The Blarney Stone

FEETHEARTS ON PARADE

and belts are shined tonight, and spurs are polished, uniforms are pressed. The ballroom of the Y. W. C. A. is festooned with streamers and black. A full moon is shined down upon the girls of Sherburne. Beautiful girls in green dress on the arm of the young officers. Sweethearts parade tonight. The purpose of the parade is to raise money for the Y. W. C. A. building.

JAVA

Anyone strikes a sticky spot along the side of the ballroom at the Y. W. C. A. tonight. It's just some of the Java. One of our student council members has a little in his rush for a Java during the decorating parade on Wednesday night.

CARNIVAL

With all the other things that are going on the campus to keep us busy, the Y. W. C. A. had a carnival last Wednesday night. The carnival was a success. The girls of the evening, and for the time in a short period we were on this jumpy business. The carnival was good and tickets sold for a quarter. No doubt we are the price in connection with the carnival as a dance for a jumpy time at a dime apiece.

SPHINX

So silent as the name implies, the Sphinx is still a goodly part of sand. Often in the columns of this paper this year we have run the name of Sphinx honor society as being that or that, or taking some part in campus activities. Wednesday night we found them at the carnival selling "pop" and no wonder. We wonder if the Sphinx can do as good a business selling pop as at basketball games.

IRISH

Money Stone has a good Irish spirit. It is not the kind of Irish spirit that is happy over the game in a Bend this week. We are already forward to that chance to hit again, and that night will be right the sidelines yelling for the team to wear a green.

KAZOO

Have we mention revenge in connection with a five point defeat. If Kalamazoo boys still have memories of the football score last fall, supporters may expect to see a thirty-time come on the floor tomorrow night.

TOOT! TOOT!

Abroad that's going aboard. Get reservations in the merry little to the Twelve Mile Limit. Yes, spelled correctly. A week from tonight is first night, and college night. We feel safe to guarantee that you find anyone at sea, although the action takes place on shipboard.

LITTLE

Who wants Little here below, nor that Little long, explained Schermerhorn at the Press-Banner banquet Thursday evening while commenting on the recent action at Ann Arbor.

Winter term initiations are always the largest of the year, and this year, through the inter-fraternity regulation, most of the hazing has been confined to one week.

HOP TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY

Only Limited Number of Tickets Available; Many Societies Plan Banquets.

The executive committee of the 1929 J-Hop headed by John Gould, junior class president, announces that tickets for the prom will go on sale at the Union desk on Monday, Jan. 28, at the nominal sum of $12 per couple. This sale will continue for three days for members of the junior class.

All juniors desiring to go to the prom are advised to report to the Union as soon as possible because of the limited number of tickets to be sold. Seniors eligible to attend this year's dance will buy their tickets on Thursday and Friday of the same week at the Union desk.

Because of the elimination of the banquet as a part of the J-Hop program, a number of fraternities have carried out plans for formal banquets at the various houses. Some societies have combined forces to present a more elaborate affair and juniors will take complete control of many of the houses.

The Phi Kappa Tau fraternity are among those who have made plans to bring their organization together in a single banquet on the evening of the party. The Epsilon Omicron house will be completely turned over to the junior class for the evening and the Phi Delta society has announced that it will serve a formal dinner that evening.

All major business of the J-Hop has been practically completed and only the minor details remain.

NOTICE

A special meeting of the Girls' Glee club will be held Monday, Jan. 28, from 5 to 6 in room 208, Hort building. Attendance is compulsory.

RICHARDS RETURNS FROM EAST FOLLOWING CONCERT

Prof. Lewis Richards, head of the Michigan State Institute of Music and Allied Arts, returned to the campus this week following a concert series for the Beethoven association of New York.

Last Monday evening Professor Richards played before the New York audience. The composition "A Sonata" by Mozart was written for two harpsichords and was played by Richards in conjunction with Madame Rosine Patrice of Paris.

The programs of the association are given by six to twelve artists in the Town Hall, New York city, and are the most sought-after concerts in New York. The Beethoven association is made up of numerous artists with membership by invitation. Richards, Stokes, leading New York critic of the New York Evening World, singled Richards' work as the most enjoyable of the evening.

