On the first night out, just as my vis-a-vis at table was sitting down to dinner in the beautiful satoon of the City of New York, a steward stepped up to him and handed him a letter, saving: "With the captain's compliments, sir."

Every night this performance was repeated. Sometimes the captain himself presented the letter. It was mysterious and interesting. The gentleman who received the letter seemed to be greatly astonished when it came to him on the first occasion, but afterward he merely showed signs of en-joyment in reading its contents. He was a very delightful man and a great favorite at our table, but though everybody was dying to know where the letters came from, nobody had enough impudence to ask him.

But on the day before we reached New York I happened to be standing on the companion way with this gentleman when the captain presented the letter, and the former said, as he tore open the envelope; "Queeviden of my wife's, isn't it? She sent the captain seven letters addressed to me and asked him to deliver one to me every evening before dinner. She thought I would be glad to hear from her every day, and I tell you it has been one of the pleasantest events of the voyage, this mail delivery in mid-ocean. --Pittsburg Dispatch.

NEEDS OF THE LIGHTHOUSE BOARD. The light house board, in its annual report, renews its recommendation that steps be taken to prohibit private lights and buoys in the navigable waters of the United States, and it again asks that provision be made to enable it to establish inexpensive and temporary lights in cases of exigency and pending the action of congress. The board recommends a is, respectively, 38,035,659 and 7,269,742 modification of the statutes which now compel it to accept the lowest bid for do-ing work, no matter how unit or incompetent the bidder may be. The board re sents its recommendations that a new unilding be provided as quarters for the lighthouse heard, but reduces its estimate from $250,000 to $210,000 for this purpose. The estimates for general appro-printions amount to $2,222,500, and for special appropriations to $3,107,310. Among the items are the following: Completing pedestal statue of "Liberty," New | York harbor $50,000; Point Betsy (Mich.) light, $35,000; eleven-foot shoul light, Michigan & 0 900; debot for 9th district, $50,000, tender or 11th district, $85,000.
