethiopia in Afrika, da mein Boss in Lansing mir ge-contacted hat bei Telefon.

"Geh nicht zu Beirut," hat er mir instructed. "Eine Civil War ist dort underway, und du muusst nicht zu Beirut traveln. Nimm eine spaetere Flight und geh direct von Athens zu Ethiopia."

So hab Ich das getan, und believe it or nicht, die Civil War ist continued fuer mehr denn 15 Jahre.

Addis Ababa, die Capital Stadt in Ethiopia, war viel besser aber der longtime Emperor, Haile Selassie, war grad von sein Palast genommen und war imprisoned. Dort starb er, "during surgery," sagten die Zeitungen. Die Ethiopian Newspapers und Residents hatten Ihr Doubts, und sagten, "Surgery? Ha!" Haile Selassie war 88 Jahre alt und no doubt warge-murdered.

Aber die Zeiten waren at that Time besser fuer traveln denn nowadays.

Jetzt sind Terrorists ueberall, jetzt sind die Israeli-Palestinian Conflicts viel heisser, und unser Country ist nicht popular in meiste foreign Countries. So kriegen Amerikaner keine Respect Overseas, und viele kleinere Countries sind happy zum Amerikaner ein Kick geben, oder better yet, even eine Bullet.

Unser Country ist oft nicht fair in Dealings mit Andere, und viele sind happy zum ein grosser Guy (USA) humiliaten und eine Step herunter bringen.

So, Ich denk nicht das Israel, oder andere Middle East Countries, oder Greece grad die beste Places sind zu visiten. Aber in meiste Countries ist Traveln safe und educational. Es kostet nicht viel mehr denn in USA, especially wenn mann zu Plaetze wie Las Vegas und Reno und New York City geht.

Certainly Countries wie Deutschland, Schweiz, England, Irland, Schottland sind sicher. Welche sind mehr expensive denn Andere, aber die Englische Laender sind less expensive denn meiste Andere. Ich war noch nie in Spanien, aber Travelers sagen das Prices sind sehr reasonable.

Die Moral in die Story ist, das no matter wo mann geht, mann soll erst so viel researchen wie mann kann before mann drueben ankommt. Viel enjoyment is in preparen vor mann los geht.

Woods & Waters

Rivers run through it

There were phantoms in the river that morning, I could feel them deep within my soul.

They lurked beneath the undercut banks and hid, shadow-like, among the gnarled pine stumps. I could not see them, but I knew they were there.

Most of my trips to the river are to fish for them, to pit my amassed knowledge of both fish and stream, complete with pitiful imitations of their food source, against their finely honed instincts.

The fish usually win, but from it all, I become rejuvenated.

This morning it was different. The river was there, the fish were there, but the calendar reminded me that opening day was still several weeks away.

Today, I was on the banks of the river to kill time. Sweetwife was attending a quilting class and did not want to make the long trip alone, so I had agreed to take her.

"Don't worry about me," I had said earlier that morning, "I'll find something to do."

Now, sitting beside the fast moving water I allowed myself to be swept away, to dream of the rivers in my mind.

How sad it must be to live in the place without rivers, I thought, and how fortunate I am to live in a place with so many rivers. Perhaps we don't have the massive types portrayed in McLean's famous novel, but if you take the time to look around — truly look around — I think you will be surprised at what Michigan has to offer.

Water, and thus rivers, have always been the lifeblood of our state.

Woods & Waters

by Duane Guenther

These arteries and veins were the highways used to transport both our original inhabitants, as well as our European visitors.

It was rivers that brought Etienne Brule, believed to be the first white man in Michigan, to Sault Ste. Marie. And later, those same rivers floated enough logs to rebuild Chicago after Mrs. O'Leary's cow length. Some are pristine and jewel-like, traversing great expanses of wilderness, while others are muddied by agricultural land or tainted by the industrial complexes and cities which crowd their banks.

They have beautiful names derived from Indian, French and English influences, or carry slang titles christened by a rough people living in a once rough land.

Look at a Michigan map and the names will jump out at you, names like Laughing Whitefish, Big Two Hearted, AuSable, Yellow Dog, Presque Isle, Menominee, Pere Marquette, Raisin, Cass, Bad, Dead, Black, Rifle, Shebeon, the list goes on and on. Each river offering something a little different, something unique.

If it's wild water you want, head for the UP. Piers Gorge on the Menominee River or the Presque Isle River in the western end of the UP can throw you up against Class 4 and 5 rapids in a wilderness setting.

If you want to be alone, try the Ontonagon or the Huron, which are not too far away.

Looking for a peaceful, yet pristine stream, it's hard to beat the Manistee, Pine, AuSable, Muskegon, Rifle or Big Sable.

If you want to fish, most of the northern rivers support great populations of trout, while their southern counterparts offer many of the warm water species.

The lure of living next to one of the several hundred rivers flowing through our state is like a magnet. Banks are crowded with dwellings which sometimes reach the shoulder-to-shoulder format so common when the fishing season rolls around.

With spring in full bloom and summer just around the corner, the time is right to plan a vacation trip to that favorite river of yours.

What?
You don't know of any?
Just look around you...

