

Today's Campus

... Love's Labor Lost

Love's labor—and all that stuff. Anyway, the efforts of an ingenious, obviously lonely soldier didn't have the desired effects on his extra-military interest. The soldier wired his girl friend who had been rather negligent in writing him: "Been very busy lately? Love, Joe." Frightened loveless by the mere sight of the telegram, the maid didn't react in the manner desired.

... Chipper Chipmunk

Whether it will purchased or scavenged, a cone furnished the State chipmunk with a generous repast. The little (chewy) animal was seen scampering across a campus walk carrying the morsel almost one and a half his length. His head buried in the base end. No, there wasn't a nut in it.

Date Set to Test Men for AST, V-12

In a combined release from the war and navy departments, Nov. 9 has been set as the date of the second qualifying test for civilians for the army specialized training program and the navy college program V-12, Paul L. Dressel, secretary of the orientation committee, announced yesterday.

These programs, aimed at enabling students to continue academic training at government expense after following induction into the armed services, will be administered throughout the country.

The same examination will be taken by both army and navy candidates, and is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training. Students between the ages of 17 and 21 who are recent high school graduates, or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944, will be eligible.

An admission-identification form, combined with a pamphlet of general information, may be obtained at Dressel's office in the administration building.

Studio Theater Plans First Presentation

Studio theater will hold its first meeting of the year in room 49 in College auditorium Oct. 14 at 7 p. m. to witness a one-act play, "A Minuet," and to hold a general get-acquainted session.

"A Minuet" is a costume play of the period of the French revolution in which Marjorie Crandall, Benton Harbor senior, and Robert Arendshorst, Holland junior, play the leading roles of marchioness and marquis respectively. A minor male character has not yet been cast and will be announced at a later date.

Margaret Bradbury, Detroit junior and president of the society, will preside over the meeting which will be open to anyone interested in student dramatics. The studio group is basically for freshmen and sophomore students but juniors and seniors are equally welcome. Don Buell, speech and dramatics instructor, will speak briefly at the meeting. Civilian and army men are especially invited to attend.

Russian Fliers Sink Six Nazi Troop Barges

Red Army Forces River Near Gomel in Bitter Tank Skirmishes

LONDON, Tuesday, Oct. 5 (AP)—Russian airmen, apparently hammering the last German remnants fleeing from the Caucasus to the Crimea, sank six more barges carrying troops and supplies yesterday, while the Red army forced another river near Gomel and killed nearly 4,000 Germans amid bitter tank battles in White Russia, Moscow announced early today.

The Soviet Black sea fleet airmen also destroyed more than 100 trucks and dispersed a German battalion, said a midnight communique supplement recorded by the Soviet monitor. But there was as yet no official Moscow report on what Berlin has hinted—that the liberation of the Caucasus was in its final stage.

In White Russia and along the Dnieper river line of the Ukraine, bad weather and fierce German resistance definitely had slowed the Red army for the first time since it launched its successful summer offensive to hurl back the Germans 200 miles to the Dnieper, the Moscow communique indicated.

Three populated places were captured by the Russians attacking in the Vitebsk area, where 300 Germans were killed, and stout enemy counter-attacks also were reported on the intermediate Mogilev front.

The Russians now hold an attack corridor only 10 to 40 miles east of the 200-mile Gomel-Vitebsk railway in White Russia, and have reached the Dnieper river's east bank from below Gomel to the Zaporozhe sector on the big bend in the southeast. They are within artillery range of Kiev, Ukraine capital on the high west bank, and in the east bank suburbs of Dnepropetrovsk.

Danish Saboteurs Intensify Action

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 4 (AP)—Danish patriots blasted German troop barracks, two power stations and two war material factories in a re-intensified sabotage campaign today which provided a militant answer to Germany's attempted purge of the 10,000 Jews in Denmark.

The Free Danish Press service here said one of the heaviest bombs ever used by saboteurs wrecked the important power station at Borenberslev in the Jutland area. Another station at Nibe was damaged and explosions wrecked portions of a troop barracks at Loekken on the Skagerrak coast of Jutland where large contingents of Nazi troops are assigned to guard against a possible Allied invasion.

Other damage was caused by saboteurs to a factory at Hillefred, producing wheels and tires for German armored vehicles, and to a machine factory manufacturing war materials near Copenhagen.

While the Germans blamed the Jews for the sabotage and gave that as one reason for the purge, Danish refugees said the roundup of the Jews instead of halting efforts to hamper the war effort would add new impetus to the Danish opposition.

