"Close beside the winding Cedar's
Sloping banks of green,
Spreads thy campus, Alma Mater,
Fairest ever seen.

"First of all thy race, fond mother,
Thus we greet thee now,
While with loving hands the laurel
Twine we o'er thy brow."

CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

IN the past year a portentous program of improvement and expansion has created a new Campus Beautiful at Michigan State. Many structural changes in the interest of the future have already appeared. Old familiar landmarks have disappeared under the wave of progress. In keeping with this program of beautification, the Wolverine desires to preserve within its pages the vitalized pastoral beauty of the campus

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Erected in 1881 as the college library by funds appropriated by the State Legislature, this building now contains the administrative offices.

ADMINISTRATION

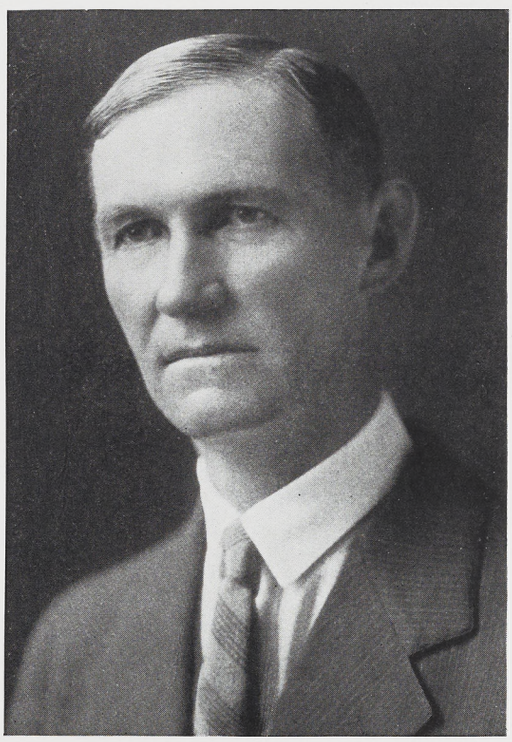

THE STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

Citizens of Michigan should not overlook the vast importance of the physical development of Michigan State College. In intellectual and spiritual culture, environment is a potent factor. Development of our college which will beautify our classic shades by adding well appointed surroundings will necessarily inspire cultural development.

The growth and development of the college has been remarkable and inspiring. It is now regarded as one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in America, and is well and favorably known abroad. The old farm with which it started, purchased in 1855, has been converted into a campus which is one of the most spacious and beautiful in the country.

The program of beautification of the campus now in progress is a magnificent step to a greater era. It will set into motion a real esprit de corps, invincible in the future.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Those who are associated with Michigan State College have the hope and ambition to make its Campus so aesthetically beautiful within the next few years that it will become an attraction to all beauty-lovers. This is indeed a worthy ambition and one that cannot be brought about over night or without the expenditure of a large sum of money. Since this program will take much time, most of the important objectives have not been attained.

It is our desire to stimulate a full and complete appreciation and understanding of nature which must go hand in hand with cultural education. What is needed primarily is the development of spirit of appreciation of Nature at her best.

The physical development of the College is especially interesting. Those far-sighted individuals, who laid the foundation for this institution and were cognizant of the necessity for beautiful surroundings, deserve a memoriam of praise. Today it is our duty to recognize this valuable inheritance, that has been handed down to us through the years, and carry forward in this program of beautification to a newer and greater Campus Beautiful.

SOPHS MEET FROSH TOMORROW TO DECIDE CLASS SUPREMACY IN ANNUAL CLASS RUSH CONTESTS

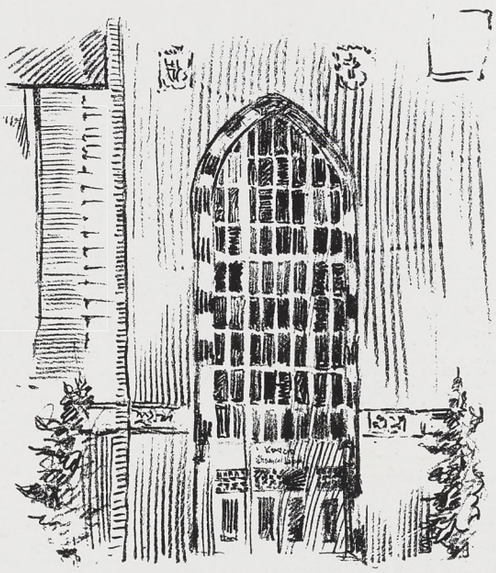

Second Year Men Doped to Win in Face of Optimism of Yearlings; Events to Be Rigidly Will ... by Council Members; ...clock.

Alfred Seymour, Chief of Police.

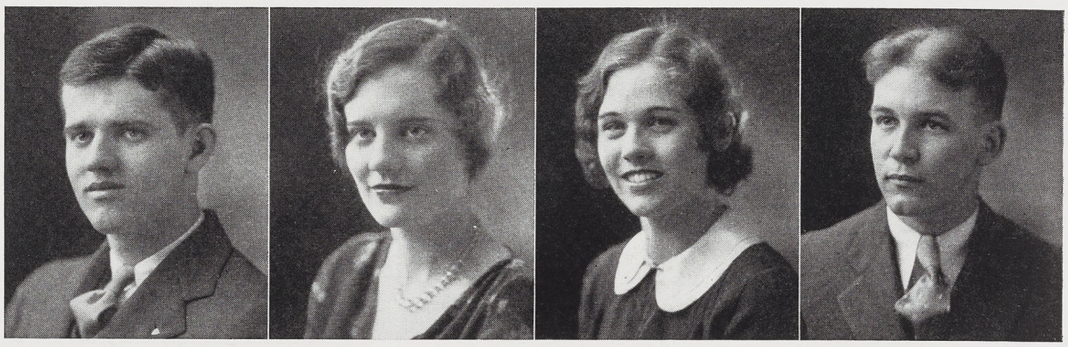

SOPHS WINNERS BY LARGE SCORE IN CLASS MEET

Organization of Second Year Men Overcomes Superior Forces.

True to predictions, the Sophomore class defeated the freshmen in the annual class rush by a score of 70 to 45 in the events held last Saturday morning. The superior organization and strategy of the second-year class more than off-set the handicap of being outnumbered. They annexed the relay, flag rush, one ball in the football relay, and the tug-of-war while being disqualified in the obstacle race and losing balls in the football rush. In an attempt to ... three classes more ... Sophomores, ... of the two classes ... noon to ... Friday ...

CAMPUS

Campus Beautiful

Abbott Hall ready for the new crop of Freshman women.

The woods along the Red Cedar.

Here's where we lose that hard-earned dough.

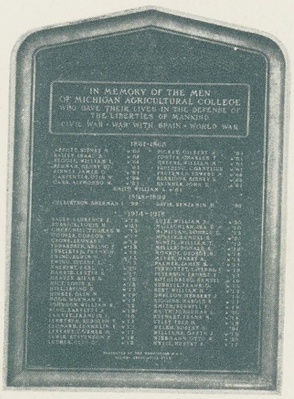

"General" Hicks, Commander-in-chief of the Union forces.

Main Street spreads its welcome.

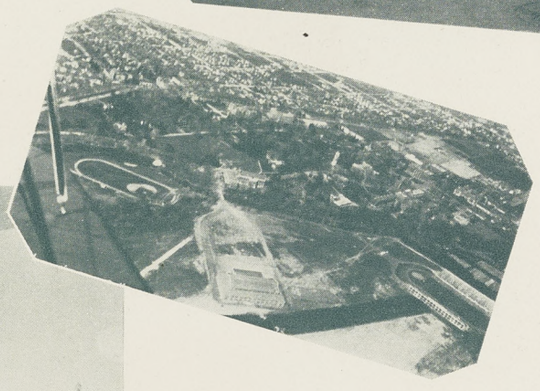

The sugar house.

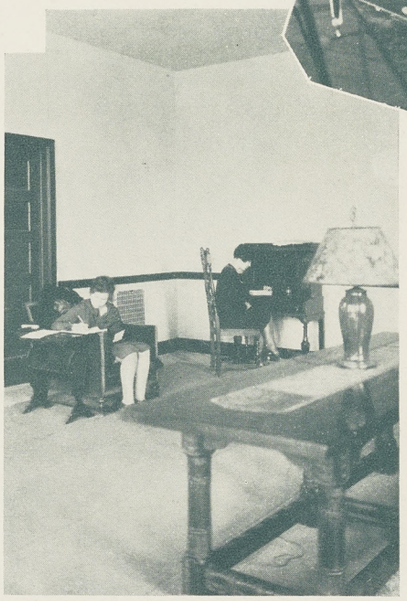

Why they built the Union.

We had to bum our way.

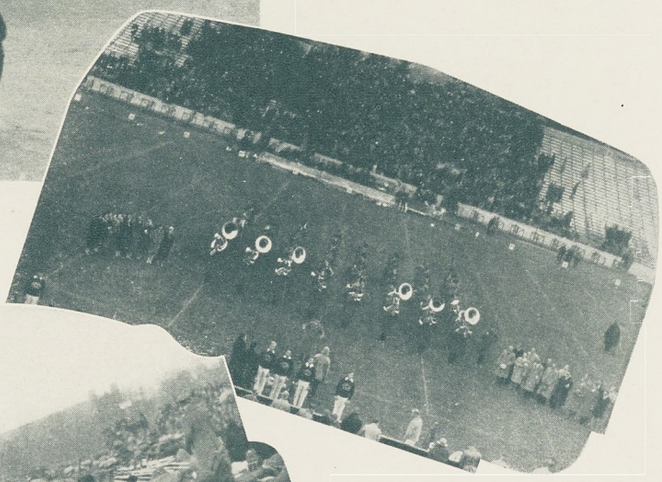

Looking down on education.

Loafers in the Union.

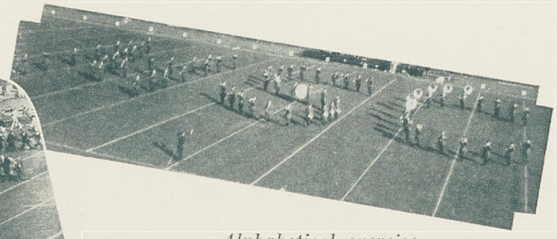

Before the game.

"M. S. C. all hail!"

Falcone's boys warm-up the crowd.

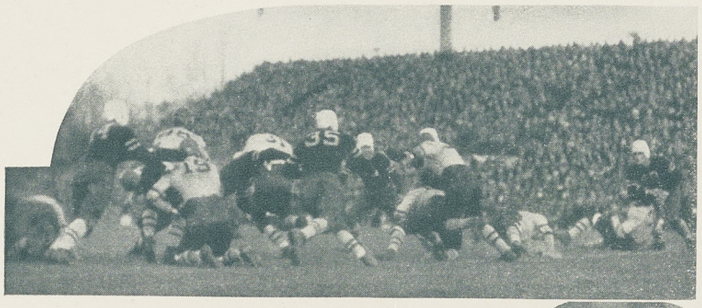

Alphabetical exercise.

The Frosh pull their snake dance.

After the game.

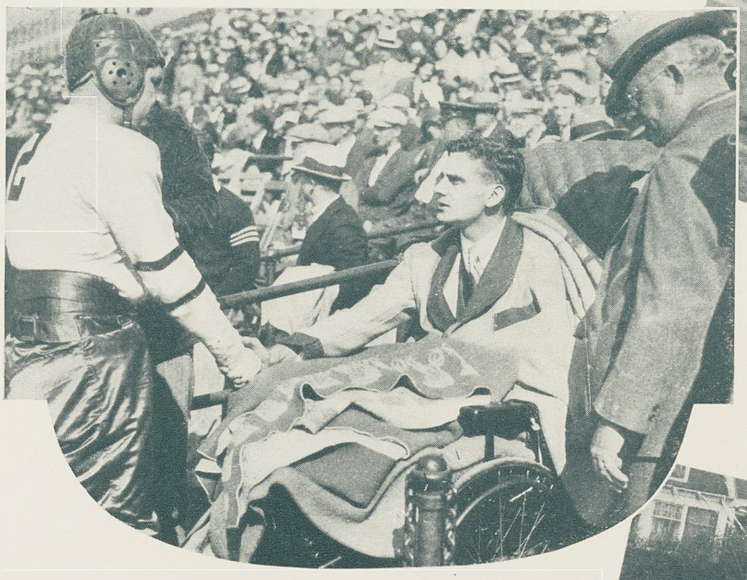

Down Detroit.

Crowley makes a speech.

Monnett makes a funny face.

Smead watches the Michigan Game.

Homecoming decorations.

Everybody up on the kick-off.

Private battle at the Class Rush.

Sophs grab the rag.

Who's got the ball?

Ready for the big pull.

Nobody hurt when the roof fell.

Frosh ready for battle.

No fair shoving.

Baptizing the Frosh.

A little bonfire for the Barbecue.

Street Scene.

What a silly way to take a bath.

The boys are looking for a ball.

Is this the face that launches forth a thousand Eds each hour?

"A tree upon whose bosom snow has lain".

Saint Nick will fill the Co-ed's sock with answers to her dreams.

And even to the little things a label is applied.

Who but would look at this and regret the classes he has missed.

Happy faces at the Hop.

White Way.

Gov. and Mrs. Green at the Flower Show.

Prexy, Gov. Green and the Mayor with the Flower Queens.

In snow or sunshine it waves.

Cars may come and cars may go but the trees rise stately ever.

What a background.

Campus in Spring.

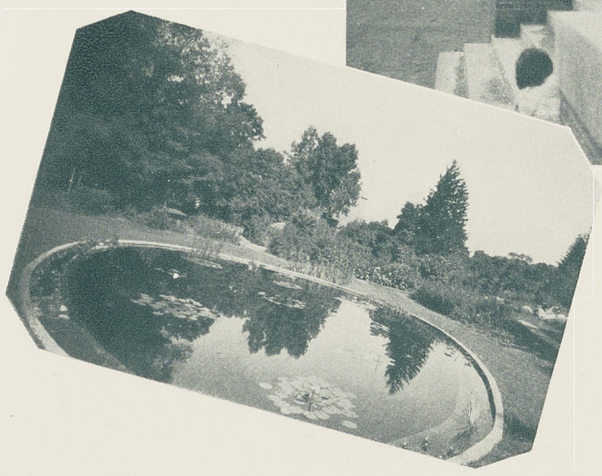

Gov. Brucker gives a sermon, Founder's Day.

And we had to stand and listen to it.

Prexy hands out bouquets.

The botanical garden blooms.

The House of Mars.

God save our country from a war.

The army maneuvers.

The long and the short of it.

To the colors.

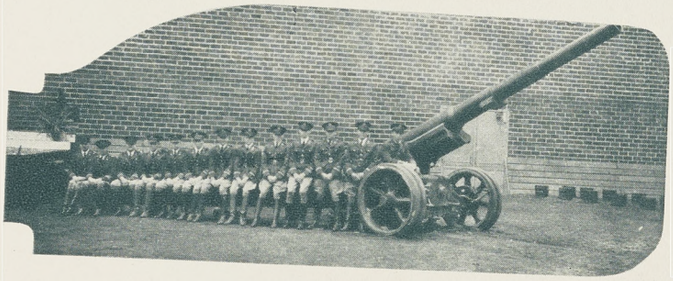

Colonel Rodney poses.

Aren't we proud of our cavalry.

Inspection.

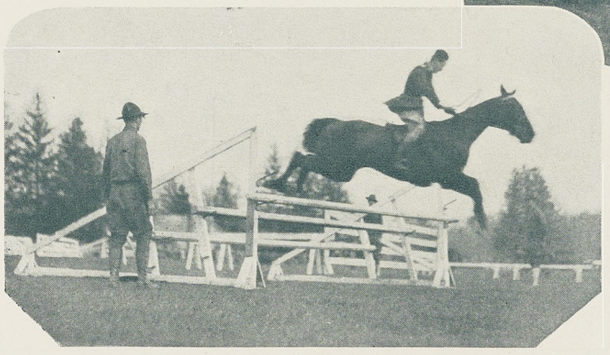

Don't pull the trigger.

Gov. Green looks 'em over.