New games planned for Farmers' Fest

By SALLY RUMMEL

Street Hockey, Rollerblade Races, Bale Roll-off, Horseshoe Pull, Pet Look Alike Contest...

These are just a few of the new ideas that came out of a community-wide Farmers' Festival meeting on Wednesday, April 6 at the Pigeon District Library, with desserts catered by the Dutch Kettle, compliments of the Pigeon Chamber of Commerce.

About 50 Farmers' Festival fans got together to volunteer their ideas and help in planning the 1994 Farmers' Festival, set for Wednesday through Sunday, July 27-31.

The meeting was conducted by the three members of the Farmers' Festival Committee, Linda Walsh and Judy Niebel, plus Pigeon Chamber President Pam Sturm.

Using the theme of "Down Home Fun in the Country," the 1994 Festival will include a Friday Night Stage Show featuring "The Fabulous Fakes" — a stage show of celebrity lookalikes including Barry Manilow, Gladys Night, Kenny Rogers, Elvis and others, backed up by four singer/dancers and a band.

"It will be a great night of entertainment, something totally different than we've ever had on stage before," says Linda Clabuesch.

The committee and community helpers are also trying to respond to more activities for teens by holding several rollerblade events for youngsters through teens, chaired by Cheryl King, Pam Stafford and Jim King.

And in keeping with the country theme of the Festival, several new additions are planned, including a Bale Roll-off and Horseshoe Pull, thanks to suggestions offered by Ray Gnagay and Carl Dast. Lots of fun was had in the planning, as several men helped demonstrate their strength in a mock horseshoe pulling contest.

Much of the evening was spent in signing up businesses and individuals to help coordinate events with planning and manpower.

Workers are still needed for the Photo Board downtown and a chairman and committee are being sought for the popular Kiddy Arcade.

All of the sign-up is being coordinated through Jim and Linda King at Bay House Sports, so persons interested in volunteering can contact them at 453-2551.

"It's a community-wide effort this year," explains Chamber President Sturm, with input and help from businesses and interested individuals. There's no better time than now to raise your hand to volunteer and have your input count."

Laughter and fellowship were the order of the evening and even though the Festival is still 3 1/2 months away, the Pigeon community is gearing up and getting excited for its biggest event of the year.

CARL DAST shows his proposed "horseshoe tug-of-war" equipment, which he had specially-made. It's one of several new contests which may be part of this year's Farmers' Festival in Pigeon.

In the heating and cooling game, the odds are 4 to 1 in your favor.

Geothermal heating and cooling is four times more efficient than propane or natural gas.

There are several energy choices when it comes to heating and cooling, but only one is four times more efficient than the rest: Geothermal.

Geothermal is the most advanced, cost-effective heating and cooling system available. It uses the earth's constant temperature to create an even, comfortable temperature in your home. Geothermal can save you up to 60% on your annual heating, cooling and hot water costs. It's easy to operate and requires virtually no maintenance. Plus, it's good to the earth, using a natural and renewable energy source that's clean and safe with no open flames or fumes.

Geothermal: It's your best bet.

C.A.N. Council offers '1964' this Friday

"1964" The Tribute — the #1 Beatles music show in the world — is coming to Bad Axe High School this Friday, April 15 at 7 p.m. to raise funds for the Huron County Child Abuse and Neglect (C.A.N.) Council. "1964" will take the audience on a musical journey to an era in rock history that will never be repeated again, organizers promise.

Hailed by critics and fans alike as the most authentic and endearing Beatles tribute in the world, "1964" has been featured on "Entertainment Tonight," "PM Magazine," the USA Network and the Nashville Network. Alistair Taylor, former president of Apple Records which produced the Beatles, was astounded by a "1964" performance and said, "The resemblance was uncanny. It sent shivers down my spine. "It was just like the boys."

"1964" is the only band in the world that has a written agreement with Apple Corps Limited, allowing them to perform their show.

While the early Beatles played shortened versions of their hits and left the stage after performing for only 30 to 35 minutes, "1964" plays the songs as people remember them and performs up to 90 minutes.

Tickets may be purchased at Laker High School by contacting Sue Sturm at 453-2348, the Huron Intermediate School District at 269-9216, Huron Travel at 269-9535 or 269-9301 evenings.

PIGEON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL children were all smiles when a Parents-Teachers for Children (PTC) clown visited each classroom before the PTC Baskin-Robbins Tournament/Carnival in March. Boys and girls from Elktion, Pigeon and Bay Port Elementary Centers participated in the Tournery, which was won by the Elktion teams.

In addition to basketball, there was lots of "clowning around" with concessions, games, face-painting, etc. The Pigeon PTC called the March 12 event a "great success," because of the volunteer efforts.

Sebewaing hosts HCCCC Ap. 26

"A night of appreciation, goodwill and applause" will bring Chamber of Commerce board members from across Huron County together for an idea exchange and social evening on Tuesday, April 26 at 7 p.m., hosted by the Sebewaing Chamber of Commerce.

This event will be the first of two planned each year by the Huron County Council of Chamber, to foster goodwill and exchange ideas in a festive atmosphere among chambers.

Each participating chamber will take their turn at hosting the event, planning a memorable evening to showcase their community.

The president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, plus two Huron County Council of Chamber delegates from each community, are invited to attend.