War Department Reports Joe Kroll Missing in Action

Lt. Robert Joe Kroll, who enlisted in the army air forces in January, 1942, while a junior at State, has been reported missing in action in the Asiatic area, a war department telegram received by his parents revealed.

Lieutenant Kroll has been missing since Sept. 27, the telegram read. He went overseas in March and was stationed at an advance air base in China when last heard from.

After pre-flight training in Texas, Lieutenant Kroll was commissioned a bombardier and later was made a navigator and first lieutenant.

While attending State he was a Liberal Arts student and was head of the council of that division. Lieutenant Kroll's main interest was speech and dramatics, and he planned to return to do more work in that field after the war.

A member of the varsity debate team and Pi Kappa Delta, speech honorary, Lieutenant Kroll attended the Grand Eastern tournament, a national forensic meet. He and his partner won nine out of the 11 debates in which they participated. He was elected the most popular boy tending the meet.

Lieutenant Kroll participated in oratory and drama while at State, playing a role in the presentations of "Henry VIII" and "Othello."

His sister, Helen Kroll, is now a sophomore at State.

Lillian Gish Replaces Struther on Series

Lillian Gish, motion picture actress and recent star of "Life With Father," will replace Jan Struther, author of "Mrs. Miniver," on the lecture series, S. E. Crowe, director of the entertainment series, announced yesterday.

Miss Struther was forced to cancel her appearance scheduled for Oct. 12 because of illness, Crowe said.

"From Hollywood to Broadway" will be the subject of Miss Gish's lecture. She will speak in College auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:15.

French soldiers march into Bastia following the devastating artillery bombardment of the Corsican city.

By The Associated Press

Allied forces fashioned another spearhead at Adolt Hitler today with the fall of Bastia in the northeastern corner of Corsica, virtually completing conquest of the island.

Moroccan mountain warriors—the Goumiers—entered the city, the chief commercial city of the Napoleonic isle, at 10 a. m. The French announced, following a devastating artillery bombardment from the hills which sent shells plunging into munitions stores and the boats in which the Germans were trying to escape.

Only a few isolated remnants of the Germans remained scattered along the beaches and they were being mopped up quickly by American Rangers and French motorized and shock detachments which had been equipped from United States stores.

The French communique said that the whole western coast and northern part of Cape Corse, the northern tip of the island, had been cleared as far as Luri and that Borgo and its airfields 10 miles southwest of Bastia, Vescovalo and Casamozza, farther south, had been occupied.

Gen. Henry Martin of the French army commanded the Allied operations in its later phases, in which the Corsican patriots were reported to have killed thousands of Germans and captured many.

Governor Sets Health Week for Oct. 4-11

LANSING, Oct. 4 (AP)—Governor Kelly today proclaimed the period ending Oct. 11 as Wartime Health week.

"In the 18 months following Pearl Harbor, American casualties on the world's battlefields totaled 78,235 in dead, wounded, missing and prisoners of war," the proclamation said. "In the same period, civilian casualties in the United States numbered 139,500 dead and 13,950 injured as the result of accidents, plus 34,056,000 cases of illness involving disability of a week or longer."

Health week is sponsored by pharmacists, to place emphasis on simple health rules.

Fleeing Enemy Offers Stiff Resistance

Yankee Forces Prepare to Outflank Germans at Volturno River

ALLIED HDQ., ALGERIERS, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Allied offensive rolled forward along the entire Italian front today, with landings from the Adriatic sea 17 miles behind the enemy's lines enabling the British eighth army to make a spectacular gain in the face of stiffening German resistance.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's amphibious operation—the same type of "leap-frogging" advance that proved highly successful in earlier campaigns in Africa, Sicily and Calabria—trapped an undisclosed number of Nazi troops and clinched positions at Termoli, almost midway between the Italian heel and the mouth of the River Po in northern Italy.

Fighting through a steady rain, American troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's fifth army pushed forward from Benevento, 32 miles northeast of Naples, to force an important crossing over the Calore river and tonight were in position to outflank any defense line the Nazis might attempt to establish along the Volturno river, of which the Calore is a tributary.

British armored patrols thrusting northward from Naples engaged in brisk clashes with the retreating enemy, but there yet was nothing to indicate that the Germans intend to fight anything more than a rearguard action in that area.

While the rain as well as enemy delaying action and demolitions slowed the assault above Naples, the weather improved sufficiently for American bombers to resume their blasting of Nazi communications.

