DEDICATION

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

On May 13, 1925, the Michigan Agricultural College became Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science. This—the 1925 Wolverine—is the first and last year book of the old and the new name. The editors feel that the new name will cause a marked difference in our great democratic family and we must keep pace with the College and be prepared to face new questions and solve problems, of which a State College graduate will be expected.

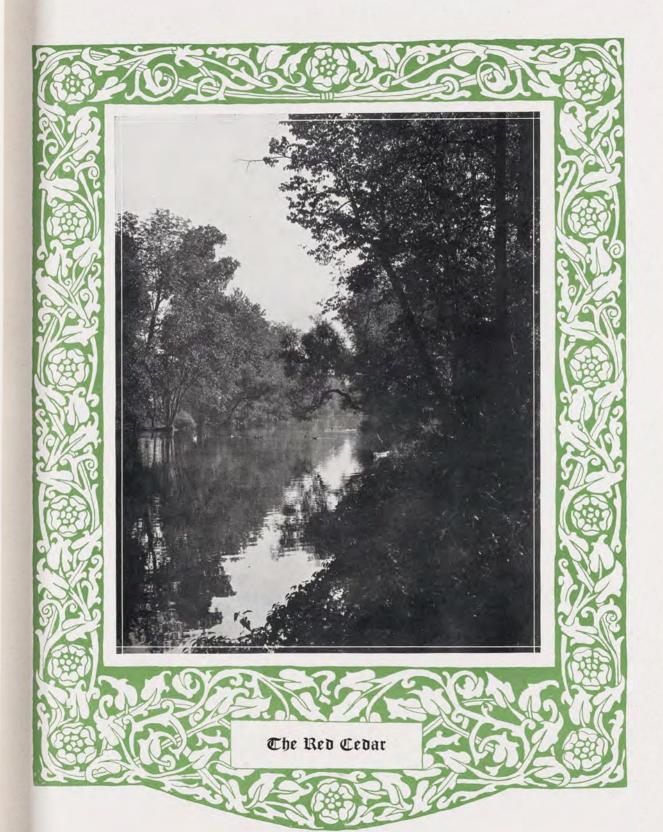

It has been the aim of this book to include both M. A. C. and M. S. C. in its pages and to bring forth upon our campus a slightly different book than those of years before. It is also the hope of the 1925 Wolverine Staff, that this book, in later years, may bring back a few fond memories of Michigan State College and also to foster the old State spirit to our alumnae.

Michigan State Athletics

A THLETICS at Michigan State College have been on an upward trend for the last two or three years; but, however, a high level has been reached this year. The football teams are building up a reputation that, for a school of our size, will be hard to beat. A look at the schedule for 1925 will erase any doubt of the last statement. This year the team fought like demons and played the 1923 Conference Champions to a standstill. The new stadium will help to build our athletic department into an efficient machine.

Minor sports have been of great interest and real fights for places upon these teams occur every year. There has been a greater interest in Co-ed Athletics also in the last year or two.

With the seven coaches and equipment the new men ought to put old Michigan State at the top in athletics. A bill is before the state legislature at present and is almost sure to pass, for a new field house. The new field house will be as large as any in the Middle West and will afford a wonderful place for all indoor practices.

Assistant Director of Athletics

With the new stadium and our new progressive policy in athletics, Frim's job has become a real one. While not engaged in coaching to any extent his work in the department is indispensible. Next year the stadium will be packed for three games at least and it will be Frimodig's job to take care of the crowds. Frim was an exceptional athlete while at M. S. C. and played on teams that bowed to none. The outlook for next season is pretty bright and we'll pull for Frim to help lead Michigan State back in athletic circles.

LYMAN FRIMODIG

JOHN H. KOBS

Coach Kobs seems to have quite a number and variety of duties; his chief responsibilities are the coaching of Varsity basketball and Varsity baseball; he also helps Coach Casteel handle the Fresh football squad, and coaches the Varsity hockey team during the short hockey season.

The experience gained while playing football with Ohio State, has been a big factor in Tarz Taylor's success as Varsity Line coach at Michigan State. He is also coach of winter and spring football, besides helping the athletes with their eligibility troubles. During the winter Taylor had charge of the Fresh basketball squad, which played a good schedule without losing a game. Coach Taylor's chief hobby is playing bridge, at which game he is quite adept.

JOHN L. TAYLOR

"Mike" Casteel, as he is familiarly known upon the athletic field, comes from Western State Normal, where he was a ringer in practically all sports. One of his jobs is that of whipping freshman football material into shape for Varsity, and as shown by this year's freshman squad, he has undoubtedly been successful. Mike is also Assistant Track Coach and as shown by the results of the M. S. C. track season, he has been a great aid to Coach Young.

MILES W. CASTEEL

Instructor of Physical Education. Possessing rare ability in handling men "Brick" has made himself dear to the hearts of Michigan State men. Always a friend and advisor, he surely fills the job of instructor in physical education. Coaching the wrestling squad is his team job and to learn of his success just look up the wrestling schedule.

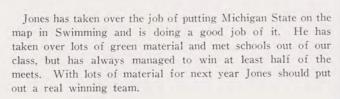

LEON D. BURHANS

JACK HEPPINSTALL

Trainer

Jack is the doctor and mends the broken athletes. In this capacity he has faithfully served the college for eleven years and has made many friends in that time. He is the friend of the athletes and gets everything out of his men.

THE Board in Control of Athletics of the Michigan State College was organized, by the direction of the State Board of Agriculture, February 2, 1923. It replaced a much larger board, whose powers were not clearly defined.

The new Board now in control has the authority and responsibility for the conduct of the Athletic Dept. and Michigan State's policy in athletics.

Its actions are subject to the approval of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture, so far, in its very young career it has proven successful.

YELL MASTER

The best known and best liked undergraduate on the campus. Indeed, while hardly a ladies' man, all the co-eds yell for him. Elected cheer leader in the latter part of his Sophomore year, he has ever since been a potent force in the generating and maintenance of ye olde enthusiasm for the Green and White.

Reported to have once incited the Sphinx to give nine big ones for the Sahara eleven, he certainly holds more potential cheers in his eight fingers than Johnny Walker in a whole case. Demure maids who have never done anything more strenuous in the vocal line than summoning their room-mate to the 'phone, as well as veteran train callers at the Central Station, leave the stadium with chilled spine and baked palate.

Bud will be mightily missed behind the megaphone, next fall, and it will take a quick tongue to fill his shoes.

Hultman—Guard Captain

THE varsity football team started the season with a decided victory over Northwestern College of Napierville, Ill. The Northwestern team outweighed the Green and White but when the game started it was evident that the varsity was going to have things their own way. The team opened with a powerful offensive attack. They displayed various methods of attack, off the ends and through the line. Hultman, Fremont, Neller and Beckley each accounted for touchdowns while Schmyser made five markers on off tackle plays. Rollie Richards had the people on their heels by his superhuman end runs. The line broke through continually and completely demoralized the Northwestern backs.

The team completed eleven passes for gains totaling 109 yards. The Youngmen were in perfect condition and their power soon told on the visiting team. Northwestern was forced to make numerous substitutions during the game. Much was expected of the team, in the following games, by the wonderful game of football that was displayed.

The game was watched by 2000 boy scouts from various parts of the state.

THE Green and White kept the old ball rolling by defeating Olivet in the second game of the season. The game was loosely played and a poor brand of football was displayed in the first period. Olivet put up a great fight at first and held the varsity, but later began to weaken as the steam roller hit its regular stride of a week before.

Although hindered by a great number of penalties for holding and for being off side, the team came through with six points in the first period, fourteen in the second, seven in the third and twenty-seven in the fourth. In the last period Olivet broke through, and blocked Richard's punt on our twenty-yard line. Brumm dropped a perfect goal and scored Olivet's lonely three points.

The Green and White used the forward passing game to great advantage in this game as well as powerful line bucks. Neller was a sensation throughout the game with his dashing open field running.

M. A. C. 0; Michigan 7

THE following Saturday University of Michigan came to East Lansing for the first time in ten years. The day was bright and with maize and blue, and green and white everywhere the campus took on a colorful aspect. Michigan was confident of an easy victory as it had been able to attain in previous years. The stadium was packed and the temporary stands began to crack with the great load placed upon them. After the dedication ceremonies the great battle began with 22,000 people looking on. M. A. C. seemed to have the advantage during the first period and broke through Michigan's line for long gains. The period ended 0-0, where in years before, at this time of the game, U. of M. had many points to its favor.

As M. A. C. continued to outplay the Yostmen in the second quarter, the M. A. C. stands seemed to rock and quiver with cheers and yells. It seemed as though it was going to be an M. A. C. day and a real stadium dedication. The green and white team started a grand march down the field and placed the ball on Michigan's 15-yard line. The U. of M. stands began to yell "Hold 'em Michigan." It was the first time these words had been heard at a Michigan-M. A. C. game for ten years. Neller tried a drop kick, but missed. The score at the half was 0-0.

The M. A. C. stands seemed to rock with cheers, as the team had actually outplayed Michigan all the way. The Michigan band was the first to march down the field and form the block M as the Yellow and the Blue was played. The M. A. C. band took the field and formed the M. A. C. and the Alma Mater rang across the fields with a new vigor. At this point the Michigan stands were not as noisy and their spirit did not run as high as in other years.

