Here are '94 Michigan Sugar Queen candidates!

Meet the 'dozen sweetest' girls in the world! Twelve young ladies are candidates for this year's title of "the sweetest girl in the world," as one will be chosen 1994 Michigan Sugar Queen Friday night at Sebewaing Village Park. The candidates were each interviewed recently by three judges, who chose one... but won't reveal their choice until Friday night's stage show. Here are brief descriptions of each candidate:

SHANNON RENEE BORODYCHUK, 20 of Caro, is daughter of Ronald and Linsay Borodychuk. The Akron-Fairgrove High graduate is attending Delta College in dental hygiene and works full-time at the Caro Wal-Mart store. She raises, shows and sells registered Alpine Dairy Goats. Borodychuk would like to see beet sugar promoted even more in Michigan, as well as those who make this product possible.

VANESSA SUE CALOPISIS, 18 of Unionville, is daughter of James and Marilyn Calopisis. A 1994 graduate of USA High, she is enrolled at Saginaw Valley State University. She is a Certified Nursing Assistant student at Tuscola Area Skill Center and has hoed sugarbeets on her grandparents' farm for many years. Calopisis would like to promote the sugar industry in a positive light, since farming today is becoming more technical. "The sugar grower needs to be recognized as an intelligent and ambitious business manager who is strengthening the economy of our area," she wrote in her queen's application form.

KOURTNEY FIEBIG, 19 of Sebewaing, is daughter of Don and Kathy Fiebig. She is a 1993 USA High graduate and is majoring in nursing at Ferris State University. She has helped work on her family farm for many years. Fiebig believes being the queen will be a great opportunity to serve her community and promote the sugar industry. "I would like to see the community become more aware of the importance that the sugarbeet industry plays in Sebewaing and how it positively affects their lives," she wrote.

VALERIE JEAN HICKEY, 18 of Fairgrove, is daughter of Walter and Barbara Hickey. A 1993 Akron-Fairgrove High graduate, she is a sophomore at Michigan State University and is a pre-law/business major. She is working for H & R Landscaping in Vassar this summer, as well as working on the farm. Hickey points out sugarbeets "have a tremendous impact for our communities as a source of income and as an export to the world markets." She would like to talk with people concerning the facts of sugar and "discredit the myths about sugar and sugar products."

KATHI ANNE HORST, 18 of Sebewaing, is daughter of Michael and Janet Horst. A USA High graduate, she is currently enrolled at Delta College, studying occupational therapy. She has hoed sugarbeets, picked cucumbers and worked in a restaurant for four years. She says she would like to be queen because "I realize the sugar industry's importance. I would enjoy sharing my knowledge with them." Horst would like to encourage people to come to the Thumb, to learn more about farming and tourism.

KIMBERLY SUE KEIPINGER, 20 of Reese, is daughter of Carolyn Keipinger. She is a Reese High graduate, attended Delta College and is currently enrolled at Saginaw Valley State University. She attends college full-time and works part-time. Keipinger says, as queen, she would like to offer a poster contest for children to display the processing of sugar beets, and would like to make people more aware of the sugarbeet story.

KRISTINE MARIE KURTH, 23 of Saginaw, is daughter of Edward and Carol Kurth. A Heritage High graduate and Delta College graduate, she is attending Saginaw Valley State University, for a secondary education degree. She is employed full-time at an industrial tooling distributor. As queen, Kurth would "like to spread the word that sugar is an all-natural sweetener. I would tell children that sugar is good for your body because it gives you energy your body needs."

NICOLE LONGHINI, 20 of Chesaning, is daughter of Kathleen and Anthony Longhini. A graduate of New Lothrop High, she is studying math and drafting at Delta College and is a co-op student at Saginaw Steering Gear. Longhini says she knows how hard people work to make sugar a satisfying product. She considers a chance to serve as queen, representing these people, to be an honor. She would like to see children learn more about sugar and occupational therapist. She enjoys showing and training horses and is currently coach of Bay City Central's Equestrian Team. If chosen as queen, Poirier says, "I would like to see that people are educated on how the beet is used in our daily lives."

CARLA JEAN ROLLER, 20 of Sebewaing, is daughter of Dean and Shirley Roller. A USA High graduate, she has attended CMU and is currently attending Saginaw Valley State University, working toward a degree in social work. She works at a McDonald's restaurant and at T.R. Levi's in the Bay City Mall. "I would like to see the sugar industry continue to grow," Roller said in her application. "I want the festival to be more promoted and to continue to grow."

HEIDI M. SCHARICH, 19 of Sebewaing, is daughter of Connie Scharich and David Scharich, Jr. A graduate of USA High, she has attended Delta College and is now a student at University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. She is a member of U-M's Pre-Medicine Club. Scharich says the "sugarbeet industry represents everything that is natural in our land; wholesomeness, honesty, purity, innocence, youth and sweetness. She would be honored to serve, as one way of giving back to her hometown community.

BRANDY LYNN SPRINGER, 18 of Oakley, is daughter of Frank and Mable Springer. A 1993 graduate of Chesaning High, she is attending Lansing Community College in computer graphics. She has lived around many fields of corn, wheat, beans and sugarbeets. "Being queen means meeting new people," Springer said in her application. "I would like to see more people educated on Michigan's sugar industry. This would be a learning experience for me that I would like to pass on to others."

STACIE LYNN POIRIER, 19 of Munger, is daughter of Mike and Jody Poirier. She is a 1993 graduate of Bay City Central High and is attending Delta College and hopes to become an

Huron road vote Monday

The Huron County Road Commission is requesting approval of 2 mills for five years in a special millage election this Monday, June 27, for county-wide road improvements. If approved, it would be the first road millage levied by the county — and it would repair 50% of the county's roads. "It's no secret that our roads need fixing in a big way," says John Martin, Road Commission manager. "What we really need is the money to rebuild — not just patch — deteriorating roads, so they'll last. "Our major source of road funding comes from state gas tax and some federal money, but neither of those sources have kept pace with inflation," says Martin. "The funding gap between what we need and what we get is bigger and deeper than the worst potholes on the worst roads in our county." If approved, the millage would generate $1.37 million for county primary roads and $408,000 for village and city street work, and would cost the owner of a home valued at $60,000 SEV a total of $60 annually.

There are about 336 miles of primary roads in the county and money generated from the five-year tax plan would pay for improvements to about 170 miles, says Martin.
Because of limited revenue, the county will fund improvements to less than 10 miles of primary road work this year. About 10 Michigan counties, including Tuscola, levy county-wide road millages.

