Director of Athletics

THE BOARD IN CONTROL OF ATHLETICS

In an endeavor to centralize the control of athletics at M. A. C. in a board that could function properly and quickly, the Board in Control of Athletics was reorganized in February, 1023.

In reporting on the feasibility of reorganizing the Board, R. C. Huston, chairman of the committee of investigation, President R. S. Shaw, and Robert J. McCarthy, alumni secretary, stated briefly: "We have endeavored to centralize the control of athletics at M. A. C. in this new board, which we believe will be representative of all elements actively interested in the problems surrounding the conduct of the athletic department."

The following comprise the membership of the newly organized Board of Athletics:

R. C. Huston, Chairman	Faculty Member
James F. Cox
Robert S. Shaw
C. F. Ramsey
Clarke L. Brody
Robert J. McCarthy, Secretary	Alumni Representative

M. A. C. MONOGRAM MEN

The monogram has always been that which has signified unusual character on the part of its wearer. A monogram is an honor that of necessity must come to few and those who win them are honored and respected by all.

To make the coveted sweater stand for still more, the Varsity Club has passed a ruling to the effect that monograms or numerals are to be worn on Tuesday and Thursday of each week respectively.

Lyman L. Frimodig Assistant Director of Athletics

While not actively engaged in coaching to any extent, Mr. Frimodig's work is indispensable to the department of athletics. "Frim" has the record of having won more monograms than any other athlete who graduated from M. A. C. Besides being an exceptional athlete himself, he knows how to coach men individually to the best advantage.

Fred M. Walker
Basketball and Baseball Coach

Possessing rare coaching ability and endowed with a playing knowledge of the sports he coached, Coach Walker established a record for himself at M. A. C. with his teams. Strategy and field generalship combined with ability, were the points he featured.

L. D. Burhans Instructor of Physical Education

The work of Mr. Burhans has been with the large mass of students and in the capacity of instructor of physical education he did valuable work to extend the scope of the department to an increasing number. Coaching the wrestling team was also one of his major duties.

EWOLVERINE

JOHN L. TAYLOR Assistant Football Coach

The football forward wall was coached by "Tarz," he having been secured to coach the unusually light line of 1923 because he is very light for a lineman and also because of his prowess and coaching ability.

Jack Heppinstall Trainer

This is the tenth year that Jack has carried the little black bag with him to every contest and athletic event, whether on College Field or away. He is the inspiration of many an Aggie athlete, with all of whom he is intimately acquainted.

W. B. Jones Swimming Coach

Coming to M. A. C. for advanced work, and learning of the need of a swimming coach, Jones, a star swimmer from Penn State, volunteered to do the coaching.

HULTMAN Captain-elect

Versatility made Hultman captain, for there was no position excepting center on the line at which he had not seen action. When it came to action and fight, "Viv" was right there with the goods.

NELLER

The kicking and off tackle plays of "Bull" were features in themselves. The best conditioned man on the squad.

LCKERT

"Eddie" played in the early games, but sickness after the Albion contest prohibited further participation. Dependability and a thorough knowledge of football always made him a player to be feared and respected.

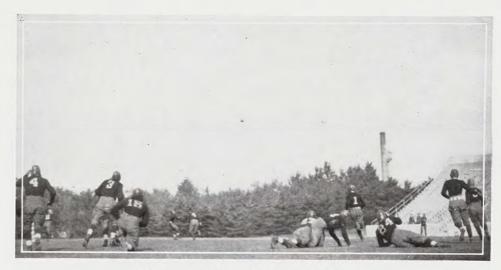

ECKERMAN

Eckerman has the record of having lost but one minute of play for the entire season and his work at center made that part of the line the most impregnable.

LIORET

"Nap" toted the pigskin and when "Rollie" was up against something stiff, he called on this boy. Lioret starred consistently in the backfield, both offensively and defensively.

Наскетт

Although only a sophomore, "Chris" was called upon for the first game and at Chicago showed the goods that kept him regularly at guard. Hackett has two big years ahead of him.

The Aggies stop Lake Forest line thrust

RICHARDS

Although disabled more or less with an injured ankle during the entire season, "Rollie" ran things from quarter, and a better signal caller has not been seen at M. A. C. for some time.

SCHULTZ

"Carl" won a berth on Young's team by hard work. When Robinson was out Schultz carried on at end in a creditable manner. His opportunity to play proved his making. WOLVERINE

Noted for his quick jabs into the line, making our longest gains from scrimmage against Michigan and Lake Forest.

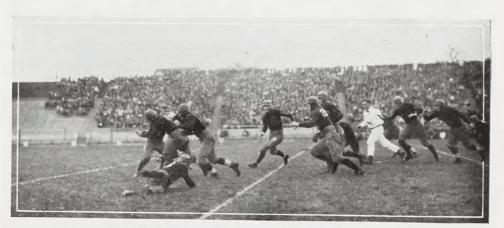

BECKLEY

Consistent development in all departments throughout the season and especially in kicking, made "Art's" services indispensable to the team.

SCHMYSER

Neller takes the ball for fifteen yards around Wisconsin's end

WOLVERINE TO THE WOLVERINE

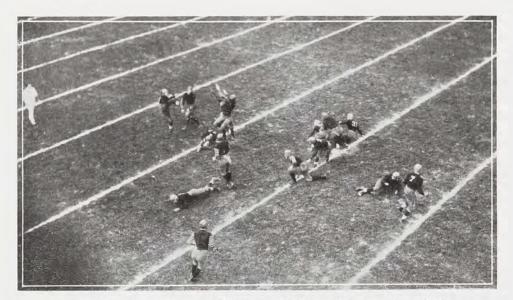

ROBINSON

Late entrance into school kept "Robbie" out of the early games and sickness later deprived the team of the services of this crack end. In the games he played in, the opposition was very much aware of his presence.

SPIEKERMAN

"Roy" proved his mettle at Ann Arbor when called upon to fill "Eddie" Eckert's shoes and starred at tackle the remainder of the season.

Kipke

"Stub" has been called by many "the greatest 142-pound end in the world." His accomplishments include the scoring of more touchdowns than any other man, usually through the passing game, and he was also the most dependable in getting tackles.

EDMUNDS

"Red" saw service in every game of the season and but few gains were made around his end.

LYMAN

"Dick" made a name for himself at the Michigan game when called upon to take "Rollie" Richards' place at quarter. He proved to be a cool and deliberate thinker under fire.

The biggest man on the team, all angles considered. "Don" proved to be the best lineman in more than one game. The harder the game, the better he liked it.

SUMMARY OF THE 1923 FOOTBALL SEASON

Playing a heavy eight-game schedule with five of the contests away from home, the 1923 football season was a success, all things considered. It is true that the Green and White won only three of the games, but lack of reserve power, that bugaboo of M. A. C. teams, was directly responsible for the showing. A new coach and an unusually heavy schedule were disadvantages the men had to work under. Injury camped constantly on College Field and among the men who were out for some of the major conflicts were Captain Taylor, Robinson, Eckert and Richards, all veterans of the previous season.

In a splendid exhibition of football, the outweighed and inexperienced M. A. C. eleven went down to a fighting defeat in the opening game of the season, when Chicago University was met on their own field, September 29. The veteran team of the Maroonmen was stopped for three quarters, but repeated substitutions broke down the Aggie's wall in the last quarter and when the game was ended they were at the short end of a 34-0 score.

E1924 30 .....

In the next game, on October 6, Lake Forest invaded the gridiron in the new stadium, the opening of which was signalized with a win over the Illinois team, 21 to 6. A superior brand of football turned the trick as well as the thrill of performing in the new Aggie stadium.

A week later, October 13, the Youngmen entrained for Madison, and in what Wisconsin athletic authorities call one of the best games played on Randall Field last year, were forced to taste defeat, 21 to 0. For three quarters, the teams battled with the Badgers leading 7 to 0. A terrific offense against the weakened Green line was successful for two touchdowns in the final quarter.