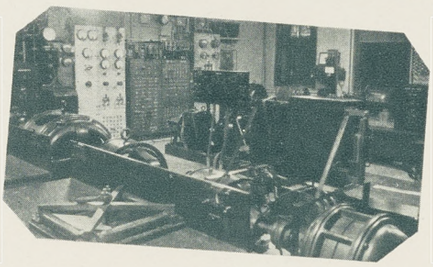

Don't blame the horse.

Oh, that Hiawatha might never know to what ends a canoe must go!

Down to the sea in hopes.

When the moon is out and maidens blush should man tinker with such?

The man above soweth in stone but Co-eds, my lad, are of another mold.

So shall he rip.

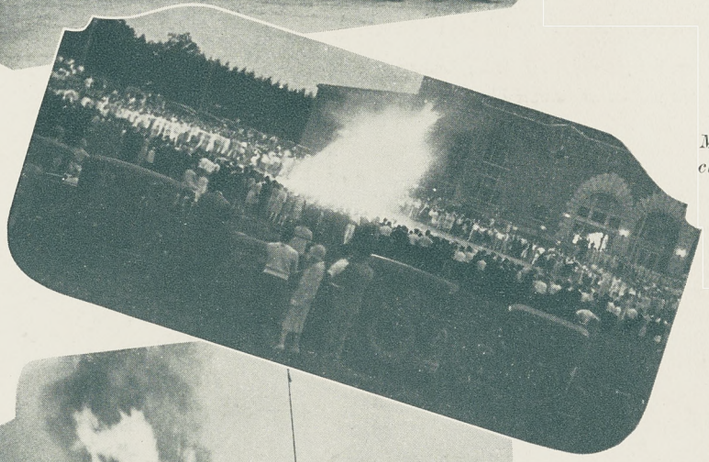

Mass production.

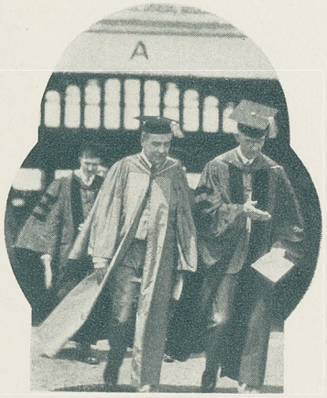

Cap night—the year's gift to the co-ed.

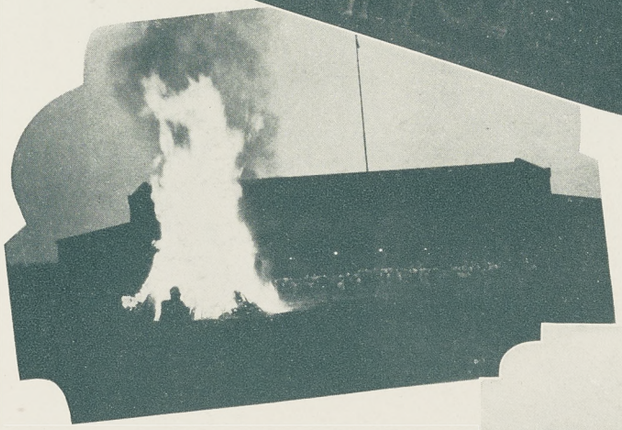

And a little child shall lead them.

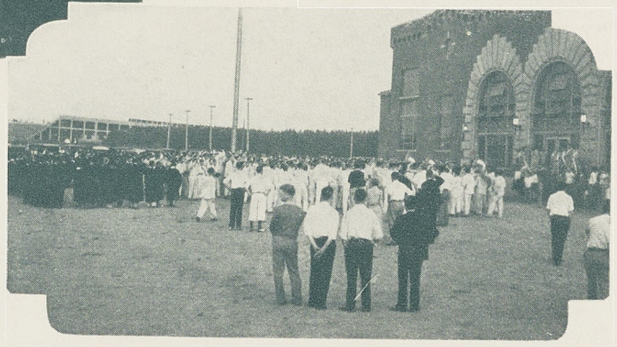

Many a seemly lad, pajama-clad, frolics before the flame.

"Well, it's this way—" quoth Prexy.

Hot as———.

Waiting for the bed-time story.

COLLEGE GYMNASIUM

By the liberality of the State Legislature
this edifice was erected in 1916.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL

Joseph F. Cox
Chairman

The athletic council serves as an advisory group for the state board of agriculture. The council approves all athletic schedules, makes recommendations to the board and is consulted by the board on many matters pertaining to athletics.

Dean Joseph F. Cox of the agricultural division of the college is chairman of the council. Vern Branch, an alumnus residing in Detroit, is vice-chairman. Glen O. Stewart, college alumni secretary, serves as council secretary.

President Robert S. Shaw is an ex-officio member. Other faculty members are: Prof. A. J. Clark, head of the chemistry department; Ralph H. Young, director of athletics; L. N. Field, of the engineering department; C. O. Wilkins, college comptroller; Dr. E. L. Austin, acting dean of the liberal arts division.

H. A. Fick is the other alumni representative.

Student delegates to the council in 1930 were Edward Gibbs, captain of the 1931 baseball team, and Charles Ladd.

Ralph H. Young
Director of Athletics

SPORT SUMMARY

A very important chapter was written into Michigan State college athletic history during the past year. Ten varsity teams established an enviable record of 53 victories, 25 defeats and two tie games in 80 contests. This compilation includes competition in spring term, 1930, and fall and winter terms, 1931.

The Spartan baseball team had a highly successful season last spring, winning 18 and losing six games. Three of the defeats were suffered on the annual spring training trip into the south. The Kobsmen won the collegiate championship of Michigan and letter-winners were given gold baseballs in recognition of this achievement.

The tennis team was not so successful and won one meet, while losing nine.

The track team broke even, winning and losing one meet. The State thinclads defeated Detroit City college, lost to Notre Dame university and placed second in both the Michigan Intercollegiate and the Central Intercollegiate meets.

Last fall saw Michigan State represented by the best football team in 15 years, and the Spartans won five, lost one and tied two games. State triumphed over Colgate university, recognized as champions of the east, and was held to scoreless ties by the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit teams.

The cross-country team won one and lost two meets, placed second in the Michigan Intercollegiate and tied for second place in the Central Intercollegiate meet. The highlight of the harrier season was furnished by Clark Chamberlain, when the slim cross-country captain galloped in ahead of the field to win the I. C. A. A. A. A. meet.

The indoor season was by far the most successful in recent years and five teams won 23 and lost eight contests.

The State basketball team won 16 games and lost only to the University of Michigan. The Wolverines were the only opponents to beat the Spartans' swimmers and wrestlers. The tank team won four meets and the wrestlers chalked up three victories. The track team had a clean slate for the indoor season, with three victories. The fencers, forced to go against Western Conference competition, won one meet and dropped three. Captain George Bauer, who was undefeated, was awarded a major letter, thereby establishing a record that will probably never be equalled.

Clark S. Chamberlain

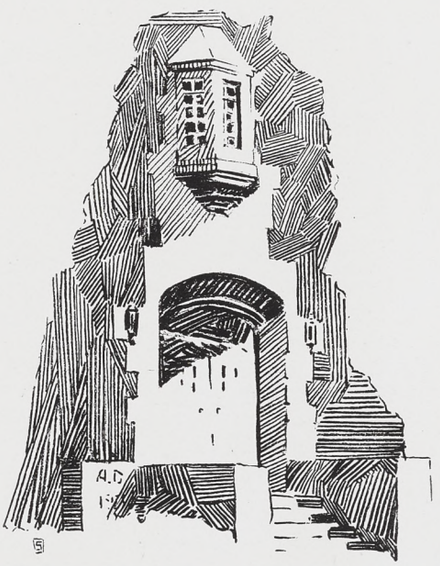

CLARK S. CHAMBERLAIN

Starting as a sophomore without previous track experience, in the space of two years Clark Chamberlain has become one of the nation's truly great distance runners. Under the guidance of Morton F. Mason, who early recognized his potentialities, he went undefeated through the 1930 cross-country season, taking the Central and State Intercollegiate meets, and climaxed the year by winning the Intercollegiate Championship of America at New York City. Twice captain of the harrier team, and co-captain of the 1931 track team, he holds, among other titles, the West Virginia Relays mile record, the Central Intercollegiate indoor and outdoor two-mile titles, the State two-mile crown, and recently annexed the two-mile record at the Drake Relays. His success at record smashing has been unparalleled in Spartan distance annals. The 1932 Olympics should find him at the peak of his career.

Cross Country Championship over a muddy six-mile course in Van Courtlandt Park, New York, November 17, 1930. His time was 30 minutes, 19 seconds. Richard Detwiler, of Penn State, finished second, 40 yards behind the Michigan State flier. Chamberlain finished fourth last year.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Coach James H. Crowley gave Michigan State College her most successful football team in fifteen years during the 1930 season. The Spartan gridiron team was beaten but once in eight games, played scoreless ties with the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit, and defeated Colgate University recognized as champions of the east.

The white-jerseyed Spartans of 1930 proved to be as plucky a football team as ever played on any field, and developed into an aggressive, intelligent group of athletes who didn't lose a home game.

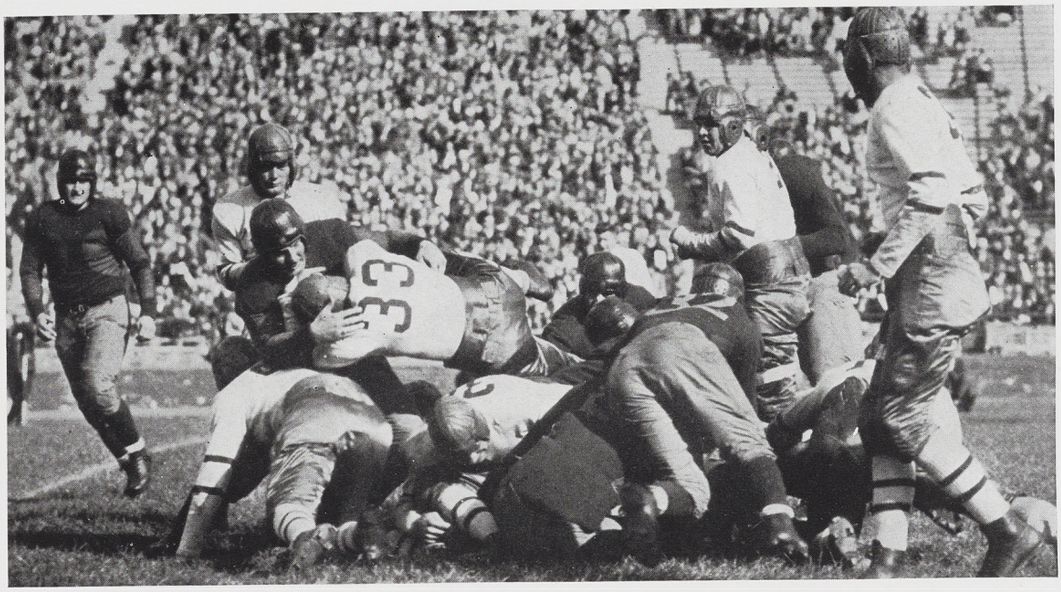

Even though he was forced to utilize many inexperienced sophomores, Coach Crowley, with the capable assistance of Glen (Judge) Carberry and Miles W. (Mike) Casteel, developed a very creditable team and did some valuable building for his 1931 and 1932 teams.

A very ambitious 1931 schedule has been arranged, as follows:

Sept. 26	Alma College	at East Lansing
Oct. 3	Cornell College	at East Lansing
Oct. 10	U. S. Military Academy	at West Point, N. Y.
Oct. 17	Illinois Wesleyan University	at East Lansing
Oct. 24	Georgetown University	at East Lansing
Oct. 31	Syracuse University	at East Lansing
Nov. 7	Ripon College	at East Lansing
Nov. 14	University of Michigan	at Ann Arbor
Nov. 21	University of Detroit	at Detroit

Varsity letters and sweaters were awarded to the following men: Gerald Breen, Ralph H. Brunette, Abe Eliowitz, Jacob B. Fase, Cecil C. Fogg, Captain-Elect Milton C. Gross, Roger R. Grove, George B. Handy, Joseph Kowatch, Francis H. Meiers, Robert C. Monnett, Carl A. Nordberg, Donald R. Ridler, Captain Harold E. Smead, Claude R. Streb, Myron L. Vandermeer and Manager Thomas L. Woodworth.

Service sweaters were awarded to the following men: Robert F. Buskirk, Paul C. Byers, Lester W. Exo, Louis H. Handler, Harold E. Haun, Maynard D. Hosler, Kenneth F. Lafayette, Clifford P. Liberty, Sam S. Schwartzberg, Roy C. Warner and Donald L. Warren.

The Spartans encountered stern opposition in the clever Alma eleven, but made the best of every scoring opportunity to turn in a 28 to 0 victory in the opening game of the season. State used only a few simple formations, while the Presbyterians flashed a versatile, deceptive attack which met with good success, especially through the use of forward passes.

Jerry Breen, veteran half-back, played an important part in the victory. He made two runs of more than 40 yards to score touchdowns. The other two State scores were the result of sustained drives.

Some idea of State's superiority over Alma can be realized from statistics. The Spartans gained 446 yards from scrimmage, for 15 first downs, as compared with 284 yards from scrimmage and nine first downs for Coach Roy Campbell's invaders. Of the Alma gains, 133 yards were made on two long passes and the resulting runs.

State invaded Ann Arbor to meet Michigan, always more or less of a nemesis for Spartan elevens, in the second game of the season. The Spartans showed remarkable defensive strength and held the powerful Wolverine gridders to a scoreless tie for the first time in the history of the annual gridiron classic between the two colleges. It was the twenty-second meeting of the rival football teams.

Captain Harold Smead, who was so seriously injured in a traffic accident during the summer that his promising athletic career was brought to a premature close, was on the sidelines for the battle with Michigan. He proved the inspiration which enabled State to make her best showing against Michigan in 15 years, and come the nearest to a triumph over Michigan in this length of time.

With true Spartan spirit, the white-jerseyed State players staved off Michigan's repeated goal line thrusts with good success. The State goal line was unsullied, although the Spartans were unable to score on the Wolverines. Michigan gained 289 yards from scrimmage, as compared with 118 for State.

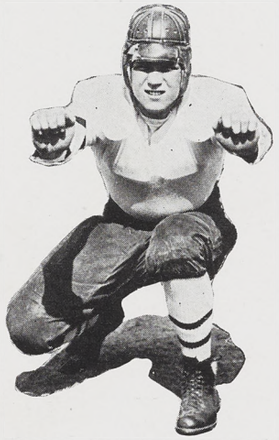

It is difficult to select outstanding Spartan players in that game, as every man played as well, or better, than was expected. Meiers, Brunette and Vandermeer were sophomores who performed brilliantly. Ridler and Fogg, veteran linemen, were towers of strength. Breen was the leading ground-gainer and Eliowitz, sophomore fullback, played like a tried veteran.

STATE, 32; CINCINNATI, 0

A continuation of the same vicious playing which characterized the game with Michigan allowed the Spartans to overwhelm Cincinnati in a home game the following week. The Ohio Bearcats were completely outclassed and gained only 63 yards by rushing, while State made 395 yards from scrimmage.

Although State used only a few simple plays, Cincinnati proved an easy victim. Eliowitz wrecked the Bearcat line with his plunging. Monnett slashed off tackle when Eliowitz was not rushing the Cincinnati players off their feet. Ridler and Brunette, the State tackles, smashed down interference and Fogg and Vandermeer, and later Fase, the Spartan ends, waited for the tricky formations of the wingback offense used by Cincy to unfold. George Handy, who substituted at guard for Streb, proved a capable performer in this game. Kowatch starred in advancing the ball when Coach Crowley sent some substitutes into the game.

