University sorority house inmates were surprised if it was more serendipitous than thought and during night hours of the Michigan State glee club are practicing in earnest these days in their basement. They will take form for their annual glee concert Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in Bob Frevett, Alma chairman of the glee club, is a smoker for the 45 minutes which precede the concert.

Dead Earnest

Discussing the writings of James Wolfe before his freshsmen class the other day, R. P. Ladd, of the English department, said that Wolfe had published three or four books before his death, and that his publishers had copied two volumes from his notes after his death. In the back of the room a hand rose and a male voice asked, "Mr. Farkas, the books he wrote when he was living any better than those he wrote when he was dead?"

Michigan State gets more than its share of snowfalls this winter, and the men might be here on the campus of Michigan State college will be held the first annual North Central States Senior conference Dec. 11.

Transportation authorities from the United States and Canada will gather information pertaining to methods of gathering and significance of snow removal, protection and forecasting of run-off, use in recreation, political management, and in relation to highway maintenance and transportation.

Michigan State leads American football again, according to a release of Life magazine. This is in the use of a well-known coaster brake for bicycles. A survey of the use of bicycles and brakes for them in colleges from coast to coast shows that 94 per cent of State does use this brake, an ad in magazine reports. The survey was taken last spring.

RECORDS AT STAKE

In 1937, Kern's first year at Carnegie Tech, Michigan State defeated the Carnegie eleven, 13-6, and last year, his first at West Virginia, Bachman prevailed again. Kern, former Pittsburgh tackle, will finish his fifth year of big-time coaching today. He spent three years at Carnegie before coming here and in 1938 was named the "coach of the year" there.

West Virginia, hampered by an annual Christmas dance, will be host Saturday, Dec. 6, in the ballroom, Mrs. John H. Lloyd, co-chairwoman, said yesterday.

LONDON, Nov. 29—Light Axis warcraft approached so close to British shores this morning that a slight naval engagement took place in the English Channel, with defending British ships driving the Nazi back toward the French shore. Watchers on the British shore did not see the remainder of the battle because of the morning mist.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28—Future affairs in the Pacific are in Nippon, the State department declared tonight. "We will not promise on our basic demand that Japan renounce the use of force in the Far East," said a department spokesman. "Our power is exhausted."

Meanwhile President Roosevelt declared, "America will not arm merchant ships in the Pacific—now." Tokyo announced tonight that America is responsible for peace in the Pacific, and the Tokyo asserted that Nippon "cannot accept American terms."

AIR FORCE. Nov. 28—The Royal Air Force is pacing the British in a new phase of the Allied drive through Libya, the war command announced tonight. The RAF was opening a path for Imperial troops streaking across the desert, where Axis tank power is mostly destroyed, the communiqué stated.

ELLSINKI, Nov. 28—Finnish circles asserted tonight that though the signing of the anti-Communist pact was not welcomed by the democrats, the Finns had "good reasons" for not refusing Finland's request that it do so.

Senior Lineup Seeks Triumph In Finale

Spartans Are Rated As Favorites

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 29.—In Mountaineer stadium, nestled among the rugged foothills of West Virginia, Michigan State football seniors were to attempt to carve a final niche of glory in their 1941 gridiron campaign today in the season's last game with West Virginia university.

The Spartans, invading Morgantown at the end of the 50th anniversary of West Virginia football, were heavily favored here over the lighter and less experienced Mountaineers. Game time was scheduled for 3 p.m. in East Lansing times.

Debate Squad To be Chosen At Try-Outs

Members of the regular varsity debate squad will be chosen at try-outs to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday for men, and on Dec. 8 and 9 for women.

Initial schedule for this debate year is as follows: Dec. 3 and 4—National Direct Clash tournament at Toledo; Jan. 9 and 10—Illinois Normal tournament; Feb. 16 and 17—Manchester-Huntington tournament; March 3 and 4—University of Iowa tournament; March 12 and 13—Delta Sigma Rho at University of Wisconsin; and April 9, 10 and 11—National Pi Kappa Delta at University of Minnesota.

Last year Michigan State defeated 65 different colleges in 21 different states. The men won 62 and lost 28, and the women won 48 and lost 36.

Scholastic Cup Given to Delta Zeta Sorority

More than 475 sorority women watched presentation of the scholarship cup to Delta Zeta sorority at Thursday night's Pan-Hellenic banquet.