LIST EVENTS FOR FARMERS' WEEK

Prepare for Greatest Agricultural Conference of Michigan, Feb. 4-8.

Farmers' week, an annual event of great importance to farmers throughout the state, will be held here from February 4 to February 8. Farmers' week has come to be the greatest agricultural conference held in Michigan. Each year thousands of farmers and their families assemble here to hear national leaders discuss economic and agricultural questions to see interesting exhibits and displays, and to take part in the general consideration of vital topics.

Headquarters will be at Demonstration hall where general meetings will be held and Special Potato Commodity exhibit, the potato show, the grain show, and other educational exhibits will be located.

Meetings will be given over to sectional meetings consisting of special educational programs under the direction of college departments together with the annual and business meetings of about 30 farmers' associations and organizations. These educational programs are mixed liberally with programs for the entertainment of the visitors. Music, pageants, and social hours are used to alternate with the more serious side of the meeting.

Features of the week are the horse show and the electrical show. There will be many fine horses on display at the new horse barn, some of which have national reputation. Among those are the two year old Belgian stallion Preston Wolf Junior champion at the recent international and grand of the King Albert trophy and the two year old Perfection, Sir Last, champion of the last international and recently purchased by the college.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM OPENS SCHEDULE

Splits in Opening Meet; Capt Hinwood Announces Co-ed First Team.

The co-ed rifle team opened its lengthy schedule with a win over Northwestern university of Evanston with a score of 472-468 and a record of the University of Maine of Orono, a point of 472-484 on Jan. 19. The score at the other competitor, the University of Nevada at Reno was 480-472.

There are eight more contests scheduled, one to be held every Saturday night. Some of the best known, but largest colleges and universities in the country are listed for competition. Tomorrow evening State shoots against Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Mass., and against Kansas State Agricultural college of Manhattan, Kan.

The contests are held in a unique way. Each team shoots on its own range and the scores are exchanged between competing colleges. This eliminates the necessity of time and a heavy expense.

Out of about 100 girls enrolled in the girls rifle club, Capt. J. H. Hinwood has chosen a first and second team for the week ending Jan. 26. Only the first team will compete in inter-collegiate shooting, but there will be competition between the first and second teams.

For the last week's contest there were ten entrants competing and the five high scores were used for inter-collegiate competition. This week in the Kansas State match there will be 15 competing and the 10 high scores will be used. The first five on the second team will fire with the first five on the first team.

The first team for this week was chosen as follows: Marjorie Ashby, Virginia Kaiser, Alice Hunter, Dorothy Reinkopf, Theresa Austin, Nellie Walker, Fern Kinton, Winifred Kalchauer, Roberta Wood, and Mildred Wangeman.

The second team in full is as follows: Alice Steward, Grace Floten, Kathryn Thumman, Helen Graze, Genevieve Fox, Helen Goodspeed, Phyllis Shaker, Margaret Kaiser, Harriet Miller, Katherine Rantanen, and Margaret Larry.

BOARD APPOINTS SNIDER AS NEW WOLVERINE HEAD

Former Business Manager Takes Place Vacated by Resignation.

WORK ON BOOK CONTINUES

Appointment of Lewis Snider as managing editor of the Wolverine to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Harry Burris was announced by the board of publications following its meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Snider, who has been closely connected with the administration of this year's annual in his former capacity as business manager, will assume the directorship of the staff at once. He was placed in the position of business manager last fall by the board of publications when that office was created because of the refusal of the state board of agriculture to collect the Wolverine subscription with the college fees. Previous to this Snider was on the State News staff for three years.

To fill the place of business manager vacated by Snider, the board of publications designated the present assistant, A. J. Gaertner and A. C. Kider, both juniors, as associate business managers, in charge of the business end of the Wolverine. The personnel in charge of the editorial end of the book will remain unchanged with Harold Mono and Ed Ellsworth continuing as assistant editors.

The work of publishing the book is now well under way, with the various departments, organized by Burris, continuing and arranging the material as fast as possible. The quota of subscriptions has nearly been attained and the printing contract will soon be let.

ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY CONCERT

Michael Press, Noted Violinist, to Appear as Soloist with Detroit Symphony.

