FOREWORD

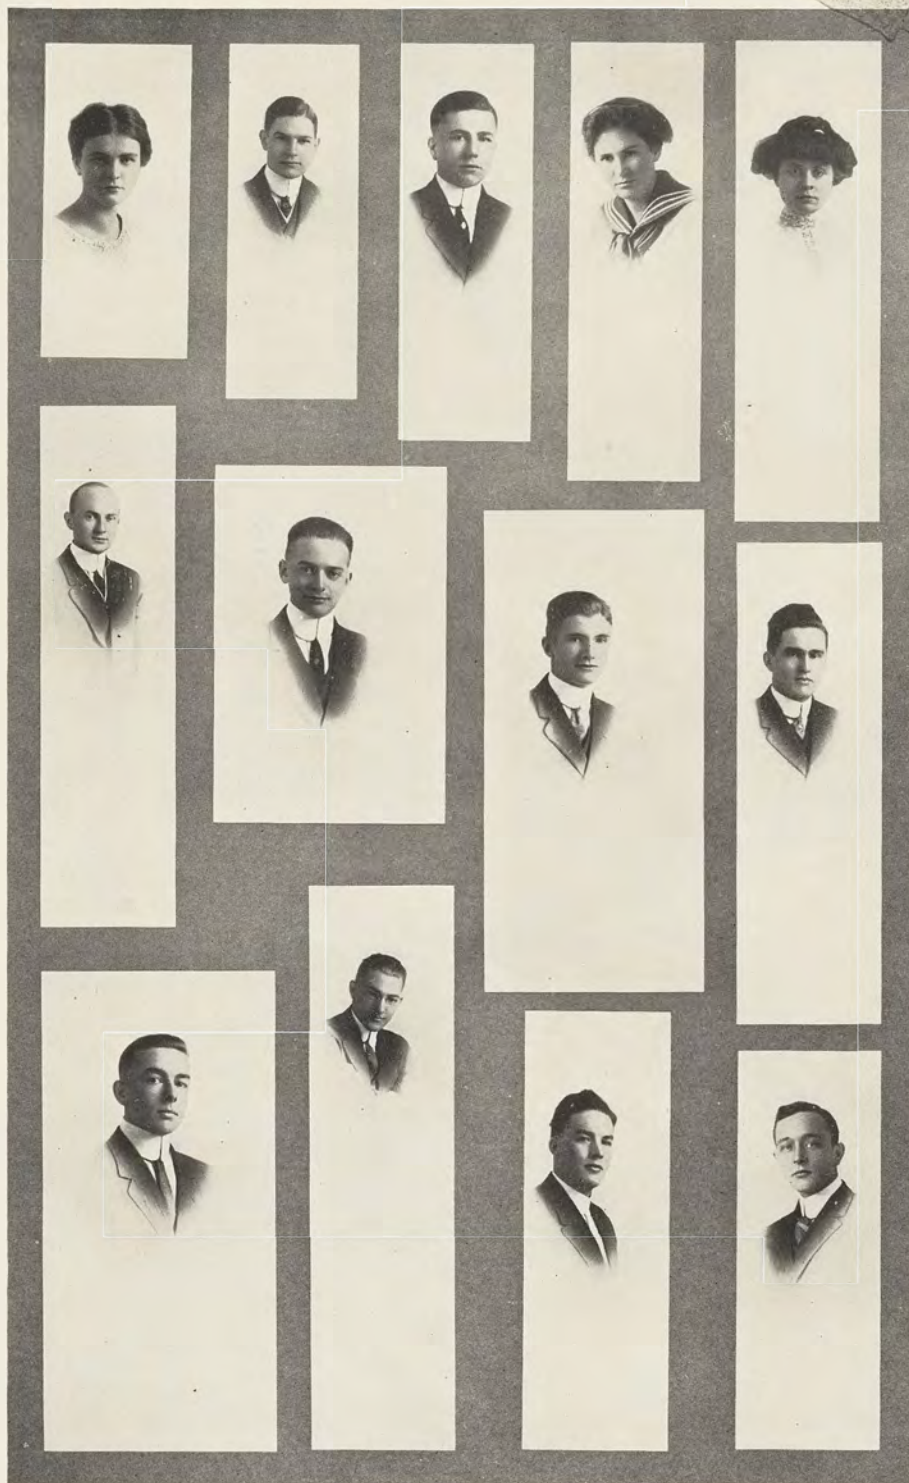

NEARLY every institution of learning has its yearly happenings and important events pictured and recorded in some annual publication. Ours is the Wolverine, and we take this means of conveying to you, dear reader, glimpses of the happiest part of our lives.

The aim of every Wolverine should be to preserve the fond memories of classmates and friendships started during the course of our college career. We sincerely hope that our weak endeavor may carry out this purpose, and that every one may find pleasure in a perusal of the contents of these pages. In all cases where we have broken precedent, our wish is that the changes will meet with your approval.

The class hereby contributes its last offering to college life. May this effort be successful in its mission of awakening fond recollections in the mind of every reader.

THE EDITORS.

History of Class of '13

Miss Yakely sat in her office opening letters and letters. Letters each one of which stated, "I'm coming to M. A. C." And as she read them over she studied each one intently, picturing each of the writers. Then when she finished the last one this to herself she murmured, "I think they will prove well worth watching, though of course I may have judged wrongly."

Fall came and there passed through her office freshmen and even more freshmen. The ones who had written these letters. But these were the ideal-est of freshmen for followed they not the old saying "To be seen and not heard by the sophomores."

So passed most swiftly the school year, 'till at the end of the spring term they burned their brown caps with green buttons. These were sophomores now to Miss Yakely.

New freshmen, with aid from the juniors, made posters with threats and accusings. So counseled the sophomores together and, summoning all of their forces, they humbled the impudent freshmen. Then to quiet all ill feeling a barbecue they gave the college. Served they sandwiches and cider.

At an old-time country party the sophomores met together. First of all their several parties. Here was seen the great Coach Macklin walking over many glass jars without even one jar breaking. Here it was that Irving Woodin gained a certain class distinction in a contest of pie eating.

Gave they also in the spring term what's now known as the "Soph. Hop." First of all the "Soph. Hops" given. Then Miss Yakely called them juniors.

Plucky juniors here were numbered, football champions were these juniors, also were they feared in baseball. Eight men of this class were given monograms of their alma mater.

But these juniors had much trouble, though they always overcame it. On the day of their big J hop stormed it ne'er before so fiercely. Stormed and blew with no abating, 'till no street car dared to venture through the snow drifts to the college. The juniors then obtained two bob-sleighs—started out to go to Lansing: found that sleighs were not successful so they walked into the city and held their slightly postponed J hop—a J hop long to be remembered.

Also was this class most honored for the work they had accomplished for their scholarship and learning. Then it was Miss Yakely stated, "These are seniors we have with us."

One hundred seventy seniors answered to the fall term class roll. Seniors these who loved their college, and nobly did uphold her standard. But even seniors cannot labor ceaselessly and not grow stupid. So before the fall term ended they had a good time all together. The girls held an "Old Maid's Convention"—the fellows served eats in a plenty. Merriment there was unbounded.

In the winter they remembered the date of their Sophomore and J hops and they thought it only fitting that they hold another party in remembrance of these good times. Much more also did these seniors ere their college days were ended.

