Fairgrove woman dies

A Fairgrove woman was killed in a head-on collision last Monday, June 6, in Akron Township near Quanicasssee. Glenda Broadworth, 36, died when her west-bound car crossed the center line of M-25 and collided with a pickup truck driven by Alan Draper, 20 of Bay Port. A passenger in Draper's truck, Vicki Haag, 21 of Sebawaing, was not injured in the accident.

Draper was taken by ambulance to Bay Medical Center in Bay City, where he was treated and released.

The Jaws of Life were used to free Broadworth from her vehicle. The Fairgrove Fire Department responded to the accident.

Seat belts were not being used by either driver, police say.

M!CH!GAN "by the numbers"

LOTS OF LAKES: There are at least 11 Round Lakes in Michigan, even though none is perfectly round. There are a dozen Crooked Lakes... plus 14 Clear Lakes, three Black Lakes, 10 Black Rivers, 18 Black Creeks... plus two Pigeon Rivers. Then, there's only one Sebawaing River...

Pigeon Band Shell season opens Sunday

The Pigeon Band Shell Entertainment Committee is pleased to present its third summer of entertainment — providing seven evenings designed to meet a variety of musical tastes.

■ All the fun kicks off this Sunday, June 19 at 7 p.m., when Christian Comedian Stu Yoder rounds out a full evening of entertainment called "Community Spotlight."

On the program will be a number of groups from area churches, plus a special appearance by the Laker Junior High Honors Choir and a ballet performance by Sherry's Dancers.

Lee Shetler will be joining the fun on his guitar and banjo, providing lively entertainment in addition to the more traditional.

Over a dozen acts and singing groups are planned, with a free-will offering taken the evening of the concert, organizers say.

■ The fun continues, kicking off a Patriotic Performance by Comedian/Musician Jonathan Stars on Thursday, June 30 at 7 p.m., just in time to gear concert-goers up for the July Fourth Holiday Weekend.

■ Families will enjoy attending the "Gemini" concert together on Saturday, July 9 at 7 p.m., as identical twin performers San and Las entertain with matched voices accompanied by nearly a dozen musical instruments.

■ For those who enjoy "beach music" and dream about re-living 50s and 60s music, the group "Endless Summer" coming Thursday, July 14 at 7 p.m. will fit the bill.

Two of the biggest concerts of the summer are featured next:

■ "Harper Valley PTA's" Jeannie C. Riley hitting the Pigeon stage on Tuesday, July 19 at 7 p.m. Her Pigeon appearance is co-sponsored by WLEW-radio.

A large crowd is expected so concert-goers are advised to come early!

■ The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra enjoyed their visit so much two years ago that they are returning for another performance on Wednesday, Aug. 17 at 7 p.m.

Their 1992 concert drew almost 1,500 people — more than Pigeon's population — and was promoted by Big Band Radio Station WKNX.

Again, come early for good seating, sponsors advise.

The final concert of the 1994 Summer Series just may be the most fun.

■ The New Reformation Dixieland Band with Dave Opperman will appear on the Band Shell stage on Sunday, Aug. 28 at 4 p.m., immediately following Pigeon's popular Corn Roast.

Admission rates vary with each concert and are payable at the gate. Visitors should bring lawn chairs and blankets for most comfortable seating.

Unionville's tax rate date

Unionville Village Council will hold a 7 p.m. public hearing Monday, June 20 to set the village's tax rate.

The rate projects an increase of .3161 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied during the 1994-95 year.

If adopted, the additional millage will increase property tax revenues by 2.22%, officials say. If not approved, income will increase by 1.63% over the preceding year's operating revenue, according to Village Clerk Harvey Niedrich.

Desperate for Thumb rain

Farmers may soon be out in the fields, not cultivating or spraying, but doing rain dances, if Mother Nature doesn't start sending some rain our way.

While conditions aren't critical yet, farmers and ag officials are closely watching national weather patterns in search of rain clouds.

Because the Thumb Area had plenty of snow this past winter, subsoil moisture and the scant amounts of rain we've had so far have allowed beets, corn and beans planted earlier this spring to grow.

The local corn crop looks good so far, according to Cooperative Elevator Co. chief John Kohr, Sr., and at least 85% of the bean crop is in the ground. Some farmers have had to replant sugar beets two or three times, but by all accounts, planting of most crops is a bit ahead of schedule.

But unless rain falls in sufficient amounts—and soon—farmers may not reap many benefits from their planting efforts. Rain had been forecast for Monday (yesterday.)

Jim LeCureux, Huron County's extension agent, says that he has begun using the long word "evapotranspiration" to explain what a plant does with moisture.

"It's a way of explaining moisture loss from the soil and the plant," LeCureux says. "The corn is using seven hundredths of an inch of moisture a day just to keep the plant alive. As the plant gets bigger, it needs two-tenths of an inch of moisture. We need at least an inch a week to keep the crops growing."

While the Thumb has had plenty of warm days good for growing, we've also had cool nights—not so good for growing.

Farm Camps coming to Thumb

Farm Safety Day-Camps will return this summer for area children ages nine to 12 years old. The camp for Tuscola County children is Thursday, June 30. In Huron County, the camp is Thursday, July 7. Each camp is held at the county's fairgrounds. They feature instruction in farm machinery, electricity, chemicals, lawnmowers, ATVs, fire and animal safety. The program also includes emergency first aid, rescue breathing and choking intervention instructions, plus a simulated accident and rescue. There is a fee to attend.

"Farm safety - especially for children - is the most important issue farm families face today," said Geraldine Smith, of "Farming Safely in the Thumb." "Each year, 300 children die from preventable farm injuries, and 24,000 more are seriously injured in ag-related accidents nationwide." Each camp has an enrollment limit of 50 participants. For details, call 1-800-833-8550.

Great weather, great Pigeon Hacker!

Beautiful weather and sunny skies shone on the third annual Pigeon Hacker 3-on-3 basketball tournament this past Saturday and Sunday, to benefit Bluewater Thumb Youth For Christ.

A total of 260 teams from all over the state participated and while the numbers are down from last year, organizers Bluewater Thumb Youth for Christ and Roundball, Inc. attribute much of that to the large number of 3-on-3 tournaments.

"There's a basketball tournament somewhere in the Thumb starting with the Pigeon tournament every weekend of the summer," says BT-YFC Executive Director Ken Smeader.

Smeader credits the organizational efforts of Roundball and the dedication of over 100 volunteers for making it one of the smoothest events ever.

"A lot of the pressure was taken off YFC, when we invited Roundball, Inc. to help us run the tournament," he says.

While final tallies aren't known yet, Smeader expects YFC to benefit from this year's

ONE OF more than a million basketball shots taken during this past weekend's Pigeon Hacker 3-on-3 basketball tournament, played at three sites around Downtown Pigeon.

Hacker Tournament to the tune of between $11,000 and $15,000.

DESK-CLEARING: ■ Does your family LOVE the musical fun of "Fred Penner and the Cat's Meow Band?" How about the amazing musical stylings of America's genius "Ray Charles?" You can receive FREE TICKETS to see Fred Penner's performance this Saturday at Meadow Brook Music Festival — or Ray Charles' Meadow Brook concert next Tuesday — just for reading your Newsweekly.

We have TWO FREE TICKETS to either concert available in our Sebawaing and Pigeon Newsweekly offices right now, if you're among the first persons to stop in and do this:

1. Come into our office anytime after 10 a.m. today (Tuesday);
2. Smile your biggest, nicest smile, and say
3. "May I please have my two free tickets to the (your choice) concert?"

