A Frenchman draws attention to the use of calcined earth as a litter. He covers some branches with clay, sets them on tire, and the earth is baked. It must i then be kept under a shad to prevent absorption by humidity. In the caleined form, the absorbent power of clay is naturally augmented. In that state it is better fitted also to make gases. It is more suitable for a sheep than a cattle shed, and when employed in the latter case a slight sprinkling of straw will be an improvement. The best litter is that which will absorb most urine. It is not wise to leave all these things at home, and then criticise the Exhibition because you can say, "We have better things at home." To go and take things to the Fair is not enough The Exhibition should become a school at which all exhibitors and visitors make a study of the implements, cattle, poultry, fruit, grain, etc., that are there. A farmer may owe his success in growing some crop to the knowledge gained at a town Fair. The farmer that has a real pride in the farm will take great interest in the local Fair, and will exhibit the best products of farm life in the boys and girls who are interested exhibitors at the Fairs. Farewell, dear one, pure and lovely. , How dear thou wast no tongue can tell How we shall miss thee! Oh how lonely Is the home where thou didst dwell, Sad and weeping now we leave thee.

But no sorrow now can grieve thee, For thou *leepest with the dead, But the hope that thou didst cherish When with sorrow thou didst meet,

Now sustains us in our anguish While we part with one so sweet, But a bright and radiant morning Soon shall burst the dreary tomb. Then immortal thine adorning, Thou shalt wake to faleless bloom, A glad reunion then forever May amend our broken band If we all but strive together To obtain that better land, BERRINGTON, Aug. 19th, 1862.

"What shall we do?" asked Faith. "Why, go, of course," said Marmaduke Bourne. "To show that we bear no malice at being disinherited, if for no other reason."

The seventeenth of March arrived a ioned swallow-tailed coat, with a huge pair-of surprisingly white kid gloves. "Have you brought your white frock?" was his first question to his niece. "No. uncle, I—"

"That won't do," said Uncle Nahum. 'No one must come to my wedding without a marriage garment. It's lucky I provided one for you. Come up-stairs, quick, and put it on, for the parson is waiting and the company are here."
"But, uncle, the bride?"

"You shall see her by-and-by," said Uncle Nahum, despotically. "Come up-stairs now and change your dress." "But, uncle, a white silk!" cried Faith, looking in dismay at the glistening dress laid out for her use.

"What then? Isn't white silk the thing for a wedding? Put it on quick, and I'll send some one up to bring you down in five minutes." And so, with a doubting heart, Faith Nixon robed herself in the white dress,

Death of Senator Ben Hill

Senator Benjamin Harvey Hill died at Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 16. He was born in Jasper county, Ga., Sept. 14, 1823; graduated from the state university in 1844, and entered the legal profession the following year. As a lawyer he attained great eminence. In 1851 he was elected "A wedding! At his house!" cried to the legislature from Troup county. Ga.; in 1851 was defeated for congress; in 1856 was elector at large on the Fill-more or American party ticket; in 1857 was run for governor by the same party and defeated; in 1859 was returned to the state senate as a union man, and in 1860 was run as an elector for the state at large on the Bell-Everett ticket. In January, 1861, he was a member of the secession convention, and was an earnest advocate of the union until the concold, blustering night, and the old red brick house was all in a glimmer of lights as the young betrothed pair drew up to the door. Uncle Nahum met them on the threshold, in his old-fashvention passed a resolution of secession, he remained until the close of the war. white camelia in his button-hole and a He was arrested for treason at his home, La Grange, Ga., in May, 1865, and confined in Fort Lafayette, New York, until the following July, when he was released on parole. He supported the Greeley presidential movement in 1872, and was defeated in an election of United States senator in Langary, 1879, but was and senator, in January, 1873, but was successful in 1877. He has been in rapidly declining health, owing mainly to cancer in the tongue, for some time.

DEATH OF GEN. DUCROT.-Paris, Aug. 17: Gen. Auguste Alexander Ducrot, the eminent soldier and politician, died this morning, aged 85. Gen. Ducrot was a na-tive of Nevers and served with distinction in the Italian campaign of 1859. He commanded a division at Sedan, and refused to sign the capitulation treaty. Escaping from prison he took an active part in the defense of Paris. He was a member of the national assembly in 1871, and was placed in command of the eighth army corps in 1872. He was the author of several military histories.

Ex-Senator Conkling, counsel for the Northern Pacific company, called at the department of the interior Monday on business in relation to the examination of the completed sections:

> The hop crop of the United States indicates a small rate of yield, about 365 pounds per acre on over 30,000 acres reported in New York. The total acreage of the state now slightly exceeds 40,000 acres. The indications point to a product of not more than 93,000 bales of 280 pounds in that state. The area of the Wisconsin plantations has decreased. The breadth of Pacific coast crop has increased, with present conditions.