In the only other meeting between the Spartans and the Gold and Blue-jermed Mountaineers, State won a 17-0 verdict on Mackin Field in East Lansing last year. For cagey Bill Kern, coach of the Mountaineers, a victory in today's game would be especially pleasing because one of his teams haven't been able to stop a Charley Bachman-coached eleven yet.

Collegium Musicum to Open With French Ballet Works

By KAY BESMER

French ballet music of the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries will be played by the Collegium Musicum Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Music auditorium on the first program of the 1941-42 school year.

A collegium was originally a group of artists who met to play historical music of a given time period or to play music of church services.

The program will be a meeting of old and ready, modern class with members of both teams equal competing. Judge of the show will be Capt. Donald Thiberry, whose collection of historical instruments forms the basis of the Collegium Musicum.

Other events will be a meeting of old and ready, modern class with members of both teams equal competing. Judge of the show will be Capt. Donald Thiberry, whose collection of historical instruments forms the basis of the Collegium Musicum.

Lecture Board Not Blamed, But Steps Must be Taken

By Tom Greene

USUALLY AFTER A BALLET hits town you can tell it by uninhibited souls prancing about on tippy-toes for the next few days. The Ballet Russes was here Wednesday night, but the only follow-up seems to be a lot of long faces.

THIS LETTER EXPRESSES perfectly the point at issue:

Dear Editor:

I have a problem—what to do with compon 267.

I, as other students, wishing "book relief," set out for the auditorium Wednesday night approximately at the hour of 8 to see the ballet. I noticed an enormous number of cars around the place. Few students have cars, so I wondered, "Piffly by my own effort and partly by the thrusting of students back of me I reached the door. Well, I didn't get in to see the ballet."

Thinking about all those cars and the older looking people who filled the auditorium, I wonder why? I felt like an interloper trying to enter a sacred program for elder intellectuals.

So I have a pressing and personal problem—and that is: What to Do with compon 267.

—Dave Dexter.

WELL, WHAT IS HE TO DO? He and many, many other students have the same problem. The lecture board has its hands full trying to gauge popularity of numbers so that outside seats can be sold in the right proportion. Sale of those outside seats makes possible better lecture course numbers than students themselves can pay for.

BUT WHAT GOOD ARE they if students don't see them? This was an extraordinary case—caused by the overwhelming popularity of the Ballet Russes. Praise is due the board for securing a number so popular with students. Nevertheless, something has to be done. Students paid for those coupons in the book, and they want to see what they paid for.

PERHAPS THE SITUATION can be helped by one of several ways. For popular numbers like the Ballet, two performances could be staged. Of course, this is not always possible. The obvious idea is that the number of outside seats be cut down drastically. But student attendance is fickle, and Auditoria are costly things.

News Round-up

Roosevelt Lays Pacific Ship Arming In Japanese Hands

The question of arming American merchant ships plying the waters of the Pacific depends entirely upon Japan. President Roosevelt declared yesterday just before leaving on his annual post-Thanksgiving holiday.

Roosevelt's declaration came as Japanese envoys, Admiral Nomura and Saburo Kuroki, continued their series of talks with state department officials. The fact that the envoys had presumably sent the United States an ultimatum to the Tokyo government made far Eastern developments more significant.

Stories of Japanese troop concentrations in Manchuria—possibly for an attack on the Burma road—kept official Washington on edge yesterday, while the most alarming story was a report indicating of a Japanese capture of 500 American transports emerging from Japanese ports and maneuvering into the Thailand area.

In Honolulu, American troops have been placed on an alert, awaiting word from Japan.

Desert Victory Claimed

British dispatches yesterday hinted as strongly as possible, without actually saying it, that Empire forces had virtually won a victory in the Libyan desert.

The only stories of actual military operations in Libya were mere repetitions of former communications, but in Ethiopia the British high command claims the capture of Gondar, the last Italian stronghold thus forcing thousands of troops for action on the Libyans.

Block That Grab

Fun is fun, but it's better to pay for your own. It may seem smart to leave someone else the bill, but remember how you would want to be treated.

Souvenirs have a historic fascination for college students. They fit well into room decoration schemes.

But the gathering of them freely may leave bills for someone else. A dorm party was decorated with footballs. One of the chairmen had to sign for them with the athletic department.