The third quarter started and the big green and white team was determined to score, again trying a field goal which barely missed. In the latter part of this period Michigan worked the ball to the M. A. C. 20-yard line and tried a kick from placement, which went wild. This was the first time that Michigan had gotten close enough to try to score. The quarter ended Michigan 0; M. A. C. 0.

In the fourth quarter the ball was kept in the middle of the field and it was not until two minutes before the final whistle that the crisis came. The teams lined up on our 47-yard line; it was Michigan's ball. On this play a 45-yard pass netted the only score of the game for Michigan. The whole M. A. C. team fought like demons and must be given a lot of credit for their efforts in playing last year's Conference Champs to a stand-still.

HE varsity brushed aside the Chicago "Y" college after it had scored three points in the beginning of the game. The "Y" team came here with a determination to win and started the first quarter off with an alarming assortment of clever plays. Among which, Capt. Myers scored their only three points by a drop kick. The Youngmen rallied after this little sting, scoring 20 points in the second quarter. Rollie Richards, Neller, Goode, and Fremont were outstanding in their efforts. Stub Kipke, in one of the later periods, made a sensational catch on a triple pass and raced twenty yards for a touchdown. Coach Young used thirty-five men in the game. No weakening of the team was noticeable in the using of the substitutes. The varsity team made twenty-one first downs to the visitors' ten.

GOODE Half Back

N OCTOBER 25, the Green and White team traveled to Evanston to play the Northwestern University. The purple team was stronger this year than it had been for three years. Northwestern was the first to score when Baker drop-kicked in the first quarter, this being the only score of the period. The Youngmen came back with a rush and scored a touchdown, also adding the extra point by kicking goal. The score at the half was M. A. C. 7; Northwestern 3.

In the second half the purple team tackled the ball and not the players and in doing so caused M. A. C. to fumble many times. In the third period Richards fumbled a punt on his five-yard line and a Northwestern player recovered it. The ball went over on the next two plays, thus giving N. W. the lead 10-7. Another fumble by an M. A. C. player caused another score by N. W. but this time by the drop-kick route. As the game neared its end, Northwestern was being held for downs on their 10-yard line; there were only a few seconds to play. Baker received a pass from center and ran backwards across his own goal line, thus giving M. A. C. a safety. This was great football strategy on the part of Baker as his team still had possession of the ball and kept M. A. C. from scoring before the game ended.

LYMAN Quarter Back

WEEK later the steam roller was back on its feet again and rolled on with a style of football that completely smothered all efforts on the part of the Lake Forest team. The high wind which swept the field made anything but straight football useless as an attack but the strength of the Green and White forward wall decisively settled the issue. The line tore holes in the Lake Forest wall at will and consistently furnished opportunities for their backs to break through for long runs. The opposing squad, aside from occasional flashes of strength, were helpless in their attempts to gain ground. They succeeded in making 44 yards against the 245 made by the Youngmen,

The ball was handled loosely and numerous fumbles led to the two touchdowns made by Lake Forest. The Illinois school scored first from a fumble on our 20-yard line; this came in the first quarter. However, they were unable to hold their margin and before they were able to score again, M. A. C. ran up 42 points. Neller and Haskins were the outstanding stars for Michigan State.

Spiekerman Tackle

POR the seventh game of the season the team journeyed to St. Louis, Mo., to play St. Louis University. The ball was very loosely handled and fumbles caused St. Louis to take the game. M. A. C. was the first to score. This came in the second period as Neller drop kicked from the 22-yard line. The half ended M. A. C. 3, St. Louis 0.

In the third quarter St. Louis opened up with a variety of plays which ended with a 45-yard run across the goal line by a St. Louis player. The period ended M. A. C. 3; St. Louis 7.

The team tried hard to come back in the last quarter and held the Billekins several times for downs. M. A. C. took the ball on its 5-yard line in the latter part of the game and Fremont stood behind his goal and passed twice, both passes being incomplete. He tried the third time and fumbled; but an M. A. C. player fell on the ball behind the line and gave St. Louis a safety.

N NOVEMBER 15 South Dakota State came to East Lansing, champions of the Northern Conference and without a defeat. This game marked the end of gridiron play for 13 M. A. C. players. They will all graduate.

The first quarter was scoreless but the team had torn the South Dakota line in many places and allowed the Green and White backs to make long gains. The team scored a touchdown at the opening of the second quarter, the kick for the extra point failed, however. The M. A. C. team was back in its old steam roller form and rolled along at top speed. The half ended, M. A. C. 6; S. Dakota 0.

The feature of the third period was the drop kick made by Neller. He stood on his 47-yard line and booted the pigskin squarely between the uprights for the last score of the game. Neller at times would run through the whole South Dakota team for gains of 20 and 30 yards. He was unbeatable in this game, which was his last. Richards played a stellar game at half.

The 1925 Basketball Season

THE Michigan State Basketball team ended the 1924-25 season branded as one of the strongest teams to ever represent the Michigan State College. The State quintet traveled a rocky road and in every game, encountered tough foes. Playing tip-top basketball against Franklin College "Wonder Five", the former Aggies looked as good a basketball club as ever represented the state school. The defensive play was excellent and the passing and shooting accurate. Again take the style of basketball presented by the tossers against the aspiring neighbors, of Western State, and it would hardly have satisfied a good class "B" High School crowd. The team showed knowledge of the game, lots of pepper and fight but could not seem to grasp the coaches' style of play.

When Coach John Kobs took up his duties in his first season as basketball mentor at the college he predicted that a majority of the games would go up on the wrong side of the ledger. His prophecy was borne out. The Staters won five games and lost thirteen for a percentage of .311.

Three of the victories were registered on the home floor and two on foreign courts. It apparently made little difference where they played for they fell equally as well before their opponents on the road as at home. The two game road trips were with one exception fruitful of victory; for on a pair of the early trips Chicago and Earlham were downed by the M. S. C. team.

One of the interesting features of the season was the squad's ability to hold down a highly touted team to an excellent score and then turn about and lose to teams that at least should have been met on an even footing. Two of the victories, Chicago and Oberlin, were very welcome. While Chicago occupied a low berth in the Western Conference yet it must be remembered that the class of basketball presented by Big Ten schools is superior to any in the West and perhaps any in the country. M. S. C. defeated Chicago but the Maroons in turn walloped Michigan, a team which easily topped the State men. The Michigan State 29-27 victory over Oberlin here was a spectacular affair. It was the first and only contest lost by Oberlin this season. Oberlin, by the way was the unbeaten leader in the Ohio Conference Cage Tourney. They secured revenge by defeating the local collegians in a later game, 25-16.

Before anyone passes judgment on the showing of the team however it must be remembered that Coach Kobs was in his first year at the college. His material was pretty much an unknown quantity to him and had been tutored under another coach for two seasons. He had only one man on the squad. Fredericks, a sophomore, came to him as raw material. His team then was naturally made over. While it might have been a fairly consistent winner under the old system, the new plan of play introduced by Coach Kobs meant that the players had to learn new lessons. With the old system always ready to crop out in the pinches the new plan was made doubly difficult to the veterans.

The new coach pointed out this handicap at the start of the season and the consequent games proved his contention. The disastrous year was no surprise to him. He developed Fredericks into an efficient guard in one season. It spoke well for his ability as Fredericks was not an outstanding member of Coach Young's yearling squad last season.

The team played many close games. The St. Mary's and St. Viators defeats came only after the Staters had played winning ball up to the last two minutes of the game. Western State won a heart breaker, 21-20, and Hope snatched a victory from out the fire, 20-19. On the other hand three of the locals' victories were by the closest of margins. Oberlin was topped, 29-27, U. of D., 23-22, and Earlham, 24-23. Another unusual feature of these victories was that they were all won in overtime games.

The most deciding score piled up by State tossers was in the opening game with Adrian College when they rolled up a total of 41 points to the visitors' 16. Notre Dame in turn, handed the worst defeat, cracking the Green and White for a 42-10 contest. Notre Dame presented the most finished basketball squad of the season and was able to resort to the old trick of their ace, Knute Rockne, of substituting an entire new team. Just how the fortunes of basketball ebb and flow may be observed in a comparison of scores. Adrian, a team that fell to M. S. C., 41-16, dropped St. Mary's, a team that walloped State, 21-13, by a score of 36-33.

The schedule this year was anything but hand picked. By this we mean that there were no easy games booked. Hope and St. Mary's had unusually strong teams. Usually they are easy picking for State but the court game is advancing to a stage where the smaller schools are on a par with the larger institutions. Earlham, Franklin, Western State, Oberlin, and Michigan are listed among the best of the middle west. It was a rocky road to travel.

Review-!

OOKING over the Varsity men of this squad we find the whole squad with the exception of Captain-elect Hackett and Fredericks seniors. The reserve squad too is pretty well peppered with upper classmen. Losing such men as Mason, Nuttila, Richards, Robinson, and MacMillan the school loses much but with a strong frosh squad following, the outlook for Coach Kobs and Captain-elect Hackett to lead a young team through a winning season next year is rosy. To them we wish the best of treats and hope for a wonderful season in the initial State suits.

Following is a list of games played, individual scores and the squad, coaches and managers:

1924 Baseball Season

THE Baseball team opened the 1924 season with an easy victory over the Hope College nine. The next game was with Western State Normal, at home, and the varsity was forced to accept a 6 to 1 defeat.