Miss Yakely sat in her office making out credits and credits: credits of all of the seniors—the senior class of '13. Musing she looked them over and this is the way her thoughts ran: "'Tis now four years I have watched them, would I could follow them farther."

History of the Class of 1914

Officers

President, Don Francisco.

Vice President, Miss Agnes Stover.

Secretary, Miss Muriel Smith.

Treasurer, J. Wade Weston.

The most successful J hop in years, that of the class of 1914, was over and the tired juniors who had crowded into the waiting cars were patiently waiting for them to start. Their desire for pleasure having been surfeited they were content to sit quietly and allow the spirit of retrospection that always creeps in on such occasions, to take its course. Let us follow one of them in his thoughts. Back, back, back he goes till he comes to the fall of 1910. Then he sees the entering class, replete with talent of all kinds—literary, artistic and athletic. He follows on over the posting of the sophomore posters and his jaw sets more firmly as he sees his classmates fighting to the last whistle, bow before the superior strength of the class of '13. How his heart thumps with renewed vigor as he recalls that 17-0 game with Notre Dame, and the roast ox and cider of the previous night are fragrant memories. Yes, there was a class football team that showed real merit and, with a smile, he sees the class basketball team win the championship after Coach Macklin had taken five of our number to assist the Varsity squad. How quick that spring term seemed to pass and he was once more back on the farm to spend three months mainly wishing that school would open again.

The time came at last and he was a chesty sophomore, always there to give the new freshman a helping hand (to get them into Abbot Hall) and displaying his prowess by pulling the hapless "fifteeners" through the waters of the Red Cedar. Yes, the barbecue his class gave was the best ever and the 1914 football team was a close contender for the championship of the school. He was a corporal now and he laughed to himself as he saw the new men trying to handle their guns for the first time. Then came the soph hop and other social events to occupy his attention and, of course, there was another championship basketball team. In the spring term the time almost flew and once more he was adrift from the watchful eyes of Prexy.

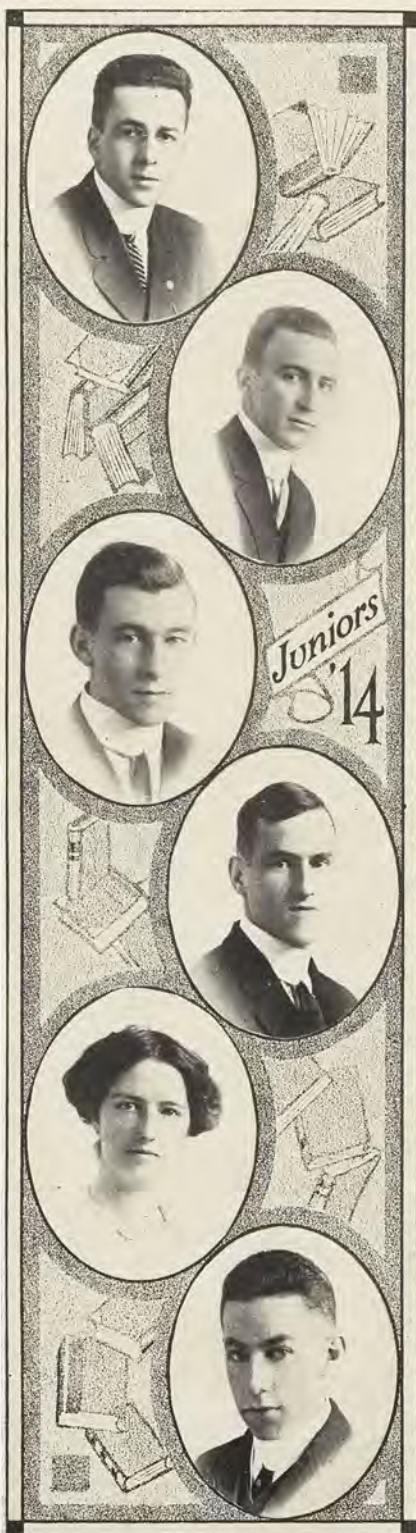

The time passed quickly, it seemed an awfully short vacation, and he was back greeting his now old friends. The fall term of this year was crowded full of important events. There was the barbecue and football games as usual and besides these preparations for the J hop and the Wolverine.

On February 7th (how well he recalled the date), he had been pushed into his first dress suit by enthusiastic friends and—what a time! There he was up in the balcony with the best of all the J hop girls, the lights shed a rosy glow upon the dancers below him. They were talking in low tones and he was just about to—but why did the building rock so? With a start he looked up just in time to see the lights at the co-op store come into sight around the curve and his dreams were o'er.

History of the Class of 1915

Officers

President, E. E. Peterson.

Vice President, Miss Edna Frazier.

Secretary, L. B. Billings.

Treasurer, F. W. Richardson.

Oh, illustrious class of 1915
The pen of ages your glory has foretold,
And now we see the sure results of "trying,"
As victory after victory we unfold.

Our past has been one continuous round of glories,
Our future we will hope to make the same.
And freshmen can never hope to follow in our footsteps,
Or climb so high upon the ladder we call fame.

Our barbecue—can words describe its beauty?
As the flames leaped high and portrayed to us a sight,
That even awed our seniors and our juniors,
And sent the freshmen hurrying through the night.

What other classes within these broad halls of learning
Have gained so much of glory and renown?
With "Dutch" and "Peerless Pete" as our staunch leaders
Without a doubt we've won the college crown.

And now we say with all the pride of spirit
As through our college course we ably pass,
If there is anything we would rather be than angels
'Tis a member of our 1915 class.

FRESHMAN

History of the Class of 1916

Officers

President, E. C. Mandenberg.

Vice President, Miss Ruth Price.

Secretary, Miss Rose Turnell.

Treasurer, K. O. Schreiber.

On September 23, 1912, the students who were to make up the class of 1916 gathered together for the first time and entered M. A. C. as the largest freshman class in the history of the institution. Our first week was spent making friends and becoming acquainted with the surroundings that we hoped to be associated with for the next four years of our lives.

During the second week of school we were called together by the student council and, under the direction of the head of that organization, elected E. C. Mandenberg to guide us through our first year. The newly elected president then took the chair and we proceeded to choose the rest of the officers and became duly organized.

On Thursday night the first note of hostility was sounded when the sophomores put up some very "nawsty" posters. These took the form of a challenge for a class rush which was to take place the following Saturday. Not to be outdone, a few of the valiant members of the freshman class sallied forth the following night armed with a number of defiant answers. The adventurous band started at the Farm Lane bridge and had pasted up fifty or seventy-five when they ran across a big crowd of ungentlemanly upper-classmen who stopped the performance and tore down all the posters in sight.

The class rush was held the next morning, and through our lack of organization we lost. We were not totally annihilated, however, for we did pull the chesty sophs through the chilly waters of the Red Cedar and succeeded in winning one of the canvas pulls.

When school closed for the Christmas holidays on December 20th, we hurried joyfully homeward and as gladly hurried back to resume work January 8, 1913.

The class of 1916 is still in its infancy, and as yet its history is insignificant as compared to that of the older classes, but we feel sure that in our ranks there are men who are capable of taking up and continuing the good work that the other classes have begun.

EVERETT G. SMITH.