Sebewaing has selected the current Millerwise Park project and the marina site as the location for their event. Sebewaing Chamber members will serve light refreshments and hospitality at the County Park site and will travel by bus to view the sites.

"The evening is centered on good times and appreciation for each board's dedication and hard work in their respective communities," explains Tammy Claerhout, current president of the Huron County Council of Chambers.

"We're asking each Chamber president to plan arrangements with their group to attend together," she says.

36th PILLSBURY BAKE-OFF WINNING RECIPE

Mary Anne Tyndall from North Carolina was the grand prize winner in the 1994 Pillsbury Bake-Off. Her winning recipe below competed against 99 other finalists. If you like chocolate you'll love Mary Anne's recipe!

FUDGY BONBONS

12 ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1 can (14 oz.) sweetened condensed milk (not evaporated)
 2 cups Pillsbury Best All Purpose Flour
 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts, if desired
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 60 milk chocolate candy kisses or white and chocolate-striped candy kisses, unwrapped
 2 ozs. white baking bar or vanilla-flavored candy coating
 1 teaspoon shortening or oil

Heat oven to 350°F. In medium saucepan, combine chocolate chips and butter; cook and stir over very low heat until chips are melted and smooth. Add sweetened condensed milk; mix well. Lightly spoon flour into measuring cup; level off. In medium bowl, combine flour, nuts, chocolate mixture and vanilla; mix well. Shape 1 tablespoonful of dough around each candy kiss, covering completely. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 350°F for 6 to 8 minutes. Cookies will be soft and appear shiny but become firm as they cool. Do not overbake. Remove from cookie sheet; cool.

In small saucepan, combine white baking bar and shortening; cook and stir over low heat until melted and smooth. Drizzle over cookies. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 5 doz. cookies. Look for all the finalists recipes in the Pillsbury Bake-Off Cookbook.

Quilt recalls decades of memories

By SALLY RUMMEL

A stitch in time has held memories in place of the past 19 years for former First United Methodist pastoral couple Rev. Web and Betty Simpkins.

The Simpkins, who served the First UM congregation from 1971 to 1975, were gifted with a huge king-size quilt when they left the Pigeon congregation, following a call to Marquette.

The quilt made a special appearance back in its Pigeon "home" when Pigeon River Mercantile & Wool Co. proprietor Wanda Eichler saw the Simpkins recently at a United Methodist event, inquired about the quilt, and asked if she could "borrow" the quilt to hang on display in her quilting/sewing store. It has since been taken down and returned to the Simpkins, but brought back a host of memories for the people involved in the project.

It was especially appropriate this year, she notes, because Rev. Simpkins will be retiring from the pulpit this June, after almost 50 years in the ministry.

It was then church secretary Audrey Collin's idea to surprise the Simpkins with the very special memory of a quilt pieced with over 140 individual family blocks — some serious, some humorous — and all put together within a very short time frame.

Long-time church members Esther Yordy and Helen

ESTHER YORDY AND HELEN WOODWARD look over the "Simpkins" quilt.

Woodward recall many ladies of the church spending hours and hours during a two-week span, helping members with their blocks, then sewing the blocks and finally quilting the 96x108 quilt together.

Seeing the quilt again after almost two decades is a bittersweet memory for Yordy and Woodward, who have seen many friends come and go through the passage of time.

Many of the ladies who were instrumental in completing the quilt are no longer here to revel in its memories — Frances Buerker, Lillian Leipprandt, Alice Sturm, Elaine Shetler, Marie Henne, just to name a few.

But the memory of the DeVere Sturm family's block was rekindled with lots of laughter. It seems that among Rev. Simpkins many good qualities, a sharp memory was not among them, at least not when it came to remembering hymn #828 in the children's baptismal hymnal. So DeVere Sturm, in characteristic good humor, had the #828 embroidered on his quilt block, for Rev. Simpkins and all his friends in the congregation to remember.

That little memory still strikes a smile in the hearts of the First United Methodist congregation, and is permanently affixed in the stitches of time.

'93 Queen Celeste ends her reign...

It's been a busy year for 1993 Miss Caseville Celeste Leach.

She appeared in four parades last summer, proudly representing Caseville, and her school activities have also taken a lot of time.

Leach participated in basketball and volleyball, and this spring, she's the starting pitcher on the Caseville Eagles softball team.

While representing her hometown, she was surprised by the interest shown in the village.

"I learned that there's a lot of friendly people who like to hear about Caseville," Leach said.

After graduation, she plans to attend Ferris State University to study Dental Hygiene. Leach is the granddaughter of Richard and Joyce Pedler.

1993 QUEEN CELESTE LEACH will crown the '94 Queen April 23 at Caseville's Queen Dinner.

It's official: Kuckel is new Caseville Manager

By AMY HEIDEN

Pending attorney approval of his contract, Gary Kuckel is now officially Caseville's Village Manager.

Kuckel has been serving as the temporary manager since November, and has already made a few changes in the village's day-to-day operations.

For instance, in his capacity of Department of Public Works supervisor, he set up a schedule for various annual projects.

But setting up a schedule is minor compared to the problem facing Kuckel and the village now.

Over 19 million gallons of water have "disappeared" during the last year, leading to cost overruns in the village's water system.

