Business Girls Entertain.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable affairs of College Hill society took place last Monday evening, March 18, when the Business girls gave an informal reception to the Business boys in the college library.

The room was artistically decorated with red and white bunting, the class colors. Each girl wore a white rose and as the boys entered a red rose was pinned on his coat lapel.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing games, and engaging in contests in which Miss Bement, Walter Walker and Merrill Davis succeeded in carrying off the prizes. Later in the evening the following program was rendered:

Reading—Mr. McCright.

Vocal Solo—Luther Walker.

Reading—Miss Ruth Trice.

Piano Solo—Mr. Fowler.

Reading—Miss Ruth Bickford.

Piano Solo—Miss Grider.

Vocal Solo—E. E. Newman.

Refreshments were served after which Miss Alice Groom who acted as toastmistress, introduced the speakers who responded to the toasts "Advice," Prof. Baker; "Encouragement," E. Anderson. At ten-thirty the girls dispersed in strict accordance with the ten-thirty rule.

Grace M. E. Church.

Sunday, January 8, was a great day for the Grace M. E. church. Sunday school. They had set the attendance for four hundred and was gratified by having four hundred and twelve in attendance. This has been a very successful year for the Sunday school and church. During the last three years the attendance in the school has doubled. The lack of room is one great drawback as about seventy-five have to meet at residences close to the church, but the crowd is taken care of quite well. This only proves that a new church is the only thing to relieve the disadvantages. The school is graded into the different departments, namely: beginners, primary, junior and senior. Each department having its own superintendent and teacher and the graded lessons are used throughout. The junior brotherhood class has over one hundred enrolled and there were eighty present last Sunday.

CUPID IN BUSINESS.

Commercialists Indulge in Valentine Party.

The students of the Business Department indulged in a Valentine party in the Pierian society-hall last Thursday night. About twenty-six were present. The hall was decorated with red paste-board hearts strung from corner to corner of the room. After all had arrived slips were passed about containing twenty questions, the first ten to be answered by words ending in "ice," and the last ten by words beginning with "pat." A fish-pond had been constructed behind the piano, and the guests secured all sorts of toys and trinkets by casting hook and line into its placid waters. Then each person was provided with a number of candy hearts and a bag. If anyone responded "yes" or "no" to any question asked him, he was required to give up a heart to the person asking that question. The one who had secured the most hearts at the end of a given time was awarded the prize, a large valentine. The winner was Walter Hodges. The booby prize was won by Lily Lindly. Partners were secured for supper by matching numbers on hearts. Refreshments were served at about ten-thirty.

Children's Day at Grace M. E. Church.

The Sunday school of the Grace Methodist church gave its Children's Day exercises yesterday morning at eleven o'clock. The program, which was probably the best of its kind ever given in Grace church, consisted of songs, recitations, and exercises by the primary and intermediate departments of the Sunday school. About seventy-five children took part in the various exercises. Those who had the program in charge are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts.

Business Academy.

Southwestern business college basketball team was pitted against the academy team at the gymnasium on last Saturday evening, and came out victorious with a score at the time 13 to 11. It was a closely contested game from beginning to end, and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested on both sides, but the business students seemed to be organized in better shape for rooting and encouraged our team on to victory. The business team is composed of Walter Hodges c, Guy Howard and Harry Coad g, Harold Bullock and Walter Dicken f, academy, Will Hodges c, Frank Fisher and Gardner g, Luther Walker and Albert Vaughn f.

Prof. E. E. Baker, Sunday school superintendent is "up against it." He has been promising the Primary department more room when the attendance in that department reached sixty. Last Sunday the attendance was seventy-one, and now it is up to the professor to fulfill his promise by enlarging the church, or otherwise. More room for the Sunday school is certainly needed for two classes are meeting regularly at private homes.

Y. M. C. A. MEN'S MEETING.

Every young fellow thinking of a business career may have the privilege of hearing expert testimony tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock. At that time Prof. E. E. Baker, principal of Southwestern Business Department will address the men on "Business and Religion."

For Miss Cora Morgan.

Last Monday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Yetter, on College Hill entertained at a six o'clock dinner for Miss Cora Morgan, who is home on a furlough from her missionary work in India. She was here from her home at Leon for the Sunday services at Grace M. E. church. A delicious dinner was served and with social converse the evening was a pleasant one. The guests besides Miss Morgan were Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Davis, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Beach, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. George, Prof. and Mrs. E. E. Baker and Prof. Ida Capen Fleming.

Miss Elma Yetter served the dinner. Miss Morgan is a very attractive woman with a pleasing personality and has made many friends here who wish her success in her chosen work.

GRACE CHURCH, WINFIELD.

Brother R. L. George closes up his first year in the pastorate of Grace church at Winfield in a very satisfactory manner. He was under quarantine with scarlet fever in the family for three weeks and thus his work at the close of the year was hindered somewhat. However, his collections are all full and he has taken one hundred and twenty-nine members into the church during the year. The Sunday school is in excellent condition under the superintendency of Prof. E. E. Baker. The young men's Bible class, taught by Brother George, numbers one hundred and eight members. The Brotherhood has a membership of fifty and is doing good work with Prof. McCullough as president. March 26 is to be given to an all-day Sunday school rally with Brother Stem as speaker. The congregations are large and expressions of appreciation of Bro. George and his work are heard on every hand.

To Sunday School Convention.

Quite a delegation left Winfield Wednesday morning for Topeka to represent this district in the State Sunday school convention in session there this week. C. T. Franks headed the delegation, being a member of the state board of directors. Miss Miriam Watkins of the Presbyterian Sunday school went as a representative from the county association, Miss Olive Humphrey was sent as a delegate from the Presbyterian school, and Prof. E. E. Baker from Grace M. E. church. Miss Ione Carter and Charlie Alford were elected as delegates from the Baptist school. The other schools did not send delegates. Miss Pearl Cooper, who has been teaching at Mount Zion school this year, was sent as a delegate from the Mount Zion Baptist church, and Mrs. H. J. Winslow of Dalton joined the delegation here.

THE FLIERIAN SOCIETY.

The Flierian society of Southwestern business college gave a very interesting and unique program on last Friday evening. The hall was filled with visitors, to hear and enjoy the program. One special feature of the program was a talk given by Miss Jennie Hood, who has been a teacher in the Indian schools in different parts of the United States during the last eight years. Her subject was "The Indian as a Race." Miss Hood was dressed in full Indian costume, which was very elaborate. You could not have told her from the genuine Choctaw or the Apache, with bead sandals and yards of bead necklace, she made a unique appearance. Her talk was very interesting and instructive, and she even said "The Indian could learn." Another special number was a paper by Miss Forsman, which was very humorous in its make up. Her subject, "Examinations that I like" which closed by saying that examining the new styles of hats was the only kind of examinations she really liked. The Delphian quartet gave two splendid numbers which everyone enjoyed. Mr. Elles made quite a hit with his subject, "If I Were President of Southwestern College" and thoroughly convinced the auditors that there would be a reformation going on in Southwestern. The society as a whole is doing splendid work and is a great help to the department. A great interest is being taken in debate, and the next subject for debate is, "Resolved, that Roosevelt is more of a hindrance to the republican party than a benefit." This society meets in the old Athenian hall of North hall, and everybody is invited to attend any of the meetings.

L. P. McGill is in the city visiting with Prof. E. E. Baker. Mr. McGill is a former graduate of the business department of Southwestern and is now the head of the business department of Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron, Mo.

Prof. Baker is becoming quite in demand as a platform speaker. His effective announcement of the Y. W. C. A. Tie Social has proven him to be possessed of even greater talents than we had supposed. Prof. Baker is one of our most popular professors.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

College Rally and Talk on Missions the Entertainment Friday Night.

On Friday night at the institute the social hour was given over to a college rally instead of the patriotic program, which will be given tonight. A number of different colleges were represented including the Garrett Biblical Institute at Chicago of which most of the institute faculty are alumni, Baker university, Missouri Wesleyan, Sumner County High school, Simpson college of Iowa, and Southwestern. Rev. L. E. Simes of this city is also an alumnus of the Garrett Biblical school. Each college represented put on some "stunt," particularly typical of the school represented. Baker university put on a mock society meeting at which Dr. Randall, platform manager of the institute, presided, he being an old Baker man. Southwestern had the largest representation, and their stunt was a take off on the institute faculty, Jack Ebright representing Dr. Hillis, leading the singing and Rev. Claude M. Grey of El Dorado representing Dr. Randall. Sumner County High school was third in numbers. One of the smallest delegations that of Simpson college, Iowa, put on one of the best stunts. Prof. E. E. Baker of Southwestern and Rev. W. M. Blood of Norwich were the only representatives, and Prof. Baker sang the college song, and Rev. Hood gave the college yell. The music was a trombone solo by George Van De Water.

The evening lecture was given by Rev. W. E. Doughty, leader of the missionary department. His subject was "The Spiritual Division of the Study of Missions" an interesting talk on the serious spiritual responsibility of a careful study of the mission question. Tonight will be the patriotic program, a sort of camp fire, with a number of short talks, chief one being by A. H. Limerick of his experience at Altoona, Mass, when Major Whittle received his inspiration for the song "Hold the Fort." Dr. J. H. Staveley, district superintendent of the Atchison district will give the lecture tonight.

On tomorrow the last day of the institute, there will be three services, morning, afternoon and evening. Dr. Randall of Chicago will preach in the morning.

Business Department.

One of the most enjoyable social events of College Hill society was the Halloween party given by the Southwestern Business college Saturday evening. The party was styled after the old fashioned plan of a trip around the world, the guests first meeting at the home of Floyd Bevis on East Seventh.

After about forty minutes of games and music, refreshments were served and the guests departed for the home of Miss Ruth Gay, 318 East Seventh, where more music and games were enjoyed. The next stop of the evening was the home of Sydney Jewitt, where the party was received by a band of ghosts, gypsies and witches. After every one had had their fortune told, hair-raising ghost stories were told after which refreshments were served, and the guests departed for the home of Miss Bess Orr on East Eighth, where the guests were entertained by music and a game of conundrums, Miss Shell receiving the prize.

The next and last stop of the evening was at the home of Prof. Baker. D. K. Sailor very delightfully entertained the guests by rendering humorous readings, and vocal solos. At a late hour cocoa and doughnuts were served.

COMMERCIALISTS ENTERTAIN.

Held Party at Cook Hall Tuesday Evening.

Tuesday evening the boys of the Business Department entertained the girls in the Pierian Society Hall, which was artistically decorated in cardinal and white, the Business colors. As the guests entered the room they were required to register, and then numbers were given them with which they matched partners for the first part of the entertainment. Programs for the evening were placed all around the walls. The first number was called "Biography." Each person was required to write on a slip of paper a biography of some person present and pass it on for the next person to write upon. The second number was a game entitled "Cross Questions and Crooked Answers." To secure partners for this the boys and girls lined up in separate columns and then took partners as they came. The third number was another writing contest, called "Consequences." Partners were changed for this by having everyone change seats at random and take as partners the one sitting next to him.

