MORE QUIET

Complaints have been received recently of the too great boisterousness of student audiences at the State theatre, interruptions in the progress of the show often ruining the effect of the feature being run. Although complete lifelessness is not to be desired on the part of a college audience, nevertheless there are limits which should not be exceeded in matter of conduct of the spectators. Far be it from us to characterize the running comments on the films as a "morning pleasure" as it was recently described to us, but subtleties which are not subtleties, and humor which is not humor is boring, and at times actually disturbing. Especially is this so when a customer has not the cultivated viewpoint of aspirants to higher education. (This last statement is a subtlety.)

and down aisles, transferred from row to row. Perhaps even this should be censured and purified a bit. In truth and forsooth though, we doubt if there exists any sophomore genius that can put his fellow spectator in a state of uncontrollable laughter for a whole show.

MANUFACTURED TRADITIONS

By Charles W. Lawrence, Editor, Intercollegiate Press

No portion of college life is so valuable as tradition. Kept alive by song and yell and custom, the past of a college or university lends that necessary air to the college career which distinguishes it from the coldness of the correspondence school course. To be singing the same songs, to be yelling the same yells, and to be sitting on the same sacred benches that were sunk and veiled and set upon by scores of other student generations is a privilege

Expert Defines Limitations of Business in Local Survey

Although the small town has limitations in the services which it offers to the farmers in the community, it plays an important role in rural life. In the opinion of C. P. Hoffer, of the sociology department, who has just published results of an extensive survey of town-country relationships.

There is opportunity and necessity for a town of 500 to 1,000 population to offer certain types of goods and services which are regularly demanded by the people living near it," he states.

The small town furnishes a market for farm products. Nearly all towns in farming districts have grain elevators, creameries, and shipping facilities. Such services are necessary for the farming business, and will undoubtedly remain wherever the volume of business is great enough to support them. The objections to the town when it tries to offer a service that can be given more satisfactorily in a larger town. The relationship between a large and small town needs to be supplementary rather than competitive.

In his survey Mr. Hoffer sent questionnaires to several hundred farmers in Clinton, Eaton, Ingham, Livingston and Shiawassee counties. Thirteen hundred and fifty-one responded with useful information regarding their needs where they conducted their banking and where they generally purchased clothing, groceries, hardware and furniture.

STATE BAND PREPARING FOR WINTER SEASON

Although little has been heard from the State college band since the cessation of the football season, this organization is hard at work preparing for a stiff winter term schedule.

Leonard Falcone, band director, is holding practice three nights a week in order that State's premier musical organization may meet with approval when it swings into its concert schedule. Besides a series of concerts to be given in the coming year, the State band will be a main feature at the Farmers' week program at which it created so much favorable comment last year.

STUDENT COUNCIL TABOOS STRIPPING OF CLOTHES

Cambridge, Mass.—(IP)—Miss Amelia Barhart recently was the guest of the students at Radcliffe college, to whom she described her experiences in making a flight across the Atlantic ocean. She was the first woman to make the flight.

Akron, Ohio.—(IP)—Tabon was placed by the student council of the University of Akron on deliberate stripping of clothes from opponents in the annual freshman sophomore strap here. The matron went out that whoever was found guilty of pulling clothes from an opponent would thereby lose the contest for his class.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN COLLEGE PERSONNEL HERE

Dec. 10 H. H. Wedgworth of the Mississippi State Plant board assumed the position of research assistant in plant pathology which was left vacant by the resignation of Dr. C. W. Bennett on July 18. He will have charge of fruit disease investigations.

E. C. Cochran, a graduate assistant in botany, was forced to leave college on Dec. 10 due to the reappearance of infection in his leg which had been injured in an automobile accident last June. This illness may cause him to be absent several months.

STUDENT COURT SHOWS NO FAVORITISM TO CO-EDS

Columbus, Ohio.—(IP)—The Student Court at Ohio State university shows no favoritism. Recently a pretty co-ed was suspended from the attendance at classes for one week because she sped her automobile 50 miles an hour over campus roads. She plead guilty to the charge of speeding, but denied she went that fast.

YALE REORGANIZES FRATERNITY SYSTEM

New Haven, Conn.—(IP)—A formal call has been issued to the president of every fraternity on the Yale campus to appear in an effort to reorganize the interfraternity council lately disappeared. The fraternities have been subjected to severe criticism by the Yale Daily News and the Yale Alumni Weekly during the past few weeks.

