A LAST APPEAL TO THE SOPHOMORES

Last year a group consisting of a number of men in the sophomore class was appointed with definite duties and functions to perform. This group, which was to be known as the sophomore vigilance committee, was selected to curb extreme examples of hazing and at the same time mark the course for newly freshmen. We recall the appointment of this committee for those uninformed students, particularly freshmen who had not yet been acquainted with the existence of the group. To all intents and purposes, the group might well have been called an honorary organization. The members should have been cited for excellence along some line, we are not sure what line it might be, presented with a key, and allowed to go their merry way. At least, all the affair has lacked is the citation and the key, for they have gone their merry way, and the traditions of the campus are fast fading over the horizon along with the negligence of this responsible committee of second year men.

We do not wish to be mistaken as upholding hazing in many of the forms in which it has been exhibited in the past. However, with the passing of years it truly grieves us to see the traditions which have made college life so beautiful to us discarded one tradition however small, discard est robs the student of a bit of the sweet of his four years of enjoyment. In years past the freshmen traditions have called for a display of sharp wits, speed of foot, and nerve which excited the admiration of the most bitter class rivals, and last of all crystallized some of the most beautiful friendships of a life time. Today, underclassmen go about the campus and their daily life without observance of traditional duties of any sort. Marking the tests which should indicate their readiness for college, we hate to see these traditions discarded.

However, if this so-called sophomore vigilance committee of better yet, the sophomore class as a whole does not see fit to enforce a few traditions, in a mannered fashion, we see no end but the abolition of these traditions. Better no traditions at all than a host of traditions to be disregarded. We offer this as a pertinent urge to the sophomore class. Thus far the second year men have utterly failed to fulfill their office. But a few weeks of this term remain but nothing more fitting could be suggested, we feel, than imbibing the sophomores-to-be ere long with the duties which we hope they will fulfill better than the present sophomore class.

A petition has only recently been circulated agitating the changing the name of the new armory to "Sherburne Hall" in recognition of the work of Lieutenant Colonel T. L. Sherburne, head of the Michigan State College R. O. T. C. unit. In the present day and age a mania for public recognition of service seems to prevail. This is often times condemned as a bad practice, and so it is, when carried to excess. However, no greater incentive exists to greater aims than fitting recognition of true service. Colonel Sherburne, beyond all question, has brought no little recognition to State College as head of the military department here. The unit is recognized as one of the distinguished units in the United States. Another item is the annual horse show about to be held. Much of the attraction of the show is due to Colonel Sherburne. We might continue at great lengths to cite the qualifications and accomplishments of the man. However, we merely wish to approve of the movement to recognize the work of a competent southern gentleman.

HAWAII U. HOLDS BIG 'CAMPUS DAY'

Celebrate Annual Custom With Big Festival.

Honolulu (By New Student Service). In no other American University is there a "Campus Day" celebration comparable to that recently held at the University of Hawaii. Typical of Hawaii alone of the island ancient traditions, is the hula or grand feast which is the main event of the day. Five long tables were arranged under tents, facing a platform where hula dances and musical numbers entertained the hula. And the hula, there was plenty of pork, kalua and butter, plenty of fish, rice fat mullets from the fish ponds of Miss Lydia Cox and Miss Doris Lee, sweet potatoes from the Molokai farm of Prof. Kahuna. Wise also, kulolo hampers and many other delicacies. Friends of the school donated liberally to this feast, the student paper announced. Senator Francis Brown has kicked in with 100 lbs. of fish. Senator Rice of Maui who will push through the legislation for a new gymnasium, has sent over a 200 pound hog, while Senator George Coke from his Molokai ranch has matched this pork with a 210 pounder.

Visitors thronged over the university grounds at this celebration, the chief object of campus day being to acquaint the public with the work of the university.

The University of Hawaii is now nineteen years old. It is one huge cosmopolitan club, having students of all varieties of color and race. Practically every country bordering on the Pacific is represented at this island university.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL TO PRESENT CUP

To Award Scholarship Cup to Society With Highest Average.

As an incentive to better scholarship in the fraternities of the Michigan State campus, the inter-fraternity council will award a silver loving cup this spring to the fraternity which has maintained the highest scholastic average for the past year.

The cup will become the permanent possession of the fraternity which is able to maintain this average for three years in succession. The name of the fraternity will be engraved upon it with the average maintained. The cup is a beautiful trophy 24 inches high. The council hopes to raise the standard of scholarship by raising a competitive standard.

Old Spartan Custom May Become Tradition

On June 6, a group of young men and women, having taken upon themselves the name and the ideals of old Sparta, will take also one of her oldest and most sacred customs, and revive the Festival of Carneum, something this old workaday world needs rather badly.

