—The Salvation Army have rented Phillips Hall, Owosso, and they threaten to root out the devil and all his works there.

—Mr. Benj. Rann is appointed postmaster at Morrice, vice John A. Morrice. Also, Lucien Clark, at Elsie, vice Elijah W. Cobb. There have been numerous other postoffice appointments in Michigan the past week.

A squash eighty-five inches in circumference and weighing 173 pounds is on exhibition at Brooklyn, Iowa. A farmer near Tolono, Illinois, found in one vine six pumpkins with a combined weight of 612 pounds.

A conference of leading lights of the Catholic Church will be held in Baltimore about the middle of November to discuss the methods of raising funds to establish a Catholic National University at Washington, D. C.

Francis J. White, a member of the Boston council, gave $10,000 bail when arraigned on the charge of secreting from his creditors $25,000 worth of hides. He declares himself totally innocent of the offense alleged.

The internal revenue collector at Louisville received $161,180 Monday for taxes on 4,472 barrels of January whisky in bond. This, it is claimed, is the largest amount of money ever taken in one day in any district in the union.

An expert appointed by the Canadian government to investigate reports of log cholera found an infected herd near a watering-tank on the Southern railway, where stock from the western states has been regularly fed and watered.

Edward E. Cooper, an intelligent young mulatto serving as a railway postal clerk in Kentucky, was arrested by an inspector, who found eighteen stolen letters in his valise, among them four decoys addressed to banks and lotteries.

A. L. Mellen, a hotel manager in Baltimore, is to be arrested on a charge of conspiring to secure the murder of his son's wife. The woman captured in Boston as a party to the crime is Mrs. Emma J. Cooldge, who keeps a fashionable lodging-house.

The circuit court of Daviess county, Indiana, in a suit brought to enforce the payment of warrants issued by the trustee of Reeve township for school supplies, decided that as it was not averred that the goods were necessary or suitable, the plaintiff could not recover.

Edward Hanlan, the oarsman, smarting under his defeat last Saturday, takes revenge by complaining about the praise given by the public to Courtney and Teemer, and charges that the latter purposely lost four or five races when his friends had backed him liberally.

George Summers, Sr., who has been operating a rolling-mill at Niles, Ohio, made an assignment Saturday, owing his employees two months wages. The enraged men made him a prisoner in his office, and they declare that he can not enjoy freedom until he secures their claims.

A limited express train on the Lake Shore road collided with a freight train near Delta, Ohio, wrecking both locomotives and badly injuring an engineer named Sparklin. Several cars of mail were destroyed by the accident on the West Pennsylvania road, near Pine Creek.

Encouraged by the success of a portion of their tribe last winter, the Indians on the Chippewa reservation are making extensive arrangements for logging. Their work last season is said to have been the best, and they labored unremittingly through the coldest weather.

In the office of the Philadelphia Press, during an altercation, the colored janitor seized a hatchet and fractured the skull of Robert J. Cook, treasurer of the company, inflicting a fatal wound. The injured man was a son-in-law of Calvin Wells, the chief stockholder in the newspaper, and for years was captain of the rowing crew of Yale college.

The Utah commission reports having rendered it impossible for any man, living in polygamy to vote or hold office; yet it admits that nearly all the officers recently elected are Mormons by faith. The recommendation is made that no backward step in legislation be taken, but that homesteaders should be compelled to swear that they do not practice polygamy.

A gang of Italian laborers employed by the Massachusetts Central road sat side by side on a flat-car to be conveyed to their place of work. Near Oakdale a box-car had been left on a siding close to the main track, and nine of the laborers were swept off their seats by the obstruction. One of them has since died, and the remainder are in the hospital.

Some lumber operators in Maine will not receive men into their camps who have not been vaccinated. Quarantine has been established at Owosso by federal officials. The Montreal board of health has decided that sailors arriving in port shall not be allowed ashore without a certificate of vaccination. The deaths in that city within five days number 1,370.

The widow of General Grant has been greatly grieved and pained by the public discussion of the domestic affairs of her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Sartoris. The Public Leader of Philadelphia is authorized to say that all reports to the effect that Mrs. Sartoris has applied or contemplates applying for divorce or separation from her husband are entirely without foundation and cruel wounds to her feelings.