We plan to offer similar free tickets in the future — although some times you MAY have to work a little harder for them...

■ Who had their name printed most often, in news stories last year? The Lexis/Nexis on-line service conducted a survey recently, and said these folks were "in the news" most in '93:

1. Rodney King 5,229 stories
2. Tonya Harding 4,569 stories
3. Michael Jackson 2,947 stories
4. Lorena Bobbitt 2,553 stories
5. Menendez brothers 2,553 stories

Michigan's only entrant on the "top 10" list was Dr. Jack Keovorkian (but he could only reach eighth place, with 1,762 stories written about him...)

■ Did you notice in that last listing that ALL the subjects are sad or dangerous or weird situations??? (I noticed it...)

There isn't a wholesome subject in the entire list... ■ Roughly 110,000 tickets remain for the World Cup U.S. soccer games throughout our country. We've heard some rumors that "many" of the games will not be sell-outs.

But remember those 110,000 tickets are from among more than 3 million available nationwide...

The World Cup tourney begins this Friday and runs through July 17, so you'll be tired of it by then. On with the games!

■ Speaking of sports, I MUST make mention of a special local baseball event. Our 10-year-old Andrew Rummel plays first base for the Pigeon Lions Yankees in Little League, and he had quite a night this past Thursday.

Nobody was out in the game versus the Rotary Cardinals, and runners were on first and second. The batter popped up to Andrew at first, who caught the ball for one out — then coolly stepped on first to catch the first-base runner (who was already half-way to second.)

Then, thanks to the excited "orders" from his coach Tom Kreh over at third base, Andrew tossed the ball to second, where Yankee second-sacker Lance Swartzendruber tagged out the second-base runner... for a TRIPLE PLAY!

Of course I'm the dad, but it WAS exciting!

Tuscola flag ceremony

The Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter #250 of Saginaw will host a 7:30 p.m. flag dedication ceremony Tuesday, June 14 (today) at the Tuscola Courthouse's new veterans monument in Caro. The chapter is donating three POW/MIA flags to Tuscola County with one to display at the courthouse, one to the medical care facility and other on the veteran's monument.

Tuscola County residents who were former POWs or families of MIAs from any war are invited to attend.

"This ceremony and the flags are to honor POWs and MIAs from all wars, not just Vietnam," said Public Affairs Chairman Sandy Stock. For details, call Stock at 673-3630.

Pigeon Band Shell

The Pigeon Band Shell was constructed by volunteers in 1991 in the shape of a barn, to promote entertainment in the midst of one of the best agricultural regions in the state. It is located in the Pigeon Village Park, just north of M-142 (Michigan Avenue) in Downtown Pigeon.

MEMBERS OF the Huron County Sheriff's work crew have added a bright new coat of red paint to the Band Shell, for Sunday's kick-off concert. AMY HEIDEN PHOTO

And to top it all off, a lack of sufficient moisture has prevented herbicides applied to fields to head off early weeds from taking effect.

So while the "good" plants such as corn and beans are holding their own right now, the weeds are not only holding their own but growing... well... like weeds.

Sebawaing business routine

Coming events, future taxes and sewer expansion were on the Sebawaing Village Council agenda at Monday's meeting. Council members granted the Chamber of Commerce a permit to shoot off fireworks during the 30th annual Michigan Sugar Festival, Saturday, June 25, and they approved a request from Sebawaing Sportsmen's Club to use Boat Launch Park for the Sebawaing Walleye Tournament Saturday, July 9. Since there will be a reduction in total tax millage in Sebawaing Village, there is no need for a "truth in taxation" hearing. The 1994 tax rate will be 18.514 mills compared with 1993's 18.7387. A breakdown in taxes shows that 1994's assessments will be 8.6894 for general operations and 3.8620 for streets.

Sewer and water bond retirements remain at 3 mills as they are a voted assessment.

In another vote, Council approved a contract between the Huron County Treasurer and Sebawaing Village to expand the original village sewer project and release about $21,000 of village funds for the extension.

In committee reports, it was announced that the Pitcher Street survey has been completed to prepare property and street lines for the new marina.

Construction work on the Pine Street electric plant expansion is on schedule and progressing well, the Light and Water Department report revealed.

Waste Management, Inc., which is contracted to handle village trash pickups and disposal, informed the village that after April, 1995, grass clippings will no longer be accepted in any landfill in Michigan, and there will be no pickups of lawn grass. "After that it will be each village's local problem," councilmen said.

Trustees also voted that after June 6, there will be no pickups of brush from outside village limits.

As we see it

Folks can still love their cities (honest!)

U.S. Senator Daniel Moynihan recently made an impassioned plea titled "A Cry For My City," in which he outlined his hopes for his hometown of New York City. Sometimes we here in rural America think problems being visited upon us in small towns are somehow being missed in cities — or that what's bad for rural towns is good for our metropolitan regions.

Not so, the New York Democrat told Reader's Digest. Sen. Moynihan wonders aloud "where so much went wrong in the city I love." Today, he notes, New York is wealthier than it was 50 years ago, when he was young — "yet it is immeasurably worse in nearly every aspect of urban life: violent streets, disintegrating families and crumbling infrastructure."

He recalls his "growing-up" years in the mid-1940s, when New York's population roughly equaled today's numbers — yet only 90,000 people were on relief. Now, more than one million New York City residents are on welfare.

"New York in 1943 had the most admired urban school system in the world, the finest housing, the best subways and in many ways the best-behaved citizens," Sen. Moynihan remembers. "The city was much poorer then, but it prepared us better for prosperity when it came."

He cites the fact that incredible work was possible back then: the George Washington Bridge was built in four years and a month... and planners thought far enough ahead to allow for a second deck. It became a reality 20-some years later.

"Today, it takes weeks just to fill a pothole in the streets," the frustrated Senator says.

Even worse is the decline in social institutions — especially families. The New York City illegitimacy rate 50 years ago was less than 3%... versus a stressed-out 43% illegitimacy rate today. The huge number of fatherless families has contributed to the steep rise in crime now suffered there: 1943 recorded 44 gunshot homicides, versus 1,537 in 1992.

"A society that loses its sense of outrage is doomed to extinction," Sen. Moynihan quotes. "We dare not lose memory of what we have lost. We need to be intolerant about today's violence, intolerant about the destruction of America's families and urban communities."

New York — and all of America, from large cities to small towns — needs a new sign, saying "No surrender." Sen. Moynihan notes, "If more of us shared that spirit, we might surprise ourselves just how great New York, and all our cities, could once again become."

And that lesson being studied in our greatest metro areas has direct applications to tiny rural towns, too...

Remembering those who helped '94 class graduate

By JAMIE JENSEN
Caseville High School
1994 Valedictorian

Good evening ladies and gentlemen. We are gathered here once again to celebrate the graduation of the senior class of Caseville High School and to recognize those who have helped us to strive to achieve the status were are receiving tonight.

As we have journeyed through our high school career, there have been many individuals who have had a great impact on our lives.

In my high school experience, there have been many who have helped me to achieve my best. After everything they have done for me, I would like to thank them tonight.

I would first like to recognize the faculty of Caseville High School. The whole faculty is very supportive of all students. The way the faculty works together makes a great team, which is one thing that is always stressed at Caseville.

Caseville is small, yet it's one of the best because the faculty makes it that way. The next person I would like to recognize is Jana Howe, who has been my dance mentor for 10 years. Along with technique and grace, she taught me self-discipline and appreciation for the art.

In the seventh grade I met Mr. Voss. He was the one coach who had the strongest impact on my sports outlook. He not only taught us the skills we needed but he also taught us important aspects of any game — determination, team work and dedication.