1912 Football Review

The football season of 1912 opened with exceedingly favorable prospects. Of the previous year's team, Gorenflo, Gifford, Campbell, Riblet, and Julian, returned to form the framework for the new eleven. The big problem confronting Coach Macklin was to complete the team from the nucleus at hand. Mack was equal to the occasion and the football machine turned out by him this season spoke for itself in every game, winning the Coach a place in the heart of every loyal M. A. C. supporter.

The opening game was played on our home field with Alma, Oct. 5, resulting in a score of 24—0. Though not high it raised our hopes for the game with Michigan the following week. The band and a large body of students accompanied the team to Ann Arbor on Oct. 12. Lack of experience and practice assisted the Wolverines in running up a score of 55 points to our 7; but though we were badly defeated the game was scrappy from start to finish. It might be added that this was the only game throughout the season that M. A. C. bowed to defeat. The game with Yost's warriors pointed out several weaknesses in our lineup. A shift of Riblet to half and Gauthier to quarter seemed to remedy the defect and made possible the sensational work of our team the remainder of the season.

No particular difficulty was met with in disposing of DePauw on Oct. 26, by a score of 59—0. A whitewash brush was also applied to Ohio Wesleyan the following Saturday to the tune of 46—0. Mt. Union played a snappy game on Athletic field on Nov. 9, and it was thought during the first half of the contest that we had met our equal on the gridiron, but our fears were soon put to flight as the score of 61—20 in our favor, indicates.

On November 16, the second big game of the season was played at East Lansing. The little giants played a whirlwind of a game but their attack and defense proved insufficient against Macklin's portable stone wall, the final score being Mich. Aggies 24, Wabash 0.

The next Saturday was to have been an open date, but on that day the scrubs pitted their energies against the varsity. It was thought by some that the game might be continued overtime, so evenly were the teams matched; but during the last few minutes of the allotted time, a skillful forward pass cinched the game for the first team men.

On Thanksgiving day, 200 loyal students of the college watched a real football game at Columbus, Ohio, which will live in their memories for a long time to come. Each man on our team was playing a gigantic game, but it seemed in vain against the Ohio Staters, and the second period of the game closed with Ohio 20 points in the lead. During the interval of rest, however, the coach proved himself a master of oratory as well as of football. In those fifteen short minutes he showed the men, individually, the fallacies in their tactics and inspired in them the feeling of unity. The sturdy eleven faced their opponents at the beginning of the third period with his fighting spirit, gradually forcing the ball into their opponent's territory. Then score after score was registered for M. A. C. until at the closing of the game the score stood 35—20, Ohio not scoring a point during the last two periods.

During the next two weeks the squad was banqueted royally by Mr. Downey of Lansing, and also by the Inter-society Union. Much spirit shown by the various speakers and students present at these occasions, was a fitting close to a very successful season.

Although the team and scrubs cannot receive too much credit for their work, we ought to thank Coach Macklin directly for the quality of the 1912 team. His resources in athletics seem to be unlimited, judging from the teams he turns out for us. By the election of G. W. Gifford to lead the team in 1913, we are assured of an eleven which will equal if not surpass that of 1912.

Unusual interest was shown in the class football games of the past season owing to the evenly matched teams that were in the finals for the title. Baseball Season 1912

The baseball season of 1912 may rightfully be regarded as the most successful one in the history of this branch of athletics at M. A. C. The one feat alone of winning all three contests scheduled with Michigan distinguishes it as a banner year, for only once before have we defeated them in baseball and that was in an overtime game many years ago. When the calibre of the teams met with is considered, a record of two lost out of the thirteen played, is one of which any college may justly be proud.

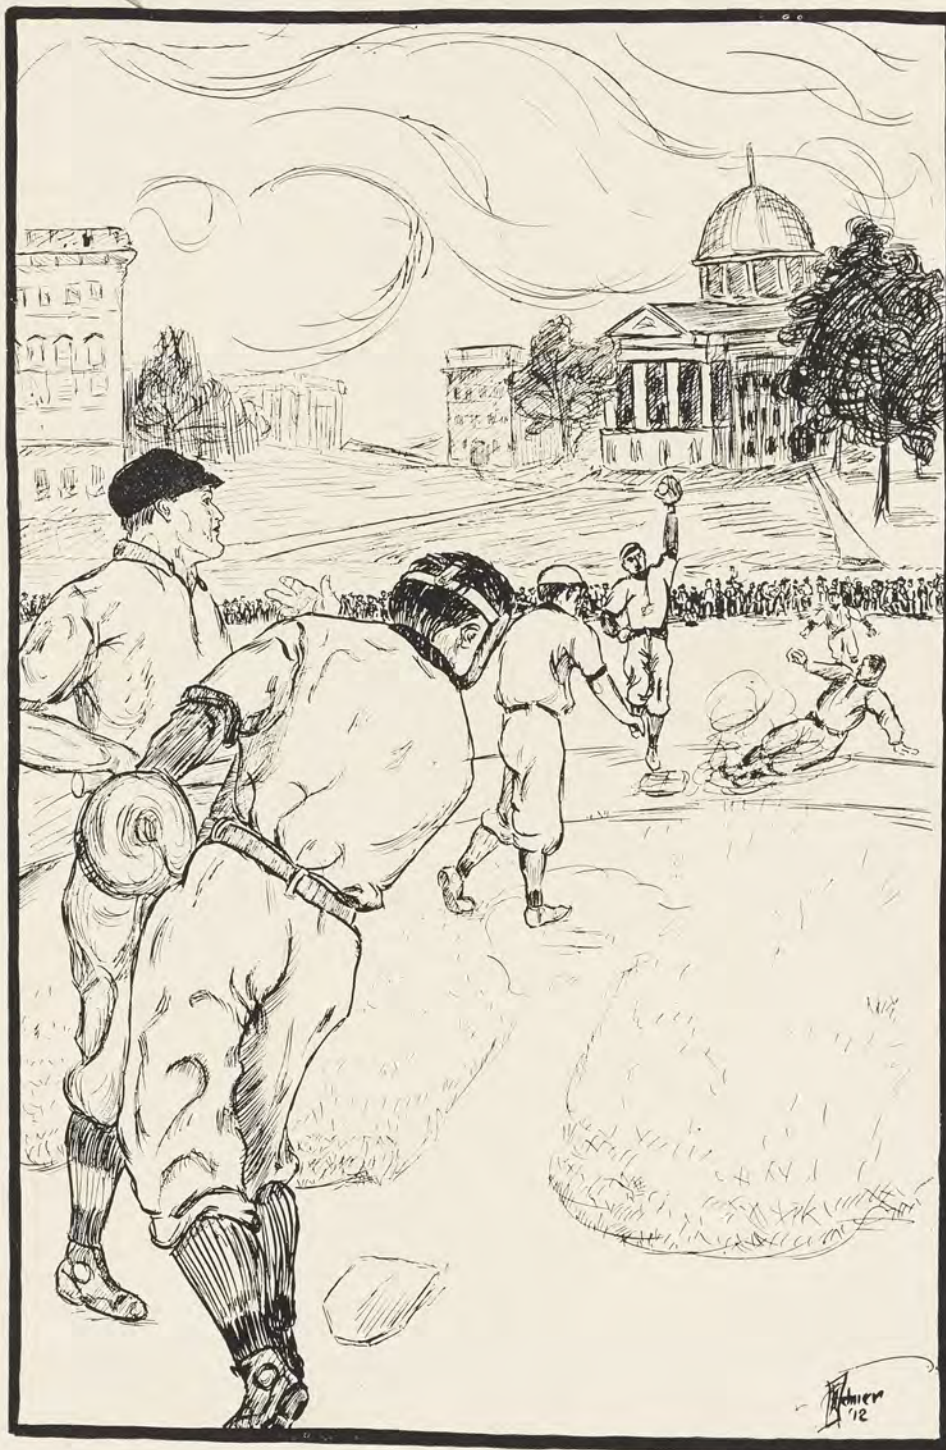

Prospects were real bright from the first for a winning nine, as there were seven monogram men back from previous year's team, besides promising material from the ranks of the scrubs and class teams. From these men the coach rounded out a team that showed themselves worthy of representing the Green and White upon the diamond. The season brought out no individual stars but success was due rather to the plucky, never-quit spirit, coupled with persistent team playing.