2 injured in Friday crash

Two people were transported to Bay Medical Center in Bay City following an 8:30 a.m. accident Friday east of Sebawaing, at Sebawaing and Bay Port Roads.
Donald Keinath, 69 of Caro, was traveling south on Bay Port Road and stopped for the stop sign there, but told police he failed to see an oncoming westbound vehicle before pulling into the intersection.
He struck the vehicle driven by Julie Samuels, 30 of Bad Axe, broadside. Samuels' vehicle left the roadway and rolled over. She was wearing a seatbelt and escaped injury.
However, two of her three passengers were injured. Joann Landosky, 36 of Bad Axe, and Jaylee Samuels, 9 months, were taken to Bay Medical Center. Landosky was wearing a seatbelt and Jaylee Samuels was in a carseat. Nine-month old Tyler Samuels of Caro, also in a carseat, escaped injury, too.
Keinath was also wearing a seatbelt and escaped injuries. He was ticketed for failure to yield, said Sgt. Mike Forbes of the Michigan State Police Post, Bad Axe. Sebawaing Ambulance, Sebawaing Fire Department and Sebawaing Police Department assisted State Police. — By MARY DRIER Beets now look great...

The 1994 sugar beet planting season, with 36,500 acres of seeds in the ground, is well ahead of last year, despite the fact that about 40% of the crop has been replanted.
Even with those replanted acres, the crop is almost a month ahead of the 1993 crop at this point, says Dick Jacoby, agriculture manager of the Sebawaing Plant of Michigan Sugar Company.
Another sizeable chunk of this year's beets are several weeks ahead of last year, and only about 20% of the fields are behind last year, as of the past weekend, he says.
This past Friday Jacoby said moisture conditions were fine so far, and the beet plants show no stress despite the extremely hot, dry weather of the past weeks.
"That doesn't mean we wouldn't welcome a good penetrating shower," he says, pointing out that with such high temp-

TEAMWORK: Pigeon Chamber, Historians working together

By SALLY RUMMEL

The Pigeon Historical Society and the Pigeon Chamber of Commerce are working together jointly to tell people about Pigeon — one with a look at the past and the other with an eye towards the future.

Through the Thumb Area Consortium, the Pigeon Historical Society has been placed with a summer worker, Tracy Abbe of Port Austin, at the Depot Museum. And while she is performing her duties at the museum, she will also provide helpful visitor information about Pigeon through brochures, posters and other materials - on behalf of the Pigeon Chamber of Commerce.

When Chamber President Pam Sturm heard about the Consortium employe at the museum, she thought it might be a good way to have a "visitors bureau" Downtown, without having to pay the expense of an office and employe.

Pigeon Historical Society President Marie Leipprandt was happy to cooperate, sensing that the additional information about Pigeon would be helpful to their museum visitors.

Abbe, who will begin her senior year at Laker High School this fall, will have some fun entertaining museum visitors as she plays the pianola — a forerunner of the popular "player piano."

Abbe says she learned the skill from her sister Stephanie, who had worked at the Pigeon Depot for the past two summers.

Anyone who would like brochures about happenings in the Pigeon/Huron County area may stop in at the museum and say hello to Abbe

Monday through Friday, from 8:15 a.m. to 12 noon and from 12:30 to 4:45 p.m.

Pigeon Historical Society volunteers will man the museum and provide Pigeon information during the week-end hours, Saturday from 10 to 1 and Sunday from 2 to 4.

He urges 'yes' vote for roads Monday

By D. CHARLES LEIPPRANDT,

Pigeon

To the people of Huron County:

On Monday, June 27, the voters of Huron County will have a chance to improve the Primary Road System, major and local streets in the county.

Matching funds will be coming to the area to get the job done.

This will help the school bus routes, the truckers, the tourists and the local people getting to and from work.

A "YES" vote will also save a lot of repairs on trucks and automobiles.

Woods & Waters

The night of the fly...

There is a piece of river water I know very well. It borders a small, pie-shaped parcel of land which, for the present, is in my ownership. I fish it a great deal, not because it is a particularly good strip of water, but rather because I know no one will kick me off the property if I decide to rest along its banks.

By Duane Guenther

When I first saw it several years ago, I was not overly impressed. Although the deed would give me clear title to nearly 400-ft. of frontage, most of it was made up of a shallow sand bar circled by a black fringe of boot-sucking muck. There was one good run, where the river, plowing in from the west before making a sharp right hand turn, had scoured a deep hole and continued to carve a sharp undercut into the sod-covered bank. It was there I choose to fish first.

I remember standing by the bend in the river, a rod in my hand, and watching the fast run disappear under the outstretched branches of a stream-side spruce. Night was falling and I had been late getting to the river — purposely perhaps, for during the day the shallow water and bright sun would cause any worthwhile trout to seek solace in the deep undercut... or perhaps in the tangle of driftwood on the other side where the river reared to the left in a valiant effort to straighten its flight to the large lake lying in the east.

This is where I will find a good trout, I thought, and as the sun slowly sank beneath the rim of trees, I slipped into the water and waded mid-stream.

I watched the tail of the pool which lay just beyond the end of the undercut, searching hard for any sign of feeding trout.

I could have tied on a weighted streamer and pounded the hole, but for this first night on the river, I wanted a wild trout to rise to my fly. Any trout would do, and any fly would do.

There is a bit of a meadow in the middle of my property, enclosed with a fringe of oaks, elders and an ancient stand of cedars.

It makes a nice backdrop for evening gazing and every once in awhile, I would raise my head and survey this bit of greenery flecked with white and blue wildflowers. It was on one of these gazes that I first saw the flies.

They had slipped out of the alders and cedars unnoticed and were now beginning their ritualistic mating dance.

Rising in great clouds above the water, they would spiral vertically up and down as if following some unheard beat coming from the bowels of the river.

To and fro, up and down, first as singles and then coupling up as the males clutched the females and fertilized the large egg sacs which hung beneath their nearly transparent bodies.

The river was alive with insect activity and I immediately recognized them as the giant Michigan mayfly, or Hexagenia limbata, to use their proper Latin title.

Anglers know them as Night Caddis, Michigan Spinners, Michigan Caddis, Burrowing mayfly, or many such names.

I always refer to them as a fish fly because that is what they were called when they clogged the streets of Thumb Area towns in the '40s and '50s.

They are the largest of the Michigan mayflies and have a life cycle of two years. Their life begins as fertilized eggs deposited in rivers or streams.

The flies drift along the bottom until they hatch into a small nymph which immediately burrows into a bottom of soft muck, marl or sand.

After growing a hard outer shell, they began to feed on minute organic material. When they outgrow the shell, they molt and form another, sometimes completing this process more than 25 times in their two-year life cycle.

One night, when the air and water temperature is just right, they break out of their shell for the last time and swim to the surface and float while drying out their wings.

They then fly into the brush or low-lying tree branches to complete their adulthood, which may take place any time between one and three days.

During a dark, warm evening — just like the one I described — they leave the protection of the trees to dance, mate and die.

Creating a beautiful scene for an awestruck angler and a bountiful smorgasbord for the river's waiting trout.

There is just one catch — you have to be in the right place at the right time. Simple solution — fish every night from mid-June until mid-July...

What's up, 'Doc'?