These lessons have been very valuable to me, yet there was one lesson he taught me that I don't think I'll ever forget. That is, you have to love the game you play, no matter what it is.

Without the love, you may be a player, but you'll never be a contender.

To my parents, it's almost impossible to express my gratitude. It's hard to sum up 18 years in a few words. To my dad, Roger Jensen: Even though you reside in Florida, you always managed to maintain an active role, both in Jeremy's and my lives.

You did what you could, encouraging us by phone. Even though you're far away, we've always known that if we needed you, you would be there.

To my mom and stepdad, Kay Jensen and Howard Cain: I don't think it's possible to say everything that should be said. Yet the one thing that will always stick out in my mind is your unending support.

You commute to Flint and back everyday. Even with that long drive and a full day of work, you made it to every game we ever had.

It has always amazed me that you're never too tired to come and participate, not just with Jeremy and me, but with all the kids.

Every coach I've ever had has always been astounded by your support, not just for your own kids but for the whole team.

Even more astounding is how you apply the same amount of support and energy into everything we do. Without that support, I don't think we would have accomplished as much as we did.

The last person I have to thank tonight has had possibly the single greatest impact on my life.

But first, I would like to read a quote I once saw in Mr. Zwiers' room. It reads, "There is something that is much more scarce, something rarer than ability, it is the ability to recognize ability." The person being quoted is Robert Half.

The minute I saw this quote, a person's face flashed in my mind. The face was that of my brother, Jeremy.

Jeremy is probably the single most extraordinary person I have ever known. Not many people have ever been able to see just how much ability Jeremy possesses.

I was reminded of this on our senior trip when the tour guide was asking the group historical questions about Washington, the monuments and the presidents. Every time she would ask a question, a voice from the back of the bus would shout out the correct answer.

Then someone turned to me with amazement in their eyes and said "Jamie, that's your brother!"

When this was said, I just kind of smiled and laughed at their amazement. I always knew that if Jeremy actually applied himself, he'd run circles around me and every person I'd ever known.

In everything I've ever done or tried to do, I've never been without my brother.

The other day it hit me that I will never be without Jeremy, no matter what I do or where I go, because he is a part of my mind and soul.

He has given me probably the greatest gift I will ever receive — the strength the stand on my own.

At first I wasn't thrilled about Jeremy joining the Marine Corps. But the more I think about it, that's the only place he could go because the Marines are known for being the best of the best, and that's exactly what you are Jeremy, the best.

In closing, I would like to say that even though our class will never be together again like we were here at Caseville, we will also never be apart.

The years we have spent together here at Caseville have created bonds which will last our whole lives.

K. of Bad Axe: I see so many ads for people doing work in their home, to make extra money. I hear most of them are a fraud. Are there any legitimate businesses here where I could work out of my home to make extra money?

(Good question. We've all heard about "stuff envelopes at home" rip-offs. Does anyone out there have a suggestion?)

L.P. of Pigeon: I am so tired about people bashing teachers all the time. It wasn't so long ago I was in school, and I know what teachers go through. They deserve every penny they get. Today, they have to be part parents and teachers both. And don't blame them for getting three months off in the summer. The public set up that system, years ago, not the teachers.

Bill of Unionville: I think Gov. John Engler is a disaster. He should be ashamed of cutting back welfare and hurting our educational system. Sign me up to vote against him in November. And all my friends, too.

P. of Caseville: Why don't people clean up after their dogs? I don't care if your dog leaves a reminder on your lawn, but don't do it on the public sidewalk, away from your house. That's where I am walking. And I shouldn't have to get that all over my shoes!

Dick from Elkton: This is a correction to a previous Phone Forum. The law about keeping flags lighted at night was changed during President Nixon's term, for energy conservation. So flags do not have to be lighted at night. I think that is still the new law. Thank you.

G. M. of Sebawaing: I miss reading about Inspector Gordo. I wish you'd run his "Minute Mysteries" again. Thank you. (Dear G. - He's back! Watch for the return of the amazing sleuth, Inspector Gordo, beginning in this issue...)

V. from Sebawaing: Hey Sebawaing residents, leave a glass of your tap water in a glass overnight and then look at it in the morning. You will be shocked and disgusted, as we were.

D. & H. from Unionville: We really admire Walt R. for doing the "60 Seconds" sermonettes. We always enjoy them.

C. from Sebawaing: Did I get a surprise when I drove by and saw the beautiful paint job on Lefty's Drive-In in Bay Port. It looks great!

E. from Caseville: Irene Castilla should be commended for all her hard work as coach of the Caseville School Future Problem Solving Team. Your efforts are appreciated by us all!

B.R. of Akron: I called your night phone number, to place an ad and no one called me back, as I asked. Don't you want this business?

(Thanks for the call. Between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. every day, the only messages we take on our phone lines at the Sebawaing and Pigeon Offices are for Phone Forum. We only transcribe these calls several times a week, so a message left Tuesday night may not be heard until Friday or so. As we say in the message, please call back between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. and talk to one of our friendly, real people.)

P. of Pigeon: The organizers of the Pigeon Hacker basketball tournament should be proud of how well things are going, and how well-mannered most of the players are. Some have never been in a town as small as Pigeon, but they are enjoying it.

Dick from Caseville: I appreciate all the things Ted Nugent does for kids, both here and at his Detroit Area home. I remember watching him and listening to him at Caseville years ago, and he still sounds good, both rock-and-roll and his beliefs.

■ Today is TUESDAY, JUNE 14, and we're nearly at the halfway point of 1994, so it's Day No. 165 and we have 200 days left on the calendar. Summer will arrive one week from today, and just three days after that the 30th Michigan Sugar Festival will open with crowning of the Sweetest Girl in the World...

Today is Flag Day, "a time to honor America." Reason for the event: On this date in 1777, John Adams asked the Continental Congress to designate "that the flag of the 13 United States to be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, that the union be 13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation..." Exactly 75 years ago today, in 1919, Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown flew a Vickers Vimy bomber 1,900 miles nonstop from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to Clifden County, Ireland. They crash-landed safely, but their flight inspired the growing U.S. interest in flying... The war, known as the War of 1812, ended on Dec. 24, 1814, with the Treaty of Ghent... film critic Roger Ebert is 52 today, so is singer Paul McCartney. Journalist Sylvia Porter is 81...

She presided for a half-hour... singer Anne Murray is 49 today, musician Chet Atkins is 70, singer Cyndi Lauper is 41...

■ I really think Marge Schott, who owns the Cincinnati Reds National League baseball team, is having her free speech rights taken away. She doesn't like ball players (male players, that is) with earrings, and she's not afraid to say so. But, National League officials are telling her she can't say that. Why not?

Marge isn't pulling the things out of the players' ear lobes, and she's not cutting their salary for wearing them. So what's the problem?

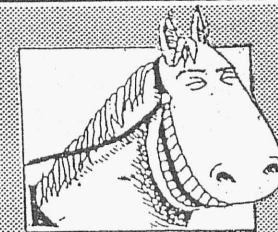

Is Political Correctness so precious that we dare no longer have likes or dislikes? Are we getting so brainwashed that we even have to SAY we like things that we actually hate? Can't we express ourselves even about people who get paid 250 or 500 times more than we earn?

Maybe we don't like some of Marge's hats, or slacks. Can't we say that we don't like them? I'll bet that Marge wouldn't give a hoot whether we like her clothes (or her) or not? Give Marge that same privilege, please, because if she's not allowed to express her likes and dislikes, you can bet your bottom buck that we won't be allowed to express ours either.

And sooner than you think! I!