The Farmers' Home Administration, which administered the bonds purchased to finance the water system, is insisting that the water department operate without a deficit, something it's not doing right now.

"The debt portion of the bonds is being paid, but operating expenses have been outpacing what we're billing," Kuckel said.

In order to get a handle on the problem, residents' water meters will be sealed and calibrated to find out exactly how much water is being used.

Then, special equipment may be used to test for leaks, and next winter an infrared camera mounted on a heli-village officials thought excessive.

But Kuckel noted that his 21 years of experience in government management, plus his network of contacts throughout the state, justifies his salary.

"There was a lot of discussion about it at the meeting," he said. "They were trying to attract someone for less, but it may be that the village would become a revolving door for young people. They would always be contending with that."

Kuckel will have to draw heavily on his experience and his contacts to find ways to provide services without increasing residents' rates and taxes, but that's always a difficult job, he admits.

"I don't think the population is used to the expense that comes along with growth," he said. "The village has taken on quite a bit in the last few years and they've done a lot of good things."

Kuckel will be paid $40,000 a year in addition to a package of benefits to manage the village, an amount that some

Caseville's Malosky proud to be 'survivor'

By AMY HEIDEN

A month after Frank Malosky was first elected as Caseville's Village President, "Recall the Mayor" signs sprouted all over town during the Perch Festival.

Malosky saved one of those signs and proudly hung it in his village hall office, saying it's a great conversation piece.

But that sign also says something about the tenacity of the four-term president, who has kept his post through three subsequent elections, always winning by a comfortable margin.

Malosky always campaigned by promising voters that he would be conservative with the village's money, getting the most of the millions of dollars spent on village improvements over the last several years.

Malosky refuses to take credit for most of the major improvements, such as the new water plant, sewer system, municipal harbor and the recycling program.

But he will take credit for the new boardwalk along the Pigeon River and the new parking lot on Pine Street.

Both of those projects were needed, he says, because of the village's yearly influx of tourists.

"You have to have facilities for tourists," Malosky said. "And the off-street parking was badly needed to relieve some of the congestion on Main Street."

Malosky thinks of himself as an activist village president.

"I've taken an interest in council, and I enjoy what I'm doing," he says. "I've been ready to throw the towel in a couple of times, but it's been my philosophy that a quitter is never satisfied."

"I'm not a quitter." Malosky had always maintained that Caseville needed a village manager, especially to supervise village workers.

Gary Kuckel was recently hired as the village manager — and while Malosky and Kuckel get along well together, Malosky isn't happy about the price paid to get that manager.

"Not having a village manager in the past is why we have a union today," he said. "But paying $47,000 a year isn't what the council promised the people. They wanted someone for $25-30,000 a year."

As a fiscal conservative, Malosky is concerned about mounting village deficits. Several active accounts have needed infusions of cash from their matching savings accounts just to balance their budgets.

But if recent history is any reliable indicator, Malosky will be searching for ways to reduce those deficits, reminding council members of their responsibilities to serve the people of Caseville.

"Lately I go home with the feeling I've accomplished a lot," Malosky said.

"Overall I can look back and feel I've contributed something to Caseville. I don't expect everybody to like me, but they should respect the office."

AMY HEIDEN PHOTO

CASEVILLE VILLAGE PRESIDENT Frank Malosky still displays the "Recall the Mayor" signs that appeared a month after his first election in 1988. "They're a sign of survival," he says.

Last play in old gym... Gleissner heads to Italy

It's the end of an era.

After years of presenting school plays in front of appreciative audiences in the school gym, Caseville students next year will act out roles in a brand-new auditorium.

But there's one last play to go, and the Caseville Comedies and Tragedies Troupe will present Ayn Rand's "Night of January 16th" on Thursday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. There is also a student matinee at 8:45 a.m. and the public is invited to either show, according to director Mary K. Quinn.

"Just think, no more competing with sports practices to rehearse our plays," Quinn said of the upcoming move to the auditorium, now under construction.

Students participating in the play are Angela Blackburn, Trisha Dombrowski, Tyler Williams, Kevin Gettel, Kristin Roth, Nicole Ruiz de Castilla, Mary Roth, Nicole Campbell, Stephanie Maust, Stacy Lerchenfeld, Stacey Meissner, Joe Cilc, Allan McLean, Ashley Harrison, Karla Pittenger, Nathan Lenar, Pam Kuhn, Sean Booth, Jon Frazho, Misty McCrimmon, Aaron Britt, Jon Scepanski and Nick Bednorck.

Alex Gleissner, art educator at Caseville Public School, has been chosen to attend the Ohio Wesleyan University's Summer Institute on Florentine Renaissance Humanism.