This year there will only be the all college sing on the campus in the evening, but next year there will be no classes during the day, the whole college turning out for the field day and sports contests during the day, and the singing and dancing will take place in the evening.

Since history began, the civilizing of a race has always been marked by an ever-increasing regard for music. The ancient Phoenicians had their royal musicians playing the peculiar instrument of the day. The Egyptians developed their own instruments and players, and the best musicians grew famous all over the land for their skill, they were in demand for all the ceremonies and festivals, and so became indispensable for public functions of all kinds.

But it remained for the Spartans to fully realize the full value of music. Essentially war-like fighting men, with the human body their chief interest, paradoxically they were the first to fully realize the effect music had upon the souls of men, that it heartened them, encouraged them, refreshed them, and rested them as nothing else would do. Every bit of musical talent in Sparta was carefully sought out and trained, but in a race of warriors, there was little material to be called true genius, and it remained for an outsider to really capture the heart of Sparta.

His name was Encosdamon, a homeless wanderer, a song writer, and an extremely gifted musician. He came from no one knew where, but he stayed in Sparta. He was made a full citizen of Sparta, a very rare thing in those days, and he soon became the idol of all Sparta.

A day was set aside for feasting and dancing and music commemorating him and his work, and paying homage to the power of music. This day came to be known as the festival of Carneum, and became one of the oldest traditions of Sparta.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB PLANS INTERNATIONAL

International Personalities to Speak at Club Meeting

International night will be held by the Cosmopolitan club next Thursday night at 8:30 as one of the unique features of the program of the club this year. Not until this year has the organization gained a position on the campus, and this venture will mark their first meeting of the spring term.

Enticing a membership of students from practically every important European and Asiatic country in the world, the talks by these men is certain to create no little interest. The American students who are interested are especially invited to attend. At the present time the weakness of the club as far as its members are concerned lies in the lack of American members to convey American culture to the foreign students. The fellowship established between foreign students does not suffice to give them the viewpoint of the people with whom they come in contact. The Americans, American student, it is certain would profit by their contact with other nationalities, and are urged to attend the meeting in the Peoples church Thursday night.

Mrs. MacLaughlin, who is a wife of one of the professors, here has volunteered to assist the Women's Physical Education department this term. She is to tell students of the playground courses children's stories appropriate to that work. This will undoubtedly be of great assistance to the students who plan to take up this kind of work, and it perhaps will arouse more enthusiasm in the class.

Cambridge, Mass. (AP) Workmen digging on the Harvard campus recently unearthed a number of bits of china apparently used in old Harvard dining halls, which bore pictures of Harvard buildings as they appeared about the middle of the last century. President Lowell aided in investigating whether the relics would be of value in sketching the decorations for a new university plate.

CORRECTION

It has come to our attention that an error was made in the recent account of the Michigan State freshman Alma track meet as to the individual scoring. According to the total printed, Rossen and Crittenberg were said to have been the high scorers with ten points each. John Wilson was on the teaming as far as points are concerned with 18 points.

HOLD SENIOR STUNT DAY TOMORROW

Seniors to Revert to Childhood Pranks for a Day.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, May 25, has been set aside as the first of the annual senior stunt days to be held on the Michigan State campus. Dignified seniors revert to their childhood days, attiring themselves in Buster Brown and Pollyanna costumes, and frolic about after the fashion of the juniors. Short skirts, half hose, flowing hair, and dainty little hats comprise the attire of the present. Roller skating, hoop rolling, rope jumping and a host of other tricks are included in their repertoire of entertainment.

The members of the male gender of the class, still up in ridiculous farmer costumes, lumberjack attire, and count off all of the pranks of the typical schoolboy.

Classes will be excused after two o'clock in the afternoon. An informal party will be held under armory during the evening by the seniors.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS TO MEET COAST TEAM

Seattle, Wash. (AP) The University of Illinois basketball team has accepted the invitation of the University of Washington to aid in the dedication of Washington's new athletic pavilion next December.

The Illinois squad, which will be the first Big Ten athletic aggregation ever to meet a Washington team, will play the Huskies in a two or three game series. The first contest will be played on December 27, the second on December 29 and if a third is necessary to break a tie, it will be played on December 31.

George Huff, athletic director at Illinois, will be one of the principle speakers at the dedication according to present plans.

President R. L. (AP) The Union governing board of Brown university has decided to discontinue the annual interfraternity dance on the grounds that for an all university body to hold a selected social affair is out of order.

of the event: "This year's show should be the biggest and best ever to take place at State, both from the stand point of entries and of attendance."