The brunt of the pitching was left to Spencer and Dodge, the former having done great work the previous year and making this season no exception. Bibbins behind the bat did surprisingly well for a first year man. Few first basemen can take care of the initial sack as well as our own "Stacy," while the other corner of the diamond was just as well cared for by Captain-elect Bradley. "Chill" Gorenflo and Rogge also ate up everything that came their way. In the outfield, Capt. Harvey and his right-hand-man Dawson, took care of this portion of the garden in great style, while right field was carefully guarded by Mogge and Dancer. The batting of the team was exceptional for a college organization and was responsible for turning the tide of battle in our favor many times.

Not a man was lost by graduation from this well balanced bunch of ball tossers and great things are to be expected from them for the season of 1913.

Basketball 1912-13

The new blanket tax which makes it possible for all students to attend games without an additional fee, made basketball during the past season unusually popular, but at the same time made our armory-gymnasium very unpopular because of its limited seating capacity. On account of a combination of circumstances which brought about the disastrous trip in Ohio when the team lost three out of the four played, this season's record does not look quite as well in print as that of last year; nevertheless we feel that the season has been just as successful since by badly defeating the first class state teams, we still retain the title of State Champions, won last year.

Coach Macklin was more than fortunate in having at his disposal plenty of material that had some knowledge of the game. An exceptionally fine season was anticipated because of the fact that all of last year's regulars were back. In spite of this unusual assurance of a strong team, a large band of aspirants turned out for the initial practice, many of whom showed unmistakable varsity caliber. This made it possible to place two teams in the field that were so evenly matched that the advantage in practice was shown by only a few points and it took extraordinary judgment in picking the best combination. This was a decided advantage in that fresh men could be kept in the game at all times and the regulars were compelled to be on the jump continually to hold their prestige.

Besides those receiving monograms, C. Thomas Reynolds, E. Burt and O. Miller were seen in action many times and showed by their efforts that they will be strong contenders for next year's five.

The election of G. Gauthier as our next captain and the loss of but two men from this year's squad is assurance enough that M. A. C. will be represented by a first-class quintette next season.

The class championship title was won by the Sophs. The games were not as hotly contested as they have been in the past few years, as the winners seemed to be in a class by themselves and romped away with all the contests in easy style. In the deciding game they defeated the juniors 38-7.

1912 Track Review

The redeeming feature in track activities at M. A. C. in 1912 was the ease with which we bested Alma and Olivet in the annual triangular meet. Although no unusual records were made, all the events were fairly fast and sharply contested. Beatty with two firsts, a second and third to his credit, showed up exceptionally well for a new man and in so doing counted the most points for M. A. C. Lord in the high jump, Geib in the two-mile, and Brown in the 440-yards also took firsts and deserve great praise for their efforts.

Owing to the awarding of the official interscholastic meet at Detroit last spring, we were minus this much looked-forward-to event in our track entertainments; however, we have been awarded this meet for the spring of 1913 and we will again have the opportunity of witnessing the best high school athletes in Michigan in action.

Detroit Y—M. A. C. Indoor Meet

In an indoor meet at Detroit, February 27, we lost to the Y. M. C. A. men by a score of 49-46. The result was very much in doubt until the Y. aviators took all the places in the high jump and shortly after placed three men in the quarter. The outcome would probably have been more to our liking had Captain Brown been in the line-up, but owing to his illness at that time we were nosed out by the three-point margin.

Cross Country

The annual fall cross country run, held for school entries only, is gaining more attention yearly. It is excellent training for distance men and puts them in line for track work the remainder of the year. As a runner may receive but one Cross Country sweater during his college career, the awards were given to G. W. Green and C. R. Herr. The time of the first four men to finish was: G. W. Green, 19 minutes 37 seconds; R. Rosen, 20 minutes 6 seconds; R. Dinan, 20 minutes 12 seconds; C. R. Herr, 20 minutes 26 seconds.

A cross country run was held at M. A. C. with Alma, November 16, which finished at the Athletic Field during the Wabash football game. This was won by our team, consisting of Green, Rosen, Mooney, Herr, Ketchum.

Green and White

Up up with the colors,
We'll raise them on high,
We'll fight for our college
For her we will die,
Let's rouse the dead echoes,
Unfurl to the light
The colors we honor,
The Green and the White.

We'll all stand together
And honor will bring
To our Alma Mater
Whose praises we sing,
Let's rush to the fray then,
Our foes put to flight,
For the colors we honor,
The Green and the White.

Alpha Zeta

Kedzie Chapter

TO BEGIN the history of Kedzie Chapter of Alpha Zeta Fraternity at M. A. C., leads us back to the year 1902 when the Chapter was founded. Each year the Chapter has striven to come in closer touch with the student body at large, and to extend its influence over a broader field. During the past year an advance has been made in that direction and with some of the leading men of next year's graduating class within the circle the work bids fair to continue.

The aim and endeavor of the Fraternity is to increase and promote interest along agricultural lines. To this end carefully prepared papers on agricultural experiments and discoveries are read and discussed at our bi-weekly meetings. To bring fraternity between our members is our social aim. We realize that enjoyable features, as our term banquets have been, aid directly in the year's policy of bringing more closely together all the members of the Chapter, especially with our honorary members, and of working up a spirit of unity and fraternal spirit that will help us accomplish our aims in other directions.

Tau Beta Pi

MICHIGAN has three Chapters of Tau Beta Pi, and of the three that at M. A. C. was the first in the State. Therefore the name, "Alpha Chapter of Michigan." The School of Mines at Houghton has the Beta Chapter and the U. of M. the Gamma Chapter. The Chapter here was founded in 1892 and was the first Chapter to receive a Charter from the parent Chapter at Lehigh University. Prof. Babcock of the Mathematical Department, was one of the charter members. There are at present thirty active and six alumni chapters with a total membership of five thousand.

Elegibility to membership is confined to those of the Engineering course who stand in the first quarter of their class at the beginning of the senior year, and those of the junior class who stand in the first eighth at the beginning of the winter term. Not only scholarship, however, is necessary, for character plays an important part. The men must be congenial, possess a good moral character and show they have similar kindred characteristics.

In addition to R. G. Chamberlin, captain of the 1911-1912 basketball team, and W. R. Riblet, captain of the 1912 football team, who were taken in from last year's Junior class, we have received into membership from this year's junior class, G. E. Gauthier, who was elected captain of the 1913-1914 basketball team.