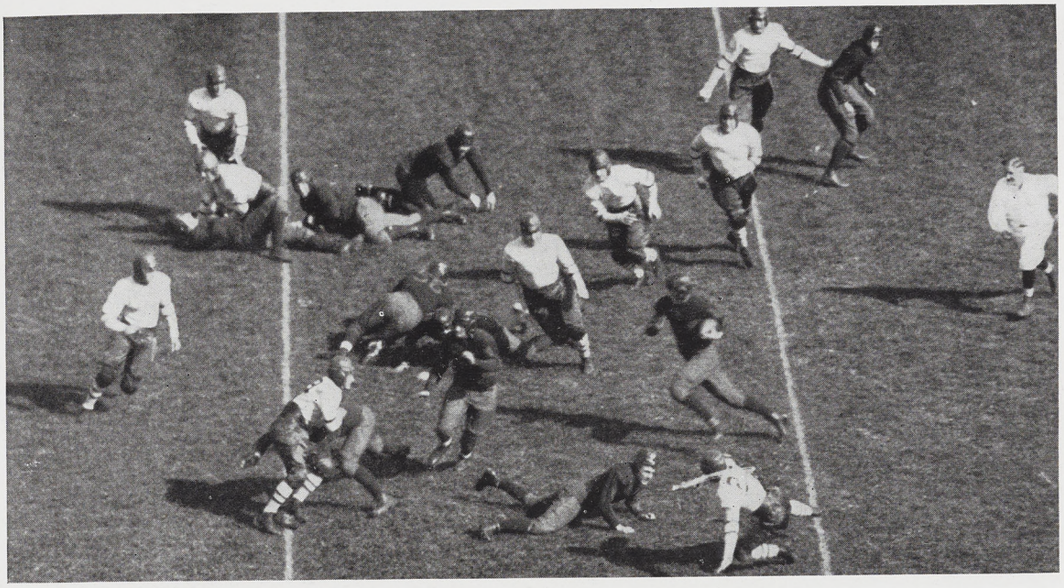

Grove went back to pass, but finding all receivers covered, ran 33 yards for a touchdown. It is unusual for a quarterback to score in the style of football introduced here by Coach Crowley. Eliowitz reeled off the longest run of the day when he raced through his right tackle and went 55 yards to score a touchdown.

STATE, 14; COLGATE, 7

Michigan State provided a rare treat for the annual Homecoming Day crowd October 17. An inspired Spartan eleven beat Colgate, otherwise undefeated champions of the east, to score State's major gridiron triumph in 12 seasons. It was the first time State had beaten a nationally prominent team since the "Fighting Aggies" conquered Notre Dame 12 years before.

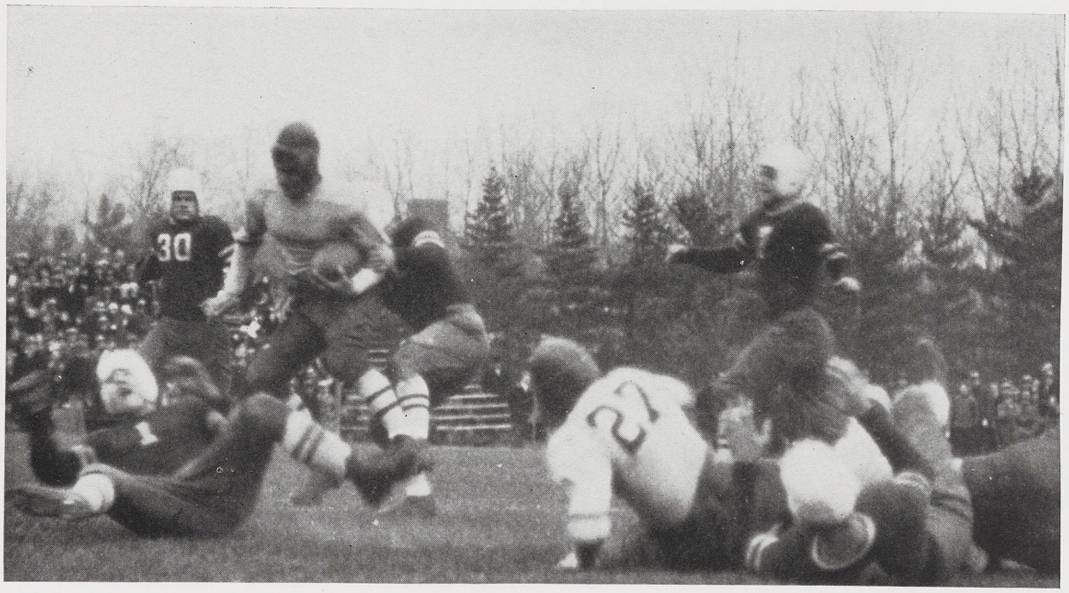

The Spartans played an alert game to win. The first half was scoreless, as heads-up playing by State halted two of the Maroons' goal line smashes.

Early in the third quarter, Grove grabbed a loose fumble while on the dead run and raced 37 yards for a touchdown. After this, Colgate launched a determined drive and was not to be denied a touchdown. The giant Maroons, with a distinct weight advantage, marched 73 yards down the field to score. The Spartans battled every inch of the way, but could not halt the powerful Colgate drive, and the score was tied, 7 to 7.

With only two minutes of play remaining, it appeared as though State would be glad to accept the second tie game of the season. But Bob Monnett, flashy sophomore half-back, stepped into the picture and covered himself with glory while giving his team a well-earned victory. He picked his way through a hole in the right side of the big Colgate line and sidestepped and dodged his way 62 yards for the winning touchdown.

State's great gridiron machine was traveling in high gear by this time and had an easy time snowing Case under. The invading Scientists were plucky, but the Spartans' driving attack was too much for them to cope with. The green and white clad gridders were out to score a triumph, and did so in no uncertain manner.

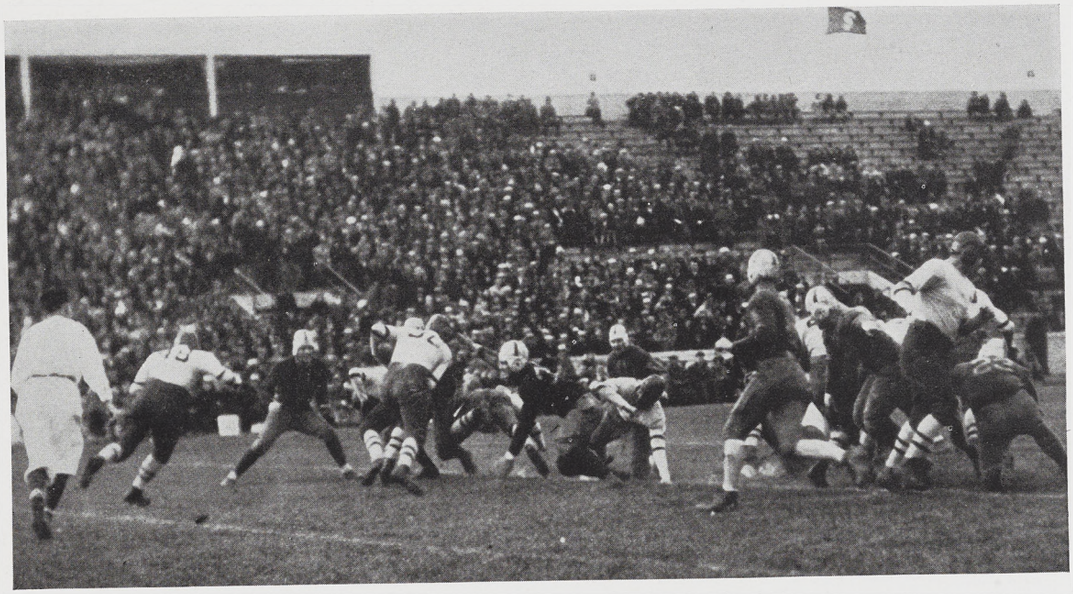

An epidemic of long runs for touchdowns developed during the game, and provided the spectators with plenty of excitement despite the lack of closely contested competition. The Spartans scored on six long runs, which averaged 57 yards in length. Clifford Liberty, fleet sophomore reserve half-back, set a mark for the varsity ball carriers to aim at when he broke loose and sprinted 68 yards to cross the Case goal line. Bob Monnett, sophomore back who enacted the hero role so capably in the Colgate game the week before, again wreaked havoc in the ranks of State's opponents. He scored two touchdowns by running 41 and 55 yards, respectively, through the Scientists' defense. Joe Kowatch, sophomore substitute full-back, proved his ability by driving through the line and continuing 46 yards for a touchdown.

Glory can be gained, even in defeat, and State did just this in the game with Georgetown at Washington, D. C. The Spartans played their first night football game and came out on the short end of the count, but won the praise of eastern sport critics for their plucky performance.

Georgetown fought desperately, just as State did earlier in the season against Colgate and Michigan, and won, even though outplayed. State muffed two chances to score in the first half, but the Spartans were far from being discouraged. Two disheartening performances by the eastern gridders failed to subdue the Spartans. Scalzi, fleet quarterback, got away once and ran 58 yards through the shadows for a touchdown and a short time later took the ball on a kickoff and ran 92 yards down the dark sidelines to score again.

State fought right back and with Eliowitz, Monnett and Breen bearing the brunt of the attack, carried the ball 60 yards down the field to score. Not content with scoring one touchdown in the face of almost inevitable defeat, the Spartans scored again when Fase caught a pass over the Georgetown goal line. State had a chance to tie the score, but the try for the extra point failed and Georgetown won a one-point victory.

State forced the play in Georgetown territory during practically the entire game, and outgained the eastern eleven. The Spartans made 271 yards from scrimmage, to 209 for Georgetown.

STATE, 19; NORTH DAKOTA, 11

Alert and aggressive playing enabled the Spartans to beat North Dakota when they returned to their home field. The game was a battle of breaks, with State gaining an edge by taking advantage of the most opportunities.

The invading Bisons, boasting one of the most powerful lines in the country, provided plenty of trouble for State. The Spartans held the upper hand, 6 to 4, at the end of the first half. State scored a touchdown and North Dakota scored two safeties. A blocked punt and two penalties against State let the Bisons score a touchdown in the third quarter and go ahead, 11 to 6.

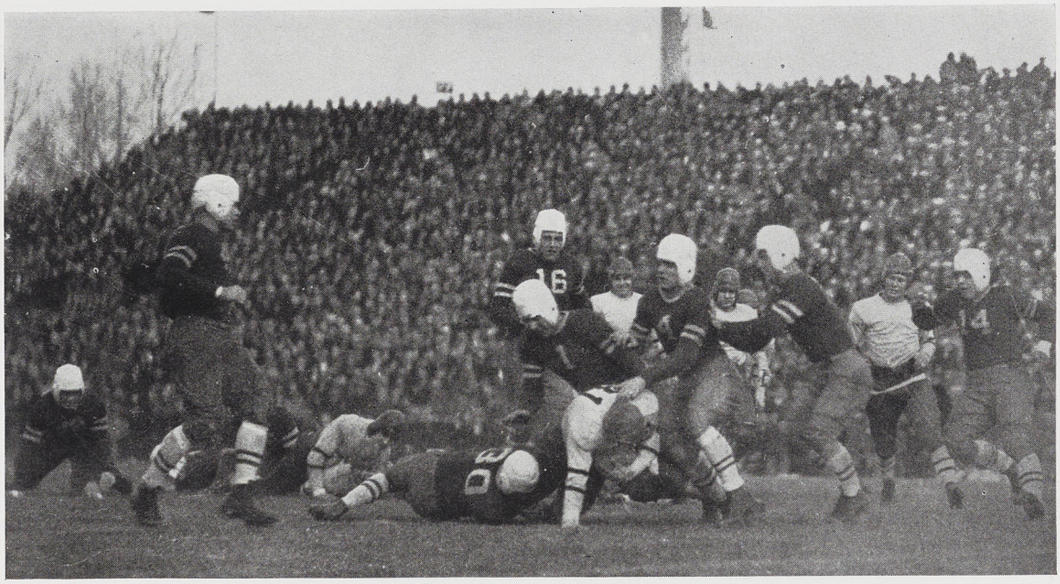

Bob Monnett added new laurels in this game, in which he was the outstanding player. He intercepted three North Dakota forward passes at critical moments and turned the tide in State's favor. His most decisive feat gave the Spartans a triumph. He intercepted a pass and raced 65 yards for the touchdown that regained the lead for the Spartans, 12 to 11.

A short time later George Handy, reserve guard, blocked a Bison punt and recovered for a touchdown to give State a little larger margin of victory.

The performance of Meiers at center was again the outstanding feature of the Spartan line play.

STATE, 0; DETROIT, 0

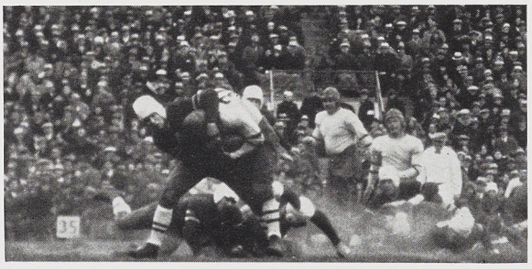

One week went by without a game scheduled, and then Coach Crowley pitted his Spartan gridiron warriors against the Titans of Detroit. The game ended in a deadlock, but State clearly outplayed Detroit, although unable to score.

State's superiority is clearly shown by statistics. The Spartans gained 227 yards by the rushing, for 12 first downs, as compared with 69 yards gained from scrimmage by Detroit, for two first downs. The Titans' main advantage seemed to be in bracing at their goal line and keeping State from scoring.

The Spartans, with every player performing superbly in the last game of the season, out-charged Detroit and played in Titan territory during practically all of the game. With Grove's punting, a valuable asset, State threatened to score several times, but the heavier Detroit forward wall reared up an impregnable barrier at the final yard-marker and the Spartans were denied a score.

Four of State's most valuable players competed in their last game against Detroit. The seniors wearing the green and white for the final time on the gridiron were:

Cecil Fogg, a great defensive end; Claude Streb, a powerful guard; Don Ridler, genial tackle; and Roger Grove, veteran quarterback and one of the best punters in the country.

Roger Grove

Coach Ben F. Van Alstyne developed a great basketball team to represent Michigan State during the 1930-31 season. The Spartan cage combination went through a strenuous 17-game schedule with only one reversal, a defeat handed out early in the season by the University of Michigan quintet.

There were three big reasons for the outstanding success of the Spartan basketeers—Co-captains Roger Grove, Ed Wayne Scott and Art Haga. Although he was slow in finding himself after the football season, Grove finally swung into his usual cage stride and won high scoring honors for the season with 135 points to his credit. Art Haga, a guard, was his nearest rival with 120 points. Scott was the mainstay of the famous Spartan defense and was ably assisted by Haga, while Grove was the center of the offense. Three other players must be given a large share of the credit for the winning basketball season. These are Dee Pinneo, half-pint forward who was third high in individual scoring with 94 points, Randy Boeskool, rangy center and Jerry McCaslin, relief pivot man.

The State court team beat some of the best opponents in the country, from Brigham Young in the west to Colgate in the east, and conquered such middlewestern foes as Marquette, Western Reserve and Detroit.

The Spartan quintet had an easy time conquering the University of Cincinnati, 22 to 8, in the opening game of the season played in the

Arthur Haga

Boys' Vocational school field house in Lansing. The State cagers played raggedly, but had little trouble winning from the Cincy five and held the upperhand, 14 to 0, at halftime. Coach Van Alstyne's starting lineup was: Barnard and Pinneo, forwards; Boeskool, center; Scott and Haga, guards. Later in the initial tilt he substituted Grove, Duffield, Wykes and Holcomb, forwards, and McCaslin, center.

The outcome of the second game of the season was not quite so satisfactory from the State viewpoint. The Spartan cagers invaded Ann Arbor for their annual court tilt with the University of Michigan and came out on the short end of a 32 to 22 score. The State team lacked the drive and fight which is usually characteristic and fought an uphill battle all the way. Pinneo was the Spartan scoring star, with 10 points to his credit. His long toms threw scares into the ranks of the Wolverines on several occasions. Grove and Scott each accounted for five points.

Following this defeat, the Spartans swung into their winning stride and went through the remainder of the season undefeated and came through nicely in some closely contested games with worthy foes.

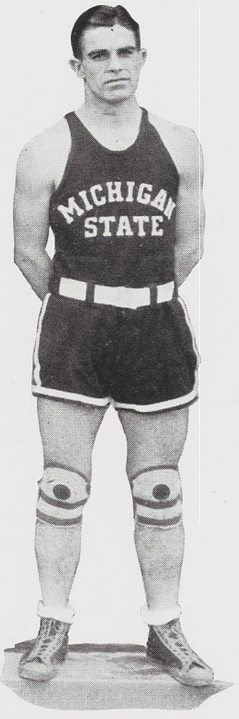

Brigham Young, crack, high-scoring team from the west, was the first victim of the determined State victory march. Grove's tip-in shot after Pinneo missed a free throw in the waning moments of play enabled the Spartans to chalk up 29 to 28 victory in a thrilling game which was closely contested throughout. Grove and Haga scored seven points apiece and Boeskool, with six tallies to his credit, led a second half scoring spurt which turned the tide in State's favor. Brigham Young had forged ahead after trailing, 15 to 13, at halftime.