More Than 40 Enemy Craft Destroyed by American Warships

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Tuesday, Oct. 5 (AP)—American warships intent on thwarting the enemy's apparent evacuation of Kolombangara island, intercepted flotillas of gunboat-escorted barges in the Vella gulf the night of Oct. 1-2 and destroyed more than 40 of the craft.

One of the Japanese gunboats also was sent to the bottom under heavy shelling from surface units of Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific naval force, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Indications were that the barges carried full loads of enemy troops. A spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters, however, said there was no immediate report on the probable number of soldiers annihilated in the two actions.

Spartans At War

By ANNE COWAN

Among the members of the largest freshman class in the recent history of the Women's Medical college of Pennsylvania is Mrs. Barbara Humphreys, daughter of Dr. James C. Sanderson, of East Lansing. Mrs. Humphreys is a former State student. The college which she is now attending is the only institution in the United States devoted exclusively to the education of women in medicine.

Commanding an engineering convoy, which spent several days in Detroit, was Maj. Vincent Vandenburg, a graduate of State's engineering division in the class of '37. Major Vandenburg was a varsity football player, cadet colonel of the ROTC unit, and president of his senior class. Following his graduation, he was employed by the college as a construction engineer until he entered the service.

For the information of all those interested, Lt. Carlton Morehouse, music major with the class of '44 now stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo., will be home on furlough in a few days. While Dick Holyer, Liberal Arts, '46, is now at Annapolis, as a midshipman.

From Fort McClellan, Ala., comes the news that Cpl. Wendell Westcott, who graduated from MSC in 1935 and got his master's degree in 1939, has been awarded the good conduct medal. He will be decorated by his colonel at a regimental review honoring more than 150 recipients of the ribbon. Corporal Westcott has been active on regular weekly radio programs from the fort and has been active in staging soldier shows.

Thomas Bek, a former Spartan, has been awarded the wings of a flying officer and a commission as a second lieutenant in the army air forces at the Stuttgart army air field, Stuttgart, Ark.

A long list of flying Spartans has been received from the army air field at Enid, Okla. Kenneth Finlayson, Bob Clife, a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Stanley Stepnitz and Jim Thomas. Others are Paul Vissing, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Leonard Wood, John Reed, and Jack Wiltz.

A medal for good marksmanship has been awarded to Leonard Pregulman, a former Spartan. Pregulman is stationed at the West Coast Ordnance training center at Camp Santa Anita, Calif.

Spartan women are becoming more active than ever in all branches of the service. Gloria Joelson, music major of the class of '46, enlisted in the SPARS Sept. 10. Gloria was sent to Palm Beach, Fla., with a group of other prospective SPARS to start their boot training.

After the initial training is finished, Gloria will take a specialized course in store-keeping. Upon graduation from this 12 weeks of training, she will be a petty officer third class.

Dorothea Smith, a graduate of '39, has joined the Pennsylvania Central airlines in Washington, D. C., where she will be an associate editor of the P.C.A. News, monthly publication of the airlines.

WKAR's New Service Aids Students

WKAR, Michigan State college's radio station, took another step in its expansion yesterday when it began its first newscasts with the services of Press Association, Inc., radio news service of the Associated Press.

The news service includes a 15-minute morning news program, a 15-minute roundup of the day's news at 6:30 p. m., a farm news program, plus background material for other programs.

This is a major achievement in the history of the radio station, now a 5,000 watt station. It is the largest independent college radio station in the country, and also one of the major stations in Michigan.

In the past news broadcasts from the station have been presented twice daily from Lansing. The difficulties of such an arrangement prompted the new system which was initiated yesterday.

Director R. J. Coleman is to be commended in his undertaking of obtaining this service for Michigan State and the students on campus.

THE LESS SAID

By NEVA ACKERMAN

FOOTBALL isn't exactly my line but these days everybody is doing and talking about unusual things, and I do have definite sentiments on the subject.

I know about punts, passes, tackling and blocking and have even been known to distinguish between a "statue of liberty" play and a "quarterback" sneak. Beyond that my technological knowledge of football is limited.

Without looking through the proverbial rose colored glass of an alumnus, every student can feel that there is something lacking in the Saturday afternoons this fall. With no flags up, the band not playing, with no mums or no hot dogs, and worst of all no Michigan game, State students are missing one aspect of good old days.

When Michigan State college abandoned all intercollegiate competition for the duration this summer many persons looked upon this move as a near calamity for the college and for its athletic reputation. But football will not be forgotten nor entirely abandoned on campus.

An extensive intramural athletic program is supposed to replace intercollegiate competition and the present forecast looks as if it might do just that successfully.