Horsin' Around

by Kate Pickering

TV dad vs. my Dad

I don't have a ton of those warm, fuzzy "Daddy's little girl" memories that lots of daughters cherish when they grow up. My memories, when it comes time to reflect on Father's Day, are of tall orders, strict rules, and no-nonsense. (And anyone who KNOWS my Dad knows I'm not kidding!)

Which is not to say I wasn't a completely over-indulged princess... I was and am. But growing up in the "Brady-Bunch" era that I did, I struggled to come to terms with — to find a balance between — the middle-aged, middle class 9:00 to 5:00 dad I saw on TV, and the sun-up till sundown, depression era, World War II, farm raised, thrifty, fifty-something Father who actually lived in our house!

You see, the fictional "Mike Brady" was home every evening and all weekends. My Dad never appeared at home until the sun had disappeared over the horizon. Mr. Brady left for work every day in a jaunty suit and tie... my Dad left for work every morning in the same chambray shirt and dungarees that I think he was born in. Mike Brady had endless sage advice for his children's teen angst... my Dad always said "don't worry about the mule being blind - just load the wagon." (?)

But of course, my Dad was cut from a completely different bolt than the average "TV dad." My Dad grew up behind a team of plow horses; he sailed the seas in World War II; he played guitar and banjo in a country western band; he pitched a good baseball game; and as a teenager, he saved his parent's farm from certain depression-era-doom by working two jobs — day and night.

So who could blame me for being somewhat befuddled. Those just weren't the things TV dads aspired to back in the late '60s and early '70s. They were all college-educated corporate magnates who lived in big, comfortable houses on shady, quiet streets. They seemed to have no "pasts," and no outside interests except for their work and their families.

Well, in time I came to understand that every pair of PF Flyers, every lunch pail, every bicycle and every morsel of food came from our Father's dawn-till-dusk labor. So we couldn't begrudge his absence. And we didn't believe that he needed to give up his identity, forego his passions or turn away from his favorite hobbies and pastimes to always "be there" for his passel of brats! (That was Mom's job.)

So I can't say as I recall him running down the road holding the bicycle as I learned to balance and peddle, but I can say I remember learning to put siding on the house. I don't remember him helping me with my homework, but I do remember helping him get the barn ready for our first "pony." I don't remember seeing him in the audience at every play and recital... but I do remember learning the value of a dollar, singing in my best Loretta Lynn-twang as he played his guitar, savoring Gibby footlongs at the fair, picking morels and blackberries by the bushel, enjoying his delicious Sunday morning brunches and running to the corner to meet him as he came home from work to enjoy that thrill of thrills... riding in the BACK of his pick-up!

Well, maybe these memories are pretty "warm and fuzzy" after all. And maybe the only mistake my Dad ever really made was letting us watch so damn many episodes of the Brady Bunch!

In his frugal, old world, tall order, strict rules, no-nonsense way, he was the best Dad a chubby tom-boy girl could have had... and anyone who knows my Dad knows I'm not kidding!

Recollections Of By-Gone Days

by George Keim

DEAR EDITOR:

This time of the year there are a lot of graduations and open houses and parties. And a lot of young people are getting ready to go to college or take up a job.

Well, it's different than when I was a young fellow.

I went to a country school with eight grades in one room and one teacher. There were only two of us in one grade and when we wrote our eighth grade examination, I was the only one who passed. So I was the highest one in the grade.

I had 84 for an average and at that time, the eighth grade in the country school was equal to a 10th grade in high school. All the country school students went to Bad Axe to get their diplomas.

I did not expect to go but my Dad told me if I worked real hard he'd take me to Bad Axe to get my diploma and take in the program.

Well when we got there, there were a lot of young boys and girls and I didn't know but a few kids from the Hayes School told me to go with them.

They had a good speaker and an old man led us in prayer, and a man from some college gave a speech. Then we had to go up and get our certificate.

When I came off of the stage, I stumbled over some wires and some boys from the Snell School laughed at me.

They had a baseball game between the East and West side of the county and of course the east side won. Ed Dietzel was my teacher and he said he was proud of me.

Well, that was a long time ago and I've learned quite a bit since. I read a lot of books, and I don't want to brag but I know a lot more than a lot of kids do when they get out of school.

I used to think I'd like to go to Europe and I've been there seven times.

I worked real hard all my life and I didn't get rich, but I'll have enough to see me through.

I've got lots of friends and four good children. They used to call me "preacher" when I was a young boy, but I didn't get to be a preacher. But both my sons are ordained ministers and my daughters are nurses so I guess I didn't do too badly.

Their mother had a big part in it. My grandfather was a school teacher and I was a Sunday School teacher for 30 years so maybe we didn't do too bad.

My grandfather taught me a poem which is very true, it goes like this:

Improve your learning before you are old, for learning is better than silver, than gold. Gold and silver will all pass away but learning will remain when all passeth away.

I know that's true because what I learned when I was young I remember better than things I hear today.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE KEIM

Minute Mystery

The case of the bashful boarder

Inspector Gordo's search for Hank Travers, a robbery suspect, has led him to a rundown boarding house on Beach Street. The world-famous Gordo asks Lil Cartwright, the fat, sloppy landlady, about him.

"Oh, sure—Hank has a room here," she says. "But I can tell you right now, before you start snooping—he hasn't been around for over a week."

"I'd like to look at his room," Inspector Gordo says. "If you can get in, it's all yours," says Lil. "Hank put a special lock on his door—he said he liked his privacy. I don't have a key for it."

Groaning with her weight and muttering about "snoopers," Lil leads Gordo up to the third floor. She watches him test his famous assortment of keys in the lock. "Wouldn't some people I know give their eye-teeth for that set of keys?" she says.

The lock yields to one of the keys, and Gordo enters the dingy room. The landlady follows him inside, casts an eye at the cheap little alarm clock ticking noisily on the dust-covered dresser, and says, "Five o'clock—I've got to get supper on the stove."

She goes downstairs, and world-famous sleuth Gordo carefully examines the room. He fails to turn up a single clue. All he finds is a crumpled cigarette package, a dirty-looking razor, an old felt hat and two ties with grease spots.

Downstairs in the kitchen, Gordo watches Lil for a minute, then says, "I wonder if you'll tell me a little more about Hank Travers—or do I have to take you to headquarters for questioning?"

"I told you, I don't know anything about him!" she yells. "No one's been in that room since Hank left over a week ago!" "And I say either Hank or one of his friends has been here within the last day or so!" Gordo declares.

How does Gordo know?

Goodrich dumps Lady Pats, 9-1

By AMY HEIDEN

It was a great ride while it lasted for the USA Patriots Softball Team.

They outlasted favored Cass City to win the district softball title, and figured to have a fighting chance against Goodrich in the opening round of the regional playoffs Saturday.

But fate conspired against them, as Coach Carol Sattler lost three players to injury and two to illness in the week preceding the regionals in Marlette.

So after an injury delay in the Brown City-Deckerville matchup and a brief thunder and lightning delay, the Goodrich Martians broke out in the fourth inning to take a 9-1 victory over the Pats.

Goodrich would go on to a close victory over Brown City for the regional title.

Angie Davila, up from the lower ranks, led the Patriots with a homer helped by some Goodrich errors in the top of the second inning to tie the game at one each.

But Goodrich's Holly Barnett broke the stranglehold in the next inning with a run from second, also helped by a Patriot error, to open up the score. Goodrich scored in each inning after that to continue widening the winning margin.

"Goodrich had a good team and they were quick on the bases," Sattler said. "I'm just happy my girls went as far as they did."