The team then journeyed to Ann Arbor to play Michigan. The score was 0 to 0 at the end of nine innings, but in the tenth inning, Michigan found her horseshoe and put over one run, winning the game, 1 to 0.

In the next four games the Aggies lost two hard fought games to University of Chicago and Western State Normal, and won two easy games from St. Mary's College and Lake Forest University.

On May 21st the University of Michigan's team came to East Lansing. After having outplayed Michigan for most of the game the Fighting Aggies were forced to take a 3 to 1 defeat from their old rivals.

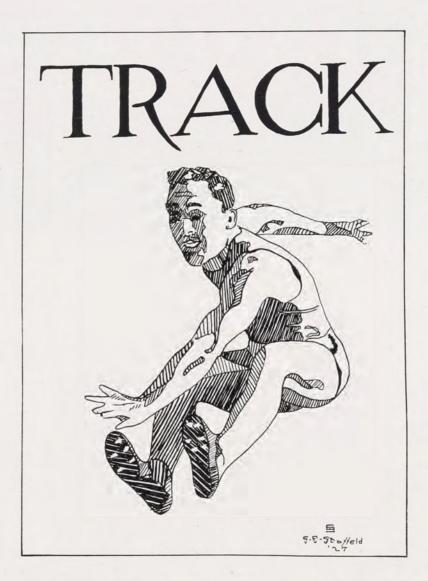

The next and most successful week of the season found the varsity winning three straight games, and giving the students and local baseball fans some wonderful exhibitions of the game. Monday, May 26, the team won a hard fought game from the strong St. Viator College team. On the next Friday the Aggies defeated the University of Wisconsin, runners up in the Big Ten Championship, by a score of 7 to 4, and played one of the finest brands of ball ever seen on the Aggie diamond. The next afternoon the varsity played fine ball and defeated Butler College, 8 to 4.

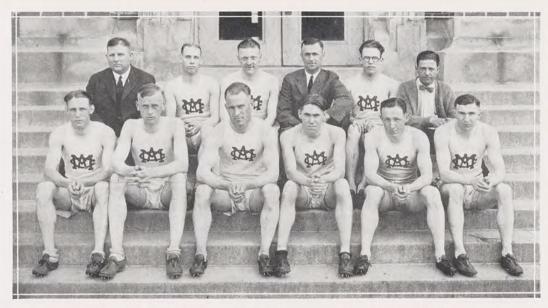

The last home game was played June 6th with Notre Dame. The game was hard fought and ended in a 4 to 3 victory for Notre Dame. The next week the team ended the season at South Bend by again losing to the fighting catholics.

The baseball team won six out of thirteen games and run up a total of 55 points to their opponents' 51. The defeats were all hard fought and the Aggie fans saw some real exhibitions of Baseball.

Following is the summary of the 1924 season:

April 11—M. A. C 8	Hope College	2
April 18—M. A. C 1	West. State Normal	6
April 23—M. A. C 0	U. of Michigan	1

The Outdoor Season 1924

T HE 1924 Track Team was lacking of several stars and therefore was not as strong as in years past. However the outlook is very good for the coming year, as one can see by looking at the Frosh summary. Dual meets were held with Iowa State, Notre Dame and Detroit City College.

The first meet was with the Detroit City College at East Lansing, May 3. The Green and White had no trouble in taking this meet although the score looks as though a stiff fight ensued.

On May 10, the team journeyed to Iowa State at Ames, Iowa, and met defeat at the hands of this strong team. The Ames boys were considered the strongest team in the West, however.

Notre Dame came here on May 17, and had very little trouble in taking this meet from the Youngmen.

M. A. C. was forced to take a third place in the intercollegiate meet. Herdell entered the Big Ten meet and the Olympic tryouts but did not place in either. The Fresh team placed—see Freshmen Athletics,

Review of Season

THE Indoor Track Squad was not as strong as many teams that have represented Michigan State College; but, however, the performances were evenly divided, with one meet won and one lost. Alderman was the star of the teams and because he is a sophomore, he should be the greatest track man that Michigan State has ever had. Other men that have shown good form and have taken points for their Alma Mater are Grim, Van Noppen, Kurtz, Ripper, Willard and some others have helped to get points.

State entered several track carnivals as the schedule above shows, but no great showing was made in them.

The outlook for indoor track is everything but bright for next year because no particular stars are coming from the freshmen and the team will have to rely on the old members for points, although with Young at the helm the team should do better than they did this year.

REVIEW OF SEASON

I N looking over the past wrestling schedule we see one of the hardest schedules ever faced by any athletic team from this college. Michigan, Ohio State, Northwestern, Iowa State, Indiana, and Purdue all are found on this schedule.

The State team started out with flying colors and avenged the defeats handed our football and basketball teams by Michigan and Northwestern by walloping them 20 to 6 and 15 to 2 respectively. The other four matches were lost by the Aggies though two were very hotly contested. Capt. Hansen, Gibbs, and Williamson were the outstanding performers for the Aggies. Capt. Hansen lost only one decision. Gibbs as high point winner won three falls and lost two. Williamson won four out of the six matches, losing two decisions.

The State team loses only three seniors, and with some very promising material coming from the Fresh class, prospects look bright for a better team next year.

REVIEW OF SWIMMING SEASON

'N reviewing the past year in swimming it is difficult to make comparisons with records of previous years from the standpoint of meets won and lost. During the season just past the Aggie splashers won two of the six meets in which they engaged, defeating Ypsi Normal and Ohio Weslevan University, last year's Ohio Conference Champions, losing by a close margin to the strong Detroit City College mermen and being outclassed by Notre Dame, U. of M., and Indiana U. The schedule this year was without a doubt the stiffest taken in hand by an M. S. C. swimming team.

In spite of the rather one-sided percentage some good work was turned in by individuals on the team. The outstanding feature of the season was the work of "Big Jim" Porter who captured 28 of a possible 30 points in the plunge. The relay team established a new M. S. C. record beating the record established last year by four seconds. Richmond also took his usual points in the fancy diving event. With the addition from the Freshmen ranks, of Thomas, Chamberlain, Rochester, Karn, Scott, Robinson, and Kwilanshi, and the return of Captainelect Whitlock, Collett, Purdy, and Rossaw, State College fans should be served with fast meets next winter.

Varsity Rifle Shooting, 1924-25

THE 1925 Rifle Team was handicapped by the fact that only three of last year's men were available. This meant that quite a number of freshmen had to be developed to make up the team, as ten men was the usual number firing. But at that, we won 8 of our 17 matches, losing 8 and tying 1. Other colleges having R. O. T. C. units were our usual competitors, although some independent teams were included.

From the excellent showing the underclassmen made on the team the past year, the chances for a winning team next year are good. Other teams in the country are constantly improving their scores, so we must not be contented by merely doing the same grade of shooting from one year to another.

Minor sport sweaters were presented to the following men whose scores counted in the greatest number of matches: Plastridge, Nagler, Gardner, Pomeroy, Dernberger and Blaylock. Besides these, medals were presented to the three highest men in the individual Freshman match,—Pomeroy, Inf., first; Dernberger, Cav., second; and Blaylock and Batten, Art., tied for third. Silver medals were presented to five men in the Artillery team for winning the interunit match.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

DUE to warm weather the Michigan State Hockey team was unable to complete their schedule, playing only one inter-collegiate game. This game was played at Ann Arbor, against the University of Michigan, but was enough to show that if the season had been longer, the State puck-chasers would have finished their schedule with an admirable record, as their showing was exceedingly good, taking into consideration that this game was played at the start of the season and they did not have much practice.

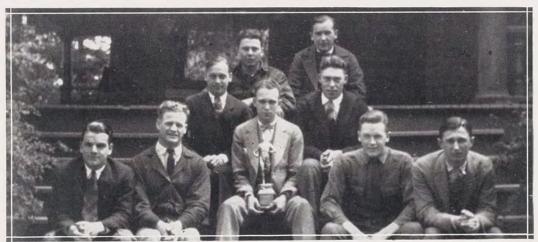

Next year an enclosed rink is being planned, thus insuring a longer season, and giving Michigan State Hockey fans a chance to see some real games, as there is much promising material for a very successful Hockey Team.

Freshman Varsity Football Team

W ITH half a dozen All-State high school men and as many more of sectional fame, the 1924 Freshmen Football squad proved to be the strongest and most outstanding yearling aggregation since the present seniors were freshmen in 1921.

Working on the theory that the welfare of this and next year's varsity was more important than a long string of Freshmen victories, the athletic office did not arrange a schedule with outside teams. However, the Freshmen had every opportunity to exhibit their prowess in their nightly clashes with the three varsity teams. That they fought on even terms and occasionally emerged victorious, can be testified to by the seasoned veterans who faced them during the season.

The most brilliant performers in the backfield were Captain Fouts, Johnson, Noble, Ruhl, Smith, Van Buren, and Teachout. Those who stood out on the line were Drew, Jachalke, McCaughna, Ross, Vallentine, Schrems, Grimes, and Pulver. The squad was coached by Miles Casteel and John Kobs.

A Fresh Game

Greens vs. Blues

In THE absence of a regular Freshman schedule, it was decided to stage an impromptugame at the end of the season between two teams chosen from the large squad. Accordingly, Johnson and Fouts, the diminutive quarterbacks, picked and captained two aggregations known as the Blue and Green.