For the fourth number, "Instructions in Spoonery," the crowd promenaded to Professor E. E. Baker's residence. Here cardinal and white brick ice cream and white cake were served. Partners were secured for refreshments by giving the boys names of the states and the girls names of the capitals. Each couple was provided with two spoons tied together with about a foot of cardinal ribbon. With these they were forced to consume the refreshments. The last number was a game called "The Prince of Paris," after which the party broke up.

"Business" Won.

The foot ball eleven of Southwestern Business department defeated the Arkansas City high school at Arkansas City Friday afternoon 6 to 0.

Making Good.

The Courier, of Winfield, Kansas, in answering an inquiry relative to the location of a business college, speaks in very flattering terms of Professor Baker, a former Madison county boy, and the high regard in which he is held will be most gratifying to Mr. Baker's friends in Madison county. We quote from the Courier as follows:

Winfield has such an institution as he describes, in charge of Prof. Baker, one of the ablest and most efficient teachers Winfield has ever had. He is turning out scores of young men thoroughly fitted for the serious business of life. As an instructor Prof. Baker has few equals and no superiors. As a member of the faculty he is a tower of strength to the college.

There might be room for another business college in Winfield, but we doubt it, so long as Prof. Baker is at the head of the Business Department of Southwestern college.

GRACE CHURCH NOTES.

At the annual election the following were chosen officers of the Sunday School for the ensuing year: Superintendent, Prof. E. E. Baker; Assistant Superintendent, H. A. White; Secretary Capen Fleming; Treasurer, Mrs. Anna Hinshaw; Librarians, Fuller Groom and Paul Botkin; Organist, Alma Bernstorf; Chorister, Mr. Smith.

On Sunday night, Mrs. Zehner, National Lecturer for the W. C. T. U. will speak. Mrs. Zehner was at the Chautauqua last summer and delighted all who heard her.

The children are busy drilling for the Christmas program. The plan to bring to the Christmas entertainmen an offering of groceries or provisions for the poor is meeting with an enthusiastic response.

The regular meeting of the Brotherhood was postponed on account of Bishop Quayle's lecture, and will be held next Monday night.

Sidney M. Jewett, a former student of Winfield High school, has been elected to the principalship of the commercial department of the Missouri Wesleyan, at Cameron. He was graduate from the business department of Southwestern in 1909. This is another compliment to the high class work done by this department, he being the second of its graduates elected to Missouri Wesleyan. Four others of its alumni are holding similar positions; six are in that many banks; another has recently been elected to a place of high trust; and many more are holding places of good pay and great responsibility. When Prof. E. E. Baker took charge as principal of this department four years ago the enrollment was small. Under his able management it has increased to ninety.

Entertained at Dinner.

Prof and Mrs. E. E. Baker entertained Arthur Middleton and his accompanist Mr. Van Grove at six o'clock dinner Tuesday evening at their home on College Hill. The occasion was quite informal with no other guests present, but proved highly enjoyable, both artists proving themselves quite as charming in personal acquaintance as in their musical personalities.

Dinner.

SOUTHWESTERN EXERCISES BEGUN WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Business Department Graduation
Held at Auditorium—Large Crowd.

The Commencement program for Southwestern College was begun Wednesday night when the Graduation Exercises of the Business Department were held at the Auditorium in Richardson hall. The rest of this week and part of next will be a busy one on College Hill, as every day is crowded with the winding up events of the year. Below is given the calendar for the rest of the exercises. The general public is invited to attend these meetings, and they promise to be interesting. Many alumni and friends of the institution are arriving and the week promises to be almost as big a one as last year, when the Quarter Centennial was celebrated in such an auspicious fashion.

A crowded house greeted the business graduates at the College Wednesday night, and the whole program was an interesting one. The first number was an eight-hand piano number, 'The Soldier's Chorus, played by Miss Lulu Yetter, Miss Mary Baker, Miss Irene Greider and Miss Charlotte McPherron. This was excellently rendered and was heartily applauded. A vocal duet by Mrs. Owen Nisbet and Mrs. Frank Silverd came next. It was 'The Venetian Boat Song.' This was also very well received.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. R. L. George. Another number was then given by the instrumental quartette, which was followed by the address of the evening.

Dr. C. E. McVoy of Oklahoma City was the speaker of the hour, and he chose for his subject, 'The Simplicity of Life.' He spoke at length on the various phases of his subject, interspersing serious and deep thoughts with lively anecdotes that added variety to his address and made it pleasing throughout. Following this, the Southwestern quartette rendered a selection, and President F. E. Mossman presented the diplomas to the graduates. A crowded house gave close attention to all the exercises. The benediction was then pronounced.

THEY HAD A FRIENDLY VISIT

Winfield Officials Pay Arkansas City a Pleasant Call.

This forenoon the mayor and council of Winfield, the county commissioners and the local directors of the Interurban came down for a short social and business visit with the mayor and council of this city and the local Interurban officials. The Winfield gentlemen were: Mayor Wallace, B. F. Sadill, Ed P. Greer, C. E. Compton, D. D. Slane, B. M. Rupp, E. C. Manning, W. H. Sommermeier, H. E. Kibbe, O. P. Fuller, Prof. E. C. Baker, Otto Williams, W. C. Robinson, J. T. Raftery, B. A. Bendure, Wm. Huston, Cap Cochran, Hugh Siggins, W. M. Lencenberger and Geo. W. Sloan.

They were cordially received by the Arkansas City officials, and were given an auto ride down to the foot of the canal, where they inspected the big power house that propels the Interurban cars. They were surprised and pleased with the plant and its surroundings, together with the splendid waterpower that propels the machinery.

The visitors were then taken to the Fifth avenue hotel for dinner, which was followed by a number of short speeches under the toastmastership of W. C. Robinson of Winfield.

The utmost good feeling was shown by all, expressive of the cordial business and social connections of the two cities. Our Winfield friends once and all will always find a cordial welcome in Arkansas City.

His Lecture "Home Life in Dixie During The War" at Southwestern Business School Commencement Greatly Enjoyed.

The commencement of the Southwestern business school was held in the First Methodist church last night. There were fifteen graduates, three of whom were ladies. The church was comfortably filled. Mrs. E. H. Pierce played the organ voluntarily excellently and Rev. E. C. Beach delivered the invocation. The college quartet then sang "Dixie" and responded to a hearty encore with "Mamma's Little Baby."

Prof. E. E. Baker introduced Dr. S. A. Steele, who delivered his lecture "Home Life in Dixie During the War." For two hours he held the undivided attention of the audience as he told anecdotes of war times and recited the story of the privations of southern families during the war.

Dr. Steele is an orator of ability and has that quality of all southern orators—the power to affect the feelings of his hearers. That lecture is full of tenderness and love for all mankind and breathes a spirit of patriotism, worthy of the emulation of all. It was entirely worth hearing. The speaker declared that one of the principal causes of the war was the ignorance of the people in the north and the south respecting each other. He said that there were great principles involved, but the people had known each other better some other way could have been used to settle their differences.

Dr. Steele said that he had never seen a grown negro flogged but once before the war, and this negro was particularly bad. Dr. Steele then lived in Mississippi and still lives there in the heart of the "black belt." The negroes in the south remained loyal until the close of the war, and during that period rape was unknown south of the Potomac. Dr. Steele is bright and witty. The few old soldiers in the audience greatly enjoyed his lecture, and will be glad to know that he will be here during the Chautauqua.

The male chorus sang, after which Prof. Mossman delivered the address to the graduates.

Southwestern Notes.

The graduating class of Southwestern Business school is very much elated over securing Dr. S. A. Steele of Brownwood, Texas, for their commencement address. The commencement will be held in the First M. E. church on Friday evening, May 29th, and it is free to the public. Dr. Steele will give his celebrated lecture on "Home Life in Dixie During the War." It will be a fitting subject for the evening before Decoration Day.

The class has gone to a great deal of expense to make this one of the best entertainments of the season and urgently request all young people of Winfield especially to be present.

The class is composed of forty-six graduates, as follows:

Ralph Bolack, Lewis Buss, Edward Buss, Lawrence D. Smith, Charles D. Lynn, Fred A. Uarsell, Elmer C. Overholt, Elsie Shaw, Goldie Rupp, Emer H. Stratt, C. Lloyd Hinshaw, C. Business Class Exercises.

One of the best programs and lectures ever heard in Winfield was given in honor of the graduates from the Business department of Southwestern at the First M. E. church Thursday night. Dr. S. A. Steele of Tennessee gave his famous lecture, "Home Life in Dixie During the War," a highly amusing humorous lecture, which kept the audience entertained for over two hours, during which time there was not a restless moment. The church was filled, and in every respect this has been counted as an entirely successful entertainment.

Dr. McCoy Spoke on "The Beauty and Simplicity of Life."

Dr. E. C. McCoy, of Oklahoma City, made the address at the Business commencement on Wednesday of last week. Taking for his subject "The Beauty and Simplicity of Life," he extolled simple manners, plain living, and naturalness of conduct. "Greens, eggs, and meat," said he, "are good for everyday life, although fried chicken and pudding are not objectionable at times." He spoke also of the value of honesty in the business world and of the need of the man of principle rather than policy. After he had finished his address, the diplomas were presented to the Business Class of 1911.

The college quartet sang Dixie, and were heartily encored. The male chorus of sixteen voices sang "The Phantom Bard" and were also encored. Mrs. E. H. Pierce gave an organ number which was sublime in its beauty of performance. The class numbered sixteen, C. L. Kendall, Sydney M. Jewett, Dewitt Peachey, Roy Bridges, Ralph Capron, Frank M. Starlin, Claude R. Wagner, Roy Henderson, Paul Schabinger, Susie I. Lytle, Lena M. Lant, Jessie M. Hargis, Will L. Brown, Henry Jordon, Orville Browning, and Guy B. Howard.

For Professor and Mrs. Baker.

Almost a hundred of Professor and Mrs. E. E. Baker's friends gave them a farewell reception Wednesday night at their home on College Hill. It was a surprise planned before prayer meeting time and immediately after the services, nearly every one in that part of College Hill descended upon the dismantled home of the popular Professor and showed the family that they will be missed after they leave Winfield.

The household goods have been shipped to Flint, Michigan, their new home, and the empty parlors and halls gave plenty of room and freedom for a good time. Refreshing refreshments finished the evening and then the good-byes were said; not all however, for some of the neighbors postponed the ordeal until they should feel more nearly equal to the occasion.

 Mrs and Mr. Baker,

Dear friends: I have never met Mrs. Baker but I number her among my friends because she has been a true friend to my boy.

Yes, all the apology I have for addressing you in this letter is that I wish to thank you for your kindness to Lloyd.