Someone thought a football would look well in his room, so he took one. The girl who signed for them had to pay for the football.

Remember, too, that organizations putting up signs don't have money to throw away. If your fingers itch—stop and think twice.

Who's Being Clever?

Greta Garbo's latest picture has been banned by the Legion of Decency as Class C—not fit for human consumption. Neither M.G.M. nor producer, Will Hays, or Miss Garbo has anything to say.

According to others connected with the film the picture was made along the lines of Standard Comedy Pic 2-B. This plot was devised more than four years ago to alleviate the hurt feelings of censors. In it, he marries girl in the first reel and spends the rest of the picture trying to convince her.

The Legion gives no reason and reviewers could find none, but practically every one will go to see the picture now.

to run. Also ballet troupe don't get paid in buttons.

HOWEVER, NOT ALL THE outside seats sold have to be reserved. A safe margin can be allowed on a limited number of reserved seats. Other outsiders wanting tickets can buy theirs and take their chances along with the students. After all, the students bought their seats, and they don't get their money back if they are turned away.

Professors On Mediation Board Argue All Night

By United Feature Syndicate

WASHINGTON—The five members of the Emergency Railroad board ran headlong into some surprises when they called on the President before making another attempt to solve the wage dispute which threatens to tie up all the railroads of the country.

One surprise was that Roosevelt knew all about their closely guarded secret. This secret was that their original report, adamantly rejected by the Brotherhoods, was a last-minute compromise and that now the mediators really approved of it.

In fact they only agreed to it at the last minute to avoid a split decision.

Another surprise was that the President knew how bitterly the mediators had wrangled among themselves.

MOST WERE SCHOLARS

Most of the mediators were professors: Thomas Reed Powell of Harvard Law school, Walter L. Morse, dean of Oregon University Law school; James C. Bonbright of Columbia University; Joseph H. Willis, Rockefeller foundation, and Houston Thompson, Washington attorney and ex-chairman of the Federal Trade commission.

Despite the scholarly positions of the conferees, however, the atmosphere was anything but calm and collected—at the time the professors were so lost under the Studants' club in the organization rooms of the Union at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

This Sunday a special reception will be held for Congregationalists at 4:30 p.m.

Poloists Will Make First Home Appearance TodaySpartans Will Face Illinois Trio

With a not too powerful Illinois team, as its opponent, Michigan State's polo team will open its 1941-42 home indoor polo season in Demonstration hall today at 7:30 p. m. The collegiate contest will be followed by an added attraction—a game pitting a Fort Garry team against the strong Flint Eagles.

TO BE ADMITTED FREE

Besides giving Spartan fans their first opportunity to view Coach Captain Peterson's trio, tonight's game will mark the first time that students will be admitted to a Michigan State polo match free of charge upon the presentation of their student books.

This new policy follows the decision of the college board of athletics to include polo among the sports which it sanctions and supports.

BURTON IS OUT

Tonight's task of dropping the Illinois aggregation should not be too difficult for the Spartan riders despite the fact that they will be without the services of Jonathan Burton, No. 1 man, who will be en route to the International Polo Stock show in Chicago.

Peterson's charges opened their season this year against the Illini in Champaign two weeks ago and defeated them 4-2 without much trouble. In its only other match this fall, Michigan State lost an outdoor match to Iowa State, 4-3. Last season they did not suffer a single defeat indoors.

WEAVER TO START

With Burton out of the picture, Curt Weaver, Park Rapids, Mich., senior, will ride the important No. 1 position. Weaver, playing as fourth man in the first-Hammon game, looked well.

Norm Spatz, high scorer in the outdoor contest this year, will play No. 2. Fred Gibson will defend the State goal line at the No. 3 post.

Maxwell Suffers Shoulder Injury in Practice Bout

Bill Maxwell, varsity 145-pound wrestler, may be lost to the Spartan squad this year due to a shoulder injury received in practice Thursday. It was disclosed by Coach Fenley Collins yesterday.

Maxwell was coholder of the Jacobs trophy for high point honoree on the team last year, and also second place-winner at 136 pounds in the National Intercollegiate tournament. A consistent winner last year, Maxwell lost only one match in dual-meets.

In a workout match with Captain Leland Merrill Thursday evening, Maxwell suffered a complete separation of the left shoulder. Collins stated that he did not know just how long Maxwell would be kept out of uniform.

