Clem Goebel says outdoor sports help keep him healthy

By WALT RUMMEL
A person can do a great deal for himself/herself by getting exercise, breathing outdoor air, relaxing by getting away from daily routines and having an enjoyable time with companions.

SEBEWAING'S CLEM GOEBEL is all smiles last week, as he holds his turkey's tail feathers and a wing in his back yard. WALT RUMMEL PHOTO

That's Clemence Goebel's formula, and he finds he's a pretty good example of it. Goebel, now 78, retired from fulltime farming 16 years ago, is thankful that he lives in a place where hunting and fishing recreation opportunities are available nearby.

He and his wife Edna live on Fourth St., Sebewaing, where they have a small garden plot, a few grapevines and just the right amount of lawn and shrub work.

He's retired from farming, but his active nature prompts him to help the Goebels' son Wayne for some special seasons — sowing, plowing and harvesting. And it helps Goebel with that "keep active" feeling.

Three years ago, just before Goebel hit his "three-quarter century birthday," he had some prostate problems and went to a doctor.

"That was one of the very few times I've gone to a doctor. Earlier, I had a slight blood pressure problem and visited a doctor, but this condition is under control with medication," he said.

Then, three years ago, he was told he needed prostate surgery, which went smoothly and quickly.

A few hours after he was out of the operating room Goebel told the nurse that he was ready to go home. "Oh no, you'll be here at least overnight," he was told.

By the next morning, he had recovered enough to be discharged from Scheurer Hospital.

"I know that I'd never been a hospital patient before," he admitted, "and it really wasn't bad. I'm thankful that I haven't needed more through the years."

Goebel has been going deer hunting for more than half-a-century, never missing a single season. He's satisfied with his successes, too — about 50% of the years, he says.

He remembers with fondness those glorious pheasant years, in the late 1930s and 40s, when every farm yielded plenty of birds. Every farmer had horses — Goebel's dad had four of them — and a small herd of milk cows.

That meant the farm needed pasture fields, and that's where hen pheasants nested and raised their broods.

"Yes," he remembers, "you could bag your two rooster pheasants just about anytime, and there were always plenty left for the next year."

For summer and winter, when there's no hunting available, Goebel looks to Saginaw Bay for his recreation — and fish dinners.

He's known as probably "THE" premier Great Northern Pike fisherman.

His ever-present smile gets broader when he talks about Pike. "Yeah, I get my share, and I don't go far out, either," is his only hint as to where he spears those big ones.

He does plenty of Perch fishing, too. He's a well-known and regular member of that big fraternity of local ice anglers who see each other out there every day, sharing secrets, casting a wary eye on each other's catches.

In spring and summer he's out after Perch, too, and he says you can't beat the comfort of hauling his boat to the local launch park. "In 15 minutes I can be out on the Bay," he acknowledges.

"We had Perch again tonight," he pointed out on a recent Saturday, flashing that happy smile that identifies him.

Last spring he entered a new realm of outdoor activity — when his friend Don Schafer of Unionville invited him to go turkey hunting. "That's really a quiet sport," Goebel said, "you just sit in the blind and watch."

Sure enough! Pretty soon along came a big gobbler.

Goebel pulled up his shotgun and "bang!" he had his first turkey.

"Does that make me a year-round sportsman?" he smiled.

Bowling offers exercise, fun for folks of all ages

By MARY DRIER

Bowling helps folks of all ages — including senior citizens — strike a balance in physical fitness in their spare time and have fun doing it. Leagues comprised of senior citizen bowlers take to the alley ways on Tuesdays and Fridays at Sebewaing Lanes. Edward Welther, 83 of Sebewaing, bowls full time on the Tuesday senior league and is a substitute on the Friday league.

Last week Welther bowled a 131 average with games of 131, 123 and 140.

"I didn't take up bowling until after I retired from Sebewaing Industries. I worked there for 25 years," said Welther. "Bowling gives good exercise."

The 78-year-old Durkee is a senior bowler who has enjoyed the sport more than 30 years.

Until recently Durkee has been a very active bowler, with a top average of 153.

Although she took a few weeks off earlier this year, she's looking forward to resuming her active pace soon. "I'm trying to get back at it. I don't want to give it up," said Durkee. "It's helped to keep me active."

"There isn't too much to do this age."

Sebewaing's newest doctor, James Greenfield, D.O.,

ELSIE EULER IS 82 and is one of several regular senior citizen bowlers at Sebewaing Lanes. She can really make the pins rattle in her efforts to get a strike. Euler is a high roller for Deisler's Funeral Home. MARY DRIER PHOTO agrees that bowling is good for senior citizens, but cautions against using too heavy of a ball and strains caused by over-exertion.

Bowling balls tunk on the alley with a perfect delivery. Pins rattle as the seniors try for that ever important strike, and hands slap in high-five clasps when spares are made.

