The credit system is sounder than in the past, and the houses which survived the long period of depression previous to 1878 or 1879, and those which have since been established, have a more solid basis of capital than was usual before. There is nothing to provoke anxiety in the records of failures, the number of which is not great,

Somehow, the vision of the little parfor without Mollie's lively chatter did not seem to strike him very favorably; per haps this was why he tossed the paper to the other side of the room and obedian ently promised to listen. Mollie perched herself on one arm of his chair and com-

John Ackerman laughed long and "Match-making, by Jove!" he said at last. "Miserable yourself, and want everybody else to be; is that it, Mol-

"Don't laugh, John, for Γm in earn-est. I know they will like each other, and I have set my heart on the match; just think how nice it would be to have Amy here always; and Tom is such a darling! Amy should furnish her parlor just like ours, only where there is blue hers should be cardinal, for she is dark, you know."

John was laughing again by this time and it took considerable management to reduce him to order. This once accomplished, he fell in with the plan readily

"I tell you what it is, Mollie; you don't want to say a word of this to Tom or Amy, or they will take a dislike to each other immediately."

"I know it," wisely rejoined Mollie.
"When I told Tom I was going to visit Aunt Hetty I did not mention Amy's name, I have been with her so little since I was married that I am sure I never spoke to her of Tom."

'Well, see that you don't do so now; you couldn't mention his name without oraising him to the skies, and she would see through your plans at once."

Mollie departed the next morning, leaving directions enough to distract a man if he tried to remember half of them. John did not try; he only had a confused recollection of something to be done with plants, silver spoons, canary birds, etc. Jenny, the servant, would know all about it, he reflected.

"Don't have Tom at the house when . we return," was Mollie's last injunction. "Amy will be tired with the journey, and I want her to have a chance to beautify a little before she meets him." When they reached the depot Mollie's courage began to fail.

said. "Suppose something should happen to you while I am away?"

"Tonsense, darling! Go and have a good time; and be sure and come back in two weeks and bring Amy with you." Mollie's heart was so thoroughly in her pet plan that she found it very hard to refrain from all mention of her adorable brother-in-law during the two weeks that followed; once she did refer to the _cozy party of four which they would make, and then was obliged to turn it off on Jenny, the little maid-ofall-work, as making the fourth.

The day before Mollie was to return, Aunt Hetty fell ill. A nervous attack, she called it, but Mollie privately pronounced it contrarings. Aunt Hetty declared she must die if left alone with the servants, and Amy felt obliged to postpone her visit for a few days at least. Mollie could go on as she had intended, and she would follow as soon as Aunt Hetty could spare her. Thus it happened that Mollie arrived home

Hark! what was that? Only the silver-toned clock, striking the midnight hour.

"That woman's talk about burglars has made me nervous," she thought, continuing her search for estables.

Hark, again! Surely that was a key turning in a lock; then a door opened and shut quietly, and there were foot-steps in the hall. Amy's small stock of courage went down to zero. What would happen next? Instinctively she grasped the poker lying on the range near her. The next instant the door opened, and a great broad-shouldered man with blackened face and hands stepped into the room. Amy felt herself growing white with fear, but she raised her poker

Then came a hearty laugh which reassured Amy a very little. Certainly this was a most extraordinary burglar, or else there was some ridiculous mis-take. She would flee to Mrs. Gates' protection at all events, she thought, dropping her weapon and tugging away at the huge bolt with trembling fingers, ourage began to fail.

By this time the young man had finished his ablutions, and presented quite

In the Harvest Field.