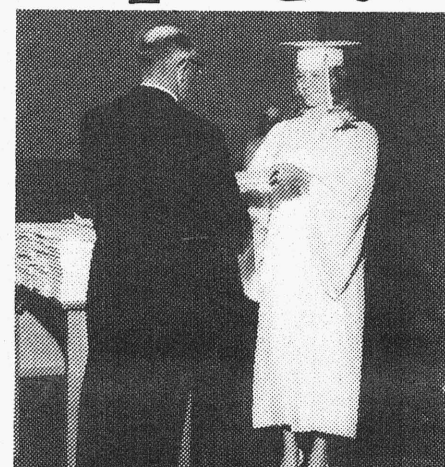

Doc Robin Steele will bring his "Olde Time Medicine Show" to the Michigan Sugar Festival Main Park stage on Saturday, June 25 - performing at three show times, 3, 4:30 and 7 p.m.

The "Olde Time Medicine Show" is a variety show suitable for all family group, journeying back in time to the Old Wild West. Meet "Medicine Pitch Man" as he roams across the prairie looking for a town to sell his "cure-all" potions.

He'll amaze and delight the audience with his mastery of magic, ventriloquism and old-fashioned "corny comedy."

People are advised to come early for best seating and "sit back and enjoy the show!"

Wild turkeys are spotted

There's good news for members of the Sebewaing Chapter of National Wild Turkey Federation and for residents who enjoy viewing wildlife in its natural habitats, according to Jim Christner, NWTFF secretary.

At least two of the 14 hens released north of Sebewaing last winter have been viewed with their poult.

Christner said that Jake Linzner of Sebewaing reported seeing two hens with about 20 poult near Haist Road north of Sebewaing last week.

Another viewer said she saw a hen turkey with about 18 poult.

Many local residents have seen one or several of the released mature wild turkeys, in widespread areas, during the spring weeks.

Anyone who sees the birds, especially with young poult, is invited to report to Christner.

300 Club winners are...

Bev Tietz of Sebewaing won the $100 weekly prize, during last week's Chamber of Commerce 300 Club Drawing, to benefit the Sugar Festival fireworks show this Saturday night.

Debra Stoeckle won the $50 prize and Carol Schairer won $25 in the second-last weekly drawing.

The 18th — and final — weekly drawing will be this Friday, June 24 at 4 p.m. at Sebewaing Village Office. The contest began Feb. 25.

Birthday!

Brenda Gaeth celebrated her ninth birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gaeth of Bay Port. Guests from Pigeon, Unionville and Owendale enjoyed cake and ice cream and the opening of birthday gifts.

Most viewers also report increased numbers of pheasants, and several have told that Sichuan cock birds, which are darker-feathered and have smaller white neckbands or no neckbands at all.

Chinese Ringnecked birds, the kind that have been here for 60 or more years, are increasing in numbers.

Cross-bred birds are identifiable because rooster Sichuans have smaller white neckbands or they do not show white neck feathers at all.

■ Researchers say that during periods of low and high tides, animals such as fish seem to lose much of their natural caution. These are referred to as Major Periods and last approximately an hour. Midway between the Major Periods there are frequently shorter peaks called Minor Periods. The inclination of the moon's orbit to the Equator also affects Solunar Periods and, in extreme cases, there is only one Major or Minor Period for the date.

Good Reasons to Vote "YES" for Good Roads

Polls will be open countywide from 7 am to 8 pm Monday, June 27. The millage will rebuild 50 percent of the county's primary roads and a number of major and local streets. It will provide 2-mills for five years and will cost the average property owner less than a dollar a week, or $50 per year for five years.

Safer roads are worth it.

"Bad roads are a real problem for Huron County's police, fire and emergency services. They contribute to accidents, wreak havoc on our cars, ambulances and fire engines, and slow us down in our ability to respond to people in need.

Building roads to last is smart.

"Building roads to last makes good business sense. The millage will rebuild 50 percent of Huron county's worst primary roads—and build them to last. That means it's not a band-aid solution. The millage will enable the county to make full use of all available state and federal matching funds and will save money on the rising costs of patching up our crumbling roads.

"The bottom line is good roads are critical to Huron County's agricultural, manufacturing and tourism industries. This millage is a smart investment in them, in our county and in us, and I'm for it."

William D. Dodge
Superintendent of Schools
Unionville-Sebewaing Area Schools

Bad roads are expensive.

"Our school busses take a lot of abuse from the roads. Realignment, new tires, axles, and shocks—the maintenance costs add up. The story's probably not too different with other folks in the county. They say the average Michigan motorist spends $106 a year on extra fuel and repairs because of bad roads.

"This road millage will benefit everyone. And I'd feel a lot better having safer roads to send our kids home on. I'm voting "YES."

Protzman knows all about 'flesh-eating' disease

By SALLY RUMMEL

What did Jim Hensen, well-known Muppets creator and Caseville resident Evelyn Protzman have in common? They both suffered from a rare infection of the Strep-A bacteria.

But while Hensen died from the infection which attacked his lungs, Protzman is alive and well—although still suffering from its effects—four years later.

While many people are hearing about the Strep-A "flesh eating disease" being sensationalized throughout the media in recent weeks, Protzman knows first-hand about the very rare infection.

Evelyn Protzman thought she had a case of shingles four years ago when she developed a sharp pain in her left arm, several weeks after cutting her finger on a grocery bag. She was hospitalized for a couple days in Bad Axe, then a sharp pain again at home sent her back to the emergency room.

Puzzled by her symptoms—which included acute pain and rapid swelling, her doctor had her transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, where she was diagnosed as suffering from an acute streptococcus-A infection.

"The doctors said if I made it through the next 72 hours, I'd be 'over the hump,'" recalls Protzman, who ended up being hospitalized throughout the months of March and April of 1990.

The worst part of her ordeal was suffering from gangrene on her left arm, which "ate" 70% of her muscle tissue.

CASEVILLE'S EVELYN PROTZMAN gets lot of enjoyment out of spending time with her grandchildren, including granddaughter Krista, who turned four on Monday.

To this day, she has only about 25% to 30% of the use of her arm, rendering her unable to button a blouse at the back or style her hair. "That's what husbands and beauty shops are for!" says Protzman, with her characteristic upbeat attitude.

Because the gangrene resulted in skin grafting from many parts of her lower body, Protzman suffered through the many treatments a burn patient would endure, and was even treated in the burn unit of St. Mary's.

While antibiotics helped her fight the infection inside her body, twice a day hot baths helped ease the physical pain of the skin grafting she had to undergo, because the gangrene had left her arm and chest area with little muscle or skin tissue.

"The de-breeding (skin grafting) was the most painful part," remembers Protzman. When asked why she fell victim to such a rare infection, Protzman firmly believes the stress in her life allowed the infection to take hold.

"Stress does strange things to people," she says. "I was one of those people who said 'yes' to everything and everybody, plus we had a lot of work on our dairy farm." Nowadays, Protzman takes a lot of time to enjoy her life—and feels she has grown much closer to God because of her ordeal.

"It's a shame I had to go through something like this to grow closer to the Lord," she says with the conviction of someone who has made a Protzman with a tinge of regret.

"Gary (who runs Delcath Farms now) takes the time to do things with his family and I think it's very important for people to take time to enjoy their loved ones.