Gloria Vasquez, an employee of the bowling alley, applauds the vitality of the senior players.

who didn't take up the sport until after retirement from Eaton Manufacturing, Vassar.

She has been a bowler for about 10 years and began the sport when her sister Margaret Hayes talked her into it. "I enjoy bowling very much. It's good exercise. It gets you out among people," said Elsie Euler. "It think it has helped to keep me active and healthy."

"I would recommend it for everyone. We've tried to talk others into it, but some don't seem to be interested. I wasn't either until I started."

Although bowling offers little in the way of cardiovascular or strength gains, it promotes good rhythm and coordination, said Erin Wickman, head athletic trainer at the Michigan Athletic & Rehabilitation Center, Cass City.

Orpha Bauer, 71, is a newcomer to the senior citizen league. Although she bowled years ago, she just joined the senior citizen league this fall.

"It helps to occupy my time. When you are alone at home it gives you something to do to get out," said Bauer, a recent widow.

"It's time-consuming fun time. When you sit home, you get depressed."

There are four senior teams on the Tuesday league and five on the Friday league.

Participants have to be 55 and over to join, but most of the players are in their 70s and 80s.

Bowling burns about 192 calories an hour on a 150 pound person, and lifts the spirit immeasurably.

Cancer Awareness month is here...

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, dedicated to educating American women and their families about the importance of early detection of breast cancer. Early detection provides the best opportunity to treat breast cancer successfully.

Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer in American women: one out of eight women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime.

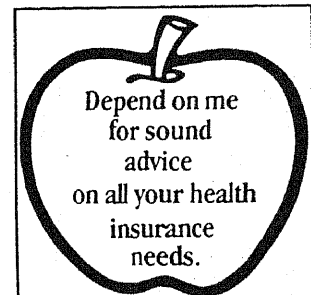

In 1994, over 180,000 new cases are projected and 46,000 women will die of the disease, experts say.

Every woman is at risk for breast cancer, and that risk increases with age. According to health officials, women should have a baseline mammogram at age 35.

From age 40 to 49, she should have a mammogram every one to two years and every year after age 50.

Women at high risk should have more frequent mammograms as recommended by their doctors.

The good news is that women have the best chance ever of conquering breast cancer through early detection - over 95% of all cases can be cured if diagnosed early through breast self examination, routine physical exams and mammography.

Keim joins private counseling, therapy center

By AMY HEIDEN
After six rewarding years as a therapist with the Tuscola County Community Mental Health Services, Bay Port resident Wayne Keim recently found himself without a job. A change in strategy and a move to cut costs by the Mental Health Services board meant that cases that Keim would normally have worked with would be going to therapists in private practice. At the same time, Dr. George McMillan, a licensed psychologist practicing in Marlette, found himself with more work than he could comfortably handle. The two men had a meeting of the minds and now they're both offering counseling and therapy at the Family Resource Center in Marlette, along with a full staff of social workers and therapist. Keim, who also pastors the Fair Haven Mennonite Church near Bay Port, says his new position allows him to offer counseling for those with mental, emotional or spiritual problems. "We work with individuals, families or groups," Keim

When he turned 40, he decided to return to school and earned his Masters of Social Work from the University of Michigan. Along the way, he's pastored the Fair Haven church for the past 17 years and with his wife Joyce has raised three children. He also worked for the Department of Social Services in Virginia and for Huron County's Community Mental Health Services. Working five days a week in Tuscola County didn't give him much time to offer his services in his home town, but his new job will, he says. "I want to be available to meet the psychological, spiritual and emotional needs of people," Keim said. "I feel like I have the experience and training to help. The training I've had gives me the ability to get to the heart of the problem and get some therapeutic intervention to help my clients get better." And because his new job requires him to be in Marlette only four days a week, he'd like to offer his counseling services to folks in the Western Thumb. He says he's hoping to open an office in the Pigeon Area. The Family Resource Center is available to churches and businesses to conduct seminars on stress reduction, Keim says.

The center offers a wide selection of self-help books and video tapes dealing with various topics, most from Christian writers and organizations. Keim came late to his career as a mental health professional, earning his bachelor's degree from Eastern Mennonite University in Harrisonburg, Va.

chial tubes and lungs that can make a person feel ill. Common symptoms include fever, chills and cough, with soreness and aching in the back, legs and arms, experts at the Huron County Health Department say. These symptoms last only a few days, although some individuals may become seriously ill and die from the flu or its complications. Anyone may be vaccinated, although manufacturers usually produce enough vaccine to treat only high-risk groups, which include the elderly, children or adults with chronic health problems (asthma, emphysema, kidney, heart disease, diabetes, AIDS, etc.). Other people who may want to receive the vaccine are those who work with high-risk persons, such as hospital and nursing home staff and people who work with the public, for example, school personnel and retail clerks. The flu vaccine is usually considered safe, as it contains inactivated or dead viral strains. However, because it is manufactured from egg embryo, it can be dangerous to people who have a severe allergy to eggs. People who should NOT receive the flu vaccine include:

- anyone known to be allergic to eggs;
- anyone with a fever or other known infection;
- anyone known to be allergic to gentamicin or other certain antibiotics. Individuals who have been ill or who have been taking antibiotics for an illness should be free of symptoms prior to receiving the vaccine. Vaccine injections are available for a small donation on Thursdays at the Huron Health Department from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Oct. 27, Nov. 3, Nov. 10, Nov. 17, Dec. 1. Special evening hours from 5 to 7 p.m. are set on Tuesday, Nov. 1 and Nov. 15. The following outreach clinics are also set for these dates and locations: Wednesday, Oct. 26 — 1 to 3, Sebawa Community Center; Wednesday, Nov. 2 — 1 to 3:30, American Legion Hall, Caseville; Monday, Nov. 7 — 1 to 3, U and I Club, Port Austin. ## Photo studio goes on the road for shut-ins, home work

By MARY DRIER

Cheryl K's Photography of Unionville and Sebawaing has the answer to local portrait needs... and they'll come to you to prove it. The company has a mobile unit, which can travel to area homes to take pictures. "We can set up lighting in their homes for senior citizens who want an anniversary picture, for those who are handicapped and for those who want to be photographed with their pet or in their own backgrounds," said Cheryl K's owner Dave Rodriguez.

"We do this for those who can't make it to a studio for a picture, or for those who want to have a picture with their pet. Pets are more comfortable in their own home," he says.

"And it's for those who want to have their picture taken with a Christmas tree they decorated themselves, or whatever they want for their own background. "Some older people find our service fascinating because the Olan Mills Co. used to do setups in houses for family photographs a long time ago." Rodriguez brings a strong background of learning to his business. For several years, he worked for Olan Mills, Innovations and K-mart doing photography.

Besides the special mobile unit, he does weddings, anniversary, special occasions and senior graduation photos. And, he says Cheryl K's rates are competitive.

"I don't charge a sitting fee. I try to have fair prices everyone can afford," says Rodriguez.

"Some families can't afford senior graduation pictures. I

"You don't have to pay an arm and a leg for photographs. I like to have fun with what I do and to satisfy people," says Rodriguez.

For more information, call 883-3513.

Information, flu shots help get you through this season...

Flu and pneumonia together are the sixth-leading cause of death in the United States, and the elderly are especially vulnerable.

For those over 65, Medicare will now pay for flu and pneumonia vaccines. "Medicare Pays for Flu Shots" (Item publication 630A, no charge) is a new pamphlet from the Health Care Financing Administration, explains how the program works.

The pamphlet is written in a question and answer format, and explains how to use Medicare benefits to pay for your shots, including when and where to get them.

To order, write to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 630A, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

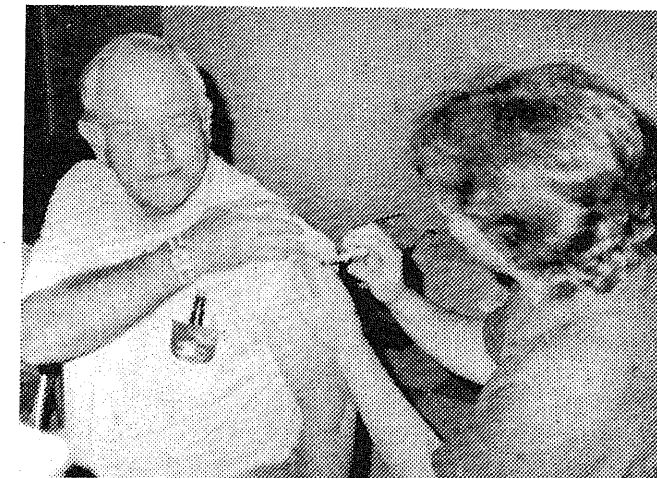

The Public Health Service recommends that you get the flu shot every year if you are age 65 or over. Even if you have had the flu, you need to protect yourself against each year's new strain. And, the best time to get your shot is in the fall—just before the flu season starts. The Public Health Service also recommends that everyone 65 and older get a pneumonia shot. However, unlike the flu shot, one pneumonia shot should protect for a lifetime. In 1990, 70,500 senior citizens died as a result of influenza and pneumonia, and studies show that only 40.9 percent of older adults living at home received influenza shots.

THIS WON'T HURT as much as having the flu does, so Pigeon resident Neil Libka is happy to get his flu shot when the Huron County Health Department held a Flu Shot Clinic at the Pigeon VFW last week. They'll be making stops in Sebawaing and Caseville this week, too.