The game was played in the college stadium before a splendid crowd. The teams put up a very evenly contested battle and only the failure of the Blue to kick goal netted Captain Fouts' team a victory, 7 to 6.

Noble, former Lansing High School star, scored the Blue's touchdown. After gaining the ball on the ten-yard line in the second quarter, he and Johnson executed a double pass which sent Noble around right end for the score. At this point, the Blues failed to add the extra point.

After fighting nearly four quarters to what seemed almost inevitable defeat, Fouts grabbed a fumble on the Blue's 15-yard line and raced for the goal. By dropkicking the additional point, Fouts cinched the game for the Greens.

REVIEW OF SEASON

OACH John L. Taylor's Frosh Basketeers turned in the most successful season that a team can turn in from a win and lose percentage. Playing 8 games with state college teams the first year men came through with a clean and unmarred record of 8 wins and no defeats. The season's prospects were bright with three mythical all state tossers and a squad of 60 yearlings to work with. The season exceeded anticipations and the squad will be remembered as one of the best to ever represent Michigan State Freshmen. Five of the victories were by overwhelming majorities, the other three by comfortable margins. Coach Taylor's ability to instill fight and spirit in the men was a great factor in the team's success. With this year's varsity team practically all graduating the next year's varsity will draw largely on the Frosh and with such a record great things are to be expected of them. THE 1924 Freshman Baseball squad ended their season with one victory and one defeat, playing two games with outside teams. Their first game with Flint High was close, the game going to the visitors, but the Fresh played a return game with Flint easily defeating them with a one sided score of 18 to 2 in favor of the Fresh. A lot of good material for the Varsity squad has been produced from this Fresh team and much is expected of them this season.

1923 Freshman Varsity Track Team

THE Freshman varsity track team this year was stronger than any team the College has turned out for several years. With such stars as Alderman, Grimm, Rupp and Havens in their midst, the team stands out as the most remarkable in the history of the institution. Coach Young took charge of the team and before the season was over the freshmen were running all over the varsity squad.

The most outstanding achievement of the squad was the showing of Alderman and Grimm in the Olympic tryouts at Ann Arbor. Both of these boys placed; but Alderman was faster than Grimm and was sent to Boston, by the 1924 Olympic committee to try for a place on the United States team in Paris. Alderman lost out by inches in the final race. At Ann Arbor Alderman finished first and qualified for the semi-finals of the 220-yard dash. In this race Alderman finished fourth to Scholz, who captured the race in world's record time of twenty and nine-tenths seconds.

In the face of the great showing made by the Freshmen, Coach Young is looking forward to a great year in track in 1925.

1924 Fresh Varsity Cross-Country

TN VIEW of the large squad in training and the amount of competition during the season, Fresh Cross-Country in 1924 received more emphasis from the athletic department than ever before.

In Belt and Stillwell, M. A. C. has two distance men that should go high before they turn in their spikes for the last time.

The 1928 aggregation competed in the following meets:

18-Novice Run. October

25-All-College Run. October

November 15-State Run.

November 29-Detroit Y Run.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR CO-EDS

All co-eds are required to take two years of work without credit in courses of swimming, hockey, soccer, basketball, volley ball, baseball, rifle and tennis.

Advanced physical education is elective with credit after the first two years to all Junior and Senior women. The course covers all phases of athletics, track, playground, equitation, and dancing. The Seniors get practical experience in coaching as they assist with the elementary courses. The aim of the advanced course is to hold interest of the Junior and Senior girls and to fit them as graduates to teach some phase of physical education.

Co-ed Varsity Swimming Team

THIS year the first Varsity Swimming Team for co-eds was organized with the purpose of creating more interest in swimming among college women. The co-eds responded with much enthusiasm, and an Invitational State Inter-Collegiate Meet for women was issued. This will be an annual event, hereafter.

The results of the meet were:

Varsity Rifle Team

THIS year, Captain Pinckney chose his crack shot rifle team from a group of 90 women who elected it as a course for the winter term of physical education. During the long season of rifle competitions with other colleges and universities, the members of the team found it necessary to spend many hours of afternoon and evening practice at the armory, in order to keep a steady and unerring aim.

Class of '26 — Hockey and Soccer Champions

PALL term was an unusually successful season in regard to the enthusiasm shown by all the girls which was shown by the strong competition for the class teams. Four senior girls were used as coaches to assist Miss Grimes and Miss Bradley. This affords valuable training in coaching for the girls.

PURPOSE OF THE WOMEN'S SELF-GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of W. S. G. A. is to regulate all matters pertaining to the student life of its members which do not fall under the immediate jurisdiction of the faculty; to further in every way the spirit of unity of the women of the college; to increase their sense of responsibility toward each other, and to be a medium by which the social standard of the college can be made and kept high.

GIRLS DEBATE SEASON, 1924-25

THE girls' debate season of the present year has justified the hopes of its most optimistic sponsors when it was started two years ago. It has demonstrated that the girls can master a subject and can present it effectively on the forensic platform.

The schedule consisted of five debates, one of which was held at home and the rest on foreign platforms. The co-eds argued the question, "Resolved, that the Japanese exclusion act should be repealed."

The season opened on March 2 when the affirmative team, consisting of Elizabeth Sackett, Alberta Bates, and Jetta Thompson, with Eloise Lyman as alternate, met Western State Normal on the home floor. The result was a two to one victory for the Michigan State co-eds.

On the same night, the negative team, composed of Dorothy Robinson, Florence-Alice Albright, and Myrtle Lewton, clashed with Western State Normal in Kalamazoo. The result was a unanimous verdict for M. S. C. From here the negative team, accompanied by Coach D. C. Eckerman and Mrs. Maude Thompson as chaperon, left for Rock Island, Illinois, when they debated with Augustana College. Another unanimous decision for the traveling team.

The next debate with Parsons College at Fairfield, Iowa, resulted in the only defeat of the season. This was the farthest point west that the team traveled. The remaining debate on the schedule was with Wheaton College, located near Chicago. Another unanimous decision for the Michigan girls.

This trip was the first ever taken into another state by a co-ed debating team. The travelers were away from home exactly one week. As has already been noted, the team won three out of four contests held on the trip. Not only was it a success in this respect, but it was as profitable and enjoyable as a trip could possibly be.

So, all in all, a summary shows that the M. S. C. debaters emerged victorious in four of the five debates held. But that is not the only thing that commends the season just closed. Of even greater importance is the fact that the girls worked hard and put up a splendid type of debate. The traveling team especially put up a performance that was characterized by those who heard them as "excellent" and "the best girls' team ever heard".

The girls this year exemplified character, talent, industry, and loyalty. The continuance of such qualities will insure high standards for co-ed debating in future years.

Equitation

THE persistent requests of the co-eds for a course in horsemanship was acknowledged during the spring term of 1924. The course was so popular that it will be given annually. This spring Miss Bradley has charge of the class, and it is directed by the Military Department. The girls develop a great deal of skill in riding, although most of them have never ridden before. Falls are taken, now and then; but "one is not a good horseman until he has fallen at least once".

The Passing Years

A S the years pass, silently yet consciously, things change from the old regime to the new. Just as the people at M. S. C. have changed, just as the name has changed, so have the buildings changed: changed for the better, to keep step with the increasing demand for more knowledge and higher education.

The past decade has seen many new buildings erected on the campus of our Alma Mater and the next decade will see many more. We offer a tribute to those buildings which have faithfully performed their duty for so many years and though obsolete now, still hold a fascination, and memories for many of our campus visitors.

ORGANIZATIONS

Col. Sherburne, Cav. Dol.

W ITH the class of '99 there graduated from the Louisiana State College a man fully equipped to uphold the honor of Uncle Sam when the opportunity came.

When we had a difference of opinion with Spain this man had an opportunity to prove his metal. The Second Lieutenant was sent to Santiago. Here he did what any red-blooded American would do for an oppressed people. He was promoted to First Lieutenant during the Philippine Insurrection.

In due course of time the Mexican border needed attention. Men of wisdom, men with experience, men who would place the interests of the flag above all else were wanted. Who could better qualify than our Captain? Promotion to Major soon followed.

The World War found Col. Sherburne with Pershing in France, helping to "make the world safe for Democracy."

Col. Sherburne came here in the fall of 1922 as Professor of Military Science and Tactics. No better qualified men for this position could have been found. Through his leadership the Unit has advanced until the inspection in the spring of 1924 gave us Distinguished Service Class—the highest honor that can be given to a Corps of Cadets.

Michigan State Men on S. S. Colorado

Distinguished Service Class

D ISTINGUISHED SERVICE CLASS is granted to those Corps who, in the judgment of Officers from Washington, show very superior military ability. There are fourteen Distinguished Service Corps in our class, only two of which are in this Corps Area. Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan compose this corps area and the University of Illinois and Michigan State are the pennant holders for this section.

The Government has dealt generously with the College in the matter of equipment and training personnel until now we have one of the best equipped and trained corps, for a college of this size, in the United States.