The intramural teams will begin their schedule Oct. 16. The opener was originally set for last Saturday but because of the AST turloughs and lack of practice it will be postponed. In two weeks the teams should be prepared to furnish a good afternoon of football for Spartan fans.

The campus league is not just the regular garden variety of intramural sports. It is a real replacement for intercollegiate sports. It is not just a bunch of fellows getting together for a tough football scrimmage as intramural sports has meant in the past.

Each of these campus teams is being headed by a member of the regular college coaching staff, those who worked with Spartans in the past. The teams will be really playing football and not just playing only for the glory of Mason 6.

The five campus teams, former Junior ROTCs, Vets, civilians and two AST teams, will meet

Saturday afternoons for doubleheaders in Macklin field. Maybe it won't be like the old days but it will still be a good caliber of football.

Persons who like football as a sport will enjoy seeing these games because they will be attracted by the game itself and not by the competition of a "big name" team. There ought to be enough friendly rivalry among these teams to make the Saturday afternoons interesting.

So far the "second guessers" have put their money on the former junior ROTC because several ex-varsity men are among the group, but the AST team includes a number of men who have played on other college teams. The civilian team also includes some good freshman prospects.

All schools can't have dream teams like Michigan, Notre Dame or other colleges with navy programs but an intramural program such as this can keep football going.

This program will serve to keep football alive on campus and will keep students interested in football at State while Spartan teams are in absentia.

NATIONAL politics is creeping back into the limelight as 1944 approaches and the presidential election draws near. First it was the alleged fourth term grooming and the Republican prophesies of candidates at the governors' convention, and now Wendell Willkie says he wants to run again.

Willkie qualifies his statement to say that he would like to run on the Republican ticket providing the party would accept his ideas about domestic economy. See THE LESS SAID—Page 3

of M. Aerial Attack Needs Polishing Before Irish Game

Wolverines Face Notre Dame Team Saturday

By Jerry Liska
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 4 (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines, big Bill Daley notwithstanding, would do well to give their passing attack a liberal shot in the arm in preparation for Notre Dame's Fighting Irish Saturday.

There hasn't been much talk of bothering about the Irish as long as former Michigan star Daley thunders at the Wolverines' tail, but Michigan's chances of against the pass- ing Irish will be the quite a bit better if only eight com- bat planes in 22 tosses.

Michigan's Angelo S. Farnsworth, who was as deadly a pass- ing arm as ever, Coach Fritz Schell's best antidote outside of the Wolverines' own part.

Not Needed
The Wolverines took a pretty good whipping in Bob Chapman's South Bend last season, but they turned out to be wasn't needed in the Irish game that they won in Michigan, 32-20.

They haven't uncovered any new weapons on his current squad, but from the time of Michigan's last game at Northwestern last week, apparently a reliable arrowhead when a reliable arrow would be a valuable asset to the Wolverines.

Michigan Passes Fast
Of Michigan's 15 touchdowns in three games, only one was on pass. Rosen's 28-yard jaunt to a toss from White against Eastern Michigan and only one as set up by an aerial, a 31- yard pass from Hirsch to end at Bender, to the three-yard toss against Camp Grant.

By way of comparison, Notre Dame struck through the air for 10 of their eight touch- downs against Georgia Tech at Sanford with Bertelli on the losing end of each. In all, aerial fired seven passes against the Rambling Wreck and connected on six for 100 yards.

Industrial Cities Raided by Allied Heavy Bombers

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—

American bombing and raiding operations today against the important German industrial city of Frankfurt, other targets in western Germany and operations over the North sea resulted in the destruction of 75 Nazi planes, it was announced tonight.

A joint communique issued by U. S. army headquarters and the British air ministry said the operations were carried out with the loss of 15 heavy bombers.

The Flying Fortresses that hammered Frankfurt arrived over that city only a few hours after RAF night raiders gutted Kassel with 1,600 tons of explosives hurled down at the rate of 56 tons per minute.

The Fortresses were guarded by long-range Thunderbolt fighter planes, which accounted for 19 of the total of enemy craft destroyed. The rest were blasted out of the sky by the Fortresses and the Liberators who participated in the North sea sweep.

Frankfurt is the site of two big rubber factories, Germany's largest auto factory, and the headquarters and main factories of the I. G. Farben chemical trust. Kassel is the site of one of the Nazis' few undamaged fighter plane plants.

It was the fourth big blow in six months at the Messerschmitt fighter plane center and a British communique described it as "very heavy."

Berlin acknowledged "serious" damage to Kassel and said the population also suffered losses.