When he left home for the first time, he came to you young, easily influenced, with a tendency even to be wilful at times.

You encouraged him, was careful to know where he was and what he did, & enthusing him with the spirit of a true christian gentleman.

We send you greeting, Lloyd's father and mother, this holy joyous Christmas time.

We bid you Godspeed in your work with young me. You care for the development of the soul as well as intellect. God bless you.

Ever and always your friend Mrs. J. O. McGill.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Fannie Moore Baker was born in Clarion County, Pa., April 4th, 1831, died at her home in Winterset, Iowa, Nov. 10, 1911, age 80 years 7 months and 6 days.

She moved with her parents to Des Moines County, Iowa, in 1842 where she grew to young womanhood and was united in marriage with Daniel Baker, Dec. 31, 1851. To this union was born 15 children, eight boys and seven girls. Thirteen children grew to maturity and two died in infancy.

In 1854 the family moved to Madison County, and entered on a quarter section of land in Walnut Township, one and one-half miles west of Peru, and was still owned by the deceased at her death, and was the family home until 1901, the farm was rented and a nice new cottage was purchased on East Court Ave. where she moved and made her home until her death.

At the age of fourteen she was converted and united with the M. E. church, of which she was a faithful member until she was called to the church triumphant. She was an old fashioned Methodist and thoroughly believed in the heart felt religion, and during her younger life was one that was always ready to extend her help and influence in the work of the church. She was one of the charter members to what is now known as the East Peru M. E. class but was formerly known as the Pleasant Grove class which met at the school house near her old home.

Being among the first of the early settlers to come to this country when it was a vast prairie and no conveniences, whatever, she was obliged to pass through great difficulties and endured many hardships. She was a woman of strong character and great fortitude and has passed through the deep waters of affliction many times. Losing two children in infancy and her husband being taken in 1876 and inside of twenty months four grown children were called to their reward, yet she passed through it all uncomplainingly, and died in the faith in which she had lived, surrounded by all her children with the exception of Elden E., who lives at Flint, Mich., and who was not at her bed side during her last sickness until a few days before her death. She expressed a desire to go and said she was happy and ready for the change. Her funeral was held at the M. E. church at Winterset, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Walburn, and all that was earthly, was laid to rest in the family lot in the East Peru cemetery. She leaves a large circle of friends and a place vacant in the hearts of six sons and three daughters and several grand children and great grandchildren.

The Passing of a Pioneer.

Last Friday, those departed from this life an aged lady who for more than half a century was identified with the interests of Madison county; we refer to Mrs. Fanny Moore Baker. In 1854, Daniel Baker, with his family and brother, A. J. Baker, moved to Walnut township, coming from Des Moines county, this state. They settled on a claim in section 4, of Walnut township, which has remained in the possession of the family ever since and is now occupied by two of the boys. Mr. Baker died in 1876, leaving the rearing of the large family and management of the business with the mother. After assisting his elder brother in moving to this county, A. J. Baker went back to Des Moines county and removed his father's family to the same locality, they settling on the land, later the home of Anthony Schoenenberger. This man afterwards studied law in Winterset, was for a time a partner of Col. Cummings and later was elected Adjutant General of Missouri, and later to the same office in this state.

Mrs. Fanny Baker was generally well known all over the south part of Madison county. As Grandmother Baker, she was especially a favorite among the pioneers of Walnut township. Among her host of friends there were none more devoted than the score or more of Methodist circuit riders who for a half century made her home a shelter in the time of storm. We have become acquainted with some ten or a dozen of them since coming to this county and they were always ready to speak a good word for the hospitality of Grandma Baker. The Reager school house adjoining the Baker farm, was the meeting place where Rogers, Gregorys, Traverses, Hann's, Youngs, Burds and Lovelaces gathered every week for preaching or class meeting.

Mrs. Baker was the mother of fifteen children, as follows: B. H., who resides in Nebraska; William, who lives near the old homestead; Samuel and Sherman, who live on the old homestead; Mary, who died before the family came to this county; Charles, who died about 25 years ago, and at the same time, died of that dread disease, consumption, three girls, Effie, Mable and Mabel; Alice, wife of Addison Silliman; Ida, wife of I. E. T. Wilson; Maud, wife of Geo. Black; and John S. Baker, all Obituary of Mrs. Fannie Baker.

Mrs. Fannie Moore Baker was born in Clarion county, Penn., April 4, 1831 and died in Winterset November 10, 1911, age 80 years, 7 months and 6 days.

She came with her parents to Des Moines county, Iowa, and located near Burlington, where she grew to womanhood. She was married to Daniel Baker, December 31, 1850. She came with her husband from Des Moines county to Madison county in 1854 and located on a farm. To them were born fifteen children, eight boys and seven girls, two dying in infancy and four died after they were grown. She lost her husband May 18, 1876. She lived on the home farm until her removal to Winterset, twelve years ago. She was converted at the age of 13 and united with the M. E. church and all these years (67 years) has been faithful to her Lord and His church. She suffered for several years with disease and the infirmities of old age but in her recent illness she gradually yielded to the demands of death. All the family were at her bedside except one son, who left for his home a few days before her going. She was conscious until the last and as always in life so in death she earnestly exhorted them all to live good lives. She died happy and near the end tried to sing "I am Going Home," giving glory to her Lord.

She leaves beside her family, one brother, nineteen grandchildren and ten great grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn her death. She long was known as Grandma Baker and no doubt will be missed by many. She was a loving wife and helpmate to her husband, a kind and sacrificing mother and a good neighbor. In her years of strength she did all she could for the Lord. May her memory always be a benediction to her children and friends.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church Sunday morning at 10:30, conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. A. Walburn and interment was made beside her husband in the Peru cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank those, who so kindly assisted us in caring for our dear, beloved mother during her illness and death.

PURCHASED BUSINESS SCHOOL.

Instructors of Southwestern School of Business to Move to Michigan.

The instructors of the Southwestern School of Business have resigned their positions here, and have purchased the Flint Business University at Flint, Michigan. The final arrangements in the transaction were executed Monday, whereby the control of this school passes into the hands of the Southwestern men.

Prof. Eldon E. Baker who for the past five years has been at the head of the School of Business at Southwestern will be director of the Flint Business University and will have a controlling interest in the school. His remarkable success at Southwestern is ample assurance to his Winfield friends that he will make of the Flint Business University, to which he is going, a greater and a more efficient school. Mr. Baker during his residence here, has taken an active interest in the municipal affairs of our city and for the last three years has been a leading member of the city council. His removal from Winfield will be sincerely regretted by his many down town friends, but his loss will be most deeply felt at Southwestern where he has labored so effectively and has given his students practical and thorough commercial training. Following his resignation here some two weeks ago, Prof. Baker was elected to be director of the School of Commerce at Onarga, Ill., but he declined this position in order to take charge of a school of his own.

Guy Howard who has been an assistant instructor in the School of Business at Southwestern for three years, and for the last year has had charge of the Shorthand and Typewriting department, yesterday resigned his position here and has purchased an interest in the Flint Business School. Sidney Jewett, who graduated here under Prof. Baker, and who has been Principal of the Commercial Department in Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron, Mo., for two years, has resigned his position there and has also purchased an interest in the Flint School.

Prof. Baker and Mr. Howard expect to go to Michigan in about a month to take charge of the school.

BOUGHT BUSINESS UNIVERSITY.

Prof. E. E. Baker, Guy Howard and Sydney Jewett Buy Flint Business University, Take Charge August 1st.

A deal has just been made by which Prof. E. E. Baker, Guy Howard and Sydney Jewett have bought The Flint Business University, at Flint Michigan. They will move to Flint the latter part of July and take charge the first of August.

The school offers Book keeping, Short hand, English and Civil service courses. It is centrally located in Flint Michigan a town of 40,000 inhabitants were 10,000 laborers are employed in factories. It is the home of the Buick Auto, the largest automobile factory in the world.

Prof. Baker has been here five years and his many friends regret to see him leave. He has built up our Business School until it is no longer a Secondary school but is recognized by business men as competent and thorough. This year Prof. Baker has had many more calls for competent business men and women than he could fill.

He was elected Principal of the School of Commerce at Onarga, Ill. but resigned after buying the Flint School. Prof. will make a success of school work any place he goes.

Howard and Jewett are both graduates of Southwestern Business College. Howard has been assistant for two years and resigned his position as principal of the Short Hand department here to take up the work at Flint. Jewett held an assistantship at Southwestern two years ago. Last year he was Principal of the Business school at Cameron Mo. He has been re-elected for the coming year. Both of these men have many warm friends in Winfield who wish them all the success possible at Flint.

School of Commerce

Prof. E. E. Baker of Winfield, Kan. has been elected as principal of the School of Commerce in Grand Prairie Seminary for the coming year. Mr. Springman having resigned the position.

Mr. Baker is a graduate from Dexter Normal School, Dexter, Iowa, and from Simpson Business College, Indianapolis, Iowa. He was a teacher and principal in graded and high schools in Iowa for fifteen years, and has been principal of Southwestern Business College at Winfield, Kansas, for the past five years, to which position he was re-elected, but is compelled to resign and leave Kansas on account of Mrs. Baker's health. Mr. Baker is an active worker in the church, and has splendid recommendations of his work in the places where he has taught. He has the reputation of building up his department. The following is an extract from a letter written by W. C. Robinson, President of First National Bank at Winfield, Kansas: "I have been on the Board of Trustees since 1885 when the institution (Southwestern Business College) was located here, and I think I am very safe in saying the Business Department in the institution is in better condition than it ever was. We are all sorry that Professor Baker is to leave, but am glad to have the opportunity to have him carry this letter from me and I most cordially and enthusiastically commend him and endorse him to any one whom this may interest." Mr. Baker's family consists of a wife and three children.

The work of the School of Commerce is too heavy for one man to handle, and Miss Alice Selleck, of Buckley, has been secured as Mr. Baker's assistant to have charge of the shorthand and typewriting. Miss Selleck needs no introduction or recommendation to Onarga people, having been for several years a student in the Seminary and for three years secretary to the President. She is a graduate from Champaign High School, and from the School of Commerce of Grand Prairie Seminary, and has during the past year been taking work at Northwestern University. Miss Selleck is herself a very efficient stenographer, and will, therefore, make a capable teacher in that line of work.

With a principal of twenty years experience such as Mr. Baker has had, and an assistant as strong as we know Miss Selleck to be, we believe the School of Commerce has the promise of a most successful year.

FLINT BUSINESS UNIVERSITY'S COMMENCEMENT.

CLASS OF 55 GRADUATES

EXERCISES ARE FOLLOWED BY BANQUET.

Addresses and Toasts by. Attorney
Roy E. Brownell, Rev. Dr.
Johns and Others.