20 Will Begin All-College 4-Mile Run

Although the regular season has been over for almost a week,

Michigan State cross country activities will come to an abrupt end today when twenty entrants vie for honors in the annual all-college cross country run.

The meet will get under way at 1 p. m. instead of the 10:30 a. m. originally scheduled starting time.

Senior Walter Beauchaine will be the only varsity duster running his last collegiate race today as the remainder of the varsity is composed of juniors and sophomores. Among the regular runners this afternoon will be Capt. Ralph Monroe, Bill Scott, Walter Mack, Maurice Horner, Colby Thompson, George Hyndt, and Earl Gads.

With the help of Bob Teller and Ned Renfie, the Sigma Nu quintet is leading the Interfraternity bowling league with a record of three victories and no defeats.

Teller is the only bowler who has rolled two games of 200 or over. His 211 and 200 give him second and sixth position among the best ten bowlers. Renfie's score has been 195 which places him in eighth position.

Walter Mishly of the Beta Kappa team is leading the individual bowlers with a fancy 233. James Cunningham of the Phi Delta Theta team is right on the heels of Teller as his best games are 208 and 198, and they give him third and seventh positions among the first ten.

Close on the heels of the Sigma Nu for best place are the Theta Chi, the Phi Kappa Tau and Upsilon Lambda Chi Alphas, who have identical records of two victories and one defeat. The Phi Chi Alphas quintet is in third place with two victories and one defeat.

Emmanuel Mullen and Levin Bashin of the Alpha Epsilon Pi team are running a close race for low scoring honors with 63 and 73 respectively.

The closest game of the year was rolled Oct. 21 when the Farm House defeated the Phi Delta Theta team, 65-63.

STATE GRIDDERS CLOSE SEASON AGAINST MOUNTAINEERS TODAY

Michigan State, which has not been beaten in its last three appearances, will outweigh a minor opponent for the first time this season. The West Virginia team averages about 182 while the backfield adds up to approximately 177.

Only Walter Pawlowski, Carmel City junior, who will undoubtedly draw the starting assignment at right half, will break up the solid senior lineup which Bachman indicated he would start Friday night. Leading the Spartans today was to be Texy Arena, All-American candidate, who has played four 60-minute games against major foes this year.

SENIORS START

From end to end the remainder of State's seniors were to be B. S. Friedlund, Fred Carter, Bill Kennedy, Bluegrass Billy Rupp, Frank Karas, and Lew Smiley. In the backfield, Wilford Davis was to start at quarterback with running ace William Davis at left half and Bob Sherman, State's 178-pound plunger, at fullback. Kennedy and Sherman each have played two 60-minute games this year while Wil Davis, Friedlund, Rupp and Smiley have recorded one each.

Dick Kieppie, hard-running left half, was slated to see considerable action while Pete Fornari was also to be used at right half. Another right halfback, Jack Fenton, Richmond junior, did not make the trip because of a strep throat infection which kept him confined to college hospital in East Lansing.

Most feared by the Spartans today was to be Dick McElveen, the Marlinator, W. Va., right halfback, who has been the leading ground-gainer for West Virginia this year. McElveen, who was forced to the sidelines with injuries in the Indiana Army game last week, was expected to be fit for service and will team with Ike Martin, who is to start at left half. Bill Bell, the Mountaineers' best passer, is not slated to start but will be used extensively by Kern.

DZV, ATO to Clash In All-College Fray On Macklin FieldIntramural Game to Start At 2 p. m.

Michigan State's intramural athletic program will officially become a big-time campus activity this afternoon when DZV battles Alpha Tau Omega at 2 p. m. on the turf of Macklin field for the third annual all-college football championship.

Today's game, largest event of the year in non-varsity athletics, will mark the first time that intramural foot ball has ever clashed within the Macklin masonry. Since the varsity is in Morgantown meeting West Virginia, the field has been turned over for the title engage-

INVITATION STUDENTS

There will be neither bands nor cheerleaders but the competition won't be lacking in this little "world series" of State football.

Assistant Athletic Director L. L. Friedman has invited all students to the clash and only in case of rain will the game be moved from Macklin back to Old College field.

Close on the heels of the Sigma Nu for best place are the Theta Chi, the Phi Kappa Tau and Upsilon Lambda Chi Alphas, who have identical records of two victories and one defeat.