The Detroit Symphony orchestra will appear for an evening concert Thursday, Jan. 31, as the second number in the concert series sponsored by the Music Institute.

Michael Press, head of the violin department of the institute and soloist of the college orchestra, will be the soloist.

Considered one of the nation's leading orchestras, the Detroit musicians are playing better than ever this season. They have toured the east giving concerts in the principal cities.

Five members of the woodland section are known to students of the music department as they have been giving lessons each week in East Lansing.

Michael Press, who has been with the institute since last October, will be heard locally for the first time in his first appearance on the concert stage at the age of 19 and began conducting opera and ballet orchestras when he was 17 years old. He has toured Europe appearing in Germany, Hungary, France, Great Britain, Italy, Romania, Switzerland, and all the Scandinavian countries.

After nine years as professor of violin in the master class of the Moscow Imperial Conservatory of Music, Michael Press was made head of the violin department. Coming to this country in 1924, he has appeared before as soloist with the Detroit Symphony orchestra and has conducted the Boston Symphony and the Philadelphia Philharmonic orchestras.

Dr. Giltner, main speaker of the occasion, addressed a crowd of approximately 50 men of the association.

The student discussion Sunday noon will be led by Ruth Parson, Albion college. Margaret White, Muskegon, will take charge of the club leadership work Saturday morning.

Conference leaders from Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches meet with the college representatives. The discussions will derive their subject matter from the experience of the C. G. A. and S. C. L.

A luncheon Saturday noon followed by a meeting will be open to all religious conference representatives, as well as all C. G. A. and S. C. L. members.

Schermerhorn Principal Speaker at 58th Annual Convention; Gov. Green Present.

LEGISLATURE ATTENDS

With a crowd of nearly 300 in attendance, the Michigan Press association gathered for its 58th annual convention, which was entertained with Governor and Mrs. Green and the members of both houses of the legislature at a banquet given by the college in the Union ballroom Thursday evening.

James Schermerhorn, former publisher and editor of the Detroit Times, the principal speaker, upheld his reputation as one of the finest after-dinner speakers in the country, entertaining the crowd with a highly humorous and comment on the great changes in newspapers in recent years and on current topics.

Governor Green in his talk touched upon the great need of funds for state institutions for the insane and feeble-minded. Mentioning several plans for securing these funds, and especially that of the income tax which he has recommended to the legislature, he told the assembled law-makers and journalists, "It is for you to make some selection from these to the end that this great humanitarian need be served."

Schermerhorn derided the modern practice of metropolitan newspapers in filling their columns with syndicated material and spoke praise of the provincial and political country newspapers of a decade ago. Newspapers are now big business, he said, and are hence that personal touch of the home town publisher in adapting themselves to the age of men.

Other speakers on the program which was presided over by James B. Hasselman acting as toastmaster, included W. H. Berkey, Cassopolis, president of the Michigan Press association; Rep. Verne Brown, Mason, and Senator Chester M. Howell of Chesaning.

Among those talking in the afternoon's program of the association was President R. S. Shaw, who discussed the situation of the college at the present time. President Shaw disclosed the financial status of the college during the past decade, emphatically stating that "There will be no financial problem at Michigan State college by June 30, 1929." He explained the proposed ten year building plan which is before the legislature now averages in amounts asked for buildings per year about $404,000, or in reality a new building each year.

Since coming into office on Feb. 15, 1928, there has been no politics mixed into affairs at Michigan State college and as long as I stay there will be none," said President Shaw.

The convention will continue its sessions until Saturday noon when it will adjourn.

COMPLETE BOTANY CLASS. ROOM IN FORESTRY BLDG.

According to H. A. Lavers, superintendent of buildings and grounds, several improvements have been completed on the campus so far this month.

A new laboratory has been built for the botany department in the Forestry building and two new classrooms have recently been completed in the old Horticulture building. The work of painting the corridors on the second floor of the library and the first floor of the dairy building was also finished early in January.

C. G. A. Plans First Worship Service for Next Sunday

A worship service, "The Search for Beauty," the first ever planned by the Campus Girls assembly, will be given next Sunday from 12 to 12:45 in the little chapel of the Peoples church instead of the girls' student parlors where the usual meetings are held.