Oct. 26 Health Fair in Bad Axe

Do you want to find out about your risk of heart disease? Do you have high blood pressure or an elevated cholesterol level?

If you're a man, what is your risk of developing prostate cancer?

A Health Fair for adults will help you answer these questions this Wednesday, Oct. 26 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Huron Expo Center in Bad Axe, sponsored by the Huron County Health Department.

Free cardiac risk assessment tests, prostate cancer risk assessments and blood pressure checks will be offered, and for a small donation, any adult may have blood drawn and tested for total cholesterol, including HDL, hematocrit and glucose. For an additional small fee, men may have a Prostate-Specific Antigen test, to help screen prostate cancer.

"Huron County ranks higher than the state average in people developing cardiovascular disease," according to Cindy Gentner, R.N. of the Huron County Health Department.

ment. "In Huron County, an estimated 50% of the 417 deaths in 1992 were directly attributed to cardiovascular disease."

Cancer also takes the lives of Michigan residents. In Michigan, 1,999 deaths in 1992 were reportedly due to prostate cancer and 1,597 were due to breast cancer.

Health statistics say that one out of every 10 men will develop prostate cancer by age 85 and one out of every nine women will develop breast cancer by age 85.

The American Cancer Society recommends that every man age 40 and over should have a digital rectal exam as part of his annual health exam. They also recommend that men over age 50 have PSA blood testing.

The ACS recommends that women have an initial mammogram at age 40 and a mammogram every one to two years for women age 40 to 49. They also advocate a monthly breast self-exam for women over age 20, saying that survival rates are continuously improving because of early screening.

At the Health Fair, appointments will be made for a free digital rectal exam of the prostate, provided courtesy of Dr. David Brickel.

Laker Blood Drive Halloween Monday

This Monday should be an easy date to remember to give blood.

After all, it's officially Halloween—and what could be more appropriate with all the Draculas and Crash Dummies out there trick-or-treating, to remind people there is an ever-present need for blood?

Laker High School students will be cooperating with the American Red Cross to sponsor a Laker Blood Drive this Monday, Oct. 31 from 1:30 to 6:15 p.m. at the Laker High School auditorium.

Students are being encouraged to donate blood, as well as adults in the community, as donors only need to be 17 years of age, weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good general health.

"Together we can make a difference in the quality of life in our community," says Lindsay Krueger, Student Council President at Laker High School.

It's the hire-wire act for these teeth!

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I had hoped that this day would never come that I would find myself soliciting charity.

At the 71st of my golden years, with enough physical impairments to burden a guy twice my size and half my age, I find a deep-seated jealousy.

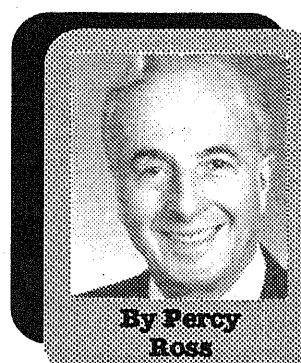

Did you know that felons receive four times what Social Security pays seniors, to incarcerate them in a manner befitting their previous lifestyle? Does that mean I'm four levels lower than streetcum?

I served my country in WW II and raised my family without charitable assistance. Now, after about 35 years of faithful service, my dentures refuse to eat the tougher cuts of meat I can afford.

Crisp vegetables and fruits inspire my dentures to leap into my lap. A nut roll can cause panic and public excavation. I look longingly at denture ads with prices out of my reach.

I don't relish crying on anyone's shoulder, so I'll propose a solution. An interest-free loan that would purchase a first class set of choppers whose limits you can determine.

Thank God for people such as yourself. Regardless of your determination, a man is never standing taller than when he reaches up with a helping hand

By Percy Ross

to his brother. — Mr. F.O., Columbus, GA

DEAR MR. O.:

That's why a gift — when properly given — can be referred to as a hand-up and not a hand out.

Now I'll propose my solution. Rather than a loan, how about a hefty down payment, for which you can make monthly payments to the dentist thereafter?

This way you can shop around, and if so desired, get yourself the Cadillac of dentures.

My check's in the mail along with a bag of caramels. The choice is yours — are you going to gum 'em or chew 'em?

DEAR PERCY ROSS:

I'm a 60-year-old recovering alcoholic. The power steering went out on my car and I ran through a fence and into a house.

I had been drinking, so therefore I got into a lot of trouble. It was my first offense but they "threw the book" at me.

My concern is getting a bicycle with a basket for shopping and going to counseling sessions. A used three-wheeler is $150, which I don't have at this time. Could you help me? — Ms. J.R., Larimore, ND

DEAR MS. R.:

Yes I can, but only because you're willing to help yourself. If you were still drinking I wouldn't give you a nickel, but because you're in recovery, I'll lend you $150. It's in the mail.