The commencement exercises of the Flint Business University were held Friday evening at the Court street M. E. church. The address of the evening was given by Attorney Roy E. Brownell of Fenton, who spoke for several minutes on present day business conditions. He related a conversation of a man in Chicago who is interested in a large business house there and who had in his employ many young men and women. Two of their worst faults he said were first guessing at things and second omission. These things are why many young persons do not get promoted as they expect to. Taking things for granted without investigating and omitting to do things at the right time means loss of position to the employe and damage to the employer.

"We should not accept the principles of one concern," said Mr. Brownell, "but of many men. We are too prone to accept the fashion of the hour. I believe Americans decide matters correctly when they have facts stated correctly. Errors come from wrong facts and not wrong judgment."

"Attacks have been made upon Madison and Monroe but when facts were made known they were accepted and we go back to that period as a wise one."

Build Up; Don't Destroy.

Continuing the speaker said: "You graduates should study these questions—not only the civic ones but the international. The United States stands today to become a leader in the worldwide peace movement. We should support the principles in civic affairs that forward business interests. We should build up instead of destroy."

Supt. E. F. Baker made a few remarks in which he said: "I believe in high school and college education but the commercial course takes the place of the high school education as very few who graduate from the high school take a business course. The commercial school comes in and helps young men and women who are not prepared by a high school education. It is not our idea to take away anyone from the high school; in fact we encourage them to go there."

Out of the class of 55 that graduated last evening nearly every one has a position already secured.

The exercises last evening were opened with a selection by St. Michael's orchestra after which a piano duet was given by Miss Helen Haight and Miss Ethel G. Lee. Rev. Dr. A. R. Johns gave the invocation and Mrs. Eva Remington Fee sang "I Mind the Day." At the conclusion of Mr. Brownell's address Messrs. Howard, Payne, Irving and Baker sang "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes." The diplomas were then presented to the 55 graduates, who occupied the platform with Supt. Baker.

Banquet at Dryden.

Following the exercises at the church a banquet was served in Dryden hall. The tables were arranged around the assembly hall and were decorated with asparagus fern and syringas and bouquets of marguerites, nasturtiums, and roses. In the center of the hall were large palms. During the serving of the banquet St. Michael's orchestra played after which toastmaster W. R. Franklin introduced W. J. Maginn of Mt. Morris who responded to the toast "The Ladies." "There is only one man I know of in the United States that says women should not have the ballot," said Mr. Maginn. "That man is Governor Marshall of Indiana. He says that the place of women is in the house and if they want to do more good they should not have the ballot. Governor Marshall says that the ladies should not pay more than $20 for a gown and if they want to wear the best gowns that they can have he is no friend to the ladies." County School Commissioner H. E. Potter responded to "Airships." After congratulating the Flint Business University on the success of their first annual banquet he said that the United States was behind Europe in developing airships. In some countries they have proven a success in carrying passengers. Mr. Potter spoke of the confidence we ought to feel when we think of the progress in science. "Not many years ago it seemed impossible," said Mr. Potter "that young people would attain the education that you now have."

Roy E. Brownell responded to the toast "Stoics I Have Known." The last speaker was Rev. Dr. A. R. Johns who took for his subject "Here and There." "The time of preparation and the time of harvest are now."

place last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. I. E. T. Wilson on East Court Avenue when their daughter, Grace, was united in marriage to Edward L.
Watkins, of Winfield, Kan.

The guests were met at the door by little Miss Dorothy Baker and were received by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, parents of the bride, and Mr. Clyde
Seward, a friend of the groom.

Promptly at eight o'clock Mr. Oscar
Stone, of Des Moines, sang "Because I Love You Dear," after which the bride and groom entered to the strains of Mendelssohn played by Miss Mary Eastman. Rev. A. A. Walburn, pastor of the Methodist church performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white embroidered chiffon over duchess satin, trimmed in real lace, and carried an immense bouquet of lilies of the valley. The house was beautifully decorated with white carnations and smilax. Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson was parlor hostess. An elaborate luncheon was served in the dining room where Mesdames Phil. Wilkinson and M. L.
Silliman were hostesses. Many beautiful and useful presents were received.

The out of town guests were Mr.
Clyde L. Seward, Winfield, Kan.; Mr.
and Mrs. Oscar Stone, Des Moines;
Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke and son Kenneth, Colfax; Miss Mary Eastman,
Des Moines; Mr. Leonard Smith, Ida
Grove; Mr. Grant Kimmer, Indianola;

ORVILLE BROWNING DEAD

Former Southwestern Student Dies
Yesterday Afternoon at Flint, Michigan.

Orville Browning, a former Southwestern student, died yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at Flint, Mich., of hemorrhage following an operation for appendicitis. He was operated upon about ten days ago and soon after began suffering from hemorrhages. He grew very weak and the physicians succeeded in a transfusion of blood. For a time this was thought to have been successful, but he grew weaker and died late yesterday, just a week after the transfusion. The news of his death was received here in a telegram to J. F. Gesner, received this morning.

Orville Browning attended Southwestern business school four years ago and was well known here. His home was at Chase, Kans., a small town near Lyons. He was here on a visit last August. At the time of his death he was attending Flint
Business University of which Prof.
E. E. Baker is principal.

Prof. Baker was head of the business department at Southwestern for several years. Guy Howard and Sydney Jewett are other ex-Southwestern people at the school. Browning was well known here both on the Hill and down town.

With eight feet of whiskers trailing from his chin, Zack T. Wilcox, aged 65, a veteran gold miner of Carson City, Nev., arrived in Flint a few days ago to visit his brother John Wilcox of 1053 avenue A, and presented so changed an appearance that it was some time before he was recognized by the brother whom he had not seen in nearly 40 years.

The phenomenal growth of whiskers is the result of 30 years of careful culture. Strange to relate, the growing of the whiskers was not prompted by a desire of Mr. Wilcox to pay an election bet or to join a circus sideshow.

"I saw a man with some long whiskers about 30 years ago," said Mr. Wilcox, "and I decided that a set

Some of them have from infancy been zealous and consistent members of their mother's church and not one of the entire number was ever heard to use a disrespectful word concerning it.

Grandma Baker removed to a comfortable home on East Court avenue, several years ago, where, surrounded by her children, she died in the triumph of the faith she so long professed, having filled out the full measure of her allotted time four score years. Funeral services were held at the Winterset Methodist church and interment in the Peru cemetery, on Sunday of my own would be nice. I was up in Alaska on a prospecting tour when I made the decision. Shaves cost $1 each up there then and that may be one of the reasons for my beard. They flourished so well the first six months that I decided to let them grow."

"I am proud of my whiskers and they will never be cut off with my consent," declares Mr. Wilcox.

"Are you a married man?" asked the reporter to whom Mr. Wilcox exhibited his flowing beard.

"No; if I had been married probably I wouldn't have these," replied Mr. Wilcox as he smiled and stroked his whiskers tenderly.

Keeps Them Tied Up.

Because of their length, Mr. Wilcox does not let his whiskers down except on rare occasions when he is showing them to friends or giving them a shampoo or some other treatment. If he did let them fall he would be unable to walk without stepping on them unless he lifted them like a woman might her skirt. He keeps them done up in papers around which they are carefully wound and secured with silk. The great "crop" of whiskers is tucked away inside his shirt bosom so that to the ordinary observer Mr. Wilcox does not look unlike any other man with a full beard.

In the winter time Mr. Wilcox arranges his whiskers inside his shirt so they entirely cover his chest and form an excellent protection against the cold. He boasts that he has not suffered from a cold in all the 30 years he has worn them.

When Mr. Wilcox came to visit his brother here he sent no word but just "dropped in." He engaged in conversation with his brother for several minutes before he was recognized. It was not until he mentioned some incident that happened during the last two years of the Civil war when he and his brother served in the First Vermont Cavalry, that his identity was disclosed.

phantime his brother was seen to come and came from Conway Springs to be ready for the emergency that was certain to arise.

Transfusion of blood often takes place in stories. It is frequently mentioned as being part of the rite of adoption into certain tribes. At most the latter is but the smearing of blood superficially, there being little chance for the coagulated serum of one person getting into the veins of another. In practice, though attempted many times, it had been found that clots formed at the juncture of the veins and made their way to the heart of a patient, producing death. However, it was long believed by the profession that if it could be successfully accomplished a powerful remedy would be at hand for some cases of disease that had long defied treatment.

It is one of the triumphs of the vivisectionists that by constant experiments upon living animals a way was finally found to so connect up the veins that the clotting at the junction was prevented. This has not been so very long ago and not many cases have been tried on human subjects. Such as have been tried have been generally successful, producing complete recoveries in most cases. Anemia, lack of red corpuscles in the blood is one of the diseases that yield to this treatment.

In young Bolmer's case, the loss of blood from the hemorrhage was denominated from the veins of his brothers. Could the hemorrhage have been stopped his recovery would have been assured. But this condition continued. The first transfusion was made Monday. A vein in Charles' arm was connected to one for half an hour. Just before the process commenced, Arthur was in a dying condition, almost at his last gasp and unconscious. In a few minutes he revived, his eyes opened, he began to talk intelligently and the color returned to his cheeks that had been chalk white.

Hopes were then entertained for his recovery. The hemorrhages de-

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD

BROTHERS RISK LIVES TO SAVE
ANOTHER IN ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL.

IS FIRST OF THE KIND IN KANSAS

ARTHUR BOLMER SOUTHWEST-ERN STUDENT.

Operation, as Such, Was Entirely Successful, But No Stop to Hemorrhage.

For the first time in Kansas, so far as known, the operation of transfusion of blood from one person to another was performed at St. Mary's hospital here this week. This was upon Arthur Bolmer, a student at Southwestern, an operation perfectly successful, as such, but the patient's disease had made too great ravages for even this powerful stimulus to counteract, and the patient died at ten o'clock Tuesday night.

The young man's brothers, Charles and Martin Bolmer were the subjects from whom the life sustaining fluid was drawn, they giving this heroic exhibition of fraternal affection at the risk of their lives. But a dozen fellow students of the young man were lined up in urgent readiness to be permitted to contribute their own life blood to the effort to save the life of their friend and companion. Could he, in his enfeebled condition have withstood the strain, there would have been no lack of volunteers.

Bolmer, who was about twenty years old, and whose home was at Conway Springs, was taken seriously sick last Thursday with hemorrhage of the stomach. His condition was so bad that he was at once taken to the hospital. The loss of blood was so great, that he failed rapidly, and it was necessary to resort to the injection of the normal saline solution into his veins to keep him alive. This proved to some extent giving promise that nature's remedy, coagulation would intervene. After a time, however, this failed, and the young man began to sink again. Then it was that the second brother, Martin Bolmer was put on the table. Arthur was told that his only remaining hope, a chance in twenty, was in an operation seeking to stop the bleeding in the stomach. This was resorted to when his strength had almost to the 2nd transfusion. It disclosed a dozen large ulcers in the stomach, making the loss of blood very great. After it he rallied, and made a plucky fight for his life. He seemed stronger the rest of Tuesday, but presently began to pass blood from his bowels, and about nine o'clock in the evening took another sinking spell, from which he did not recover.