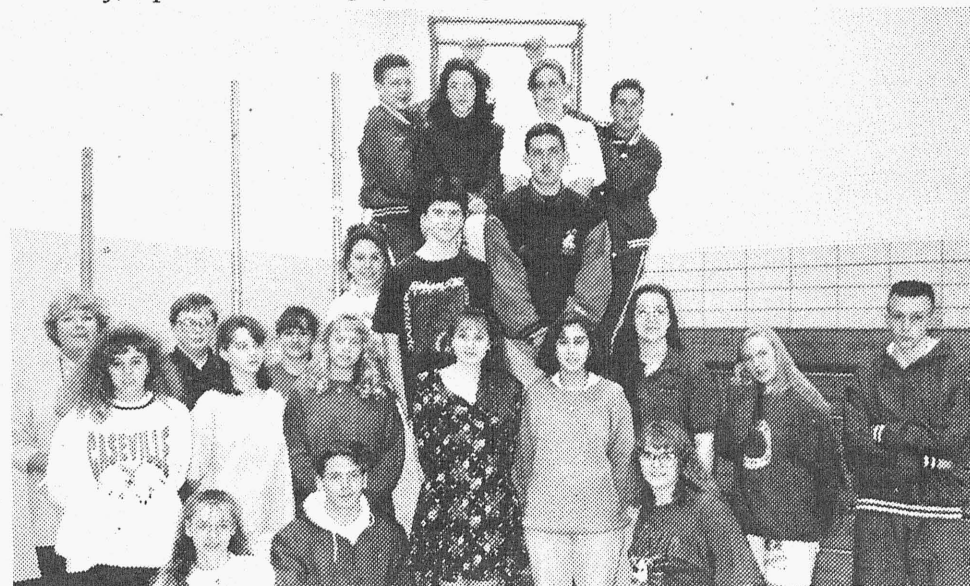

This six week program runs from June 19 to July 29 with the first 10 days spent at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, OH.

From June 29 to July 29, Gleissner will study in Florence, Italy. High school teachers of English, history and art history were invited to reply and Gleissner was one of 35 teachers from a six-state region accepted to participate.

Participants will study the literature of Florentine Renaissance humanism and its relationship with Florentine Renaissance art, sculpture and architecture.

CHS students in State Bowl

A team of students from Caseville Public School has been invited to participate in the 15th annual Michigan Future Problem Solving Program State Bowl.

Ashley Harrison, daughter of Kathie Harrison and Jim Harrison; Stacy Lerchenfeld, daughter of Barbara Lerchenfeld; Mary Roth, daughter of Dick and Pam Roth and Nicole Campbell, daughter of Clyde and Rama Campbell, and their coach, Irene Ruiz de Castilla will meet in Ann Arbor at the University of Michigan April 23-24 to compete with 140 teams — the top 30% of teams from throughout Michigan.

The State Bowl is the end of a year-long program where students are taught to creatively seek, attack and solve problems related to projection into the future.

More than 14,000 Michigan students worked on three problems during this school year: Robotics, Antarctica and Extinction of Animals.

Their solutions were critiqued by trained evaluators and based on the third problem, the top 30% of Michigan teams from each of three grade divisions (4-6, 7-9, 10-12) will participate in the State Bowl.

While teams know the general topic of the Bowl, "Space Law," they will not know the specific nature of the problem they have to solve until the Bowl begins.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ELECTORATE CASEVILLE TOWNSHIP March 26, 1994

Meeting to be conducted under Roberts Rules of Order.
Meeting called to order by Supervisor Joseph Cile at 1:00 p.m.
Secretary of this meeting is Rose Marie Spies, Township Clerk.

Roll call by the Secretary indicated the following board members present: Jerry Cile, Margaret Barton, Rose Marie Spies, Joseph Cile. Absent: Michael Quinn.

Also present: 9 Electors and Township Police Officer Brian Hazelett.

Motion by Jerry Cile, support Margaret Barton, to accept the minutes of the March 20, 1993 Annual Meeting as read. Motion carried.

Supervisor Cile turned the meeting over to the Public Safety Commission at 1:07 p.m.

1:18 p.m. - BUDGET MEETING
Supervisor Cile opened the Budget Meeting to the Electorate.

Velja Cullen proposed a $2,400.00 annual salary increase for the Supervisor, Clerk and Treasurer. Ms. Cullen feels the Township officials, with the hours they devote to their respective jobs, are vastly underpaid and are earning less than minimum wage.

Motion by Velja Cullen, support Ralph Wilson, to increase the annual salary of the Supervisor, Clerk and Treasurer by $2,400.00. Motion carried.

Mayor Frank Malosky questioned if there was enough money in the 1994-95 budget to accommodate these increases.

Supervisor Cile spoke to the budget items hitting on the high points. Hank Clabuesch inquired if Limerick Road, between Caseville and Stum Roads could be paved as the road is used as a cutoff on busy weekends. Supervisor Cile said it would cost between $75,000 and $100,000 to do the job right, no one lives on that stretch of road so not recommended. The Township portion of Gagetown Road will be paved this year (1994).

Frank Malosky asked if Jan Prill was hired as a part-time assessor? Mr. Cile answered in the affirmative. Mr. Malosky then asked where the part-time job went. In as much as Jan is earning $19,800 with a proposed increase of $500.00 for 1994, her salary would then be $20,300.00. Mr. Cile assured Mr. Malosky that the assessor's job is full-time now and when you consider that the going rate for an assessor is $7.00 per parcel, the assessor is not overpaid. The Township has over 4,000 parcels of land, which would amount to a salary in excess of $28,000.00.

A lengthy discussion ensued regarding Mr. Malosky's home property tax assessment and his hearings with the Tax Tribunal. He further questioned three parcels of property in particular and why his assessment has gone up each year for the last five years. He feels assessor Jan Prill is responsible for these increases.