These moderns demand Camels

MODERN smokers are the most critical ever known, and Camel is their favorite. Why?

Camel is the one cigarette that will stand up all day and as far into the night as you care to go. Modern, experienced smokers know that they can smoke one or a million Camels with never a tired taste or a cigarette after-taste. Present-day smokers demand goodness, and find it in Camels — the choicest tobaccos grown and matchless blending. That is why Camel is favorite in the modern world.

If you want the choice of the hardest-to-please smokers of all time, if you yearn for the mel-lowest mildness that ever came from a cigarette—

"Have a Camel!"

STATE NINE WINS OVER ST. VIATORS

Slugging Spartans Spill Invader's Hopes in Eighth Inning Rally.

Going into the eighth inning on the short end of a 1 to 0 score State's slugging Spartans pulled the game out of the fire by a brilliant rally to win from the strong St. Viators nine by a 5 to 1 score last Friday.

The visiting nine amassed a slim one point lead in the seventh inning, and in view of the formerly air-tight ball displayed by both teams, it was thought that they might have a winning margin. The Spartan sluggers went to work with a vim in the eighth and before the smoke cleared away had piled up a four run lead.

Baynes Leads Rally

Coming up to bat in the eighth with two runs needed to win, Carl Baynes smote a lousy double to center to lead off. The diminutive second baseman took third on an out by Caruso, and scored on an infield error. Tolles singled, and Hoisington brought them both in with a fine double to left.

This was a spur to greater efforts, and Zimmerman was safe at first on an error, with Hoisington scoring on the mix-play. Zimmerman stole second and scored when Rowley singled to deep short. The inning ended when Davis fanned and Rowley was doubled while making an attempt to steal third following the out.

St. Viators amassed their one run when they managed to gather three hits from Lefty Tolles. O'Malley singled, took second on a wild throw by Barratt, and scored on a double by Costigan.

The game was a thriller all the way, with both teams getting into holes now and then, and pulling themselves out in the nick of time. Several fielding plays featured the game, notably being stops by Benda and Dalrymple, a catch of a four by Caruso, a dashing put-out at the plate by Tolles, and another catch by Tolles when he caught a lightning line smash from Harrington's but that nearly knocked him down.

Baynes, Davis, and Hoisington led the Kobsmen with the stick, each gathering two hits in four appearances at the slab. Of the hits, doubles were collected by Baynes and Hoisington.

LACROSSE NOW A REAL SPORT HERE

State First Western School to Inaugurate Sport Officially.

Lacrosse, one of America's pioneer sports, and still a major competition among the leading eastern universities, will be ushered into the Michigan athletic calendar this spring. State is the first institution in the west to officially list lacrosse as one of its sports, and this action will no doubt create some interest among the other western schools.

Coach Ralph Leonard, wrestling mentor, will be in full charge of this sport. The ability of the newly introduced lacrosse coach is without question. State fans who kept a close eye on the wrestling season will undoubtedly attest this fact. Coach Leonard, before coming to state, handled the Penn State lacrosse combination with no little success, and he likewise expects to mold up a real team during his sojourn here.

The initial call for candidates has been issued and he expects a fair turnout. Experience is not essential and those who have interest enough to spend five evenings a week in earnest practice are welcomed. Practice will commence this week and the equipments will be handed out soon.

Before the season is over, Coach Leonard is anticipating the entertainment of several lacrosse teams on this campus for a competition with the Spartans, which will give everyone an opportunity to a peek at the interest.

The DOPE FIEND

Big Bill Tilden is again proving an upset to sporting dope. The elongated tennis star, after going down to defeat at the hands of the French tennis team last year, has staged a startling comeback and defeated Jean Lacoste, French ace. This in a measure will serve to even the score for the previous defeat at the hands of the French star.

Chauncey Leangwhite, Indian runner, won the Michigan spring run, held on Belle Isle under the auspices of the Detroit Y. M. C. A. He traveled the distance in 22:32, defeating James Moorecraft of the Old Timers club by a comfortable margin.

Despite his 250 pounds, Al Miller of Harvard is a whirlwind on the cinder paths. He is a consistent 100 yard dasher in 9.45 seconds. He is one of the fastest sprinters ever to be developed at Harvard.

Russell Minks, 18 year old high school senior at Jamestown, Kan., soon may be making a bid for world honors in the intercollegiate high jump. At a county track meet in Concordia last year, Minks made 6 feet 6 1/2 inches. The world's record for the jump is 6 feet 8 1/2 inches.