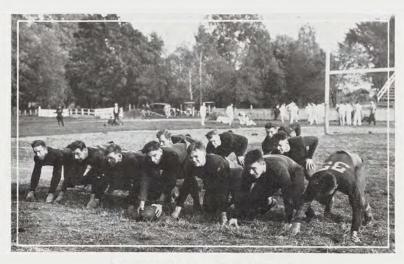

Victory against Albion in the following game played at East Lansing, soothed the feelings of the warriors, but all regretted that Coach Young was unable to use his strongest team against the Methodists, who have had a bad habit of becoming dangerous in the last few years. Albion played well but was outclassed and had to leave the field at the end of the game with a 13 to 0 defeat chalked up against them.

Albion got away easy for Coach Young was saving his men for the annual battle with Michigan on October 27 at Ann Arbor. In many ways, the game with the Maize and Blue resembled the struggles with the other Big Ten schools played before. In the last quarter Michigan rolled up more scores than it did for the other three periods. The Aggies wiped away the sting of the defeat of 1922 and the Conference champions were given a royal battle and it was a proud student body that returned from the game although 37 points had been scored against them.

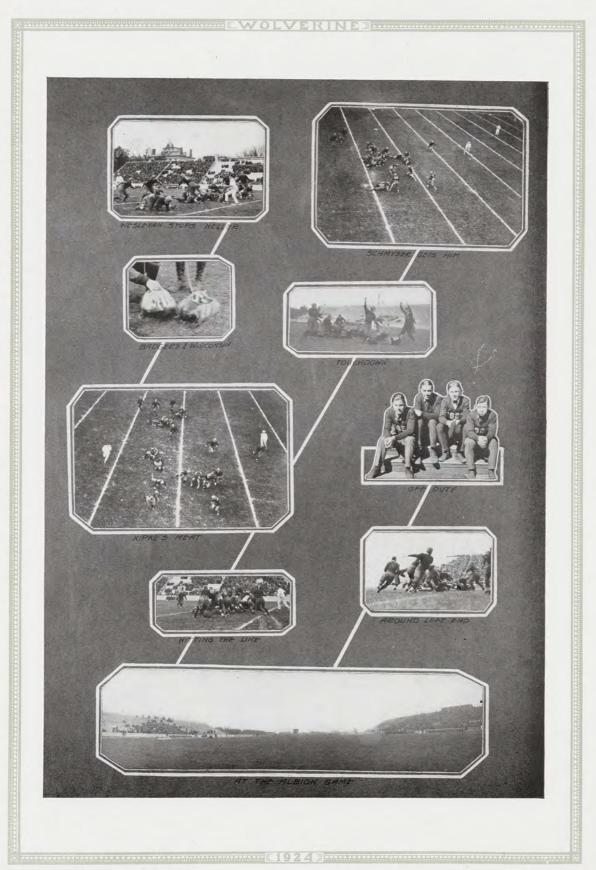

Michigan weakened the Youngmen for the Wesleyan game on the following Saturday and it was a revamped eleven that went against George Gauthier's outfit at Delaware, Ohio. The major part of the first half was listlessly fought on the part of the Aggies, but in the last half of the game the team rallied and all but took the game away from the Ohioans. The final score shows the Aggies defeated 19 to 14.

Injury and lack of suitable substitutes continued to worry the Aggie mentor and in the Homecoming game with Creighton University of Omaha, ranking with Nebraska in strength, M. A. C. was sadly outclassed and defeated 27 to 7 on November 10.

No more fitting closing could be had for the season than the unexpected 2 to 0 victory obtained from the heavy and experienced University of Detroit team on November 17 at Detroit. The game was thought to be all against the Aggies as the field was heavy with mud, prohibiting the use of the Aggie's best ground gainer, the forward pass. Furthermore, the added weight of the Catholic men was greatly feared in the battle in the mud. Early in the first quarter the Youngmen forced Detroit back to kick from behind their line. The kick was blocked and Haskins recovered the ball to give M. A. C. two points for a touchback. Neither side could score again and M. A. C. won 2 to 0 in a game that showed the real strength of the team.

NUTTILA Captain-elect

A more aggressive forward and a better all-round player than "Matt" has yet to be found. This Aggie midget was always the center of attention on the part of opposing guards and he always gave them a merry chase.

RICHARDS

"Rollie" proved his versatility by taking a regular position on the team soon after the close of the football season.

RALSTON

Ralston showed the effects of good training and proper coaching of the previous season when he had little difficulty in securing a berth on Coach Walker's five. Clean handling of the ball as well as playing a good guarding game made "Muggs" a man to be watched.

Big "Bob" carried the brunt of things at center in the majority of games and his ranginess and shooting ability proved valuable assets to the team. Bilkey, as well as Richards, Ralston, Nuttila and Kitto, have yet another season to play.

BILKEY

Kitto was another product of Coach Walker's coaching and before the end of the season was over, had developed from an ordinary player into one who filled an important gap at center where he alternated with Bilkey.

Kidman won his monogram by persistent effort through three years. According to Coach Walker, "This man represents the ideal type of an M. A. C. candidate. He was always aggressive and ever worked hard in the best interests of the team."

A REVIEW OF THE SEASON

An even split in games won and lost represents the statistical data for the 1924 basketball season. Of those lost, however, half were lost by less than two points. In all respects, the season was much more successful than was to be expected, considering the many injuries and ineligibilities to which the team was subjected throughout the season. Several excellent teams were met and defeated in the course of the season through which at all times, the Aggies played a superior brand of ball, developing a powerful offense and a puzzling defense. Inability to cage the baskets at the crucial moments proved to be the Aggie's undoing in several of the major games, even though they were able to bring the ball under the enemy basket.

Clean cut victories over Adrian and St. Mary's in the latter days of December gave M. A. C. fans assurance that as fine a team as ever bore the Green and White represented M. A. C. During the holidays, the quint lost to the University of Chicago by a small margin. In another holiday game, the Detroit College of Law was soundly trounced. Two more games were won by the Aggies before school opened, when Hope and the Upper Canada College of Law were handily defeated.

On January 7, Carleton College, state champions of Minnesota for 1923, handed the Aggies one of their worst defeats of the season. Besides the fact that M. A. C. was up against one of the best teams of the country, the fact that two regulars were on the sick list for the game, accounts for much. Michigan was victor in the first of the annual homeand-home games by a slight margin, in a game that was characterized by the terrific offense of the Aggies. John Carroll College, called St. Ignatius last year, was defeated in a fast and tight contest. This game takes away the sting of the two defeats suffered last year, Five days later, on January 25, the Aggies had a reversal of form and when they played Notre Dame away, the game resulted in a listless affair, Notre Dame defeating M. A. C. 35 to 18. Three days later found a like condition besetting the Aggie athletes and Western State had little difficulty in beating them by a good margin.

On the very next night, however, there was a decided change in the game of the Green Mt. Pleasant, with one of the strongest teams in the state, was played and at and White. the end of the marathon the Aggies led by a 20 to 21 score. Although forced to accept defeat by a one point margin, the Lombard game was a pretty contest to witness, although marred considerably by the stalling of the opposing team. Michigan played for the big Farmers' Week game, at which time all previous gym attendance records were smashed. Michigan played with the strongest team she had during the entire season and although she managed to get the jump in the first half, the M. A. C. quintet came back strong in the last half but could not overcome the lead set up against them.

Western State put the jinx on M. A. C. again, but in the following game, the University of Detroit was bested in a game in which the metropolites were outplayed in every phase of Both St. Viator's and Notre Dame obtained two-point margin victories over the the game. Green and White in contests that were characterized by the superior brand of ball displayed. The season ended for the Aggies after they defeated both Valparaiso and Lake Forest University. Valparaiso came to East Lansing with the reputation of being the "Wonder University. Team" of the middle west.

RALSTON Manager

"Mike" did all that a manager is asked to do and then some. He set a standard as a manager that others can strive after.