Omicron Nu

THIS honorary organization for students of Home Economics fills a long felt want among the colleges of the country. This is shown by the fact that before its first birthday, the Alpha Chapter of Omicron Nu had received five applications for chapters to be established in large and widely scattered schools of the country.

The aim of Omicron Nu is to awaken more and new interest in the cause of Home Economics, and by bringing to M. A. C. renowned workers and specialists in their lines, to increase and strengthen our knowledge of science as applied to the home, and to keep us in touch with the latest and most authentic discoveries of science along the line of Home Economics.

The Alpha Chapter is as yet a small one, but its high standard of scholarship and lofty ideals are rapidly spreading among the students of Home Economics and spurring them on to greater and better attainments so that the future of the organization looks bright indeed.

Feronian Society

ON March 12, 1891, the Feronian Society was founded. It is the oldest literary organization for young women at M. A. C., and was established for the advancement of literary, moral, and social culture.

During the twenty-two years of its existence the aims and ideals of the founders have been upheld, and the name Feronian has found a worthy place in the hearts of its members.

We feel that the past year has been one of progress and success, both from a literary and social standpoint. A deep interest has been taken in the literary meetings in which carefully planned programs have been given, dealing with modern art, music, and the events of vital interest at the present day. Through the social activities new acquaintances have been made, new friendships formed, and the old friendships strengthened.

May the true spirit of sisterhood which now exists among the Feronians continue to bind them closer as the years pass on.

THE word "Literary" in the name seems to signify that the main object of the society lies along that line. This may have been true at the beginning, but now something has superseded it, and that is "fellowship." The new men have shown even more than the right spirit towards this end, so that the bond of friendship is as strong as ever.

This year we have entertained with many social events in the way of the usual parties and open meetings. This, together with our literary meetings, which have been well up to the standard, has made the year beneficial as well as enjoyable.

Themian Society

DURING the past year the Themian Society has endeavored to maintain the standards that the Themians who have gone before us, have formed and adhered to, and we have striven to attain nearer to their ideal of fairness and good-fellowship. We are inspired by their examples and their far reaching interests in us, and we are glad for the privilege of propagating and expanding the fundamentals of fair play, non-partisan friendship and scholastic ability upon which they have based the Themian Society.

We have had our customary splendid times in social ways. Our ninth annual German was given in the armory March 22. Our welcome to our pledges and our farewell to our seniors did merry justice to their purpose.

We aim to give our best to our college and in the past year we feel that she has given her best to us.

Eunomian Society

THE year just drawing to a close, has indeed been an important and eventful one in the history of the Eunomian Society. It marks the completion of the first decade of effort and achievement. Ten years of steady and consistent growth and development have elapsed since first that earnest group of men met and organized. It has been our consistent endeavor to maintain those ideals and standards which the founders gave to the society.

But for still other reasons, the year just passed has been one long to be remembered. It has been characterized by an especial growth along literary and social lines. Our literary work has been a great source of benefit to the members. The programs have been interesting and instructive. It is in the literary work which a society affords that one can acquire with greatest facility that self-discipline and self-mastery, which is such a valuable asset in daily life. With the fall term party, the winter term party with our friends, the Aureoreans, and the annual Eunomian picnic at Pine Lake in the spring, together with several open meetings, our social life has had its share of attention. The various social functions have tended to make even stronger the spirit of brotherhood. May the decade which is to come see even greater progress for the followers of Eunomius.

Ero Alphan Literary Society

THE Ero Alphan Literary Society was founded in 1904 and each year has been one of increasing growth and prosperity. The society has striven to maintain and uplift the standard through each successive year, that of "Love of the Highest and Best." It is our aim to develop the literary and social phases of our society which will prove to be a benefit in all our college pursuits. Through our social activities during this year our ties were strengthened, both with the old and new.

In November we gave our informal party in the armory, at which we had the opportunity of renewing our friendships with many of our alumnae. During the winter term occurred our usual formal party in the Agricultural building, and Fischer did his best to make the party a success.

The prospects for the future of our society looms up bright before us, and it is the wish of every senior who departs this June that each succeeding year will prove to be the more successful.

Aurorean Society

AND now another year's history we add. 'Tis much the same as the others, we feel, only just a little better. It begins with our commencement party and reunion last June when we forgot the worries of a passing school year and bid good-bye and God-speed to our eight departing seniors.

This fall a pleasant surprise awaited us when we returned, new and more suitable rooms had been secured in Williams Hall. These were completely remodeled and refitted and they have proven to be a great source of enjoyment. Later we enjoyed our annual Pow Wow in the armory, and we remember it as a Pow Wow to be compared favorably with our others. Then in the winter term came the never-to-be-forgotten Eunomian-Aurorean party. May they long continue.

Forensic Literary Society

THE purpose of a literary society should be two-fold. It should furnish cultural opportunities along literary lines, and encourage the highest development of genuine democratic social life.

With this ideal in mind, the Forensic Society has worked persistently to make each literary program better than the last in preparation, in the variety and scope of topics discussed, and in keenness of criticism. It has also developed a spirit of social brotherhood among its members, and encouraged a thoroughly democratic attitude toward all with whom they come in contact.

In social affairs, our term-end banquets in honor of the new members are occasions long to be remembered by "each good fellow" present. The fall and winter term parties in the Agricultural Building were thoroughly enjoyed by all the members and the many guests present. The annual Home Coming party at commencement time, in honor of the alumni, culminates the year's social activities.

A review of the year would be incomplete without an expression of deep appreciation of the cooperation and interest shown by our esteemed honorary members and patrons, Dean R. P. Lyman and Mr. M. M. Cory. The inspirations of their presence has helped us to a closer friendship, a stronger loyalty and deeper sincerity in all our dealings.

Delphic Literary Society

WITH a banquet in Club G and a commencement party in the Pine Lake Pavilion on June 20th, the Delphic Literary Society bade farewell to eighteen members who graduated with the Class of 1912. In September we found twenty-three of the Delphic brotherhood back, determined to cling to our old motto, "Grow and benefit."

The fraternal life of the society has been of a high standard, which has not only been developed by the regular literary meetings, but by occasional banquets and "Sunday night feeds." Our social life was greatly enhanced by the success of our customary eleven o'clock parties. Everyone is now looking forward with a most generous share of anticipation to the annual Delphic picnic and yearly commencement party, which comprise the spring term social functions of the society.

The individual spirit and work of the men on the Delphic roll deserves our pride; the scholarship, student life, morals and college spirit being noteworthy. In the work for the coming year, and for years to come, the men wearing the "Gold Torch Emblem" will aim toward a greater college, with better men, and thus add to the glory of our Alma Mater—M. A. ALTHOUGH upon returning to good old M. A. C. this year, we found our numbers very much depleted, yet we very soon increased the strength of our organization, and this has proved to be one of the best years in the history of this society. It has been our endeavor to advance the literary work to as near perfection as can be attained.

Early in the fall term we vacated our old home in Ward D of Wells Hall to take up our abode in a much more attractive residence in Ward E, in rooms recently vacated by the Aureorean Society.

Our social functions have been much above the average this year. They were started with a ten o'clock on November 9, held in the Columbian rooms, at which a one-act play was presented. On November 30 was held the fall term party at which all reported a most enjoyable time. The winter term party was held in the armory on February 1. On June 20 we expect to bid farewell to our departing seniors with a commencement party and banquet.

AS EACH year takes us farther into the glorious history of M. A. C., so may we, as brothers, look backward with pride upon the progress we have made.