State turned back the challenge of Ohio Wesleyan, 25 to 17, in a game featured by rough playing on the part of both teams. The Spartans missed many easy shots. Grove was high scorer, with nine points and Haga was next in line with eight. Coach Van Alstyne's court combination showed vastly improved ball-handling in this encounter.

The first of two games with Marquette University, which resulted in a 19 to 16 victory for State, started slowly, but ended in a wild scramble. State came from behind in the second period, forged ahead and then stalled for six minutes at the expense of the Hilltoppers from Milwaukee, Wis. Haga and Grove caged shots which put State ahead, 14 to 12, and this lead was never lost. Grove was the leading scorer with seven points.

Xavier University did not cause State any serious difficulty after the early stages of the game and the Spartans scored a 32 to 19 victory, largely by virtue of a one-sided second half. Haga led the scoring with 11 points, while Grove made seven and Boeskool six counters.

Coach Van Alstyne took his crack court combination east to play two games with Colgate

Dee Pinneo

Randy Boeskool

University, his Alma mater, and the outcome was a two-night scoring bee in which the Spartans emerged victorious. The first game ended 41 to 31. Grove accounted for 12 points and Haga 11, while Boeskool and Holcomb, the latter a reserve forward, each added six tallies. The second game proved even more disastrous for the Maroons and State chalked up a 50 to 30 triumph. Pinneo broke into the scoring column heavily, making 14 points, the same number as scored by Grove. Haga and Scott added eight points apiece, which is sufficient evidence that the Spartan attack was functioning smoothly in every way.

The seemingly invincible Spartans, fresh from the two overwhelming defeats at Colgate, returned to the home court and bowled Kalamazoo College over to the tune of 46 to 10. Coach Van Alstyne used 11 men in this game and the same fast attack which swamped the Maroons proved too much for the Hornets of Kalamazoo to cope with. Haga won high point honors with 11, while Grove made nine points. Kircher, a reserve guard, made eight points on long toms in the last 10 minutes of play.

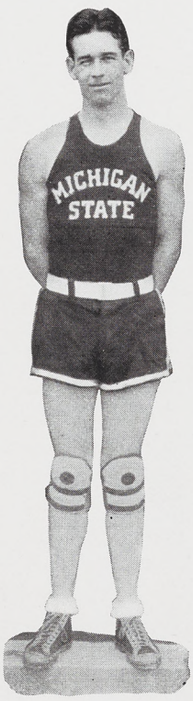

The varsity piled up an early lead and reserves were again used freely in the game with Central State Teachers' College. The result was a 31 to 18 victory for State. Grove led the point-making with 10 tallies, while Boeskool, Pinneo and Haga accounted for six tallies individually.

State won another game of the thriller variety from Western Reserve on a road trip into Ohio. Pinneo turned the tide in the Spartans' favor. State was out in front, 18 to 10, at half-time, but the Red Cats spurted to tie the score at 20 all. Scott sank a free throw and Grove scored from the floor to put State ahead, 23 to 20. Reserve scored a field goal to whittle the Spartans' lead the one point and forged ahead, 24 to 23. With only a few seconds of play remaining, Pinneo sank a shot from mid-court to give State a slim but certain victory.

Oberlin, the other team played by State in the Ohio invasion, did not prove quite such a tough opponent and the Spartans triumphed, 33 to 22. Although State was never very far ahead, the Spartans had play well in control at all stages of the game. Haga led the scoring with 10 points, Pinneo made nine and Grove eight.

Seven substitutes were used in the game in which State buried Alma College, 42 to 20. Grove personally accounted for 15 points and Haga made eight. After the varsity piled up a commanding lead, the Presbyterians proved a match for the Spartan reserves.

State beat the University of Detroit, 34 to 16, in the first tilt of a two-game series, played on the home court. A first half scoring avalanche buried the Titan basketeers and the Spartans were ahead, 20 to 6, at the rest period. Grove and Haga were quite well guarded by the Detroit defense, but the former scored eight points and the latter six. Pinneo proved a capable scorer and walked off with high point honors by virtue of scoring 13 tallies.

Jerry McCaslin

The Spartans wound up their victorious home season by scoring their thirteenth consecutive triumph at the expense of Loyola University of Chicago. State won, 24 to 16, and the three stalwart co-captains made their final appearance before home fans. They performed on the court for the Green and White for the last time and covered themselves with glory. Haga and Scott played great defensive games and Grove won high scoring honors with 11 points. Although they were kept busy guarding, Haga scored four and Scott two tallies.

The second contest with Detroit, played on the Titans' home floor, developed into a bitter battle which State eventually won, 16 to 11. The score was close at all stages and the Spartans were forced to stall for eight minutes in the second half to hold their slim margin. McCaslin, substitute center, usurped high scoring honors from the regulars by making six points. Haga made only five tallies and Grove three, as both stars were carefully guarded by Detroit players.

The final game of the season, with Marquette at Milwaukee, Wis., proved probably the most hectic. The State players travelled by airplane for the game and brought home a 24 to 21 victory after a bitter overtime struggle. The play of Haga featured the game. Scott tied the score with three minutes to play and forced the game into an overtime period. Scott sank a long tom, but two Marquette field goals more than offset this. Haga then scored two timely field goals to give the Spartans a triumph in their final game, which was incidentally their fifteenth straight win.

Michigan State was represented by a highly successful baseball team during the 1930 season and the Spartan team won the clean-cut collegiate championship of Michigan. Coach John H. Kobs' nine won two out of three games with the University of Michigan, thus settling a diamond feud of long standing. Other teams in the state defeated twice by the Spartans were Western State Teachers' College, Michigan Normal College and Central State Teachers, while Hope College was beaten in the annual game.

Three of the six defeats suffered during the 24-game schedule were administered during the annual spring training trip into the south when the State team was just getting into trim. The long ride into Dixie had its effect on the players, as indicated by the 11 to 2 set-back handed out by Marysville in the initial tilt of the season. Johnny Langdon pitched for State and was found for 11 hits, while his mates made five errors behind him. Charley Griffin, sophomore left-hander who proved to be the ace of Coach Kobs' mound staff, hurled against Marysville the next day and the result was a 3 to 0 victory for State. Griffin allowed only three hits, struck out 12 men and was given errorless support. The Spartans' next game was played in Nashville, Tenn., and Vanderbilt, recognized as the outstanding team in the south, eked out a 5 to 4 victory. "Jumbo" Kahl hurled a steady game for State, but two Spartan errors and two freak home runs by the Commodores, over the short left-field fence, spelled defeat. Xavier was forced to accept defeat, 9 to 2, in the next game from a revengeful State team. "Pete" Bullach gave up only five hits, while State garnered 13 safeties. Kahl chalked up his first victory of the season in turning back Cincinnati, 13 to 3. He allowed eight safeties and kept out of danger. His mates gathered 13 hits, including a home run and three singles by Eddie Gibbs in five times at bat. Infield errors were responsible for State's defeat by Miami in the last encounter on the southern tour. Griffin allowed seven hits, while his mates could gather only five. Miami did some fast fielding and knocked many State drives that normally would have been hits.

After an even break on the southern trip, with three victories and the same number of defeats, the Spartans settled down and had good success during the home season. State started off by establishing a string of four consecutive victories. Chicago, a Big Ten opponent, was turned back, 12 to 4, with Kahl working on the mound. Michigan Normal at Ypsilanti was the next victim of the Spartan bats and was beaten, 7 to 4, with Griffin allowing only seven scattered hits, while the Spartans collected 11 safeties. State returned to the home diamond to administer a 4 to 3 defeat to Syracuse, one of the most powerful eastern university teams, in a well played game. Kahl was good for only nine hits, and kept them well distributed, while his mates gathered 15 bingles. The contest was not decided until the twelfth inning, when Gibbs singled, Captain Sachs advanced him with a sacrifice and "Jabber" Barnard drove him home with a single. Bullach hurled a good game and the Spartans conquered the Central Teachers of Mt. Pleasant, 11 to 1. He limited the Teachers to five hits and State collected 12, principally in the seventh and eighth innings.

This winning streak was interrupted when the Iowa State Teachers invaded East Lansing and administered a 5 to 4 defeat. Kahl was the victim of the Cornhuskers' bats and his delivery was solved for 13 hits. He made two wild pitches, issued four bases on balls and was generally ineffective in the pinches, especially during a late rally staged by the Teachers.

The Spartans hit their winning stride again and ran their string of triumphs to four before they again tasted defeat. Griffin was in good form and State beat Notre Dame, 3 to 2 in a closely contested game. The Irish nine made only four hits, but three Spartan errors helped them to score. A big seventh inning, in which three runs were scored, enabled State to beat Western State,

7 to 4. Griffin hurled again and allowed nine hits, the same number as were collected by the Spartans. The annual game with the Wooden Shoes of Hope College proved an easy victory for State and "Pete" Brose was credited with a 13 to 5 win. He allowed eight hits in seven innings and was relieved by Olson, who allowed one run. State combined 11 hits with 10 Hope errors to win. Bullach and Griffin pitched State to a 7 to 4 victory in a return game with Western State. "Petey" hurled a good game for nine innings, and then Charley relieved him. The Spartans scored three runs in the eleventh frame to win.

Jumbo Kahl

It remained for Chicago, a team which proved so easy for State to beat early in the season, to hand the Spartans their second reversal of the home schedule, 4 to 3. The game at Chicago, Ill., was played during a steady drizzle and on a muddy field. Kahl, who pitched for State, allowed nine hits and his team-mates were able to get only six off the delivery of Urban, star Maroon hurler. A big seventh inning for Chicago spelled defeat for State.

State rallied and established a winning streak of six games before again bowing in defeat. The Spartans gained revenge for a defeat suffered on the southern trip by beating Miami, 11 to 3. Bullach was found for 10 hits, but kept them well scattered and his mates pounded two opposing hurlers for 15 safeties. State scored a 3 to 0 shut-out over Oberlin in the next game, and then scored her second win of the season over Notre Dame, 5 to 3, at South Bend, Ind. The Spartans grabbed an early lead to subdue Cincinnati, 5 to 3, and chalked up their second win over the Ohio nine. Kahl relieved Bullach in the third inning with the count 5 to 3 and held "Cincy" scoreless during the remainder of the game. Griffin allowed only two hits and State beat Michigan, 3 to 1, on the home diamond in the first tilt of a three-game series with the Wolverines. An error by Crall and a two-base hit accounted for Michigan's only run. Gibbs and Griffin led the State team in hitting, with two safeties apiece, including a home run by Gibbs. Griffin continued his fine mound work and let Michigan Normal down with four hits to give State a 9 to 3 triumph. The Spartans grabbed a commanding lead early in the game. Gibbs got four hits in as many trips to the plate.

The second game with Michigan was the Wolverines' homecoming at Ann Arbor and Kahl was the victim of a 6 to 3 defeat. Griffin pitched in the rubber contest of the series and State won easily, 8 to 4, to end a winning season which was one of the best in Michigan State's athletic history.

VARSITY TRACK

DETROIT CITY COLLEGE

The Spartans opened the outdoor track season with an overwhelming win over Detroit City college, 78 to 52. Clark Chamberlain, State's 1930 cross-country captain-elect, proved in his first outdoor race that he was one of the coming distance stars of the country. After winning the mile in 4:29.7, he stepped out an hour later to beat his captain, Lauren Brown, in the two mile, setting a new meet, stadium, and varsity record of 9:36.1.

Coach "Mike" Casteel's boys slammed the hurdle events and in the jumps and weights the Spartans, although showing no exceptional performances, exhibited a well-balanced strength that assured them victory in the meet.

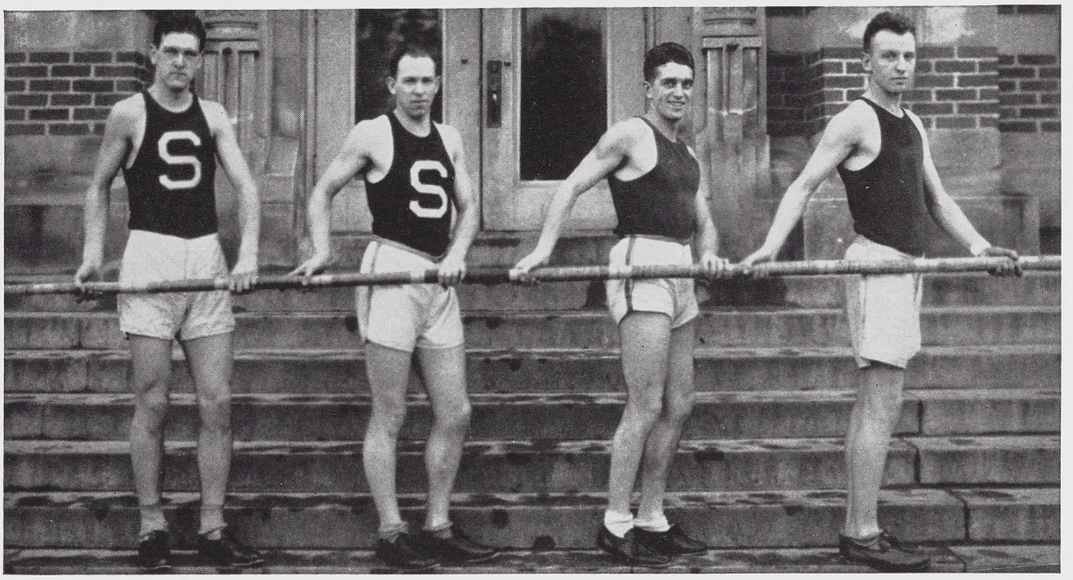

Lauren Brown

PENNSYLVANIA RELAYS

Captain Lauren Brown ran one of the most brilliant races of his cinder track career at Philadelphia when he won the 3,000 meter steeplechase from a field that included the cream of the distance talent of the East. Coming up from the ruck near the end of the race, he uncorked a beautiful sprint at the last lap to lead the field by 70 yards. His time, 9:54.4, broke the existing record by more than eighteen seconds.

OHIO RELAYS

In a hectic meet that saw the crashing of 22 out of 35 meet records, three Michigan State relay teams finished well up in the money at Columbus. The Spartan shuttle hurdle relay team, running the race for the second time in the history of State athletics, turned in the most creditable performance of any of the Green and White entries when they finished second to a powerful Illinois team. Russow, Russell, Oswalt, and Yarger made up the State quartet. With Hackney, Fullerton, Brown, and Chamberlain handling the baton on the four-mile relay team, the Spartans finished the long grind in third place, behind Indiana and Butler.

Olsen Field Arbogast Moulthrop

NOTRE DAME

Boasting the strongest team in recent years, the Ramblers came to East Lansing to defeat State 89 to 37. State stood out well in the distance runs, but lacked the team balance possessed by the Irish in the remaining events.

Chamberlain won the mile in 4:24.2, staving off the challenge of Howrey, the Ramblers' ace. Fullerton also nipped Howrey, coming in fast at the tape to finish a step behind his flying teammate. In the two-mile the Spartans' superiority was unquestioned, Captain Brown winning easily, with Chamberlain second.

STATE INTERCOLLEGIATES

In the most hotly contested State Intercollegiate meet ever staged in East Lansing, Michigan State finally bowed to the band of yellow-clad athletes from Western State Normal. The final score was 51½ to 39¾ for the two leaders.

Although Chamberlain and Fullerton both ran under the varsity record for the mile, they could not match the terrific sprint of Swartz, the Hilltoppers' sensational performer, who swept by them in the last lap to break the meet record by six seconds, in 4:16.6. This race was within two seconds of the American college record.