Alpha Tau, a fine blocking team, will have Art Land, Carl Thompson, Frank Beaman, and Bill Billings in the line, with Frank Bellomy, Bob Baker, and Howie Ladue in the backfield. Dick Wilcox, Tom Harmon, George Busch, Jack Bishop, and Al Holcombe are all out with injuries but Roy Chapman will be available for reserve duty.

Coed Riding Class Schedule Is Slated

Major Morris H. Marcus announced yesterday that application blanks for the winter term coed riding class may be presented at Demonstration hall. The classes will be held on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays from 10:15 to 11:15 a. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 until 3, and on Saturdays from 11 until 12:15 in Demonstration hall.

The S. A. E. track team, after winning the Turkey Trot, took first places in the high jump, broad jump, 60-yard dash and 75-yard low hurdles.

Unofficially, SAE Wins Track Crown

Although official results will not be tabulated until next week, it appears that Sigma Alpha Epsilon has won the all-college track championship which ended yesterday according to Track Coach Carl Schlademan.

THOMPSON

I stood on Broadway, unshaved, unkempt, unshaven and a very thin sole before me and the pavement. I looked at the bright lights, the names flashing on the signs, and that was my zero.

From here on in, fate dealt Thompson's bitter hand. Working as a soda-jerker in Philadelphia, Thompson saved enough money to buy a railroad ticket to Mt. Clemens, Mich., where he joined an "Our Cabin" show, playing the role of Simon Legree.

Simon Legree, he jumped to Minneapolis, where he joined the A. G. Bahnhof Stock company, playing Minneapolis for three years, he went to Omaha, Neb., as a member of the Clemmer-Wilson show.

COMPLETED EDUCATION

Then came the depression and out went the road show, tent show and most types of traveling theaters. Deprived of his livelihood in the theater, Thompson went to the University of Nebraska and took up his formal education where he left off in 1917.

After receiving his Ph. D. from Nebraska in 1936, Dr. Thompson came to Michigan State as a member of the speech and dramatic faculty. Since that time, he has been teaching and coaching prospective Barrymores and Cornells and directing the all-college plays; but when he smells the greasepaint, "Drew's" memory just naturally wanders back to the days when he was barnstorming the country, driving stakes, playing under a cold, wet tent, and, above all, acting.

Spanish Teachers To Meet Today

The Southern Michigan chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish will meet at 3 p.m. today in the Michigan State college Union building to discuss recent trends in language teaching methods.

A dinner, with pictures taken last summer in Mexico and shown by Hallie Smith, East Lansing high school teacher, will be held in the Union building at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Alice Leathers and Stanley Howell, of the M. S. C. foreign language department, are in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Association representatives from Lansing and East Lansing, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Birmingham, Albion, Holland, and Grand Rapids are expected to attend.

Attend Contest

The Michigan State poultry judging team was in Chicago Friday competing in the Intercollegiate poultry judging contest. The team is coached by Professor E. N. Barrett and is composed of Lawrence Dawson, William Aho, Henry Gerrings, and Clayton Ingerson. About 20 different col-

Other members were: Leonard Krinsky, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Richard Ode, Alpha Gamma Rho; Al Holcomb, Alpha Tau Omega; Bill Morrison, Beta Kappa; George Foster, Delta Chi; Richard Christian, FarmHouse; James Otto, Hesperian; Roland Elv, Kappa Sigma; Al Hoover, Phi Chi Alpha; Ed Carlson, Phi Delta Theta; Bud Hicks, Phi Kappa Tau; Bill Zavits, Pi Kappa Phi; Frank Campbell, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Matt Tunkham, Sigma Nu; Arthur Howland, Theta Chi; and Dean Mitchell and Heath, advisers.

Outstanding in the organization's work last year was the fifth annual regional Interfraternity conference meeting and banquet and the evaluation program conducted by the council, in which national fraternity leaders were invited to the campus to criticize the local program and to make suggestions for additional constructive activities.

F. H. Nyemeyer, educational director of Zeta Psi Fraternity, spent several days on the campus at the request of the council meeting with students, faculty and townpeople to study the program of the M. S. C. group. This project according to Dr. Mitchell, has been studied with interest by national fraternity leaders with a view to adopting similar programs to other colleges.