Fire Chief Hill stated there will be a burning ban in the Township from April 16, 1994 to May 15, 1994. No burning of any kind will be permitted in 1995. Mr. Hill feels this will present a problem and legislative action will be necessary. He advised everyone to contact their representative and let them know how serious this matter is to the people of this community.

Gypsy Moth Chairperson Velja Cullen said the gypsy moths are pretty well under control this year, the 1993 spraying was very successful and only 108 acres in the township need spraying at this time.

Mr. Malosky would like the Township to hold a meeting with the Village and work on the Township purchasing water from the Village. Mr. Malosky also asked when the burned out trailer will be removed from Heinrich's Trailer Court. Answer: Soon.

The Caseville Township Planning Commission meetings, on the third Tuesday of the month, seem to be conflicting with the Village DDA meetings. Mr. Cile had conferred with the chairman of the DDA, but no action was taken by the DDA. Mr. Malosky was upset with the letter from Mr. Cile stating that if the Township Planning Commission couldn't hold its meetings in the conference room on the third Tuesday of each month, the Township would have to withhold its support of the hall. Mr. Malosky asked where the Township would be if it wasn't for the Village? It was decided that the Township Planning Commission will use the conference room on the third Tuesday of the month, and the DDA will meet in the community room.

Supervisor Cile read his letter titled, "State of Caseville Township", highlighting Fire Reports, Public Safety, Assessor's Office, Gypsy Moth, Newsletter, Road Special Assessment Districts, etc.

Copy attached to the original minutes.

Motion by Velja Cullen, support Ken Hill, recommending the Caseville Township 1994/95 Budget be finalized and adopted at the next regular Caseville Township Board meeting (April 4, 1994). Motion carried, 1 Nay, Protest by Mayor Malosky regarding the Assessor's salary increase.

No further business, meeting adjourned at 2:02 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Rose Marie Spies

CASEVILLE TOWNSHIP LEGAL NOTICE FOR GYPSY MOTH AERIAL SPRAYING

NOTICE FOR AERIAL SPRAYING FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF GYPSY MOTH LARVAE IN SELECTED AREAS OF CASEVILLE TOWNSHIP

Certain areas in Caseville Township have been designated to receive aerial application of the insecticide BT (Bacillus Thuringiensis) for the suppression of Gypsy Moth larvae. Maps of these areas are available for viewing at the Caseville Township Village Hall, 6767 Main Street, Caseville, MI 48725.

The spraying will be done by fixed wing aircraft in mid-May to mid-June when weather conditions are suitable.

The insecticide BT is derived from a naturally occurring bacteria and is known only to affect leaf eating caterpillars and insects by destroying their stomachs as a result of digesting the material. It does not affect honey bees or other non-leaf eating insects, birds, fish or mammals. The effectiveness of the insecticide on Gypsy Moth caterpillar varies with weather and timing of the application.

Eradication is not possible and should not be expected. The intent of the spray program is to give heavily infested populated areas some temporary relief from the insect and to preserve at least 60% foliage so the tree is not stressed by late season defoliation.

CASEVILLE TOWNSHIP PUBLIC SAFETY COMMISSION PUBLIC HEARING ON POLICE BUDGET MINUTES March 26, 1994

Present: Ken Hill, Chmn.; Ralph Wilson, Vice Chmn.; Bob Spies, Mbr.; Henry Clabuesch, Mbr.; Joe Cile, Twp. Supervisor; Rose Marie Spies, Twp. Clerk; Margaret Barton, Twp. Treasurer; Jerry Cile, Twp. Trustee; Brian Hazelett, Twp. Deputy

Absent: George Delmotte, Mbr.; George Forester, Mbr.

Chairman Hill called the meeting to order at 1:07 p.m.

Hill stated the purpose of the meeting, to establish an operating budget for township police service for the fiscal year 1994-5.

Motion by Spies, supported by Clabuesch, to approve Sept. 13, 1993 minutes of the Public Safety Commission meeting. Motion carried.

Hill explained the proposed 1994-5 budget and operating expense for the past year at 1.2 mills. Discussion followed. Hill recommended the assessment for the 1994-5 police budget remain at 1.2 mills.

Jerry Cile inquired as to progress in merging the township and village police service, citing a possible cost saving. Hill stated negotiations between township and village are ongoing but due to problems that have yet to be resolved, possibility of a merge does not appear likely at this time. It was further pointed out that village officials insist a merged unit be under a police chief which would undoubtedly result in an increase in cost to the township. Also the present level of police service in the township would most certainly be reduced due to the demand in the village.

Deputy Brian Hazelett was introduced and made available for questions. There were none.

Motion by Wilson, supported by Clabuesch, to set a millage rate of 1.2 mills for the 1994-5 township police operating budget. Motion carried.

There being no further business, Chmn. Hill declared the meeting adjourned at 1:18 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Desmarais seeks Dist. 1 Commissioner seat

Sebewaing resident George Desmarais has announced he is seeking the Republican nomination for Huron County Commissioner from District 1 at the Aug. 4 Primary Election.

A former member of the USA Board of Education, Desmarais says his interest in the County Board arises from a desire to see the commissioner role become a more effective one.