The Patriots end the season with a 13-18 overall record.

Woods & Waters

Nurseries

If wildlife had a Mother's Day, it would surely be in June, for that is the time when most offspring meet their new world for the first time.

All it takes is a short walk through any woodlot to encounter numerous concerned parents, especially the female of the species. And at this time of the year, they are most protective.

Last week, I ventured to a northern lake in search of a little peaceful canoeing. Mother Nature had different ideas, for a brisk northwest wind had whipped the usually serene surface into a frothy chop.

So instead, Sweetwife and I prowled the shoreline in search of whatever we could find.

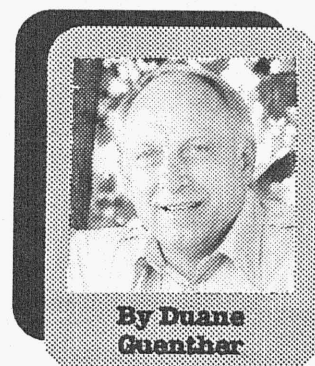

It's a quiet area and restricts any and all motorized means of transportation. Since the lake is several hundred yards from the parking lot, we rigged our canoe on a lightweight dolly designed expressly for such a purpose.

It was an easy trip down the two-track, but before we left, a stern warning was issued by the ranger in charge to stay away from the nesting areas.

In this case, he meant the Common Loon, which had just recently re-established nesting sites on this small lake.

This beautiful bird is fleeing the rapid encroachment of civilization and is fast disappearing from many of the lakes in northern Michigan.

A chance to see, or least hear one of them, is worth any effort, but in this case, we decided to stay clear of that end of the lake where their nesting sites had been cordoned off.

By Duane Quentner

We neither saw nor heard any of these large, long-bodied, low-swimming birds, but as we strolled along the dike protecting their nesting area, we were suddenly surprised by a gaggle of geese.

Their snake-like necks were arched low and they waved them along the ground like they were vacuuming the edge of the lake.

It's a girl!

Born to Michael and Christine (Sy) Maxwell of Caro, a daughter, Katherine Susanna, on Monday, June 6, 1994.

Katherine weighed 7 lbs., 9 oz. and measured 18 inches long.

Welcoming her home was big brother Matthew.

Maternal grandparents are Harold and Dorothy Sy of Unionville and paternal grandparent Doris Maxwell, Bay City.

This posture told me they were being protective and as we cautiously approached, a half-dozen gray puff balls exploded from the weeds and made a mad dash for the safety of the water.

Canada Geese are gregarious in nature and in this case, all of the adults were taking part in the babysitting chores. The minute we would move in the opposite direction, the necks would come up into normal positions.

However, faint that you were heading their way, and the necks dropped in a menacing way.

Some trees swallows were apparently nesting near this end of the lake, for a couple dove-bombed me when I moved too far along the dike.

These birds are fearless and I'm sure my hair would have been tweaked had I ventured a little too close to the nesting box I spotted on the next rise.

The day after we returned home, I took a short walk in my local deer woods to check on a tree blind someone had left behind after the season's end.

Wandering through a patch of deep grass matted down from the last winter's heavy snows, I almost stumbled on a pair of Whitetail fawns. They lay intertwined with each other, and although they knew I was there, neither moved a muscle.

I departed in a hurry. Partly, because I didn't want to tangle with a distraught doe, but mostly to leave nature to its own.

You don't have to travel very far to spot Mother's Nature's nurseries, we have a dandy three feet from our front door.

Sweetwife always makes a Christmas wreath from the wild grape vines growing in a ditch across the street.

Baby Jesus, depicted by our grown daughter's doll, lays at rest through the holiday season. Then near Easter, a cross and some plastic lilies takes His place.

Next, she likes to line it with moss and plant a few flowers to spruce up the front porch, but this year she had an interruption.

A mother House Finch took up residence before the transfer was made, and we have been unintentional babysitters for the better part of the last month.

Our first peek revealed five bluish-white eggs and a sixth which was yellowish and much larger.

I suspected a Cowbird, who are noted to dump their offspring on someone else's doorstep to be raised. I decided to give the wren a break and flipped the egg out.

A week ago, three of the eggs hatched and we now have a squawking mess in the wreath. Hopefully, it won't be too long before the youngsters get their wings and all will move to a quieter clime.

Til then, I jump each time the mother flushes when I retrieve the evening paper...

The Village Council of the Village of Unionville will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase of .3161 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1994.

The hearing will be held on Monday, June 20, 1994 at 7:00 p.m. at Unionville Hall, 6453 Merry St.

The date and location of the meeting to take action on the proposed additional millage will be announced at this public meeting.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 2.22% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing. If the proposed additional millage rate is not approved, the operating revenue will increase by 1.63% over the preceding year's operating revenue.

"The roads need to be fixed."

A lot of folks in Huron County have been telling us that lately. They want safer roads for schools bussing children. They're concerned about the hazards and delays that ambulances and other emergency vehicles must deal with because of bad roads. They want smoother roads, whether they're cruising in their pick-ups on a sunny day or trying to haul a loaded beet truck to market in the rain or snow.

On June 27, Huron County will hold a special countywide election to fix the problem. On the ballot is a 2-mill proposal to rebuild half of the county's primary roads and some local streets. The road millage will:

- Rebuild and resurface 50 percent of the county's primary road system.
- Build roads to last.
- Help the county take full advantage of state and federal matching funds for road work.
- Reduce the cost of maintaining the county's deteriorating road system.
- Make Huron County Roads as safe and smooth as they should be.

The Huron County Road Commission has prepared the following answers to questions that may help you make an informed decision June 27. If you need more information, please call us at 269-6404.

 John T. Martin
Secretary-Manager

How much will the millage cost me?
That depends on the value of your property. For most people, the answer is less than a dollar a week, or $50 per year for five years. To get an exact answer, multiply your property's State Equalized Valuation (SEV is usually half the market value of your property) by .002.

Why do we need a special millage?
Our roads need fixing. We can continue patching pot holes, but what we really need is the money to rebuild—not just patch—deteriorating roads so they'll last. Revenue from the Michigan Transportation Fund has not kept up with the increasing costs of maintaining our roads. This funding gap has resulted in an aging road system that needs serious repairs.

At our current level of funding, we may not even be able to secure state and federal matching funds for future road work. That's a real shame because these funds represent tax dollars the government has already collected for such projects—money we'll lose if we can't come up with the necessary funds.

What will happen if the millage doesn't pass?
The county road system will continue to age and become even more expensive to maintain. It will also continue to damage the cars, trucks, busses, and emergency vehicles that travel our roads. Researchers estimate that Michigan motorists pay about $106 per year for extra car maintenance and fuel due to driving on bad roads.

If the millage passes, when will we pay?
The amount will be included on your December property tax statement for each of the five years.

What has the road commission done to reduce its own operating costs?
In the past decade, we've cut our staff by 13 percent, from 75 in 1981 to 65 today. We've increased contracted services, like gravel hauling, to private firms when they can provide it more cheaply. And we've increased our own efficiency with improved communication systems and a consolidated traffic safety service.

Q & A June 27 Special Millage Election for Roads

The Ballot Question as it will appear June 27

Shall the 15.50 mill tax limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in the County of Huron, State of Michigan, be increased, as provided by Article IX, Section 6 of the Constitution of Michigan, by 2.00 mills ($2.00 on each $1,000.00) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in the County for each of the years, 1994 through 1998 (5 years) for the purpose of providing additional funds for improvement of Primary Roads and Major and Local Streets within the County? Estimated amount of $1,373,422 will be raised from the 1994 tax increase for Primary Roads and $408,386 for Major and Local Streets based on the 1994 state equalized value.