I say "lend" because I would like repayment in the form of 15 hours of community service.

Believe me, that's a small price to pay for the lives you endangered while driving intoxicated.

DEAR MR. ROSS:

I'm incredibly lucky and grateful just to be able to write you. You see, I've been ill ever since I was 11 years old, when emergency surgery to remove my entire large intestine triggered a degenerative liver disorder. It grew worse over the years, and even with several operations and massive amounts of drugs, I came close to death at the age of 25.

However, through the skill and dedication of many doctors and the infinite generosity of an unknown 19-year-old, I now have a new liver and a chance at a normal life.

Please, remind all your readers to get an organ donor card. Organ donation is literally a priceless gift. — Jerry Willis, Xenia, OH

DEAR READERS:

I don't do a lot of F.Y.I. stuff in this column because I'm not all that well informed.

However, this is one subject I have knowledge about. Several years ago, through your contributions, we raised over $200,000 for Lisa Howard so she would have the financial means for a heart and double lung transplant.

Had a donor not become available she never would have achieved the gift of life. Unless it conflicts with your religious belief, I encourage you to become an organ donor.

It's the ultimate in gift giving.

Hunting license delays?

Knowing requirements for purchasing a hunting license in the state where you plan to hunt can help avoid unnecessary delays or disappointment.

To purchase a license to hunt in Michigan, anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1980, must provide either proof of a previous Michigan hunting license or a Hunter Safety Certificate, indicating completion of a hunter safety course authorized by the Department of Natural Resources.

Anyone who has lost either of these documents may fill out a "Previous Hunting License or Hunter Safety Certificate Affidavit" to purchase a license to hunt in Michigan. These affidavits are available wherever hunting and fishing licenses are sold statewide.

Hunters should be aware that the "Previous Hunting License or Hunter Safety Certificate Affidavit" cannot be used to obtain a replacement Hunter Safety Certificate for purchase of licenses to hunt in other states.

For additional information on purchasing licenses to hunt in Michigan, contact your local DNR office.

USA Cub Scouts selling popcorn, pretzels now

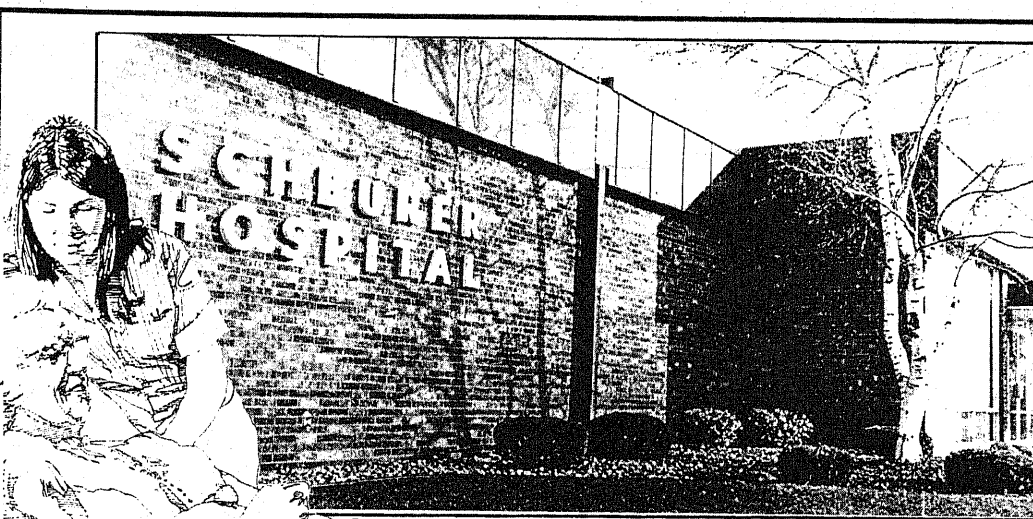

Unionville-Sebewaing Area Cub Scouts will be selling Trail's End popcorn and pretzels door-to-door in the USA Area now through Thursday, Nov. 17.

If a Cub Scout does not come to your house and you are interested in purchasing popcorn or pretzels, please contact Lynn Jahr at 883-3783.

Your continued support of local scouts is appreciated, leaders say.

Duplex open house coming Sunday at Country Bay Village

By SALLY RUMMEL
WANTED: Persons interested in enjoying the comforts of independent duplex living, without the hassle of home maintenance, lawn care, snow removal, etc. Call Country Bay Village Manager Linda Sobczak at 453-2188. If that was a classified advertisement, that's the message Country Bay Village would like to convey to people who may be interested in duplex living at Pigeon's new senior living community. With all but a handful of the congregate facility units spoken for, attention is now actively focused on encouraging people to give duplex living a try. "It's independent living at its best," says Dwight Gascho, Scheurer Hospital Administrator Dwight Gascho, who has overseen the Country Bay Village project from its conception to completion. "You have independence and privacy, yet the convenience of 'condo-type services' and access to even more services if you'd like them." Currently, one duplex has been built, with immediate occupancy available in one unit. Construction on several other duplex buildings is slated for spring, with footings expected to be poured yet this fall. Country Bay Village is opening its duplex for a special Open House this Sunday, Oct. 30 from 2 to 5 p.m. for people to come take a look at duplex living. For specific information on senior living at Country Bay Village, persons may contact Manager Linda Sobczak at 453-2188 or Dwight Gascho at 453-3223.