The program as planned by the Thimian society in charge will include the study of a picture, a reading, and music. All costs and the house charges are especially welcome to this service.

Princeton, N. Y. (IP)—Because many Princeton students had acquired the habit of lighting their cigarettes before leaving the chapel after services, the student council has moved to pass a resolution calling for the end of such practices.

GRAVEURE GIVES SOLO FOR NEW YORK AUDIENCE

Louis Graveure, head of the vocal department of the Michigan State Institute of Music and Allied Arts, carried the role of principal soloist in the Bach music hour at the Waldorf Astoria in New York city last Monday morning. He was assisted by Albert Spindling of New York, and Madame Frances Alda, of the Metropolitan Opera.

Following the music hour, Mr. Graveure gave a luncheon in honor of Graveure at which 50 guests, prominent in social and musical life of New York, were present. Lewis Richards, who played in a concert Monday evening for the Beethoven association, was also a guest at the luncheon.

Y. M. C. A. TO ENTERTAIN M. S. C. FOREIGN STUDENTS

Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, is the day set by the Y. M. C. A. for the first annual banquet to be given in honor of the foreign students of this college. Tickets at 50 cents each are on sale to all other students at the office in the Peoples church.

No speakers have been definitely engaged for the evening but several exceptionally capable ones are being interviewed. F. P. Delfas, president of the Cosmopolitan club, will give the address of welcome, and music throughout the evening will be furnished by a string trio.

SYMPATHY

Not so long hence we recall reading various erudite allusions to the presidential changes on this campus in the columns of the Wolverine daily newspaper.

It is now with full appreciation of all those references regarding our position as a political football, as an organization incapable of retaining a head and a governing board at the same time, as an educational institution where one has an unexcelled opportunity of cultivating politics, that we gracefully step to the back of the stage and allow Michigan to soak up the glare of the spotlights.

With our great experience in such matters, we do not laugh at Michigan. No, while the Ann Arbor gentlemen are gesticulating wildly before the footlights with indignation meetings, resolutions, editorials and other methods of student representative bodies, we sympathetically laugh with them in their loss of a most progressive and brilliant, but not tactful, educator.

VALUABLE

Thursday evening three vital forces in the life and progress of the state of Michigan were gathered in the Union ballroom, when the college entertained the Michigan Press association and the legislature at a banquet. It was a bringing together of legislation, education, and that force which controls in a great way the sentiment of the people throughout the state.

Members of the Michigan Press association, who are publishers of the country weeklies of the state, in a great measure guide public opinion in those portions of Michigan where Michigan State college receives its strongest support, namely in the agricultural districts and smaller towns.

The legislature must consider and approve all bills affecting the college. Because of this intimate and trenchant connection, they control in a great way the welfare of this institution.

It is rare that two bodies of so much import to the well-being of Michigan State college meet on its campus, and especially uncommon that they meet together. Opportunity for such an assemblage should be and is appreciated by the student body.

for it foretells a closer union, and perhaps a greater single purposiveness of these two groups. Undoubtedly this occasion will react to the considerable benefit of the future of Michigan State college.

MADAME AUSTRAL
JOHN AMADIO
A Review
By Robert Graham

A tremendous Titan laughed M. S. C.'s concert course—a perfect mountain of a woman who stunned us, bowled us over with great chests of powerful tone. Her delivery of "Ocean, Thou Shalt Be My Master" was a thing of marvel—a glorious abandon seldom attained by singers. Only superlatives can describe Amadio's abilities. For heroic qualities she is the peer of any living soprano.

Then, in the Brahms "Little Sandman," and again in "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," we heard a different Amadio. She sang in a lilting platonic of exquisite texture, fine yet full, warm and sympathetic. This ability to project a thread of delicate tone is as rare and appealing as her robust work is rare and astounding. Add to this a profound lower register and you have Amadio, the vocal paragon.

As a musical climax such as seldom occurred on a program came Bruch's "War Cry." He Ys To Him, the battle call of Wagner's great goddess, made a perfect climber for her delivery was phenomenal, surpassing even the tradition of the idolized Gadsby.