"There will always be work." While Protzman has been interested in the media hype about the now-public illness that ravaged her so privately four years ago, she is more interested in getting on with her life now than dwelling on what happened to her four years ago.

"I feel blessed that it at least wasn't my face that was affected," she says gratefully. "You can always cover up your body, but it would be more difficult to cover scars on your face."

According to Protzman's doctor, she was the first person he had treated with this acute Strep-A infection, but he had two more cases in 1990—and reportedly has had none since.

A call to Scheurer Hospital's Infectious Diseases Department showed no known cases of the serious Strep-A strain and the Huron County Health Department said that because Strep-A is not on its list of "reportable diseases," they have no record of any cases.

Which all boils down to what everybody already knows: that this acute strain of Strep-A is very rare, and it

Unchangeable as the stars? Well, here's how they vary

By WALT RUMMEL

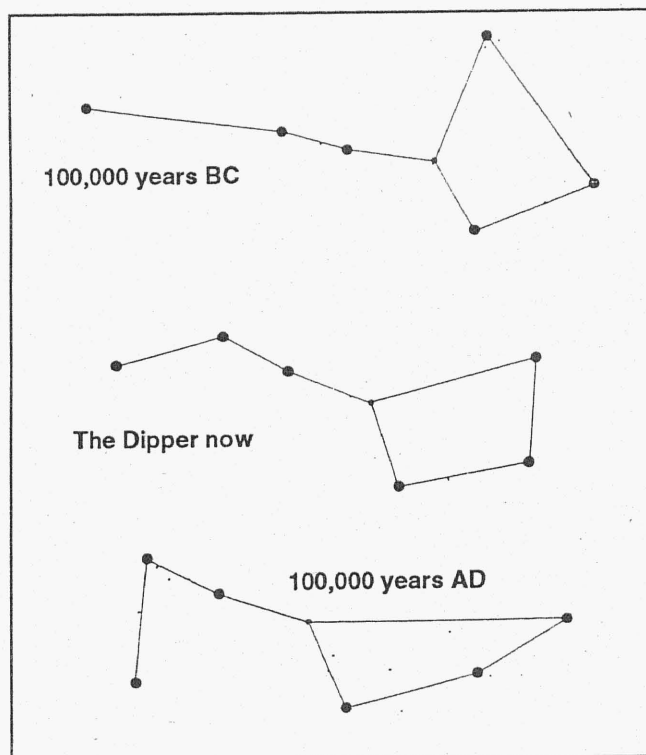

If you tell your loved one that your love for her/him is as steadfast and constant as the stars above, you'd better hope she/he never sees this story.

University of Michigan astronomer Richard Teske now says stars move around continually and that familiar constellation patterns aren't the same forever and ever at all.

For instance, look high into the northeast sky one of these mid-spring evenings and locate the Big Dipper. (That's it in the center drawing)

When you locate it, you'll note that its handle is pointed down. Around midnight it passes nearly overhead, upside down.

The Dipper's seven stars form the hindquarters of an even larger constellation, the Great Bear, also known as Ursa Major. Bear and Dipper can be seen every clear night throughout the year, circling round and round the north pole of the heavens with the rotation of the earth.

HERE'S THE CURRENT SHAPE of the Big Dipper, as compared to its shape 102,000 years ago... and how it will appear 98,000 years from now.

But, 100,000 years Before Christ, the Big Dipper had a substantially-different shape (see top drawing).

And, if you or your great-grandchildren are still around 100,000 or so years from now, the Big Dipper will have changed to resemble the bottom of the three drawings.

So much for the steadfastness of your love for that beautiful lady or that handsome hunk!

Teske says star movements are detected and measured by comparing photographs taken many years apart. Celestial photography has been practiced for about 150 years, so some amount of accurate material has now been accumulated.

But, during our three-score-and-10 years here on earth, or even four-score years, neither you nor your loved one will probably see very much change in that great old Big Dipper overhead.

It will take about 20,000 years for the Dipper's stars to traverse a distance equal to the width of the Full Moon up there in the sky, so you'll probably continue to recognize the Big Dipper whenever you look overhead.

So, lovers, go ahead and tell her/him that your love is as constant and steady as the stars above. Say that your love will remain as bright and clear as the Big Dipper up above.

Your loved one may never even notice the difference!

Signature joins loan bank

Signature Bank, with five offices in Sebawaing, Bad Axe, Port Hope and Harbor Beach, has joined the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis. Signature Bank is the wholly-owned subsidiary of First of Huron Corporation, a unitary-bank holding company located in Bad Axe.

As a member, Signature Bank will be able to borrow funds from the FHLBI to use in its home mortgage lending programs. The bank is also eligible to participate in the FHLBI's affordable housing and community investment programs that support low-income housing construction and rehabilitation and economic development.

Signature Bank had $120.3 million in assets as of Sept. 30, 1993. It holds about 18.7% of its assets in residential mortgage loans and mortgage-backed securities.

is more likely that a person would get struck by lightning than become infected with this disease.

But like Evelyn Protzman found out so painfully, it doesn't just happen to "other people" — and even though it's very rare, this acute Strep-A infection can maim and kill fast, so prompt medical attention for any acute pain or swelling is vitally important.

Protzman agrees that it's good that the media has let people know about the effects of this particular strain of Strep-A so that they can take proper precautions.

"Who knows why some people get this infection while others don't? All I know is, some good has come out of it because my priorities have been put in order."

4 teachers retire, accepting Laker buy-out offer

By AMY HEIDEN
After 30 years in front of the chalkboard, John Blair figured he had a few more years to go until retirement. After all, it takes a bit of change to put two kids through college, as he and his wife Grace are doing.

But when the Laker Board of Education offered him a financial incentive to retire early, Blair decided this month was a good time to give up his career as a junior high science teacher.

With his newfound "time off" from his lifetime job, Blair plans to expand his repair business into a full-time concern and use the Board's "incentive" to help with college expenses.

Blair is one of four Laker teachers who took advantage of a buyout offer from the Board of Education, designed to lower school expenses by offering incentives to 30-year teachers for retirement.

He and the others will be paid a lump sum of $10,000 this December, and another $10,000 in 1995, in addition to receiving his regular teacher's pension.

The Laker Board accepted the four letters of resignation last week. Also retiring are High School Guidance Counselor Duane Guenther, Chemistry and Physics teacher Doug Rees and Junior High English teacher Sharon Zaleski.

Laker Supt. Robert Drury said the four were at the high end of the salary scale, averaging about $41,000 per year. They'll be replaced with teachers making less, so the district will save money. New teachers in the district start at $23,600, Drury said.

"The good thing is we'll be saving money, but the downside is we'll be losing teachers with lots of years of educational experience."

Statewide, at least 16 districts are offering such buyout packages to senior teachers. Many are letting their teachers take early retirement as budgets become more strained due to the new leaner state funding measures.

In some cases, the loss of experienced teachers could be painful. Those teachers can be expensive, but it can be difficult to replace their skills.