Sepaneck does not find Notre Dame invincible

McMillan Captain-elect

Roy played at the hot corner and kept that part of the inner garden safe at all times. Dependability in all ways caused McMillan to be chosen captain of 1924.

Johnson

"Bill" proved to be as versatile in baseball as he was in football. When he did not pitch, he held down the initial sack in a most creditable manner.

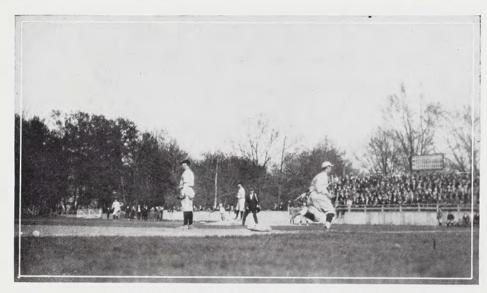

Higgins
"Shoddy" alternated with Stephens in right field where his speed and deftness earned him a position.

Brady
Perhaps the heaviest hitter on the team was "Jake." On account of his speed he was brought in from center field and took care of things at short occasionally.

Gasser leaves third and scores another

It looks as though Wenner has plenty of time to get home

STEPHENS

"Wally" was there when a hit was needed and throughout the season he was hitting the ball consistently. At center field Stephens had no peer.

Ross

A veteran of three seasons, "Lorny" hurled very creditably whenever he received the call. Ross always was cool under fire and at all times had excellent control.

GASSER

Although only a sophomore, Gasser caught like a veteran from the start of the season. Harold had the rare faculty possessed by catchers of making the pitchers produce their best.

BECKLEY

Another sophomore who had the stuff to make the team. "Art" saw action in left field, where he proved his worth. As a base runner, Beckley was exceptional.

The way the movie caught 'em

Gasser in action

Sepaneck
"Jack" cavorted about the keystone sack where hot grounders and infield jabs failed to phase him. With Gasser's help from home plate, he caught many players who tried to steal or who were napping.

Daley
One of the most important positions of the infield was taken care of by
"Bi" Daley, who played at short.
Daley's strong forte was his hitting.

WENNER

The stars of this man were dimmed on account of the wealth of good pitching material available. Whenever he received the call, however, George worked pretty and always had enough stuff on the ball to make it interesting. Wenner will be the mainstay of the staff in 1924.

WILLIAMS

Another junior who saw service at various times during the season. He played in left field and always took care of his share of the outer garden in good shape. Williams has also another year to play.

THE REVIEW OF THE SEASON

Concluding the best baseball season, in number of games won, which M. A. C. baseball teams have experienced over a long period of striving, Coach Fred Walker's squad took the measure of Alma, champion of the M. I. A. A., on College Field, June 7, by the score of 8 to 0. This was a conclusive demonstration that M. A. C.'s field of competition lies with the larger colleges. It was also a convincing argument in support of the theory that Michigan carries a stronger threat in the letters on the players' uniforms than it does in actual playing strength.

In total scores for the season the M. A. C. nine would undoubtedly place as the greatest in the history of the Green and White. In eighteen games, Captain Kuhn and his followers added up 134 runs to 102 for the opposition. While they were setting this mark they were also establishing a record unique in the annals of college baseball, for not a scheduled contest in the entire season was postponed or canceled because of bad weather or wet grounds.

By winning nine straight games, the Varsity tied the best previous record made by any other Green and White team. The former record was made in 1912, when nine straight games were won and but two lost. In 1923, nine straight games were won and a new record made with fourteen victories from eighteen contests.

LWOLVERINESE

Kuhn, Johnson and Ross led the pitching staff in effectiveness. Kuhn gained a modicum of control which he previously lacked and came through with one of the brightest seasons on the books. Over 48 innings but 16 hits and 14 runs were registered against him, while 76 batsmen were motioned back to the bench by the umpire. Most of the big captain's work was single handed. There was little security in the defense offered by his team mates and their prowess with the bat was not a convincing factor. He turned back Notre Dame and St. Viator's, nines which were in the championship class of the middle west, and state teams really offered him no opposition of a serious nature.

Another striking feature of the season was the number of games won by close scores. With but one exception, the Valparaiso game, did the M. A. C. team fail to win out in the ninth inning when the score was close. An unusually well coordinated system of team play made this possible. Weakness in hitting was compensated to some extent by application to the fine points of the game, a point Coach Walker repeatedly emphasized in the training of the squad.

Coach Walker suffered a heavy loss in personnel by the graduation of Johnson, Kuhn, Ross, Brady, Daley and Stephens, all important cogs in Coach Walker's winning machine. The freshman team of 1923 gives promise of introducing some exceptional talent into Varsity circles for the 1924 season.

Remember that terrific drive Richards made in the Hope game, 1924?

PROSPECTS FOR THE 1924 SEASON

A wholesome infusion of sophomores onto the squad will do much to bolster the Varsity. Outstanding among the men who will make strong bids for berths on the team are Fremont, a catcher; Carl Baynes, short stop; George Kuhn, brother of the 1923 captain; Wakefield, another pitcher; Kiebler, catcher; Haskins, outfielder, and Corsaut, another catcher.

Just what the team can accomplish is largely problematical. In 1923, the nine got away with a poor start and finished by making records. At least it can be said that as excellent material is available this year as was had in 1923, and with the same coach back, a good future is apparently ahead for the Green and White.

Baguley Captain-elect Always a reliable man in the distance races, Baguley has shown the stuff winners are made of.

Fessenden
"Fessy" won the reputation of being one of the best discus throwers in this section of the country.

-EWOLVERING

Weamer An adeptness with the javelin proved to be his strong forte.

Herdell A crack dash man in the century and 220 and a hurdler who could step over the bars with the best of 'em.

Hartsuch and Klaasse have things their own way in the half mile run of the State Intercollegiates

THE SEASON

The track team of 1923 was not as strong as was the one of the preceding year. However, it performed very well under the circumstances as is evidenced by the record. Dual meets were held with Ohio State and Notre Dame, and both schools had the best track teams in years. Considering this fact and that graduation of 1922 had left great rifts in the squad, the showing was very creditable.

The first meet was held with Ohio State, May 5, the team journeying to Columbus. Experience and superior personnel proved the downfall of the team there. The week previous, a two-mile relay team was sent to the Drake Relays and was content with a fifth place. Atkins cleared 5 feet 10 inches but was eliminated in the finals. Herdell and Fessenden also failed to place in the finals.

Making another trip, the team met and defeated Oberlin in one of the most closely contested meets of the season, Oberlin losing by one point. In this meet, the excellent work of Herdell, Hartsuch, Willard, Baguley, Atkins, Surato and Weamer stood out.

Notre Dame was met there the following week. The Catholics took plenty of firsts and also a lion's share of seconds and thirds to win the meet without being seriously pushed.

On May 26, M. A. C. was forced to be content with a third place after monopolizing things in that affair for quite a number of years. Ypsilanti and Western State Normal took first and second places.

THE 1923 TENNIS SEASON

CAPT. BURWELL CUMMINGS

A veteran team of tennis men, led by Captain Burwell Cummings, performed very creditably throughout the season. C. R. Coe and J. T. Croll were the other men on the team, and in all engagements the three played alternately in the doubles or in special events alone.

The high spot of the season includes the trip on which five of the best teams of the east were encountered.

VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM 1923

The varsity cross-country team, led by Captain Baguley, was in all ways the equal of any that has borne the Green and White. While their performances were not as outstanding as those of other teams, the competition met was of such an unusually high caliber this fall that the squad lost by comparison.

VARSITY RIFLE SHOOTING 1923-24

Rifle shooting took a big boost at M. A. C. when the varsity team turned in victories over institutions noted for their strong teams. The biggest feature of the many successes was the fact that our men were eligible for competition in the national meet, held among the champions of the various corps areas throughout the country. As victors in the sixth corps area, which includes all schools in Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Illinois, M. A. C. won distinct honors.