Had one suspected that John Amadio merited an appearance only because he promptly turned to appreciation, for Amadio is an artist in his own right. The possessor of a super-technique, he made his instrument emit effects never attributed to a mere flute. He astonished by the intricacy of his passages work in the "Concerto in D," taken at double-quick tempo, while in "Tosca" (performed on a different flute) his tone was that of an organ pipe.

Nils Nelson allowed himself no bit of ostentatiousness during the evening. Thus he leaves his no individual impression, but by the same token, earns a tribute as a perfect accompanist.

In a concert replete with musical perfection, one passes lightly over minor details. It will serve to only mention Amadio's occasional laboring over long passages, an infrequent uncertainty on some of her top lyric tones, and the fact that at first she did not master the baffling acoustics of Demonstration hall. The wizard Amadio can only be accused of blasting a few of his tone high notes.

These are but minor matters. The main significance of this event, other than artistic appreciation, is that M. S. C. has given a concert of the most striking metropolitan calibre. The world can afford us no finer.

Premier Military Ball Continues
Winter Season of Formal Parties

The campus is once more in the midst of the gay and festive atmosphere which annually marks the beginning of the winter formal parties at State. The spotlight of the social calendar has been placed on the Military ball which will be held tonight. Second only to the J-Hop, the Military ball is always one of the most brilliant as well as one of the most exclusive parties held during the winter season.

This week-end will also mark the initial sorority and fraternity formal parties when Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and the Aethon fraternity hold their winter term parties at the Hotel Olds Saturday night. The program for that evening also includes a Union party at which affair the Playboys will hold sway.

The officers' club of the local R. O. T. C. unit is sponsoring the annual Military ball which will be held tonight in the ballroom of Demonstration hall. The privilege of attending this is granted only to the advanced military students, band members of the two upper classes, and alumni of the R. O. T. C.

The ballroom will be unusually and effectively decorated in black and gold. It is planned to canopy the entire room with interwoven streamers of these colors. In the east end of the building, refreshments will be served by the Union.

Cadet Colonel Herbert M. Place of Bluefield, with his guest, Miss Clara Giffels, of the class of '28, will lead the grand march which will take place during the fifth dance.

Lieut. Col. T. L. Sherburne and Mrs. Sherburne, and Major C. Thomas Stahle and Mrs. Thomas Stahle will act as patrons, while guests of honor will include Governor Fred W. Green and Mrs. Green, President Robert S. Shaw and Mrs. Shaw, Secretary H. H. Halladay and Mrs. Halladay, Mr. and Mrs. L. Whitney Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs.

INTERESTING PROGRAMS

DEN HERDER'S LOSS HURTS

The Spartan basketball quintet was turned back by the powerful Notre Dame squad by a score of 29 to 24, Wednesday night, in what proved to be the end of the first half 17 to 13, but the team to be staged on the Irish court this season. State led the Ramblers at the end of the first half 17 to 13, but the loss of Fred Den Herder, State's regular center, through an injury to his head, broke up the regular Spartan combination, and handicapped the smooth running offense displayed in the early part of the game.

Gentlemen: The tobacco samples you sent me have been received, and they are great. If you can picture in your mind the loneliness of a traveling man in a small town on a rainy night, not a friend in a hundred miles, nothing to do and no place to go.

That was the position I was in when your samples of Edgeworth came. It was like a voice from above when I opened the package and got the old pipe steaming.

I have smoked various brands of tobacco for the past fifteen years, but never in my life have I found a tobacco at any price that will equal Edgeworth. It does not bite the tongue, and a beautiful aroma follows. With the good old friend pipe and a can of Edgeworth you can dream of the rainbow's end.

Please count me in the future as an Edgeworth booster.

Very truly,

GRAPPLERS MEET U. OF M. TONIGHT

State Squad Journeys to Ann Arbor for Second Meet of Season.

Engaging in its second wrestling meet of the present season, the Spartans with the sting of their defeat by the Chicago grapplers still fresh in their minds, take on the U. of M. State squad in the best possible condition and should produce a great team at Ann Arbor tonight at 7:30.