In view of the general outcry raised at the rule limiting the dribble in basketball, the joint rules committee has decided to let the dribble remain until April of next year.

The championship trophy which will be given the winner of the intercollegiate track and field championships at Philadelphia, May 27 and 28, is said to be worth $1,500. With one exception, Pacific coast teams have won the meet for the last five years.

Edward led the St. Viators nine with three hits in four tries.

THINCLADS JOURNEY EAST FOR I. C. A. A. A. CONTESTS

The Spartan thinclads journey to Philadelphia next Friday to take part in one of the oldest and most highly competitive track meets, the I. C. A. A. A. A. championships. The 51st of this series of classics will find the State flashes well up in the final standings if advance dope can at all be reckoned with.

Michigan State was the only school to be admitted into the select eastern intercollegiate this year although many others applied, Stanford, South-west, and Georgetown, Harvard, Yale, and California and California from the Penn State, Syracuse, Princeton and Cornell from the east appear to be the teams which will finish strong in the point scoring.

In view of the showing of the Spartans in the recent intercollegiate at home, much can be expected of them at the eastern meet. Captain Alderman, Grim, Lang, Henson, Wylie and McAtce will probably compose the team to journey eastward, although Kroll, Smith and Tibbison may possibly receive the nominations to go also.

Alderman will be entered in the century and furlong, and possibly in the quarter mile. In the state intercollegiate last Saturday, when he decided to run the quarter, he took a third at such a noticeably easy pace that it is thought he should be able to match the cream of the 440 men of both east and west. Freddy has twice covered the century in 9.35 seconds, a feat credited to but four other sprinters in the country. In view of this, he should certainly finish strong in the same event at the eastern meet. The furlong should find him more at home, as it gives his long swinging stride more of a chance. Against Notre Dame, with a slight wind against him, he turned the 220 in 21 seconds flat, which is below the I. C. A. A. A. record for the event.

Grim may run either of the shorter dashes or the quarter. The 440 should find him in top form, in view of the exceptionally fast time he made in the home intercollegiate last Saturday. He should also place in one of the shorter dashes.

Wylie should place high in the mile run, if he is up to anything like ordinary form. Bill Cox of Penn State is expected to be the only man in the east capable of heading him, and a pretty duel should be staged by the two men.

McAtce is approaching top form in the vault and should be looked for for a leading position in that event. He is on the verge of doing 13 feet in the vault, and this would be an excellent place to unhook such a leap.

Since only 29 or a few more points are necessary to win the I. C. A. A. A. A. crown, State has an excellent chance to take the title in this first year of her entry.

Lewis Shows Good Form; Heavy Hitting Features Game.

Catch Frimodig's State yearling nine chalked up another impressive victory over the Bay City Central high by a decisive margin of 6 to 1. Thursday afternoon at the home grounds.

Headed by "Lefty" Lewis, stellar freshman football end, from the pitcher's box, the smooth working infield combination and the best-footed outfielders had little trouble in subduing their opponents. State fresh featured their game with heavy sticking, garnering 13 hits.

The fresh portside, Lewis, making his initial bow, twirled a clever game, allowing but three scratch hits, which were nipped off in the final three innings. For the early seven frames, Lewis had the high school batsmen cutting cleanly out of his left palm, never allowing them to make the bases.

After five rounds of scoreless battling, the winners crushed into the scoring column, when Sachs, left fielder, stepped into one of the fast offerings and poked out a homer. Then taking advantage of the "lucky seventh" canto, the first year men amassed four more and added the final in the eighth.

Bay City averted a clean shutout when in the eighth inning a slight error and a timely hit netted them the lone rally. Batteries of the game: State—Lewis and Don Segall; Bay City—Dutris and Pett.

SPARTANS WIN INTERCOLLEGIATE

Although Ypsilanti was doped to furnish the most of the opposition, for some reason or other, they failed to come through, and were forced to take third in the scoring, bowing to Detroit City College for second place. The score of the first three places was State 53 1/3, City College 37, Ypsilanti 5 1/3.

Mile Proves Surprise

Leroy Potter of Ypsilanti provided one of the sensations of the meet when he ran Henry Wylie off his feet in the home stretch to win in the sensational time of 4:22.1. A faster mile than this one will not likely be run this year in intercollegiate circles.

Rosson of the State freshmen ran an exceptionally brilliant race to take third in the time of 4:28, a great showing for one with so little intercollegiate competition. With training he should prove to be great material for the varsity.

Brown of the State freshmen furnished the other point scoring for the freshmen when he jogged to a win in the two mile over Lange of City College. Lange led him over the route, but lost out in the last half lap by twenty yards. The time was fair, 10:02.
