People Have More Fun Than Anybody

lose A Dog?

Even after passage of the "dog finance" bill by the East Lansing city council, college students still love the canine pet. It was proven yesterday by George Gillispie, Mason sophomore, who found a brown, short-haired dog injured on campus. He took the dog to the Vet clinic, where the hurt animal, part colt, was treated. The dog may be named by calling college extension office, or going to 131 Gordon in Lansing, and identifying it, people said.

Gets His Bird

Mr. J. Wngarden, of the business department, was given funds in his money, credit, banking class, Wednesday.

Wngarden and students watched when a tiny sparrow flew through narrow window. The bird made several circular flights around, then alighted on the window. The bird made the sparrow to earth. One student with slight natural feelings finally picked up bird and showed him the window.

Party Napkins

Students in the Union cafeteria started to use a large black printing on their napkins at night. Closer scrutiny proved it wasn't a slip-up on the company's part, but a "Stage Door" Which must have been a rather unusual reminder that the fall term play of the same name was being given last night, and will be repeated today at 8:15 in Fairchild theater.

CampbellDorm Will Hold Party This Saturday

The First in Heaven And the theme chosen by Dorothy and Shirley Freeman of North and South Louise Campbell Hall respectively, for the fall dance to be held Saturday night. General chairman of the dance are Millicent Maunder, North Campbell, and Virginia Moore, South Campbell, who assigned Bud Bell to supply music.

Ruth Kriebel and Jane Wigle both Campbell have asked and Mrs. C. R. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Van Dusef, and Mrs. Thomas King to be guests. Dean and Mrs. R. C. and Dean Marie Dye will preside of North Campbell.

Mrs. Jane Youngman, patron for South Campbell has asked Prof. and Mrs. C. V. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Shell, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bergeson, parents. Guests will be Dean Elisabeth Brad, Dean and Mrs. H. B. Brad, Dean and Mrs. W. Gilmer, Jeanette Lee, Miss Frances and Mr. Don Buell, bestmen for the dance to be taken care of by Beth North Campbell, and Betty Mitchell, South Campbell. DeVries, North, and Betty Nor, South, have charge of arrangements, while Ruth Walter, and Maxine Kreger, South, the respective reception committees.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.—By a vote of 229-158 the House of Representatives late today passed the most imposing list of restrictions ever made on organized labor. The bill, introduced by Rep. Fred Smith, Virginia, bans mass-picketing and all organizational actions such as jurisdictional and closed shop disputes.

LONDON, Dec. 3—Heavy rains in northern Libya brought a temporary halt to the British north African offensive, while reinforcements from Egypt were rushed to the front. At the same time, Moslem reports claimed continued offensive on the Ukrainian front.

TOKYO, Dec. 3—An official reply to President Roosevelt's surprise visit yesterday for an explanation of Japanese troop concentrations in the Thailand-French border was expected tomorrow.

In the meantime semi-official newspapers stated that the troops help the French keep order and to prevent British moves into ASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3—The administration today announced appropriation of Land-Loose funds to Turkey, the first nation not fully fighting the Axis to receive such aid.

Detroit Dramatists In 'Door' Debut

Caught offstage between scenes of "Stage Door" last night were Virginia Haeger, Detroit senior; who portrayed Jean Maitland; Myra Buchholz, Detroit sophomore, who took the part of Terry Randall; and Betty J. Meiser, Detroit sophomore, who played Linda Shaw.

Theta Blackout

Either women of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority don't trust men or they're getting their Christmas decorations prepared already. Members of the Michigan State college men's glee club, who surrounded dormitories and sororities Tuesday night after their traditional fall term smoker, didn't know which. But when they went around behind the north wing of the Theta house, preparatory to vocalizing, a bright spotlight shone out from the house. Glee clubbers evidently preferred illumination of the moon, as Elly Frenz, May, senior, ran up and covered up the offending lights with his hat, so that Prof. Edwin Stein, director, could start the serenade.

Poet Laureate Will Speak On Lecture Series Friday

Speaking on present existing world conditions, Alfred Noyes, distinguished English poet and eminent lecturer, will comprise the fourth in the lecture course series tomorrow night in the College auditorium at 8 p.m. Ranking high among those defending aesthetic and religious values, Noyes will present his own look on the world's problems and will read a few of his celebrated selections of poetry.

Noyes arrived in Canada during the past summer after repeated Nazi bombardments of his home on the Isle of Wight had forced him to flee with his wife and three children.

Before coming to the United States he toured the Dominion speaking for the national council of education, and his lecture engagements have taken him to every section of this country where he has worked untiringly on the lecture platform and with the press against the doctrines of materialistic philosophies.

Believing that the first step in the outlawry of war is the return to the Christian ethics and morals in national and international affairs, the poet attributes many of the existing ill to the rejection of Christianity by "pseudo-intellectuals" who, in his opinion, are of far greater harm than "fifth columnists."

DEAR FOLKS:

Those certainly does fly, doesn't it? At the rate of 60 seconds a minute usually. Of course that's not always true, for instances when there are only seven more days of classes left this term—time for you poor peoples who happen to have Saturday classes. Anyway, get back to the point; it won't be long now and we'll be going home.