Besides having the fine record to their credit, the varsity had the honor of having their rewards presented them by Major General Charles S. Farnsworth, chief of the infantry division of the United States army, on April 14, 1924. General Farnsworth commended the men very highly for their excellent showing throughout the season. He stopped off at M. A. C. a day and inspected the infantry corps while on a tour of inspection of all infantry posts throughout the country.

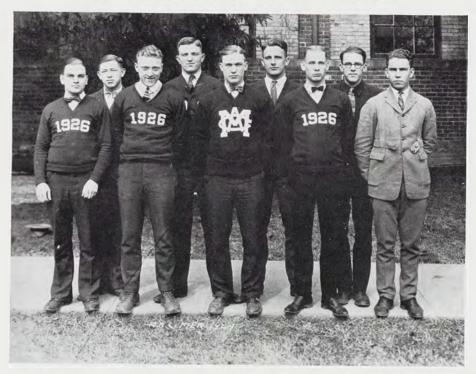

Minor sports sweaters: Ripper, Nagler, Schlubatis, Plastridge, Rieman.

Gold medals were awarded to the following men for winning the sixth corps area title: Perrine, Ripper, Miller, Rieman, Schlubatis, Gardner, Nagler, Bartholomew, Plastridge and

ALL FRESH FOOTBALL 1923

A large squad of 1927 men were kept out the entire football season, the largest ever to be held over. Coach Fred Walker had charge of the yearlings, and while the squad played several games, the entire year's work was based around making varsity material for the coming year. Some excellent material was uncovered and no doubt some of the members of the squad will find berths on the varsity of next fall.

1923 ALL-FRESH BASEBALL

No attempt was made to develop a team by Coach Walker and the work done by the All-Fresh was for the purpose of developing men for the Varsity of 1924, in which there would be many vacancies due to graduation of the previous year.

Basing the work upon ability and attitude during the entire season, the following men received class numerals:

THE SEASON

An unusually large squad was kept over the entire season and it was the usual thing for Coach Walker to have four or five entire teams report to play. Some mighty fine material was found and the addition of these men to the Varsity squad should strengthen it considerably. The above men won their numerals.

1923 ALL-FRESH TRACK

NUMERAL WINNERS

Kurtz, VanNoppen, Hall, Ripper, Zimmerman, Thomas, Banks, Yorker, Marx, Bowles, Haskins, Eastham

As usual the policy of developing men was followed last spring with the freshmen tracksters. Some mighty good material was uncovered and when eligible for varsity competition these fresh stars should help considerably in bolstering up the varsity.

Perhaps most outstanding in the performances of the team was the work of Ripper, who pulled the iron man stunt by taking all the distance runs in one meet. He took firsts in the 880-yard run, the mile, and the two-mile. Ripper has a future as a distance track man.

In the one meet of the season besides the intercollegiate competition, the Fresh walloped Alma college, May 19, to the tune of  $87\frac{2}{10}$  to  $38\frac{1}{10}$ , and took all firsts in the runs and in general had things their way. In this meet, Zimmerman, Hall and Marx monopolized the dashes, while VanNoppen ran away with the hurdles. Haskins and Bowles heaved the weights for the Fresh.

Johnson, Seble, Waterman, Reuling, Cleven

1923 ALL-FRESH CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

The Fresh harriers developed into an unusually strong team before the end of the season was over and every man who was on the team should make a strong bid for a berth on the 1924 team, which will be quite well riddled by graduation.

In competition last fall the cross-country men showed up well in the all-college run and later at the Detroit "Y" run.

Numerals were awarded to F. S. Haven, H. A. Johnson, H. Waterman.

Miss Grimes, a graduate of Chicago Normal School of Physical Education, 1918, has charge of swimming and is a charter member of the Life Saving Corps.

Miss Bradley, a graduate of the same institution, is instructor in games and dancing, and is a member of the Life Saving Corps.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

Freshmen and Sophomore girls are required to take two hours of Physical Education a week. For the Freshmen, an elementary course in calisthenics, swimming, dancing and games is given, with special attention paid to posture and the fostering of health habits. The Sophomore work is a continuation of the Freshmen work. An examination in swimming is given at the close of the year, the requirements consisting of the ability to swim 120 yards, to swim back, side, and breast stroke 60 yards, to float stationary for 60 seconds, to tread water for 60 seconds, and do a plain dive from the low board.

For the Juniors and Seniors, a two-credit course in Physical Education is elective, consisting of a scientific study of swimming with practical work; fundamental principles of dancing; theory and psychology of play and playground organization; outdoor games, tennis and track. During the Senior year practical teaching is given.

CO-ED VARSITY TENNIS TEAM

Team of 1923—Christopher, Hedrick, Barker, Van Lopic, Foote

The tennis season of 1923 was not a success in points for M. A. C. The team, however, in their playing proved that they were real players and good sportsmen.

The results of the season were:

LIFE SAVING CORPS

The American Life Saving Corps of M. A. C. has this year realized a great many of its ambitions. The first is—more members—at the close of this year the corps will number forty; others have been the benefit and enjoyment derived from the weekly swims.

During the winter term, Miss Borgman, Miss Gross, Miss Garrison, Mrs. Hasselman, Mrs. King and Mrs. Beavers were initiated into the corps as honorary members.

Miss Dorothy McWood won the world's championship for women by plunging 68 feet. The title of captain was given to Margaret King because of her faithfulness, her ability as a swimmer and her position as charter member and president of the corps.

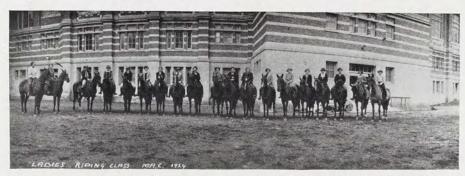

Remembering the creed, every life saver is furthering the purpose of the corps to be at home in the water and help others to enjoy it.

LIFE SAVER'S CREED

Let me at ease in the water be, At home in the river, lake, or sea; Let me learn to play and have my fun, But never let me stern duty shun.
Let me gladly and fearlessly go
For the luckless fellow who's gone below;
Nor give up hope when life seems gone,
But untiringly work on and on.
Oh, let me in the Hour of Need Prove to the careless, the friend indeed! Ever ready to Do and Dare! Let me live so cleanly I may be fit In that darkest hour to do "my bit."

EQUITATION

Through the efforts of Dean Kedzie and Miss Grimes, and with the co-operation of Col. Sherburne, a riding class has been organized during the spring term, 1924. Besides four hours of riding a week, the course includes a lecture on Hippology by Dr. Hutton, which gives, besides the fundamentals of horseback riding, a thorough knowledge of the care, feeding and stabling of horses. It is a two-credit course, at the close of which a certificate of horsemanship is awarded. At present there is an enrollment of eighteen girls.

THE RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

A great educator has said of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in his university:

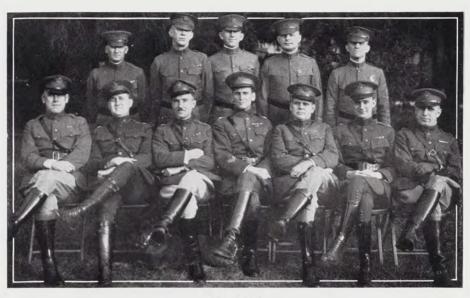

"If there was never again to be such a thing as war and there was no need of preparedness, I would be loath to see the military units removed from this institution. There is no department of this university that does more for the moral and physical fibre of the student and for the upbuilding of a better type of manhood than does the Reserve Officers' Training Corps."

This statement estimates the worth of the R. O. T. C. in time of peace.

In time of war, a nation with as virile a citizenry as has our country, will never lack material for the development of a great army but in every war in which the United States has been engaged the lack of trained men has been our greatest need. To remedy this defect, Michigan, with its proud war record, has made military study compulsory in the Michigan Agricultural College and has established here a department to train the students to become officers of a wartime army.