Chittenden and DeCamp Attend Conservation Meet

Prof. A. K. Chittenden and Associate Prof. J. C. DeCamp represented the college at a meeting of the Michigan Conservation council held on Tuesday, Dec. 11. The principal subject that was discussed by the council was forest taxation.

STUDENTS PROMISE TO AID HONOR SYSTEM

Middletown, Conn.—(IP)—Extensive revision of the honor system is being undertaken by the students at Wesleyan university here. A number of students have signed a petition stating that if the honor system is not abolished they will report all infractions to their fraternity presidents or the honor system committee, or approach the offender on the subject.

Many Social Functions Last Week-end Entertained Society

As the term nears its close, the week-end seems to be very busy. This week-end was filled with many parties, including the Union party and the party held in the Woman's building. Ward King's orchestra played for the party while about 125 couples danced to the music of Red's orchestra at the Woman's Building ball room party last Friday evening. Three parties were used for dancing and were tastefully decorated. Punch was served in the ball room downstairs. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Secretary Mrs. Halladay and Mrs. Gora were the chaperons.

Alpha Phi and the Kappa Alpha Theta were the societies holding parties over the week-end. The Alpha Phi party was held in their house. Red Hower's orchestra playing for the dancing. Their patrons were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brockman and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stack. The Kappa Alpha Theta party on Saturday night was held in the Little Theater. The orchestra was the music makers for this affair for which a large number of alumni returned. The annual reunion meet of the Olympic society was given on Saturday night at the East Lansing. Madame M. H. Hower's orchestra played for the party which followed while the patrons were Mrs. and Mrs. J. K. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Haselmann, Col. and Mrs. T. L. Starbuck.

Among the large number of parties held was the Psi Chi party, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stack. The Psi Chi party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stack. The Psi Chi party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stack.

standards "Red Lips" starring Charles Hower and Marian Nixon will be shown here at the State theater Saturday.

Because of its youth and interest, college has been a frequent subject of motion pictures. Universal has chosen to show the glamorous side in "Red Lips" and depicts the romance between a shy youth and an off-campus girl. Hower and Miss Nixon, two of Hollywood's youngest stars, are said to portray in perfection the heart of modern youth. An entire college campus was constructed for the picture. It includes a track, dormitory, student's amusement hall and other features of collegiate life. The picture also shows the exciting parties and whoopies.

"Red Lips" is from a story by Percy Marks, author of "The Plastic Age," a sensational novel of college life. "Red Lips" is equally sensational and similar in theme. Melville Brown adapted the story for the screen. He was then assigned the job of direction.

The supporting cast is reported to be unusually good. Stanley Taylor appears as the roommate of Hower. Hugh Trevor, Hayden, Alexander, Andy Devine, Robert Taylor and Earl McArthur are in the cast, plus a host of Hollywood's snappiest beauties. James T. Braddock wrote the screenplay.

FUN DAYS OF IT

If you know how to dance well, dance might often prove to be life's most absorbing pleasure. To the one who can dance, there is no dance — well, at least, there is no dance that does not mean much to him. He is not content to be an on-looker, he is a participant. He is a man who will give a small portion of his life and energy with a will.

Our Next Beginners Class starts Tues. Dec. 15 at 7:30 p. m. Class taught by Mrs. and Miss Knoll now. Class is limited to women.

If you already know how to dance come on Mon. at 8:30 and learn the latest. The Campus Club.

The officers of the girls' club entertained at two affairs during the past week. Friday evening, Miss Betty Humphrey was treated at a three course dinner in the colonial room of Hunt's food shop. Red tape in silver candle sticks and a large centerpiece of fruit carried out the Christmas idea effectively. On Saturday afternoon, Miss Ella Richards entertained the girls at a tea in her own home. Yellow and white were the colors used to carry out the color scheme. During the afternoon, plans for entertaining the Anti-Archer girls club were discussed.

The Dolphins enjoyed a duck dinner on Tuesday night, the birds being provided by Charles Durrang. Bridge and speeches by Fred L. G. Plant and Miss Anna Larson, honorary members, followed. Best Gossip, George Pennington and Al Matthews were among those alumni attending the affair.

D. Rajagopal

D. Rajagopal, M. A., LL. B. of Cambridge, England, and whose name is known in the world because of his appearance in the student papers of the Peoples Church, Saturday, December 11, at 3 p. m., giving a talk on India. Admission is to be free. That same evening at 8 p. m. Rajagopal is to speak at the Plymouth Congregational church in Lansing on "Kramamurti, the World Teacher."