Michigan State Men at Fort Monroe

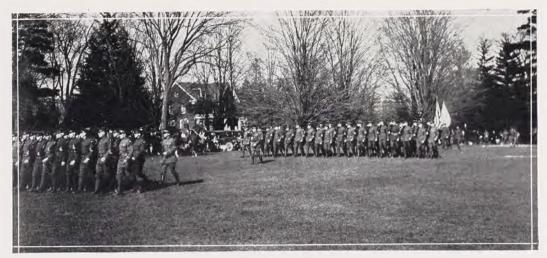

Artillery Unit

THE C. A. C. is the largest Unit at Michigan State. An enrollment of 313 cadets practically all of whom are Engineers are to be depended on when artillerymen will be needed. Formal guard mount is performed with the same neatness and dispatch that characterizes the drill on the big guns. The C. A. C. won, and has held for three years, the silk banner which is the highest prize given in the Inter-Unit field meet.

The Artillery unit has been issued the most modern equipment: two large caliber guns with complete range finding equipment, a 75 mm. anti-air craft gun, radio sending and receiving sets, a 10-ton tractor, trucks, a mobile repair shop, rifles, pistols, and other accessories needed to properly outfit a unit of this kind.

Infantry Unit

T HE Infantry unit is not far behind the Cavalry unit in cadets, being credited with 225 to uphold the traditions set by former infantrymen.

This unit is supplied with all the infantry weapons, trench mortars, machine guns, 1-pounders, automatic rifles, magazine rifles, and grenades. Caliber .22 gallery rifles are also to be found in the gun room and are used by the corps in practice shooting on the range.

Inspection

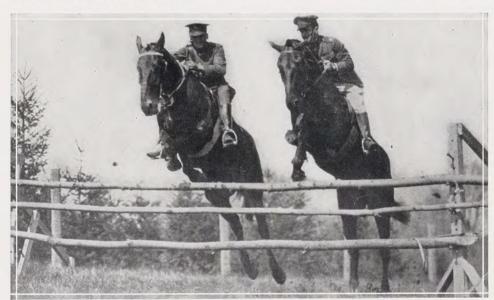

Troop A

Cavalry Unit

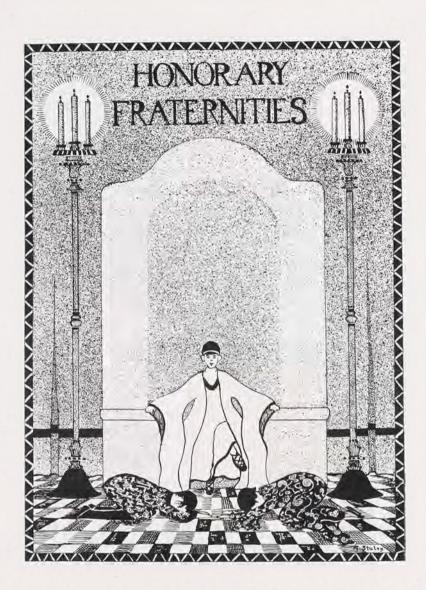

NEXT in enrollment is the Cavalry unit with 254 cadets. The Cavalry unit excells in its line and is aided a great deal by the class of cavalry weapons furnished by the department. Sabres, pistols, automatic and magazine rifles coupled with good horses and saddle equipment are some of the advantages that the cavalry students enjoy.

Entries from this unit in the annual Horse Show, given by the R. O. T. C., show the training that the men have received.

Botanical Seminar

"Ѕем Вот"

THE Botanical Seminar at M. A. C. was founded in 1913 by a group of advanced students in Botany. It was modeled upon the Botanical Seminar of the University of Nebraska which was founded in 1886 for the encouragement of botanical scholarship at an institution in which at that date scientific studies had received scant recognition. Here at M. A. C. the practical aspects of training were so emphasized that it seemed fitting to form a society in which scholarship in a pure science would also receive recognition. The Sem. Bot is strictly an honorary scholarship society with admission only after passing a stiff examination which is given only to those whose botanical scholarship has been meritorious.

THE M. S. C. Forester was first edited in 1916 by the members of the Forestry Club who felt that an annual of this type would be of interest to all interested in forestry. Since then it has continued to make its appearance on the campus annually with but a few exceptions.

Its purpose is to fill a two-fold need. It contains articles of scientific importance and all the new discoveries in all branches of forestry receive their merited amount of space. Delightful memories and experiences are also found on the pages of this annual.

Professors of the Forestry department, alumni and undergraduates, all contribute their share toward making this publication an annual to be valued by all.

LIBERAL ARTS ENTERTAINMENT

THE greatest success and highest appreciation by the student body and faculty marked the season for the Liberal Arts Lyceum Course. No better entertainment and lecture course is enjoyed anywhere than is secured every year for Michigan State College by the Liberal Arts Board. Such distinguished lecturers as Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, one of the nation's foremost clergymen; Dr. M. S. Rice; Ernest Shelling, pianist, sole student of Paderewski; Ruth Rogers, popular soprano; and Edgar Guest, Michigan's famous poet, all contributed to raise the season to its peak of success.

Men's Debate Season, 1924-25

RESUME of the 1925 debate season shows that the varsity forensic artists passed thru a fairly successful year. Eleven intercollegiate debates were held in which nine men participated. Of these eleven debates, the Michigan Staters won three, lost five, and had three non-decision contests. The type of debating done during the season was better than the above record would indicate. In fact, the quality of performance was, as should be the case, better than that of the previous year.

Three questions were argued: "Resolved, that Congress should be empowered to override, by a two-thirds vote, decisions of the Supreme Court which declare acts of Congress unconstitutional", "Resolved, that the Japanese Exclusion Act should be repealed", and "Resolved, that the Cabinet Parliamentary system of government should be established in the U. S."

Three men taking the affirmative side of the Supreme Court question pried the lid off the season in a non-decision contest with Hope College at Holland on February 4. About three weeks later, the negative team, discussing the same question, met Marquette University on the home platform and convinced the judges that our present system of judicial review was all right.

Two other men's debates were held on the home platform. On March 26, an affirmative team argued the Cabinet Parliamentary question with the representatives of Iowa State College. The visitors secured the decision which was given by an expert judge. The last home debate and also the last debate of the season was held on April 16 with a team from the University of Denver. The contest was of the Oxford plan in which one man from each school was on each side. This made the debate a non-partisan affair. After the Supreme Court question had been used as a verbal football for some time, the debate was turned into an open forum, after which the members of the audience cast their ballots for one of the two teams.

One of the main features of the season was the trip taken by E. M. Chapman, T. L. Christie, L. R. Miller, and Coach D. C. Eckerman into the south. As far as can be determined this is the first trip ever taken by a northern school into the south for debate purposes. The first stop was at Purdue University where they lost on the negative side of the Cabinet Parliamentary by the expert judge system. Kentucky was next invaded, where they broke even against the University of Kentucky in a dual meet. The first night here the Michigan travelers accepted the short end of a two to one decision on the Supreme Court question. However, they came back strong the next night and proceeded to win a unanimous decision on the Japanese question.

Continuing their journey south, the State verbal artists met Berea College in a non-decision contest on the Supreme Court question. Here they were listened to by the largest crowd of the trip, with approximately a thousand people in the audience.

At Atlanta, Georgia, the Michigan men forced to accept defeat from Emory University. This was the last time the Supreme Court question was used on the trip. Two debates remained on the schedule, the first with Furman, of Greenville, S. C., which was won by the lads of Dixie, and the second with the University of South Carolina, in which the northerners triumphed. Both debates were on the Japanese question.

Two days later, the team returned home bringing with them many memories of the very hospitable way in which they had been treated during their tour of the sunny south,

It is the intention at M. S. C. to emphasize other phases of debating than just winning decisions, altho that is not to be neglected. On the trips such as the one into the south, the men consider themselves not only debaters, but also representatives of the institution and couriers of M. S. C. sportsmanship.

A. H. Maxson acted as business manager during the season and performed his duties in a very efficient manner.

THE COMMITTEE

THE 1925 Military Ball was the most successful of any in previous years. The gym was decorated in red, white and blue streamers, with machine guns placed at the entrance along with large artillery shells and cavalry sabers. The party was honored by the presence of Lieut. Leigh Wade, of the world fliers. The grand march was led by cadet Col. Evans, with Miss Norma Schmidt as his partner, after which small perfume cases, with the crest symbolic of military tactics, were given to the ladies. The Pastime Players furnished the music for the evening.

The Michigan State College Radio Committee

January 16, 1925, Radiophone Station WKAR presented its initial program over a new and powerful station. At that time a schedule of musical and educational programs was arranged as follows: Monday evening from seven to eight, talks by members of the college faculty; Wednesday evening from eight to nine-fifteen, a musical program by the students of the college; Friday evening, talks by State departments. In addition, an hour's program of dance music was sent over the air each Saturday morning from 12:30 to 1:30 by the Pastime Players.

A committee of four students was chosen to arrange and direct all Wednesday evening musical programs. This committee was composed of the following: Ralph C. Hodgkinson, chairman; Frances Ayres, Carl Bittner, and Donald Olson. The chairman of the committee, Ralph C. Hodgkinson, "R. C. H.", was chosen as student announcer.

Among the programs presented by the student radio committee were concerts by the M. S. C. Military Band; the Varsity Quartette; the Gefranzon Trio, composed of Misses Frances Ayres, Zona Eberly, and Geneva Church; and the M. S. C. Orchestra and Glee Clubs. Programs made up of college and East Lansing talent were also presented. Several features were given, two of which were band concerts by the Lansing High School Band and the Charlotte Community Band.