Helpful tips on surviving a c-o-l-d Michigan winter...

By JOANN YOTT, R.N. Geriatric Nurse Coordinator Huron County Health Department

Hypothermia refers to the body temperature being lower, usually four degrees lower than the normal temperature of 98.6 F (37 C).

Many Michigan residents would agree they know a lot about hypothermia or being downright cold. In reality, few individuals are aware of the symptoms of hypothermia, ways to treat it, or acceptable measures to avoid exposure to extreme cold.

Early symptoms of hypothermia may include drowsiness, mental confusion and pallor. In extreme cases, death may result if a person's exposed to extreme cold without protection.

Elderly persons with circulatory problems or other illness may become severely cold with their realization.

Maintaining body temperature requires dressing properly. In winter months, wearing layers of clothing versus bulky clothing is more effective to retain warmth. Wearing natural fiber (cotton or wool) layers of clothing consisting of long john underwear, T-necks, windshirts, sweaters, insulated vests, jackets, parkas, hats and gloves.

New polyester fibers for winter clothing are recommended and desirable because of the added advantage of being lightweight fabrics. A great deal of body heat escapes from the head—need we say more about the need for wearing winter hats?

Exertion, fingers, toes, the nose, ears and ears are the most vulnerable to frostbite. Keep circulation intact; in other words, keep moving! Keep vulnerable areas covered with warm clothing and use simple rewarming measures, like coming indoors.

Alcohol consumption during ice-fishing, snowmobiling and other outdoor sports should be prohibited for many reasons. The brandy that may "warm" all the way down, the alcohol it contains both reduces and wastes vital body heat. A warm home is necessary to prevent exposure to the cold and there are financial assistance programs and/or special arrangements that may be necessary to ward off having the gas company shut off one's heat.

Fireplaces, notorious for creating a cozy atmosphere, are a source of heat escape in most homes. Unless the fireplace is equipped with a tightly fitting glass door or heat-o-lator equipment, choosing NOT to use the fireplace may be a good measure to keep the warmth in the home on cold days.

Traveling during cold weather requires carrying special equipment in your vehicle. Be certain to pack a flashlight, blanket, extra boots/cap/mittens in your vehicle. Car phones with emergency service are another good item to have available in your vehicle.

Treatment of hypothermia involves medical attention and the gentle, gradual re-warming of the chilled body. Transport of the hypothermic individual to the nearest medical facility is important. During transport or while for professional help to arrive, do what you can to warm the person slowly.

Serve a warm non-alcoholic drink if the person is conscious and use lightweight layered coverings.

The very young, the very old and individuals with decreased circulation may need to take special precautions to keep from suffering from hypothermia and its effects.

Warm houses, warm vehicles, layered clothing, hats and no alcohol are among these measures.

In addition, this NOT very young, NOT very old person with terrific circulation has found a warm hug on a cold day to be another wonderful measure to survive a Michigan winter.

Here Come The Brides!

LePage - Buschlen

Lisa Lorraine Buschlen of Pigeon and William Sliker LePage, formerly of Elkton, were united in marriage on Saturday, August 6, 1994 at St. Francis Borgia Catholic Church at a three o'clock nuptial mass.

The Rev. Barney J. Janowicz officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Roger and Sally Buschlen of Pigeon, and the groom is the son of Francis LePage of Elkton and the late Bette LePage.