It is the ardent wish of all of our people that these students now receiving military training may never be called upon to use this knowledge except in the ordinary calling of citizenship, but if war does come, it is our hope that the cadets here may worthily fill the places of the men who followed Custer and Haan and forever maintain the military glory of Michigan.

THE STAFF

THE CADET CORPS

The corps of cadets is organized as a provisional regiment, consisting of a provisional battalion of four companies of infantry, a provisional squadron of three troops of cavalry,

Major E. B. Gray Coast Artillery Corps, Executive Officer

and a provisional battalion of three batteries of artillery. The cadet officers are chosen from the senior students, the sergeants and noncommissioned staff from the juniors, and the corporals from the sophomores. The cadet colonel commands the regiment and has on his staff two lieutenant colonels, a regimental sergeant major, and a regimental supply sergeant. Each battalion and squadron is commanded by a cadet major, each having a staff consisting of an adjutant and a battalion sergeant major. Sponsors are chosen from the women students, the corps sponsor having the honorary rank of colonel, and each unit sponsor the honorary rank of lieutenant colonel.

The complete course includes an attendance of six weeks at summer training camp, the student's expenses being paid by the United States. This training is given at Camp Custer, Michigan, except for coast artillery students, who attend camp at Fort Monroe, Virginia. After satisfactory completion of four years' work in the Department of Military Science and Tactics, besides receiving thirty academic credits, the student is eligible for a commission as second lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army.

THE HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING

The building for which the students of the Home Economics division have waited so long was completed early in 1924. It is of modern construction, well ventilated and fire-proof. The location and lighting of rooms are especially designed for the various types of class work. Laboratories and class rooms are furnished with the best and most up-to-date equipment.

On the ground floor of the building are two lecture rooms, three food laboratories, a dining room, laundry and the administration offices.

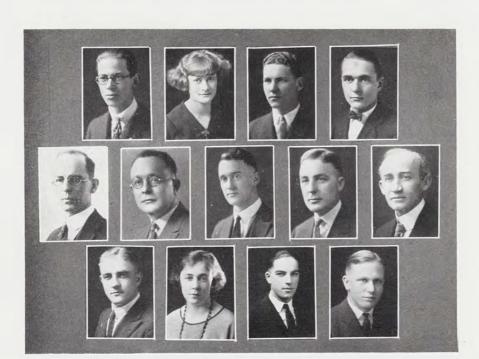

On the first floor are lecture rooms, seminar room, two dietary laboratories, nutrition chemistry laboratory, animal room, research laboratory and the offices of the Home Economics Extension staff. The dietary laboratories have space for twenty students and are equipped with special desks, ovens, balances and exhibit space. The nutrition-chemistry and research laboratories are equipped with a respiration apparatus, centrifuge, electric oven, and Kjeldahl apparatus for experiments in metabolism and foods. The animal room contains a large rat colony also used for studies in nutrition.

Three clothing laboratories, costume design, textile testing laboratories and a child care unit are located on the second floor. The large clothing laboratories have sewing machines, cutting tables, display cases and fitting rooms. Textile laboratories are arranged for testing and studying fabrics. The child care unit has a large play room for the children, kitchen for the preparation of their food and medical examination room.

The third floor is made up of a large assembly room, two design studios, arts and crafts room, millinery laboratory and a small apartment. The assembly room contains a stage, making it possible to use the room as a little theater. The arts and crafts room is equipped for dyeing and weaving, metal work and leather work. The apartment has a living room, bedroom, bath, dining room and kitchen, and will be used as a laboratory for classes in interior decoration, home nursing, meal service and other home economic problems.

VARSITY DEBATING

The Varsity debate season of 1924 was a success. Debating two questions: Resolved, That the United States should enter the World Court, and, Resolved, That the United States should join the League of Nations. The two teams closed the season with a record of six victories, six defeats and two non-decision contests.

The negative team opened the season March 9 with a victory over Hope College. The following week the affirmative team swung into action against Marquette University but was not as successful as the negative trio.

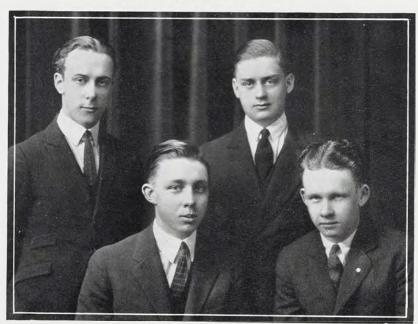

On March 19 the negative team left on the longest trip ever taken by an Aggie debate team. Their first opponent was James Milikin University, and the M. A. C. boys were forced to be content with the short end of the decision. At Kansas State Agricultural College they were again defeated and at the University of Denver took part in a no-decision contest. The next two debates, with the Colorado Aggies and the Utah Aggies, were also lost, but at Pasadena College the Green and White team broke into the win column. Losing the next two to College of the Pacific and Willamette University, the Aggie arguers swung into the home stretch with a none too impressive record. They ended the season, however, with the old Aggie fight, winning in a row from College of Puget Sound, North Dakota Aggies, and Iowa State. On the night the negative team defeated Iowa the affirmative team clashed with Purdue in the third leg of the annual Tri-State between the three schools, and was victorious, thereby bringing the Tri-State championship to the state college for the second consecutive year.

During the second season of co-ed debating at M. A. C., five debates were held, a dual with Western State Normal, a dual with Kalamazoo College, and the affirmative against Colorado Agricultural College. The question debated this year was, "Resolved, That the United States should enter the League of Nations." The negative team won the debate with Kalamazoo College, but in the other debates M. A. C. was not quite so successful.

Co-ed debating is now on a firm basis at M. A. C. and plans are being made for a more extensive debate schedule next year.

FIRST ANNUAL WATER CARNIVAL

The spring of 1923 marked the advent of the first Water Festival. The river, just above the farm lane bridge, was the scene of canoe races, tilts and battles. A diving exhibition was staged by members of the varsity swimming team. As dusk closed over the scene, the king, Cran Rowland, and the queen, Helen Bradford, floated downstream on the Royal Barge, taking their places on the throne to view the fantasies of dance and music. Then the canoes of the fraternities and sororities drifted down the river in slow procession, each in gala array. An illuminated airplane exhibition by Lieut. Davis closed the biggest event of the spring term.

W. K. A. R.

The M. A. C. radio broadcasting station, has had a most successful year. Under the supervision of the electrical engineering department and with the invaluable aid given by F. I. Phippeny, '26e, the new 500-watt transmitting set was installed during the fall term and broadcasting commenced early in the winter term. The increase in the power of the station over that possessed last year has made it possible for the programs to be heard in almost every state in the union.

Regular Wednesday evening programs were sent out at 8 o'clock each week. They consisted of dance music, vocal and instrumental solos, a concert by the M. A. C. band and one by the glee club, short talks on agricultural, engineering and other vocational and educational subjects, and debates. Several special programs were also sent out, including the broadcasting of all basketball games played on the home floor, the music of the J-Hop, the lecture of Viljhalmur Stefansson, arctic explorer, and an alumni program on Founder's day.

Students, through the committee, are responsible largely for the success which has been achieved in both the operating or technical end, and in the studio or artistic end of the broadcasting done by W. K. A. R.

JUDGING

C. D. MILLER

Out of the Dairy Judging class of sixteen members, Charles D. Miller was one of the three men chosen to represent the Michigan Agricultural College at the National Dairy Show held at Syracuse, New York, October 5 to 12, 1923.

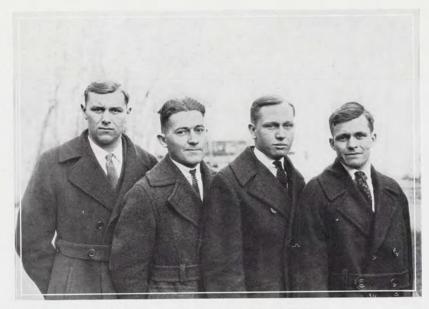

Twenty-eight teams from every corner of the United States were entered in the contest. With this keen competition, Miller has the distinction of taking three firsts and winning seven honored prizes. The prizes he won were:

Sweepstake prizes of a silver loving cup and a judge's cane.