Laingsburg Gossip.

Laingsburg, Nov. 2, 1885.
The snow down the southern sky seems far to tell the good-bye to the warm days of autumn.

—Yes, we can wait the sun, and summer goes by, but we have got to stay here and take our chances for the next six months, said the young man as he deposited himself in my best office chair the other evening. "Why, I rather live in Labrador."

"Then go there," said I, "and not torment people who are satisfied to live here, and are prone to think this the best State in the Union."

A party of hunters headed by J. G. Marsh, of Shattsburg, left here last week Monday morning for the north woods. What they don't kill would fill a large car, and what they do would fill a very small car—cass.

The old man Weatherwax wandered down town one pleasant day last week, and as he stepped into the office, he laid his cane down on the piano and putting his hat on the marble top center table, knocked the ashes out of his pipe into the cuspidore. "Mornin'," said he, as he proceeded to fill his pipe, "Pears like a nice day."

"Very nice morning," said I, "take a seat."

"Did it ever occur to you," said the old man as he lit his pipe, "did it ever occur to you what a difference there is 'twixt the women of to-day and what they used to be? Now," said he as he settled into a chair, "take that old historic woman described in Mother Goose's Melodies:

"There was an old woman
And what do you think,
She lived upon nothing
But victuals and drink.

Victuals and drink
Were the chief of her diet,
And still this old woman
Could never keep quiet."

"Now-a-days," said the old man, "it is impossible to find an unmarried woman over twenty years old, and the married ones never get over forty! Sing 'lar ain't it? But then there was once an old woman, and what do you think? She lived upon nothing but victuals and drink? How long do you suppose one of our latter day ladies would live on that sort of food? Why, in the first place they've got to have a whole car load of affection squandered on 'em, and a pair of new shoes every sixty days. Then they want a $35 cloak every fall and a new silk dress and a patent process corset and four kinds of panniers or bustles—'er whatever you call it that makes 'em seem as tho' they were trying to improve on the Lord's plan of making women—and a new hat every sixty days, and they sometimes deprive themselves of what this old woman actually lived on in order to get these things. It seems, furthermore, that victuals and drink were the chief of the old lady's diet? She didn't require a mess of neighborhood gossip dished up at every meal, but was satisfied with ordinary food. But still the same everlasting long lingering eternity of trouble persistently clung to her—she 'could never keep quiet.' And that," added the old man as he gathered his hat and cane preparatory to leaving, "is frequently the ruination of a great many women as well as men, and if you'd take a little of this on your plate," he continued as he reached for the door knob, "it wouldn't hurt you any."

—Last Rites to Gen. McClellan.

The funeral services of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan were held on Monday at the Madison Square Presbyterian Church, in New York, Rev. Dr. Parkhurst officiating. With excellent taste and judgment Mrs. McClellan had decided that there should be no military parade. The pall bearers were: Gen. W. S. Hancock, Gen. Fitz John Porter, Gen. W. B. Franklin, Gen. J. E. Johnston, Gen. Anson G. McCook, Gen. Martin T. McMahon, S. L. M. Barlow, the Hon. W. C. Kelsey, Col. Edward H. Wright, Thacher W. Adams, William C. Prime, the Hon. A. S. Hewitt, John T. Agnew and W. C. Alsop. Behind the pallbearers followed Mrs. McClellan, Miss Mary McClellan and Max McClellan, Capt. Arthur McClellan, Gen. Marcy and the family servants.

The cortege was accompanied by the State Commandery of the Loyal Legion of the United States, and the representatives of the Irish Brigade which served under Gen. McClellan. Among prominent men present at the church were Gov. Abbott, of New Jersey, Gen. Lloyd Aspinwall, Whitelaw Reid, John Jacob Astor, Gen. Webb, Banks and others, also a U. S. A. R. Post, of which the deceased was a member. Outside the church the streets were crowded. The burial took place at Trenton. On arriving at Trenton the city authorities met the train, bells were tolled, a salute of guns was fired at the arsenal, and flags were at half mast. The last rites were simple, in accordance with the character and tastes of the honored dead.