"I'm running to more adequately represent viewpoints of constituents both at the commission table and wherever else it's needed," he says.

"Three things I've always been involved in are community service, education and the church, and this is its logical extension."

"In my view, the commission should reflect the feelings and opinions of the residents it represents. I feel we have to improve communications between governmental units and constituents in District 1."

"We also have to support our towns and Chambers of Commerce to create a climate conducive to small business."

GEORGE DESMARAIS

That includes improving our parks and recreation facilities to attract tourists, but it also means upgrading and maintaining our road and drainage systems throughout the county.

Desmarais says local residents must work together to attract jobs for today and for the future in order to keep young people—"our district's biggest export"—here at home working in well-paying, dependable jobs.

Desmarais was born into a farm family in the Upper Peninsula, and earned a Bachelor of Science Education degree at St. Norbert College in West DePere, WI.

After service as a public health officer in the U.S. Army in Korea, he returned to add a Master of Science degree in Health Care Administration from the University of Minnesota.

His work has included serving as chief executive officer of hospitals in Battle Creek, Menominee, and as Sr. Vice-President of Memorial Hospital in South Bend, IN and Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon.

In addition to membership in numerous health administration associations, he is a member of the Holy Family Catholic Church parish council and president of the Rose Island Association.

Desmarais and his wife Janice, an R.N. and Director of Inservice Education at the Tuscola County Care Facility, have four children, Jon, Marianne, Paul and Sara.

Ross dulcimers to be featured at Hobby Show

By SALLY RUMMEL
It's a rare person who has an "eye" for crafting a musical instrument out of wood and can mentally picture how to build it himself.

It's an even rarer talent for that same person to have an "ear" for the music he creates from the instrument he has spent months crafting from wood.

Such is the case with Gerald Ross of Caseville, whose love of hammered dulcimers has led him to build over a dozen intricately crafted instruments in the past 10 years.

He and his neighbor Tony Foster, with whom he has shared the fine art of dulcimer-making, will be special guests at the Pigeon District Library's annual Hobby & Craft Show, Tuesday through Saturday, April 19-23.

There they will share some of the music and craftsmanship that has provided themselves and their families with many hours of enjoyment.

The dulcimer is an instrument that goes as far back as Biblical times and has evolved itself in different ways as it traveled to other countries.

What distinguishes it from other instruments is that it is played with small "hammers" and is primarily hand-crafted rather than mass produced.

While Ross enjoys once or twice weekly musical get-togethers with friends and family—playing three of the dulcimers that are permanently set up in the Ross's living room—he enjoys even more the laborious task of crafting the instruments, trying to perfect the workmanship and sound quality of each one he makes.

Each of his dulcimers has taken about three months to make, especially since he has to squeeze woodworking time in between his full-time employment at Sebewaung Industries and his ministerial work as a priest for the Owendale Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

His time will be a little more his own after July, when he will retire from Sebewaung Industries after 34 years with the company.

"The wood has to cure itself to reach its peak musical quality," explains Ross.

"I made one for my wife and was disappointed in its sound, so I called up another dulcimer-maker from out-of-state and he told me to relax and let time take care of it. He was right, now Doris' has a good sound."

"To tell you the truth," says Doris with a laugh, "the first one Gerry made sounds the best, even though he has been trying to improve the quality each time he makes another one."

Doris and Gerald share the love of music-making and summertime evenings often find them out on their patio with family and friends making music of all kinds—banjos, guitars, dulcimers.

"I've heard it said that the angels in heaven are giving up their harps and going to dulcimers," quips Gerald with a laugh.

The Rosses take their hobby a step farther and make an annual trek to Ewart in central Michigan, where they enjoy the Dulcimer Music FunFest along with a lot of their family members and friends, including the Fosters.

The FunFest is a four-day event filled with workshops, concerts, square dancing and lots of "jamming" with other kinds of non-electrical musical instruments.

While Tony Foster hasn't made the quantity of dulcimers Gerald has, he shares all of his enthusiasm for the hobby, crafting dulcimers for his wife Janice and daughters Moira and Aline.

"The oak inside each of the dulcimers is over 100 years old," explains Foster, "It was taken from Janice's grandfather's barn, which makes the instruments even more special to us."

Moira and Aline played their dulcimers in Laker High School's recent one-act play, "Quilters" and have also performed at their church, Hayes United Methodist.

It's a boy!

Rob and Joely (McGathy) Chandonniet of Bay City are the proud parents of a son, Austin Robert, born Monday, April 4, 1994 at 2:26 a.m. at Bay Medical Center, Bay City.

Austin weighed 6 lbs. 2 oz. and measured 18 1/2 inches long.

Grandparents are John and Linda Walsh of Pigeon, Roy McGathy of Imlay City and Bob and Sylvia Chandonniet of Taylor.

Great-grandparents are Leonard Niebel of Pigeon and Lillian McGathy of Bay Port.

Mostly, it's just a fun family activity, and they plan to accompany Gerald and Doris to Ewart this summer.

While Gerald Ross crafts each individual dulcimer as if it's his own, many of his dulcimers have ended up in the hands of other people—more through his interest in sharing his love of dulcimers than for profit.