First in Holsteins, which gave him a $400 scholarship and a large loving cup.

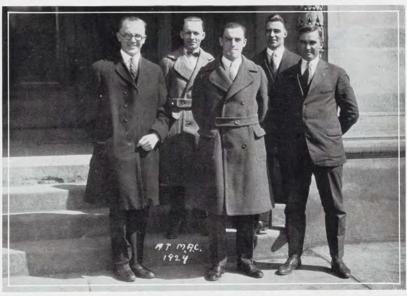

First in Jerseys, which won him a cup from the American and Jersey Island Cattle Clubs.

This has been a remarkable record of which the Michigan Agricultural College may well be proud and which will act as a positive impetus toward greater efforts in this field of intercollegiate activity.

1925 J-HOP

A galaxy of color, wonderful music, and a carefully planned program of events characterized the 1925 J-Hop as the greatest social event of the year.

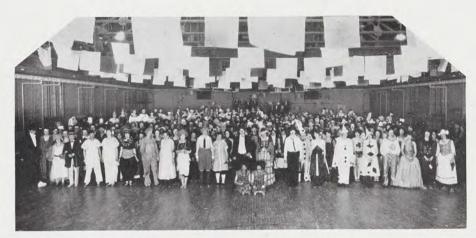

The favors for the ladies were very distinctive and novel. They were bronze, electrically lighted lamps, while leather card cases, suitably engraved, were given to the men.

Jean Goldkette's Graystone orchestra lived up to all expectations and furnished music which shall rank the 1925 J-Hop as one of the best Hops ever given at M. A. C.

1. How many of the budding frat boys around here go to church?

2. Does Prof. Hunt know that he is

3. When did this take place?4. Do you believe what she said, or do you think she lied?

weren't running the 5. If the Alpha Zetas-how many of us would have a chance?

6. Why is Coach Young?7. How long since the Columbians pledged a good man?

8. Where am I going when I get kicked out of here?

9. Should Bryan quit monkeying around? 10. Is it true that so many skates come from the Upper Peninsula because Lake Superior is frozen all the year 'round?

11. Do I believe in non-cribbing?

12. Where did the secretary of the People's Church get his height?

13. Is anything so?

HOW TO CURE THAT COUGH

(If you followed the advice of your friends)

Avoid all stimulants and swallow six ounces of whiskey every hour. Take a scalding bath and just before rubbing down go out and lie in the snow for twenty minutes. Sleep in a well ventilated room with the windows closed. Be sure and use no medicine but take liberal doses of quinine and aspirin until perspiration is free and the body is quite dry. Keep up your daily occupations, but stay at home in bed. It is best to isolate oneself in a room with four or five people after one's temperature reaches 105.

Recovery may be expected in four or five weeks if all directions are followed. In case you don't feel well in six weeks, repeat the measures .- McH. (Life).

THE BRIBING OF EDITORS

It has always been rumored that an editor can be bribed if a little oil is used to stop the printing of certain facts about certain individuals, etc. Well, so far the only attempts to stop the facts which I am about to disclose below have been numerous threats from certain individuals-but NO OIL. It isn't fair. I protest such neglect. I am jealous. I, too, have an itching palm. Why am I considered to be beyond reproach? It is ridiculous. I'm the original "Two Orphans" in one. But to get even with them, I'm going to disclose a big thing. I-I found a letter-the other day-and I want you to pass judgment on the offenders. It read:

Dear Brothers:

We aint aiming to have you mad on us, but we want to know who in hell swiped our ice cream at our last rushing party last fall. We think it's a damn dirty trick, but we'll forgive you if you'll ask us to your spring party.

Yours for some more corn roasts, Signed, The SISTERS.

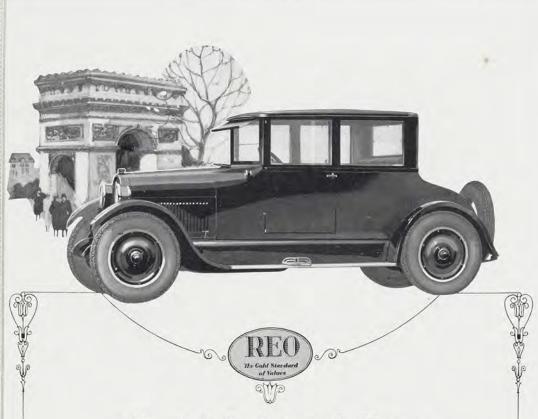

Now, this same parchment was written by the Themians to the Phi Delt boys on "Main Street," and I don't blame them a bit, especially when the boys are such double crossing plants. What do you think?

Now comes the razz!!!! The good old Olympics. If you're an athlete you're an Olympic from birth-anyone who can stand the blistering, branding ceremony-will be allowed to trek around the campus in a sweat shirt and get away with it. By the way, Brother Eckerman gives voice culture every afternoon from 5 to 6 at Hank and Franks.

There's pages and pages of abuse I can think of, but I'm only going to give one more remark. A dirty slip, if you please.

There's a bunch of colleageates around the Institution whose motto is: "In numbers—we are strong!" Ain't it so! The Kollidge research department recently uncovered so startling facts regarding these same lads. This fraternity has more gents than all the other sororities combined. And they want a carload of refillable pledge pins. Who are they? I've just been OILED!

M. A. C. Students and Alumni Favor Balloon-Tired Reos

UNIVERSITY and college people the country over are among the fortunate to whom an appreciation of the really good things in life is given.

M. A. C. alumni and students are made, by the very nature of their training, capable of appreciating both the symmetry of lines and mechanical excellence for which the Reo is known.

Their appreciation of Reo's dignified beauty, abundant power, and surplus of fleetness is evident wherever M. A. C. crowds assemble. Notice the Reos outside the Stadium during football games in front of the Gym at J-Hop time—around the campus at Commencement.

Balloon tires, the latest practical development in automotive circles, symbolize the progressive—not radical—policy that has created Reo.

Price moderation is made possible by the concentration of tremendous facilities on one-passenger car chassis. All Reo products are designed and manufactured in the big Reo Shops.

EWOLVERINES

I was going to put a picture of the Union Lit house here, for I thought for a while it was a campus joke, but it is no longer having become a campus problem.

Jimmy Hasselman, publicity expert, reports that temperature conditions Monday morning were not as acute as predicted. "I put the brass monkey outside the window and nothing happened, so I knew it was not as cold as was reported," said Jimmy over the telephone early this morning.

Nib—"Boy, are you a real good caddy?" Lick—"Am I? Sir, I can't count over seventy."

The initials of a friend

You will find these letters on many tools by which electricity works. They are on great generators used by electric light and power companies; and on lamps that light millions of homes.

They are on big motors that pull railway trains; and on tiny motors that make hard housework easy.

By such tools electricity dispels the dark and lifts heavy burdens from human shoulders. Hence the letters G-E are more than a trademark. They are an emblem of service—the initials of a friend.

AT THE THEATER

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

When there is a long line, always stop and kid the box-office person and entertain him with a few gags. Ask him if he has any seats facing the stage. This always makes a hit with the people behind you.

When going down the aisle, the husband should always precede the wife, as this is probably his only chance of ever getting ahead of her.

When the lady in front of you refuses to take her hat off, put yours on, and let someone behind you start the rumpus.

Always tip the usher. By so doing, you get a program which everybody gets for nothing.

Be sure and remind the people in front of you that you saw the star when she was in Bucyrus, Ohio, playing in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

When going out between acts for a cigarette, look carefully to the left and right. If there are four people between you and the center aisle and thirteen people between you and the left aisle, go out the left aisle.

If you go in on a pass, crab the show in a loud voice. If you pay three dollars for a ticket, say the show is bully.

When you want "ice-water" in a little paper cup from the usher, sip it slowly so it won't scald your throat.