Rajagopal has spoken these days in a five month lecture schedule in all the largest cities of the United States on Kramamurti, world teacher, graduate of Oxford, and most interesting personality perhaps for his age in the world, being only thirty years old. By thousands they hear him in India, London, Paris, in California over 11,000 in one audience. Many hundreds of thousands of his various books are published and sold in forty countries.

Bishop Tetterton says: "I do not know whether he is the world teacher, but I know he is the best and most interesting person I have ever known." A gay crowd of university students went to make fun of his lecture. They went home silent and returned for the next to crowd him with eager questions.

Bourdelle, French sculptor says: "If I were but fifteen I would follow him."

Mr. Vander Lieve, popular young lecturer in Europe and America, author and manager of large business interests, says: "I knew the first time I met him that I would follow him to the ends of the earth."—Advertisement.

"And the blend can't be copied!"

No visitor to Normandy ever considered his tour complete until he had made the pilgrimage to Mont St. Michel and the Inn of the Famous Omelet—Chez Madame Poulard, Flacomparable, la Famosse Omelette.

The Madame is since gone, but not until just before she died did she reveal the secret of her famous omelet. No doubt hundreds have tried—and struggled in vain—to use the precious information, but so a writer has put it, the Inn without Madame is "like Tara's hall without the harp!"

The making of a great cigarette, too, is a secret to be guarded. The artistry lies in how the tobaccos are blended—and from our own private formula comes the rich, fruity flavor that you get in your Chesterfield.

Suffice it to say that our blend can't be copied—not for mildness with flavor can you duplicate the rare Chesterfield goodness.

STATE LIVESTOCK GRABS HONORS

All the livestock exhibited by M. B. C. in the International Livestock show at Chicago made a fine showing. The horses rated by the institution winning the greatest number of honors. This statement is borne out by the fact that not one of these horses failed to be in the prize winning class. A royal trophy, a medal and a grand champion's ribbon, and many ribbons will also return to M. B. C. with these entries.

The King Albert trophy, which is awarded by the King of Belgium, was won by Preston Wolfe, a two-year-old Belgian stallion. Other Belgian horses owned by this school took first, third and fourth prizes in their various classes, and three third prizes were won in group classes.

A two-year-old mare, Maple Grove Lella, was reserve senior grand champion and second in her class. The exhibitor also had the three best Percheron mares in the entire show.

M. B. C. fat cattle won first in the junior bluebonnet breed and the summer yearling Hereford steer classes. The Hereford steer which won first place in his class was beaten only by the grand champion steer of the show.

Both the heifer and the sheep which were shown by this school won many awards.

Advantage of this to start a scoring race of her own.

State took time out and talked over the situation and evidently hit upon the right method of overcoming the problem for immediately after resuming play the Spartans began the climb that eventually evaded the court and finally forged to the front.

VanZylen, Dentler, and Russo began to find the range, while the Spartan man for man defense tightened down on the Maize and Blue and held the Wolverines for three more points while the Spartans were climbing up into striking range of the decorated Wolverines.

The ball ended with Michigan still in the van, 14-10, but State was coming fast as the teams left the floor.

Returning in the final period, State led the court within a minute after the opening whistle finally forged to the front for the first time by a brace of points. Michigan countered with a field goal to tie the score but State was not to be stopped and the Spartans began to show mid-season form in routing the Maize and Blue during the later stages of the game.

Jim VanZylen led the State attacks with 7 points, while Grace and Don Hender followed close behind with a half dozen apiece. Russo, head, who replaced Russo during the last period, replaced Russo during the last period and Hender broke into the scoring role there will be several more entered in the league this year.

SEASON'S GRID TOLL AMOUNTS TO NINETEEN

Elvira O. (IP) Nineteen players died of injuries received on the football field during the season but brought to a close statistics reveal. Six of these were members of college teams and ten were high school gridlers, while three were members of club teams.

The total deaths is two more than last year and just one short of the record, made in 1925 when 20 were killed.

Over 100 were more or less seriously injured during the season, some of them receiving broken bones. St. John's high school at Plattsburg, N. Y. was forced to abandon its schedule after the first three games because 18 of its squad of 36 players were on the casualty list by that time.

Gentlemen:

As my Christmas present I purchased for myself a pound of your tobacco, Edgeworth's, in 1/2 lb. flat tin. This morning on the train I met a man with whom I am only slightly acquainted, and filling my pipe produced your tin, at which he exclaimed: "I am not a pipe smoker, but occasionally I have a try in that direction and I consider that the tobacco in your hand is the finest made."

I am in entire agreement with his statement.