—Bancroft Advertiser.

The Owosso Press is ever pressing to the front. A while ago it was a folder and pasted that ends and trims, and now it is a marvelous Otto gas engine that will take the place of the old steam power. How funny it would seem to read "Owosso Press Gas Prink."

County S. S. Association.

The twenty-seventh annual session of the Shiawassee County S. S. Association convened at the Middlebury and Shattsburg, Mich., Oct. 27, 1885.

—The morning session was devoted to stormy weather and had nearly two hours in attendance in the morning session, the afternoon session, which was held at 1:15 p. m., by Rev. Geo. H. Reynolds.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. B. Oliver, of Hesperia.

Business commenced by appointing committees for reporting and presiding. The Convention was then opened and warmly welcomed to Middlebury and Shattsburg by Rev. A. G. Blood, pastor of that church, and responded to in a very happy manner by Rev. Geo. H. Wilson, in behalf of the Convention.

At 2:30 p. m. Bro. Geo. P. Caster read a paper on the topic, "Developing the Missionary Spirit in our S. S. Why and How?" an excellent essay and did not hesitate to say, "one of the best we have ever had on that theme."

Committee on nominations was at once called covering as nearly as might be the sectional interest of the county. The Committee consisted of H. B. Dunning, Rev. G. H. Wilson, Geo. P. Caster, D. W. Hammond, Rev. J. B. Oliver, Rev. A. G. Blood, W. D. Castle.

At 2:35 p. m. the topic "S. S. Church" by D. W. Hammond, of Vernon, was well treated and brought forth lively discussion by numerous persons which was followed by a paper by Mrs. H. W. Randolph on the subject, "Elements of successful S. S. Teaching."

The question box disposed of four questions of much interest, after which the Convention adjourned till evening.

Evening Session called to order at 6:45 o'clock by our President, Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Thos. Stalker, of Owosso. Responsive service on programs was led by Mr. Stalker, closing with the Lord's prayer in concert.

After music by a class of little girls from Dennington, conducted by Mr. French, Rev. G. H. Wilson told us about "Who is Responsible for the Success of a S. S.?" Whoever has once heard one of Mr. Wilson's essays or sermons does not need to be told that it was right to the point.

Another song by Mr. French's music class and at eight o'clock Mr. Holman, after an introduction by Mr. Reynolds, presented that inexhaustible topic, "Amusements."

Music by the Maple River choir, consisting of a German song of excellent quality as to music—I could not judge of the words.

W. D. Castle then for our edification and instruction drew upon the Blackboard, National Bank, and a very pertinent illustration, with a question unanswered attached. The evening session closed with the answering and discussion of eleven questions.

SECOND DAY.

Morning session opened at 9:30 a. m. with an anthem by Mr. French's class. Devotional exercises were conducted by H. B. Dunning, followed by an anthem by the Middlebury choir.

Praise and Promise service conducted by Rev. Wm. Anderson was very interesting, contributing to the belief, "In the Shadow of the Rock," by little Lena Sherman, was very beautiful.

The Rev. W. M. Walton gave us an excellent talk on the subject, "The Teaching of the Times." Music, quartette by Maple River choir.

There were reports of the S. S. work from twelve of the sixteen towns in the county and the work is going on gaining in numbers and influence, both spiritual and financially.

Committees on nominations reported as follows: President, M. H. Reynolds; Vice President, J. B. Oliver; Secretary, Mrs. H. W. Randolph; Treasurer, C. P. Parkhill. The report was accepted and adopted.

The Convention was invited to hold its next meeting at the Disciple Church in New Haven, also at Shattsburg. After a lively discussion the latter place was decided upon.

Devotional exercises of the afternoon session were conducted by Rev. W. M. Walton.

Mr. Geo. D. Palmer gave us a very beautiful blackboard illustration representing the river Nile, the pyramids and adjacent scenery, followed by the Rev. J. B. Oliver with the topic, "Helping Scholars to Christian Decision." There were several excellent recitations interspersed which helped to make the meeting all the more enjoyable.