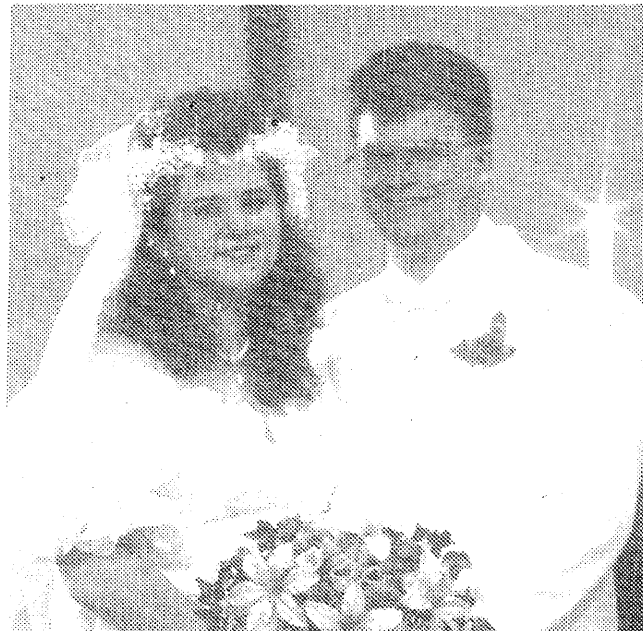

The organist was Janice Wurst of Pigeon and the pianist was Nola Kauffman of Elkton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown designed with re-embroidered schiffli lace which decorated her pearl edged portrait neck-line gown with a full skirt and scalloped lace border. Detachable gauntlets and a back peplum with a bow accented her full train.

Her face framed headpiece was decorated with pearl piping, alencon lace and sequins with three tiers of veiling.

The bride carried a bouquet of elegant casablanca lilies, bridal white roses and white alstromeria.

Brenda Buschlen of Pigeon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Other honor attendants were Renee Bushy of NY, Jodi Johnson of Kalamazoo, Kimberly Meyer of Seattle, WA and Jennifer Bollenbacher of Bay Port. They complemented the bridal ensemble by wearing a two piece floor length suit. The purple crepe jackets featured a fortunate

Hierholzer - Brooks

Aldersgate United Methodist Church, Midland, was the site of wedding nuptials spoken between Susanne E. Brooks, Bay City, and Craig W. Hierholzer, Midland, on Saturday, July 16, 1994.

The Rev. Dave Stout and Rev. Gloria Haynes officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Rev. Lawrence and Nancy Brooks of Saginaw, and the son of Lynne Hierholzer and Mike Debol, and Chris and Debbie Hierholzer, of Hale and Midland.

The bride's father Rev. Brooks gave the scripture reading. Special music was provided by Jeannine Coughlin of Saginaw.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. Cut-outs with lace in sets enhanced the gown which featured a ruffled bottom and train.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink lilies with white and fuchsia roses and hanging ivy with fuchsia ribbons, white pearls and lace ribbons. All flower arrangements were fashioned by the bride's mother, Nancy Brooks.

Deborah Hansen, Ann Arbor, was maid of honor for her friend. Bridesmaids were friends, Kimberly Betson of Sebawaing,

Aymen - Kociba

Mary Jo Kociba of Harbor Beach, and Richard Arthur Aymen of Bad Axe, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 27 at Our Lady of Lake Huron Catholic Church in Harbor Beach.

Father Edward Konieczka and Father Robert Handley officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Marvin and Phyllis Kociba of Harbor Beach. The groom is the son of Arthur and Nancy Aymen of Bad Axe.

Vocalists were Mary Jo Lovejoy, Paula Ginther, and Warren Ramsey, who also played the trumpet. The pianist was Tom Grills.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length romance satin gown. The gown featured an off the shoulder neckline, pouff sleeves, fitted bodice, with schiffli lace appliques and scattered pearls and sequins on front. A ball gown skirt fell from the basque waist and was edged with schiffli lace. A Dior bow and semi-cathedral train completed the gown. A contour floral wreath secured the silk illusion veil.

The bride carried an oval shaped bouquet of white roses, white fuchsia and pink sweetheart roses. Plumosa fern and white Stephanotis completed the bouquet. Kathy Kleinknecht, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Lori Kociba, Sara Kociba, sisters of the bride; Cathy Larson, sister of the groom; Dawn Ginther, cousin of the bride; Connie Aymen, sister-in-law of the groom Beth Kubik and Ann Natole.

Seating guests were Jason Brooks, Charleston, SC, nephew of the bride, and Adam and Nick Staudacher, Bay City, cousins of the bride.

The newlyweds greeted 150 guests at a reception held at the Bay City Fairgrounds Cantina. The wedding cake was made by Nancy Brooks and Tina Brooks.

The bride and groom are finishing a music education at CMU. Following a honeymoon to Traverse City and Mackinaw, the couple is making their home in Mt. Pleasant.

Welther - Smith

Kathrine P. Smith of Bad Axe, and Timothy S. Welther of Sebawaing, were united in holy matrimony at First Baptist Church, Bad Axe, on Saturday, July 30, 1994.

The Rev. David Plooster and Rev. Ronald Landenberg, uncle of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Paul Smith Sr. of Bad Axe, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Welther and the late Carol Welther, of Sebawaing.

Special wedding music was provided by soloist Mark Jacoby of Unionville and Leslie Welther of Jackson accompanied by Jenni Henderson, trumpeter Chris Olsen and flutist Grace Olsen, all of Bad Axe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white floor-length dress with an accordion pleated blouse with 3/4 circle skirt.

Her headpiece was a white wide-brimmed western style hat with tulle bow in the back. She carried white carnations and white asterias and greens.