INCREDULITY

Incredulity in girls is a most exasperating quality. They never seem to believe a thing I tell them, and having always been an exceedingly truthful and upright young man, this pains and chagrins me beyond words. When, after an exceedingly fervent discourse, in which I am absolutely truthful and mean every word I say, they coyly reply, "Do you expect me to believe that?" or, "Oh, what a beautiful line!" I just move away and sit speechless while my eyes take on that faraway hurt look. But what makes me feel like the rankest amateur on earth and causes me to rave and tear my hair and kick myself all over the place, is to have them say they doubt my word, when I've been lying to them all the time.

"Hello, oh, Denny, is that your darling voice?"

"Yes, indeed!"

"Oh, this is Marg. Are you driving out tonight?"

"Sorry, Marg., but I have two exams tomorrow."

"Oh, I'm sorry, but mother and good old pater have gone out of town, Brod is dating, and sister is out also. I thought maybe you could force the old buggy out here. It's so lonesome."

"Hotsy-totsy! I'll be out in 29 minutes by the clock. I've dropped the two courses."

"Good-bye, dear, hurry, won't you; it's so lonesome."

OH, MOTHER, DON'T HURRY ME!

Mother—Are you entertaining a young man tonight?

Daughter—No, mother, I just met him today.

—Sun Dial.

"Is she fast?"

"Fast? Boy, she's even fast asleep!"

The College Book Store

Was conceived upon one of the cardinal principles of the Michigan Agricultural College Campus — The Spirit of Cooperation.

As a cooperative organization we serve students and former students with the books and supplies they need, at cost plus a small handling charge. Buying at wholesale and only in amounts needed for each class, every student shares in our low cost and quick turnover.

During the twenty-eight years of our service to M. A. C. men and women we have saved thousands of dollars for them and the folks back home who were "putting them through".

We are continuing our endeavors in this direction.

You are one of the producers of the nation's wealth, because the farm is a foundation of wealth. The portion of this wealth to which you are entitled depends on how you manage your farm; what assistance you give nature by using good seed, by providing a proper seed bed, by distributing the seed in the correct proportion by use of accurate seeding machinery, and by carefully cultivating and harvesting. Good judgment combined with good tools will get good results.

A CAMPUS SKETCH

He was a college man. Dressed for winter in a long fur coat which hung from his shoulders loosely yet gracefully, with its collar turned down neatly, wearing a brown felt hat which was roughly blocked and flat and which just hid his eyebrows but left a large portion of the back of his head uncovered, sporting well polished brown shoes rounded at the front and above which appeared his trousers' cuffs, carefully pressed and of a conservative color, he was the kind of a gentleman any sweet young girl would fall in love with at sight. A red tie with yellow spots and a very small knot peeked out between the folds of his fur coat and slipped away around his neck under a thin white collar which bore all the resemblances of being attached to his white shirt. On seeing him one knew perfectly well that if he took off his fur coat, he would be found clad in a nicely fitting, three-button sack coat of the same conservative hue as his trousers. Each button would be fastened and the top one would come rather high, allowing only about four inches of his tie to be seen. One likewise knew that his hat hid straight black hair very much of the patent leather variety with a part on the left side as straight as an arrow. He was the college man.

But if you had seen him in actual life walking about the campus instead of in the pages of the college humorous magazine, you would have dropped dead from astonishment.—Wis. Lit.

Price Belief also is Relative

SINCE 1897 the name Oldsmobile has been a synonym for dependable car values.

But never in all those twenty-seven years has the name Oldsmobile meant so much to car purchasers as it does today.

The new Oldsmobile Six flatly refutes the old, time-established belief that low price means low quality. We must remember that what we are pleased to call low or high prices are only relative to what our previous knowledge has ordained that they should represent.

Now, in the new Oldsmobile Six, General Motors Corporation has made possible a new price view-point. For here in this sturdy new member of the General Motors family are high grade materials, newest engineering principles, careful workmanship, comfort, dignity and low expense of operation and upkeep—all at low first cost.

SWEET IS VENGEANCE

The desert sun had shone down mercilessly all day. And the desert wind was like a blast from a blazing furnace. The lone driver drew up his nearly spent steed and looked westward. Was that a grove of trees in the distance? No, it could not be that, for it was too small on the horizon. He pushed his nag westward with a faint hope he might find a water hole or at least shelter from the blistering sun. But as he drew near he saw that it was a man fallen on his face (mystery) with his face in a dry hole, where once cool waters had bubbled.

The sheik dismounted, approached the huddled bit of humanity and suddenly drew away on turning it over. Verily, I say unto you, it was an old Prof. of his from his old Alma Mater. "God, give me water," he pleaded. This Prof. the sheik remembered had driven him to the desert by flunking him twice in Math. Did he give him a drink? NO! He climbed on his horse and was away, leaving the old boy with a quarter's worth of jumbo peanuts.

She—Oh, Algy, you Americans are so slow.

He—Er, I'm afraid I don't grasp you. She—That's just it.

Isn't it true, girls—were you ever more excited in your life than when you were invited to the college J-Hop?

Probably I was the only one from my home town who was ever asked. I just couldn't see why he asked me instead of Sue Smith, when she was telling it all around to everyone at the social the other night about how she was engaged to him. She wouldn't even speak to me today in the dry goods store when mother and I were buying my silver stockings. Mother smiled but it did rather hurt my feelings because I had known her all my life and she snubbed me right in front of that gossiping Mrs. Jenkins, who will tell every-one that Mae Tracy's girl has evened up her ma's old score with Ada Smith, because Ada did not invite her to meet her friends from Boston when they were here last summer. She was the only woman on the

Aunty said I would probably get flowers, too, because the boys always give them to the girls if they appreciate them— the girls, I mean. So I want pink flowers

There are only a few weeks left now. I've had my suit case packed for days. I just can't keep my eyes off'n it, and all those pretty things. I'm sure I'll have the loveliest time. I wonder if anyone else

ONCE UPON A TIME!

Once upon a time, long ago, there was a student who came to this school with the solemn intention that "he was going to study."

After hitting the big town of East Lansing, the crowds of unfamiliar faces, and the extensive campus, he was bewildered. Finally, after lonely days of wandering, he came to the momentous conclusion that he must find someone who could help him correctly commence his ambitious collegiate career at M. A. C.

First, he thought he should go to the college authorities. They were wise old boys, and nodded their aged heads and said: "Young man, to stay in our school and to succeed you must study.

With these worthy words stored away in his young head he was away again, still in search of information. He entered another room and questioned the occupants thereof. But they were busy playing poker and said nothing but, "I pass, bye, raise you five."

So—the student entered the game, gave up his search, and became a great success in college.

Slyly and gently he moved his arm around her waist. At his touch she trembled like an autumn leaf, a thrill ran through her body. With all the power she could summon she tried to hold him off. Never before had she ever allowed any young man to put his arm around her. He, looking into her wonderful brown eyes, saw anger and fear in their depths, he started to withdraw his arm, but all at once as if struck with bold determination, he advanced again his embracing arm. Why should he not be the favored lover, for he loved her with a love that was great and true, and—he had always had his way

MERCENARY STUDENTS

The query, "Why don't students study?" has always been one of the seven mysteries of the ancient and modern world. But at last, I (omit the roses) have hit onto a plan which I think will prove and solve the difficulty and here's the solution.

Folks, the reason is as obvious as a bubble in a teapot, and I wonder why no one has ever thought of it before. Settle down and concentrate: "Students do not study because they are not paid."

Little infants, first starting to wear pajamas are paid, after a fashion, but the sum of payment is usually a red apple, or a blue ribbon, or such like. Now that may be all right for children, but the boys and girls after they have left the kindergarten stage don't aspire for such rewards.

So here lies the remedy: The student should be paid for his work—real, hard-earned cash: Instead of piling up honorary degrees and such tommy-rot, cold cash should be the reward—and the "oil" speaks louder than honorary degrees.