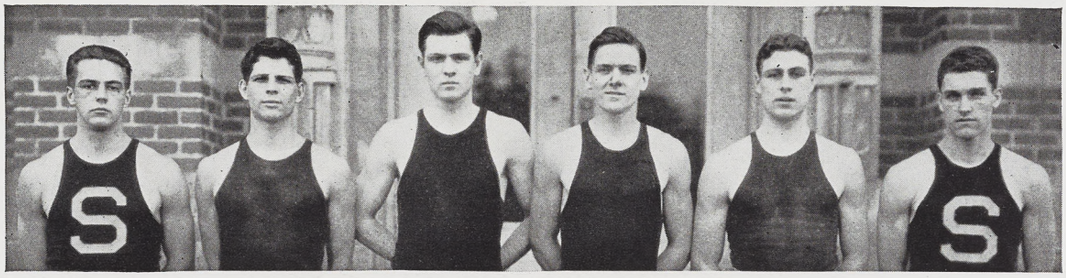

Captain Brown finished his home track career with a fine race in the two mile, setting a new varsity, meet, and stadium record of 9:34.8. Coach Casteel's hurdlers once more came through with a lion's share of points, winning 15 out of a possible 22. Yarger tied with Monroe of Ypsi in :15.6 to equal an eight-year-old record by De Gay Ernst.

CENTRAL INTERCOLLEGIATES

The Spartans journeyed to Milwaukee the following week-end for the Central Intercollegiates and gained sweet revenge for an indoor trimming by Marquette when they beat out the Milwaukee boys for second place. Notre Dame, due to a team strength almost unparalleled in the Middle West, took first. Clark Chamberlain lowered the two-mile mark by two seconds, with Captain Brown close behind him; and Yarger once more clipped the high hurdle record.

1931 INDOOR SEASON

Michigan State hung up a really remarkable record of victories during the 1931 indoor season when the team coached by Young, Casteel, and Mason buckled down to win all three dual meets, showed up well in the Indoor Relay Carnival, and placed second to a powerful Notre Dame squad in the Central Intercollegiates.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Salmon

The Spartans gained a well-deserved revenge over the University of Chicago in the first meet when they set the big Maroon team down by a margin of 22 points, winning handily, 58 1-3 to 36 2-3. Chamberlain led the parade for State with a smashing victory in the mile run, when he traversed the distance in 4:26.6 to lower his own varsity record by four seconds. He also won the two-mile very easily, lapping the field. Norman Smith, a sophomore, broke the varsity high jump record with a leap of 5 feet 9¾ inches.

MARQUETTE

Hackney

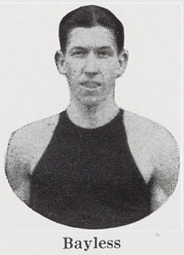

The competition was keener against Marquette University, but due largely to sparkling performances in the hurdles and jumping events, the Green and White team nosed out the Hilltoppers 58½ to 50½. State garnered 16 points in the hurdles alone, when Russell and Yarger won the highs and lows respectively, with Liberty and Bath close seconds. Smith chalked up a new high jump record of 5 feet 10⅞ inches, and Bob Olsen won the pole vault. Chamberlain once more came through with a double win in the mile and two-mile, contributing ten points, but it was not until the half-mile relay that State definitely had the meet on ice. Russell, Criswell, Lafayette, and Liberty combined effectively to take this by a narrow margin.

Russow

OHIO WESLEYAN

Against Ohio Wesleyan three days later it was the same relay quartet that again provided the winning margin, and enabled the Spartans to squeeze out a 55-54 triumph. The Bishops, unexpectedly strong, put up a dogged fight all the way, but another twin victory by Chamberlain, a slam in the pole vault by Olsen, Arbogast, and Moulthrop, and a long heave by Pflug in the shot put combined to help hold them down. A new sophomore find for State in the 880, Walter Wissner, surprised by taking his event in near-record time. Chamberlain set a new varsity two-mile mark of 9:44.4.

Fullerton

RELAY CARNIVAL

Against Ray Swartz in the Relay Carnival, Chamberlain shaved a second and a half from this time, almost lapping the Western State star in 9:43. This was but one of the eight records tied or beaten in the meet when the state's best athletes, varsity and freshmen, competed against each other. Bob Olsen swung up 12 feet 4 inches in the pole vault, and State took a match 880 relay from Albion. The Spartan freshmen knocked fifteen seconds from the yearling two-mile relay mark, traveling the distance in 8:34.2.

Swanson

CENTRAL INTERCOLLEGIATES

Led once more by Chamberlain, who clipped an even ten seconds off the conference two-mile mark when he ran the distance in 9:24.2, the Spartans piled up 16½ points in the Central Intercollegiate meet to take second to a great Notre Dame team. The mighty Irish tied one world's record, and broke two gymnasium and four conference marks in amassing a total of 40 points. State's hurdlers picked up eight out of a possible sixteen points in the timber-topping events, when Yarger, Liberty, and Bath finished second, third, and fourth in the lows, and Yarger third in the highs.

FRESHMAN TRACK, 1930

Twenty-eight men received numerals for their work on the freshman track team, one of the strongest yearling squads ever developed at State. Defeating Alma varsity and freshmen, Adrian varsity, and Detroit City freshmen by overwhelming scores, they came out on the wrong side of the ledger only in telegraphic meets held with Marquette and Ohio Wesleyan freshmen. Mark Stephenson, Constantine, Ohio, sprinter, captained the squad.

The outstanding performer was Clifford Liberty, Upper Peninsula flash, who stood out in the hurdles, the dashes, the jumps, and even the weights. Probably as versatile a track man ever seen on a Spartan squad, he usually won twenty or twenty-five points for his team every meet. Others who did well and showed promise for the 1931 varsity were Jimmy Arbogast, Norman Smith, Rex Steele, and Bill Burgess.

These men were awarded numerals: Mark Stephenson, James Arbogast, H. L. Baker, R. J. Bernhagen, A. E. Briggs, K. E. Bull, William Burgess, M. F. Carter, R. C. Carlson, M. L. Collins, Don Conrad, Bob Elliott, Howard Galehouse, Monte Holcomb, John Kleinheksel, Kenneth Koppin, Clifford Liberty, A. B. Lipski, M. J. Moulthrop, Bob Monnett, Sperry Roush, J. W. Seaton, T. H. Sheehan, Norman Smith, Rex Steele, George Thomas, Marion Travis, Henry Wildschut. John Flewelling received the manager's award.

CROSS COUNTRY

Michigan State College sprang into national cross country prominence in 1931, when Captain Clark Chamberlain brought to the Mid-west its first National Intercollegiate crown.

Never in the history of the I. C. A. A. A. A. had this title traveled farther west than Cornell, and the fact that it now rests on the slim shoulders of a wearer of the Green and White is a fitting tribute to the ability of Morton F. Mason as a distance coach. A developer of winning teams since he came here in 1926, the hard-working Spartan mentor has realized a long-cherished ambition—national fame for one of his protegees.

The sole remaining letter winner from the remarkable 1930 squad which ranked second in the nation, Chamberlain did his best to compensate for the lack of strength exhibited by his team as a whole. He was undefeated in any competition. Besides his victory in the Eastern classic, he set new course records in the three dual meets, against Butler, Michigan, and Notre Dame, and climaxed the season by annexing the Central Intercollegiate title.

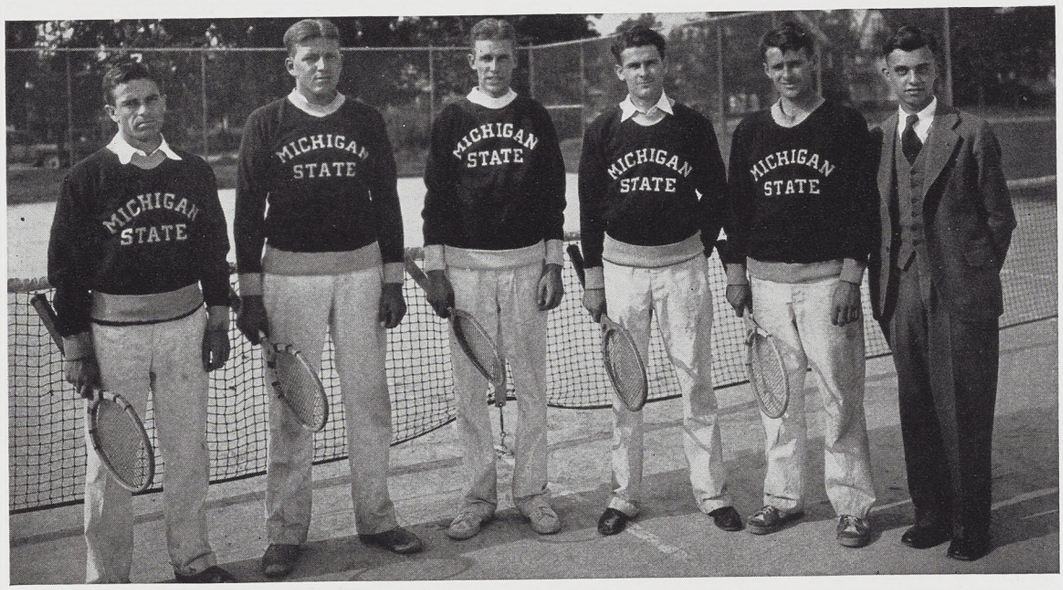

As far as the team was concerned, only mediocre success was attained. Starting auspiciously with a win over Butler, the Spartans then received two setbacks in succession at the hands of the University of Michigan and Notre Dame, and in the Central Intercollegiates tied for second place with Butler.

In recognition of his achievement in the I. C. A. A. A. A. run, Chamberlain was awarded a major letter and a gold track shoe. He was also honored by his team-mates by being re-elected captain for 1932, since he has another season of competition left.

Minor letters were given to the following men: Donald R. Conrad, Ithaca; Donald C. Price, Tawas City; Howard Galehouse, Battle Creek; Robert Elliott, Coldwater; Earle Steimle, Benton Harbor; and Stanley K. Frisbie, Fruitport. Marvin Horne, Dearborn, received the managerial award.

TENNIS

Coach Ball's 1930 tennis team, while not as successful as some teams that preceded it, nevertheless put up a good battle in every match. Any team that won from them knew that it had earned every point gained. In the face of the stiffest competition a Spartan team ever encountered Ball's charges won two of the eleven matches. Captain Kane, and Hilding Olson competed in the doubles at the C. I. C. meet, but were eliminated in the second round. Kane went to the semi-finals in the singles. He also went to the National Lawn Tennis meet at Haverford, Pa., where he was also eliminated in the second round of play.

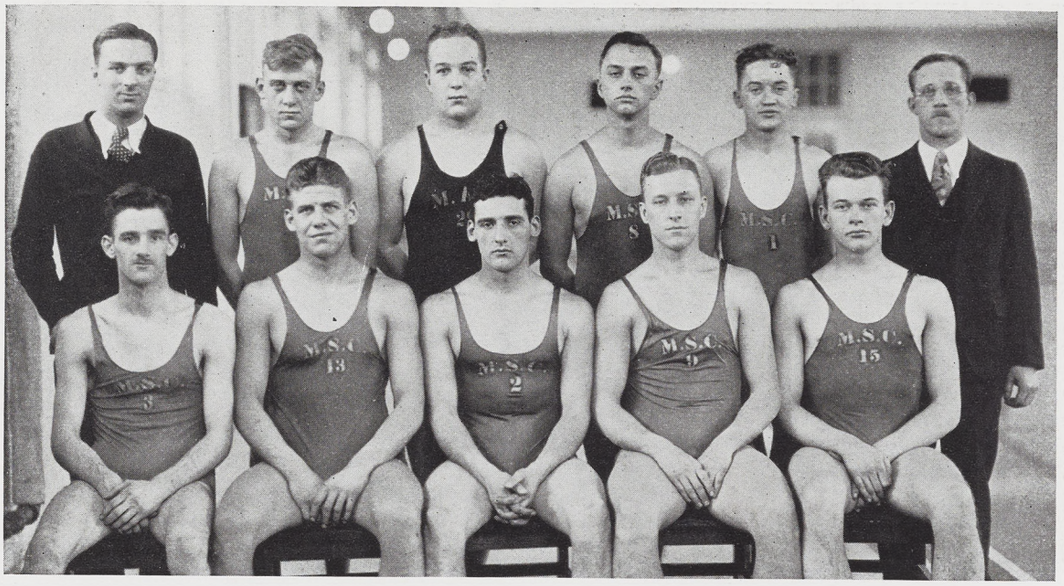

The letter winners: Hilding Olson (Capt.-elect), Paul Kane (Capt.), William Mott, Marshall Goodwin, and Dee Pinneo.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Michigan State had the best swimming team ever to represent the school in 1931. Six of the nine varsity records were broken. The only team to defeat Daubert's splashers was Michigan, who later won the National Championship by an overwhelming score. Three men were awarded major letters for their outstanding work: Horace S. Craig, Howard K. Clark, and Ray C. Schaubel. Minor letters were earned by John Tate, Lyle Hauger, Carlyle Lovewell, Evans Boucher, Gordon Snyder, and Dale Vaughan. The manager's award went to Arthur Ungren.

VARSITY WRESTLING

State's wrestling team enjoyed an exceptional year, bowing only to a powerful University of Michigan mat squad. All the other meets were won by large majority: Ohio U. succumbing 24-8, Mechanics Institute 22-10, and Alfred U. 25-5. Besides this, the team showed up well in the National Intercollegiate and the National Amateur.

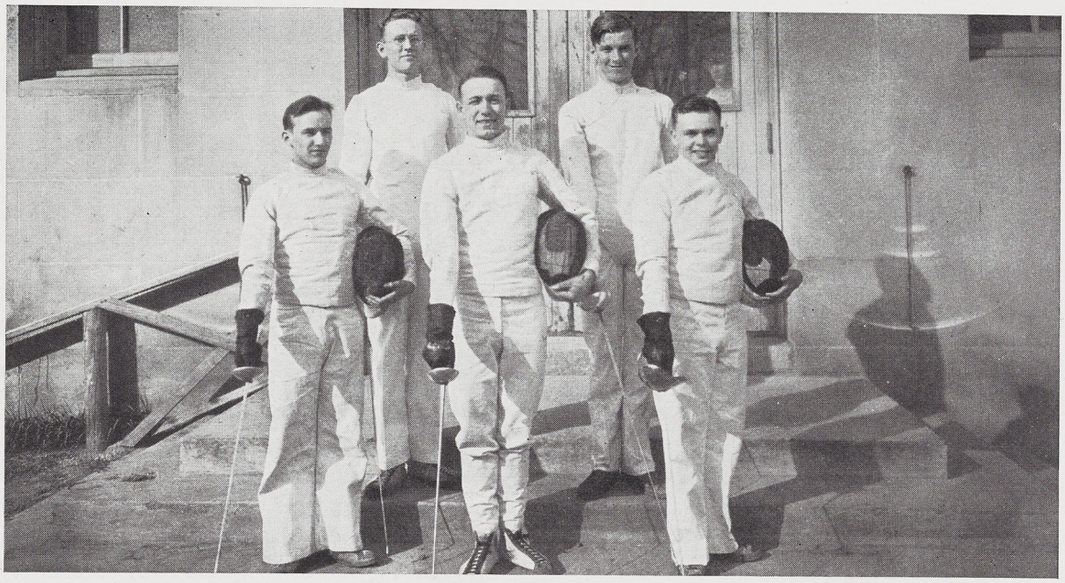

Captain Dick Tompkins was the outstanding wrestler on the squad, along with Harry Byam. Tompkins won all his bouts. Both men were awarded major letters for their work. Minor awards went to Stanley Ball, T. Roberts, K. Kriger, E. Strom, A. Cox, L. Marsa, O. Lepard, and S. Martinkewz. Service sweaters: R. Peterson and L. Tompkins. J. Laraway managed the team.