He can't attach a price to an instrument he has spent hundreds of hours making, and most people wouldn't be willing to pay the dollars it costs even for just the materials.

But the Ross's daughter Cindy Jeffers has one and her husband Dannie has built all of Gerald's dulcimer stands. Several of the Ross's grandchildren play the dulcimer as well and have accepted their grandfather's gift as a precious family keepsake.

Their son Harvey is a DNR officer for Port Crescent State Park and also shares the love of music with his wife Diane and four sons.

Although Gerald loves to make music on his dulcimers, he prefers the challenge of actually "making" the instrument more than "making" the music.

"You know, some people like to fly airplanes, while other people like to make the airplane," says Gerald. "That's how I am with a dulcimer. I enjoy the music, but like 'making' music more."

GERALD ROSS AND TONY FOSTER show a dulcimer, under construction.

State to inspect Gagetown election

By MARY DRIER

The State Election Bureau is checking on a complaint received regarding last month's village election in Gagetown.

"We have received a letter asking us to look into the administration of that election and we are pursuing that," said Bradley Wittman, director of information and voter registration with the State Election Bureau.

The letter was from a 36-year-old resident who said she wasn't allowed to vote in the March 14 village election, but then was able to vote on March 15 in the state election.

"When I went to vote, I was told I couldn't vote because I wasn't registered in the village," said the letter writer, who wished to remain anonymous.

"I vote for the school and I vote for the president, and I can't vote in the village? I didn't know that you had to register three times. I thought that once you were registered you could vote for everything."

"I was upset because my vote could have made the difference for someone else winning."

Also, another resident had problems voting at the village level.

"During the village election, I went up the night of the voting to vote and they told me that I couldn't vote because I wasn't registered and so I left," said Maggie Root.

"I talked to my sister-in-law that night and she told me that all she had was her pink registration card, which is what I have, and she was able to vote."

"My parents and I checked into it. My mother talked to the village clerk (Elery Sontag) on the phone and asked him why I couldn't vote and he said something to the effect that there was sort of a separate registration process for the village and that I wasn't automatically registered went I registered for the other elections," Root said.

"My cards should have been forwarded to the village for elections. Somehow it wasn't forwarded or received."

Root said she and her husband re-registered to vote at the Secretary of State office in Caro in September after they were married. Root was able to vote the following day in the state election.

Another resident who questions election procedures is Cherri Ann DeCatur. DeCatur said she had registered to vote through the Secretary of State office and registered again with the village to be allowed to vote there, because she was advised to do so by Deputy Village Clerk Madeline Sontag.

DeCatur was a candidate for village trustee in the primary election and was defeated.

According to Wittman, since 1975 anyone who registers with the Secretary of State Office is automatically registered to vote in the township and village elections with a single application and registering with a single application at the township level has been in effect since 1989.

"I don't have any knowledge of anybody that should have been allowed to vote that wasn't," said Gagetown Deputy Clerk Madeline Sontag.

"We have pulled some cards and put them in the inactive file in the back of the election book."

"We did it legally and honestly."

Handling complaints is a routine function of the state's Election Bureau.

"If we feel there is good reason to believe that some violation of Michigan election laws has occurred which carries a penalty provision, we can refer it to the Attorney General's office," said Wittman.

"If it looks like some kind of lax election practices which isn't related to penalty provisions, more often than not, we will contract the official and counsel them on the sections of law they are not adhering to in order to follow correct election practices."

After beginning his teaching career in Gratiot County in 1928, Yordy came to Pigeon High School in 1935 and stayed there until 1942, when he moved to Isabella County.

He came back to Pigeon to stay in 1947, spending the rest of his career in the Pigeon school.

He and his wife Esther live in Pigeon, and obviously his love of learning paid off in their two children.

Their daughter Arlyn DeBoer is a school teacher, and younger daughter Debbie Yordy is an engineer now studying to be a psychologist.

"It's really overwhelming, and he's really thrilled by the honor," Esther Yordy said of her husband.

THANKS & MEMORIALS

IN LOVING MEMORY of my husband, Norman Gremel, and parents, Matilda and Henry Nimitz. God took them home, it was His will, within my heart, I love them still. Sadly missed by Marjorie Gremel.

MANY THANKS to all the Staff, Dr. Castilla & Dr. Bracciano at Scheurer Hospital for their excellent care. To our Pastor at St. Pauls Lutheran, Linkville - Pastor Loewe and all the members of our church. Also to the Pigeon River Mennonite Prayer Circle, friends & relatives for prayers, cards, flowers, phone calls & visits, while in the hospital and now while I'm home recuperating from my surgery. It has meant a great deal to me. God Bless You All. Fern Dubs

THE LOVE AND CONCERN that family and friends showed to us at the loss of our Mother was wonderful. Special thanks goes to Father Serour, the Prayer Chains, the Knights of Columbus, Women's Circle, the doctors and nurses at St. Mary's, Janet Jahr and Owen Wissner for their kindness and help. Thank-you all for your flowers, food, memorials, cards and visits; but most of all for your love and concern. We are fortunate to have such wonderful family and friends. A niece of Mom's remembered her with this quote: "We shall not so much grieve that such a woman has died as to praise God that such a woman has lived. The Lillian Kuhl family."