In the second transfusion, Martin Bolmer submitted to the drain until he became so weak that he could not lift his hand. In this, a vein in his arm was connected to a vein in the patient's leg. He will recover. It takes some time for the working of the system to replace the blood thus taken out. Martin and Charles are older than Arthur.

In this operation the veins are joined by means of a glass tube, a few inches in length. The aptitude that prevents the coagulation as the blood passes through it is very simple, a coating of paraffin and oil. Blood in the veins of a living body is so thin that it readily flows through the veins finer than a hair; but the instant an incision is made the blood in the near vicinity to it thickens, in nature's endeavor to stop the flow. Instead of a liquid it becomes a jelly so dense that it cannot be poured from an inverted vessel. It is this principle that, until recently, made transfusion impossible. When tried, it always resulted in instant death of the patient, and the post mortem showed clots in the heart. That the patient in this case lived through two such operations is a testimony that the operation, as such, was a complete success. It demonstrates that the surgeons of Winfield are as skillful as any in the profession anywhere.

Young Bolmer's sickness began last Thursday after some violent athletic exerting. His stomach was in a weakened condition from the ulcers, and was not able to stand the strain of the increased blood pressure.

HEROIC NURSE WHO GAVE SIXTEEN OUNCES OF HER BLOOD AND SAVED LIFE OF YOUTH AT HURLEY HOSPITAL

MISS CHRISTINE KEYES.

Orvill Browning was dying, apparently, at Hurley hospital last Monday, following an operation. Hemorrhages had drained his life blood and surgeons were desperate in their efforts to save him. Only the transfusion of blood from a healthy person would save him, they asserted, and they were about to ask for volunteers among his fellow students at a local business college. The case was urgent. The young man's death seemed only a matter of hours away. Miss Keyes, called here from her post as a nurse in Harper hospital, Detroit, to attend a special case, was present at the conference of physicians. When they reached their decision and were about to seek a volunteer, Miss Keyes calmly announced that she would be willing to give her own blood if there was a chance to save Browning.

Forthwith she was placed upon the operating table beside him. An artery in her arm was opened and connected with a vein in Browning's arm. For 35 minutes she permitted her blood and that of the patient to intermingle and then she swooned. It is estimated that from 12 to 16 ounces of her blood were given to Browning. He rallied and is regaining his health rapidly.

"It was the most courageous act I have ever known," said one of the physicians who was present at the consultation.

The loss of blood weakened Miss Keyes and for three days she was unable to leave her bed. She suffered considerably but word from the bedside of Browning was her consolation. He was recovering. She, too, is recovering. She had never seen Browning until he was placed on the operating table. Her interest in him was professional, but it also was human.

AFTERNOON TO PAY TRIBUTE TO HER.

Students of Baker's Business university paid a marked tribute to the memory of Miss Edith Lucille Abel, whose funeral was held yesterday afternoon from her late home, 604 Richfield road. They marched in a body in front of the house from the house to the cemetery. The following students acted as bearers: Leo Burns, Claude Bradley, Harold Lynch, Clarence Bloss, Frank Randall and Vance Brown. The school was closed during the afternoon out of respect to Mr. Abel's memory. About 350 persons attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Peter B. Hoyt, pastor of the Kearsley street M. E. church. Eight girls of a Sunday school class of the church sang several selections. The floral tributes were numerous. Miss Abel died last Saturday morning after swallowing strychnine in mistake for salts.

HON. H. R. PATTENGILL TALKS

HE TELLS OF GUMPTION WITH A BIG "G."

Banquet at Dryden Hall Follows Exercises in the Court Street M.

E. Church.

"Gumption is not entirely inherited but it can be acquired," said Hon. H. R. Pattengill, who gave an address on "Gumption with a pig G" to the graduating class of the Baker University last evening in the Court street church. "Some inherit the readiness to take it. Gumption won't take the place of education but it will make education practical and serviceable. Gumption is the key that unlocks the door of possibilities."

Fifty-eight students were graduated and occupied seats on the platform of the church which was adorned with palms. A large sign inscribed "Baker Business University, was extended across the platform."

"This world is so arranged," said the speaker, "that each one has his work to do and if you do not do your share, but shirk and allow some one else to do it, you are a sneak."

Mr. Pattengill explained the conditions found in this country by the people who came here from the old world and the adaptation of new ideals and arrangements gave them broader ideals. The progress of new conditions which appeared in the cultivation of the soil were slow but they found out that the common sense of one day was common nonsense of other days. See the future, adapt yourself to conditions and then go on and do it, he said.

"These young people with certain skill and education go out into the world under as much different conditions than young people did 50 years ago, as you can fancy. What would they have known about many things that are common to us now?"

The Necessity of Gumption.

"At that time there were 20,000,000 of people and now there are 100,000,000, with labor saving devices. With 25 men after the same job there must be something more demanded than health, strength, desire and honesty. Have all these, but added to them gumption to adapt yourself to situations. There was no tin eaten for a prepared person as there is today. This is the age for the prepared person young or old and you haven't a place unless you are prepared. Your education fitted you then and if they do as well now in proportion they are doing well."

"The young people now compete against more people, machinery and the skill of minds trained in thinking. This is where your education comes in."

"Gumption means capacity, shrewdness and address. When you start to do anything pin yourself right to it and do it. That is the basic principle of gumption. Out of 100,000,000 get their education through formal schooling. Schooling will give you the fundamental principles, the power to think and assimilate and any discipline that a child receives in doing things steady gets him into the habit of doing things right."

"Shrewdness is not cheating but it is alertness, in thinking and thinking in time. Some have this in their nature, but they can be trained to think quickly. Address is knack and skill which you exercise and comes largely by inheritance."

The Reason for Education.

"Education is not given you to quit work but so that you can do a greater amount and give better service. Do not be a cog in the machinery, but reach outside your work and grasp the great things of life. If the men and women of today are not ready to help solve these great problems they are not fit to be on this planet. It is the time to reach out to great things and make life better and sweeter. This is gumption and it is largely a knowledge of human nature. The gumption of America lies in training boys and girls to realize faith in God and to solve the problems of labor, social, sanitary and temperance conditions. They will be solved by those being educated to do it."

The Garland street orchestra furnished selections and the Ermline quartet sang two numbers responding to an encore. Misses Haight and Murphy gave a piano duet after which the diplomas were presented by Mr. Baker of the university. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Dr. A. R. Johns, pastor of the church.

A banquet followed the exercises at the church and was held in Dryden hall. The tables were arranged so as to form a square in the center of the hall which was decorated with rugs, palms and plants.

The Banquet.

The tables were adorned with bouquets of pansies, roses and marguerites. During the serving of the menu the Garland street orchestra was stationed in the balcony and gave selections.

William S. Goudy of Flushing acted as toastmaster and introduced Clarence A. Bloss with a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Bloss responded to the toast, "The Class of 1912," which was a welcome to the class of 1913 and a short history of the members of the class of 1912. Miss Maude J. Redmond responded to the toast "The Class of 1913," after which the Imperial quartet sang "My Kentucky Babe" and responded to an encore by "Work and Play," was the toast assigned to Supt. A. N. Cody, who said that the adult life is so busy getting on in the world and making money that they don't have time to play. "I think this is a mistake and we would accomplish more if we had the spirit of play." These remarks were illustrated with several short stories.

"Failures" was the toast responded to by Rev. Dr. A. R. Johns and he summed it up in three reasons. Where there are failures you do not find your real place in life; you do not work hard enough and you do wrong and get ahead by cheating."

Prof. W. J. Maginn of Mt. Morris responded to "Frills" and County School Commissioner H. E. Potter spoke briefly of ideas and ideals. Hon. H. R. Pattengill closed the program by responding to "Inspire or Expire."

Nature's most deadly antipathy seems to have been overcome. A rat was killed in a produce company's plant in Missouri and left four young rats, which the cat has undertaken to bring up, meantime not neglecting her duty of keeping the place clear of all adult rats that come in sight.

Baker Business University.

The commencement exercises of the Baker Business University will be held Thursday evening at the Court street church at 8:30 o'clock. Fifty-eight students will be graduated and the address will be given by Hon. H. R. Pattengill, his subject being "Gumption spelled with a big G." The Ermline Quartette will sing and the Garland street church orchestra will furnish music. A piano duet will be given by Misses Haight and Murphy. A banquet will follow the exercises and will be held in Dryden Hall. Prof. William S. Goudy of Flushing will be the toastmaster and the following will respond: Rev. Dr. A. R. Johns; Supt. A. N. Cody, County School Commissioner H. E. Potter, Prof. Maginn of Mt. Morris, C. A. Bloss, class of 1912, and Miss Maude J. Redmond of the class of 1912. The Imperial quartette will sing at the banquet and the Garland street orchestra will give selections.

BOB TAYLOR'S DREAM OF HEAVEN.

"What heaven is, I know not; but I long have dreamed of its purple hills and its fields of light blossoming with immortal beauty; of its brooks of laughter, and its rivers of songs and its palace of eternal love. I long have dreamed that every bird which sings its life out here, may sing forever there in the tree of life, and every consecrated soul that suffers here may rest among its flowers and live the love forever. I long have dreamed of opal towers and burnished domes; but what care I for gate of pearl or street of gold, if I can meet the loved ones who have blessed me here, and see the glorified faces of father and mother and the boy brother who died among the bursting buds of hope, and take in my arms again, my baby who fell asleep ere her little tongue had learned to lisp, "Our Father who art in heaven." What care I for crown of stars and harp of gold, if I can love and laugh and sing with them forever in the smile of my Saviour and my God.

THE OLD HOME PLACE.

Oh the old home place where the lilacs used to grow and the beds of yellow marigolds were rich with cheery glow, where we romped across the meadow lot or swung beneath the tree and the days were filled with laughter and the shouts of childish glee. With its little muslin curtains and their sprigs of scented bloom and the hit-or-miss rag carpet in the big front parlor room, with the happy little mother smiling at us from the door and the music of the footsteps on the shining kitchen floor and the organ and the pictures and the air of homely grace and the lovings and the welcomes of the old home place. Oh the songs we used to sing round the fireside bright and warm as we nestled close together and forgot the howling storm and the pleasant road to Dreamland when we closed our sleepy eyes and the hours of sweet oblivion and daylight's glad surprise. We are scattered o'er the world and old Time has turned us gray and the house of Dad and Mother seems a million miles away; but how oft we long to see again each dear familiar face and to rest beneath the shelter of the old home place.

DEEP SIGH COSTS MAN AN EYE

Good Dinner Affects a Vest Button With Singular Results.