As a proof of the popularity of the musical programs and of the success of the State College Radio Committee, Station WKAR has received thousands of letters and cards from all parts of the United States and Canada. Quite a number of letters have come from long distances, such as Central America, Porto Rico, and from ships at sea. In addition, many telegrams and telephone calls were received during broadcasting of programs.

Local Dramatic Club

FOUNDED AT M. A. C. IN 1923

PURPOSE OF THE COLUMBINE PLAYERS

The purpose of this organization is: to read and discuss the modern drama; to promote interest in the staging and production of modern plays; to dramatize those modern plays which best adapt themselves to dramatization; to transpose the short story into drama form; to discover and develop latent talent; and eventually to secure a permanent housing for this organization.

T HE road between the People's Church and the College is like the equator: it is an imaginary line. Both Church and College, in so far as students are concerned, have the same objective—making right citizens.

The Church stands for sanity and balance. It stands against activity for activity's sake, conformity for conformity's sake, die-hardness for die-hardness' sake; against extravagance, waste, artificiality.

The Church stands for truth. It stands against cribbing and slipshoddiness. It stands against the social lie. It stands against talking one way and acting another. It insists that the internal be the same as the external, and that the internal be right.

The Church stands for social beauty. It stands against crut. It stands for chivalry, for romance, for kept engagements. It is against the soaped diamond ring. It is against parking and petting.

The Church stands for an adequate interpretation of life. It urges students to go in hard for courses in the Sciences. It urges teachers to remember that "A thing is not known until its meaning is known. A truth is not achieved until its contribution to life is won." Hence the Church stands for thinking things thru.

The Church stands for real things. The immediate practical problems of the campus are the concern of the Church. Tho it offers a home and a gymnasium for the purely ethical and religious, and believes roundly in them, it is constantly seeking reality. It challenges students to work out a new language for what they think are real things. It resents nothing so much as unsportsmanlike criticism and the non-cooperative spirit of those who will not find out what its purposes are and then come to grips with those purposes.

Dairy Club

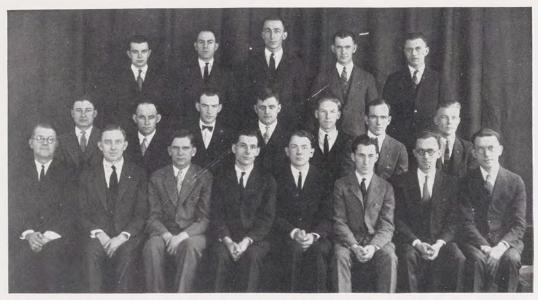

THE Dairy Club is a professional club organized on the campus for the primary purpose of promoting interest in dairying and dairy questions. One of the definite things promoted and financed by the club is the annual trip of the Dairy Judging Team which is completed by the national intercollegiate competition at the National Dairy Show. The Club is also actively demonstrated during Farmers' Week when it carries on such functions as dairy demonstrations, an eating cafeteria, booths, etc. The club shows the activity of one of the largest departmental divisions of the study of agriculture on the campus. They point with pride to the enviable record of their judging team annually at the National Dairy Show.

ORATORICALLY SPEAKING

A negro met an acquaintance of his, also colored, on the street one day and was surprised to see that his friend had on a new suit, new hat, new shoes, hip flask, and other evidences of

"Hey, boy," he said, "How come you dressed up this way? Is you got a job?" "I'se got something better'n a job," replied the other, "I'se got a profession."

"What is it?"

"I'se a orator." "What's a orator?"

"Don't you know?" replied the resplendent in surprise. "Well, I'll tell you what a orator is. If you was to walk up to a ordinary nigger and ask him how much was two and two, he'd say 'four' but if you was to ask one of us orators how much was two and two he'd say, 'When in the cou'se of human events it becomes necessary to take the numeral of the second denomination and add to it the figger two, I says unto you and I says it without fear of successful contradiction dat de result will invaibly be four'. The New M. S. C. Union Memorial Building

History of the Union Building Movement

The present movement for an M. S. C. Union Memorial Building began in 1915 when the graduating class pledged a sum of money "toward a building fund for an M. S. C. Union," but as early as 1905 the value of such an institution to the college family was recognized. A committee was organized to raise the money for a Union Building. Architect's drawings were published and the alumni quite generally approved the project, which, however, was not completed at that time. The M. A. C. Association in 1915 appointed a committee to draft plans along lines suggested by the class of 1915. The committee then secured action of the State Board on a project to convert College Hall into a temporary Union Building. Plans were prepared for revamping the interior for Union purposes, and these were being carried out when the building collapsed in August, 1917.

The committee then set out to raise funds for a building that would serve, in addition to the Union needs, as a memorial to the service of our M. A. C. soldiers in the World War. Forty-two former students of the 1200 who entered the struggle, gave their lives in the service of their country.

Commencement, 1919, witnessed a rousing alumni meeting. Subscriptions amounting to $36,000 were made. By this time it was agreed that the goal originally set, $150,000, was inadequate to meet the requirements of such a building, and the sum was raised to $500,000. A strategic step at this juncture was the employment of Pond & Pond, experienced architects in planning Union Buildings, notably those at Michigan and Purdue.

A student and faculty drive in April, 1920, netted $50,000 subscriptions in three days, averaging nearly $40 per student. This sum, with the total pledged by the alumni and friends, boosted the fund to $131,059.90.

The executive committee of the M. A. C. Association decided to start immediately upon the task of completing the fund and set commencement week of 1923 as the date upon which the first sod was turned. Since that time the work has progressed until at the present time the structure is nearing completion.

Description of First Floor

THE Union Memorial Building has been planned to take care of the many and varied activities of the student and alumni groups. The first floor will be so arranged as to supply the needs of individuals. The second and third floors will be devoted largely to facilities for group activities. The basement will be an adjunct to the plan of making easily available general conveniences. It will contain a beauty parlor and lavatory for women, which will be reached directly from the west entrance, where the women will usually enter. A barber shop, lavatory and boot black stand for the men will be in the opposite end of the building, and easily accessible from the main entrance.

The principal entrance will be on Faculty Row, leading into the Concourse and Lobby, with a combined area of 2800 square feet. The counter of the public office will open on the Concourse and will have a full view of the Lobby. It will serve as a cashier's office, a cigar, candy and newspaper counter, and the room clerk's desk. Directly back of the counter to the east will be the manager's offices.

A large corridor running eastward from the Concourse and counter of the public office leads to the Alumni Reception Room, the office of the Alumni Secretary and public telephone booths.

The building is so designed that accommodations for women are centered about the west entrance. The woman's lounging room, cloak room and rest room will be just off the Lobby.

The cafeteria at the end of the counter will be for the use of both men and women, and that across the corridor from the counter, for men only. The soft drink bar in the common cafeteria will open into the men's cafeteria also. The food storage, preparation, cooking and serving is all planned from a centralized kitchen at the rear of the first floor, with service and serving rooms on the second and third floors.

Description of Second Floor

THE main feature of the second floor is the great Assembly Hall, two stories in height, which is designed to accommodate banquets, dances, dinners, smokers, meetings, receptions and entertainments. Here also, at the head of the main stairway, will be a hall leading to the main dining room, which will seat approximately one hundred people. Private dining rooms, which may be thrown together by opening collapsible partitions, are also connected with the main dining room, giving increased space should the occasion demand it. In all the rooms suitably located and equipped for meal service, 955 persons can be seated at one time; and using a chair in some rooms two or three times, 1800 persons may be fed at one meal.

Provision is made on this floor for a woman's retiring room and cloak room, as well as a smoking room and coat racks for men. These rooms are located convenient to the Lobby, leading to the Assembly Hall and dining rooms. A screened Loggia, where dancers may sit between dancecs and enjoy the air, makes a pleasant addition to the west of the Assembly Hall. This space could be used very easily for teas or luncheons during summer meetings or conventions.

One of the big features of the Union Memorial Building will be the guest rooms on the second and third floors. These rooms will be available to the alumni and friends of the College at all times, day and night. They will be neat and attractive and will furnish all the comforts a man or woman needs, at the heart of the College and its student life. Here on the second floor will be two double-bed and six single-bed rooms, each with its private bath. Distinguished guests of the College or delegates attending conventions on the campus will find these guest rooms especially convenient. These features combined with the many activities on the other floors will help to carry out the idea that the Union Building is a great home, not only for students in College, but for all former students and alumni as well.

Description of Third Floor

THE third floor of the Union Building will be the center of many activities. Here the campus societies may meet to transact their business. If they wish to meet for dinner, the private dining rooms are so arranged that the partition walls may be opened or closed, and thereby make available space for any size meeting.

The billiard room, with a capacity of nine tables will be so situated that the men will have the best opportunity for this type of recreation ever afforded anyone at M. S. C.

Additional features of the third floor will be the reading room and the men's lounge. Here will be magazines and various publications where a student or visitor may spend an hour in quiet. The men's lounge will be an additional gathering place where a small group may meet to confer, or pass a few leisure moments.