Former Fascists to Be Out of Italian Reorganization

Badoglio Promises Democratic Government

By Daniel De Luce
ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND HDQ. IN ITALY, Oct. 2 (Delayed) (AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio declared today that the new Italian government emphatically would be established on a democratic basis and asserted that "all former Fascist leaders will definitely be excluded."

In his first interview with Allied newspapermen, the 72-year-old head of the temporary Italian government and commander in chief of Italian forces, revealed details of Benito Mussolini's fall from power. He said that when Fascism collapsed unfounded rumors that Hitler had been assassinated swept "all the German soldiers in Rome into ecstasies of joy."

Declaring that the happy Nazi troops "embraced people in the streets," Badoglio said: "They tore down photographs of the Fuehrer in their barracks and scattered the bits in open places." Describing Fascism's final moments, Badoglio said that "Fascism, at the end, broke apart like a rotten apple."

He said also that Mussolini, apparently fearing the fury of the people, wrote a note thanking Badoglio for placing him in protective custody.

Will Form Constitution
In a reference to the new Italian government, Badoglio said: "We will set about its constitution as soon as practically possible."

He declared that as proof of Fascism's failure to exert a hold upon the Italian people, "not the slightest resistance to the change was met even from any of the 7,000,000 belonging to the Fascist party proper." He added: "The morning after the announcement of Mussolini's fall, not a single person even any longer wore the fallen regime's insignia."

Badoglio also revealed that Mussolini had said he now wished to dedicate himself to the Roman Catholic church. This fact was elicited from a letter to a sister posted from one of Mussolini's three places of confinement preceding his rescue by German paratroopers.

Mussolini Shows Hate for Communism
Since his rescue Mussolini has announced the establishment of government for Italy a new "Fascist Republican" Mussolini's only regard for Count Galeazzo Ciano is one of sheer hate, and Ciano revolted more and more against his father-in-law, Badoglio said, adding

British Suffer Setback from Germans on Coo

Yugoslavia Armies Tear Up Enemy Port and Rail Communications in Balkan Bottleneck as Fresh Eighth Army Troops Arrive

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Striking in strength by sea and air, German forces have wrested several strong-points from the British on the island of Coo in the Italian Dodecanese, the Allies acknowledged today, but in Yugoslavia determined patriot^s armies heavily engaged the Nazis on a long, irregular front.

The counter-assault upon Coo, 23 miles long and the second largest island of the Dodecanese lying near Turkey, was a minor but measurable setback in the Allied campaign in the Aegean, and the Middle East command announced that "the fighting continues."

Bombing Reported

A strong air armada punished German invasion boats all day Sunday, when the landings began, and big bombers including Liberators and Halifaxes winged out to bomb the airfields at Calato on Rhodes and Heraklion in Crete to weaken Nazi air support of their island drive.

The Yugoslavs, eager to speed the day of liberation, battled the Nazis on a front from northeastern Italy in the frontier region 350 miles down the coast of Yugoslavia, broadening their lodgement in the lower section of their homeland and tearing up German port and rail communications in the bottleneck where the Italian peninsula meets the Balkans.

Eighth Army Menaces

They struck with rising power at a time when the German flank in that area of the Balkans was being increasingly menaced by the landing of fresh troops of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's eighth army on the Adriatic shores of Italy at Termoli.

The German high command conceded that the struggle was continuing against "Communist guerrillas" in northeast Italy, and claimed annihilation of Yugoslav forces of unstated size south and east of Trieste.

Administration Seeks Defeat of Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—The administration, seeking a crushing defeat for the Wheeler bill to stop drafting pre-war fathers, pictured expanding navy needs today as meaning that next year these men may be called on heavily for service.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, opening the formal senate attack on a bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) to postpone father inductions until Jan. 1, told questioners that officials have estimated that it will be necessary to draft 446,000 fathers to meet army-navy needs for the remainder of the present year.

Tentative Program for Mammoth Tax Declared Too Big

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—The treasury's mammoth new tax program, intended to raise another 10,500,000,000 from income tax payers, rum chuggers, tobacco smokers and drinkers of liquor and soda pop, apparently died a-borning today.

Rep. Doughton (D-N.C.) took a quick look at the program which would increase by 40 percent the government's overall take from personal incomes and proclaimed it too big a burden for the taxpayers to bear at the time.

Since Doughton is chairman of the house ways and means committee, through which all tax bills must go, it was believed unlikely that this tax bill would get to first base. There was speculation that any tax bill passed this year would raise more than half the amount the administration asked for.
