1883. FRESH AND NEW, 1883.

FOR 1883. For the coming year the Farmer will be kept up to its present standard of excellence, and new and intere-ting features added to it as they become necessary. We are determined that Michigan shall be represented by as good an agricultural paper as a published in the country. The Agricultural and Horticultural Departments, with everything permining to the fagm the orchard and the garden, will be in the hands of practical men THE MARKETS for produce and live stock will plusys have our best efforts, and form one of the most important features of the PARMER. The VETERINARY DEPARTMENT has proved a great success both as a matter of in terest to readers and as a valuable help to owners of stock, and will be continued under the charge of Prof. Robert Jennings, who has a pational reports tion as a veterinarian

THE HOUSEHOLD has proved of much interest the past year, and wall be continued under the management of Mrs. R. F. NEW CORRESPONDENTS.

A number of new writers have been engaged for the coming year, and will disuss all matters of in terest to farmers

The British Unicorn.

Signification of the unicorn in the British coat-of-arms, etc. The unicorn is described by Ctesias, the Greek historian, as a native of India, B. C. 398. Aristotle speaks of it under the appelation of the Indian ass, B. C. 834. As a mythological figure the unicorn has 1603, be adopted the figure of the unicorn, with the hon, to support the royal arms, the supporters of the Scotch arms being two unicorns. In early history the national emblem of England was the rose, of Scotland, the thirtle, of Ireland, the shamrock, or three-leaf clover. When England claimed Ireland and Scotland, these three were united on Scotland, these three were united on the Thomason, author of "The Witchery of Archery" time of Queen Elizabeth. On a victory over France, the symbol of France, a unicorn, was also added, the unicorn wearing a chain to denote the subjection of Prance to England. When a tion of France to England. Lee. In answer to a question how this amount would be reached, he said that a statement of the value of the estate at the time it was taken possession of by the United States should be called for from those acquainted with the property, and that an estimate of the tossible rents and profits from that time until Dr. J. Dorman B. Eaton and Orlando B. Potter, of the Civil-Service Reform association, are here in the interest of the Pendleton bill.— They are decidedly in favor of this bill as against all its competitors. The Kasson bill strikes them as an ingenious attempt at how not to do it. The limitation of the period for which a clerk is to be appointed is at variance with the principles of reform. The effort to introduce the new system all over the country at once is undertaking too much and is liable to fail. The provisions about removals are unnecessary, because if politiremovals are unnecessary, because if politily stopped, and fears of suffering among the poorer classes of both races are felt among the people.

It is believed that peace has been restored among the roads entering St. to let someone else in. The beauty of the Pendleton bill, according to these gentlemen, is that it is perfectly simple. It undertakes to inaugurate the reform to begin with only in a four of the reform to begin with only in a four of the reform to begin with only in a four of the reform to begin with only in a four of the reform to begin the reformation to the reform to begin the reformation to the ref is said to have been dropped, the issue with only in a few of the principal offices, being on the formation of a pool or the and it is not incumbered with provisions about removals and the cause for which persons may be removed and the way in which it is to be done. Furthermore, the Kasson bill proposes to work through little indepenand made a tour of Europe, arrived in New York Friday. After visiting President Arthur, the distinguished guest will return by way of San Francisco.

The officers of Bellevue Medical college, in Boston, were arraigned before Commissioner Hallett for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. It was decided that the institution had issued of Massachusetts, and the defendants while the general management of one commission. Under all circumstances these gentlemen think the passage of the Kasson bill would indefinitely postpone any real reform of the service. The fixing of any perflow of time at the end of which the appointment shall expire, is inconsistent with the theory of a tenure for good behavior, but while the term of six years in Mr. Kasson's original bill is objectionable, the reduction of that to four by the committee is even which is impracticable. The work must be

THE CORN CROP. The December corn returns to the department of agriculture make a direct comparison with the product of last year. In November the yield per acre was reported, and in October last the report of the condition of the growing crop. The range of variation in the results of these three separate tests is but 3 per cent. With so slight a difference the tendency of accurate information is toward a reduction. The present and final returns aggregate in round numbers, 1,025,000,000 bushels. The permanent estimates will be punished after an analysis of all the records of the area, condition and production of the year, and a conscientious production of the year, and a conscientious adjustment of all the possible differences. The New England states show a product of 6,333,000, 1,000,000 less than last year, and 2,000,000 less than 1379. The middle states a well-known attorney and prominent secret society man, now at Washington as clerk of a Congressional committee, is charged, in collusion with the most of the secret secret society man, now at Washington as clerk of a Congressional committee, is charged, in collusion with the most of the secret secret secret society man, now at Washington Atlantic states 197,000,000, being 35,000,000 more than last year, and 25,000,000 more than last year, and 25,000,000 more than last year. as clerk of a Congressional committee, is charged, in collusion with the notorious Naven, with attempting to defraud a widow out of a large part of her husband's insurance money.

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Memedies: First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with in-eressed ruberacient, silmulating, sociative and sociative irritant effects. Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession. Third. Because they are the only plasters that rallers Dain at once.

Fourth. Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve. Fifth.

Because over 2000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use, sixth. Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.