FENCING

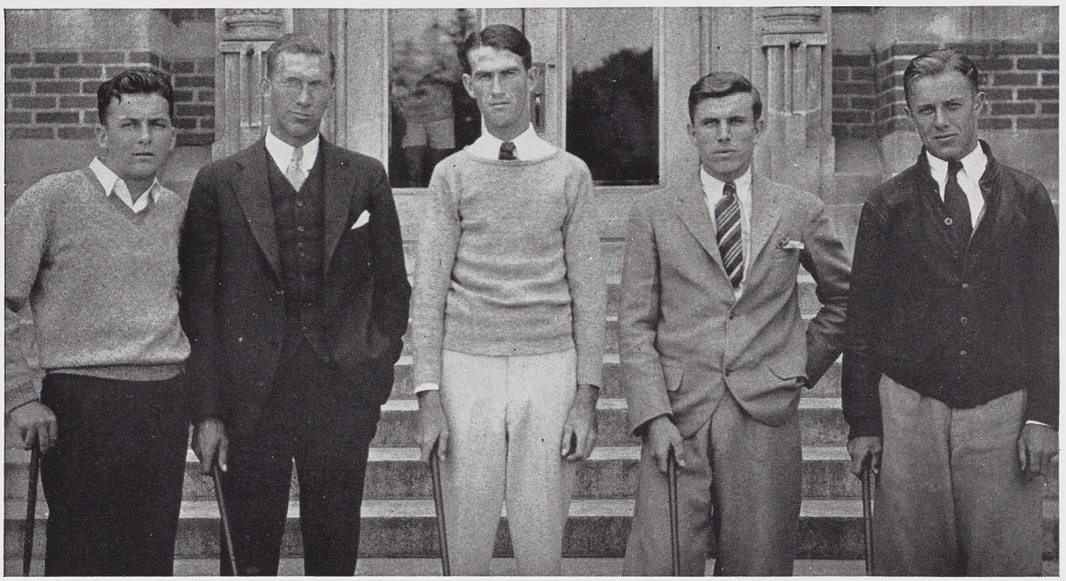

For the first time in history, a Spartan fencer was awarded a major letter. George Bauer, captain of the State team, was not defeated all season, in a schedule that included nothing but Big Ten teams, with the result that he was given a major award. Bauer also coached the squad. Minor awards went to R. W. Bristol, K. A. Krentel, Arthur Cash, and J. D. Wells. Ken Stonex won a service sweater.

VARSITY HOCKEY

Due to the lack of ice on every single day when games were scheduled, the 1930 hockey squad was unable to go into action. As a result, no awards were made.

Pace, Kane, Minier, Jones, Duffield

GOLF

In golf's first season here as a minor sport, the 1931 Spartan team piled up a record of seven victories in nine matches, losing only to Michigan and U. of D. The play of Captain Howard Minier and Captain-elect Arnold Duffield stood out. Other letter winners were Charles Huwer, Lawrence Pace, and William Kane.

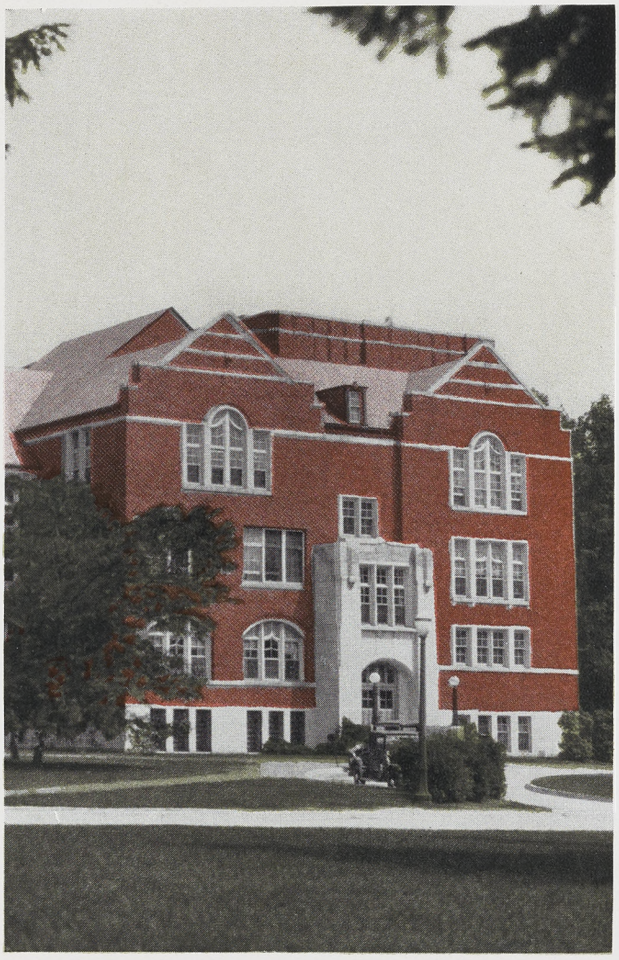

The record:

Grand Rapids Junior 8½—State 9½
U. of Detroit 10—State 8

THE WOLVERINE

Volume XXIX

The task of producing a college year book becomes more difficult each year. Few realize the hours of painstaking effort that contributed to the composite book. It is a work that requires fastidious planning of countless details. The ambition of every editor is without bounds, and almost invariably he is disappointed in his results. The apparition of failure constantly haunts him and the pressure of time causes him to do many things he later regrets.

It is at this point that the editor wishes to thank those who have given their services in the preparation of the Wolverine.

Mr. L. W. Pagett of Jahn & Ollier Company worked patiently with the editor throughout the year and offered many valuable suggestions from his vast experience with annuals. The development of the art theme is one of his own conceptions. The complicated and striking layout of the Campus section must be credited to Claude Streb, art editor, who devoted many valuable hours to make this section a work of art in itself.

The cover of the Wolverine, which adds to the beauty and appearance of the book, was created by the S. K. Smith Company of Chicago.

Sam Angert, of LeClear's Studio, co-operated faithfully and patiently with the editor in completing the photo work.

Harold Wesley, Leonard Burleigh and Ted Gehrke, of Dick Short Printing Company, are to be commended for their wise counsel and careful handling of the copy and printing.

The individual staff members have all done commendable work.

THE MICHIGAN STATE NEWS

The Michigan State News, official semi-weekly newspaper of the students of Michigan State College, is edited and directed entirely by a student staff headed by executives elected in the annual all-college winter term elections. Founded in 1909 as the Holcad, a weekly publication, the student paper has expanded in comparison to the rapid growth of the college and now ranks as one of the leading publications of its kind in collegiate circles.

The News has as its aim the complete coverage of all events of interest to the students of Michigan State, while the editorial policy is to give its readers accurate and clear discussions of current campus problems. A complete revamping of the business system during the past year has placed the Michigan State News in a substantial financial condition.

Local Honorary Campus Fraternity
Founded at M. S. C. in 1921

This is the oldest men's, senior, all-campus honorary society. Membership is awarded as recognition of rare qualities of leadership and service to the college. Its members are selected at a convocation or other all-college gathering and are presented to the assembly attired in the hood of blue and white, which is significant of knighthood.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Motto: "Above all Nations is Humanity"

The Cosmopolitan Club was first organized in 1907, but during the World War it had to disband. The club was reorganized on April 20, 1920, and has been in existence ever since. Its objects are: (1) To promote the spirit of brotherhood and human justice among students of all nationalities, races and creeds. (2) To foster mutual understanding and appreciation through discussion and exchange of ideas and (3) To function as a social medium for means of making the lives of foreign students happy and profitable, insuring that they come in contact with the best of American life and ideals.

DAIRY CLUB

The Michigan State Dairy Club is open to any student interested in dairying. While the club is carried out along dairying lines, it is the aim to make the organization a general get-together, and a diversion from contact in technical classes.

The club aids in financing the dairy judging teams which are sent out each fall to the National Dairy Judging Contests.

MUSIC, DRAMA, DEBATE

Lewis Richards

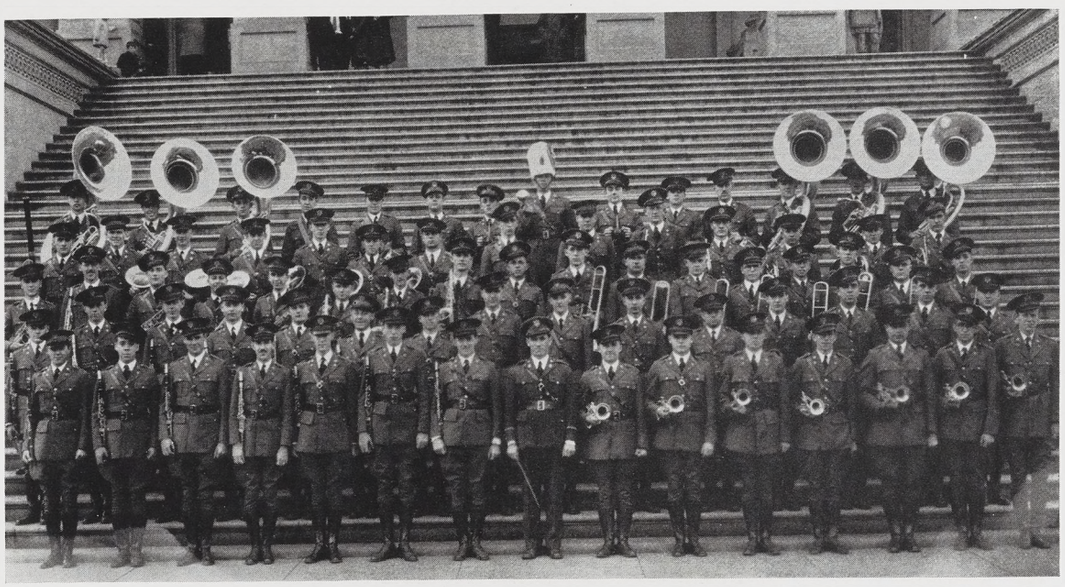

A more than satisfactory increase in enrollment has been made in the music department of the college, many of the sub-departments showing a total at the close of the fall term greater than that of the entire preceding year.

Interest in public school music courses has doubled. Fortunately the service of Miss Josephine Kackley had been loaned to the department by the National Recreation and Playground Association of New York City, a plan was immediately made to do extension work in rural districts, students to get practice teaching under the direction of Miss Kackley.

Alexander Schuster, noted Russian cellist, came from Berlin to act as head of the cello department and Zinovy Kogan, Russian violinist and conductor who is acting as assistant to Michael Press and director of the college chorus, was another important addition to the faculty.

LIBERAL ARTS BOARD

The Michigan State college lecture course under the auspices of the Liberal Arts board was one of the most extensive ever undertaken by the college. Seven lectures by world famous people made up the course.

The first lecture was given by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen on Nov. 20. Mrs. Owen told the assembled crowd of nearly two thousand students of the importance of women in our modern world.

Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins related his experiences in flying over both the south and north poles in the second lecture of the series Dec. 18. Wilkins stressed the hazardous adventures that were encountered on the trips and also spent considerable time telling of the proposed submarine trip to the north pole which is scheduled for this summer.

The artistically inclined students were given a treat Jan. 29, when Lorado Taft, renowned sculptor, lectured on a dream museum in which the finest works of art and sculpture ever produced were gathered and presented to the public in the manner that the creating artist intended that they should be presented. All who attended the lecture were well entertained.

"A World That Never Was" was the subject of the interesting fourth lecture on the course given by Maurice Hindus February 10. Hindus, a Russian peasant lad who made good in this country, gave intimate views of the country of his birth and explained the new soviet system now at work in Russia. He presented the favorable side of the Russian question and made a hit with the capacity audience.

In the fifth lecture, Feb. 17, Tom Skeyhill, one of the foremost of American lecturers, gave a brilliant detailed account of the life of Sergeant Alvin B. York, World War hero, who, single handed, captured over a hundred German soldiers. Humor, forcefulness, and wonderful delineation made this one of the most appreciated speeches in the entire course.

A glamorous word-picture of adventures in all parts of the world was painted by Count Felix von Luckner in the last of the scheduled lectures. Von Luckner, a soldier of fortune and outstanding German naval hero, completed the lecture he began a year ago by telling the rest of his tale about his buccaneering cruise in which he encountered scores of thrilling and hair-raising adventures.

A special treat for the students was given April 30 when, through the efforts of Prof. W. E. Johnston, head of the English department and director of the Liberal Arts board, Dr. Frederick B. Fisher was secured to give a lecture on Mahatma Ghandi and the London Peace conference. Dr. Fisher, who has been a life-long friend of Ghandi, explained the Indian side of the controversy between India and England, and pointed out the prominent role Ghandi played in the peacefully settling of the differences between the two nations.

THETA ALPHA PHI STAGINGS

High class entertainment—diverting, interesting, delightful. So were the three Theta Alpha Phi plays produced during the past year characterized by student and townsfolk sentiment. These three-act comedies, two of which were staged in the State Theater and the other in the Little Theater, were cast and directed by Prof. E. S. King, able dramatics coach of thirty years standing at State.

The first production, "Aren't We All," a fast-moving, sophisticated comedy written by the celebrated playwright, Frederick Lonsdale, was accurately described as a performance comparable with the best efforts of the Michigan Delta Chapter of the National Dramatics Society since its organization here. Five of the players in the near veteran cast had made stage appearances prior to the initial offering of the year in the State Theater December 4.

The leading feminine part was taken by Beryl Abbey, acting the role of an Englishwoman of the younger generation. Her opposite was Garfield Thatcher, who was cast in the part of an English nobleman. Both parts were carried out with the deftness characteristic of experienced actors. Probably the thespian who drew the most favorable comment was Warren Rogers, who by his treatment of the character of a distinguished old sportsman merited the criticism of "going through one of the heaviest roles in the play with the aptitude of a professional—whose stage technique was almost perfect." Dorothy Troth was the other sub-lead and admirably depicted a blase, sophisticated society lady.

Others in the cast were Leonard Sawdy, Margaret Marshall, Esther Chivers, Glenn Dailey, Edward Gibbs, Lloyd Weaver, and Ted Foster. All contributed to the smooth action of the play, at times showing performances of real brilliance. That the subtleties of this plot of the intrigues of social life were well done was demonstrated by the unfailing response by the audience of 500. The play was re-presented during Farmers' Week early in February.

"The Three Shadows," a play bordering on the mysterious, was the next presentation to 800 theater-goers on January 28 in the State Theater. This three-act drama of secret romance and scheming by Max Marcin and Guy Bolton was well handled by the cast of twelve. Notable among the players was Paul Younger who was able to get across successfully a long series of clever gags. Supporting Howard Smith and Mabel Peterson who took the leads were: Jack Green, William Mott, Thelma Cole, Byron Mate, Gordon Evans, Howard Conrad, Don Button, Howard Come, and Kenneth Eldred.

"Skidding"

Younger, Tripp, Mate, Evans, Lauzun, Rix
Mott, Cole, Caswell, Larke

"Skidding," by Auriana Rouverol, climaxed the winter term with the presentation of the three-act comedy of politics and college education in the Little Theater March 18. It was said by critics to be the most polished production in recent years, but the dramatic ability shown languished upon a small crowd of not more than 150. The lateness of the date and student preparation for final examinations was given as a reason for the disappointing turnout.

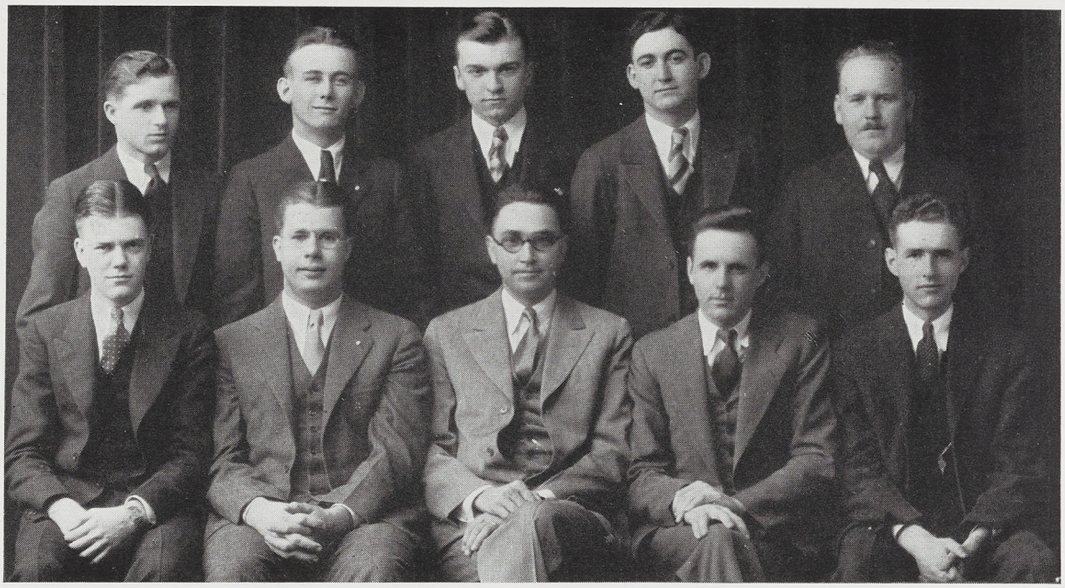

Several characters were outstanding but the entire cast gave a good account of itself. Thelma Cole was the player foremost in character portrayal as she was extremely natural in her part of mother of four children and wife of a small town politician. Irma Caswell as the feminine lead handled her part well, giving some excellent emotional acting. Her opposite was Glenn Larke in the role of a young Easterner who seriously objected to the political aspirations of the heroine. Paul Younger and Byron Mate performed perfectly in the character parts of adolescent boy and aged grandfather, respectively. Helen Tripp was cast as a spinster school-teacher, obtaining much response from the audience when she acted the scene of an impassioned objection to her status in life. The part of a self-centered young married daughter was well done by Harriet Rix, who contributed materially to the atmosphere of the friction and quarrels found in the typical American family.