Incidentally, how are you going to get there? You don't know? Well, then, it's about time you found out. Just place a three-line ad in Saturday's issue of the State News, and that question will be settled. And it'll only cost you 30¢ for the one insertion.

Goodbye now.
Yours,
JANE.

Debaters Slate Clash at Toledo

Ten debaters will leave this afternoon to participate in a Direct Clash Debate tournament at the University of Toledo tomorrow and Saturday.

The tournament is the first debate meet of the season and is the only direct clash tournament that Michigan State will enter. The teams consist of five members each.

Debaters who will participate are Glen Wagner, Bill Barclay, Don Peterson, Paul Vissing, Rex Wiegfeld, William Martin, Irving Kleinman, Ed Hawley, Richard Joddy, and Dale Joddy.

The teams will be accompanied by Coaches W. F. Luck and P. D. Bagwell, of the speech department.

Others were Raymond Darling, Michael Dendrinos, John H. Dennis, Howard Ducker, Franklin Engstrom, Robert Fogg, Edward Fouch, and Richard George.

Others were Robert Geyer, Herbert Gluski, Harry Green, Bill Hanel, Hervey Hunt, William Joy, Robert Juth, Karl Kilgren, Allen Kinney, Robert Letter, John Liggett, Elton Lindsay, and George Lipska.

Also initiated were John McCartney, Francis Miller, Carlton Osburn, Maurice Richmond, John Shober, Warren Smolen, Alfred Stevens, Harris Wood, and Perry Ziel.

Murray to Talk

W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, former governor of Oklahoma, will speak at an America First meeting Friday night at 8 at the Central Temple house in Lansing.

The farce will have a cast of 16, and will include several ingenue parts.

Buell Plans Tryouts For Winter Play

Tryouts for the Farmers' Week Farce, Feb. 2 and 4, will continue today, tomorrow and Saturday, according to Don Buell, director of Studio theater.

Limited to members of Studio theater and those persons especially talented, tryouts will be held tonight from 7 to 8 p.m., Friday 3 to 5 p.m., and Saturday from 1 p.m. on. Those wishing to tryout Saturday should make appointments with Buell.

44 Directory Men Make Reprint Of 350 Copies of Book

Because of demand for it, 350 additional copies of the 1941-42 directory are being printed and will be placed on sale tomorrow afternoon in the Union, according to Business Manager Eddie Brundt.

This will raise the total printed to 3,350, he said. Last year directory men sold 2,800 books. Larger demand this year in the face of decreased enrollment is attributed to the inclusion of home town addresses and student and adviser numbers.

Directories will be on sale in the Union Friday afternoon and will be sold thereafter at the Union desk, registrar's office, and at the Campus and College bookstores, Brundt said.

Copies "originally" in reserve have already been sold, or supplied the stores department for use by the faculty, where demand was 230 copies higher than for year, according to Brundt.

Elections Run Up Against Obstacles

Two of Three Held Up by Legalities, No Candidates

Political mixups took the spotlight on campus again yesterday, as one organization prepared to hold an election. Motion was made to postpone the election because there were no candidates and a third was prevented from electing new officers by a legal technicality. Student council committee will investigate the ISA, Tom Connolly, council president, said yesterday.

FRESH DIDN'T APPEAR

Liberal Arts council, headed by tempary chairman Joe Kroll, will elect its new slate of officers at 5 p.m. today. The Applied Science council can go ahead without a hitch, however, this week in an attempt to elect a freshman representative and the independent student association was prevented from electing new officers because of a technicality in the bylaws.

According to Bob Peterson of the Applied Science council, the council is supposed to elect a freshman representative from candidates nominated at an open meeting of Applied Science freshmen. The nominating committee was scheduled for just Friday at 5 p.m. The hitch arose, however, when no freshman turned up to nominate or to be nominated.

Bunny Buchholz Wins Top Honors for Lead Stage Door' to be Repeated Tonight

By George Herbert

A near-capacity crowd filled Fairchild theater last night as the largest first-night audience in the history of Michigan State's all-college plays witnessed the opening performance of "Stage Door."

Bunny Buchholz, playing Terry Randall, grabbed top dramatic honors from her first entrance to the final curtain. Other leads who shared the spotlight—and the praise of the audience were Alice Jennings, as David Kingsley; Gerald Smith as Keith Burgess; and Virginia Haeger playing Jean Maitland.

MAKES AUDIENCE LAUGH

As Terry, the girl whose first kiss on the stage, Bunny Buchholz made the audience laugh so readily, cheering at will, and from an instant's entrance scene to the final curtain, she was in character all the way.

Also-eligible in top performances, Jennings and Smith shared the male roles. Jennings, as a sincere, conscientious movie producer, captured several seconds, and when he and Miss Buchholz worked together, as they did in the final scenes of the second and third act, they were also surpassed.

SMITH IS 'ROMEO'

As a thunder and lightning left-wing Romeo, Smith was laudatory for himself and the play.