In Laker's case, the four retirements will allow the district to call back Diana Tercek, Kevin Klaeren and Jill Kauffman, who were all pink-slipped this spring.

Some shuffling of staff may be required, Drury said, but Rees' position may have to be filled from outside the district, as no teachers are certified to teach chemistry and physics.

The district will also be hiring to fill positions in special education and in the elementary school, Drury said.

And, three paraprofessional aides will be hired, one for each elementary school, to tutor at-risk students who are having reading difficulties. Those aides would be paid from $97,500 in at-risk funds the district received.

"The money is to be used to lessen class size, provide remedial instruction or create new programs for at-risk students," Drury said.

YOUNG 5's: A half-time teacher and aide will also join the payroll for a new Young 5's program to be offered this fall at Lakers.

The program is for children who will be five by Dec. 1, but whose parents feel aren't ready for regular kindergarten.

After polling parents, school officials have enrolled 25 students in the program, the maximum allowable.

The program will be housed at Pigeon Elementary because all buses end up there after their regular runs, thus saving some transportation costs.

Young 5's will be funded with regular state money, since funding is based on student enrollment. And because young age is considered "at-risk," money from that fund could be used also.

A half-time special education teacher will be hired, probably for only a year, Drury said. The number of students enrolled in special ed classes has risen, caused in part by students not being old enough to graduate.

The Huron Intermediate School District, which funds the special ed program, will only allow 20 high school students, 15 junior high, 15 upper elementary students, and 15 lower elementary students to be enrolled in the program.

Currently, Tim Blakeney teaches special ed in high school, while Teri Jimkoski teaches in junior high, Marek Witczak teaches upper elementary students and Kelley Bushey teaches the lower elementary students.

But Bushey is taking a year's maternity leave and Jimkoski is taking her place. That leaves a vacancy in the junior high, which will be filled for a year.

The half-time teacher will handle the overflow at the secondary level, Drury said.

For the first time in many years, Elkton Elementary will only have one section of second grade next year, with 27 enrolled in the class.

Two of those students are in special ed at least two-thirds of the day, while another is in special ed at least a third of the day, Drury said.

That means one less teacher needed to teach at Elkton Elementary, and that teacher could possibly fill one of the vacancies at the junior high or high school.

Four sections of kindergarten will be offered, with Elkton having two sections with 21 students in one class and 20 in the second. Pigeon will have one class of 21 students and Bay Port will have a class of between 12 and 15.

Last year, Pigeon and Bay Port students attended one of two kindergarten classes at Pigeon because of low enrollment figures at Bay Port Elementary. This year, as those students moved ahead one year, one first grade class may be held at Bay Port if at least six students who live near the Pigeon/Bay Port attendance boundary volunteer to switch to Bay Port.

But if those volunteers aren't found, Bay Port first-graders will attend Pigeon Elementary, Drury said.

Only 14 first-graders are enrolled at Bay Port for the coming school year, while 32 are enrolled at Pigeon.

The Laker Board also agreed to release 12 students who are residents of the Laker District but who attend Bad Axe schools. That will allow state funding to follow those students.

The district will receive state funding based on Fourth Friday enrollment figures, and many school districts are grappling with the same question of accepting students from outside their districts and releasing students who attend other districts.

"We felt it was educationally advantageous for those students who have been attending other schools," Drury said. "It can be disruptive to make them choose another school when they've been attending one school."

In addition, the Board agreed to accept 12 students from outside the district who attend as tuition students and who attended Laker schools last year. Eight of those students live in the Caseville District, three are from Bad Axe and one lives in the Owen-Gage District.

"Hopefully, those students will be released by their districts so their funding can follow them," Drury said. "If not, we'll allow them to attend as tuition students."

Caseville fireworks need $$$!

If the sky above Caseville is to be lit up with fireworks during the Fourth of July weekend, the Chamber of Commerce checking account will need a major transfusion of funds.

At least $5,600 is needed to present the show on July 3, but Fireworks Committee co-chairman Nancy Lixie says that donations have fallen short of what is needed.

And since the July 4th weekend isn't that far off, she and husband (and co-chairman) Mike have come up with a couple of fund-raising ideas.

One is the "More Bang for Your Buck" raffle, with chances to win four tickets to a Detroit Tigers game.

You can buy tickets to win one of the three sets of tickets to be given away at most Caseville merchants. Those tickets will be given away during the Beachfest on July 9, Lixie said.

Then there's the "Cow Plop Drop Dead" contest, with a bovine friend determining the winner. That contest takes place July 2 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the lot between the Caseville IGA and the Bay Window Restaurant.

First prize is $500 and second prize is $250, and tickets can also be purchased from local merchants.

Hersel Fouladash, owner of Little Rascals' Coney Island and Hersel's on the Bay, has been helping raise fireworks funds by charging a small cover charge to his bar on weekends, and by auctioning t-shirts and jackets.

All the proceeds were donated to the fireworks fund. He and D.J. Dave LeMaster raised over $870 last year, and are closing in on the $1,000 mark this year.

In addition, Fouladash's two businesses will be making their own donations to the fund, he says.

"We wanted to do something for the community, to get people here in Caseville, to make the town look good," Fouladash said.

This year, the fireworks can be viewed from the Caseville County Beach, and they'll be shot off from the breakwall area, Lixie said. The break-

In the future, any new resident student who wishes to attend another district must apply to the Board for an official release, and any non-resident student must obtain a release from his or her school of resident so that state funding can follow that student.

In other business, the board: Accepted letters of retirement from cook Dora Grigg, who has been with the district for eight years, and from Dolores Champagne, who is stepping off her school bus after 28 years.

Accepted a low bid from Thumb National Bank of Pigeon for a 5.15% interest rate on a $210,000 four-year loan. The money will be used to replace the high school gym floor, refinish the junior high gym floor and purchase computers for the new high school computer room.

Revised the 1993-94 budget for the final time, calling for $6.248 million in revenues and $6.278 million in spending. The smaller-than-anticipated deficit is the result of trimming expenses, Drury said.

Set a preliminary 1994-95 budget. Drury noted that school officials still don't know the exact amount of funding they'll receive, because the new state funding measures. Preliminary figures show $6.825 in revenues, and $7.08 in expenditures.

atures all farm crops use up moisture very rapidly. The 1994 crop totals 36,500 acres, about 3,000 acres larger than last year, Jacoby says.

Should Caseville village water plant be sold?

Is a privately-owned water plant in Caseville's future? It could be, if talks between Village Manager Gary Kuckel and McNamee Operation Services of Ann Arbor result in something the Village Council can live with. Kuckel has recommended the plant be run by a private company to help control operating costs, and he presented his proposal at last week's Village Council meeting. But Council members and about 60 village residents had numerous questions about the proposal, especially fearing that the lone DPW water plant worker could get pink-slipped.

Only one village employee works at the water plant now, working many overtime hours, and two or more should be there for the most efficient operation. But employees must have special training and licensing for water plant operation, and those workers are often hard to find.

Kuckel will continue his talks with McNamee Operation Services to come up with a different proposal, according to Village Treasurer Shelley Strirret.