In a paying institution like ours (Pres. Shaw said so) home work should be price-ticketed thusly:

Example I. How far is up? Do you think so? }$1.00

Example II.  $x^2 - 2xy + 4z = 0$ (Find x, if you can)  $\begin{cases} $5.00 \end{cases}$

Example III.  $\frac{4xy+z}{2 \text{ ab}} \quad \frac{4x-2-1}{3+4 \text{ ab}-1}$ (Find out what this means)  $\begin{cases}
$10.00
\end{cases}$

Then watch the boys and girls fight for the $10.00 puzzler. Personally I think this will work, don't you?

Research should be compensated with liberal salaries, bonus, time and a half for overtime. Why, this would make the American student the most brilliant in the history of mankind.

Then, too, the college man would have a jump on the self-made man (that conceited, sophisticated lowhat) by having a little mazuma in his trou when leaving kollidge to make his way in the cruel, cruel world.

Si: Nope; a Ford's good enough for me any day.

Lohn: No Si get an Overland and you'll never be sorry. Mine can get into any fish-

John: No, Si, get an Overland and you'll never be sorry. Mine can get into any fishing hole that Andy's ever could and besides it's got the looks just like Don's. What you want is a car that gets you there besides being one you can take your girl for a ride in.

Si doesn't care about taking girls out on dark roads. What he wants is one with lots of room under the back seat.

Si: You're right, Chilly. The women can all go to hell as far as I'm concerned. Since I was in France I couldn't see these girls anyway. I'd sooner tear out with the gang any day.

Enter several Alpha Phi Freshmen. They take seats and look around. Don throws his cigarette away, as do Chilly and John. Andy slides a chew out of his face. Waldo sits up in his seat and looks alive for the first time since coming into the shop. A long silence ensues which is finally broken by Ruth Payne.

Ruth: Dear me! Will I ever get to my three o'clock. I never do get to that class on time

Erny Bolter: Well, that's what you can expect with bobbed hair. All you have time for is running between the barber shop and Janie Lincoln's. Probably you'll learn some day. I'll never get my hair bobbed. I'm not going to miss that class. If you are not through by ten to I'm going.

Chilly (wishing to make his presence known): Say, Mr. Waldo, when are you going to start work on that play you were talking about? It's getting near the end of the term. Can you use me in it?

Waldo (very much alive now): Why of course we will give you a part in the play, I am going to have you take the part of the father.

Chilly: Father of what? Waldo: Of the heroine, of course.

Chilly: Who is the lucky girl going to be then?

Waldo: I can't just decide. I need a girl who can portray the wiles of Cleopatra and the Queen of Sheba combined.

Chilly: Hot dickety. Won't pappa be glad. But Mr. Waldo, our fair campus has no

The girls look indignantly and reproachfully at Chilly. He notices the dark looks and grins to himself.

Erny (to the rest of the girls, in a whisper): He doesn't know much about the talent around here. If he was a Phi Del' he'd know better.

W'aldo: I have several girls in mind who I know could take the part very well.

Girls (to themselves): How does he get a line on what the girls can do around here?

I know that Marian Larkworthy could do it excellently.

Waldo: I know that Marian Larkworthy Chilly: Let's start practicing right away. Erny: Well, I'm going Ruth, it's ten to. Ruth: Tell him I'm coming.

As Erny goes up the steps Chuck Parks and Thelma are coming down.

Curtain.

(We would call this our "Unfinished Symphony.")

DID THEY STUDY?

It was while the fall moon was shining,
And 'steen million stars gleamed bright;
Two loyal Aggie freshmen walked down
Grand River—
Just last night.

They were far from their home-town village,

Yes, they were far from mother's care, They had just come to kollidge, And East Lansing's "luring snare."

On the morrow they had quizzes, But to them it mattered nil, For they had been just "whizzes" In high school, back in Webberville.

"Heads we do, and tails we don't,"
That means: "Do they study?"
Oh, the chosen coin favored DO—
One guess—did they study?

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT

Fill in the blanks in the following "pomes":
Said Dora, "If you do not
Like my stuff so well,
Why, then, for all that I care
You can go to ......"

I thought she loved me only; I said, "How glad I am," But then I found her up in arms Against my roommate ——.

He tried to make her kiss him, She said, "I like you not, And my opinion is that You're a little ——."

She—You have wonderful lips; they would look wonderful on a girl.

He—Well, I never miss a chance.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

Graduation should not mean a severance of fraternity ties any more than it does of those binding to the Alma Mater. A beautifully made badge will do much to preserve the bond.

GLIMPSES OF THE PLOT

(Provided there's a Chorus, a Hero, a Heroine, a Comedian and an Ingenue) Ah! Here comes the Prince, now."

"No, nothing like that for me girls. When I'm married, I'll lead the simple life."

"But I tell you, dear, it's all a mistake."
"To Paris! Very well, we'll all go to Paris."

"Now, remember, boys, not a word to Dolly."

"Lucy. (Pause.) That's the sweetest name to me in all the world."

"But it's always springtime when you're in love."

"I don't want a dazzling palace or a great castle. I'd be perfectly happy in just a little bungalow—with you."

"I know he's not rich, mother, but I—I love him."

"That music. That strain. It reminds me of a certain girl I once knew."

"I only wanted to know, dear, if you really loved me."

May—My roommate and I are having a race to see which one can go out with the most fellows this year.

Bell—Is that so? Who's in the lead? May—Well, I'm ten laps ahead.

-Gargoyle.

SHE OTTA BUT SHE DON'T

They tell us of the blushing bride, Who to the altar goes; Down the center of the church,

Between the friend-filled rows. Why, there's Billy that she motored with, And Bob with whom she swam;

There's Jack-used to golf with him,

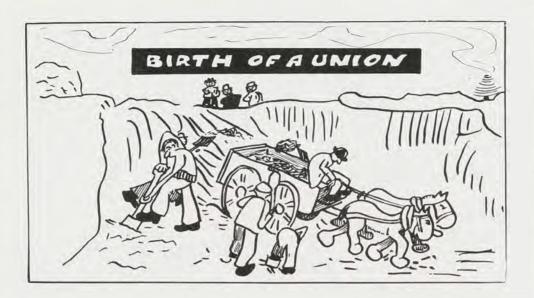

And Denny who called her "lamb." There's Ted, the football man she owned, And Don of tennis days:

There's Herb, yes, and blond Eugene, And there is Harry, college beaux,

With whom she used to mush, No wonder she's a blushing bride! Ye gods—she ought to blush.

A dinner dance was being given at the summer home of Mrs. Highhat. During the evening one of the guests who had not seen the family for years chanced to talk with the hostess, "I haven't seen your husband tonight," he said agreeably. "This is a dance, not a seance," the hostess replied hotly.

Movie Actress—I think ——— Director—Haven't I told you never to lie to me?

Robbie—Why, Morry, what happened to you in the football game yesterday? You've lost your front teeth.

Morry-No, indeed, I haven't. Here they are in my handkerchief.

She—I don't believe in promiscuous kiss-

He—I don't like a crowd around myself.
—Stone Mill.

"How did you get that cut on your head?"

"Hic--musta-hic--bit myself."

"Gwan. How could you bite yourself up there?"

"Musta stood on a chair."

-Goblin.

"Why do you call your car Paul Revere?"

"Because of the midnight rides."

-Purple.

LEAP YEAR-1924

Long ago, in The dim past When "men weren't Men," Someone set aside A special year. During this year, Maids from all Over the countrieside, Were free From modesty, and Men cast aside Their pride. So Faire reader, It isn't New. It's an Olde, olde, Storie. Laides always Grabbed The glorie, In making The male Whisper the Olde, olde, Storie. The editor Has received Many, many Requests from Alle over the Campus, Regarding the Momentous problem. So I Have decided To put Into print A few Safe rules to Follow: BEWARE of the Girl who Has always Worshipped you From afar, She's dangerous. Don't take auto Rides, walking Home is werry, Werry unpleasant. Last of all: Beware of the Out-of-door-Girl-She can force YOU.