As the senator was departing the secretary was told that he had promised to give the same place to a poor woman. He informed the senator at once of the prior promise, and, in reply to every argument, said: "I could not break my word for all the influence in the country.

DON CAMERON'S BAD LUCK. Senator Don Cameron is called upon to pay $10,000 as indorser for that amount for the late Senator Burnside on a note the latter substituted in bank for stock which he had deposited as security for a loan, but which he withdrew a few days before his

> THE HENNEPIN CANAL Secretary Lincoln has ordered the engineers to begin at once a survey for the Hennepin canal. It is hoped by its friends fact that but a few of the late appointees hat the engineers' report will be here when congress meets again. An attempt will be made to sertire an appropriation of $500,000 for the first year, and of a like sum annually for years to come. There will be a bitter fight ir congress over the appropriation, which will be demanded if the Hennepin canal people succeed in getting h favorable report from the engineers. It is quite probable that the scheme may be killed then.

President Gaffield's Il ness made their report, in which was a list of White House employes entitled to a couple of months extra pay, the name of Private Secretary Brown, at his own raquest, was omitted, but in the new list, filed by Representative Davis, of Illinois, with the Board of Audit, Mr. Brown's name appears with those of the other employes as entitled to three months' extra pay. Steward Crump, who was taken dangerously ill while serving as one of the nurses, and paid out, as he claims, $600 in doctors' hills and medicine, is put down simply for three months' extra pay, though the Congressional Committee allowed him $2,000 in consideration of the injury sustained by his health. It is probable that his friends, and Crump himself, on the advice of his physician, being now in Europe, will present claims for the payment of at least a sum sufficient to pay his doctors' bills.

AN IMPORTANT WORK. Congress authorized an important work at the last session-a classified. and descriptive catalogue of all government publications from the foundation of the gov-ernment to the present time. The index is to cover publications made by all the-departments, bureaus and offices of the government, and is expected to be an exhaustive and complete statement of all public documents. The work will involve laborious and intelligent study, for no complete library of public documents exists. congressional library has perhaps as good a set of public documents as can be found, and fairly complete sets are possessed by the state and public libraries of the country, and by two or three of the best private collections. No one who has not had occasion to examine the subject knows how extended is the list of publications. The transactions of congress and the routine publications of departments occupy only a comparatively small part, though these constitute the most important part, perhaps, of collections. The act provides for its completion under the direction of the joint committee on printing, who have entrusted ing committee and otherwise eminently qualified for the task. He will devote most

'American provisions are now sold in every city, town, village, and hamlet in this district, and in view of the fact that swine fever is now prevalent, and hogs are being slaughtered in large numbers to prevent its spreading, American bacon and hams will e in increased demand, and the price considerably advanced. The swine fever has been in this district in some localities for the past two years, and during that time every means has been tried and used to prevent its spreading. It has now increased to such an alarming extent that a royal commission has been issued to inquire into the cause and devise means to prevent its spread, and if possible stamp it out. This and the adjoining county of Berkshire are both noted for the number and breed of hogs, and this disastrous fever will have a distressing effect on the bacon market. The London market is supplied largely from this district with its fresh pork and bacon. It is generally supposed that the public market for swine in this and other cities will be closed in a short time. A number of hog-breeders have been served with notice to keep their hogs confined to their own premises, and to use every means to cleanse and fumigate the same. We can not hope for a supply of bacon from any-where but the United States, and the demand in the near future must be very large.

In the pension office the work since the Increase of force was made has begun as if anew, and at the rate of progress now being made a decided gain upon the scores of accumulated cases will soon be apparent. The impression has been created from the were females that the heads of departments were discriminating against women. This is a mistake. The larger number of those appointed were assigned to work as examlúers. This is work requiring frequent consultations with different officials, and because of the nature of the work, calling for discussion of diseases and ailments con tracted by soldiers, cannot be considered in a family circle. That explains why the appointees were mostly males. BALSAN OF TOLU Has always been one of the most important weapons wielded by the MEDICAL FACULTY against the encroachments of COUGHS, COLDS, BRONGHITIS, ASTHMA, SORE THROAT, CHEST and LUNGS, but it has never been so advantageously compounded as in the TOLU, ROCK and RYE. Its soothing Balsamic properties afford a diffusive stimulant and tonic to build up the system after the cough has been relieved. Quart size bottles, Price $1.00.

CAUTION I Do not be deceived by dealers who try to palm off Rock and Rye in place of our TOLU, ROCK AND RYE, which is the ONLY MEDICATED article—the genuine has a Private Die Proprietary Stamp on each bottle, which permits it to be sold by Druggiste, Grocers and Dealers Everywhere,