Caseville Police Chief Tom Shedd and his department have found a new home—at least temporarily—in order to relieve some of the overcrowding at the Village/Township Hall. Council agreed to lease the former Harron Cable TV building on Main Street for four months, while village officials study ways to permanently ease its housing problem. The lease payments are $200 a month plus utilities.

In other business, Caseville Council: Complied with a newly-passed state law stating that minor can't be served alcohol at open house parties by amending an ordinance. Property owners can be fined $500 and/or serve 30 days in jail for their first offense. The ordinance takes effect July 12.

Set the 1994-95 millage rate at 12.7218 mills, the same as the past 10 years.

Set a public hearing for July 11 at 6:30 p.m. to discuss renewing its 30-year franchise agreement with Consumers Power.

Also set July 11 at 7 p.m. for a public hearing on creating a special assessment district for sidewalk construction on the east side of State Street from West Street to the village limits. Homeowners would be pay half the cost of constructing the sidewalks if the district is created.

Approved an ordinance allowing the village to shut off water service after all other steps to collect a delinquent account are exhausted. The ordinance goes into effect July 12.

Barn fire cleanup underway

Clean-up is underway from a fire that destroyed a barn in Bach Wednesday. The fire started about 9 p.m. in an old barn belonging to Barb Leiternann.

Sebawaing Fire Department responded and were assisted by Owendale and Fair Haven Township Fire Departments. They were on the scene for about two hours. No dollar amount of the damage was available.

Closing road in Bay Port?

The Fair Haven Township Board will hold a public hearing 8 p.m. Thursday, July 14 on a possible road abandonment in Bay Port.

Township Board officials plan to vacate and discontinue using the west portion of Wallace Street, which is 45' wide and 178' long. Termination would begin at the edge of Orr Street.

Objections may be filed in writing with Township Clerk Karen Csanyi, Fair Haven Township Hall, 764 Hall Street, Bay Port, MI, 48720.

A-F sets new school budget

The 1994-95 operating budget for the Akron-Fairgrove School District is in place, after last week's Board meeting.

The new budget estimates revenues of $3.01 million with expenses projected at $3.04 million. Coverage for the $35,573 shortfall will come from fund equity reserves.

After covering the shortfall, the district will have about $300,000 in reserves, said Supt. Kenneth Tahfs. The new budget goes into effect Friday, July 1.

Revenues and expenses are up slightly from last year's budget. "The state is giving us a little more money per student under Proposal A, but the state has also given us more obligations in our paying FICA and retirement costs," said Tahfs. "Then there are the standard increases in health coverage and utilities that we have no control over."

Father's Day dad is on TV

Because of Father's Day, Unionville farmer Lynn Ewald and his wife Lynda, together with their three children, were a "news item" on WNEM-TV, Channel 5.

She gave birth to the Ewalds' third child Saturday, and so mother, dad and new daughter Ashley were the "Father's Day" feature on the newscast.

They all arrived home in Unionville on Father's Day, to be greeted by the Ewalds' older children, five-year-old Nathan and Chelsey, 18 months.

Their mother is the daughter of William and Edith LeValley and their father is the son of James and Edith Ewald, all of Unionville.

Caseville's Red Hacker is super!

THE ACTION WAS FAST and furious during the first Caseville Red Hacker 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament, conducted this past weekend in Caseville. Organizer Redford Maust of Pigeon said 150 teams signed up, more than expected for the initial event. "We're delighted with the response to our first tournament," he said Sunday.

Winners will be announced soon. The weather cooperated with dry skies and hot temperatures, which turned more manageable Sunday.

Recollections Of By-Gone Days

by George Keim

DEAR EDITOR: Last Sunday we drove past a hay field that was ready to be put up. This time of year is haying time and that used to be the hardest work on the farm.

I mowed hay with the horses and side delivered hay and hauled it into the barn loose. It always was hard work. Haying always came when the weather was the hottest. We always tried to get it in without rain.

I know one farmer who mowed his hay on Saturday so it would get dry on Sunday. That way he gained a day.

Well, I was a hired man on a farm and it always was up to me to mow it. I put in lots of time on a hot day doing it. If you hauled it in loose, you used slings. You'd put three slings to a load and you'd pull it up with the horse and if you had a good man to tip the sling, you could mow it away pretty good.

Picture Yourself And Your Family MAKING MEMORIES In Sebewaing, Michigan!

Picture yourself enjoying all the vacation amenities Sebewaing has to offer.

Then picture yourself as a visitor or resident, feeling safe and secure because of the many services offered by Sebewaing Township and the Village of Sebewaing.

Sebewaing Township Ambulance

Sebewaing Township's Ambulance Service is the pride of Sebewaing - offering one of the best emergency response times in the Thumb. Ten EMTs and 3 Medical First Responders make up the Emergency Team, headed by Captain Kathy Manary, Assistant Capt. Pat Adams and Sec./Treas. Linda Deeg. When you're in Sebewaing you know that help is on the way in minutes if you find yourself in an emergency.

Sebewaing Township Fire Department

Twenty Volunteer Firemen are ready to respond to any fire emergency, thanks to the dedication and skill of the Sebewaing Twp. Fire Dept. Headed by Fire Chief Jeff Kroll. The dept. is made up of 5 Medical First Responders and 3 Trained in Operations Level Hazardous Material in Huron County. The Fire Dept. is also home to "Jaws of Life" in Sebewaing, Unionville, Bay Port and Owendale. The Dept. makes about 80 fire calls per year, responding quickly and heroically to fire situations.