The following resolution was passed and as it comes from a body representing nearly five hundred Sunday School teachers and upwards of four thousand scholars, largely from the farming communities, who, while anxious to have the County Agricultural Society made a success, are fearful for their children and would rather not have a County Fair than endanger their youth, it will, we doubt not, have due weight with the officers.

WHEREAS, The drinking usage of society and the gambling spirit and tendencies of the times are deplorably prevalent and demoralizing, and

WHEREAS, We notice with regret and apprehension that certain lighter drinks, and gambling enterprises of various kinds are allowed on the grounds of our County Agricultural Society, therefore

Resolved, That we, the Shiawassee County S. S. Association, respectfully yet earnestly protest against the allowance of these sources of temptation and demoralization, or about our county fair grounds.

Resolved, That in the name, and for the sake of our children and youth whom we would shield from these temptations, we do hereby ask the Executive Committee of the County Agricultural Society, to discontinue the allowance of these sources of temptation and demoralization, or about our county fair grounds.

The Roses.

Down the lane where the roses grow,
And where the sunbeams play,
I saw a girl with eyes so blue,
And hair so golden gay,
Who smiled at me with a sweet smile,
And said, "I love you very true."
But when I saw her face so pale,
And saw her hair so gray,
I knew that she was old and true,<
And that she loved me just the same.
For in her eyes I saw the light,
And in her heart I saw the fire,<
And in her hand I saw the sign,<
That she was mine and I was hers.
And so I loved her all my life,
And she loved me all her life,
Till death did part us, and we lay,<
In separate graves, side by side,
Where the roses grow, and the sunbeams play,
And where the angels sing, and the saints pray.

North American Review.

Progress of Democracy in Europe.
The North American Review for November contains a number of interesting articles. The most notable is "Progress of Democracy in Europe," by Wm. L. G. Russell. This article discusses the political and social changes taking place in Europe, and the role of democracy in these changes. It also discusses the influence of the French Revolution on European politics, and the role of the United States in the world.

Harper's Magazine.

Harper's Magazine for November contains a number of interesting articles. The most notable is "The Hunt," by Sir Edward Landseer. This article discusses the history and art of hunting, and the role of the hunt in English society. It also discusses the influence of the hunt on literature and art, and the role of the hunt in the lives of the aristocracy.

The Domestic Monthly for November.

The handsome new cover of the Domestic Monthly gives it a very gay appearance. The November number is an exceedingly attractive one, it contains several exquisitely illustrated articles, notably one on "Central American Women," and several full-page engravings. The illustrations of the Domestic are acknowledged to be equal to those of the highest-priced magazines. The Fashion Department of the magazine is as complete as ever. Winter costumes for ladies, children and gentlemen are described and explained in that practical, helpful style for which the Domestic is noted. Everything is profusely illustrated. The Domestic is undoubtedly the best magazine for the money published for women. It is published at 853 Broadway, corner of Fourteenth street, New York, at $1.50 a year. For $2.00 the magazine one year and two new books, "Needlework" and "Knitting and Crochet," each with 200 illustrations of stitches and designs.

A Sensible Wife.

"Talking about sensible women," said the drummer, "I've got one of 'em. My wife is the most sensible woman that ever lived. I'll back her against all creation. When I go home and tell her of my little flirtations out on the road she takes the liveliest kind of an interest in them, and laughs at them as much as I do. She keeps a hired girl, and the last girl we had was a very comely lass. Now, you needn't laugh at me, but my wife once caught me kissing the girl, or the girl kissing me—I don't know which it was. I broke the poor girl all up. She went up to her room and got her things together, and was about to leave the house, when my wife asked her where she was going. The girl sniveled and said that after what had happened she thought she had better go.
"Nonsense," said my wife; "take off your things and stay right here. You are just the girl I want. If both of us together can give him enough kisses to please him and keep him home evenings I shall be happy."
"The girl stayed, and that is what I call a sensible kind of a wife, don't you?"—Chicago Herald.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON:

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt., and the enclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. It gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I can easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. Phillips.

FROM THE FATHER:

"It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an itchy and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Ayer's Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882.

Yours gratefully, HIRSH PHILLIPS.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It cleans the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.