Coach Glenn Hicks says that the team when the two Michigan teams come together. Though handicapped by the lack of veteran material, the team is showing remarkable improvement through the "system" introduced here by Hicks. Before each meet his men go through a series of elimination bouts to determine which men are to represent the school in that particular match, thus getting the best that each man has in him.

The squad left for Ann Arbor at 10:30 this morning as it is to reach in the Yost field house at 2:30 in the afternoon. Fourteen men were picked to represent the Spartans in the trip. Of the new material on the squad, LaFollette and Peterson stand out as two promising men. Both have aggressiveness and ability along with technique.

The squad, 135 pounds: Welbourne Smith, 125 pounds: Lamphar Shook, 135 pounds: Thamer, Deming, 140 pounds: Marshall, Tompkins, Criddle, 155 pounds: Schultz, Peterson, 165 pounds: Kurrie, 175 pounds: Martin, heavyweights: Joslin.

PLAN POLO MEET WITH DETROITERS

Return Match with Detroit Riding and Hunt Club Feb. 22.

Tentative plans are being formed for a polo match to be played here with the Detroit Riding and Hunt club some time in February, tentatively on the 22nd. Worsted by their defeat in the last game at Detroit on Jan. 16, State is anxious to prove their true mettle to the Detroiters before the season is out.

The Detroit team is rated as having one of the best teams in Michigan and is familiar to polo fans in East Lansing. Dropping one tilt to Jackson a year ago last November, the Detroit team later severely defeated the Jackson aggregation.

Badly handicapped by an unfamiliarity with the ponies loaned them by the Detroit Riding and Hunt club, State took the short end of the score in the game last week. In view of this fact, Detroit plans to bring all their own ponies for the game in February.

The State lineup will probably be much the same as the one that was played in the last match. The team should be a strong one, as there is an extensive repertoire of good players. Captains Chase and Larson and Cadet Lieutenant Peterson compose one group and the student delegation of about ten men have been acquiring skill and experience from their practice three nights a week. Among the students are Leavitt, Ocker, Mullett, Tompkins, Ramsdell, Peck, and other able equestrians.

The officers will probably start the game and later turn the tilt over to the student players. State should be at an advantage and will likely give a good account of themselves. A knowledge of their own mounts gained from constant use and technique formed from long practice will give them an even break with the experienced Detroiters.

FROSH MEET G. R. JUNIOR COLLEGE FIVE TONIGHT

State's yearling basketball team will meet the strong Grand Rapids Junior college quintet tonight at the Furniture City. The Grand Rapids five defeated Kalamazoo early in the season and last week Kalamazoo reversed the order after a hard battle that went into an overtime period by a score of 30 to 29.

The Furniture City boys are tall. Booskoel, the lanky State freshman center, is probably the only one who can match them in height.

Coach Red Colvin is uncertain as to what lineup he will use. The men who started last Saturday will undoubtedly get into the contest along with a few new members. Pinneo and Vanderploeg and Cuthbertson guards. Shika forwards. Booskoel center and stand against Alma last Saturday.

INTRAMURAL SEASON STARTS

Close Competition Shown in Intrafrat, Inter-class, and Interward Contests.

With much enthusiasm in evidence so far this term over indoor baseball, the outlook is for an interesting season in all intramural sports. There has been plenty of competition with some very close games particularly in the inter-ward league. Wards A, B and D have come to the top with nearly equal records. It is planned to conclude the indoor baseball season this week or next at the outside. The remaining games are the inter-fraternity and inter-ward finals, and the inter-class contest.

February will be an interesting month, with the Fresh-Soph indoor track meet on the 2nd, and the inter-class indoor track meet on the 9th. Three basketball leagues, inter-fraternity, inter-ward and inter-class, have a schedule to play off during the month. March promises the inter-fraternity swimming meet, and the inter-fraternity, inter-ward, and inter-class track meet. Coach Young states that the number of participants in intramural contests shows an annual increase. At the present time the program, which is directed by L. L. Frimodig, is as large as possible with the equipment on hand. Another department of the work carried on by the physical education department is the organization of interscholastic contests. During the first week-ends of March, 10 to 15 high schools in the state participate in the interscholastic meeting. As yet the number of schools to take part in this event is small, but there has been no attempt to classify them.