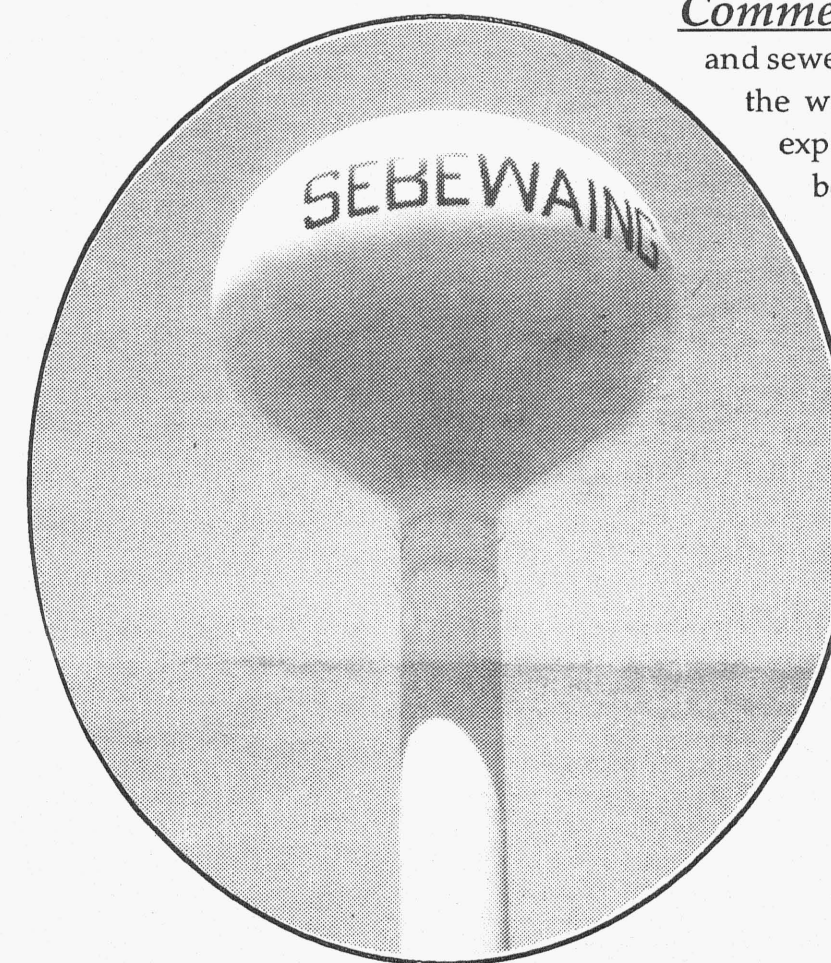

Sebewaing Twp. Airport

One of Sebewaing's most convenient attractions is the Twp. Airport, handling about 800 landings of private and commercial aircraft, according to Airport Manager Doug Elston. Whether you are flying into Sebewaing for business or pleasure, you'll find the proximity of the airport to the shoreline and Downtown to be a convenient and efficient way to travel.

Commercially, the Village and Township have worked together to provide full water and sewer service to businesses and residences along M-25, and together we helped clear the way for the final completion of the Michigan Department of Highway's M-24 expansion. When completed, the new highway will allow easier access than ever before from southeastern Michigan to the Western Thumb.

For Recreation, Sebewaing Village and Township offer the Upper Thumb's newest County Park, home to overnight camping facilities, nature trails and more. Our proposed $2 million Marina Project will offer easy access to Saginaw Bay for residents and out-of-town visitors alike. We've got it all!

The PAST and the PRESENT

While you're in Sebewaing, we invite you to appreciate the activities of "Sebewaing Past," through the efforts of the Sebewaing Historical Society. Take a walk through the picturesque real-life re-enactment of what of what Sebewaing was like in decades past, in an historic settlement near downtown.

Get involved in a year long schedule of classes, demonstrations and shows, sponsored by one of Sebewaing's newest cultural organizations - The Lake Huron Community Arts Council, which operates through the Heidelberg Gallery in downtown Sebewaing.

While visiting this year's Sugar Festival, take a close look at Sebewaing Village and Township because we just might fit in your future, too.

Another millage vote coming for USA

By MARY DRIER

Voters in the USA School District will head back to the polls soon, to decide on another millage issue.

During the annual school elections last week, USA voters approved one millage request but rejected a second. The proposal seeking 18 mills for five years on non-homestead property passed 532 to 297.

However, the second request — for two "enhancement mills" for three years — was defeated by a 35-vote margin, 379 to 344.

"Because of the failure of the two-mill enhancement request, board members approved placing the issue before voters again," said Supt. William Dodge. "It is required to implement the type of programs needed for USA students."

"Another election will be held as soon as possible. We have to wait for it to clear with the Huron County Election Board and with attorneys, so we don't know exactly when the election will be."

Approval of the enhancement millage would have generated about $226,760 the first year to help head off a projected $100,000 to $150,000 shortfall.

"We are grateful the voters understood the necessity of passing the 18 mills, but the enhancement millage is very necessary," said Dodge.

In other action, the USA Board:

- Accepted the resignation of elementary physical education teacher Ned Rambo who is retiring after 27 years with the district, and the resignation of elementary special education teacher Deb McClay, who is moving from the district.

- Approved coaching positions for the 1994-95 year: Varsity football - Tim Travis and Gary VanSumeren; J. V. football - Ron Engelhardt and Terry Winter;

- Varsity girls' basketball - Larry VanSteenhouse and Todd Cramer; Junior varsity girls' basketball - Fred Licht; Freshman girls' basketball - Rodney Rock;

- Varsity cheerleading - Donna Blakely; Cross Country - Kirk Scharich; Varsity boys' basketball - John Manninen; Junior varsity boys' basketball - Terry Winter; Freshman boys' basketball - Tom Zimmer;

- Varsity volleyball - Roger Remar; Junior varsity volleyball - Tom Sokol; Freshman volleyball - Kristi Riemann;

- Junior varsity baseball - Tony Grant; Varsity softball - Carol Satter; Junior varsity softball - Fred Licht; Boys' track - Gary VanSumeren; Girls' track - Tim Travis;

- Assistant track - Terry Winter. The varsity baseball coach position is open, following Roger Remar's resignation from that position.

Construction starts for USA Middle School

By MARY DRIER
What a difference a day can make!

Construction on the new Middle School building at USA High School started last Monday — and by the following day some real progress in clearing the area had been made.

"This outfit really goes to work when they start," said USA Schools' Supt. William Dodge. "There are people all over out there working."

"I can't believe how much they have gotten done in such a short time. It's really impressive."

Wolgast Construction Co. of Freeland is building the $4.54 million project.

The company estimates it will take 240 days — until mid-February — to complete the 46,000-sq.-ft. addition on the southwest side of the high school, between Sebewaing and Unionville on M-25.

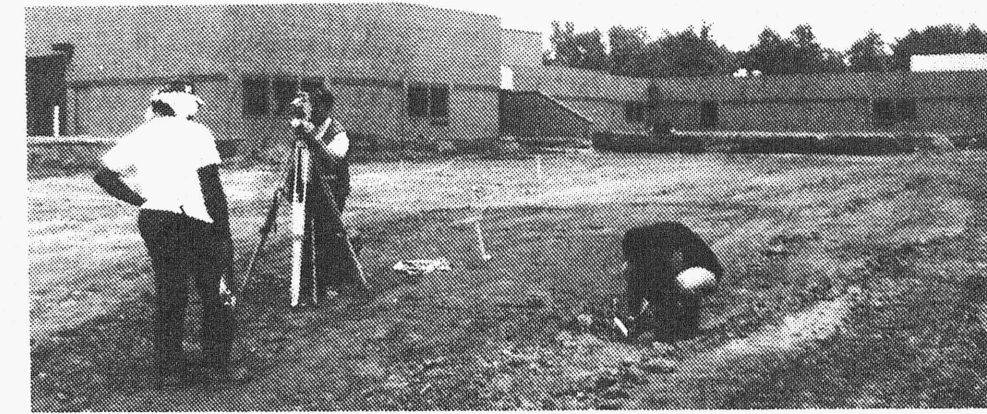

Wolgast Construction is only doing the work for addition, renovations, the football field and track base.

USA Board of Education members still have not awarded the bid for the track's surface, and have requested additional information for the second month in a row on track surfaces before approving that part of the project.

In September 1993, district voters approved at $5.7 million bond for the project which includes 13 classrooms, a 300-seat gym, library/media center, special education room, cafeteria with stage area, food-service kitchen, lockers and showers, a general office area and board of education room.

