On the morning of the 30th it was found that the enemy, not being able to enter or pass through or near Huntington was making a detour, intending to reach Lexington. Gen. Sullivan, late that evening, ordered Col. Dunham's 2d brigade to march forward and intercept them. He started and marched nine miles to Clarksburg, where he bivousched during the night, and early next morning moved to Parker's Cross Roads. At this point were concentrasted the whole of Forrest's forces, the General himself in command, Their number is since ascertained to have been at least 7,000.