This year's council officers include Harry Yezel, president; Lambda Chi Alpha; Ed Carlson, vice-president; Phi Delta Theta; Lloyd Osterman, secretary; Sigma Nu; and Alton Ambrose, treasurer; Theta Chi.

The convention will close with a banquet in the Hotel Commodore tonight. Lowell Thomas, the commentator, will serve as toastmaster. The national I.F.C. trophy will be formally presented.

La Cofradia Adds 60 New Members

La Cofradia, Spanish language honorary, initiated 60 pledges last night, doubling its previous membership.

The initiation was followed by a banquet celebrating the occasion in the Union Faculty dining room. Plans were discussed for popularizing the Spanish language on campus.

The first meeting for new members will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in room 112 of the Union.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWSStudent Kick Answered By Prof. Crowe*Board Will Book Two Programs If Necessary

The lecture course board will book popular programs for two performances next season, Prof. S. E. Crowe, lecture board chairman, replied yesterday in response to student dissatisfaction over seating facilities at the Ballet Russes.

Because this is only the second reason that lectures have been given in the college auditorium with Bud Bell furnishing music for dancing, Alice Penny, chairman, was with Bill Morgan, and Betty Anthony, president, was escorted by John Pierce.

About 3,000 persons attended the Ballet Russes program in the auditorium normally seating 4,500, he said. Several hundred temporary seats were added leaving only about 350 standing or sitting in the ramps.

Student criticism has centered over the selling of tickets to outsiders. Crowe stated that only 1,500 tickets were sold outside of the student and faculty body.

More than half of the expenses of the lecture board are paid by outsiders, Crowe added. For every four dollars paid by students through a college appropriation, five dollars is gained through ticket sales. To bar townspeople would fare the board to lessen the quality of programs, Crowe said.

SHOPPING 'ROUNDWinter Skating And Other Winter Garb on Display

By CARRIE McGRAW

Come winter, a local shop has a Knowlton tailored ski suit, no less than eight zippers on it, in defense blue, lined in red.

An item for Christmas giving, a flowered silk brocade party bag with a mirror top. And, too, definitely "top drawer" is "Heavy Sent" cologne by Helena Rubenstein.

Why not fare forth in a Jersey Jive dress in the newest winter white? Pat Neel has selected a tape version of one of these.

And just out of the box are the skating skirts. They're in a variety of shades, lined in contrasting colors. They're also $4.

String gloves, in yellow and white, can be worn for street and formal wear. This shop has a stock of Everglade blouses, with hand detailing, fagoting and other ingenious workmanship, that are surprisingly "tight" for town and campus wear.

For giving an extra ounce of meaning to an occasion, choose the crepe dress with a black draped torso and a skirt of red and black South American print on display in a local shop window.

A white formal, of misty magic, sparkling with brilliant gold embroidery, makes mademoiselle look like a wood nymph, and $20 fetches this.

CHURCH BELLSDr. McCune Begins Sermon Sequence At Peoples Church

By GLORIA INGERSOL

"Come, for All Things Are Now Ready" will be the sermon topic of Rev. William Young, of the College Lutheran church at 510 Linden for the 10 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow. Holy Communion will be celebrated at both services.

The Lutheran Student club will meet in the organization rooms of the Union, with Dr. Louise Schmitz as guest speaker tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Dr. N. A. McCune will inaugurate a series of sermons tomorrow morning on the subject "Jesus Christ, the Same." The first of this series will be "Originality of Jesus." Services at the Peoples church are at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

FORM SEMI-FORMAL

Mason-Abbot club members also entertained guests at a semi-formal dance last night.

Sigma Kappa sorority members and their guests will take part in a康加舞 at their semi-formal party tonight at the chapter house.

An off-the-shoulder champagne chiffon dress has been chosen by Joyce Carow, general chairman, and she will be escorted by Max Bottomley.

WAGONS WILL ROLL

Guests of members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be called for in wagons tonight for their fall term party—"Skunk Hollow." Everyone will come in costume, and Jim McFay, chairman, will have Doc Harford as his guest.

Beta Kappa fraternity is having a radio party tonight, and Roy Westcott, president, will escort Virginia Graves. Stuart Atwell is chairman of the Phi Chi Alpha fraternity party tonight and will have as his guest Eva May Legg.

Other affairs tonight include the Tau Omega fraternity term party, the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity radio party, and Alice Cowles and Rockdale house radio parties. Taft house is slated to have a treasure hunt.