Last Monday we took time and Hellum's gray horse by the forelock and wont out to the farms of Messrs. McCarty and Ballow, who had just purchased one of the celebrated Duckeye Twine Binders. D. J. Brown, the local agent, sold the machine and, assisted by Mr. J. Briggs, the traveling state agent, set it up and started it. Three rounds were make in the twenty acre field of May wheat, unevenly planted and ripened, but not a bundle was missed or slighted. Everything worked perfectly and those who witnessed the movements were delighted with the machine. Several other makes of Binders were working in adjacent fields, and parties who had seen them all at work said the Binders were ple, takes up a third less room, and is more easily operated than any other Binder. We much prefer the Buckeye Binder to any other machine. It runs as easily as a dropper, and saves the labor of five 'men'. We also saw a Buckeye Dropper, that was doing excellent work on Mr. Richardson's farm. Aultman, Miller & Co., Akron, Ohio, Texas headquarters at Dallas, manufacture very superior machinery, and all their machines are deservedly popular.

Mr. H. C. Fugle, - DEAR SIR

ALTON, Ill., May 17, 1532.

We started new Twine Binder yesterday, on farm of Thos. Woods, on American bottom, in heavy, green wheat, part of it badly down and tangled. In cutting nearly one-half acre the Binder never missed a single bundle, making a nice, clean separation, both Harvester and Binder doing its work to perfection. We put the machine to the most severa test possible, the wheat being heavy enough to take a bundle about every eight feet, and while it tested its capacity to the utmost, neither Harvester nor Binder developed a single weak point. Yours truly, MILNOR, AUTEN & CO.

1. S.—Two farmers present to witness the test. Both gave us their orders for Buckeyes. M., A. & Co.

The Buckeye Harvester and Binder No Experiment.

BOCK HILL, York Co., S. C., May 11, 1892. GENTLEMEN:—I have purchased one of your Miller's Buckeye Wire Binders, and worked with it to my entire satisfaction. In my opinion, it settles the question of making bread at Home, and solves the problem of how to make our country prosperons. It supplies labor with thoughtful methods, offers a premium to intelligence, and will make our farming community more independent.

Yours Respectfully.

IREDELL JONES.

Non-Explosive, No Heat.

The Safety Reservoir, Universal Favorite, Most Successful. Self Generating Burner, Perfection in Operation.

We take pleasure in presenting in the above cut one of the most popular designs, the THREE BURNER, HOME COMFORT, VAPOR STOVE. It is marvelous improved over all others, and probably unequaled by anything in the market for extent of Top Surface and general operation. The specialties and prominent features of these Stoves are convenience, comparatively no heat, except what is utilized. Safety and Durability, Perfection in ease of Operation, can be started in less than two minutes; a gallon of water will boil in twelve minutes. Cooking for large families can be done at a less expense, also Washing, Ironing and Baking than in any other Stoves or Ranges. We would call special attention to the FAIRY OUEEN, in every way equal to other Stoves, but much smaller, being a perfect little daisy, and the latest thing out. No household is complete without one of these Stoves. They must be seen in operation to be fully appreciated.

Who always is ahead with anything that is practical, and this time he has it sure, 'The DANGLER VAPOR STOVE

As far ahead of the Oil Stove, as the common stove is of a fire place. The public are invited to call and see the wonder boil and bake, and especially do we invite those who are contemplating buying a summer stove, as it is the only stove that will do all that any stove can do, and at one-half the expense and without heating the room at all. We have also added to our immense stock, a full line of FINE TOOLS, for Carpenters' and Cabinet Makers' use, and we invite all to come in and examine whether they want to buy or not, as it is a pleasure for us to show such goods, and it is worth the time to look at them, as some time they may want, and then they will know where to find them Our stock in general never was more complete in all departments, and especially in Wind Mill Supplies, we have the most complete stock in the county. We have all sizes of Pipe from 1/2 in. to 4 inches, and Fittings to match.

We are sole agents for many of our goods and they can't be found anywhere else in the city. We will name a few of them: First, the above Stove, J. W. Massury & Son's Paints, (the oldest and best paint makers in the United States) the Kelley Steel Barb Wire, the only wire that will measure 161 feet to the ib. The Parker & Whiffle patent Door Knob, the only knob that can be used with a mortise lock on an inch door, and others too numerous to mention, but space will not admit of it. We shall be us we have been in the past, Headquarters for Screen Doors as we have on hand now over 100 all ready to sell.