Thanks A Million!

Talk is cheap and the pay is lousy

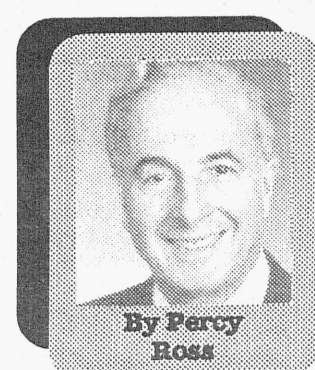

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I'm drowning in debt. The problem started a year ago when companies began sending me pre-approved credit card applications. I never had much money and it was a way to buy the things that make life more livable.

The only job I've had since I moved to Los Angeles is as a telephone actress (phone sex operator). It wasn't so bad in the beginning, but now I hate it. Sometimes I get disgusted with myself because I'm able to tolerate this job, and it only pays $6 to $7 an hour.

I owe about $5,000 on my credit card and I'm not making a dent in paying it off. On top of that I need a new engine for my car.

What I want to do is leave Los Angeles and go back home,

By Percy Ross

but I can't afford to leave with all my financial responsibilities. I need your help. My self-esteem is so low. What I really need is a new beginning. — Ms. K. C., Van Nuys, CA

DEAR MS. C.: If I had to go to your job, so I could pay off $5,000 in credit card debt, I'd want a new beginning, too. I suggest you sell whatever you can, move back home, and by all means, get into a different line of work.

As for your credit card debt — you charged it, you pay for it. An easy bail out would never teach you the lesson which needs to be learned here.

However, if you want your self-esteem to totally erode, just continue prostituting yourself for a lousy six-bucks an hour.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

Two years ago my small intestine burst open at work. I had to have one-third of it removed.

I was in and out of the hospital for the next year. I now have to be on I.V.'s every night to stay alive. I also have diabetes and one kidney.

December '92 my mother passed away while I was in the hospital. May of this year my husband was fired and my mother-in-law who lived with us, to help with my son and bills, passed away. We had to pay for both funerals.

I was trying to save the money to buy my son a new dresser and waterbed. Because of the funerals I can't afford it now. Can you please help with $400? It would be the answer to my prayers. — Mrs. M. J., Hawthorne, CA

DEAR MRS. J.:

Am I out of synch or what? You've incurred the cost of two funerals, your husband is unemployed and you have serious health concerns, yet your request is for your son.

Bottom line, it's not for me to decide what you need. If you say $400 to buy a waterbed and dresser is what the family needs, by God, your prayers have just been answered — the check's in the mail.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I have a lady friend who would never dream of writing you because she's that kind of woman. We met through church. Her husband ran off several years ago and left her to raise their six children.

I'm sure you hear this kind of story all the time, but what makes my friend's case different is she's blind. A freak accident took her sight four years ago.

The kids desperately need some new clothes and her small disability check won't stretch that far. Mr. Ross, I love this woman and her kids. I'm just a common man, but if she'll have me, one day I'd like for us to marry.

I've been divorced for years and next January my child support payments will end. I'll then have the means to help support this gal and her kids. In asking for your help I'm not trying to buy their love, but maybe now they'll know how much I care. — T. J., Olean, NY

DEAR MR. J.:

Just because your lady friend is blind it doesn't mean that she can't see your good intentions. If you're half as good in person as you are on paper, heck, I could probably fall in love with you myself.

I'm allocating $100 per child for a total of $600 to purchase clothing. Best wishes.

USING THE NEW FOOD LABEL

What is fat?

Fat is a concentrated source of calories for the body. Fat helps your body absorb fat-soluble vitamins and provides energy stores.

How is fat listed on the food label?

The amount of total fat in a serving of food is listed in grams (g). The Daily Value for fat is also on the label. The Daily Value for fat is 65 grams. % Daily Value shows how the amount of fat in a food fits into your overall eating plan.

How much fat should you eat? Nutrition experts recommend diets that contain 30% or less of calories from fat.

If you eat this many Calories a day:

Calories a day	Your Daily Value for fat is:
1,200	40 gms or less
1,600	53 gms or less
2,000	65 gms or less
2,500	80 gms or less

Why worry about fat? Eating too much fat, especially saturated fat, raises blood cholesterol levels in many people. A high blood cholesterol level increases your risk for developing heart disease. A high fat diet can also raise your chances for obesity and some types of cancer.

STORY HOUR

The theme for the Tuesday, June 21 Story Hour at the Pigeon District Library will be "Cows" with stories "Cows" and "The Calcium Story."

Story Hour consists of stories, fingerplays, flannel-graph activities and creative movement.

It's appropriate for listeners age three to five, who are invited to attend either the 9 or 10:30 a.m. sessions.

CIRCULATION

Circulation for the month of May 1994 was up 416 items over last year. A total of 5,394 items were checked out, including 2,440 adult books, 1,041 junior, 1,248 children's, 24 toys, five AV, 636 videocassettes and $290.36 in copies and $144.35 in fines.

Five Story Hour sessions were conducted with 310 children attending. Five birthdays were celebrated with a song and a crown: Rachel Eichler, Katie Kundinger, Evan Gunden, Malea Gascho and Justin Avalos. Forty-seven new registrations included: three from Brookfield, nine from Caseville, six from Oliver, 12 from Winsor, four each from Fair Haven and Lake, one each from Chandler, Grant, Colfax and Sebawaing and five from outside area townships.

SHOWCASE DISPLAY

Holy Cow! The Pigeon District Library has a stampede of 50 cow salt and pepper shakers and 75 theme cups on display, collected by Sharon McPhee of Kinde. She started this collection about six years ago, buying a cup for her husband as a gift. One became two and a set became an on-going collection.

"Come on in and see this MOO-velous collection now on display at the library," invites the staff.

FREE MOVIE

The animated movie "Jungle King" will be presented on Saturday, June 25 at 12:30 p.m. at the library.

Small children under age five must be accompanied by an adult. No food or drink in the library, please.

"HOOKED ON PHONICS" HERE

Now included in the library's collection is the "Hooked on Phonics" series, teaching the vital decoding skills necessary to access more advanced literature. Listeners learn to recognize and "sound out" all the sound of English, so they can easily read any word. Just ask at the main desk!

Kids' Canine Extravaganza set for Pigeon

Does Fido or Spot have a special trick? Does he look great in a silly costume? Is he the largest dog in town?

It's a boy!

S. Sgt. Robert and Joanne (Schlund) Meadows of Aberdeen, NC announce the arrival of a daughter, Mikaela Leigh, on Wednesday, May 18, 1994.

Grandparents are Judy Burnett of Florida and John and Donna Schlund of Unionville. Great-grandmother is Mrs. John Kemp of Florida. Brother Austin welcomed Mikaela home.

Then here's the place to show off that precious pooch. A new event for the Pigeon Farmers' Festival is the Kids' Canine Extravaganza, with six different classes in which to enter Fido.

There will be classes for longest ears, best trick, best costume (for the dog), largest dog and smallest dog, plus a dog-and-master lookalike contest.

In that class, Fido's master must be made-up to resemble his canine buddy for the look-alike contest, and dog and master will be judged on their resemblance.

There's no entry fee for the show, and only a few simple rules, organizers say.

Kids under age 15 are welcome to enter with their dogs. All dogs must be on leash and under control, and dogs should have all their shots for their protection.

Dogs under a year of age can't be entered in the smallest dog class (because they're puppies), and owners should bring a supply of fresh water for their animals.