The past year saw many of our influential brothers depart from their Alma Mater, but not to be forgotten by those remaining.

Our literary work during the past year has risen to a marked degree over the preceding years. Greater efficiency has been shown in all lines of work, especially in oratory and debating.

The social activities during the past year have added much to the enjoyments of college life. The Spring Term May Party with its many artistic decorations, brought much pleasure to ourselves, alumni and friends.

Many of our alumni have returned during the past year for short visits and always have they on returning been heartily welcomed back to our home, the "Campus Club."

THE Phylean Literary Society during the past year has fully lived up to its name—Friendship, both in literary work and in social life. The by-gone year has spelled progress for the society. Growth in all phases of our college life has taken place, the Phyleans having carried the spirit of the organization along with them.

Plans are being made for a fitting climax to the college year, in the form of a commencement party to be given in the spring, at which time the society will bid farewell to its many senior members.

The past year has seen a great improvement in our rooms. A den has been added and new fixtures and furniture secured, thus making it more possible to carry out the idea of the society—Friendship.

Trimoirea Literary Society

THE "Trimoirea" Society claims the distinction of being the newest acquisition to the society world of M. A. C. We come in a spirit of meekness and promise to be good children, as children go.

Our headquarters are in Ward D, where we have just finished decorating and furnishing the rooms. Our occupancy dates from this first of the spring term. Our method of securing new members is just a little different from the old societies, but in our case we believe it to be best. The name "Trimoirea" comes from the Greek word meaning three classes—in our case sophomore, junior and senior. We will pledge engineering freshmen in their spring term, since at that time they have shown their attitude toward college work. This is not an honorary society, but the nature of our literary work is such that a poor student would not be sufficiently interested in our weekly program.

It is our aim and desire to make this organization a complete success in a social and educational way. We want you to know us and knowing us, we want you to like us. We will try and do our share in boosting M. A. C.

New York State Club

THE New York Club was founded many years ago for the purpose of bringing together in a social way the students who hail from the Empire State. It is the custom of the society to give a party in the Agricultural building every term. The fall term party was held on October 15th. The winter term party was held jointly with the Ohio State club on March 15th. The spring term party was the most successful and best attended of the year's functions.

Besides the dancing parties the club on several occasions enjoyed informal "feeds" and smokers.

The enrollment of the students from New York State is increasing every year and this augurs well for the future of the club.

AT THE beginning of last fall term President J. H. Hamilton took up the duties of office and caused a new Farmers' Club to spring from the ashes of an almost extinct organization. It was with a renewed inspiration and determination to make the Farmers' Club the most representative and the greatest educational organization upon the campus that the term's work was begun and carried to a successful close, which culminated in one of the most unique banquets ever given at M. A. C.

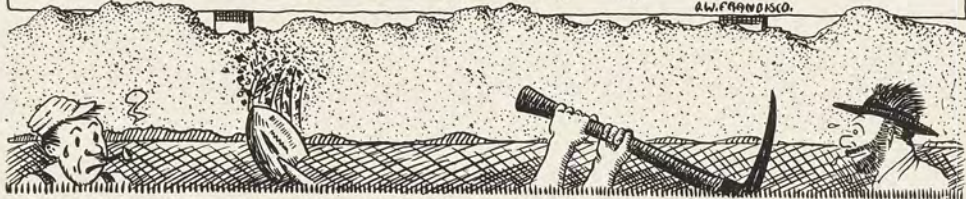

Under the able leadership of President Piper, the winter term of 1913 has been, for the Farmers' Club, one of the most successful terms in its history. Twice the Armory has been filled to its capacity by the student body eager to hear two of the best speakers Michigan affords, Senator Murtha and Governor Ferris.

Owing to the value of the programs secured through the untiring efforts of President Piper and Vice President Goodwin, the club has been forced to hold its meetings in the assembly room of the Agricultural Building instead of in Room 109, as used to be the custom in the past.

During the Round-Up Institute the Farmers' Club had charge of the program on the evening of their regular meeting, and several of the seniors combined in giving a Symposium on Michigan. During the last year the Farmers' Club has become, and gives promise to continue, to be the largest and strongest of the student organizations at M. A. C.

The Engineering Society

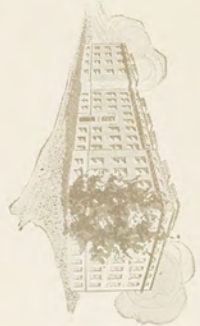

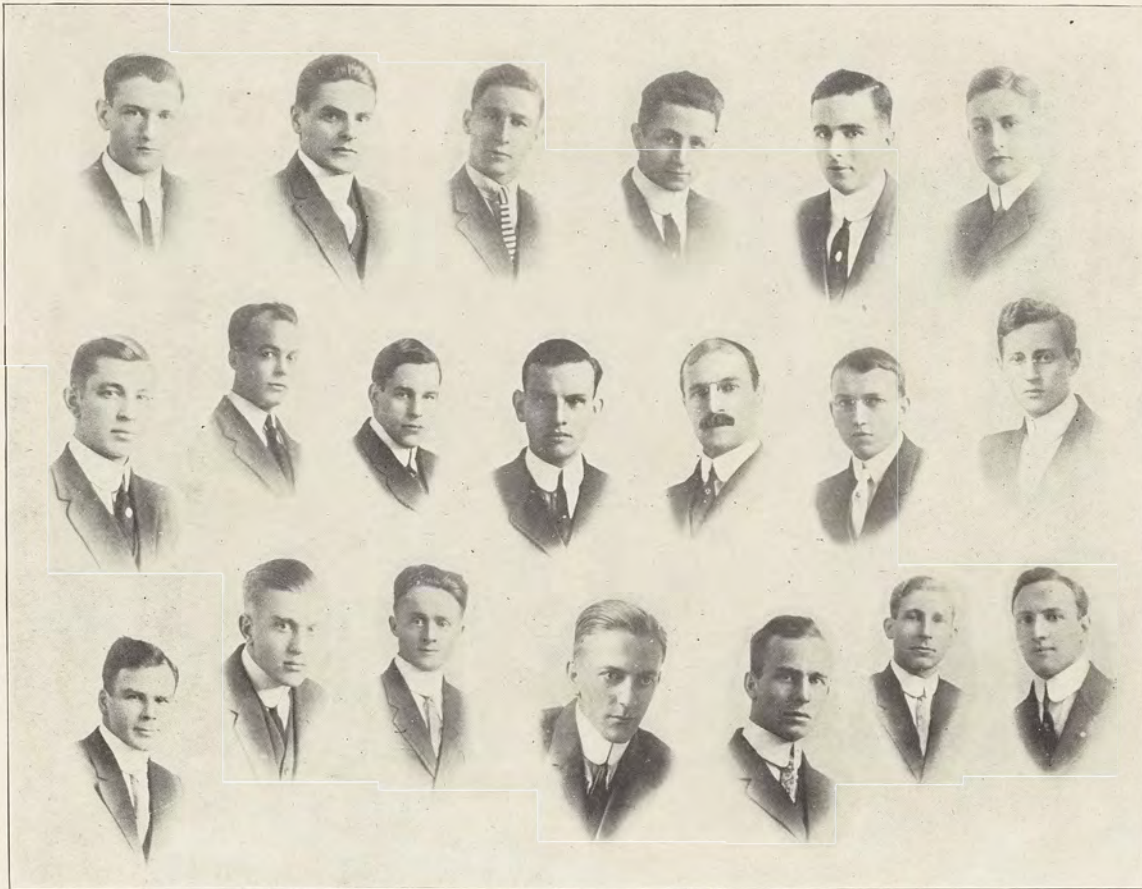

THE Engineering Society, in comparison with the other technical organizations on the campus, is of somewhat recent origin, not being founded until 1908. Since its inception at that time, the vicissitudes of the society have been many and various, it upon one or two occasions having sailed dangerously near the rocks. However, after each of these seeming setbacks, it has again made its way to the front rank in college affairs and enlivened its activities with a renewed vigor.