The project also includes upgrades to the existing high school building and USA Elementary School in Unionville.

SPICER ENGINEERING WORKERS Robert Holmes, Jr., surveyor K. D. Bell, and Brent Mahan were busy last Monday doing site work for the new Middle School wing adjacent to USA High School.

Cookies sell buttons!

By WALT RUMMEL
 Good salesmanship requires a good product and a sound message, and Nancy Nieschulz, office assistant in the Sebewaing Office of Michigan Sugar Co., has both.

About the time she started her employment with the company 22 years ago she was approached by Sugar Festival officials with a request that she help sell the popular Festival buttons.

Nancy sold them in the Sebewaing Office of Michigan Sugar Co., and when she traveled to the Saginaw Office headquarters in her line of duty, she took buttons along and sold them there.

Meantime, to sweeten her button sales pitches she began to carry a supply of her "Nancy Special Chocolate Chip Cookies," handing out a cookie to those who made special sales efforts in behalf of the buttons.

Her cookies became better and better known, and several weeks ago she decided to send 75 buttons to the Saginaw Office instead of the usual 50 as in past years.

The staff there teased her by telling her she should include some chocolate chips cookies... and then they'll accept the bigger shipment.

The Saginaw staffers offered to peddle some of the buttons to the Carrollton Office of Michigan Sugar.

After receiving them, Carrollton staffers called Nancy and told her that they not only sold the first group, but that if she'd get them some cookies, too, they'd take another 25 buttons.

So, Nancy turned that usual consignment of 50 buttons into 100 — with the help of a batch of her chocolate chip cookies!

Two years ago Nancy got a big write-up in the Detroit Free Press Magazine Section where her button sales techniques were covered at length.

Nancy points out that they're all baked with Pioneer Sugar from Michigan Sugar Company — of course!

PRESCCHOOL STORY HOUR

The Tuesday Story Hour theme will be "Hurry for the Fourth of July" and "Fourth of July Bear" at the Pigeon District Library on Tuesday, June 28.

Story Hour consists of stories, fingerplays, flannelgraph activities and creative movement, appropriate for three to five year olds. Sessions are held at 9 and 10:30 a.m.

HOW TO SURVIVE THE SUMMER

These summer activities are designed for the under 12 set.

- Melt odd nubs of crayons together in a tin can. Do not stir. Pour into a small orange can. Peel off the can and you have a giant crayon!
- Save, wash and paint all sizes of cans for building towers and castles. Be cautious of sharp edges.
- Have a harmless water war with clean, squirt-type plastic bottles.
- Spread left-over frosting between graham crackers for sweet ... treats.

- Modeling clay: cook to mashed potato consistency - 1 cup cornstarch, 1 lb. box soda, 1 1/4 cups water. Keep wrapped.
- When small children want to help paint, hand them clean brushes and water to paint the sidewalks.

KNOW YOUR LIBRARY...

The Library Dewey Decimal Classification sorts materials according to subject. It is so called because it was devised by Melvin Dewey.

Dewey divided human knowledge into 10 major classes with numerical symbols. The library breaks down these classes so the patron will have a better idea of what sort of books are on the shelves.

Elkton P.O. is 'musical'

By AMY HEIDEN

Something about the Elkton Post Office apparently attracts musically talented workers.

Rural Carrier Cheri Diebel directs the Cross Lutheran Church Choir, Head Clerk Ann Crocker is a member of the Lake Huron Chorus of Sweet Adelines — and new Officer-in-Charge Dale Bullock is director of music at Open Door Missionary Church in Sandusky.

Bullock replaces Jack Burns, who left to become Postmaster at Marlette late last month.

After working as a City Carrier in Cass City for 17 years, Bullock recently got his first opportunity for the OIC position.

"One a Tuesday, I was delivering mail and on Thursday, I was an OIC," Bullock says.

Being in charge of the Post Office doesn't mean just putting mail in the boxes, and all the paperwork daunted Bullock at first.

"There's a lot of bookwork and you have to learn how to operate the computer. But things are starting to fall into place now, with a lot of help from Ann."

Even though the Elkton Post Office is relatively small, coming to it was a rather unusual move for a new OIC, he says.

Often, a person taking a first-time position will go to a very small Post Office with only a hundred or so boxes and one delivery route.

"Usually you have some sort of working knowledge and experience before you take this type of job," Bullock says.

'Log Cabin Day' celebrated this Sunday in Elkton, state

The Elkton Historical Society will host the eighth annual Log Cabin Day in Michigan, by opening its doors to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. this Sunday, June 26 at Ackerman Memorial Park.

The public is invited and admission is free.

Log Cabin Day became "official" throughout the state of Michigan when the Michigan Legislature passed a resolution on June 28, 1987 for the Sesquicentennial.

On that day, there were a tour of seven Berrien County log cabins, along with four other Log Cabin Day events in the state.

Because people enjoyed the day so much, Rep. Lad Stacy (R-Berrien Springs) responded to requests to make Log Cabin Day annual, and a resolution for a second Log Cabin Day was passed.

On June 15, 1989, a bill was signed by Gov. James Blanchard stating, "The last Sunday in June of each year shall be known as 'Log Cabin Day.'"

Michigan is the only state in the U.S. to have an annual statewide Log Cabin festival.

Of the more than 90 Michigan log cabins which have been on the Log Cabin Day parade since 1987, five were built before 1840.

The Log Cabin Society of Michigan was incorporated on Oct. 23, 1988 to sponsor this event and "to discover, preserve and promote log cabins in Michigan."

An award of merit was received in 1991 from the Historical Society of Michigan.

Festival facts:

■ A Flapjack and Sausage Brunch will quell hungry appetites on Sunday, June 26 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Sugar-town Country Club.

■ Run off all those flapjacks at the "Anything Goes Olympics" following at 2 p.m. at the Main Park Diamond.

■ When you've worked up your appetite again, slip over to the Concession Stand for the 4 p.m. Ice Cream Social (it's on Sunday this year, but has been on Saturday night in years past).

MELVIN KUHL

Director of Safety, Cooperative Elevator Company

MELVIN KUHL

Festival Chairman, 1994 Michigan Sugar Festival

Which HAT is MEL Wearing Today?

Like many busy men and women living in small, rural communities, Melvin Kuhl wears lots of different hats in the course of a day.

As the Director of Safety overseeing all five of our agricultural plants, as well as helping our farmers with daily safety precautions, Mel is busy every day keeping people protected and healthy.

Because Mel is a people-person who cares about others and his community, he wears a different hat many months of the year as Chairman of The Michigan Sugar Festival and helping bring about an organized, enjoyable summer event for thousands of people in Sebewaing.

Our offices and plants are full of people, just as committed to their job and community as Mel...wearing many different hats as they volunteer in their towns, churches and schools.

We are proud to have such dedicated people employed by the Cooperative Elevator Company....

Our Hats Are Off To MEL And All The 1994 Michigan Sugar Festival Volunteers!