Paulette Fagone of Elkton was matron of honor for her sister, Susan Crowley, Sedalia, MO, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Paula Andrews of Bad Axe, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Each was attired in peach and teal peasant-style blouses and broomstick skirts and carried fans and hearts decorated by the bride.

Jennifer Fagone of Elkton, niece of the bride, was flowergirl. Her dress was peach and white satin with matching hair bow and carried a princess-style basket of peach roses and white carnations.

Joseph Karl of Pigeon, friend of the groom, was best man, assisted by groomsmen Kenneth Brill II of Bad Axe and junior groomsmen Gary Fabone Jr. of Elkton. Corsages and boutonnières were fashioned by the groom.

Seating wedding guests were Donald Dorsch II of Owendale, cousin of the groom, Rebecca Andrews of Bad Axe, niece of the bride, and Dennis Robinson of Owendale, friend of the bride.

The ringbearer was Charles Fagone of Elkton, nephew of the bride. The newlyweds greeted 350 guests at a reception at Knights of Columbus Hall in Pigeon.

The bride is a student at Detroit College of Business, Caro Campus. The groom is employed at Restaura Dining Service, Saginaw Division, Saginaw.

Following a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Ontario, Canada, the couple is making their home in Sebawaing.

If you ever wondered what happens behind closed doors of a jury room, here's your chance to find out. USA High School Drama Department will present "The Jury Room" on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 18 - 20 at the high school.

The story, written by C.B. Gilford, revolves around the 12-person jury of a murder trial.

How they go about deliberating, resolving their differences and coming to a unanimous decision makes an interesting story, members say.

A fall play is a departure from the traditional USA spring play, mainly because rehearsals should not be affected by bad weather in the fall. Practices for "Deadwood Dick" (1993-94) were cancelled eight times because of snow.

Strieter - Westendorf

Rachel Westendorf of Hartford, WI and Brian Strieter of Sebawaing, were united in holy matrimony at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Saginaw, on Saturday, Sept. 10, 1994.

Parents of the couple are Daniel and Eunice Westendorf of Hartford, WI, and Paul and Diane Strieter of Sebawaing.

Special wedding music was provided by soloist Cheryl Haag of Milwaukee, accompanied by Wendy Malone of Saginaw.

The Rev. Daniel Westendorf officiated at the service and gave his daughter in marriage. The bridesmaids were Amy Miller, Bay City; Penny Lecker, Wyoming, MI; Cori Einhardt, Vassar and Jennine Smith, Garden City.

The groom is a mechanical engineer at GM, Saginaw Division. Following a honeymoon to Tennessee - Gatlinburg, the couple is making their home in Frankenth.

Robison - Ackerman

The home of Tom and Sharon Robison was the site of the wedding nuptials spoken between Cari Ackerman of Unionville and Brody Robison of Dimondale on August 20, 1994.

The Honorable Judge George Economy officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Duane and Ann Ackerman of Unionville, and the son of Tom and Sharon Robison of Dimondale.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a dress of silkessence, overlaid with iridescent lace falling into a handkerchief hemline trimmed in bridal lace. The bodice was covered with pearls, sequins and iridescent beads. Appliques adorned the dropped waist and neckline.

The long lace sleeves were trimmed with bridal lace and pearl buttons. The bride chose a chose a fingertip veil trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and teal-tipped carnations, baby's breath and lace with ferns and beads.

Terry Martinez of Sebawaing, was maid of honor for her friend. Her gown was teal taffeta overlaid in iridescent lace trimmed with pearl appliques. Her dropped waist fell to a handkerchief hem trimmed with lace and she carried a Bible with a spray of white roses and carnations trimmed in teal.

Hilary Ortnor of Unionville, niece of the bride, was flowergirl, carrying a basket of rose petals which were strewn as she walked.

Steve Culver of Lansing was best man for his friend. Seating wedding guests were Scott Robison and Doug Robison, brothers of the groom.

The newlyweds greeted 150 guests at a reception held at the home of the groom's parents. The bride is employed in the accounting department of Greene's Department Store and is also attending CMU.

The groom is employed at Bill Knapp's Restaurant and a student at Lansing Community College.

Following a honeymoon to Mackinac Island and northern Michigan, the couple is making their home in DeWitt, MI.

USA Drama Club has 'Vision' for Christmas

The annual Christmas play to be presented by USA High School Drama Club is called "The Vision."

This version of the story was written by William Grandgeorge. The publishers give credit to the original author in these words, "He (Grandgeorge) is indebted to someone who told him this tale when he was a small boy."

In its original form, this play will be involved in one-act play competition with other schools and/or possibly debate.

Proceeds from the major play go to the Drama Club Scholarship Fund. In the spring, USA students will be involved in one-act play competition with other schools and/or possibly debate.