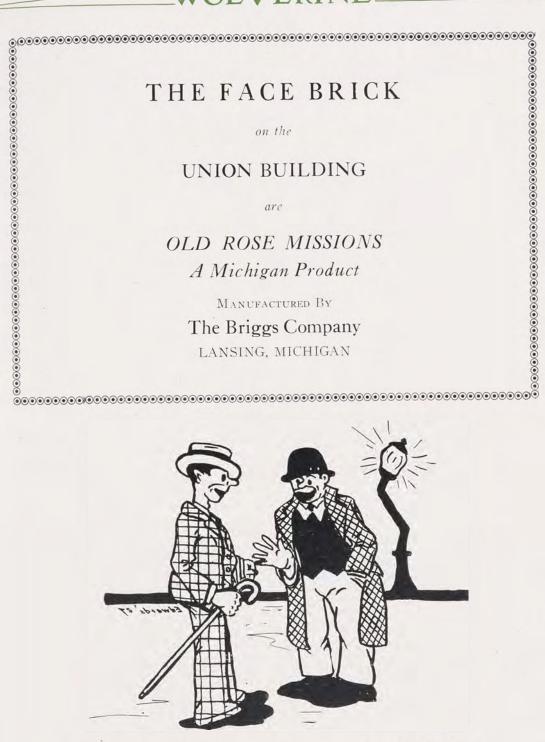

At the extreme east end of this floor will be eight guest rooms, each with its private bath. These, with the bedrooms on the second floor, will give a total accommodation of twenty persons. The northeast wing, when added, will provide twenty-eight additional single and thirteen double bedrooms. This addition of fifty-four will make a total of seventy-four persons who can be accommodated. This feature will provide many a man, who was in College before the days of societies and fraternities, with a real home to come back to. It will make of "homecoming" much more than a mere phrase.

On the fourth floor will be the accounting rooms for the operation of the building and the work rooms of the managerial staff. Across the court to the south are the offices and work rooms of the Union as a functioning group entity. Tucked away under the sloping roofs, across the corridors from these work rooms, there will be an abundance of filing lockers for building management and student and faculty group materials.

The Value of the Union Building to the Student Body

M. S. C. STUDENT groups will find in the Union Memorial Building the solution of many of the difficulties which now beset the social life of the College. They will have the assembly hall for their class hops and formal functions with dining service at hand. Smaller rooms for their group meetings and annual dinners of their organizations will be available. Many students have friends coming to East Lansing for games, parties and various meetings. The Union Building will give the students a chance to entertain their friends in a new way and will give them a true view of M. S. C. At the same time the recreational facilities afforded them will be better than have heretofore existed at the College. The use of the guest rooms for the parents of students will mean that many of them will come oftener when hotel facilities are nearer the campus. A roomy cafeteria where meals are served on a non-profit basis, will fill the place of the boarding clubs, all but one of which vanished when Williams Hall burned down.

The barber shop which will serve them, will be modern and most convenient, while the beauty parlor will be staffed by experts. The Union Building will provide general student organizations with permanent headquarters. They will no more be subjected to the winds of fortune which have blown them hither and you since M. S. C. began to outgrow College Hall. They will be able to come into closer fellowship with the members of the faculty, and will have a better opportunity to rub elbows with their fellow students. The Union Building will fuse college spirit and by drawing together under its roof the various elements of M. S. C. it will make imperishable the traditions for which the College has so long stood. Further, it will be the common meeting place of all members of the student body, promoting democracy and fostering good fellowship.

"I dropped into the courthouse today and lost my overcoat there, dash the luck."

"You're lucky, last week I lost a suit there."

Facts and Figures About the Union Building

There will be 11 rooms in which meals may be conveniently served.

They will provide for groups of all sizes from a half dozen to 380 persons.

It will be possible to serve 1,800 persons at one meal.

Ten rooms can be used for conference or committee meetings, accommodating a total of 1,500 persons.

In the assembly hall 640 can be be seated within reach of the speaker's voice.

In the portion of the building first to be erected there will be 16 bedrooms, each with bath, accommodating 20 persons in all. The new wing will provide for 54 persons additional when completed.

There will be rooms for student and faculty activities and filing space in abundance for all of them,

The billiard room will have space for nine tables.

There are separate lounging rooms for men and women.

The concourse into which the main entrance opens will have an area of 2,000 square feet. The lobby into which the side entrance opens will have an area of 800 square feet and will open into the cafeteria and women's lounge.

The assembly hall and several dining rooms are planned so they can be used without disturbing the functioning of the rest of the building.

Cooking for the various dining rooms and cafeteria will be done in one kitchen advantageously located.

The building will have a frontage of 200 feet on Faculty Row, close to the center of all student affairs, and will extend back toward Grand River avenue for 175 feet.

It will be self supporting and require no endowment for operation.

It will provide employment for at least 50 students.

There will be a barber shop for men and a beauty parlor for women.

The business of the entire building will be conducted upon a non-profit basis.

The building will carry a sufficient trace of the English scholastic architecture to make it fall into place naturally in a campus group, yet its design will make clear the fact that it is a Club and Home rather than a strictly educational building.

The cost will not be over $500,000.

How to Keep Warm in Winter

Buy a sheaf of goldenrods from florist's. Sniff until you get customary sneeze of hayfever. Throw away hay and keep fever.

Smoke furiously. Blow smoke at thermometer. Put on straw hat and fan vigorously while looking at thermometer.

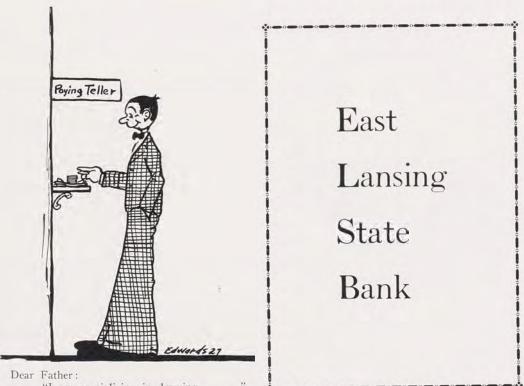

Tear five pages off of calendar. Gaze upon June and wonder if winter will ever come.

Write home for more money. Buy six suits on credit. Cut all classes. Insult the dean. This will keep you in hot water.

Buy magnifying glass. Focus on bed-clothes and set fire to bedroom. Don bathing suit and coat of tan. Look at summer snap shots.

"How would you like your meat, sir?" queried the waiter of one of the enemy.

"Raw," grumbled the giant guard.

"And you, sir?" asked the waiter of another of the enemy.

"Red, raw meat," bellowed the huge tackle.

"How about you, sir?" said the waiter to the man at our hero's left.

"Bloody, red, raw, meat," roared the third and scowled at the guest of honor.

There was silence as the waiter put the question to the great "back".

"Aw, hell," he thundered, "drive in the cow and I'll cut off my own slice."

Caller: No. I've come for the piano.

Mr. Farmer

You are one of the producers of the nation's wealth, because the farm is a foundation of wealth. The portion of this wealth to which you are entitled depends on how you manage your farm; what assistance you give nature by using good seed, by providing a proper seed bed, by distributing the seed in the correct proportion by use of accurate seeding machinery, and by carefully cultivating and harvesting.

Good judgment combined with good tools will get good results.

We have made a careful, scientific study of agriculture in all its branches. We offer you the product of these years of study and experience in the John Deere Full Line of agricultural Implements.

A Yale player was teaching some cowboys how to play football. He explained the rules and ended as follows: "Remember, fellows, if you can't kick the ball, kick a man on the other side. Now let's get busy. Where's the ball?"

One of the cowboys shouted: "Never mind the ball! Let's start the game!"

Slim Jim: "What character do you have in the next act?"

Eleanor: "I'm not supposed to have any character. I'm a chorus girl."

He: "Bill's a three letter man."

She: "Football, baseball and track?"

He: "No; I. O. U."

To the Co-eds with Long Hair

To bob or not to bob, that is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The clings and arrows of natural, long hair,
Or to take share against a sea of troubles,
And by cutting end them: To bob; to shear;
No more; and, by a cut to say we end
The hair net and the thousand natural snarls
That hair is heir to, 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To bob, to shear;
To shear; perchance to weep; ay, there's the rub;
For in that shearing of hair what dreams may fail
Ere we have shuffled off this mortal coil,
Must give us pause.

'Twas at Fort Monroe, children, in the summer of 1924. Our hero, a doughty soldier from Michigan State R. O. T. C. was sitting upon his barracks steps reflecting on Einstein's Theory of Relativity and whittling the while. And who should come walking that way but the Captain with lofty mien and pompous air? Within three feet of our hero did he pass, but our hero noticed him not. Neither did he leap to his feet nor salute. The officer was wroth at this great breach of discipline but said not a word, thinking that mayhap our hero had not noticed him. "I shall pass him again," he muttered. Thrice he passed and thrice our hero neither leaped to his feet nor saluted the lofty person. The Captain thinking to attract the youth's attention and impress him with his position halted before him finally, and demanded, "Private, have you seen the Major?" Our hero said, "Nope," and rose not. In great rage the Captain went to seek the guard to have our hero shot immediately. Meanwhile our brave fighter reflected on co-eds and whittled. Anon another Officer passed that way but our hero rose not. "Don't you know who I am?" yelled the newcomer. "Nope," exclaimed our mighty soldier but rose not. "Hell fire, I'm the major!" yodelled the buchollic officer. But our bold, brazen soldier rose not. "So you are the major," he exclaimed, "Well, you got hell coming to you. The Captain has been looking for you for an hour." But, alas for our hero, they shot him with his Page and Harryman boots on at sunrise.