Pittsburgh, Mar. 6.—Sighing with contentment after he had finished an excellent dinner, J. E. Jones, a wealthy real estate man, weighing 250 pounds, forced a button from his waistcoat with such force that it split in two. One of the pieces struck in the eye of his friend, Christopher Smith, with whom he was dining, probably destroying the sight. The other piece caught Mr. Smith on the cheek and opened up a deep wound which required three stitches to close. Mr. Jones now admits that it is not always wise to express with a sigh one's satisfaction over a fine meal, especially if one be of wide girth. He is a member of the Academy of Science and Art and is prominent in business circles.

DOUBLE WEDDING SURPRISES MANY

Marriage of Miss Effie Silliman and Grant Kimer and Miss Mayme Silliman and Leonard Smith.

Social functions have individuality just as persons have. Some we call gay, some tiresome, some brilliant, some elaborate, some few we call beautiful. And that is what the fifty guests at the Silliman home united in pronouncing the quiet weddings solemnized there Tuesday afternoon, May the seventeenth.

Cards had been issued to near relatives and old friends for the the marriage of Mayme Silliman to Mr. Leonard Smith, of Ida Grove, at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. When the guests arrived, their attention was immediately attracted to the great bank of green ferns, and white roses and daisies in one corner of the living room. Before a li—we were not long in discovering—stood the receiving line, Mr. and Mrs. Silliman, Miss Nell E. Harris, and two more. Then came the surprise. We found the bride's sister looking like the sweetest, loveliest bride, herself, and caught ourselves thinking: "Why, you look like a bride yourself, Effie, to have our thoughts broken into by the words: 'Allow me to present to you the bride of an hour, Mrs. Kimer.'"

Yes, it was true, Mr. Kimer, looking his handsomest towered beside her, a married man. Only the relatives, Miss Harris, Miss Bussey, and Miss Irlene Dye had witnessed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Kimer's reception was shortened by the strains of the wedding march, played most beautifully by Myrtle Bussey, now of Penn College Conservatory, an old college friend of both brides. Another old and dear friend of both, Ethel D. McFaddon, sang as only she can sing, "The Birthday of My Love". Rev. Chas. Blair, of the First M. E. church, of Indianapolis, who had officiated at the earlier ceremony, pronounced Maym Silliman and Leonard Smith man and wife, using the ring ceremony.

After the happy flurry of the second series of congratulations and good wishes, during the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Kimer slipped away in their car to Des Moines on the way to Lake Okoboji where they will enjoy the lakes for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the evening train for an extensive trip. Late in August they will be at home in Ida Grove, where the bride has the high school. They took the boat at Keokuk for a Mississippi River trip, expecting to visit relatives en route, and to enjoy the delights of a houseboat tour. Later, they will have an outing at Okoboji and will return to Indianapolis for a brief visit.

The beauty of the house decorations impressed all the guests: it was due partly to the great bunches of ~~pink~~ yellow tea roses, the gift to Effie Silliman and Mr. Kimer of Miss Alice Barrows, of Winona, Minnesota, a dear friend who had taught with Miss Silliman for years in Simpson College Conservatory. At her request the bride's bouquet was a bunch of these roses. The dining room decorations were in scarlet and olive green, the colors of the Alpha Chi Omega fraternity, of which both friends were members. The decorating was done by Alpha Chi girls under the direction of Miss Schimelfeig. The assisting hostesses were Misses Nell E. Harris, Irlene Dye, Myrtle Bussey, Kathryn Vollmar, and Florence Arm strong, all college friends of the brides. Resident undergraduates of the fraternity served, under the direction of Miss Mary Shaw. Her assistants were Miss Grace Vollmar, Kathryn Schimelfeig, Mary Bradford, and Emma Harned.

It is seldom that wedding guests are privileged to see the marriage of four such attractive friends. The two brides were beautiful, their lovely gowns enhancing their natural attractiveness. Both gowns were white chiffon, Miss Silliman's being trimmed with rose brocade lace, and pearl beads; the foundation was of merialin, while Miss Mayme Silliman's gown was over charmeuse, and was decorated with exquisite lace made by herself ten years ago. Both brides wore pearl necklaces, the gifts of the grooms. The grooms are both unusually handsome men. All the guests who enjoyed the privilege of participating in this happy affair join the community in sincerest good wishes to these four high esteemed young people.

The out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Ida Grove; Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Baker, Peru; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Baker, Winterset; Mr. and Mrs. George Black, Winterset; Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Winterset; Mr. J. E. F. Wilson, Winterset; Irlene Dye, Masinda; Ina Morley, Creston; Ethel and Mildred McFaddon, Emerson; Lena Dalrymple, Monroe; Bessie Snell, Oklahoma; Myrtle Bussey, Bussey.

BASKET TOSSERS TO FORM LEAGUE

DOUBLE ORGANIZATION WILL BE ARRANGED AT MEETING
TONIGHT.

A meeting has been called at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Y. W. C. A. to arrange a city basketball league. It is proposed to have six girl teams and five boys' teams. The girls' teams will be: Central high school, M. S. D. night school, Y. W. C. A., Normal university, and the Baker Business university. The boys' teams are to consist of: Central high school, M. S. D. night school, Dort school and the Vehicle club. It has also been suggested that there be a young business men's or professional men's club and this would make six teams of each boys and girls.

A representative of each of these teams is expected to be present this evening to complete the arrangements. Regular nights for practice will have to be allotted to the different teams and the schedules arranged. All representatives when they appear tonight should be sure to find out whether there are any evenings on which any of the members will be unable to come so that the schedule can be arranged accordingly.

An indoor baseball league is also a possibility. The M. S. D. and Y. W. C. A. girls both have indoor baseball teams now and will meet for the first time next Friday evening at the Y. W. C. A.

CLOSING HALF OF GAME IS HARD-FOUGHT.

Pierce Stars for Business University in Intra-City Basketball Game.

While the Y. W. C. A. basketball team was taking the Normal school girls into camp by the score of 31 to 2 last evening at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium, the Baker University boys trimmed the Business Men by the score of 25 to 13.

The Y. W. C. A. team completely outclassed the Normal team in every department of the game and the latter hardly had a chance from the time the first whistle blew. Miss Oatman, the Normal right forward played a steady game for the Normals and secured their only points. Miss Dewson was the mainstay of the Y. W. C. A. team and scored 17 of their 31 points although Mrs. Larkin was a close second with 14. The Y. W. C. A. guards played a good game while Miss Copland easily outclassed her opponent.

Pierce was easily the star of the Baker outfit and scored 21 of their 25 points. He showed wonderful ability at shooting baskets from the field but his work on shooting fouls was only fair. Brooks played a steady game although Howard seemed to be the mainstay in the team play. While the first half ended with a 13 to 3 score the Business Men got busy in the last half and played their opponents about even making 10 to their opponents' 12 scores. The lineups:

JOURNAL FRIDAY, I

CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE IS READY FOR FIRST GAME

BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO CONDUCT AFFAIRS.

16 TEAMS IN ORGANIZATION

OPENING GAMES AT Y. M. C. A. GYM DECEMBER 11.

Baker Teams Will Meet Y. W. C. A. and Vehicle Club in First Double-Header.

The league committee of the Intra-City basketball league met at the Y. W. C. A. last evening and signed the constitution. They also elected a board of directors composed of Miss Edith Harden, Miss Freda Dewson, L. Schuck, R. L. Erd and F. Howard to take charge of the work for the rest of the year.

The opening game of the schedule will be played at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium on December 11. The Y. W. C. A. girls will play the Baker University girls and the Baker boys will play the Vehicle. While the Baker teams are both comparatively unknown quantities as they have played little basketball ball before this time they may surprise some of the other teams.

Y. W. C. A. Has Good Team.

The Y. W. C. A. girls have a tried team that has been in the field for some time. They also have the advantage of having several old players and most of the team have played for two or three years. Blanche Copeland, Grace Teiderman, Charlotte Waites, Mable Wisner, Mrs. G. Larkin, Gertrude Oatman and Elizabeth Taylor are the ones who form the present showing appear sure of places on the team.

The Vehicle seem to have the real team according to the present indications. In a practice contest at the Dort gymnasium last evening the Vehicle and the Night school played a hot one of the fastest that can be picked in the city. The team composed of local business and professional men has started to practice and from the material on hand looks like a comer.

CENTRAL SHARES DOUBLE HEADER WITH B.C. TEAM

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS BEAT BAKER, 28 TO 9.

LEAGUE STANDING SHAKEN UP

The Central and Baker basketball teams split the doubleheader at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium last night. The Central boys by winning their game by a score of 23 to 9 turned into fourth place while the Baker girls won by a score of 23 to 12 and jumped into a tie for first place in the league standings. Both games were fast and interesting in spite of the one-sided scores. Both teams had large delegations in the audience and neither contingent was lacking in lung power when it came to rooting for their favorites.

Baker Team Outplayed.

Although the Baker boys took the lead in the scoring column in the first few minutes of play, Central outplayed them for the entire game. H. Taylor loomed up as the big man for the Central team and besides shooting two field baskets did good team work. While he managed to connect with only six goals from fouls out of 14 chances, his average was better than that made by Pierce, who connected with only three out of 13 chances. Mac Taylor did good work and seemed to be able to break clean from the clinches and shoot baskets. Baker showed well in his initial appearance, forward and shot one seemingly impossible basket that brought the spectators to their feet. H. Taylor did make one basket of the sensational nature. Howard, Brooks and Pierce were as usual the mainstays of the Baker play.

Girls' Game Exciting.

In the girls' game Miss Herrick easily took the honors for the Baker team while Miss MacGillivray did the best work for the Central girls. Two of the baskets made by Miss MacGillivray were made from difficult positions. The Central guards however seemed to be unable to break up to work of the Baker forwards. Miss Mischler scored 10 points for the Baker team and Miss Dell took 13. The lineups:

Both games were a little too one-sided to be interesting and in neither case did the losers have a chance in any stage of the contest.

Miss Dill was easily the star in the girls' contest and scored 22 points, all on field goals. Miss Mischler and Miss Dill played good team work together but Miss Herrick the Baker left guard, furnished the feature of the game by her speedy returns to her forwards. Miss Rosetter played a fast game at center for the Baker girls. Miss Tomkinson took the star role for the Normal girls and contributed all of their six points.

In the men's game, Cantley and Smith did the best end of the playing. Cantley located 10 field baskets for 20 points while Smith made five field baskets and seven foul tosses. The Bliss men made four foul baskets out of 13 chances while Smith for the Business Men made 7 out of 16 chances.

Mansfield and Dodge did the best playing for the Bliss aggregation. The lineup:

BAKER BOYS LOSE CLOSE ON

DEFEATED 21-14 AFTER LEADING IN FIRST HALF.

Players of All Four Teams Make Creditable Showing in Speedy Contests.

Baker university and M. S. D. divide a double-header at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium Saturday night. The Baker girls won over the silent lassies by two points, taking the game 17 to 15. The Baker boys were not so successful. As they leading in the first half, they lost out in the final period, 31 to 14. Both games were the fastest and closest played in the city series thus far.