The Engineering Society should be a potent factor in the training of the engineering student. It is here that the man has his best and often only chance of coming into closer touch with the practical side of his profession, that phase of it which we wish we knew more about when we launch out into our chosen field. It is in consideration of the need of the student for the countless points of technical training not embraced in the curriculum, that the organization shapes its policies. The most important and helpful feature of the work is the preparation and presentation of articles by the student members and addresses by competent men engaged in the various lines of engineering, at the regular fortnightly meetings on Tuesday evenings, upon subjects shaped after the policy outlined.

The winter term of 1913 has been by far the most successful in the history of the society. Under the able leadership of President Cumming, an unprecedented enthusiasm, especially among under-classmen, has been instilled into the work. A definite program of activity was outlined by the executive committee in conjunction with the faculty, and results have exceeded all expectations. The term's work culminated in the Engineering Society banquet held at the Hotel Downey, March 18. With an attendance of over one hundred and fifty, it was pronounced the most successful event ever held by the society. An excellent program of toasts was provided, with speakers from among the faculty and alumni, recognized in the profession, and Dean Bissell excelling in the capacity of toastmaster.

The prospects of the Engineering Society for another year are indeed bright, and its members have every reason to look forward to its best and most efficient work in the continuation of its progressive policy.

M. A. C. Veterinary Medical Association

THE Veterinary Department has been established at the Michigan Agricultural College since its early history. First the Bacteriology and Veterinary departments were housed in what is now the Veterinary building. Both grew, so the Bacteriology department was finally transferred to its present site.

On January twenty-eight, nineteen hundred ten, five men from the class of 1913 with the Dean of the Veterinary Department, assembled to organize the M. A. C. Veterinary Medical Association. The objects of the Association being to promote good fellowship, to elevate the standards of veterinary education, to cultivate the science and literature, and to enlighten the student body on veterinary problems.

Today we have a strong, firmly established organization. One that finds itself able and proud to take its place among organizations of its kind at M. A. C. We are here to better prepare ourselves and our fellows to successfully cope with the problems in this line.

POULTRY

The M. A. C. Poultry Association suffered slightly from anaemia but the impaired vitality was greatly and speedily improved through the untiring efforts of Chief Crower "Fat" Scriber and Head Scratcher Wiggins together with an aggregation of chicken lifters.

The "Bigger and Better Than Ever" Poultry Show held this season and the "Feeds" at which the "poultry parasites" gnawed furiously, accompanied by the vociferous "cackling" certainly seemed indicative of a "good hatch." Good "quarters" and plenty of "green stuff" should cause rapid growth.

One of the best grafts in the poultry business is to graft milkweed with eggplant and grow omelets.

THE HOLCAD

During the past year, the Holcad has made several steps toward the goal which was constantly in the minds of the founders of the paper and which was consistently worked for by the four preceding staffs. The paper has a larger circulation and is an excellent advertising medium; this fact has enabled the '12-'13 staff to increase the size of the paper and has allowed a greater variety of news each week. The Holcad has grown in interest to the students of every department of the school and the activities of the several departments have been more fully set forth in the news columns. The Holcad now goes out to two hundred and fifty high schools of Michigan and is growing to be a more powerful factor in promoting the interests of the school. The future of the paper is showing results from the greatest possible stimulus that can be given a student publication,—a livelier interest on the part of the student body which it represents.

The past year has been by far the most successful that the Military Band has enjoyed. The organization now numbers forty-five, exclusive of the drum major and the director, Prof. Clark. The equipment has been added to and the musical library has been enlarged and improved.

The band accompanied the team to Ann Arbor and to Columbus, where a very creditable showing was made. It also journeyed to Grand Rapids where a program was rendered at the Land Show.

No out-of-town concerts were scheduled this year, but the usual series of Sunday concerts was given during the winter term. These were widely attended both by the students and visitors from Lansing.

The band is now organized on a military basis, having the customary lieutenants, sergeants and corporals. Below is the band roll:

The Junior Hop of Class of '14

"Hace olim meminisse juvobat."

On February seventh, class of 1914 achieved its crowning success in the "J" hop.

No untimely storm impeded the arrival of the happy throng at the Masonic temple. Here the class officers and the patrons, President and Mrs. Snyder and Dean Gilchrist, received the juniors and their guests.

A delightful banquet followed. The long tables were attractive with dainty baskets of flowers, and shaded candles cast a soft glow on the merry diners. The after-dinner speakers were introduced by our president and toastmaster, Mr. Francisco, with wit and much personal banter.

The ball-room in a profusion of greenery, roses and shaded lights, was a beautiful background for the dancing.

Perfect music, a perfect floor and a plu-perfect partner—what more could one ask?

Nineteen thirteen replies—"good weather!"

Barbecue

"Oh! I say, what's the confusion," yelled a stranger as he beheld a crowd of youths hurrying by him, each conspicuously carrying a tin cup.

"Hesitate, my friends," said one of the boys, "while I enlighten this misguided chap."

"You see," he began, as they all gathered around the man, "we, the Sophs, are entertaining the Fresh by what is called a Barbecue. Early this morning the space in front of Well's Hall was a mild state of confusion. The chefs were hurrying around, preparing the beef for the huge baking oven, some boys gathered wood for the bonfire, others built the platform and enclosure for the tables, and still others unloaded the buns and kegs of cider. By this time the crowd is gathered over there and we are going to see the fun. Hear that yell? Well, that's the class of 1915, the best class ever at M. A. C."

The crowd proceeded to the field. Up on the platform was J. F. Macklin, enthusiastically expounding on "College Spirit." Ribblet, Cortright and King each took their stand and then the College Quartet rendered a few selections. After a short speech illustrated by a few personal relics, Loveland presented the knife to Mandenburg, a token that the bond of hatred had been cut away. The speeches over, the classes formed in line. Seniors on one side, Juniors on the other, each in turn receiving a huge beef sandwich and cupful of cider.

The stranger was pushed along with the rest, and when on the way home he was asked how he liked it, he replied, "Best thing I ever went to."

Our Absent Minded Faculty

One of our very absent minded professors was busily engaged in solving a scientific problem when the door of his library opened and the nurse hurried in to announce a great family event.

"The little stranger has arrived, Sir," she said.

"Eh?"

"It is a little boy."

"A little boy, little boy," mused the professor. "Well, ask him what he wants."

Where Was Her Mind?

Mrs. Hendricks (in History)—"Miss Eckliff, can you locate the French possessions in Africa?"

Marj.—"Well, they're all north of the Tango."

Quick curtain.

Rough on Nate

Say, Nate Simpson sure can put up an awe-inspiring bluff.