Others in the cast, all of whom displayed remarkable talent, were Virginia Lauzan, William Mott, and Gordon Evans. The play showed evidence of much preparation and many scenes drew forth applause from the small audience. The vehicle is aptly described as "a cross section of the Great American Home," having had a nation-wide reception on the legitimate stage.

The final play of the year is to be the annual spring term senior play to be given during commencement week.

Theta Alpha Phi as an organization holds a position among honorary fraternities at Michigan State unique in service and talent. Ranking among the most active in extra-curricular endeavor, the society stands alone as a self-supporting group. With its membership chosen from the outstanding in dramatic ability, Theta Alpha Phi goes far toward developing talent in its field besides providing student theater-goers with a source of recreation and diversion.

Having attained a niche on campus by achieving success in its particular activity, the honorary has never been challenged for its place. Truly, Theta Alpha Phi stands alone in achievement, service and utility.

VARSITY DEBATING

Michigan State competed in an unusually large number of debates this year, having engaged in some thirty-eight contests. The speakers were victorious in seventeen of the meets, no decisions were given in nine, and twelve debates were lost.

The Pi Kappa Delta convention at Bowling Green, Ohio, climaxed this very successful season, giving State nine victories out of thirteen debates.

Members of the squad were:

J. Kidder	P. Younger	L. Lovewell	R. Boelio
R. Hutchinson	R. Hurley	W. Pratt

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Martha Farley

The Associated Women Students' Organization includes as members all women students. The purpose of the Council representing this large body is, aside from self-government and the regulation of women's activities on the campus, the promotion of constructive activities and projects through which each life may be improved individually and as a whole.

With Freshman Week as the commencement of its activities, A. W. S. with the assistance of other groups on the campus, attempts to make easier for each new girl her adjustment to her new surroundings.

SPARTAN WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The League was created to give all girls an opportunity to work with each other in extra curricular activities, and to provide a central meeting place for all co-eds. It is for all girls, sorority and non-sorority.

During the past year they have sponsored a very successful Formal dance and a Spring Term party, several teas, and instructive classes in bridge and social dancing.

The Spartan Women's League is governed by an Executive Board of seven members and the Faculty advisor, Miss J. Garvin. The members of the Board for 1931 and 1932 are Mabel Petersen, general chairman; Jean Churchill, vice-chairman; Winona Peterson, secretary; Ann Van Loo, corresponding secretary; Charmion Griswold, sophomore representative; Catherine Geib, freshman representative; and Mary Williams, treasurer.

Pearl Perrin was the founder of the organization.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Y. W. C. A. has an active organization in connection with the Peoples Church. Every college woman who desires to join this group is invited to become a member and should apply to the chairman of the membership committee or any cabinet member. The organization does not have any fees for membership, the financial responsibilities are ably taken care of by an annual finance drive.

The Campus Girls' Assembly, which meets every Sunday at 12 o'clock, is an interesting meeting that is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. An employment bureau, special trips, vesper services, and appropriate events for special days of the year are other activities of the organization.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Girls who are fond of sports and athletics will find at Michigan State College unusual opportunity to acquire and exercise a large number of skills in individual and team games. During the school year, no less than twenty different activities are offered to those wishing to participate. From this varied program, it is probable that every girl on the campus could select one or more activities in which, with a little effort, she could develop sufficient skill, interest and ability to wish to continue after leaving college.

In the fall, field hockey is the major activity, but soccer, golf and bowling receive their due share of attention. During the winter season, the ever-fascinating basketball is very popular, but swimming, fencing, volley ball, dancing, skating and rifle each has its enthusiastic adherents. In the spring, when nature at her best appeals to everyone to spend every available moment out of doors, the restless urge for activity may be satisfied by baseball, track, tennis, horseback riding, archery, hiking or canoeing. At any time of the year, groups of girls may enjoy delightful over-night or week-end parties at the Women's Athletic Association cabin in the woods, and come away richer for the added experience of comeraderie and good fellowship.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association is one of the largest and most active organizations on the campus. The fact that each member gives her individual support in every possible manner makes it a growing self-supporting association. The duty of the Association is to promote a lasting interest in physical activities for women that will not only make for higher physical efficiency, but create a spirit of true sportsmanship. It functions by offering fifteen activities during the college year, a variety large enough to attract every woman.

Awards of the association are numerals for first hundred points, small "S" for five hundred points, English "S" for one thousand points and Honor Roll for fifteen hundred points. One hundred points are given for each first class team membership and for being an officer of the association; seventy-five points for holding an association chairmanship, fifty points for second team membership and for holding a sport managership; twenty-five points for team try-outs and participation in any event, such as over-night canoe trip or cross-country hike.

The requirements for membership in the association are a "C" academic average and one hundred activity points.

The organization is managed by an executive board which consists of officers, sport managers and a faculty advisor. The aim of the board is to guide the functioning of all college sports and to promote the ideals of play.

THE "S" CLUB

The "S" Club consists of those who have been awarded a large old English letter "S" by the Women's Athletic Association for having earned 1,000 points by participation in any of the fifteen sports offered during the entire college course. To be a member of the "S" Club one must have played on ten first class teams or have participated in enough activities to make the equivalent.

HONOR ROLL

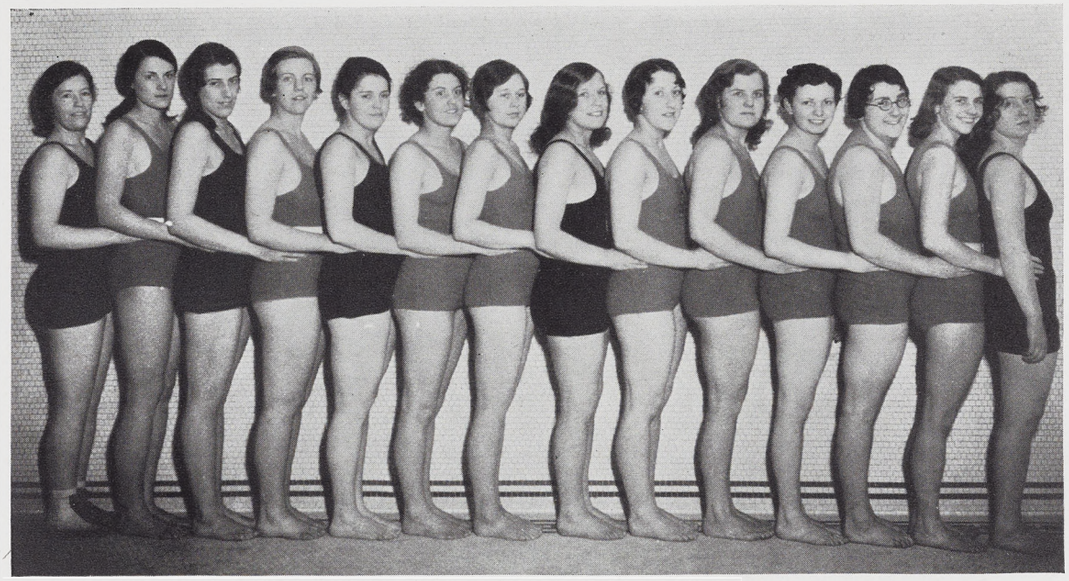

The Honor Roll of the Women's Athletic Association symbolizes the highest achievement in women's athletics. This is based on sports, skills, sportsmanship, character, leadership, and personality. The award is one merely of honor, which is recognized by placing the signature on the Honor Roll Sheep Skin. To be on the Honor Roll one must have received fifteen hundred points for activity within the association.

The association boasts of twelve Honor Roll members within the past two years. It is pleased to add two more names to the Honor Roll this year.

It is hoped that interest and participation will continue at top speed as it has and that many more girls will have the thrill and pleasure of being Honor Roll Members.

GREEN SPLASH

Women's Honorary Swimming Society

In the fall of 1927, the co-ed Red Cross Life Saving Corps which was organized in 1920, reorganized itself into an honorary swimming club, Green Splash.

It is the purpose of the members not only to improve and develop their own technique but also to help others acquire a degree of proficiency in swimming.

During the year of 1930-31 Green Splash sponsored life saving classes for sixty freshman girls, twenty-one of whom passed the Senior Life Saving Examination, and eight who passed the Examiners' Test.

Spring term the swimming club acted as hostess at a swimming playday in which girls of Detroit City College, University of Michigan, Battle Creek College, and Michigan State Normal College participated.

SORORITIES

Michigan State College is proud of the fact that her women students are an intelligent, eager, capable group. Those who are leaders on the campus in activities demand of themselves high grade scholastic attainments as the first requisite for the honor of holding office. The organizations themselves want leaders with alert minds and executive ability enough to carry their play-time activities without sacrifice of scholastic honors.

Student activities should serve as a training in adjustment and leadership. We like to feel that Michigan State College presents each year in its Women's Activity Division girls who have proved the fact that women can think well and play hard.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Purpose of this organization, which consists of two members of each sorority on the campus, is to form an inter-fraternity compact binding on all member chapters, and to regulate matters of Fraternity interest to all groups.

At the annual Pan-Hellenic Banquet the scholarship cup was presented to the sorority having the highest scholarship during the past year. Sigma Kappa won this honor.

Two delegates, Ellen Larson and Dorothy Wickstrom, attended the Annual Conference of Intercollegiate Pan-Hellenic Associations of Urban Universities at Evanston, Illinois.

They brought back many points of interest and discussed problems that are common on all campuses.

The Spring Pan-Hellenic Ball held May 22 at the Hotel Olds was successfully managed by Christine Dynes.

FRATERNITIES AT MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Previous to 1921 an unwritten ban prevented the introduction of national fraternities to the M. A. C. campus. In May, 1921, the ban was lifted by sanction of the faculty with the unanimous support of the State Board of Agriculture, the controlling body of the college.

This is not the college's first experience with national general fraternities for at one time chapters of the Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta fraternities were established on the campus. When they were abolished in 1895, the Delta Tau Delta group lost its identity and most of its members joined the Eclectic Society, a local collegiate group. The Phi Delta Theta group remained intact and became known as the Phi Delta Society. At this time sentiment in the faculty was against national fraternities. The college was small, but little more than a "prep" school and a national fraternity could not be supported. With the abolishment of these two chapters, the "unwritten ban" was adopted. But with the growth of the school, its increased scholastic standards, sentiment in the student body and alumni prompted the faculty to pass favorably on national general fraternities. To guarantee that the "open door" has no spring, the college president appointed an official faculty committee on national general fraternities. The door is open to stay.

But college life is not college life without some sort of fraternal organizations. To fill the place of the national fraternities, a system of "literary societies" sprang up. Several such groups, membership in each averaging 30 to 40, are found upon the campus. As time and conditions on the campus showed the need of more such groups, more were added until at the time of the lifting of the ban there were sixteen such societies for men and five for women. Membership requirements for the local societies vary somewhat but, as is true on most college campuses, the best type of college man is chosen, so that men of fraternity calibre are assured.

REGIMENTAL OFFICERS

Each year a Cadet Colonel and one or more Lieutenant Colonels are selected from among the senior members of the advanced R. O. T. C. course. The selection is made on the basis of scholarship as displayed in Military Department work, appearance and leadership, and all-around executive ability.

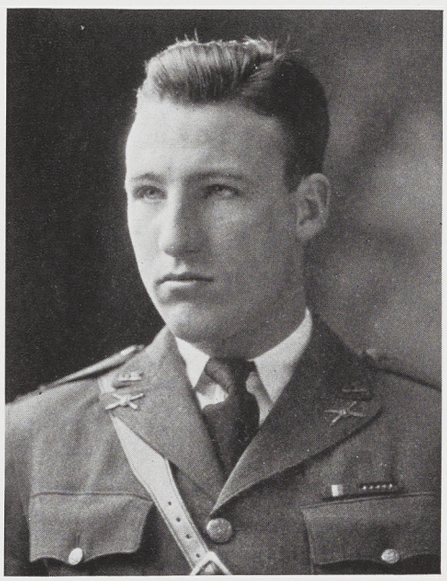

It is customary for the three units to alternate in furnishing a Cadet Colonel, the Lieutenant Colonels coming from the other two units.

Regimental officers were selected as follows:

Colonel.....Claude R. Streb, Infantry, R. O. T. C.
Lieutenant Colonel.....Marvin R. Horne, C. A. C., R. O. T. C.
Lieutenant Colonel.....Francis K. Peppler, Cavalry, R. O. T. C.

CAVALRY SQUADRON

Upon the Cavalry rests the responsibility of all scouting and reconnaissance work. Although it is especially adapted to these missions, due to its extreme mobility, it is no less adapted to the other phases of modern warfare, for the equipment of Cavalry not only includes individual rifles, pistols and sabers, but machine guns, machine rifles and armored car troops as well.

The Cavalry course at State consists of a general training course during the first two years, while the elective course embraces advanced equitation, a machine gun course, map reading and sketching, military history and policy and Cavalry tactics.

Two night rides are held during the spring term, Junior and Senior, while a Cavalry demonstration is given, the latter consisting of jumping, both singly and in groups, and some bareback work. In addition to these activities, the Cavalry acts as mounted escort to all notables visiting the campus.

INFANTRY BATTALION

The infantry is the backbone of the army, often referred to as "Queen of Battles," and the success or failure of a maneuver depends upon the discipline, training and equipment of the troops.

The work in this course is both practical and theoretical, and while basic infantry training consists of rifle practice and drill, the advanced work offers courses in sanitation, infantry weapons, military tactics, leadership, map reading, military history and policy, and the advanced military sciences.

An infantry demonstration is given annually showing a platoon in attack, the taking up of the battle formation as in regular warfare, with the conditions simulated as near as possible through the use of pyrotechnics, smoke, rifles, machine guns, automatic rifles, 3-inch trench mortars, and the 37 mm. guns.

COAST ARTILLERY BATTALION

The Artillery is organized to aid in the support of the Infantry in its various movements and maneuvers.

The basic course covers general artillery drill and instruction in the use of the artillery weapons. The advanced course consists of field engineering and tactics, military law, military history, and firing problems. Instruction covers practically all the weapons used in the coast artillery from the .22 calibre rifle to the 16-inch railroad howitzer.

The unit is equipped with two anti-aircraft machine guns; one 75 mm. anti-aircraft gun mounted on a truck; one 155 mm. field gun drawn by a ten-ton tractor, and all necessary range finding apparatus.

RIFLE SQUAD

The rifle team, coached by Lieut. Rockafellow, had the most successful season in its history by winning thirty-three out of forty-five matches. This team has been together three years and in that period has won 72 matches and lost 39. The all-time school record was broken against Indiana University when the points totaled 3618.

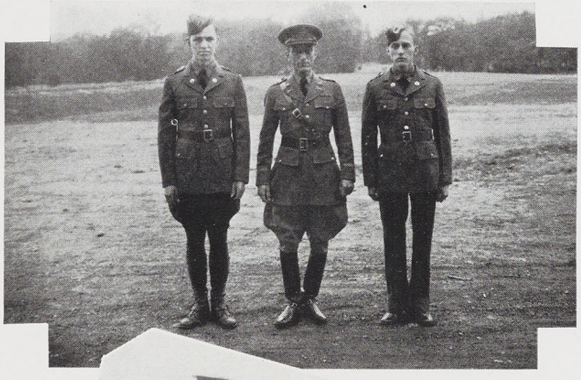

D. D. Smith broke his own school record when he gathered 378 points in one meet. S. L. Slater won the Maj. H. E. Loomis trophy for the highest average for the season.

The following men received minor sports awards:

THE 1931
BULLVERINE

Published by the Politicians of the Senior Class
Michigan State College

(Prayer by John Tatz, Jr.)

FOREWORD

Well, here it is. Take it or leave it and believe it or not. The 1931 Bullverine preserves that spirit of campus development that has raised a singing silo, innumerable hen houses, and a good bull barn. So, in commemoration of this colossal achievement, the theme of this year's Bullverine is the Eyesore Campus as it is made by the actions and activities of her sons and daughters.