WHEN W-K-A-R GOT HER WIRES CROSSED

Professor Smith, broadcasting a lecture on making dress forms and Jim Hays telling farmers how to judge Holsteins hit the air simultaneously in one of WKAR's short courses.

"In the making of dress forms we must remember—that the ideal conformation is one of three triple wedges—wearing a close-fitting garment over which there is carefully pasted long strips of glued paper starting in at the neck.—The neck of ideal proportions is about 26 inches long, free from throatiness or over-development of the dewlap.—Larger strips should be used in molding the body—which should be large and roomy, indicating the ability to consume vast quantities of alfalfa and corn silage.—After the subject is thoroughly covered and the strips have dried, the problem is how to get out. Use a sharp scissors—but great care should be taken not to slash the hide as this destroys its market value.—When the dress form is complete you find an absolutely perfect representation of the build and conformation of the original subject—the value of which can be determined only on the basis of performance.—If, perchance, the dress form hints at any imperfection in the original—about the only solution is to knock her in the head and sell her to the butcher."

The College Book Store

Was conceived upon one of the cardinal principles of the Michigan Agricultural College Campus—
The Spirit of Cooperation.

As a cooperative organization we serve students and former students with the books and supplies they need, at cost plus a small handling charge. Buying at wholesale and only in amounts needed for each class, every student shares in our low cost and quick turnover.

During the twenty-eight years of our service to M. A. C. men and women we have saved thousands of dollars for them and the folks back home who were "putting them through".

We are continuing our endeavors in this direction.

IT'S A GOOD THING THE SPHINX NEVER WENT TO COLLEGE OR SHE'D NEVER HAVE BEEN ABLE TO KEEP QUIET THIS LONG.

It it rumored that most of these "Go Home to Mother and Dad" songs were written by college Deans.

Ed: Gee, I'd like to be a runner.

Co-ed: What kind of a runner?

Ed: Why, one in your stocking, of course.

Why is An Alumnus?

It might be more to the point to ask, where do these theorists get the idea that in the life of an individual there is such a factor as college spirit.

An Alumnus is a person (either masculine or feminine, according to the most recent interpretation) who has received a degree from an institution of higher learning. It may be one of the various academic appendages conferred by the faculty or it may be an individual appellation presented by his classmates before the College made up its mind that he was eligible for the regulation honor. In any case An Alumnus is one who has extracted something from the atmosphere of a college which is not absorbed by the one who merely lives in a college town. One entitled to this distinction has qualifications other than those necessary to win the approval of the faculty and outstanding among these is college spirit.

This prolongs the argument, for college spirit is a much abused term. The true nature of the ailment has never been definitely decided, it is an infection which causes the heart to palpitate, an irresistible force which brings the victim to his feet when Alma Mater is played or sung, a chronic inflammation which had its inception when the alumnus was yet an undergrad and walked across the Campus on a bright spring day or waded through the snowdrifts after a January storm. More than this it exerts a mysterious influence which in later years draws the important events of college days into focus, sorting out individuals and occasions but blending the whole into a tapestry woven from fondest memories. It constitutes—and draws to itself strength—the bonds which draw the graduate to his alma mater.

There are some three thousand of these peculiar individuals who read The M. A. C. Record thirty-five times each year and the cost to them is but $2.50 each twelve months for which they are also given the privileges accorded members of the M. A.

C. Association. Of course the office of this publication is on the Campus at East Lansing.

Her Ideal Man

In '21 Her ideal man Must be the son Of a wealthy clan; Tall and lean With a graceful air-As the movie screen's Young millionaire; Handsome too From ear to ear, With eyes of blue; And not a fear; Kind and good Who's always stood against vile rum; A gentleman, For all in all-This kind she'd land Or none at all. But when a year Had slipped around And such a dear

She had not found, She didn't care If he weren't rich From a family fair And all the sich. For money's not The only thing And love is sought With a truer ring.

Then in the year of '23
I now can hear
Her say, carefree;
"It doesn't matter
Now at all
If he is some fatter
And not so tall,
Or if he's not
So handsome, too,
If his eyes aren't fraught
With a opal hue.
If my ideal knave

Does sin a bit,
If he isn't brave
There's not a whit
Of diff'rence and
Suppose he lack
Some moral sand—
That won't detract
For after all
It is a fact
That great men fall
And often lack.

But '24
At last is here:
More than before
She doesn't "kere";
Her school days, many,
Are almost through;
She says that any
Dude'll do.

A SOFT JOB

The young woman had just returned to her rural home from several years in the big city. She was exhibiting the contents of her trunk to the admiration and amazement of her mother, who had bought her clothes for forty years at the general store.

"And these," said the daughter, holding up a delicate silken garment, "are teddies."

"Teddy's? You don't say. Young men are certainly different from what they used to be."

Breathless Butler: "The chauffeur's running away with your wife, sir."

Husband (yawning): "What's he running for?"

INNOCENCE

John had taken her riding in his Stutz, and just as he kissed her a tire blew out.

"Oooh, Jack dear," she said, "how lucky we didn't stay home. Father is such a light sleeper."

A Well Dressed Man

A well dressed man invariably is a careful buyer. He judges clothes not by style alone, nor fabric, nor work-manship, nor wearing qualities—but by all these requisites of good clothes.

The well dressed men of Lansing turn instinctively to Lewis Brothers for their wearing apparel requirements, for they know that in every way that clothes are judged they are certain to get unusual values here.

Our display at all seasons of the year represents the utmost in gentlemen's fine apparel.

Reviled Son: "I am a big gun at college."

Irate Pater: "Then why don't I hear better reports?"

He: I tell you my love for you is making me mad-mad-mad-!!!

She: Keep quiet! It has the same effect on father.

Ma: "Pa, we must send Johnny some spoons for his fraternity house."

Pa: "Whut's the matter now?"

Ma: "Well, he writes that at their house dance they had to put a stick in the punch."

"Rastus, does yo' love?"

"Snowblack, how many times mus' I tell yo' that mah love bears a constant ratio to your banking account!"

"Did you ever kiss a girl when she wasn't expecting it?"

"I doubt it."

Prof. Chapman said: "I don't mind the fellahs taking out their watches and looking at them; but I do hate to see them shake them and put them up to their ear."

DLVERINE

Co: "Sally easily sewed up her run."

Ed: "220 yard dash?"

Co: "No, sock darning contest."

-and the Pursuit of Happiness

LIFE, Liberty and Happiness are the three privileges willed us by our forefathers.

Work-hard, honest toilmakes the first two privileges possible. There is pleasure in a task well done, but labor must be tempered with leisure if life and liberty are to be realized in full measure.

Those vacation hours spent at the wheel of an Oldsmobile Six will rest and refresh you and build up a renewed enthusiasm for the duties of everyday life.

OLDSMOBILE CIAL MOTORS

"Is that waiter cuckoo, or is he a humorist?"

"Why?"

"I asked him for extract of beef and he brought me a glass of milk."

Host: "That whisky, sir, is twenty years old."

Guest: "Rather small for it's age, don't you think?"

One Half Wit—"Why do the snowflakes dance so, dearie?"
The Half Wit—"They are practicing for the snowball, stupid."

Love is nothing divided by two.

A thing of beauty is delayed forever.

Silken ankles, satin lips,
Boyish bob and snaky hips,
Tiny hat hides one wee eye,
Dreamy eyes whose looks belie,
Her skirts are bobbed, her dresses low
Oh, sweet Marie is far from slow.

Father: "Where to, son?"

Son: "Gotta conference."

Father: "What kind?"

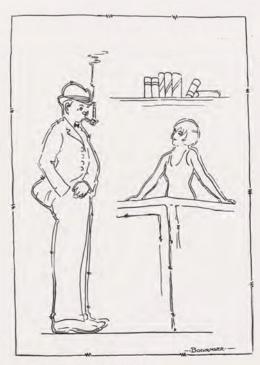

Son: "Arms."

"Let's go to a show."

"What's on?"

"'Twelfth Night'."

"Naw! I'm tired of Elinor Glyn."

"I want a No. 2 pencil."

"Velvet?"

"No, just a wooden one."

Triolet

Girls are easy to convince, If you understand the system. Have the air of Britain's Prince, Girls are easy to convince, Be disdainful, and evince Little interest, till you've kissed 'em-Girls are easy to convince, If you understand the system.

WANT AD IN PAPER

If Mr. Williamson who left his wife and baby twenty years ago will come home his baby will kick hell out of him.

Bootlegger (after vainly knocking at the Pearly Gate): "Well, I'll be damned!" St. Peter (through peephole): "Hell, yes."

Nightwatchman—"Young man, are you going to kiss that girl?" He (straightening up)—"No, sir." Nightwatchman—"Here, then; hold my lantern."

Father—How is it, young man, that I find you kissing my daughter? How is it, I ask you?

Young Man-Oh, it's great; it's great.

Dolly-He wrote me that when he graduates he will settle down and marry the sweetest girl in the world.

Kitty-How horrid of him when he is already engaged to you.

"Ice?"

"No, my husband's home."

"Giddap, mule."

Passenger: "What makes this train so slow?"

Irate Conductor: "If you don't like it, get off and walk."

Passenger: "I would, only I'm not expected until train time."

First Moron—"I hear O'Brian's wife just got a divorce for incompatibility." Second Moron—"Well, my wife couldn't. We combat daily."
