DR. PERGELLY:

Detr Sir:—I am more than pleased with the effect of your Zoa-Phora in our daughter's case. I am surprised to see how she has improved. She is gaining in weight and color, and I think feels better than she ever did; her narves are steady, and the distress in her chest is entirely gone. I firmly believe that Zoa-Phora is all that has saved her life. I am willing you should use my letter, for I am willing you should use my letter, for I am willing you should use my letter, for I am not afraid to tell what a wonderful curry your medicine is. Yours respectfully.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER was the first preparation perfectly adapted to care diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfilment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables. them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

For example, not long ago some young) friends were visiting us, and I told a colored man who works for me to go out and see if be could not kill a deer He started about 4 o'clock in the after noon and returned for supper, having killed four does of the black tailed ×γ•ecie∢, ``

Mr. Hutcheraft had with him several specimens of deer antiers that were very handsome. Among them was a pair firmly locked together. These he took from the carcasses of two deer he found dead in the mountains. They had evidently engaged in a fight, and their horns becoming locked they had i starved to death, unable to free themselves. They were locked firmly, and could not be pulled spart without breaking.

He had with him all sorts of relies noticeable among them were some specimens of pottery made by a former race of people that inhabited that country. Also two cups without handles. about three or four inches in diameter across the top. They were made of a brown clay. One of them was painted black inside, and all glazed over the paint much after the style of the underglaze work of the present day. They were all polished fairly on the outside, and the one painted on the inside was, highly polished. He also had a cup with a handle about four inches long. It was also fancifully decorated with black stripes woven together in a neat design, and on the handle was a molded sorpent. All these specimens he said, were taken from the ground ten feet below the surface. In contrast with these he had a specimen of the pottery made by the Pueblo Indians. It was much of the same design in shape, but the ornamentation was crude and inartistic. The clay, too, was of a yellow color, and was not glazed like the other. In fact, he said, clay such as the ancient specimens of pottery were HAY-FEVER ment will enre. made of could not be found in that country now. The houses built by these aborigines, he said, were models of masonry. They were true in their lines, splendidly built in every particular.