Well, he's got the sand alright.

H. E.

Bert Kaiser (in Home Ec.). Well, here they ask how to make a lemon tart. Just as though it weren't tart enough!

Lies

Wilson gave the M. A. C. student body a few curt strains of advice in their new $10,000,000 auditorium.

An M. U. T. conductor forgot to call "Rrrrumsey and Allen."

Snakes Allen was seen going to classes with two books under his arm.

A Glee Club member was found who really had a good voice.

Lieutenant Cron refused to allow the cadets to drill Tuesday owing to the splendid walking on the Red Cedar.

Pres. Snyder has sent a special request to "Dobber" Davis to return to M. A. C.

"Chet" Spaulding and "Fritz" Mueller have organized a "Woman-haters League."

Etc., etc.

Does Henpeck ever speak with authority?
Yes, when he speaks with his wife.

A Shady Question

"Pinky Taylor swears his hair isn't red."

"How's that, Brudda Bones?"

"Well, you see, he says it's Syracuse. Just 'cause it's near-Auburn."

Rotten, eh?

The Girl at Home

There's a girl who stays with me wherever I go,

One girl I can never forget.

For memories picture her face and she smiles
From the blue smoke of each cigarette.

It's seldom she graces the hops at the Gym,

But letters, thank Heaven, are swift.

So bless old Ben Franklin, who started the mails.

Without it I never could live.

She isn't the beauty old M. A. C. breeds,

But under the blue heaven's dome,

There isn't a girl in the world who can vie
With the girl that I left back home.

Prof. Bitner (referring to outside reading)
—"Mr. Newhall, have you read every book on the list?"

Clem—"Yep—every book—on the list."

Art Wolf—"Gee, the Temple has a peach of a floor!"

"Boby" Collier—"Then why dance on my feet?"

"Porky" Taylor—"I hope this college life isn't hurting me physically."

McArdle—"Say you don't look it though you have been dropped enough times."

"That remains to be seen," said the Soph as he finished painting the numerals on the water tank.

Wells Hall Economics

"Pot" Chambers met "Dolly" Delzell, who was smoking some near-imported tobacco, which was very fragrant. Pot took out his own pipe very ostentatiously.

"Have ya got a match, Dolly?"

The match was forthcoming, but nothing more.

"Say, guess I forgot ma smoking," said Pot.

"Then," said Dolly, "You might as well give me back the match."

The Junior's Rational Hymn

My check-book 'tis of thee,
Sad mark of penury,
To thee I cling;
Figures I fain had lied,
Figures that brought no pride,
Yet is that girl supplied;
So let us sing.

Quite Keen

Prof. Hedrick: "Mr. Woodman, you probably can't tell us what a financier is, I presume."

(After much deep thought on Tubby's part). "Well, a financier is a man who is capable of inducing other men to pile up a stack of blues for him." Hedrick swoons.

Jensen—"What do you call sound advice?"

Dean Shaw—"Sound advice, my boy, is all the name implies. It is generally about nine parts sound and one part advice."

"What is the composition of Babbitt, Mr. Bibbins?"

Dancer-Brogan Scandal

Young Lady—"I had a shirt waist sent home and it doesn't fit. Can I change it at this counter?"

"Pinky" Taylor—"Why, merely look and see which way the horse was going."

Heard in a session of the W. T. K. Order of Ancient Wits.

"Doug, Coulter is a taking young fellow." Meeting adjourned.

Those who wonder at the increasing death rate might be somewhat enlightened if they could have been present when Prof. Halligan made the statement, "Now-a-days, we make the cemetery so ornamental that it attracts visitors."

"Say, Tubby, why do they call procrastination the thief of time?"

"Cause it takes so long to say it."

So saying, Tubby Woodman continues to sit on the library steps.

The Golden Rule

In one of Prof. King's classes was a freshman who seemed to have trouble in spelling words that had "ie" and "ei" in them. One day Prof. King offered to give him an infallible rule for such cases. "It is a rule," he said, "that in sixty-five years has never failed me."

The freshman expressed his delight and waited.

King resumed, "The rule is to write your 'I' and 'E' exactly alike, and put the dot half way between."

Frances Kirke—"How do they arrange these pickles so neatly in the bottles?"

Marion Sly—"Why, they just pile up the pickles and then they blow the bottle around them."

Where indolence is bliss, 'tis folly to arise.

Small daughter of house: "Oh, mother! Mr. Toland must be awfully wise. I just heard him tell Katherine that he would explain everything."

The Ten Demandments

As found in one of Chicago's business houses.

1. Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I'm sure to catch you in the end, and that will be the wrong end.
2. Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short; and a short day's work makes my face long.
3. Give me more than I expect and I will give you more than you expect. I can afford to pay you more if you increase my profits.
4. You owe so much to yourself you can't afford to owe any one else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shops.
5. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet it.
6. Mind your own business and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.
7. Don't do anything which will hurt your self-respect. An employee who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.
8. It is none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.
9. Don't tell me what I like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet for my vanity but for my cash-account.
10. Don't kick if I kick. If you are worth while correcting you're worth while keeping.

Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow you may miss the train.

Modern Methods

"I believe I'll give the cat a piece of meat; he looks so hungry!"

"What! And pauperize the cat! Always help the poor to help themselves. Scatter some crumbs on the sidewalk. They may attract some birds that the cat can catch."

When Eve held forth in Paradise,
She found much pleasure in it.
For when she did her Monday wash,
It only took a minute.

If at first you don't succeed, take the con.
exam.

Did You Ever Hear This?

A son, upon returning to our asylum of learning, after having spent an expensive vacation at home, approached his father on the omma-present question of funds.

"Gov., could I take a little money?"

Wearily, "Yes; how little?"

Bum Steer, Eh?

Tommy came home from school very morose.

"Well, my son," observed his father cheerfully, "how did you get along in school today?"

Tommy stated that he had been whipped and kept in. "It was because," he added, "you told me the wrong answer last night. I asked you how much a million dollars was and you said it was 'a hell of a lot.' That ain't the right answer."

A Bigot is a man who is quite sure of something that he doesn't know anything about.

A Hot Tip

It isn't the man who takes things as they come who will succeed but the man who also snatches them as they go.

Old Mother Hubbard,
Went out and rubbered,
To see what the fashions might be.
But when she got there
The ladies were bare
Which caused Mother Hubbard to flee.

Women would fare badly were it not for the imagination of men.

Drama

"How about this fare?" demanded the stranger in New York.

"I have not over charged you, sir," declared the cabby.

"I know, you haven't, and why haven't you? What deep game are you up to? Answer me, now?"

A Modern Phyllis

Coridon and Phyllis stooede
In ye edgeward of ye woode.

"Come," cried Coridon, "and goe
With me where ye daysies bloe."

Phyllis stared at Coridon,
As she might ye Evil One.

"Fede your daysies to ye goate;
I'm on my way," sayde she, "to vote."

"Gosh, but I sure gave myself away this morning in 'Dutch.'"

"Kind a' lost your self possession, eh?"

Oliver Wendell Holmes was a classmate of Dr. Charles Clark at Harvard, and according to the reminiscences of the latter, the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table was as witty then as later. One day, the two were talking of metaphysics, when the bright-tongued little great man exclaimed, "I tell you, James, what I think metaphysics is like. It is like a man splitting a log. When he is done, he has twice as many to split."