Lean back in your chair, light a Camel (adv.), turn the pages from right to left . . . let's go!

DEDICATION

This vale of jeers surfeited as it is with diabolical malpractices, such as the canned learning which is tossed aimlessly about in the classroom, finds little, if any, surcease in that holy of all holies, the sacrosanct corridors of the arts and lit, for in its fuzzy by-ways gleams forth high above the sordidness of all things that deliciously sentimental habit of dedication.

Therefore we are faced with the necessity of dedicating this diaphanous diatribe to somebody or something. Since this thing was given its inception by such immortals as Shelley, Keats, Shakespeare, Goldsmith, Spenser, etc., we can only conform, and do likewise. (Pardon us, if we rant like a professor, causing strange weighiness about the eyelids.)

So we will dedicate, and ipso facto of all ipso factos, (for we were never previously suspected of such reverential obeisance to law and the faculty) we will dedicate to our beloved tautological administration, and all the little administrators, yea, even unto the humblest weilder of the chalk.

In this dedication racket it is also necessary to pay tribute to that which is subjected to the singer of scorns. We will say nice things, then, about our blessed administration. Furthermore in order that no one member of the facultate shall suffer delusions of partiality or persecution we will paint the thing on a large canvas, as one instructor is wont to say, after all. Thus all of them will experience that glow of satisfaction that accompanies the digestion of a goodly meal honestly and respectably earned, or on receiving a neatly turned compliment for work well done. We will busy ourselves about the latter.

First we dedicate to the administration for their impregnable respectability and honor in all their dealings, the one with the other and the whole with the student body. We are amazed at their righteousness, their purity, and the complete lack of disruptive forces and pettiness among them. Among them is no provincialism (or any other ism), no bigotry, no narrowness, no smallness. All is cleanliness next to godliness. Everything is broad, tolerant, above-board and fair, as befits an institution devoted to the pursuit of agriculture and the allied arts. A veritable oasis in the desert of middle-western Comstockianism. A green figleaf among the cacti. Not even two powerful state senators with the appropriation bill as a club could intimidate our great ones. (Well, if you insist, a little compromise.)

It follows, then, that it is fitting that we should do this, a more deserving group to whom to dedicate could hardly be found except, perhaps, that we ruminate diligently midst the sacred archives of our fair college, digging up this and that.

But we must pass sadly, leaving pleasant reminiscences of our beloved administration with regret, from the sublime to the satanic, for in immediate and infamous juxtaposition grovel the base, moronic malfeasances of the student body. However, one must not judge too harshly the many for the insalubriousness of the few. For, God wot, they know not what they do. We no longer dedicate, we must on, for everything comes out in

of which plenty immediately. We will cast the bespattered linen upon the tightrope of shame. We will enter the halls of the pseudo-great and strip them of their garments and hang them before the vast throngs. We will use the rack, and other methods of the inquisition, from which no pious soul turns in horror with much verbiage attended by great waving about of the arms and excessive activity of the lachrymose glands.

We suggest as a fitting reward for the laboriously egregious efforts put forth by the student council, the inter-fraternity council, A. W. S., Scabbard and Blade, the army in general, Sphinx, Excalibur, Pan-Hellenic council, various and sundry unmentionable departments of the school, Theta Alpha Phi, and the State News, that they be awarded high honors in the exclusive Halls of Ineptitude. Let their portraits done in oil and framed in brass each find its proper place in the quiet and secluded Halls, away from the pettiness and sordidness of man throwing out the garbage. Then posterity may look with awe and gaze with wonder, and aspire greatly.

FRATERNITIES

In the beginning the first student was afraid. There was no one that he could brag to about his exploits, thereby hushing up the fears that weighed on him in his inability to depend upon himself. There was no one to listen to his conquest of numerous maiden hearts. There was no one to get drunk with to inflame the ego to a yet higher pitch; no one to tell obscene stories to; no one to cheat with; no one to listen to him gripe about all he had to do, how each instructor was a loathsome instrument of torture, who spitefully gave him low grades because he resented the flame of youth that had ebbed in himself; no one with whom to mawkishly gabble about his one true love; no one to admire him; no one to hold his head.

Later other guileless optimists came to study, and they also felt the imperative need. So they formed the first fraternity and covered up their shame of the real reason with sonorous and disjointed phrases about some vague ideal, of which they had not the slightest understanding. And now on every hand, they clutter up the atmosphere, like so much outside plumbing.

Ae Theon

Signifying: Awful Tripe.
Founded by: Four gutter rats on a bender.

Merely a bunch of parvenu. Somebody built them a new house, so the seniors quit speaking to the freshmen, the frosh hi-hatted G. D. I., and they all entered politics. They had a house-warming party because they heard it was the thing to do, and their receiving line was the biggest joke of the year. Everybody stayed sober for the first time in history. Even Holly Biers.

Alpha Gamma Rho

Signifying: All Gabby Rubes.
Founded by: Six dirt farmers with the hives.

The boys are an excellent example why the farmer is always broke, and perpetually griping about it. Bill Mott, the Parrish twins, and Bentley are proud of its dusty heritage, they are in their element when the boulevard gets its annual coat of manure.

Signifying: Drunk.
Founded by: A defrocked monk.

Having acquired Kowatch they have now gone in for athletics; but they will never be able to live down the reputation Doc Crist earned for them. They are always the first on campus to blossom forth in the newest thing in high school apparel.

Delta Sigma Phi

Signifying: The Four Horsemen.
Founded by: The Bartenders Association for the Advancement of Learning.

There isn't much you can say for these boys, but, according to the co-eds, they try hard. One of their most forceful characters is Minier.

Eclectic

Signifying: Tipsy but proud.
Founded by: A great yen for alky.

They are to be found at every important gathering of Alpha Phis, public and private. Jack Ruhl is the daddy of them all, he's been around since the flood. (They don't know it's over.) They ostracised Ryon because he's nerts about a Theta. Like all good business men they are interested in a monopoly.

* * *

Eunomian

Signifying: You know me, pal.
Founded by: Four disgusted egotists.

These boys are clean politicians. They had nightmares during the winter all-college elections about G. D. I. and sobbed about it all day. Since they didn't wash out their mouths with soap, we prophesy that the mud will cake on their tongues, and the frosting will turn to gall before many moons. Merkel, their artistic engineer, is at present wet nurse to the anaemic State News.

Hermian

Signifying: Hopelessly pure.
Founded by: Six perfect attendants to the Sultan's harem.

The society was originally founded as a national for the purpose of judging Hereford cattle, but it has deteriorated. Now with such lights as Meno and Haskins they have gone literary and temperamental. They are a household word with the co-eds. Their parties are conspicuous for their sobriety and heavy tread.

Hesperian

Signifying: God's pious gift to the co-ed.
Founded by: A wet smack.

They are long on worldly goods but weak at the knees. There is one born every minute, and it's the kind of a business in which there is no depression. They live up there on the hill because some smartster told them they could get boiled more quickly in a rarafied atmosphere. Besides it's good for their nose trouble.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Signifying: The blessed waters of the spirit.
Founded by: The type of heel that doesn't bounce.

These boys are mystics, they are nearly always in a state resembling intoxication; whether it is the inebriation that comes from the sweet drunkeness of spring, or to some nectar more within their powers of comprehension is a matter of conjecture. However they seem to have a vast familiarity with bottles from which no milk ever flows, if that throws any suds upon the foam. Schaubel and Clark are two of their best boys with a corkscrew, although the co-eds don't think either of them are very handy.

Signifying: Pansies.
Founded by: Four lillies of the valley.

These lovely creatures gambol nightly upon the lawn, lightly skipping to and fro, and the ephemeral seven veils glint in the moonglow as their sweating bodies rythmically undulate over the bleeding grass, like a freshman ag. on his first party.

Signifying: Ripe and pungent.
Founded by: A manure spreader with a sense of humor.

As might be expected with such a beginning they developed into politicians. (Campus variety). From thereabouts cometh a rancid and decadent odor, no more than might be expected, but slightly overwhelming to a sensitive soul. Conover handled the finances of the junior class in a manner to be admired. Yes! Nor did they do too regurgitatingly in the winter term elections, being obsessed with the idea that all's fair in love and electioneering. To the victor comes the soil.

Signifying: Lean and lank, and very rank.

Founded by: Seven armless kleptomaniacs.

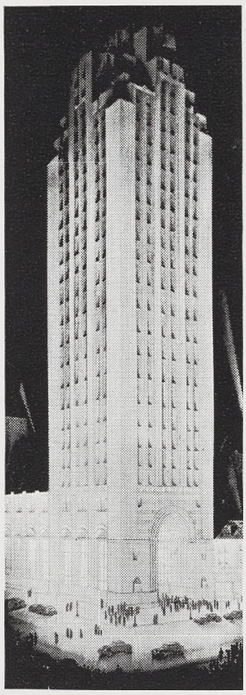

As suggested by their founders they don't have much pick-up. In spite of their numerous handicaps (about fifty members) they admit in a loud voice that they have a way with the gals. It must be a long way from here. They are quick-change artists as evidenced by the fact that almost overnight Bud Gibbs took to wearing shirts and neckties, and became co-ed conscious. The sartorial effects are grievously lamented by his brethren. Especially by "Austin" Steimle, the runabout boy.

PRINTING is often called
"DIRECT ADVERTISING"

PRINTING occupies the same relation to direct advertising as does a piece of cloth to a suit of clothes!

It is but one of many elements, chief of which is long experience in the broad field of modern merchandising.

The directing heads of this organization are backed by more than twenty years' experience in sales-promotion work.

Primarily our business is the creation and development of sales campaigns by means of well-planned direct-advertising. Incidentally, we print the pieces.

SORORITIES

At one time the world was made for man, at least that was the supposition. (And woman took it for granted that she was made by man, or for man. It really didn't make any difference.) But slowly the insidious change took place. One of the first breaks they (women) made was to seek learning in the various alleged centers of learning, or as we know them today, colleges.

When the first co-ed sat in the first row of seats in a class, and beamed innocently into the face of the startled instructor, man's place in the seats of learning suffered an irreparable loss. But to the aspiring young female this was not enough. With no female companionship her opportunities of being catty, and slyly insinuating that she caused deeper and more violent convulsions in more male chests was sadly curtailed. What was the use of so much male admiration when there was no other girl to torment about it? Sadly she realized that there was no one to gossip with or about. She wilted with unhealthy suppression, like a paralized dog with fleas.

Though she resented the arrival of more co-eds to poach upon her fields, she was relieved and really glad. They needed each other, so the first sorority was founded, amid holy incantations to salve their uneasy consciences.

Alpha Chi Omega

Signifying: The Lay of the Last Minstrel.
Founded by: The six veils that were in the wash.

These coy wenches have a few good boys around, but they are generally transients, fly by nights, as it were.

* * *

Alpha Gamma Delta

Signifying: Come one, come all, the gates are never barred.
Founded by: Four babes with few inhibitions.

Quiet and demure they go their way, but like the mounted police they always get their man, even though it be a Trimoira; they do draw the line at a Hermian.

Alpha Phi

Signifying: Get away from those swinging doors, little boy, your daddy's not in there.
Founded by: Good Queen Bess.

The lambent flame forever glows
Within those pale, blue eyes.

Wasn't it Bacon that said "he who hath wife or children has given hostages to fortune?" What more can be said?

Chi Omega

Signifying: Chaste, chaste, forever chaste.
Founded by: A rose born to blush unplucked.

Sadly, morosely they wend their way before empty bleachers, and within simmers true devotion, but man is a shallow creature, and cannot see below the surface. But, stick to it, girls, for there is much solace in figures. There are 107 men to every 102 women. You are blessed with a mathematical break.

Ero Alphian

Signifying: Suffer little children to come in unto me.
Founded by: A lonely monk.

They soon gave the monk the air, and looked around for legitimate prey; but the game was wary, although the woods were full. However, they have picked up a few strays in the last few years, and they are generally successful with the freshmen, who haven't learned to discriminate between a date and an engagement.

* * *

Kappa Alpha Theta

Signifying: The best things in life are free.
Founded by: A traveling salesman with prophetic vision.

These timorous damsels are usually in a state of amorous astigmatism, which is probably due to the fact that the street lamp in front of their house was rendered inoffensive with a coat of paint. Having a layer of sophistication, they are at their best at night.

Signifying: Strangers may kiss (imagine that!)
Founded by: The visiting ball team.

They have their moments, but, being perverse imps, they come at the wrong time.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Signifying: Fifty thousand Frenchmen can't be wrong.
Founded by: Agnes, Mabel, and Beckie.

A flock of smooth numbers not unduly overburdened with brains. They like their men like their liquor,—diluted. They major in campustry and they do well in a canoe.

Sesame

Signifying: The thousand and one tales.
Founded by: A night-watchman.

They are war-babes, having first seen the light of day during that asinine struggle over the definition of democracy. One hears little about them, but still waters run deep. Say, have we been missing something?

Delta Alpha

Signifying: True originality cannot be sloppy.
Founded by: Ten knights in a barroom.

They still think that when they take a tramp in the woods that they are going for a walk. They are young yet, and they will learn, or be taught, if, so be it, an opportunity is offered.

IN ALL THE FOUR FACTORS OF ECONOMY, THE NEW OLDSMOBILE STANDS HIGH

First cost . . . operating expense . . . long life . . . and service costs . . . these are the four fundamental factors which determine, in dollars and cents, how economically you can acquire and own a motor car. And in all four of these fundamental factors of economy the new Oldsmobile stands high.

First, it is economical to buy—for its new lower price now makes it possible for you to enjoy Oldsmobile's fine-car advantages at extremely moderate cost. And many of these advantages, including the famous Syncro-Mesh non-clashing transmission with Quiet Second Gear, are now made available for the first time in any car at such low price.

Second, the new Oldsmobile is economical to drive, because its cost of operation, month after month, is uniformly low. Demands on fuel, oil and tires . . . and, hence, on the pocketbook . . . are unusually light.

Third, it is an economical car to own, because its proved design and sturdy construction contribute to remarkable durability.

Finally, the new Oldsmobile is economical to operate, from the first day of ownership, due to a fair and equitable owner service policy. This policy is explicit in its terms . . . and as broad in its application as any in the industry.

These four factors are responsible, in no small way, for the widespread popularity which Oldsmobile has enjoyed in the past. And they are sound reasons why the new Oldsmobile represents a logical and economical investment—a good buy from every standpoint.

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

"Weather Control" All in One Unit

A WARM-AIR FURNACE · A HUMIDIFIER · A THERMOSTAT

AN AUTOMATIC OIL-BURNER · AN AIR-CIRCULATOR

ALL for the price of a good oil-burner alone

IS it not guesswork to hook up an oil-burner to a furnace that wasn't made for it? "Just furnace heat" is old-fashioned. "Weather-control," winter and summer, spring and fall, all combined; scientifically constructed; made to work as a complete unit—that's modern.

The Motor Wheel Weather Control gives you all this—gives you more. For the complete unit is a warm air furnace, a humidifier, a thermostat, an automatic oil-burner, an air circulator, all these combined in one unit—all for the price of a good oil-burner alone.

As opposed to the old gravity system, the Motor Wheel "Weather Control" forces warm air under pressure into every nook and corner of the home in winter. Besides, it gives humidity and ventilation.

"Weather Control" is not dependent upon guesswork, but operates with clockwork precision, automatically regulating the temperature of the rooms, and providing ventilation at the rate of three to five complete air changes per room per hour.

Humidity is supplied from the Motor Wheel humidifier which is really efficient—capable of supplying ALL the moisture needed for health and home furnishings.

In summer every register may be utilized as a fan, circulating and recirculating the air in your home, providing comfort on hot, sultry days and nights.

Remember, this principle has been tested and proved for years. It is backed by the Motor Wheel Corporation and all its resources, producing ability and engineering skill. Write for full details.

LAGNIAPPE

It's an old Wolverine custom, this thing of getting out one every year. The first one appeared the year of the fire and since then a volume has appeared each Spring. You can no more prevent it than you can prevent an epidemic of scarlet fever, the procession of the stars, rot-gut liquor or the annual pot-luck supper at the church. 1931 hasn't been the best of years—1492 was better, for example—but still we got her out. If you don't like it, just bring it back to us and we'll give it a good kick in the pants.