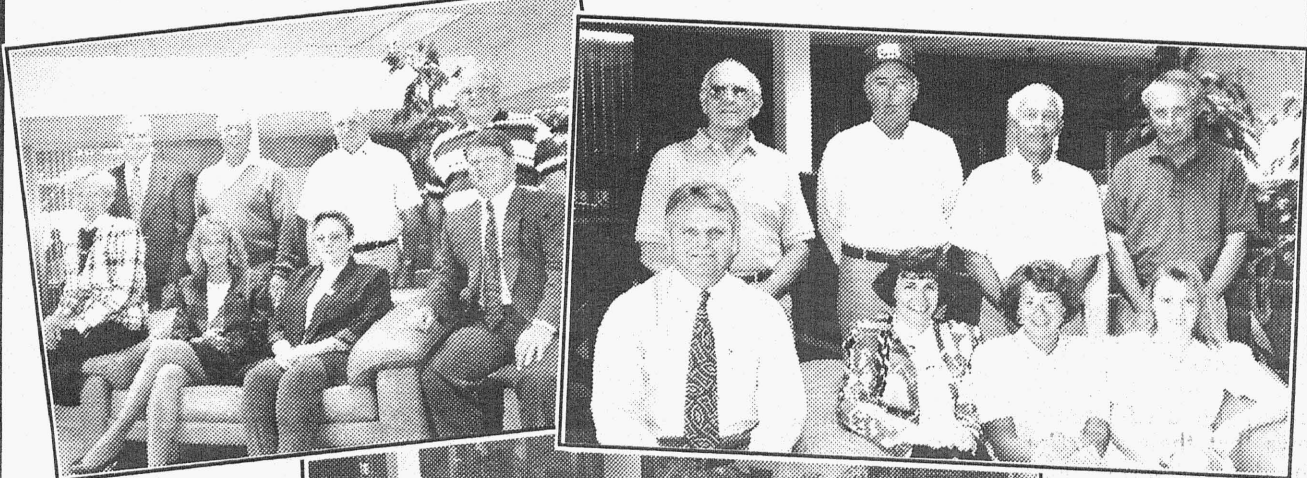

It's twin boys for Benjamins!

Leo and Elaine McArdle are grandparents again.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael (Rosemary) Benjamin of Perry are twin sons, Christopher Michael, who weighed 6 lb. 5 oz. and Clinton Matthew, who weighed 7 lbs., 8 oz.

They were born Monday, June 6, 1994. Awaiting their arrival home were two big sisters, Kayle and Allison.

Country Bay Village is bustling with activity — inside and out. The residents are busy moving in and the staff is working and planning to make the Village just west of Pigeon a great place to live.

Activities being planned at the Village on a regular basis include: a weekly Bible Study, coffee hours, exercise classes, game night, craft classes and more — all designed to meet the needs of the residents in the religious, social, educational, physical health and challenge aspects of their lives.

The Western Thumb community will find Country Bay Village involved in such activities as Farmers' Festival, the Youth for Christ Auction and lending a helping hand wherever and whenever we're needed.

Oliver Township Ordinance 94-22 "Dangerous Buildings"

An Ordinance to promote the health, safety and welfare of the people by regulating the maintenance, alteration, health, safety and improvement of dwellings; to define the classes of dwellings affected by the act, to establish administrative requirements; to establish remedies; to provide for enforcement; to provide for the demolition of certain dwellings; and to fix penalties for the violation of this Ordinance. THE TOWNSHIP OF OLIVER ORDAINS:

UNLAWFUL CONDUCT: It is unlawful for any owner or agent thereof to keep or maintain any dwelling or part thereof which is a dangerous building as defined herein.

DANGEROUS BUILDINGS DEFINED: "Dangerous building" means a building or structure that has 1 or more of the following defects or is in 1 or more of the following conditions: (a) A door, aisle, passageway, stairway, or other means of exit does not conform to the approved fire code of the township in which the building or structure is located. (b) A part of the building or structure is damaged by fire, wind, flood, or other cause so that the structural strength or stability of the building or structure is appreciably less than it was before the catastrophe and the building or structure does not meet the minimum requirements of this act or a building code of the township in which the building or structure is located. (c) A part of the building or structure is likely to fall, become detached or dislodged, or collapse and injure persons or damage property. (d) A part of the building or structure has settled to such an extent that walls or other structural portions of the building or structure have materially less resistance to winds than is required in the case of new construction by this act or a building code of the township in which the building or structure is located. (e) The building or structure, or a part of the building or structure, because of disrepair, deterioration, decay, faulty construction, or the removal or movement of some portion of the ground necessary for the purpose of support, or for other reason, is likely to collapse partially or completely, or some portion of the foundation or underpinning of the building or structure is likely to fail or give way. (f) The building or structure or any portion of the building or structure is manifestly unsafe for the purpose for which it is used. (g) The building or structure is damaged by fire, wind, flood, or is in dilapidated or deteriorated and may become an attractive nuisance to children who might play in the building or structure to their danger, may become a harbor for vagrants, criminals, or immoral persons, or may enable persons to resort to the building or structure for committing a nuisance or an unlawful or immoral act. (h) A dwelling, because of disrepair, decay, damage, faulty construction or arrangement, or otherwise, is unsanitary or unfit for human habitation. It is a condition determined by the health officer to be likely to cause sickness or disease, or is likely to injure the health, safety, or general welfare of people living in the dwelling. (i) A building or structure is vacant, dilapidated, and open, leaving the interior of the building exposed to the elements or accessible to entrance by trespassers. (j) A building or structure remains unoccupied for a period of 180 consecutive days or longer, and is not listed as being available for sale, lease, or rent with a real estate broker licensed under article 25 of the occupational code, Act No. 299 of the Public Acts of 1960, being sections 339.2501 to 339.2515 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

This subdivision does not apply to either of the following: (i) A dwelling as to which the owner or agent does both of the following: (A) Notifies a local law enforcement agency in whose jurisdiction the dwelling is located that the dwelling will remain unoccupied for a period of 180 consecutive days. The notice shall be given to the local law enforcement agency by the owner or agent not more than 30 days after the dwelling becomes unoccupied. (B) Maintains the exterior of the dwelling and adjoining grounds in accordance with this act or a building code of the township in which the dwelling is located.

(ii) A secondary dwelling of the owner that is regularly unoccupied for a period of 180 days or longer each year, if the owner notifies a local law enforcement agency in whose jurisdiction the dwelling is located that the dwelling will remain unoccupied for a period of 180 consecutive days or more each year. An owner who has given the notice prescribed by this subparagraph shall notify the law enforcement agency not more than 30 days after the dwelling no longer qualifies for this exception. As used in this subparagraph, "secondary dwelling" means a dwelling such as a vacation home, hunting cabin, or summer home, that is occupied by the owner or a member of the owner's family during part of a year.

NOTICE: (3) (A) Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, if a building or structure is found to be a dangerous building, the enforcing agency shall issue a notice that the building or structure is a dangerous building.

PERSONS WHO MAY BE SERVED NOTICE: (B) The notice shall be served on each owner of or party in interest in the building or structure in whose name the property appears on the last local tax assessment records.

CONTENTS, NOTICE OF HEARING: (C) The notice shall specify the time and place of hearing on whether the building or structure is a dangerous building. The person to whom the notice is directed shall have the opportunity to show cause at the hearing why the hearing officer should not order the building or structure to be demolished, otherwise made safe, or properly maintained.