The Baker led the M. S. D. boys by four points in their first half while the M. S. D. girls came out two ahead in this period. The M. S. D. boys missed Fleming, their fast left guard. Fleming has left school and probably will not be in the lineup again this year.

It is hard to pick stars on any of the teams as every player performed very creditably. The strong throwing of Miss Herrick for the Baker girls did much to keep their goal out of danger.

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD FAILED TO SAVE BROWNING

YOUNG MAN EXPIRES AT HURLEY HOSPITAL.

NURSE TRIED TO SAVE HIM

HEROIC MEASURES KEPT HIM
ALIVE SEVERAL DAYS.

Victim Had Planned to Go to Peru to Become His Uncle's Private Secretary.

Although heroic measures were resorted to in an effort to save the life of Arvill Browning, who had been in critical condition at Hurley hospital from hemorrhages which followed an operation for appendicitis on Monday, November 11, the loss of blood left the young man in such a weakened state that his death occurred last night. Browning's case was a peculiar one, in that he was a member of a family known as "bleeders," persons who are subject to severe hemorrhages from the slightest wounds.

Following the operation for appendicitis Browning came near bleeding to death. Transfusion of blood, an operation in which Miss Christine Keyes, a nurse gave up a great quantity of blood in an effort to Browning's life served only to keep him alive for a little more than a week. At first it was feared that Miss Keyes' sacrifice would be in vain. Then Browning rallied and was thought to have a chance to recover. His condition was so weakened, however, that death came last night.

Planned to Go to Peru

Orvill Browning was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Browning. He was 25 years of age and a student in the Flint Business university. An uncle, who is president of a college in Peru, had offered the young man a position as his private secretary following his graduation here next June. The remains were taken to Chase, Kansas, for burial.

TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE; EDITH LUCILE ABEL DIES

PRETTY AND POPULAR GIRL
MEETS TRAGIC DEATH.

OUT TO PARTY LAST NIGHT

RETURNING HOME SHE MISTOOK
STRYCHNINE FOR SALTS.

Piercing Scream Calls Parents to Her Aid But She Dies Within an Hour.

Strychnine which her grandfather bought several years ago to kill some cats with caused the death of pretty and popular Edith Lucile Abel, aged 17, of 904 Richfield road early this morning when she swallowed the poison in mistake for salts.

Miss Abel was out with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Abel last night attending a card party at the home of a neighbor. They returned home about 12:30 o'clock this morning. Miss Abel had not been feeling well for several days and decided to take some salts. After she prepared for bed she went downstairs and opened the medicine cabinet where the strychnine and salts sat side by side in similar bottles on a shelf. In the half darkness of the room she poured all of the poisonous drug left in the bottle—nearly a dram—into a glass of water, stirred it up and swallowed the potion hastily. She then returned to her room. Almost immediately she became nauseated and went to the bathroom where she was discovered by her mother. Asked what the trouble was she said she had cramps, but she did not then realize that she had made the mistake. She retired after being warned by her parents to call them if she did not feel better.

Find Her In Spasms.

Within five minutes after they had bid her goodnight, the parents were startled by a piercing scream from the daughter's room and hastened there to find her writhing in spasms. They tried to get several physicians by telephone. Finally they became desperate and asked central to locate a physician for an emergency case. Dr. Warren H. Taylor, county coroner, was reached and hurried to the house. He was too late to be of service for the girl's system had already absorbed a large amount of the poison. She died within a few minutes after the doctor arrived and within two hours after an hour after she drank the poison. Coroner Taylor decided that no inquest was necessary.

Miss Abel was the only daughter of Harley Abel who is well-known through his long service as sexton of Avondale cemetery. Miss Abel was a student at Baker's Business university and was one of the most popular girls in the school. She was of a particularly sunny disposition and had hosts of friends in the city. She was an accomplished musician. In the Kearsley street M. E. church Sunday school of which she was a member she was a teacher and an ardent worker.

Native of Flint.

Edith Lucile Abel was born in Flint March 26, 1895, and had lived here all her life. She attended the public schools to the eighth grade. She left school two years ago last fall and after spending a year at home entered Baker's Business university. She would have graduated from that institution March 19 this year.

Besides her father and mother Miss Abel leaves two brothers, Harry R. Abel who is attending the Michigan Agricultural college at Lansing and Hallie A. Abel who is a draftsman at the Weston-Mott plant.

GIRL WHO MISTOOK
POISON FOR SALTS

THE LATE MISS ABEL.

Many friends are mourning the sudden and tragic end of Miss Edith Lucile Abel who died at her home 904 Richfield road early Saturday morning three quarters of an hour after she swallowed a large dose of strychnine in mistake for medicine. She was to have graduated next month from Baker's Business university which she entered last fall.

WESTON-MOTT SWAMPS BAKER IN FIRST GAME

LARGE CROWD SEES OPENING OF

BAKER GIRLS BEAT Y. W. C. A.

BOTH CONTESTS ARE QUITE ONE-SIDED.

Mott Team Wins by Score of 47 to 6.
While Baker Girls are Victors, 29 to 16.

While the Weston-Mott basketball team was snowering the Baker University boys under by the score of 47 to 6, the Baker girls took their opening game from the Y. W. C. A. girls by the score of 29 to 16 at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium last evening in the opening games of the Intra-City league.

The Baker boys never had a chance. They were played off their feet for the entire game and seemed lacking both in speed and the ability to shoot baskets.

The Weston-Mott team showed up to be a fine aggregation of players with a thorough knowledge of the game. Their signals and team work were almost perfect. Weir was the individual star and shot 13 baskets. The Weston-Mott men are all old college players and took the upper hand at the beginning by their superior knowledge of the game.

The girls' play was inclined to be slow. The two Baker forwards showed up well all through the game and both showed exceptional ability in shooting baskets. The Y. W. C. A. guards were both too short to put up a fast game against their taller opponents. They took a brace in the last half, however, and played a much better game. A large crowd of Baker enthusiasts was in the gallery and kept up a noise constantly. The lineups:

Line-Up.

The Y. W. C. A. basketball team beat out the Bliss girls in a hard fought game at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium last night by a score of 16 to 15 and the Baker boys swamped the Bliss boys by a score of 46 to 7.

Howard was the backbone of the team play for the Baker boys and kept up the good work which has stamped him as one of the best guards in the Intra-City league. Pierce showed up strong in the scoring with eight field baskets to his credit although in shooting fouls he managed to make only 5 out of 21 chances. Brooks played a fast game at center for the Baker men and scored six field baskets.

The honors were about evenly divided among the Bliss players. Goodrich scored only three times out of 11 chances from fouls. O'Brien scored once out of five chances and Gillett once out of two chances.

The Y. W. C. A. team was able to make only two field goals, all of the rest of their points being made by shooting fouls. The Bliss team made three field goals. Miss Copland was easily the star of the girls' game although Miss McKenzie, the Bliss center, played a hard game. Grace Larkin made 14 of the Y. W. C. A.'s 16 points, although she had two of them were made from shooting fouls. Miss Williams did good work at shooting baskets for the Bliss and Miss Sweet showed up well in team play. The score:

The basketball game between the Night school and the Bliss boys turned out exactly as expected and proved to be nothing but a frenzied fight to establish a record in the scoring column. The Night school boys went ahead and shot baskets at will, paying little attention to the movements of the Bliss team. They gathered in 82 points while the Bliss team succeeded in gathering in only one point. The Bliss girls made a better fight and their game was almost even, the Night girls taking the contest by the score of 11 to 4.

Koskey was the best marksman in last night's contest and shot 14 field baskets for 23 points. Detrick and Renwick were tied for second honors with 22 points apiece. Every man on the Night school team managed to collect a few points. The first half ended with the score 24 to 0 but in the last half Teachout managed to shoot a basket from foul and save his team from being whitewashed.

The girls' game was fast and interesting. Miss Williams was the star of the Bliss aggregation and contributed 11 of the Bliss four points. Miss E. Tompkins collected seven of the Night school's 11 points, while M. O'Connor made the other four. M. Tompkins played a fast game for the Night school girls at the center position. The lineups:

CAN'T AGREE ON GYMNASIUM FOR TITLE CONTEST

M. S. D. AND BAKER GIRLS STILL DEBATING.

CLOSE OF SEASON IS NEAR

FANS FEAR GAME WILL NOT BE PLAYED.

Saginaw or Detroit Courts Favored But League Officials Fear Game
Will Not Draw.

Difficulty in deciding upon the gymnasium in which to play the game is holding up the playing of the final game between the M. S. D. and Baker girls to decide the championship of the girls' league.

The M. S. D. authorities have taken the stand that as the first game was played at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium where the Baker girls did their practicing that it would be no more than fair if the second game was played at the M. S. D. gymnasium. The Baker players say that they are willing to play the game on any floor except the M. S. D. floor. They say that as the M. S. D. floor that it should be played on neutral floor and have suggested Saginaw or Detroit as the scene of the conflict. This, however, does not seem to enthrill the backers of the game here as they cannot see where the gate receipts will come in as the game would hardly draw hall rent in any town except Flint.

Many Favor Dort Gym.

While there have been many arguments in favor of playing in the Dort gymnasium as neither of the teams have played much there, there seems to be little chance of any agreement being reached. Both factions seem to have reached the attitude that the other team wants to play the game and that the other team will make the concessions if they only hold out long enough. In the meantime the fans wait and will probably be weaned from basketball and playing baseball before the game is played.

Death of S. A. Silliman

The sudden death of S. A. Silliman, one of Indianola's good citizens last Thursday evening was a shock to the people of this community. He had been complaining some of late but neither he or his family thought it serious. He ate his supper Thursday evening and his wife thought he went for his mail as usual. Mrs. Silliman went to a neighbors for a short time and coming home noticed the lights on in the basement in the furnace room and on going down found him lying on the floor and gave the alarm. Some college girls rooming in the house called Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kimer their daughter, and some of the neighbors but on their arrival found he had been dead for some time. It was a sad and sudden death to his wife and daughters for no one is prepared for a death in that way.

Stuart Addison Silliman

Stuart Addison Silliman was born near Galilee, Pa., May 25, 1853, and passed away at his home in Indianola, Iowa, October 9, 1913, at the age of 60 years, 4 months and 14 days. When about ten years of age, he came with his parents to Iowa and settled in Madison county about eight miles south of Winterset. In 1879, on the 13th of February, he was united in marriage to Miss Allie Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Silliman settled on a farm near Peru, Iowa, where they remained until coming to Indianola in 1902 for the purpose of educating their children. With the exception of two years spent in Texas, they have since made Indianola their home.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Silliman; Gertie May, Effie, and Mayme Alice. Gertie May died in infancy leaving two daughters to mourn the departure of their father; Mrs. Grant Kimer, Indianola, Ia., and Mrs. Leonard Smith, Ida Grove, Iowa. In addition to the wife and daughters, Mr. Silliman leaves a sister, Miss Appoline Silliman, Clifton, Colo., and two brothers, Charles and L'ncoln, both of Winterset, Ia., he also leaves a host of warm friends wherever he has lived.