Brandt Named As State News Issue Editor

Ellis Brandt, Wayne junior, will assume the duties of associate editor of the State News.

Tom Greene announced this week Brandt receives his promotion following the recognition of Sheldon Miner, former associate editor.

Prior to his new position Brandt was a reporter for the News for two years. He was also business manager of this year's Student directory, and a pledge of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

Others are Sigma Gamma Upsilon, M. S. C. Hotel association, men's glee club, women's glee club, International relations club, Pi Alpha Phi, Kappa Delta, Theta Alpha Phi, Sinfonia, Matrix, and band also will be represented.

La Cofradia, Tau Sigma, Math club and Sigma Alpha Iota complete the list.

Election was slated for last Thursday, Kroll explained. A quorum was not present, so he and Patricia Kulling, Detroit senior, were elected to temporary positions as chairman and secretary respectively, Kroll said.

Presidents of representatives of the following organizations should be at the meeting, according to Kroll: senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes.

Others are Sigma Gamma Upsilon, M. S. C. Hotel association, men's glee club, women's glee club, International relations club, Pi Alpha Phi, Kappa Delta, Theta Alpha Phi, Sinfonia, Matrix, and band also will be represented.

Add to your Little Lessons in Wildlife—I found this touching nature piece as filler in a copy of the Michigan Daily. "On the little island of Archipelago 275 miles southwest of Cape Horn there are 76,000 penguins and 1,000 albatrosses. They live together in perfect harmony except that the penguins insist on eating albatross eggs, which makes the latter very angry." And did you know that the number of dingoes in Tasmania has increased noticeably in the past couple of years?

BUT IT DOES GO to show how annoying some people can be. They can always be gotten rid of, though. Associated Collegiate Press reports that murders always increase sharply during years of prosperity. There were only 53 less in Allegheny county, Pa., from 1925-29 than there were in the 10 years from 1930 on. That was before the days of Murder, Inc., of course.

IT MAY BE THAT people just can't afford luxuries such as revolvers, knives, axes and the other paraphernalia of a successful killer. And it is difficult to conceive of such as Dr. Jekyll.

Christmas Came Yesterday For Spartan Grididers

Christmas had come 22 days early for the members of Michigan State's football squad today.

For the Spartans were en route to their homes in various sectors of East Lansing Wednesday afternoon with a variety of livestock ranging from chickens to geese and gifts of key chains, neckties, utility cases, and other items. They had just come from the annual football party given them at season's end by the Downtown Coaches club in Lansing.

Its coaches made short talks and all members of the Spartan varsity were presented at the yearly party. None of the State grididers went home empty-handed.

With the exception of the annual Grid Bust in college auditorium Dec. 13, that just about brought an official end to State's football season. Two consistent performers, Quarterback Willie Davis and Bluegrass Billy Rupp, regular guard, had been announced earlier in the day as the Spartans' 1941 co-captains.

Two of the best blockers on the State squad and both letter winners for three seasons, they are among the 12 seniors who will be lost this year. Davis, who was forced out of games three times this year because of injuries, but who still managed to start eight of nine games, and Rupp, who played 60 minutes twice, succeed another back and lineman, Jack Amon and Paul Griffith, who were co-captains of the 1940 eleven.

There's Lots of Indiana On Basketball Squad

Hot off the press and not yet ready for its second edition, another chapter of the "Hoosier Story" in Michigan State basketball will soon be sent to the printers for printing next Wednesday.

And what Ben VanAstyne, chief of the recruiting corps, said was (1) the Spartans are even more aggressive than he had figured on; (2) the more that his varsity squad resembles a stock team this year, the more success it is going to have and (3) it's a long way to the end of the campaign.

FOUR ARE HOOISERS
Chief characters in the newest serial of Van's "Hoosier Story" are Chet Aubuchon of Gary, Ind.; Joe Gerard of North Webster,

Ind.; Bill Burk of Whiting, Ind., and East Chicago; Illinois; Charles Jones, who lives on the Indiana that you almost walk out the back door into Whiting.

This is the edition which is replacing last year's combination of Gary's Max Hindman and Bob Phillips plus Gerard and Burk. Fifth man in this season's lineup is either a New Yorker or an Iowan. Schenectady's Carl Petroski or Chicago's Freddie Stone, at center. Thus with four Hoosiers in the lineup State's fans are going to be treated to Indiana basketball-adulce style this season.

MEANS SPEED

And Indiana basketball means one thing—speed. Van, who had the height to do it last year, brought back the old, successful slow-break and set offense tactic and they worked. This year, however, he said easily on the week, "I will have to be speed and if we can outrun 'em, then we'll outscore 'em."

Spartan fans had their first chance to see State's basketball speed merchants in action Tuesday night against Fort Custer in Jenison fieldhouse. State out-sprinted the soldiers and bayonetted them with 17 field goals and 16 free throws for a 50 to 37 victory. Being the first game of the campaign it didn't mean much one way or the other, but it did prove that the Spartans have valuable reserves in Stone, Ollie White, Roy Diehl and Ira Auschom, and also that the State five can outlast a larger opponent.