HEARING OFFICER; FILING OF NOTICE WITH OFFICER: (D) The hearing officer shall be appointed by the township supervisor to serve at his or her pleasure. The hearing officer shall be a person who has expertise in housing matters including, but not limited to, an engineer, architect, building contractor, building inspector, or member of a community housing organization. An employee of the enforcing agency shall not be appointed as hearing officer. The enforcing agency shall file a copy of the notice that the building or structure is a dangerous building with the hearing officer.

NOTICE IN WRITING; SERVICE: (E) The notice shall be in writing and shall be served upon the person to whom the notice is directed either personally or by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the owner or party in interest at the address shown on the tax records. If a notice is served on a person by certified mail, a copy of the notice shall also be posted upon a conspicuous part of the building or structure. The notice shall be served upon the owner or party in interest at least 10 days before the date of the hearing included in the notice.

HEARING; TESTIMONY; DECISION: (4) (A) At a hearing prescribed by subsection (3), the hearing officer shall take testimony of the enforcing agency, the owner of the property, and any interested party. Not less than 5 days after completion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall render a decision either closing the proceedings or ordering the building or structure demolished, otherwise made safe, or properly maintained.

(B) If the hearing officer determines that the building or structure should be demolished, otherwise made safe, or properly maintained, the hearing officer shall so order, fixing a time in the order for the owner, agent, or lessee to comply with the order. If the building is a dangerous building under subsection (2), the order may require the owner or agent to maintain the exterior of the building and adjoining grounds owned by the owner of the building including, but not limited to, the maintenance of lawns, trees, and shrubs.

(C) If the owner, agent, or lessee fails to appear or neglects or refuses to comply with the order issued under subsection (4) (B), the hearing officer shall file a report of the findings and a copy of the order with the legislative body of the township not more than 5 days after noncompliance by the owner and request that necessary action be taken to enforce the order. If the legislative body of the township has established a board of appeals pursuant to section 141c, the hearing officer shall file the report of the findings and a copy of the order with the board of appeals and request that necessary action be taken to enforce the order. A copy of the findings and order of the hearing officer shall be served on the owner, agent, or lessee in the manner prescribed in section 140.

(D) The legislative body or the board of appeals of the township, as applicable, shall fix a date not less than 30 days after the hearing prescribed in subsection (3) for a hearing on the findings and order of the hearing officer and shall give notice to the owner, agent, or lessee in the manner prescribed in subsection (3) of the time and place of the hearing. At the hearing, the owner, agent, or lessee shall be given the opportunity to show cause why the order should not be enforced. The legislative body or the board of appeals of the township shall either approve, disapprove, or modify the order.

If the legislative body or board of appeals approves or modifies the order, the legislative body shall take all necessary action to enforce the order. If the order is approved or modified, the owner, agent, or lessee shall comply with the order within 60 days after the date of the hearing under this subsection. In the case of an order of demolition, if the legislative body or the board of appeals of the township determines that the building or structure has been substantially destroyed by fire, wind, flood, or other natural disaster, and the cost of repair of the building or structure will be greater than the state equalized value of the building or structure, the owner, agent, or lessee shall comply with the order of demolition within 21 days after the date of the hearing under this subsection.

(E) The cost of the demolition, of making the building safe, or of maintaining the exterior of the building or structure, or grounds adjoining the building or structure incurred by the township in bringing the property into conformance with this act shall be reimbursed to the township by the owner or party in interest in whose name the property appears. (F) The owner or party in interest in whose name the property appears upon the last local tax assessment records shall be notified by the assessor of the amount of the cost of the demolition, of making the building safe, or of maintaining the exterior of the building or structure or grounds adjoining the building or structure by first class mail at the address shown on the records. If the owner or party in interest fails to pay the cost within 30 days after mailing by the assessor of the notice of the amount of the cost, the township shall have a lien for the cost incurred by the township to bring the property into conformance with this act. The lien shall not take effect until notice of the lien has been filed or recorded as provided by law. A lien provided for in this subsection does not have priority over previously filed or recorded liens and encumbrances. The lien for the cost shall be collected and treated in the same manner as provided for property tax liens under the general property tax act, Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1993, being sections 211.1 to 211.157 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

(G) In addition to other remedies under this act, the township may bring an action against the owner of the building or structure for the full cost of the demolition, of making the building safe, or of maintaining the exterior of the building or structure or grounds adjoining the building or structure. A township shall have a lien on the property for the amount of a judgment obtained pursuant to this subsection. The lien provided for in this subsection shall not take effect until notice of the lien is filed or recorded as provided by law. The lien does not have priority over prior filed or recorded liens and encumbrances. JUDGMENT; ENFORCEMENT AGAINST ASSETS OF OWNER (5) (A) A judgment in an action brought pursuant to subsection (4) (G) may be enforced against assets of the owner other than the building or structure.

(B) The township shall have a lien for the amount of a judgment obtained pursuant to Section (4) (G) against the owner's interest in all real property located in this state that is owned in whole or in part by the owner of the building or structure against whom the judgment is obtained. A lien provided for in this section does not take effect until notice of the lien is filed or recorded as provided by law, and the lien does not have priority over prior filed or recorded liens and encumbrances.

NONCOMPLIANCE WITH ORDER; MISDEMEANOR: (6) A person who fails or refuses to comply with an order approved or modified by the legislative body of the township within the time prescribed by that section is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This Ordinance shall take effect on June 1, 1994. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Adopted at the Oliver Township Board meeting May 3, 1994, with all present voting yes.

How to remember

How would Moses' words ring today if he told Parents of 1994 to teach the Ten Commandments in family sessions in the living room, at the breakfast table, or while shopping? How would the children respond? We all know that answer! They'd scream, "What? Turn off TV?" or "I can't, Little League starts in 15 minutes." How does today's family respond to family devotions? Or prayer sessions? For centuries families conducted such diligent prayer and devotional services in their homes. With a Bible text as the basis, they commented, and studied, and then questioned the young of what they were learning. When you see many of today's children, youths, young men and women, we can agree that our modern family lifestyle is helping break down discipline, respect, morals in the best. Then, dare we ask, what results in the worst scenarios? Moses' instructions to the Israelites went far beyond mere teaching. In later verses, he tells them to "wear" their status in the Lord's family as a sign on their hands, even as emblems "between their eyes". They were to show their notice on the post of their house and on their gates.

Far-fetched? Perhaps, but remember the Lord's reward—"that it may be well with thee and thou mayest possess the good land." Yet, why do it today? The final verse answers that, simply, "...it shall be our righteousness." So, why do it? For time, here on earth, and forever, there in eternity. PRAYER: Dear Lord, help us see that your teachings are always right... and good. Amen. "And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart; And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up." Deut 6:6-7

Next time you bake a cake, grease the pan and coat it with sugar instead of flour. The cake will come out of the pan easily and will wash clean quickly.

On June 20-24 Vacation Bible School will be held at the Kinde Presbyterian Church.

"Under the Storytelling Tree" is this year's theme. Other churches involved will be Chandler Presbyterian, St. Edwards and St. Mary's Catholic parishes in Kinde. Joanne Beachy, Opal Duffy and June Farnum attended an Avon meeting at the Cass City Methodist Church on Thursday.

Floyd Wilson and friends of Fenton called on friends in the area on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Heckroth attended graduation exercises at the Portage Northern High School, where her grandson, James Carter, was a senior graduate. She also spent the weekend with Dr. and James (Carol) Carter of Kalamazoo. Members of the Worthy Study Club met Wednesday for lunch at the Hitching Post Inn in Elkton. The regular club meetings will start in July when Vera Marquis will host the July 13 meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Wightman and the Charles Faupel family of Alabama were Wednesday night dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Faupel of Elkton.