Mr. Silliman was baptized in the Methodist Episcopal church which he was but a boy. Although in recent years he has not associated himself with any church, he still retained the faith of his boyhood days and made it the rule of his practice. He had a steadfast faith in Christ and was the sympathetic friend of the church in all its undertakings. Physical disabilities have recently rendered it impossible for him to attend the public services of the church. He was a loving and devoted husband, a father whose influence was wholesome and life will remain as a fragrant memory with those who are left behind. His retiring disposition caused him to shrink from any form of publicity, but as a man of clean life and high ideals his influence always added strength to the moral force of the community.

The funeral services, which were conducted by the Rev. Chas. R. Bair, of the Methodist church, with the assistance of the Rev. E. E. Douglass of the United Presbyterian church, were held at the residence on West Ashland Avenue, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The L. O. F. Lodge attended in a body, acting as an escort to the cemetery where, according to their beautiful custom, they deposited the sprig of evergreen on the casket of their departed brother.

PRACTICE BASKETBALL GAME

The girls' basketball team from the Baker Business university won a practice game from the Walker school girls at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium Saturday by the score of 18 to 14. Neither team was in good form and the game was mostly luck. The lineup for Baker Business university was: Harriek and Roseler, center; Dill and Michle, forwards; Carey and Havers, guards. The Walker lineup was: Kiers, center; Watson and Vien, forwards; Baker and Cousins, guards.

BAKER SCHOOL TO HAVE NEW QUARTERS

Will Occupy Second Floor of Remodeled Harvey Building.

Announcement is made today that the Baker Business university will move August 1 from its present location to the Harvey building, corner of East Kearsley and Harrison streets, now being remodeled. The building has been leased to C. O. Hetchler for 20 years, while the Baker university has taken a 10 year lease of the entire upper floor. The first floor will be used as a sales room by the Ford agency.

The new location is expected to prove an ideal one for the Baker school on account of its proximity to the business center of the city, the postoffice, library, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., the Vehicle club and other places of importance. At the same time it is removed from the noise of traffic on Saginaw street.

Funeral Saturday For Local Woman

Lengthy Illness Is Fatal to
Mrs. Anna Baker

After an illness of six years, Mrs. Anna F. Baker, 71, of 1511 Church street, prominent social and civic leader of Flint, died Thursday.

Mrs. Baker was the wife of Eldon E. Baker, founder and president of Baker Business university and former postmaster here.

Active for 27 years in Court Street Methodist Episcopal church activities, Mrs. Baker had served for 14 years as treasurer of the Home Missionary society, was a member of the Foreign Missionary society and of Flint Sorosis.

A member of many social and civic committees in the city, Mrs. Baker was particularly active in serving on various committees and organizations during the war. Mr. and Mrs. Baker, married in Peru, Ia., in 1895, came to Flint 27 years ago after living in Winfield, Kan., for five years.

Services will be held at Court Street M. E. church Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Dr. Harold F. Carr, pastor of the church, will be assisted by the Rev. Howard A. Field, former pastor of the church, in officiating. Mrs. Field will sing at the services. The body will be at the residence until noon Saturday when it will be taken to the church. Arrangements are being made by Algeo-Gundry.

Mrs. Baker is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. M. H. McCormack; a son, Basil F. Baker; and a sister, Miss Elizabeth Wright, all of Flint.

DETROIT PASTOR GIVES ADVICE TO BUSINESS CLASS

"A LIVE DOG BETTER THAN A DEAD LION," HIS TOPIC.

DR. M. S. RICE, THE SPEAKER

ADDRESS DELIVERED BEFORE
BAKER GRADUATES.

Clergymen Urge Them to Appreciate
What They Possess and Make
Most of It.

"To have what we want is riches but to be able to do without it is Power. The thing for us to do is to appreciate the worth of what we possess now. Riches will be out of your hand long before you know it." These statements were made last evening by Dr. M. S. Rice, pastor of the Woodward avenue Methodist church of Detroit to the graduating class of the Baker Business University, at the Court street church, where the commencement exercises were held. Dr. Rice took for his theme "A Live Dog Versus a Dead Lion," and through his discourse he spoke of that discriminating power of life which will get hold of the things to be retained and restrain them and prop up the things which should be propped.

"A live dog is better than a dead lion, that's business," he said, "and when it comes to injecting a principle into the business life of a young man I know of nothing better. 'Do not spend your life worrying about the things you have had but do not possess now. Quit it and give the rest of the world half a chance with what they have. They do not care for what you have lost but have great interest in what you have. I believe in hope but don't want to do a day's work upon it.'

Can't Change the Lion.
"You can't change the lion for he is the same wild beast and has remained the same and his position is the same now as it was in the days of Solomon, but the dog is the most changed creature. When those words were written in the days of Solomon the dog was a friendless animal, but not so today. I have seen funerals of Christian men and women whose there was less display than at a certain dog's funeral I once saw.

"It is the unmeasured value which lies in the use of what you possess now that counts. Someone has said, 'Everything comes to him who waits,' but if a fellow gets a hustle on and meets things 10 miles up the road, he will be a success and that is the difference between him and the man who ekes out an existence. What you have now is the foundation of the success of your life.

"The chief business of man in this world is to grow a man. How are we going to learn it? Man should be able to whip disappointment and any disappointment in life is too small to be the master. I am interested in a man whose lion is sick as you may be able to cure him.

Give the Boy Faith in Man.
"You can never do a meaner thing in your life than to break a promise to a boy, because it makes him lose faith in man and it takes a great many hard lessons for him to overcome this losing of faith. Disappointment ought never to whip man, but man should whip disappointment. These remarks were illustrated by experiences in the speaker's own life when he was a boy.

"I know what hard work means," the speaker continued, "I know the ministry of want, I know the hard work, the want, the difficulties and trials, etc., that strike a man in the delicate place of life, but I say that it is the rich boys that have the hard lot and it is a misnomer that the poor boy has the hard lot.

"Success is in reach of the man who will pay the price and men today who are successes have worked hard and great men who have come to the place of success have done so by hard struggle.

"You young men and women here tonight are held doubly responsible and you should put forth every effort and cultivate that which you have and not that which somebody will leave you."

The exercises were opened at 8 o'clock with a selection by the Garland street orchestra. Other numbers were a duet by Miss Elma Kimball and Leo Finch, a reading "The Christian Maid and Lion" by Miss Marie Sharick, which concluded with "The Rosary" sung by George H. Russell, two selections by the Mozart quartet and the presentation of the diplomas to the 42 pupils by President Baker of the university.

THE FLINT DAILY

BAKER BUSINESS
UNIVERSITY
INCORPORATED

Representative Men of Flint Associated With New Project.

SCOPE TO BE INCREASED

Music, Oratory and Normal
Training Departments Will Be Added.

Following three years of unusual success the Baker Business university will begin the new year with an increased field of activities. The Baker Business university was this week incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan with a capital of $15,000 of which $5,000 is paid in.

With the incorporation there have been taken into the company to finance its increased activities a number of representative men of this city and the prospects are considered bright. The members of the corporation are: E. E. Baker; G. D. Howard; Horace E. Potter, assistant cashier of the Citizens Commercial and Savings bank; W. S. Ballenger, treasurer of the Chevrolet Motor Car company; Harry Demorest, circuit court stenographer of Genesee county; Harry Nutt, travelling representative of the American Book company; Roy E. Brownell, attorney; J. W. Bullock of the Mason Motor company; H. M. Briggs of the Grinnell music store; Pearl E. Brown, teacher. The officers of the university are: President, E. E. Baker; secretary, G. D. Howard; treasurer, Horace E. Potter; trustees—E. E. Baker, W. S. Ballenger, Horace E. Potter, Harry Demorest, Roy E. Brownell, J. W. Bullock and H. M. Briggs.

Will Add Departments.

As soon as it is possible larger quarters will be occupied by the business university. The present departments, which consist of stenography, commercial work and civil service training, will be enlarged and there will be added departments for study of music, oratory and normal training. An expert in each of these branches will be placed in charge of the respective departments.

The promoters of the enlarged institution say that it is believed this territory presents the best field in Michigan for an undertaking of this kind and it is conceded that an educational institution of this character will be a big addition to the educational advantages of Flint.

The management of the Baker Business university, which had charge of the institution previous to its incorporation, took charge of the school in September 1911. At that time there were 17 students enrolled. The university has prospered under the new management until today there is a combined attendance of 150 students at the day and night schools. The school is now the largest of its kind in Central Michigan.

BAKER BUSINESS
UNIVERSITY TO OPEN NEW HOME

Quarters Will Be Thrown Open for Public Inspection Tomorrow Evening.

IN REMODELED BUILDING

Rapid Growth of School Has Necessitated More Room.

The fine new quarters of the Baker Business university on the corner of Harrison and East Kearsley streets will be thrown open to the public tomorrow evening. From 7:30 until 10 o'clock there will be a general "open house" and everyone in the city is cordially invited to be present. All visitors will be shown through the building and earnings will be given to all.

More Room Needed.

The new building, which is the finest of its kind in the city, was made necessary by the constant expansion of the work and the crowded quarters in the building on South Saginaw street. The old building has been crowded to capacity for some time and has been inadequate for the needs of the school. The Baker Business university came to Flint four years ago and the enrollment has increased by leaps and bounds since that time.

The new building is 48x120 feet and will be able to take care of nearly 300 students at each day and night school. It is equipped throughout in the most up-to-date manner with new furniture. It is lighted throughout with electric lights and steam heat is used in the entire building.

Plenty of Daylight.

Electric buzzers connect all of the rooms with the main office and the different classes will all pass at the same time. The building is exceptionally well supplied with daylight. The windows are large and well located and there are a number of skylights for the middle of the rooms. There are also glass panes between the different rooms to keep the light uniform.

There are 10 rooms in the building in addition to two cloak rooms. The two largest rooms are the book-keeping and shorthand rooms. These are arranged so that they can be thrown into one room and which will accommodate about 400 persons.

There is also a good room for art and mechanical drawing. Another room is devoted exclusively to type-writing. There is also a main office and private office. There are four music rooms and an effort is being made by the university to put the music department in a class by itself in institutions of the kind.

MORTUARY

The memory of Mrs. Baker's life will be cherished by a host of friends, because of her unselfish devotion, and kindly interest in all whom she could serve. She possessed a genial personality, and a cheerfulness that never failed, not even in the last months of her life when she suffered much, but bore the affliction with Christian fortitude and with complete resig-

I know not what the future hath
Of marvel and surprise
Assured alone that life and death
His mercy underlies.

And so beside the silent sea
I wait the muffled oar,
No harm from Him can come to me
On ocean or on shore.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air,
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.
