

Mary J.C. Merrill was the second female to graduate from Michigan Agricultural College in 1881. She then served a five-year term as College Librarian, becoming the first female staff member at the school.